March of Dimes Campaign For $65,000 Given Sendoff

Washtenaw County's Polo Drive for $65,000 opened Tuesday evening with a kick-off dinner at the Moose hall in Ann Arbor. The drive is a part of a nation-wide effort to collect $64,000,000. The dinner was contributed by the Women's Auxiliary of the Moose. Those attending from Manchester were chairman of the local drive, Mrs. R. C. Kerr, from Sharon township Mrs. Raymond Jacob, from Pleasant Lake, Mrs. E. Sott, Manchester March of Dimes chairman Mrs. Erwin Huber and publicity, Mark Schneider.

Five hundred dime cards have been mailed to Manchester residents by Miss Marian Farrell and her helpers. The rural areas will be solicited by residents of those areas.

Collection canisters have been placed in all business places by Mrs. Densel Fuller and her committee. Mrs. Glenn Robison has charge of mailing requests for contributions to all organizations in this area.

Mrs. Ray Kerr is trying to acquire a film to be used by various groups showing some of the benefits from the drive. For those who might be interested in securing this film to show at their meetings, Mrs. Kerr's phone number is GAs-9721.

Persons wishing to return dime cards may hand them in to either the Union Savings or the Peoples Bank.

Manchester township March of Dimes will be directed by Mrs. Erwin Paul, chairman. This part of the drive will probably begin this week, weather permitting. She will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Kirk in Oakridge district, Mrs. George Miller, English, Mrs. Arthur Ekin, Gossman, Mrs. Dewey Gilbert, McMahon, Mrs. Allan Whitman, Iron Creek, Mrs. Loren Troil, Mattson, Mrs. Joseph Kartz, Spafard, Mrs. A. Haines, Wampiers Lake, Mrs. Eugene Hill, Bradley, Mrs. Jesse Walker, general assistant and Mrs. Lawrence Kenner also in the Wampiers Lake district.

Former Resident, Mother of Mrs. Widmayer, Dies

Mrs. Herbert Widmayer has returned home after attending the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Estelle Allen, at Falmouth Heights, Falmouth, Mass. Mrs. Allen formerly lived in Manchester.

Mrs. Allen was the wife of William W. Allen. She passed away Dec. 24 at the age of 79 after a long illness. She was born at East St. Louis, Mo. The couple came to Manchester in 1920 and Mr. Allen operated the R. G. Sator farm in the early 1920's.

After leaving Manchester the couple moved to Woodstock, Mass. where they resided until moving to Falmouth.

In addition to her husband and Mrs. Widmayer, Mrs. Allen is survived by four sons, William W. Allen, Jr. of Brooklyn, N. Y.; John of Friendsville, Pa.; Dr. Malcolm E. of Springfield, Mass.; and George H. of Norton, Mass.; two other daughters, Mrs. Janet Payson of Great Neck, N. Y. and Mrs. Abigail Shasner, of Miami; 10 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Holy Name Elects Harold Bersuder

About 25 men belonging to St. Mary's Catholic Church met in the rectory Monday evening to organize their Holy Name Society for this year.

New officers are Harold Bersuder, president; Earl Bersuder, secretary, and Allen Benedict, treasurer.

Meetings will be held the first Monday of each month.

$18 Taken From Register In Auto Agency Burglary

The Tirb Chevrolet Company's building was broken into sometime after 1 a. m. Tuesday, according to sheriff's officers who were called in to investigate.

A small window measuring twelve by fourteen inches was broken in the small office of the building. Some eighteen dollars worth of change was taken from the till in the office. The till was unlocked at the time.

Assisting Deputy Charles Schebor in the investigation are members of the Clinton State Police Post.

Albert Gardner, of 11285 Hieber Road (on the south side of Pleasant Lake), welcomes visitors to see his Winter Christmas scene which he says will be on display throughout January. Mr. Gardner says many adults drop in to see the Winter Wonderland, but children seem to be in the minority.

In 1919 he first began work on this hobby. It was then that he first conceived his Christmas tree with an electric train. During the years he has added different articles until now his Christmas scene covers a 9 by 11 foot area in the basement of his house.

