

Fr. Leonard Way Celebrates First Solemn High Mass

Father Leonard Bernard Way, O. S. B. was one of ten monks of St. Benedict's Abbey, Atchison, Kansas on whom major orders were conferred Saturday, May 29. The ceremony took place at St. Peter's cathedral in Kansas City, Kansas.

Leonard Way

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Way of Manchester and graduated from Manchester high school. He attended St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Indiana for one year, served in the U. S. Marine Corps for three and one-half years, and then returned to St. Joseph's, graduating in June 1949 with a bachelor of arts degree in English literature granted cum laude.

He entered St. Benedict's Abbey in 1949, making profession of simple vows on September 8, 1950 and solemn vows July 11, 1953. For the past year he has been registrar of St. Benedict's College.

Father Leonard will celebrate his first solemn high Mass on Sunday June 13, at 10:15 a. m. in St. Mary's church, Manchester, to which everyone is invited to attend. His parents are holding open house for his many friends at the church hall from 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday and extend an invitation to all the people of the community to meet with Fr. Leonard at that time. No invitation is necessary for either the Mass or reception.

Rev. Msgr. Joseph V. Pfeffer of St. Elizabeth's parish, Detroit will preach the sermon. Msgr. Pfeffer was pastor at St. Mary's, Manchester, during the time Father Leonard was attending school and catechism here. Serving on the altar during the mass will be three of Fr. Leonard's brothers, Robert O. Dearborn, Dr. Kenneth Way of Marshall, and Richard of Manchester. The other two brothers, John F. and Tom Way, will be ushers.

The group then motored to Atchison where they were royally treated by the Abbey. The Ways returned home Monday evening. Fr. Leonard Way arrived here Friday.

Baccalaureate Services To Be Held Sunday

Rev. Bergman Addresses Grads

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday evening at the civic auditorium with Rev. Adolf Bergman, pastor of the Methodist Church giving the address, "Life's Challenge To Youth". His address is as follows:

Mr. Atkinson, Mr. Masten, Members of the Board of Education, Rev. Rest, Members of the graduating class, teachers, parents, students, friends:

I have chosen for my subject this baccalaureate evening, Life's challenge to youth. As Israel of old stood at the border of the promised land, to enter, to inhabit, and to possess it, so are you, dear Seniors, about to launch out into a new adventure, of entering into something new—a larger, greater life with manifold opportunities, challenges and responsibilities. You have chosen a wonderful motto for your graduation. "We build for character and not for fame". But character is not built in a quicky. It is a long and hard process of constant growth and work that results in a real character and personality. It takes about a hundred years to make an oak!

The same is true with life.

But what is life? There have been many definitions, as to what life is, maybe an illustration will help us to understand it better. There is an ancient story of a knight who on one of his adventures saw death sitting on a fence at a crossroad. Seeing death the knight exclaimed: "Death I hate you; I'll kill you!"

"Before you kill me," answered death with a smile, "I'll show you life." And it showed him life in the person of a dirty, ragged witch. "Death, I love you," said the knight, "Take me away!"

This is just a story, but it has some important lesson in it. Life is far from our dreams and plans; it is rugged and hard. Life has been described as a road—and it is a road of varied length with all its many turns, curves, ups, downs, stops, highways and by-ways. Which shall we choose? Do we know the Road? Do we have a compass—a guide? Life has been described as a struggle and it is a struggle. From the 100 graduates of my class of 1920 in the South of Russia I am the lone survivor. Why?—I do not know! Life has been described as a gift—and it is a gift, the greatest gift of God to men. How are we going to use it? Throw it away by wasteful living, or use it by right investment of our gifts and talents into it? Someone has said that four things are needed for a great and happy life:

1. A great goal.—What is your goal? What do you want to be an oak tree or a squash? Whatever your choice—be it! As for Christians no greater goal than a Christ-like life, or as great Apostle Paul has said it: "For me to live is Christ."

