Paratrooper PFC Duane A. Trolz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Trolz, 1843 Austin Rd., Manchester, is scheduled to jump during Exercise Arctic Night, 301 miles from the North Pole, later this week.

At the northernmost point ever reached by a tactical airborne unit, a tactical combat team will jump and then move and simulate fighting in the sub-zero weather.

Trolz is assigned to the 82nd Airborne Division's 50th Infantry Regiment at Fort Bragg, N. C. A rocket launcher crewman in the regiment's Company E, he entered the Army in September 1954 and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Michigan Has Great Potential Governor Asks Parks Improvement

Ten state parks in southeastern Michigan are on the priority list for improvements during the 1956-57 fiscal year if the Legislature approves a program he has recommended, Governor Williams said today. Expenditures at the 10 parks would total $1,177,500, according to his proposal.

Expenditures allotted for parks would include $870,000 at Sterling State Park, $63,000 at Metamora, $55,000 at Algonac, $40,000 at Ortonville, $40,000 at Holly, $30,000 at Pinckney, $25,000 at Island Lake, $25,000 at Brighton, $17,500 at Proud Lake and $10,000 at Watrous.

Pointing out that Michigan's parks are in a critical condition, Governor asked that $2,000,000 be appropriated for a stepped-up development program throughout the state parks system. His plan, he said, would provide for improved facilities and make possible the purchase of land for new parks and for enlargement of some now in existence.

The critical nature of the parks situation became apparent in 1955, said the Governor, when for the first time visitors on a number of occasions were turned away from parks which were literally overflowing. Last year's total state park attendance was an unprecedented 18,000,000 visitors, and he said, attendance in 1956 will probably exceed that figure.

"Michigan is now the fourth tourist state in the Union," said the Governor. "It can and should become the first, if adequate investment in our vacationland is made in the next few years. The State Legislature goes along with the program we now have before it. I am confident that in the near future when we will move ahead of Florida in percentage of national tourist business. The other two leading states are California and New York, and I believe Michigan may surpass them, too."

The Governor said his recommendations for state parks are based upon "a growing realization that the American family, with its pots and pans in the luggage compartment of the car and its bed rolls strapped on top is big business. And we are beginning to realize fully that the whole central part of America is going to be a tourist business. The other two leading states are California and New York, and I believe Michigan may surpass them, too."

His analysis of expenditures on parks shows that Michigan is near the bottom of the list. On capital operation and maintenance, New York State spends 42 cents for each park visitor. California spends 42 cents. Michigan spends only 13 cents.

"This kind of neglect," the Governor said, "is beginning to catch up with us."

Measles Epidemic On Decline

An epidemic of measles that reached its peak last month in Washtenaw County is on the decline, according to Health Department officials. Sixty-six cases have been reported this month. Forty-five of these cases involve Ann Arbor children. The number of cases for the first 14 days of March compared with 208 cases in February. Health officials had declared the February outbreak an epidemic.

Statistics show that measles reach epidemic status every two years, according to Dr. Otto K. Engelke, director of the Health Department in 1954, there were 1,565 cases, 262 cases in 1953, a total of 1,441 cases in 1952, 108 cases a year earlier and 1,063 reports in 1951.

The number of measles cases is expected to drop further through the spring and summer. Dr. Engelke said, Gamma Globulin, supplied to physicians by the Health Department, lessens the severity of measles if given after a child has been exposed and before he shows signs of the disease.

Former Bridgewater Woman Dies

Mrs. John Wahl died last Monday at her home at 705 South Main St., Chelsea, where she had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Wahl was a member of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church and the Women's Guild and Mission Club of the Church.

Born in Hochdorf, Wuertemberg, Germany, September 23, 1872, she was married to Mr. (Carrie) Kat, daughter of Gottlieb and Katherine Katz. She came to the United States when she was 11 years old and lived in Bridgewater township. She was confirmed in the Bridgewater church and was married to Mr. Wahl in Bridgewater, May 12, 1892. They celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1942. Mrs. Wahl died in Chelsea, Aug. 21, 1956, at the age of 83. She was buried in Mount Hope Cemetery, Waterloo.

