Jaycees To Organize Here

On Thursday, Feb. 11, twenty-one young men of Manchester met at the high school for the purpose of discussing the possibilities of organizing a Junior Chamber of Commerce Chapter in Manchester.

The meeting was called by representatives from the Ypsilanti Chapter to see if there were enough young men interested to form a local chapter.

Charles Gooding acted as chairman to call the meeting to order. Mr. Gooding, along with vice president from the Ypsilanti chapter, came to explain the purpose of the Jaycees to the Manchester group.

After hearing their report the men voted unanimously to start a local chapter. They elected Robert Crandall as temporary chairman to preside over the next meeting to be held Thursday, Feb. 25 at 8 p. m. at the Manchester high school. All young men between the ages of 21 and 35 are cordially invited to attend.

District FFA Contests Held at Manchester High School

On Tuesday, February 16, the Manchester Future Farmers of America under the guidance of the agricultural teacher, Robert Crandall, played host to several other schools in Washtenaw and Monroe counties in the annual FFA District Contests. Milan, Dexter, Saline, Chelsea, Summerfield and Bedford were the schools which participated along with Manchester. The contests in public speaking, demonstration, parliamentary procedure and farm forum were all evenly contested. The boys all did a fine job and it is events of this calibre which promote good citizenship and understanding between other schools, as well as a little competition. A broadcast was made at noon of the reports of the contests up to that time. Howard Heath from WPAG, Ann Arbor, made this tape by phone from the school office. Later on in the afternoon Howard came directly to the high school with his recording machine so that boys who participated in the contests could give an account of what they thought of the events. The boys participating from the Manchester chapter were as follows:

Parliamentary Procedure: Jerry Trolz chairman, Richard Fahey secretary, Marshall Norgaard, John Navrock, Gary Brokaw, Jerry Rolston, James Bock.

Public Speaking: Gordon Schultz.

Demonstration: Mike Rossetti, David Little, Carl Buss.

Farm Forum: Jerry Trolz, Marshall Norgaard, Bill Walkove, Richard Fahey, John Navrock.

The following were the results of the contests:

Parliamentary Procedure: Chelsea, gold award; Milan, gold award; Saline, silver award; Manchester, bronze award; Summerfield, bronze award.

Speech: Arnold Girbach, Saline; Gordon Schultz, Manchester; Frank Salisbury, Summerfield; Rex Kanitz, Milan.

Demonstration: Summerfield, gold award; Dexter, gold award; Manchester, silver award; Milan silver award.

Farm Forum: Saline, gold; Milan, silver; Bedford, bronze; Manchester also participated in this contest for experience, along with Summerfield.

No matter what kind of award was passed out all the boys received some wonderful experience and it is hoped that next year even more boys will be able to participate.

After the contests were over, a general meeting was held in the auditorium at which time the new district FFA officers were elected. Jerry Ekin, Manchester, received the office of Sentinel, and thus represents Manchester in this District Office.

Main Street

Now is the time to get in a little reading before spring. Snow drops and daffodils popped their noses through the ground encouraged by the warmest Monday February 15th on record which beat the all-time high for that date back in 1881. Monday's high here was 65 degrees.

Then Monday night we had the first thunderstorm of 1954 and a real rain which lasted all night and most of Tuesday amounting to better than two inches during the night. This should make most of the farmers who have been hoping for rain very happy.

Manchester apparently was none the worse for the heavy rain except for a large number of telephones which were temporarily "out of order" and rain in basements.

Supt. Fred Atkinson and Walter Schaible left from Willow Run, Saturday morning to attend the Association of American School Administrators at Atlantic City. Mr. Schaible went along to look over new school furniture and equipment which is being displayed at the affair. They expect to return home Thursday morning.

We felt sorry that we had called Mr. Masten, school principal, to ask him for school news for this week's paper. "Cause we think he has his hands full without thinking about news. He said that his wife was planning to leave by plane for Denver, Colorado on Tuesday morning, because of the critical illness of her father, Merton Suits. It is also necessary for Mrs. Masten to take the baby who isn't feeling well and running a temperature. Among his many other problems Mr. Masten was busy getting a substitute teacher to replace a substitute for a substitute teacher here. Are you following? The replacement is for Mrs. Hulda Martin's commercial classes. Since she broke her hip she has been replaced by Mrs. Alban of Jackson—now on leave. She was replaced by Mrs. Glen Randall of Brooklyn who cannot teach Tuesday—the latest replacement is Mr. Tapping. Yes, Mr. Masten had some news!

Committee for March will be the Mesdames Robert Days, Leo Defreytas, Victor Dettling, Harold Dietle and Inez Dickerson.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee.

