Parents to Meet Teachers At First P. T. A. Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Manchester area P. T. A. will be on Monday, Sept. 16, at 8 p. m. in the Civic Auditorium. Following the general business meeting, teachers will be in their individual rooms to explain things regarding school studies and activities that will be pursued this year.

Special arrangements will be made for the parents of children going to Rowes Corners and Sparrow to meet in separate groups at the Intermediate Building. Junior High School parents will gather in a group at High School.

Parents at the first meeting will hear more about the new-type meetings and will have the opportunity of completing a brief questionnaire designed to aid the program committee in mapping out a program arranged for the coming year.

Nearly 1,000 Enroll As School Year Begins

Enrollment at the Manchester Public Schools reached a total of 955 children at the beginning of the school year. Supt. Robert Masten announced this week. Of this total, 500 were enrolled in the two rural schools, 225 in the Nellie Ackerson Elementary School, 203 in the Intermediate School, and 228 in the High School.

The buses only missed one family Tuesday, and only three lost kindergartners students had to have special transportation at noon.

Wednesday all children to kindergarten and classes, getting the 1957-58 school year officially under way. A few buses were held in reserve and the school insurance program has not yet been completed.

Teachers Meet Friday For Workshop, Picnic

School was dismissed Friday of last week so that administrators and teachers could meet to discuss the difficulties which arose during the previous three days.

Supt. Robert Masten met with the various principals Friday morning. Each principal returning to his building where faculty meetings were held during the morning and extended into the afternoon where necessary.

The purpose of these meetings was to orient the new teachers as well as to establish uniform rules, regulations, schedules, teaching methods etc.

Late in the afternoon a "retreat" picnic was held at the State Park. This allowed the new teachers time to meet other faculty members as well as giving them a chance to renew old friendships.

Over 80 per cent attended the picnic, at which a pedicure dinner was served. Guests included Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Atkinson and family, and two members of the Board of Education, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Troik and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Klager.

Red Cross Eases Blood Restrictions

Medical requirements for blood donors have been liberalized, Dr. H. F. Rayner, Director of the Red Cross National Blood Center in Detroit, announced this week. The Washington County Chapter, Mrs. M. S. DeVries, stated that donors may be accepted 24 hours after receiving any of the following injections:

Typhoid, tetanus, typhus, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, influenza, cholera, diphtheria, and poliomyelitis.

The liberalization applies to all Red Cross blood clubs in Washington County. It was made on the basis of a number of years' experience, which indicates that reactions to the injections usually manifest themselves within the first 24 hours.

More than 100,000 persons are included in the Blood Clubs in Washington County. Their blood needs are covered through participation of the Red Cross after in the Regional Blood Program.

Our Responsibility To Teachers

Next to parents, no one deals more intimately than school teachers with a youngster's talents and deficiencies. Failure and achievement during the student's formative early years.

Every citizen has only himself to commend or to blame if schools in our free society are superb, average, or below average.

Teaching is the largest of all professions; sometimes it is the most misunderstood as well. It is misunderstood, perhaps, because many people tend to look upon teaching as an occupation separate and apart from the day-to-day activities of community life.

Pointing out these facts in a study issued on the eve of the fall reopening of our schools, the National Association of Manufacturers makes a timely and earnest effort to bring citizens and communities closer together in effective work to bring about greater understanding of the public school teacher's role in our society.

"We must realize our responsibility to the teachers of today and tomorrow," Ernest G. Switzer, president of the NAM, emphasizes in introducing the study. "If we do so, each child will have the opportunity to know teachers who will make every school day the challenge and opportunity it should be."

Detroit Accepts Set of Competitive Skills

set of competitive skills. Some of them are:

The Detroit-Manchester contest began to take definite shape early this summer when Judge Watts and Frank Reck met during a television program in Detroit. The judge suggested to Reck—who had planned the first take-it-easy run for Farm Journal—that Manchester issue a challenge to Detroit.

The Detroit Board of Education was contacted by a friend of the Judge's and showed interest. Mayor Cobo was queried and thought the idea an excellent one.

About this time, Mr. Rice heard that it, learned that certain expenses were involved, and offered to pay the cost of prizes and a dinner for all contestants and their family members. The formal challenge to Detroit's mayor followed and the first event of its kind got under way.

As the Manchester experience shows, a take-it-easy run generates considerable community interest. All contestants must be graduates of the high school driver training course. On the day of the race, they meet at the local schools, where cars with their drivers and observers are lined up.

At this time the adult observer—one travels with each car—is given a map of the course and a written point-to-point itinerary. There is a time limit that must be observed—constant must complete a 100 mile course in about 200 minutes—three hours twenty minutes. This means that he must gauge his speed to the condition of the road, driving most slowly over the roughest roads and faster on the smooth highways in order to finish on time.

After weighing in, contestants proceed to the gas pumps to fill up. The wheel on the side of the gas tank is run onto a two-by-four in order to tilt the tank away from the intake pipe. This insures filling the tank without capturing air bubbles.