2. A great enthusiasm. Enthusiasm has been described as: ardor, fervor, vehemence, eagerness, optimism, assurance, fire, spirit, force. We may call it "Dynamics"—the Power driving from within.

3. A great struggle. Ours is a confused, bewildered, struggling world; we witness a gigantic

IMPORTANT MEETING

For ALL THOSE interested

In Having a COMMUNITY FAIR

If YOU want a FAIR, THIS INCLUDES YOU!

Time: 8 p. m. MONDAY, JUNE 14

High School Auditorium

The Manchester Exchange Club has announced that Friday, June 18 at 7 p. m. they plan to hold a public auction of articles donated to the club for the Athletic Field Fence Fund.

The auction will be held on the "Way" property, west of Spike's Mobil Service on M-11. The committee in charge of this affair will welcome any and all donations of saleable articles, but wish to point out that clothing will not be handled.

Many articles of useful nature have been donated for this cause and it appears that an excellent sale will be held, according to the Exchange Club Sale Committee, Dan J. Boutell, Willard Mann, Ricland Grossman, and Lyle Widmayer. Any member of the Exchange club will also be glad to arrange for these donations. Guy Z. Thompson, a well-known auctioneer from Ypsilanti will handle the sale.

The athletic field fence was erected in 1953 at a total cost of $5,562.20 and the Exchange club paid this amount and are attempting to solicit help from any and all who wish to assist in this community project. The fence has proven to be a good investment in controlling crowds at public functions held on the field and from all indications, many people are anxious to aid the Exchange club in this civic project.

The committee urges everyone to contact the Sale Committee as soon as possible if they have articles for auction.

Invitation To Attend Jackson Celebration Extended To Mayor

The following letter was received by village president, Joe Schwab. Joe says that if there are any groups or organizations in town wishing to take an active part in the Jackson Celebration he will be more than pleased to make the necessary arrangements.

"Howdy,
In Jackson, Michigan, during the week of July 4-10, a celebration will be held to mark a re-dedication of the ideas expressed a century ago, when, in 1854, hundreds gathered in this city to promote the interest of freedom. This week will be known as "Freedom Festival" week. Each evening, a spectacular dramatic pageant called "These Truths Are Self Evident" will be presented on a 350 foot outdoor stage with a cast of over 1,700. All events will be grouped under the following daily schedule of freedom themes:
July 4th, Sunday—Freedom of Religion Day.
July 5th, Monday—Human Rights Day.
July 6th, Tuesday—Under the Oaks Day.
July 7th, Wednesday—Freedom of the Press Day.
July 8th, Thursday—Education and Agriculture Day.
July 9th, Friday—Good Neighbors Day.
July 10th, Saturday—Citizens of Tomorrow Day.
Parades are planned for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.
The citizens of your community are invited to join with us in this celebration. It is anticipated that the participation of many groups will take the form of marching bands and/or floats. We trust that you will give this invitation widest possible distribution, and, if in your opinion it is warranted, appoint a local chairman in your area to coordinate efforts. If a chairman is appointed, please advise us immediately of name and address.
An invitation has been extended to President Eisenhower to attend. While we do not have definite plans during the Degree week. All members are invited to attend.
It was voted that the Manchester Chapter O. E. S. will hold a family picnic again this summer. The time and place to be announced in the paper later. Dorothy Mann and Elizabeth Grossman are Co-Chairmen, assisted by Virginia Neuderfer and Virginia Kroske. All members and their families are invited.
The local Chapter will recess during the months of July and August, and the next regular meeting will be held Sept. 3rd. A potluck dinner at 6:30 will precede the meeting. All members are invited to attend.
After the meeting was closed, refreshments were served to approximately thirty members and guests.

Salutatorian's Address

Friends:
On behalf of the senior class of 1954 I would like to welcome all of you here tonight. I hope the program will be one of great interest and enjoyment to you. I hope you will gain some of the satisfaction we feel upon being able to be here as part of the 81st commencement exercises.