The ghost of a dashing Revolutionary War soldier and his amorous attentions to young New York career girl Nancy Willard, complicates her romance with her stuffy Boston fiancé. Hilarity increases when a casual reporter tries to establish Nancy's sanity by proving the "Ghost" is real.

Under the veteran direction of Don Buell, associate professor of dramatics, an experienced cast is headed by Joyce Buss and Lenore Jackie, both Detroit seniors, who alternate as the leading lady.

Others in the cast are: the Gramercy Ghost, played by Ronald Gainer, Traverse City sophomore; Charles Zwemer, Marquette senior, as reporter; David Warthen, Detroit freshman at the fiancé; and Diane King, Bay City senior; Alice Sherwood, Spring Valley sophomore; Terence Tykysinski, Chicago junior; Paul Dadez, Ballston Lake, N. Rural Classroom Teachers Meet

The rural classroom teachers of the Chelsea area met at the home of Mrs. Frank Mitchell on Monday evening.

The Manchester Parent Teachers Association celebrated Founders Day nearly 300 strong at the regular meeting Monday night at the Civic Auditorium. National and local P-TA history was reviewed, the three past presidents were honored and photographed, and a huge birthday cake bearing 57 candles was cut for the party.

At the brief business meeting the nominating committee appointed was Millard Uphaus, Mrs. Karl Rest and Mrs. Herbert Jacobs. The election of officers takes place at the March meeting and after a training period, the officers are installed in May.

Mrs. Dan Boutell, chairman of the Health Committee, announced the vaccination clinic date, March 25th, and asked for volunteer help.

Mrs. Roger Hardenbergh opened the program, March of Events, with a tribute to the founders of the national organization. Mrs. Roland Grossman, Herbert Jacobs, Mrs. Harold Stayer, Dan Routell and Mrs. Tom Walton related the outstanding events in chronological history of the National Parent-Teachers Congress since 1897. Each decade of events was concluded by an interlude of music popular then and now. The audience participated in the ballad singing of the earlier periods. Little Bonnie Heinrich and Ronnie Romelhardt did a timely Valentine number "Give Me a Little Kiss, Will You, Huh?" for the 1940's. Mrs. Mabel Pardee's second graders sang the 1950 choices.

Mrs. Alvin Kappler, official historian for the chapter, briefed the local history since its organization in 1946. The three past presidents, Orville Way, Harold Burch and Marvin Oates were introduced.

Since square dancing has been the consistent recreation for the organization throughout the years two demonstration teams—one of 6th graders and another of adults, put on a group of dances. The 6th graders, Carol Jean Braun, Gary Hamilton, Sue Hassett, Jerry Pierce, Christie Allan, Ralph England, Martha Boutell and Terry Huber, were coached by the 5th grade teacher, Mr. Waltz. The adult group of experienced dancers, led by the Malcolm Billings, were Loren Troltzes, the Robert Hamiltons and the Robert Crandalls.

The program committee assisting Mrs. Hardenbergh were Mrs. Henry Eames, Mrs. Paul Kappler and Mr. Fred Atkinson. Charles Mills led the group singing and Mrs. Kappler was the accompanist.

Refreshments were served by the 8th and 9th grade mothers. The committee for the 8th grade was Mrs. Kenneth Kouba, Mrs. Ray Gonyer and Mrs. Duane Braun. Mrs. Sydney Leeman, Mrs. Harold Brown, Mrs. John E. Miller, Mrs. Harley Gilbert and Mrs. Stanley Binkowski represented the 9th grade.

Needless to say Mrs. Pardee's room won the book for having the most parents in attendance. The rural honor was won by the Craft school.

Sharon Farm Bureau Meets

The February meeting of the Sharon Farm Bureau was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Breitenwischer on Friday, Feb. 12 with 26 members representing 14 families present. Chairman Anton Feldkamp called the meeting to order. Mrs.

Erm Meyer gave an interesting report on the meeting of the Blue Cross which she attended at Saline. Laurel Breitenwischer, state minute man, gave a report on a meeting which he attended in Lansing. He gave an account of state legislation which was interesting to Farm Bureau members. The group decided to take a membership for one year in the Washtenaw County Infirmary auxiliary. The discussion topic "A state plan to regulate the financing of drainage projects within and between counties" was led by discussion leader Gottlob Jacob. The group decided that the drainage question needed further study and the farm bureau group was not interested in the proposal of Senator Teahen which called for taxing farmers for benefits which they derived from drainage projects.