Scaled model houses dot the snow-covered valley which seems hemmed in by mountains fading away in the distance on the hillside in covered with miniature buildings. The electric train still plays an important part, winding its way through tunnels in the snowy hills.

From a central control switch the train can be directed and switched to different tracks

Farm Books For Income At Banks

Farm account books designed to make the task of keeping farm business records easier are available at both the Union Savings and People's Banks in Manchester.

Don Boutell, vice president and cashier of the Union Savings Bank and Fred Lehman, People's Bank cashier, in announcing the books may be picked up free in their banks pointed out they are especially useful in reporting farm income for Federal income tax purposes.

Prepared by the Department of Agricultural Economics of the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State College, the book is distributed in this area by the Washtenaw County Bankers Association.

It is designed to help farmers keep a complete record of income, expenditures and depreciation as an aid in the complicated income tax filing job.

Headings for items in the book correspond to those in the income tax returns used by farmers. The summary in the book also provides a permanent record of the farmer's income tax report to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The MSC agricultural economics experts who prepared the book suggest:

The successful farmer studies his business and tries to do a more effective job each year. The record you keep in this book will be helpful in locating the strong points and weaknesses in your farm business. It will guide you in making adjustments to your farm program.

"It is a pleasure to be able to supply you with this important tool," the book's authors conclude. "We believe you will find it a useful one in the operation of your farm business."

Schiller Elected At Emanuel

At the annual meeting of the Congregation, Jan. 2, the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church elected the following officers to the Church Council:

President, F. W. Schiller; elder, LeRoy Breitenwischer; secretary, Milton Morr; treasurer, Mrs. F. S. Spafard; deacon, Victor Grossman; and trustee, Lawrence Miller.

The new officers will be installed Jan. 9, in the course of the morning worship service. Members of the Church Council whose terms have expired are Elder Otto Kulekamp, Secretary Ray Tirb, Treasurer Mrs. Marie Scheurer, Deacon Hugh Sutton, and Trustee Allen Schaffer.