I feel that another guest is present here tonight—one that was not formally invited, but yet one who we have all been waiting eagerly to meet. That unseen guest is opportunity. It has been said that opportunity knocks but once on every man's door. How tragic, if we fail to recognize him when he knocks at our door.

Many of you I am sure are familiar with Edward Knowland Sill's poem called, Opportunity. I would like to read it at this time:

"This I beheld, or dreamed it in a dream:
There spread a cloud of dust along a plain;
And underneath the cloud, or in it, raged a furious battle,
And men yelled, and swords shocked upon swords and shields.
A prince's banner wavered, then staggered backward, hemmed by foes.
A craven hung along the battle's edge,
And thought, 'Had I a sword of keener steel—
That blue blade that the King's son bears—but this Blunt thing! he snapped and flung it from his hand,
And lowering crept away, and left the field.
Then came the King's son, wounded, sore bestead,
And weaponless, and saw the broken sword,

Hilt, buried in the dry and trodless sand,
And ran and snatched it, and With battle shout lifted a fresh, he hewed his enemy down,
And saved a great cause that heroic day!"

The King's son saw the opportunity that the craven had failed to see. He achieved victory through courage and a broken sword. We need not the keen sword of blue steel that the king's son carried to be able to gain an opportunity, as we go out and take our place in the world, I hope that we will all recognize and welcome opportunity if and when it presents itself.

State Seeks Funds For Gypsy Moth Fight

Emergency funds for the Michigan Department of Agriculture to eradicate from the Lansing area the first gypsy moths ever found west of Pennsylvania, will be requested of the Legislature's special committee on appropriations which has been asked to convene on June 2.

Gypsy moth is one of the most destructive of insect pests, according to G. S. McIntyre, director of the Department. It attacks trees, shrubs and practically any type of vegetative matter. In the east as many as 1 1/2 million acres have been completely defoliated by the pest in a single season. Massachusetts alone last year spent more than $600,000 in fighting the gypsy moth battle.

How gypsy moth got to Michigan is not known, but egg masses can be transported on cars, trucks or other vehicles or on articles brought into the state.

Egg masses were found on trees in the southern part of Lansing recently. Positive identification was made by Lansing foresters, Michigan State College entomologists, representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the State Department's own bureau of plant industry.

Eradication would include airplane spraying of 18,000 acres of land with DDT, which in the east has proven the most effective means. The operation would be a joint one between the Federal and State agricultural

Dairy Month Focuses Eyes On Michigan

Just how important is the dairy business to Michigan? Will dairymen have something to be proud of during June, Dairy Month?

The 846,000 dairy cows on 101,000 Michigan farms produce nearly six billion pounds of milk a year. The value is nearly 150 million dollars. The sale of veal and beef from dairy herds totals another 50 million dollars.

That brings the total cash dairy income to approximately 200 million dollars, the largest source of farm income in Michigan. And it helps maintain business in every Michigan city.

There are more than 600 dairy plants in Michigan which process the state's milk supply into various dairy products—bottled milk, butter, evaporated and condensed milk, ice cream, cheese and others.

Cost of airplane spraying has been estimated at from $1.50 to $2.50 an acre.

If gypsy moth can be contained and eradicated within the small area where it was found, the possibility of a federal quarantine of the whole state with its hampering restrictions probably can be avoided, according to C. A. Boyer, chief of the Department's bureau of plant industry.

In some places in the east where gypsy moth became established before steps were taken to eliminate it, the battle has been going on for 30 years and has cost into the millions of dollars not counting losses in farm and forest land.

The dairy business also involves much labor in getting the milk from the dairy cow into a product in the family's refrigerator—hauling from the farm to the dairy plant, the dairy plant processing and delivery to the stores and homes. That doesn't include the labor to manufacture equipment for the dairy farm and plants.