Mrs. Victor Grossman had charge of the entertainment. Euchre and dominoes were played. The hostess served refreshments of bar-b-qs, potato chips and coffee. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Chavey.

FISHERMAN'S WORLD DOETH CHANGE!

How would you like to live in a state where you could throw away the rule book, and go fishing for just about any fish you please just about any time you please? It's coming closer and closer according to a recently released summary of changes in fishing regulations now in effect in all of our 48 states. Nearly every state now has some year-round fishing. Twenty-three states now allow the taking of bass the entire year. Thirty-seven open a season on pan fish for 12 months annually, but only three states still permit year-round trout fishing although 40 others have long open seasons on this species.

Tackle Changes, Too
 And everywhere the change toward lighter tackle is in evidence. More spinning outfits are finding their way into more homes—not just for the man of the house but for the former angler "widow" who used to stay home while hubby had all the fun. Spin-fishing is easy to learn. The ladies are good customers—and good fishermen, too.

More Water Available
 In the south many states have created huge artificial lakes, making entirely new fishing grounds. In the short space of three years many of these man-made lakes have developed excellent fishing. Naturally good spawning conditions have combined with plenty of food to stock plentifully in an astoundingly short time.

New Attitude
 But, implies this report, the most important change noted is in the attitude of the fishermen. Many of them are now realizing that the number of fish on the stringer or in the creel is of secondary importance. If the fishing trip was "an adventure in pleasant relaxation," regardless of the amount of tangible evidence—it's called a big success.

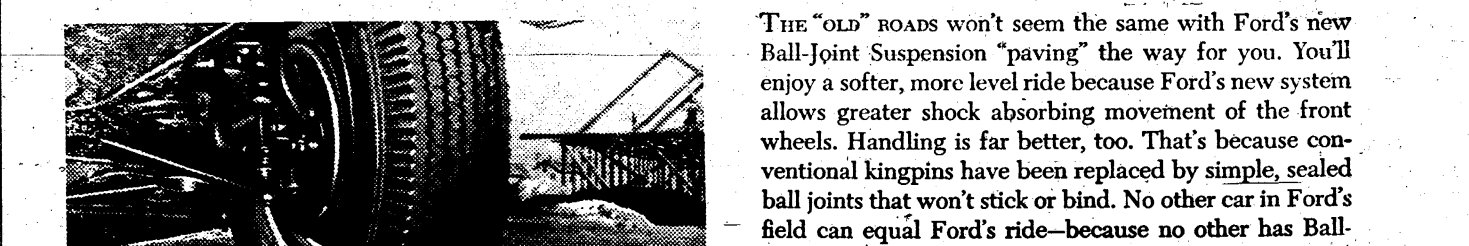

Maybe the ladies have a lot to do with this. When the men were fishing alone there may have been a subconscious feeling that they HAD to bring home a big catch to justify their long absence! With "mamma" along the pressure's off! And this is all for the best! Sportsmen everywhere will readily admit they're not out for the kill. They're out for the "fun of it," and where can you find more wholesome, healthful fun than in the pursuit of a hobby like hunting or fishing?

Try it more often this year in Michigan Outdoors!

Keeps that new-car feel. You'll enjoy Ford's new-car feel much longer because ball joints are spring-loaded to compensate automatically for any wear. Front wheels hold alignment far longer than with conventional systems. Ball joints can't stick or bind. Steering remains consistently easy.

Grill smacked down Mary's Tavern for 3 out of 4 points while runner-up last week, Short's Electric Service was splitting their 4 points with Mann's. Short's was only one point back of leading Mary's Tavern so this week each team has 59 points. A. B. C. Service gained on the 2 leaders by getting by Spike's Mobil for 3 points. This gave the A. B. C. team 3rd place with 56 points. In the A. B. C. Spike's tussle Jake Trent "broke loose" and threw a 627 series which was only 5 pins back of the highest individual series of the season. — good bowling Jake.

