Albert Haller
supporters of recent actions by the Manchester Village Council in acquiring and developing off-street parking facilities for the downtown area of the Village.

The action was taken by the local chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, a national organization of civic-minded younger men, in response to a request by members of the Village Council for public opinion on the controversial subject.

The resolution supporting the Council was adopted by a vote of the members present after the subject was opened for discussion by program chairman, Jim Cannon, Don Fielder, president of the Jaycees and a member of the Village Council, was called upon to