Michigan ranks high among states in the dairy business. The Wolverine state is eighth in total milk production, seventh in the amount of milk bottled, fourth in the processing of non-fat dry milk solids, ninth in cheese production, fifth in cottage-cheese making, sixth in butter, sixth in ice cream and second in sherbet production.

Inside the Capitol

Passage of the St. Lawrence Seaway legislation opens up new business possibilities for the State of Michigan beyond anything we have seen in this century. The transformation of the Great Lakes ports into seaports will affect business and agriculture in many ways.

The important thing is that we plan carefully and wisely for the changes which must take place to enable the Great Lakes ports to serve ocean going vessels. Already, action has started along this line. Senator Ferguson has indicated that he plans extensive conferences with business leaders in the State to speed up action.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission has been asked to prepare a careful study of the problems which are bound to be raised in such development and the Michigan Waterways Commission has also begun an analysis of the many questions involved. Naturally, the Michigan Legislature will have much to do with whatever plans are finally worked out. The important thing is that the whole effort be coordinated in such a way as to get maximum results.

The job in Michigan does not have to be done overnight. In fact, much that will need to be done can be accomplished as the new resources for foreign-trade begin to make themselves felt. It will probably be a matter of 10 or 15 years before the full impact of the Seaway has been fully absorbed.

Our object ought to be the preparation of an extensive long-range plan which can be carried out over the next few years in some logical order. If Michigan's business and government leaders will spend a year reviewing this problem and preparing such a plan, it will be time and money well spent.

Deal With Wasps At Night

Here's how to deal with those wasps that build their homes too close for personal comfort:

For hornets, yellow jackets and mud daubers, spray or dust chlordane or DDT on the nests, suggests E. C. (Bert) Martin, Michigan State College entomologist. Put most of the insecticide in and around the opening.

This is done at night—not only because it's safer—but the wasps are more likely to be home.

Then you can plug the openings of hornet and yellow-jacket nests with a wad of cotton soaked with carbon tetrachloride. Then nudge the nest into a sack and bury it or burn it. Or you can put the nest and wasps into an airtight can along with a few tablespoons of carbon tetrachloride. The chemical will kill them in 24 hours or less. Use carbon tetrachloride with caution, however. It's poisonous and its fumes can kill humans, too.

Our Youths Won't Wear Out Elbows

By Clair L. Taylor, Sup't. of Public Instruction

The months of May and June bring to a close for approximately 60,000 Michigan boys and girls the formal part of education called high school. This is known as commencement season and is a time to be remembered for life. The community, the parents, the faculty and students have all been working cooperatively to make this occasion possible.

Thirteen years ago the boys and girls who are graduating were in kindergarten. That was the Spring of 1941 when we as a Nation were on the threshold of World War II.

Therefore, in their early school years, many of these boys and girls were subjected to economic, social and emotional strains caused by the many disruptions in normal family life. And again, before graduation, they have witnessed another world disaster in the Korean conflict.

At the same time, the Nation was experiencing unusual periods of prosperity with an accompanying flood of depreciated dollars. Most boys and girls are accustomed to having and spending inflated dollars; in many cases they have not been faced with the need to appreciate the value of our monetary system.

It has been a period of new scientific discoveries with our thinking directed toward the atom and hydrogen bombs. The tremendous power from these bombs is difficult for all to comprehend. It is important to our future that the release of this energy be directed toward the improvement of society as a whole rather than to its destruction.

The school system endeavors to produce citizens who have gained a knowledge of the value of the tool subjects like the Rs that will be used in everyday application.

They must have a clear understanding of our form of government, an appreciation of the desires of our forefathers to govern themselves, and a love for our country which will guarantee the continued importance of each individual as he takes his place in local, state, national and world affairs. Each student will have succeeded in accordance with his ability and energies to which he applied himself during his school days.