Kappler's Contractors slipped a little, but held onto 4th place in the standings, when Carl M. Schaible's Ford team "dumped them" and came home with 3 points for Schaible's. Double A Products team tried to climb out of the cellar but didn't make much head-way as Klager's Hatcheries took 2 1/2 points. The last game ended in a tie. Widmayer's Sales & Service trounced K & W Farm for 3 points in the other match of the evening. In the Grill-Mary's Tavern match Fay Evilsizer of the Grill team had a 533 series and Morgan Kern of Mary's had a 508 series. Short's and Mann's had three 500 series bowlers. Russ Hosmer (509 series) for Short's and Willard Mann (532 series) and Rollie Grossman (500 series) for Mann's. Four of A. B. C. Service bowlers had 500 series (LeRoy Marx (584) Dewey Hartbeck (557 series), Clarence Fielder (534) and Elwin Benedict (534) while Spike's team in this match had only Jake Trent to have a high series. The two Kappler boys, Homer (505) and Speck (536) and Earl Berseder (514) for Ford's were the big guns in the Kappler Contractor-Carl M. Schaible Inc. match. In the Klager-Double A Products match Fritz Schiller for Double A had a 586 series which was the 2nd highest series of the evening, while for Klager's, Richard Weir (505) and Paul Widmayer (518) led the way for their team. In the K. & W. Farm Supply-Widmayer's battle, Lyle Widmayer was the only one to crack the 500 mark and did in a big way with a 585 series. The 200 game or better bowlers were Jake Trent 2 games 231 and 204, Lyle Widmayer 230, Fritz Schiller 221, Fay Evilsizer 209, Dewey Hartbeck 208, Willard Mann 205, and Art Golas 204.

While Short's Electric tied Mary's Tavern for the league lead with 59 points and Jake Trent gave Homer Kappler a scare for individual high series which Homer has at 632 the rest of the marks remained the same: Kappler's Contractors had high team series-2727 Mary's Tavern has the high team game mark-1002 and Homer Kappler had high individual game-252.

and 8th places in the standings. Bakery now holds the low spot just 3 points behind Widmayer's. "Hapless" Hamilton's Market became a "happy" quintet indeed when they climbed into the 6th spot by taking 4 big points from Carl M. Schaible Inc. The loss dropped Schaible's into 4th place. The Uphaus Drug team had the time of their lives shellacking their favorite rivals and league leaders, Manchester Drug! The 4 point loss wasn't enough to unseat the number one team but it brought Uphaus Drug into 2nd place, a mere 1 point behind. Lannon's Variety took 3 points from Schaffer Lumber Co. but it didn't do them much good in the long run. Both teams dropped 1 mark lower in the standings. Too bad! Virginia Fielder of Uphaus Drug took the prize for the most strikes in succession. She had 4! Widmayer's Edna Diferderfer and Manchester Drug's Pat Solman each had a "Turkey" and eleven of the girls rolled "Doubles". Schaible's Shirley Bower and Jacqueline Armentrout had 1 a piece; Uphaus Drug's Ardis Schied, Mary Cannon, and Doris Setton all had 1 a piece; Widmayer's Francis Bersuder had 1 and teammate Mary Ann Schill had 2; Schaffer's Bettie Schaible had 1 while Joyce Schaffer of the same team had 2; Hamilton's Helen Welch got 2 and teammate Margaret Dietle had 1. Joyce Schaffer and Della Widmayer, both on the Lumber Co.'s team, picked up the same split a 5-10. Mary Ann Schill of Widmayer's had the highest single game of the evening with a 173. Close behind were Uphaus Drug's Virginia Fielder and Mary Cannon who each rolled a 171 in the same game. Lannon's Variety had 3 high scorers, Lena Riedel 170, Vera Schaible 166, and Amanda Widmayer 165. Manchester Drug's Jeanne England and Widmayer's Doris Bersuder each rolled a 163. The Lumber Co.'s Joyce Schaffer had a 169 and Hamilton's Helen Welch a 165. Nice going girls... keep it up!

Washington Pleads for a Religious America

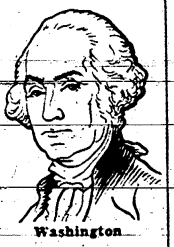

By Thomas F. Stransky, PFS Staff Writer

NO MAN REACTS indifferently to sudden power and command. He grows with the new responsibilities of leadership, or he just swells.

He will grow in manliness and humility when he realizes that talents and authority are gifts of God. He will swell with weakening pride when he refuses to bow his head, except to look at self-achievement and the people subjected to it.

GEORGE WASHINGTON grew with his responsibilities. When he met the military and governmental difficulties of the embryonic America, he realized that they were too great for so small a man unless he met them with the help of God.

Instead of becoming overconfident in his abilities as he succeeded in surmounting one difficulty after another, Washington became more and more convinced that God had helped to make him what he was, that God had a hand in his triumphs. "Providence" has been bountiful to me," God in His goodness will direct me" are short but significant sentences found in his letters.

BUT WASHINGTON did not keep these sentiments to himself. He wished all Americans to recognize and thank the God who had graced our country. As commander-in-chief he wrote to the army, "The signal instances of providential goodness, which have crowned our labors with complete success demand from us the warmest returns of gratitude and piety to the Supreme Author of All Good."

