Drinking A Flying Hazard;

Survey Shows Alarming Increase

Does the serving of liquor on board passenger planes constitute a safety hazard?

Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D., Mass.) says it does. On Aug. 20, Lane announced that he would introduce a bill at the next session of Congress to ban the serving of alcoholic beverages on planes. He called on the air lines to do some self-criticism in the meantime.

The airlines appear ready to do just that. Harold L. Pearson, president of the Air Transport Industry on Sept. 9 proposed a code for the control of in-flight alcohol that will probably come up at an air industry conference early next month. Key points in Pearson's code:

"No drink be allowed aboard a plane." Persons who become drunk aboard to be grounded at the first stop. No service to minors. No service of liquor on Sundays or national observance days.

No service on flights of two hours or less, and service only between noon and midnight.

A general charge be required for all drinks. No consumption to members on sales, and no soliciting of passengers to consume alcoholic drinks.

No interferences by those serving with attention to safety. No serving of liquor on flights of two hours or less, and service only between noon and midnight.

A general charge be required for all drinks. No consumption to members on sales, and no soliciting of passengers to consume alcoholic drinks.

The final tally for the Pinckney Lockwood, started the ball over Manchester. The extra point was made on the goal post.

Statistically, the Pinckney ball team led in the rushing department and with five down, ending on 117 yards to Manchester's 37 and a first down to the Dutchmen's 47 yard line. Let's turn out in three to three passes which netted 100 yards.

Ignorance of Arms Agreement Claim Shows Poor Intelligence

What Egypt has done is quite simple. Not finding it possible to obtain arms at reasonable terms for speedy delivery from the United States, Premier Nasser got what he needed through Soviet Russia. The deal was made in August. It is not believable that the Egyptian government was so totally incompetent and requires overhauling in the United States. This has been recommended by the Hoover Commission.

SAN FRANCISCO—Unquestionably the roughest road trip of each season for the Lions is the annual 10-day visit to the West Coast, where we play the Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49ers, both always tough for us, on consecutive Sundays.

It was bad enough meeting the Rams and 49ers, but playing at Briggs Stadium—just playing them in succession in their home grounds is doubly difficult.

Extra Dose of Film
Just to make sure, however, and to keep the family men's minds on football instead of home, Coach Buddy Parker and his staff will keep the Lions occupied with more practice and more team meetings than normally.

Card playing is a big favorite, follows like Bobby Hayes. The Girard, Jim Cain, Jim Doran, Deak Walker, Leon Hart, Sonny George and sometimes Dick Stasdel are engaged in bridge or hearts or similar games.

Epidemic of Smiles Brings Question, Why do we Smile?

Khrushchev ordered the world to smile. He smiled. His associates smiled. Eisenhower and Dillies smiled. The press and radio smiled. The human race that it was smiling time. It was like a chorus in a comic opera—all smiles.

But what were they smiling about? An end to international tensions, we were told, was the reason for the smiles. Everything was going to move better in the world. The bear and the sheep would be down together—a most uncomfortable position for both. The cold war would be ended with our fighting war taking place at home.

So the smile was frozen into a smirk because events move forward and some of them are very unpleasant. For instance, the late episode of the arms deal with Egypt—regarding the $500 million cannot get arms in one place, the Egyptians will keep them, but that might bring a row between Egypt and Israel. There is no telling how a general fighting war. The smile was frozen into a smirk because events move forward and some of them are very unpleasant.

Perhaps had President Eisenhower been a little more realistic, he would have been a little more realistic. He would have been a little more realistic. He would have been a little more realistic. He would have been a little more realistic.
