Poultry Clinic November 8

Efficiency in production will be the keynote of the Poultry Conference and Clinic to be held Monday, Nov. 8th at Manchester High School, 8:00 p. m., sponsored by Kluger Hatchery at Bridgewater. Poultry prices are down at present, what is the outlook for the future? What do we mean by efficiency in poultry feeding? Disease plays a major role in efficient poultry management, what should we do about it? These questions plus those brought by the poultry men will be answered by Dr. Howard Zedler, Poultry Department Head and Dr. Samuel Schmittle, Poultry Pathologist at Michigan State College.

Coffee and donuts will be served following the meeting. Ob-yee-door prizes will be given. Everyone is welcomed, Nov. 8th 8:00 p. m., Manchester High School.

Different water temperatures are specified in bread recipes for dissolving compressed and active dry yeast. Compressed yeast must be dissolved in luke warm water, 90-85 degrees F. Active dry yeast must be dissolved in a temperature of water placed on the wrist feels neither warm nor cool. Active dry yeast should be dissolved in warmer water, 105-110 degrees F. for quick action. Water at this temperature feels warm but not hot to the touch.

Audubon Society Announces Coming Screen Tours

The National Audubon Screen Tours will again be presented this fall and winter featuring a series of seven color films and accompanying lectures by some of North America's best-known wildlife authorities.

The films shown in more than 200 cities, may be seen at 8 p. m. Saturday nights in Pat- tenger Auditorium at Ann Arbor High School. They are being sponsored by the Washtenaw Audubon Society and the Adult Education Department of the Ann Arbor Public Schools.

Alexander Sprunt of Charleston, S. C. led off the series with his film "Wing Haven" on Oct. 16, which dealt with national sanctuaries.

Charles Broley, an authority on adventures with American eagles in a film entitled "The Eagle on the Eagle," will present his film on Nov. 6.

Cleveland Grant, known as a camera gun-hunter, will give a film lecture on November 13 on "Adventures with American Birds and Big Game."

Roger Tory Peterson, author and scientist, will show "Wild America," a wildlife film tour circling the North American continent on Dec. 11.

Carl Buchmeister, a natural history teacher, will present a film on "Pastures of the Sea" on Jan. 8.

Naturalist Walter H. Shackleton will show his film, "Rhapsody in Bluegrass," Feb. 12. It shows unusual features of seemingly commonplace subjects in his native Kentucky.

Bert Hartwell, known for his bird calls, will give the final program March 12 on "Canada North," showing the land of the midnight sun, Eskimos and whales.

Season tickets ($2.00) are available from the A. U. Education Department at Ann Arbor High School, while tickets for individual movies will be available at the door. Season ticket purchases include membership in the Washtenaw Audubon Society.

MICHIGAN OUTDOORS

DEER HUNTING BLUNDERS

Gun hunters who go forth for the elusive Michigan White Tail Deer are a strange lot in many ways. Were it possible to arrange a brief schooling for these hunters the annual kill would far exceed present figures, which show a success rate of about one out of every four hunters.

Personal observation leads this writer to believe that deer hunters start out on the wrong foot and carry on in similar fashion for most of the 15-day season. There are exceptions, of course. These are the ones who get their break!

"Sighting-in" Time

Two or three days before the season opens on November 15th the north woods echo with the continuous cracking of high-powered rifles. How come? Are they violent? No, they are the short-sighted signs, stumps, all get a good look at the average gun hunter. He thinks nothing of a try at a target 20 yards away. Sure, 0-9 bullet carries that far, but the trajectory can be a little erratic. Again, he's just starting. He's just starting. This year get your back the easier way! Do it "old-fashioned" by studying, or waiting for a closer shot. It'll pay off with meat in the freezer!

3 From Manchester Work On Ag Census

Enumerators for the 1954 agricultural census in the Washtenaw area under the supervision of Markus S. Simon, Field Supervisor, Farm census questionnaires have been sent to all farm operators and the enumerators are visiting all local farms to collect the questionnaires and if necessary, assist the farmer in filling out the report form.

The 154 Census of Agriculture is the 16th in a series of nationwide farm enumerations the first of which was conducted in 1840 according to Department of Commerce Bureau of Census report which noted that the census "on agriculture" is taken every five years to keep an up to date statistical information about more than five million farms which supply food and raw materials for manufacture of goods. The current census will yield information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, farm facilities and equipment and such as total farm expenditures.

The Field Supervisor emphasized that all information about individuals and their farm operations furnished to the Census Bureau is held in absolute confidence under Federal law. He said that this information may be used as a basis for planning, but is used only to provide summaries, averages, and percentages. The information on an individual report cannot be furnished to anyone other than sworn Census employees and cannot be used for investigation, taxation or regulation.

Training sessions have been held at the Manchester high school for census takers. The area includes the western three townships of Washtenaw and Saline Edgemoor. Belvidere's department store in London has over 300 departments, which is why it is called "That which is born or the flesh is not man's eternal idea." —Mary Baker Eddy.

Plan To Up Milk Sales Is Proposed

How do you get people to drink more milk to help wipe out the surplus?

Two Michigan State College agricultural economists believe they have a partial answer. They call their solution a two-part plan. Here's the way Economists P. B. Jones and Gerald G. Quackenbush say their plan would operate.

The milkman would sell customers their regular quantity of milk at the regular price. But to increase sales, the rostran would offer the same family more milk at a discount.

The rostran would use the amount of milk usually purchased by the household during the fall and winter months as a base, say three quarts every other day. Then in the flush milk season, spring and summer, the milkman would sell the household that she could buy an additional quart with an 8-cent (more or less) discount.

"The economists think that both the dairy industry and the family would gain—the former from increased sales and the family from a better diet."

The two-part plan is detailed in the current issue of M.S.C.'s Agricultural Experiment Station Quarterly Bulletin.

It is more important to know where you are going than to get there quickly. Do not mistake activity for achievement. —Prof. Mabel Newcomer.

This is the car that began with a great idea—the idea that a low-priced car could be built that would have the style, the performance, the comfort and convenience features, and the fine quality "feel" of high-priced cars. Lots of car buyers have wished for such a car. Lots of automotive engineers have dreamed about it. But there were plenty of reasons why it couldn't be done. Then Chevrolet and General Motors dream—the Motoramic Chevrolet! Come in and see how the Motoramic Chevrolet for '55 is far more than a completely new car. It's a whole new idea about cars!

Come in and meet the motoramic Chevrolet