In his inaugural address the first President insisted that "no people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible hand which conducts the affairs of men more than the people of the United States."

BUT BEWARE of overconfidence in that protection. "The propitious smiles of heaven can never be expected on a nation that disregards the rule of order and right which Heaven itself has ordained."

Humble recognition of God's laws as well as God's blessings—this is George Washington's message to the America of his day and our day. When he says in his Farewell Address that religion and morality are "indispensable supports to political prosperity," he only restates what he had always believed: God will bless a nation that appreciates those blessings and obeys His laws.

dents made by the Rural Church Department, Drew Seminary, at Madison, N. J., shows that the main retarding factors are none of these things. The reason young men do not enter the ministry is because no one has shown them why and how. No one has counseled with them or guided them.

The above report is entitled NEW MINISTERS. It covered 48 states and 20 of the major denominations. The report covers 30 pages and is being distributed upon request. This report shows that 83.5 per cent of the factors that keep men out of the ministry are simply because no person, no organization, no pastor or no parent is seeking to enlist them.

One student gave a representative statement, "My decision to enter the ministry would never have been made had not the pastor suggested it to me. He planted the idea. I think that most men must have it suggested to them, especially young men."

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from the Bible
A soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up anger.—(Proverbs 15, 1.)

With so much of hate and unhappiness in the world today, and so much of grief in any man's life, the kind deed, the encouraging word that any one of us can give to another these days is so little but so precious. They cost us nothing—but of what great value!

World Day of Prayer Set For March 5th

Nearly two hundred women of Manchester vicinity are expected to participate in the World Day of Prayer on March 5, 1954 at Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church. This is an annual service of some years held on the first Friday of Lent.

Rural Church News

The parsonage is like the weather, everybody seems interested in it, but nobody does anything about it.

In a study of 70 rural parsonages or manse made this past summer by the Rural Church Department, Drew Seminary, Madison, N. J., it was found that they were insured for only 41 per cent of their replacement value. The present average value of these was $11,290. The average insurance carried on them was only $5,469.

It is obvious that these 70 churches would not want to lose 59 per cent of the value of their parsonage.

The above Department has a new bulletin which it is sending out on request entitled "The Home of the Rural Pastor" that tells how we can improve our parsonages.

Twenty retired farmers of the South Waterloo Church of the Brethren in Iowa have built houses for themselves near their open-country church and turned their farms over to their sons to manage. On a Sunday morning the family pews contain three generations. They are keeping their young people in the community. The story of this and 15 other rural churches that are holding their young people is described in a bulletin entitled, "A New Gospel of the Soil." It is being sent out on request by the Rural Church Department, Madison, N. J.

St. Mary's Catholic Church, in the open country west of Toledo, Ohio, has a Credit Union of 754 members which helps settle young families in the parish. The total amount loaned since it was organized is over a million dollars. This money has all been subscribed by the local members during the past 15 years. 21 couples have been helped to buy farms in that community. Young people have been able to borrow money to go to college or to build a house. There are now 300 families in this open country parish.

The Rural Church Department at Drew Seminary, Madison, N. J., has included the story of this and 15 other rural churches in a new bulletin, entitled, "A New Gospel of the Soil." The bulletin tells how rural churches of all denominations are helping their young people get started in farming. The bulletin is being sent out on request.

The children in our colored homes in the South are nearly two grades ahead of their parents.

In the recent survey of 17 southern counties entitled THESE MY BROTHERS, information was secured as to the grade in school completed by 4300 parents. The same information was secured regarding their children who had stopped school or were through school.

The average grade completed by the 4300 parents was 7.0. The average grade completed by their children was 8.8. The children were nearly two grades ahead of their parents.

If each generation exceeds the preceding one by two grades in school, we can see progress ahead. This survey is being distributed by the Rural Church Department, Drew Seminary, Madison, New Jersey. It is entitled "These My Brethren."

The wives in these families were a little more than one grade ahead of their husbands. The average grade completed in school by the husbands was 6.4, by the wives it was 7.5.

Since many denominations are short of pastors, there are many guesses as to what is keeping young men out of the ministry.

Women of the world gathered on the World Day of Prayer to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad. The services are promoted by the United Council of Church Women of the National Council of Churches. Women representing the local churches in this area for planning the community service are Mrs. Clyde Gieske, Mrs. Antoin Feldkamp, Sharon United Brethren, Rowes Corners; Mrs. Walter Bihlmeyer, Bethel, Freedom Township; Mrs. John Bunney and Mrs. Clayton Parr, Methodist; Mrs. Loren Troz, Iron Creek; Mrs. Theo. Blumenauer and Mrs. Ed Schuman, Emanuel. The service being at Emanuel Mrs. Blumenauer is chairman and reports plans are in progress.

