Many villagers have voiced grateful thanks that a fire, such as that which ripped through the heart of the business district in Saline, causing damages estimated at between $100,000 and $125,000, did not break out in Manchester during the period when the village was without water. Even with a full pressure line in Saline, and with the co-operation of five fire departments, police and volunteers, the fire had such a big head start that it took many hours before the smouldering ruins could be declared free of fire danger. Owners of the businesses destroyed, and apartment dwellers routed by the fire, aided in fighting the blaze.

We've heard several disgruntled reports during the weeks since Christmas, that some of the presents given Dad have produced drastic results. Do-It-Yourself Oh. My Achin' Back!

From a prominent place on the library shelf
Father took down his copy of "Do-It-Yourself".
He explained. "There are jobs that need doing at once,
So I'll do them myself, after all, I'm no dunce." Mother wondered a bit, but with feminine tact,
If she had any doubt, didn't mention the fact.
Father looked at the porch, and said, "I'll start right here.

"This front step has been broken for over a year.

"How foolish to pay for just fixing a step,

"Any half-wit can do it, if he has any pep."

So he started the job and was doing okay

"Til he hammered his thumb, and the railing gave

He saw shining stars as he fell on his head.

"You'd best call a carpenter, Mother," he said.

Then Dad dropped the paint on the living-room floor.

Then Dad dropped the paint on the living-room floor.

He sighed as he said, "Call the rug cleaner, too,
"And also the painter, I've got work to do!"

"Til go down to the basement and do some repairs,"
And then Mother heard him go tumbling down stairs.

Later, moaning in pain as he lay on his bed
With one arm in a sling, and ice on his head
He painfully gasped. "There's an ache in my spine!

"Get the liniment. Mother. That'll fix it up fine."
As she took down the bottle from off of the shelf
Mother murmured. "Here, Father. You can "Do-It-Yourself".

Firemen searched through ruins of George's Bar for more than 12 hours Tuesday for traces of Mrs. David Gibson and her three small children. No one was certain at time, whether the mother and children had been in the apartment when the fire broke out at 3 a.m., luesday. The apartment collapsed into the pile of charred rubble in the basement of the bar. Police are now trying to learn the whereabouts of the missing persons. Freedom from Saline, Milan, Ann Arbor, Chimon and Philoshid Township hattled the blaze in the heart of Saline's business district.

Get Salk Shots, Students Urge

University of Michigan students, Bob Gantz and Bob Claire, who contracted polio last Fall, join in urging all young adults to get the full protection of three shots of Salk vaccine before it's too late. Gantz, left, a medical student, noticed his polio symptoms following the Michigan-UCLA football game, and Claire, 26, was hospitalized in October. Both young men are responding to therapeutic treatment at University Hospital, financed by the March of Dimes polio funds, "Don't trust your beek," Gantz said, "Get the full protection of the three-shots of Salk vaccine for yourselves and for your children."