After filling, the cars are pushed to the curb from which point they are waved away a minute and a half at a time. Half the town is usually present at the start.

A take-it-easy start is right to behold. No "peeling off." No roar of engines. The driver eases the car into gear, gently lets up his foot, and coasts away. At five or six miles per hour he shifts into second, at fifteen per hour he eases into high. He slowly builds up cruising speed to thirty and holds it there, slowing down for rough roads, going faster on the good roads. Meanwhile, his observer is watching for the turns and advising on road conditions and possible blocks up ahead.

Drivers learn many things. A nervous first is a gas consumer. Tight gripping of the wheel, or jerky steering, is a gas waster. Hitting a corner too fast, then jamming on the brakes, is a good way to lose the contest.

Some three hours after the race has begun, the first cars begin to arrive at the gas pumps for refueling, and this is when the crowd assembles to attempt to gauge the winner. Cars are again run onto two-by-fours, tanks are filled to the precise mark of the first filling, and the computers get busy figuring both car-mile and ton-mile records for each car.

This is the kind of contest that will take place between Manchester and Detroit boys and girls in October. Winners will be judged half on the basis of their performance in the run and half on the Road-E-O. There will be both individual and team prizes. Awards will be made at a banquet somewhere in Detroit.

Local Team Loses To Grass Lakers

Little League baseball closed the 1957 season here Saturday with an All Star game with Grass Lake. Although Manchester lost this last game 4 to 1, it was on the whole, a very satisfactory season.

The Manchester team was managed by Carl Miller. As many as possible of the other fifty boys who played Little League ball this summer were up at bat in the All Star game.

With the closing of the season a special request has been made regarding the new T-shirts. Every player of the shirts is asked to turn it in to one of his coaches this week. The T-shirts will be cleaned and stored by the Baseball Division Committee ready for a full season's use next summer, according to Reverend Karl Reck, chairman of the committee.

Over fifty boys turned out regularly for practice and Little League games for over a ten week period this summer. This sort of schedule didn't happen here before. Formerly, there were two fathers, beside all of the other enthusiastic parents, working with each of the four teams.

Special thanks from the young boys and the community go to Chuck Miller and Elwood Prieasid who coached the Tigers; Al Simmons and Harold Alexander who coached the White Sox; Clarence Fielder and Robert Panchos for the Yankees and Eugene Gotschlich for the Normans Fielder for the Dodgers.

"YOU CAN COUNT ON FIRESTONE SERVICE WHEN YOU NEED IT MOST!"

says Paul Blood, livestock farmer and commercial feed manufacturer, South Morrill, Nebraska

Ask a progressive farmer, like Paul Blood of South Morrill, Nebraska, why he specifies Firestone tires on his equipment and he'll tell you that for the life of his service he has a lot to do with it.

In Paul's vast livestock and feed-mixing operation, which has facilities for handling 70,000 sheep and 7,000 head of cattle, he considers prompt Firestone service his best insurance against the downtime. That's why 5 tractors, 2 payloaders, a road grader and 10 feed-mixing trucks roll on Firestones.

"I like doing business with my Firestone dealer," says Paul, "because he's right on the job at a moment's notice with plenty of service when I really need it. Firestone tires have always given me extra good mileage, big mileage for the money, and superior customer service. That's the exact reason I need new tires so often. That's why I'm sold on Firestone!"

See your Firestone Store or Dealer now. Find out about the big trade-in allowance he's offering on used tires. He's ready to make you a better deal... on every wheel!

Enjoy the Voice of Firestone over ABC television every Monday evening.

The Manchester Area Red Cross Blood Bank has saved lives as well as over $1,000 in financial savings in the past three years.—The Blood Bank's work and the 1958 Red Cross Membership card which will be stamped "Member of Manchester Blood Club" are equally important to every individual. Traveling near or far the Blood Club is recognized by all hospitals. The actual requests and replacements for blood are made by committee members and the assistance of their assistants.—Franklin T. Reck—Mrs. Robert Huber—Mrs. Stanton Roesch.

Membership in the Red Cross is a personal matter and costs $1.00 or as much as the individual wishes to pay. It is included with the Community Fund Drive again this year.

Locally the Fund is of great assistance to youth groups of all sorts. This long period of encouraging instructors and teachers who work at the Manchester youth groups undoubtedly has a bearing on the compliments of recreation instructors and teachers who work at Manchester youth groups. Mr. George Johnston, campaign chairman, pointed out at the annual organization meeting, his emphatic, "Give once and enough is all."

Among the seventeen families present were relatives from Jackson, Wayne, Detroit and Manchester. Among those present was Mrs. Sott's daughter, Capt. Marjorie Sott, who is home for the first time in two years, from the Hawaiian Islands. Miss Sott will return to Walter Reed hospital, Washington, the later part of October.