The service for this World Day of Prayer observance was written by the late Sarah Chakko, president of Isabella Thoburn College at Lucknow, India. Miss Chakko died within the last month. She was an outstanding churchwoman of the world. The title of the service which she prepared is "That They May Have Life".

This service will be used to prepare hearts in prayer in more than 19,000 communities in the United States, as well as in 118 countries. Through-out the twenty-four hours of this particular day groups of women all over the world will feel and make felt the power to prayer in the understanding of world problems; in their solution lies the path of world peace.

DIXIE PIE BAKE-OFF
A cherry pie bake-off is as normal in Mississippi these days as it is in Michigan.

Six 4-H club girls gathered recently in Jackson, Mississippi, to demonstrate their skill. The winner earned a trip to Chicago and the privilege of entering the National Cherry Pie Contest being held this month.

Divining Rod of Little Use In Finding Oil

"Watch out for doodlebugs and doodlebuggers," a University of Michigan geologist warns prospective oil hunters. According to Kenneth K. Landes, U-M geology professor, a doodlebug may be any one of a number of gadgets used as a supposed aid in finding underground oil caches. Prominent among these "doodlebuggers" the professor points out, is the dowser and his divining rod. Usually the rod is a forked twig or branch of apple, willow or hazel wood. Legend says that when the dowser and rod pass over a vein of oil or water, the rod will indicate it by turning and pointing downwards.

Professor Landes explains that this is "simply a case of unstable equilibrium." With the rod held lightly in each hand, and pressure exerted from each side, the stick's head will remain upright. It changes when a misstep or a twitch upsets the balance.

For those wishing a scientific approach to oil detecting, Professor Landes recommends consultation with a geologist. He points out that oil usually is found in underground traps, covered with a non-porous overlay of rock.

By using surveying instruments on these rock outcroppings, or bringing samples to the surface with a drill, geologists can study the materials, decide their age to see if they are from an oil forming period and also define the type of rock through which prospectors must drill.

There are also geophysical instruments which may be used, he explains. The magnetometer measures the strength of the earth's magnetic field, a force which causes compasses to point north. This is affected by the nature and depth of hidden rock layers, Professor Landes states.

The geologist says that the gravity meter is used for measuring the earth's gravitational force. Heavy and dense rocks exert a greater pull than rocks which are lighter and less dense (more porous). Also, rocks near the surface have a stronger attraction than the same kind at greater depth, he adds.

Most widely used device, he continues, is "the seismograph, which measures and times earth vibrations. Oil hunters using it set off a small earthquake with a dynamite blast. The explosion sets up waves in the earth which are reflected more strongly from hard than less hard rock. They also return to the surface in a shorter time from a less deep strata. The reflections are recorded by the seismograph.

"Even with all these scientific means," Professor Landes points out, "the best geologist and his instruments can do is to locate possible traps where oil may have accumulated."

NEW BATTERY OFFERED

Industrial research at an eastern corporation has developed a storage battery which manufacturers say should have a life expectancy of 10 to 20 years. The battery uses nickel cadmium cells of a special sintered plate type in place of lead. It will be manufactured this year for use in automobiles, motorboats, farm equipment, and in all kinds of internal combustion engines. The battery has been in production for about 4 years as a closely guarded military secret.

Research workers for an eastern manufacturer have developed a new rake said to handle hay so gently that nearly all the leaves remain on the stalks, thus increasing the "richness" of the feed.

Farmers can double their production of cranberries by increasing the number of bees per acre, according to tests made by the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment station.

Highway News

Detroit-Chicago Expressway

During 1953, considerable progress was made in construction work on the Detroit-Chicago expressway, which, when completed, will utilize the Edsel Ford and John C. Lodge expressways from downtown Detroit to Wyoming avenue at the west city limit of Detroit. From this point, the Detroit-Industrial and Willow-Run expressways will form the next link of the Detroit-Chicago route. There now is in use a connecting link from the Willow Run expressway westward to US-23 southeast of Ann Arbor. From this point, the Highway Department has under construction a new route around the south side of Ann Arbor to join with US-12 just west of the city. This will be another part of the Detroit-Chicago route. At present the Department has under construction 4 structures to the by-pass. One is the interchange at the junction of US-23 and the by-pass. The others are at the Ann Arbor railroad, Stone School road and Platt road.