Missed White Christmas? Still To Be Seen at Gardner's

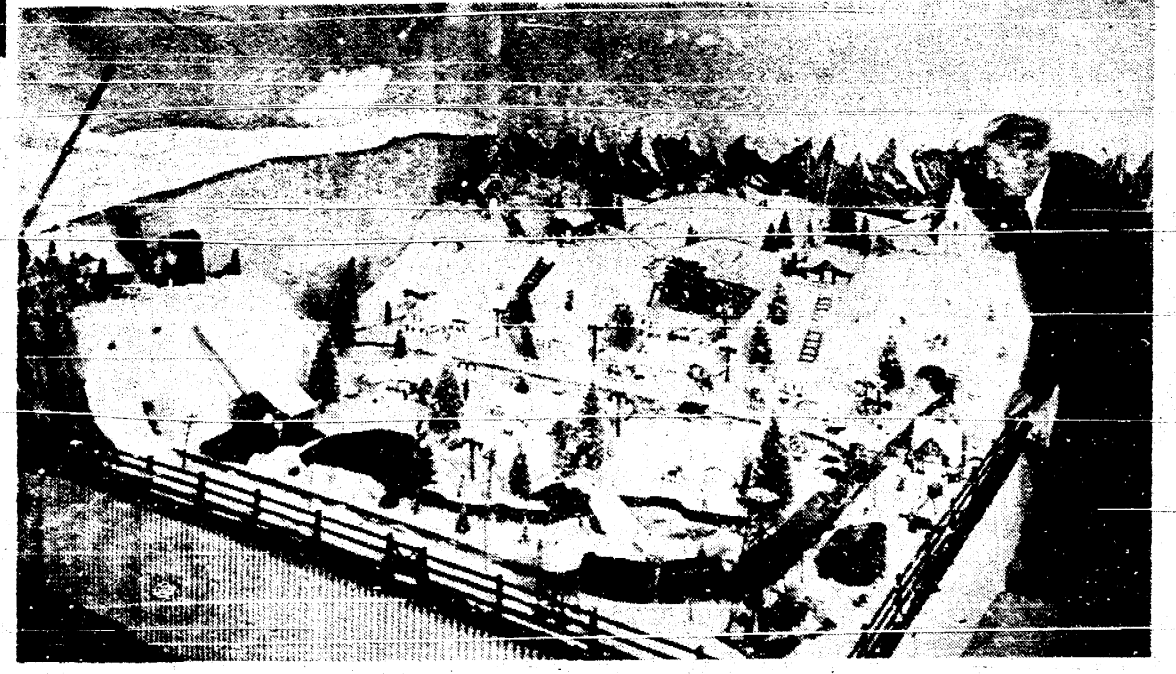

If you were one of those who dreamed of a "White Christmas" and were disappointed because of the lack of snow here, you can still see a snowy winter scene.

The mountain village is complete with its lighting system. At one point there is a loading dock where toy cattle move through the gates into a box car.

and many of the little houses have lighted Christmas trees in the windows. Wrought iron street lights, some of which Mr. Gardner made, add realistically to the tranquil scene.

As you watch the well-lighted village, the lights in the houses are suddenly blinked out leaving only the street lights as the train glides along the track pulling a stream of white smoke. The gurgling of water as it tumbles down the mountain side provides the water wheel with power to operate the small grist mill and a cow stands lazily beside the watering trough. The water cuts its way along the mountain side and forms a lake in the valley.

1954 IN REVIEW

In the past year many changes have taken place in the village and as this is the last issue of the year 1954 we thought a brief review of some of the happenings might be of interest to our readers.

January 1954 January 7 - The annual March of Dimes got underway with Mrs. Ray Kerr general chairman for Manchester. Mrs. Kerr heads the local drive again this year.

Big news of the week was that the Manchester School district would be asked later in the month to vote on a bond issue to build a new school. Our local paper went to great length to explain every step of the new procedure as they came up so that Manchester voters would be well aware of the cost entailed and how the bond was to be met. It was noted that the 6 mills would again be charged on the elementary building debt. This amount would raise close to $30,000 and come within $22,000 of wiping off the debt.

Johny Walz, local Oliver dealer completed 20 years in his business. Mrs. Charles Helmeringer received a letter from her son, Arnold who spent Christmas Day in Paris and described how the French people there seemed to spend the holiday.

Feb. 11 - Manchester Electors were asked to make a final study of the Bond issue for Saturday, February 13th. Theo. Kuhl was named president of the Brotherhood of Emanuel church.

March 1 - School officials set date for March 18 to open bids for the building of new high school. Red Cross Drive Chairman, Mrs. Robert Huber lists names of helpers.

March 11 - School plans discussed with April committee. Monday's snow storm measured 6 1/2 inches as compared with 3 1/2 inches on March 2, which dropped 3.5 inches, the season's high and the peak also winter was preceded by a balmy week of 55 degrees temperature.

March 15 - School plans discussed with April committee. Monday's snow storm measured 6 1/2 inches as compared with 3 1/2 inches on March 2, which dropped 3.5 inches, the season's high and the peak also winter was preceded by a balmy week of 55 degrees temperature.

'Twas the day before Christmas

A deep snow had blanketed the streets of Ironwood. Indoors, families were making plans for the festive season. The telephone company, too, was making its preparations for the busiest night of the year.

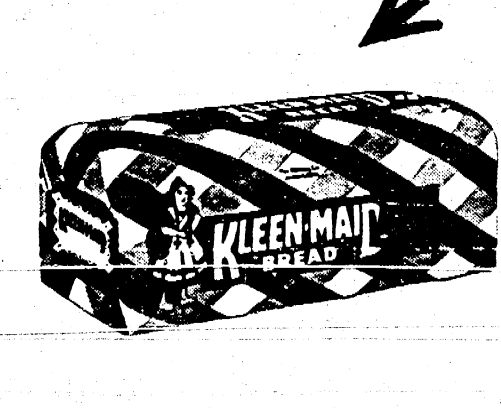

That was when Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Thomas, whose home is pictured above, found their telephone company was "dead." They called the telephone company from a neighbor's house. As Mr. Thomas later wrote: "In spite of the fact that this was the day before Christmas, with the added obstacle of a fresh, deep snow, a repairman" arrived in twenty minutes. Within one hour from the time the trouble was reported, he had new lines up and the telephone working.