Survivors of Mrs. Wahl are three sons, Edward, Lewis and Dillman; a sister, Mrs. Sophia Meyer of Grand Lake; two brothers, Christian Katz of Grand Lake and Jacob Katz of Jackson; nine grandchildren; and a number of nieces and nephews. A son, Theodore, died in 1927.

Rev. Robert Murray of Dexter and Rev. P. H. Grabowski officiated at the funeral services held last week Wednesday at the Burial Home in Chelsea. Burial was in Mount Hope Cemetery, Waterloo.

Chill' Boosts Early Tomato Production

Tomato plants that have been "chilled" in a fruit frame probably will produce more early tomatoes than those prepared seedlings from the greenhouse.

That was proven in demonstrations with 10 varieties last year at Michigan State University. Here, G. T. Tupper explain their better results.

The number of flowers and the position of the first cluster are determined from six to six weeks before the first flower opens.

Flowers form during the two to three weeks after the seedlings are expanded. This is the time when the plants can be toughened up by "chilling" for a brief period.

In the test, 10 varieties were kept in the greenhouse at 55 degrees F. Plants of the same 10 varieties were grown in a cold frame at 45 to 60 degrees. After transplanting in the field, early varieties (Anjou) were 65 per cent higher for the "chilled" plants.

There was no difference in the total yield and fruit size, though. Here are the horticulturists' recommendations if you want to "chill" tomato seedlings.

Let the seed germinate at temperatures until the seed leaves are fully expanded and the first true leaf is just beginning to show. This is about two weeks from the seedling date and allow time for transplanting out of the seedling flats.

When the first true leaf begins to show, either before or after transplanting, grow the young plants for two or three weeks at a night temperature of 50 to 55 degrees F. Either lower the temperature where your plants are located or move them to a cooler area. Expose them to as much sunlight as possible.

After two or three weeks of chilling, raise the night temperature and maintain it at 60 to 65 degrees F.

Seed tomatoes a week or 10 days earlier than normal because they will grow very little during the two or three weeks of cold. Use sterilized soil, otherwise more than the normal loss of plants may result from damping off.

The "chilling" doesn't affect early fruit set, the horticulturists say, even though it does bring a greater number of flowers. A fruit setting hormone spray may still be useful should the temperature fall below 50 degrees.

And you'll get higher early yields from "chilled" plants only if there is enough moisture and fertilizer for the increased number of fruit.

Lenten Meditation "Why The Church"

By Rev. Henry McKenzie
The Church is pictured in many forms. Some think of it as a temple, or as a family or a brotherhood of believers, but the final analysis will show the real church is an "army with banners." It is organized to fight a desperate and mighty foe and at the same time to build the Kingdom of God in the hearts of men.

The universal hymnal of this as we sing "Onward Christian Soldiers." The Son of God Goes Forth to War. "Soldiers of Christ, Arise," and we could multiply them by a score. It has been known for hundreds of years that the Church is an army.

The veteran Paul told Timothy, "The soldier must be sober, self-controlled, of good conduct, and not given to drunkenness, quarreling, or jealousy of money. He must be gentle and a lover of peace, as one who has been called by God, as Christ's soldier." Like all soldiers, Timothy was to be obedient, devoted to the cause, please the command and keep high the banner of the cross. "Put on the breastplate of faith and love, and the helmet of salvation, the hope of righteousness." He was to be a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

A soldier is not to be complete only in his part of the army. In church we identify ourselves actively with the church, please the command and keep high the banner of the cross. "Put on the breastplate of faith and love, and the helmet of salvation, the hope of righteousness." He was to be a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

Life is a warfare, a fight from beginning to end against temptation and circumstances; against sin, against the world, against the flesh, against the devil, against the enemy. The Christian needs the comradeship of fellow Christians and the communion with the Christ. Christ is our life and our hope. We cannot do it alone. He commands us not to forsake the assembling of ourselves together. We cannot neglect the assembling of ourselves together. We cannot neglect the assembling of ourselves together.

Pitcher Vernon Law of the Pirates has been pitching a little better change at the club's training camp at Fort Myers, Fla. And a little extra for some of his mates. The first Pirates home run, with 22 on each man on base at the first inning, was collected with a grand slammer. The same day Law picked up another $3 which the same man had laid on the line for the first pitcher to hurt three scoreless innings.