The day after graduation place boys and girls in a new role of life. They now find themselves in a position of having to make decisions based on answers to some of the following questions: "Should I join the armed forces or wait to be drafted?" "Should I go to college?" "Should I seek employment?" "Should I get married?" or "Should I just relax and let the world take care of me?" Very few will accept this last choice. The other choices are real challenges that must be met.

Only the individual concerned can answer these questions. The education prior to graduation will materially assist them in making the right decisions.

Each question poses an opportunity to serve. It is for the individual to decide how and to what extent he will accept responsibilities. Regardless of the choice which is made, the value can only be measured by the degree of self pride and satisfaction which is felt. Some will accumulate wealth others will gain great satisfaction from a philosophy of wholesome service to his fellowman.

I am proud of our boys and girls and confident of their ability to meet changing conditions and take advantage of those change to progress. In the words of Winston Churchill: "To improve is to change; to be perfect is to have changed often. Change is a master key. A man can wear out a particular part of his mind by continually using it and tiring it, just as in the same way as he can wear out the elbows of his coat." Our boys and girls will not wear out the elbows of their coats. They will work and learn to improve the goodness of their living.

Mr. and Mrs. Duffield Ball attended the graduation party for William Walkow at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Walkoe Sunday evening.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Wise Stepmother

Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years.

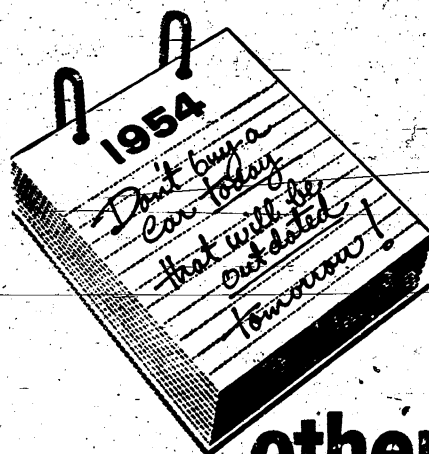

I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother—of two chicks!

Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange—so on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Darn if "Blinky" didn't set on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.)

From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with supper and you'd rather have cider—it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right?

Valedictorian's Address as Delivered By Paul Wahr

"Friends, Members of the Faculty, Members of the School Board and Fellow Classmates.
 The honor of bringing a last greeting to you on this memorable occasion has been given to me. Tonight is a great event in our lives. It is the last time we shall be together as a class. We have had many happy and eventful times during our school days, which will furnish pleasant memories in future years. We look forward to this future with great anticipation and we hope that it will be as pleasant as our school days.
 through time and space even into eternity. It was Christ who said: 'Without me you can do nothing'. Choose Him! God bless you all."
 Rev. Karl Rest of the Emanuel Church gave the invocation and pronounced the benediction. "Faith of our Fathers" and "Onward Christian Soldiers" were sang during the service.
 Miss Linda Reck accompanied at the piano during the singing, professional and recessional of the graduating class.

Graduation is the crossroads where we disband as a group and go our separate ways. Several will go on to become part of other classes in Colleges. Others will go directly into their chosen occupations.

Tonight there is a mixture of both sadness and gladness in our hearts. It is with sadness that we think of parting from our friends and teachers. It is with sadness that we think of leaving the familiar rooms and halls of our school. It is with gladness we look forward to the future when we shall make new friends, visit new places, and have new experiences as we travel on our way.

We wish to thank the School Board for providing us with fine teachers. To the Faculty we extend our thanks for their guidance of us through our many classes. We will owe much to you in future years for this guidance. But most of all we wish to thank our parents for their care in bringing us up and for providing us with so many opportunities to learn to become good and useful citizens of our country.

We say farewell to the under classmen with the hope that they will sometimes miss us as they pass through the hall of Manchester High. We wish them luck and hope they will be our worthy successors. Friends, as we say farewell, we hope that you will forgive our many faults and remember only our virtues, and have kind recollections of those who now bid you "farewell."