"If this earnest and sincere workman reflects the training policy of your company, then Michigan Bell Telephone Company certainly is doing a most remarkable job."

He restoreth your soul...

Here's Dave Judson and Bill Miller. Good friends for a good many years now. They hardly ever "talk" religion—they just always find time to get to Services each week.

And there's Susan Brown. She's brought Mary Lou up all alone—her daddy was killed in the war. Susan's a slight little thing, but a pillar of strength. And if you ask her, she's not at all ashamed to admit—she leans all right—on the strength of God.

Janet and Bill were married right in this church. They come back every week—as they promised they would. "Just selfishness on our part," Bill says. "After all, our life together got off to a happy start here... and we want to keep it that way!"

Worship together this week

We are well blessed. The doors of our churches and synagogues are wide open... waiting for us to enter. Set aside a time each week... a time your soul can call its own... a time apart from the "busyness" of living. You'll find more joy in each day, if you give some time each week to worship.

And will you look at the way Pete Taylor has grown so straight and tall. Being in the Service has helped him grow up inside, too. As Pete puts it, "A guy's never so big, that he wants to go it alone."

And the Wolf family here—will you just look at those boys! They're feeling very grown-up and proud as punch, going to a Service with Mom and Dad.

If you've ever been a stranger in any town you've known loneliness. And you know how comforting it is to come upon a church or synagogue... where the doors are always wide open to everyone.

Suzanne Ross Becomes Bride Of Neil Vogt in Evening Rites

The Congregational Church at Owosso was the setting Wednesday, December 22 for the marriage of Suzanne Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow B. Ross, Owosso, to Neil Harmon Vogt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vogt of Manchester.

The Rev. Halley B. Oliver officiated before an altar banked with poinsettias and Christmas greens. Red candles, resting in greens placed in the church windows.

Suzanne's gown was fashioned of monastery white, Italian silk satin. Alencon lace was delicately applied along the portrait neckline of the beauteous bodice, which had long sleeves. A panel of accordian pleats accented the front of the wide satin skirt, which had a pinner effect at the hips.

Her finger-tip veil of Venetian lace, lined with French hulle, was brought back from Venice by the bride last summer. She carried a modified cascade bouquet of stephanotis, lilies of the valley and Hawthorn ivy.

Louise DeJardine of Lapeer was the bride's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Karl Luedtke, Ellen Van de Vusse of Bloomington, Illinois and Jo DeVoe of St. Louis. All four attendants wore gray crepe satin with deeper gray chiffon cummerbunds. Tiny hats of matching gray tulle were added to their ensembles. They carried bouquets of red carnations and ivy.

William McFarlen Ross was the best man. Ushers were Ray Tibb, Stanley Kemmer and William Cannon of Manchester and Stanley Tsangalakis of Ann Arbor. Mrs. Harold Burk was organist for the nuptials and Merril Thorne was soloist.

A buffet dinner was served to the wedding guests at the City Club following the ceremony. Poinsettias and holly were used with red candles throughout the club. The bride's table was covered with white satin. There was a stylized Christmas tree in the hall and large white satin chandeliers.

For the daughter's wedding Mrs. Ross chose an lace blue pseudo-silk with lace necktie and lace insert on the skirt. Her small hat was made of white satin. The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories. Toasts were made and corsages of fresh violets and miniature roses.

The new Mrs. Vogt attended the University of Michigan and was graduated from Michigan State College. She was affiliated with the Alpha Phi society and Kappa Delta. Her husband also attended the University of Michigan and Alma College.

DRESSING BECOMES A GAME with this cute educational apron decorated with sampler buttons and autobuses, zipper, buckle, snaps and shoelaces. Most toddlers devoted to dressing themselves, preferring the attention focused on them mysteries of buttoning, tying and snapping are learned like playing a game, it can become an absorbing pastime for three- to six-year-olds.