On the 15.8 mile relocation of US-12, starting east of the city of Jackson and extending straight westward to old US-12 just west of Parma, the first two-thirds of an ultimate 4-lane divided highway has been completed. The last section, from Jackson to Parma, was opened Nov. 25. Three structures required on the Jackson-Parma section, at M-50, Sand Stone creek and at Parma road were completed during 1953. Also the north side of Jackson mo- to-the 4-lane roadway is completed. The Highway Department has announced plans for the early start of work for another US-12 relocation, which will carry traffic north of the city of Albion. Surveys are under way for this section of the Detroit-Chicago expressway. The city of Marshall in Calhoun county is to be by-passed by a relocation of US-12 north of that city. Battle Creek eventually will have a new location of the Highway south of that city, as another link in the Detroit-Chicago expressway.

At Kalamazoo, considerable work has been completed on the relocation to carry US-12 south of that city as another part of the Detroit-Chicago expressway. So far, one section of the two-lane pavement has been completed from the street of the relocation east of Galesburg, west to Miller road. Three bridges have been completed on this section, (which is now open to local traffic) at the east end of the by-pass and at Shafter and Scott roads. Contracts have been let for another structure at Miller road and the Department at an early date will start building a connection from the by-pass north to King's highway in Kalamazoo, so as to open the new roadway to traffic to and from downtown Kalamazoo. The Department also has announced plans to start work by Spring on bridges required for extension of the by-pass roadway west to US-31 (Westnidge street). These structures will be at Lover's Lane and Portage roads and at the Pennsylvania railroad. Bids on the road span were taken in Lansing on December 16 and this contract should be signed early in January, 1954.

The route of the Kalamazoo by-pass west of US-131 has not been determined, nor have by-pass plans in the Benton-Harbor-St. Joseph area.

The Michigan Toll Road Authority has indicated it favors the general route of US-12 for the proposed new Detroit-Chicago toll road. In event it should decide to build such a route, it is quite possible the Authority may take over the by-passes now built or being built by the Highway Department as part of the Detroit-Chicago expressway. The Department would be paid for any completed work taken over by the Toll Road Authority, which would complete the expressway as a toll road. Money paid to the Highway Department for work already done could then be used on needed projects on freeways.

Blue Cross Adds New Hospitals

There are now 211 Blue Cross participating hospitals in Michigan, it was announced today by Michigan Hospital Service (Blue Cross).

Latest to be approved as a Blue Cross member hospital is Jennings Memorial Hospital in Detroit. This means that now, out of all the general hospitals for acute illness in the state, only one voluntary community hospital and a handful of private-owned small hospitals are not Blue Cross participating hospitals.

A participating hospital is one which has agreed by contract with Blue Cross to provide Blue Cross members with all the available services called for in their coverage, and seek reimbursement for those services only from the Blue Cross.

Consequently, Blue Cross members are admitted without red tape, have no claims to fill out, nor do they have to pay the bill and then await reimbursement. That is because the hospital is paid for the services directly by Blue Cross.

Blue Cross payments to hospitals for care of Blue Cross members hit an all-time high in 1953 of over $85,000,000, accounting on the average for well over 40 per cent of their total income was for care of Blue Cross patients.

In highly industrial areas, the percentage was far higher, with many hospitals reporting more than two thirds of their total income was for care of Blue Cross patients.

Survey Shows Relation Between Vision, Wages

A detailed survey on vision has shown clearly that there is a direct and tangible relationship between reliable, professional eye care and higher wages and production.

The Huron Valley Society of Optometrists, in reviewing these findings, has noted that employees in one plant averaged a wage increase of seven dollars a month after proper visual correction. Management in this same plant earned a five per cent increased return on capital equipment used by these employees.

Conversely, 37% of all spoiled work in a second plant was blamed on inefficient vision, while production jumped 19% and spoilage dropped after a visual program was introduced at a third.

Along with these improvements where proper eye examinations were conducted, employee morale was also sharply increased.

A group of soldiers at a fourth plant earned 14 cents an hour more than their fellow employees at piecework, after they had received eye examinations and glasses were prescribed for those employees needing them.

These findings, the Society of Optometrists reports, point to the importance of reliable, professional vision correction from both the standpoint of management and the individual employee.

A Belgian-designed .30 caliber self-loading rifle will be adopted as the standard infantry weapon for British army forces.

The rate of national income in 3rd quarter was 6 per cent above 1952.

Don't Take Chances With Carbon Monoxide

Automobile exhaust fumes which contain poisonous carbon monoxide, are a real hazard too often ignored. The tail pipe of the car ahead of you can spill its gases right into the heating and ventilating system of your car.