It's even more fun if they wear this grown-up looking apron by Windsor Knitting. Piped in gay colors and equipped with utility pockets, each

SIX-SIDED SNOWFLAKES LEND BEAUTY TO WINTER—Snowflakes float down to earth in an almost unlimited number of shapes, according to Lewis E. Baumbach, University of Michigan meteorology professor. The flakes form from water vapor in the air and usually take some variety of a six-sided star, such as those above. The hex-like patterns, he says, happen because the water vapor contains so little of the crystallizing material needed to fill out the design.

MANCHESTER'S 'BIGGEST DAY' PLANNED

C. H. Seckinger Gets Honors, Gifts From The Exchange Club

Lake Mishap Drowns Jim Burkhardt

A citizen of Manchester was honored at the Manchester Exchange Club dinner Monday night.
C. H. Charles Seckinger, who has served the public behind a grocery counter almost continuously since 1897 and plans to leave at the end of the week for Los Angeles, sat at dinner with his friends along Main Street and listened to them talk about him.
There was Lawrence (Dutch) Wurster, whose head didn't come far above the grocery counter when Charles was setting his start.
"In those days," said Dutch, "the grocery had a cracker barrel and you dipped flour and sugar into sacks with a big scoop, and the customer tasted a little of these before he bought."
Dutch clerked for Charles as soon as he could count change.
Then Bill Kramer got up to say he and Charles lived in neighboring houses and grew up together. Later Bill went on the road in show business until Charles got him to come back to Manchester to help him start a restaurant and bakery.
Restaurant Didn't Last
They went into business where Charles Eisenbauer's store now is and everything went along fine.
Charles Eisenbauer's store now is on the corner of Main and Washington streets. It was there that Seckinger and Wurster were served for about 50.
What scared them off of the restaurant business, according to Kramer, was having to feed an entire team of 15 men at one sitting.
All this happened back in 1913.
Then Mr. Kramer left the grocery business and Mr. Seckinger started his bakery and grocery business and kept it until this year.
"I was a clerk in a store in 1895, when he decided to take it easy."
Men past middle age recalled things at the dinner. Carl Schabale, vice president of the fair, said he had been a clerk in a store in 1913, when he and Seckinger were partners in a grocery store and he had to feed a team of 15 men at one sitting.
"I was a clerk in a store in 1913, when he and Seckinger were partners in a grocery store and he had to feed a team of 15 men at one sitting."
Nor did Mr. Seckinger admit that Carl Schabale got away with anything, he merely said with a smile, "Carl used to help out at the candy counter. Speedy used to turn over, you might say."
At the dinner, local businessmen pointed out that from the days of Jasper and Diele in 1897, when Seckinger was president and folks were singing "She's Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage," down to the present, Charles had only one thought in mind and that was to give value received and to sell good stuff.
"Dutch" Wurster pointed out that people will always say "there was no cheese in town like Charles."
Given $100 Cash
At the end of the reminiscences, $100 cash, the gift of his friends, along with a Godspeed and a plea that Charles write his wife folks once in a while.
Charles got up and promised to write.

Meeting Tuesday on Fate of Fairs

A special meeting of Fair board personnel was called Monday evening by Fair Board president William Kulenkamp for the purpose of discussing the possibility of resuming a County Fair in Washtenaw.
Mr. Kulenkamp told those present that a question has arisen concerning what to do with $85,000 held in trust to be used to develop agricultural and horticultural events in the county.
A special meeting is planned at the Pittsfield Grange hall next Tuesday, at which time a vote will be taken to decide whether to hold a fair in Ann Arbor or at some other site to be selected later.
It was urged that everyone interested in the welfare of the county fair or community fairs, should be present at Tuesday's meeting to vote.
Plans also were formulated to begin work on the Manchester community fair and Mr. Kulenkamp asked that all department heads be present at a special meeting at 8:30 p. m. Monday, Jan. 31, at the high school.
He also asked that anyone who could not attend send someone in their place so progress could be made on the fair.
Following is the letter which was sent by the Fair Committee to the County Fair Board concerning a County Fair.
"At present, community fairs are being held in Saline, Milan, Jackson and Chelsea with the County 4-H Show being held on the Saline grounds site in Ann Arbor."
"The County Fairgrounds have been sold to the City of Ann Arbor and the understanding that a site would be provided on which facilities for future agricultural and horticultural events could be developed."
"The mother of four school-age children, Mrs. Martin also is active in several other community organizations in her home city and writes a column on children's activities for the Grand Rapids Press."
"She had been scheduled to speak at a previous meeting of the P-T-A, but was unable to keep the commitment."
"The reorganizing contract was awarded to Harry Peckett, of Ann Arbor, and the reorganizing contract was applied after the winter weather lets up, Dick said.

Merchants' Association Schedules First Major Event For February

An event which could develop into one of the greatest celebrations in Manchester's history, if last Thursday's enthusiasm proves contagious, has been set for mid-February.
Members of the newly-formed Manchester Merchants' Association, meeting in Manchester High School last Thursday night for their second monthly session, decided to stage a gigantic Village-wide sales festival to attract people from all over the area, as their introductory promotional effort.
The big event, which it was agreed should run four days, from Wednesday through Saturday, will be designed to impress on people of southwest Washtenaw and nearby Jackson and Lenawee County areas the advantages of trading in this Village of so many unique attractions.
No specific dates for the festival were announced, other than the decision to have the big jam-around the middle of February. The actual dates will be decided at the Association's next meeting, Feb. 3.

36 Jaycees See Ice Tilt In Detroit

Had Manchester Jaycees had a chance to get a preview of an accurate weather forecast, they could have been sure to bring their fair trip to Detroit than last Thursday afternoon.
Fair skies, bright sunshine, clear roads and temperature in the mid-40's greeted the boys as they headed along to board the Greyhound chartered bus at the Main Street station.
This was the first trip ever undertaken by the youngest of Manchester's civic organizations. Plans had been arranged by Alie Luchack and his committee. The trip was called for a tour of the Stroh Brewery, climaxed with a snowboard supper.
From there the 36 Jaycees made their way to Olympia where they watched the Detroit Red Wings and scored 3 to 3.
On Thursday's excursion were: Alie Luchack, Jim Cannon, Richard Borkhardt, Orval Walcott, Allen Clark, Jr., Bill Schaffer, Ed Steele, Glen Ervin, Jim Baker, Alie Steele, Jr., Norman Wallace, Bob Abrams, Duane Rolter, Herb Upton, Jr., Charles Keeney, Charles Finn, Fred Grossnick, Charles Miller, A. B. Clark and Walter Vogt.

Emanuel Choir Elects Schuller President

The choir of the Emanuel Church held a potluck dinner in the church hall with 42 present. A short business meeting was opened by President Fritz Schuller. After the reports of the officers, election of officers for 1956 was held.
Herman Kaehler was named president, with Ronald Dean, vice president, and D. E. Lynn Kravitz, secretary-treasurer.
Following the business meeting, interesting slides were shown also. Roy Davidson and Robert Diefenderfer.

Manchester Tops '53 Sale Of Seals

Mrs. Lois G. Hopkins, executive secretary of the Washtenaw County Tuberculosis Association, announced that Manchester topped the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale. Last year's total was $399.25 while the total as of Jan. 7, 1955, was $421.60.
Dr. Arthur Holstein is Manchester Board member.

P-TA to Hear Mrs. Martin, State Leader

Mrs. John B. Martin, of Grand Rapids, wife of the former State director of general and program chairman of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers will discuss "Man With Your Family at Home" at a regular meeting of the Manchester Parent-Teacher Association.
The talk by Mrs. Martin, who is a former editor of the Michigan Parent-Teacher Bulletin and past president of the Grand Rapids Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, will be based on her own experience and observations.
The mother of four school-age children, Mrs. Martin also is active in several other community organizations in her home city and writes a column on children's activities for the Grand Rapids Press.
She had been scheduled to speak at a previous meeting of the P-T-A, but was unable to keep the commitment.
The reorganizing contract was awarded to Harry Peckett, of Ann Arbor, and the reorganizing contract was applied after the winter weather lets up, Dick said.