To prevent headaches, drowsiness and more serious effects of carbon monoxide, follow these rules: When driving in traffic close behind other cars, keep air-intake ventilators closed when ever possible. When your own heater is operating, always keep a window open an inch or two.

SCIENCE and your Health

PROBLEMS OF OLD AGE By Science Features

The song which laments that "the old rockin' chair's got me" expresses a feeling all too often characteristic of elderly people. In many cases these people suffer from no organic disturbance. They simply feel "old."
 But the proverb that you are only as old as you feel has received considerable scientific support in recent years. Advances in medical science, which have added years to our life expectancy, have made old age healthier than ever before.
 As a matter of fact, the complex problems involved in helping the ever-increasing elderly population lead healthy and useful lives has given rise to a whole new branch of medical science. This is called gerontology, the study of old age.

Many cases of elderly people who lack a sense of general well-being—who feel "old" and spiritless—can be traced to a deficiency in certain hormones, the life-regulating chemicals produced by the body's glands.
 To help people suffering from this deficiency, a hormone drug, called Combandrin, has been developed. This drug, containing two important hormones, acts to help rebuild tissue and promote a sense of fitness. It can be given by injection or by tablet.
 But this is only one aspect of gerontology. Others include psychiatry and preventive medicine—in fact, all scientific knowledge that can help old people live happier, healthier lives.

Drainage Problem Discussed at Farm Bureau Meeting

The February meeting of the Bridgewater Farm Bureau met with Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Reiser at which Mrs. Edwin Haessler reported on the recent Women's Group meeting at the Pittsfield Grange hall at which plans were made to meet six times instead of four times as in previous years. The group voted to collect two cents per member for "Penny's for Friendship" campaign to help the Associated Women of the World. It was suggested that members do their part in political issues and cast their votes during election.

Mrs. Everett Stockwell gave a report of the Blue Cross meeting at Saline earlier in the month and she told the group that those wishing to enroll in Blue Cross should do so by March 20th.

Marvin Breitenwischer, the assistant discussion leader, presented the topic which was a state plan for regulating the financing of drainage projects within and between counties. The questions were "Do you think that there should be or should not be a plan of state-aid to relieve individuals from financial responsibilities for drainage projects within and between counties?" The group thought there should be and by so doing they felt that all laws pertaining to drainage could be simplified. The group agreed that the Justice of the Peace should present a petition for financing of such drains.

The March meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Days. After a social hour refreshments were served by the hostess.

Legion Auxiliary Plans To Redecorate Hall

The American Legion Auxiliary Emil Jacob Unit 117 held their February meeting Wednesday, February 10, at the hall. A delicious potluck supper was served at 6:30 by Mrs. Harold Alexander and her committee.

The business meeting was called to order by president Romelhardt. The following committees reported: Mrs. Robert Huber, membership chairman reported that we have fifty-five paid members, lacking two for quota.

Community service chairman, Mrs. Basil Schwab reported that there is one bed, two pair crutches, one wheel chair and one invalid walker on hand.

Mrs. Donald Suttop gave a good cheer report.

Redecorating of the meeting room, rest room and kitchens was discussed. Drapes have been purchased for the meeting room.

The Auxiliary asks that whoever has towels with the auxiliary stamp to please return them to the kitchen.

President Romelhardt reported that the magazine drive was going as well as can be expected so far. She also told the group that the poppies have been received.

The unit voted to send a girl to Girls State again this year. A donation was voted to be sent to the Washtenaw County Infirmary.

The motion was made and seconded that second district president, Mrs. Lelia Wilson and her secretary be invited to the March meeting.

President Mrs. William Romelhardt and Mrs. Edward Steele Jr. gave a report of the meeting of the second district which they attended at Dundee on Sunday, January 24.

Mrs. Lelah Fish was appointed good cheer chairman for the coming month.

The March serving committee is as follows: chairman Mrs. Raymond Neuderfer assisted by mesdames O'Tillie Schaible, Carl Schaible Irving Kuhl and Emma Bertke.

Timely Tips

It's a wise homemaker who knows the tricks of her trade. Here are a few to add to your collection and help make your chores easier for you.

Separating egg whites from yolks can be done in a jiffy. Just break the egg in a small funnel. The whites will go through... the yolks won't.

Before scalding milk, wipe the bottom and sides of the pan with butter. The milk won't scorch and the pan will be easier to clean.

A folded damp cloth placed under a mixing bowl keeps it from slipping and speeds mixing.

To soften butter quickly, heat an earthenware bowl by filling it with boiling water, then empty it and place it upside down over the butter.

To banish that horrid onion aroma from your hands, rub them with vinegar.
