Washenaw's Hospital Is Being Remodeled

Remodeling work worth $25,000 is nearing completion at the County Hospital according to Alfred E. Bruce. The work will modernize the building so that it will conform with the orders of the state fire marshal.

Among the major projects undertaken at the hospital are the conversion of former juvenile detention quarters and other rooms in the basement into wards and the rearrangement of first and second floor wards into semi-private rooms.

Other remodeling projects at the County Hospital have included modernization of bathrooms, a new roof, a new water storage system, rewiring, widening of doors leading to corridors and conversion of air shafts into nurses quarters.

Plumbing also has been renovated, floors tiled, porches repaired and the heating converted, in addition to repainting and plastering.

Many of the projects have been undertaken because of orders by the State Fire Marshal two years ago. Other projects are in anticipation of future orders by the state and for better care of patients.

The rooms that didn't exist before were made out of air shafts that ran down the middle of the building. The shafts were ordered covered by the marshal.

Three of the converted air shafts will be used for nurses stations, one is the office of the supervising nurse and the other two are linen storage cupboards.

Smoke barrier doors were erected in the middle of corridors of the hospital to protect patients in the event of fire. Fire doors were installed at either end of the corridors to stop drafts from one floor to the next.

All floors throughout the hospital have been redone. Fourteen bed wards have been cut out four smaller wards of two beds each, divided by block walls.

Doors to all rooms have been widened from 28 to 40 inches so that beds can be pushed through them. Before the remodeling, the hospital staff had to break the beds down and put them back together in the hallway.

Bedrooms are being furnished completely and will be used throughout. Some will contain tables away from the walls to make it easier to get patients in and out.

More ambulatory patients will be in wards on the ground and first floors of the hospital. The more disabled patients will be on the second floor.

A summer nursing station on the second floor has been converted into a doctor's office for the private examination of patients.

The second floor will contain 50 patients; the first 26 patients; and the ground floor, 20 patients. Total capacity of the hospital will be 96.

On the ground floor will be 20 patients in the day room and three private rooms. The third floor will contain a 12-bed ward, semi-private and private rooms.

Ford Official Collector For Community Chest;

A contract with the Ford Motor Company to act as official collector for the United Community Fund and Red Cross Drive was accepted by the Community Chest Board at the February meeting of the Future Homemakers of America.

The payroll deduction plan is entirely approved by the Community Chests that are managed entirely by volunteer board members like the Manchester organization. It saves hours of book work for the worker who wants to give his "fair share" to all agencies in which he is interested by allowing him to pay a small amount each pay check.

The Budget committee reported that $6,430.00 had been allowed in 1957-58 drive, which netted $5,553.85. The deficiency of the Community Chest has $400.00 budgeted for them. The Society ladies said they expected to receive much more than that with their own drive. The month of April is usually the time set for this drive.

This information regressed the need of the Community Chest policy "One Drive for All." This theory was proposed by Mrs. Christine Crawford in 1947, with the whole-hearted backing of the local merchants and businessmen. During the early campaigns all agencies, including the March of Dimes, were in the Community Chest Drive as well as the Red Cross. The March of Dimes withdrew about 1949 for the same reason. The Cancer Society has since year, making an extra house-to-house solicitation for funds.

In 1955 the Red Cross joined with the United Community Fund Drive on a trial basis with the privilege of calling for additional funds on a trial basis with the contract worked out extremely well for all parties concerned and the public was saved one house-to-house and business-to-business solicitation.

It was pointed out during the discussion that anyone giving a donation to a Community Chest should also be given the opportunity to support. As far as the educational campaign for the individual agencies is concerned, those that have been involved supply the materials they will distribute during the regular drive and the fact that their educational plans are carried on by sharing the donations with others.

The Community Chest Board would appreciate receiving expressions of public opinion on these topics. Mail letters to Mrs. Ray Tiro, secretary for the Chest. Another topic for discussion was the reorganization of the Recreation Committee. This committee, following a meeting last week, presented a new plan for a Recreation Commission to be approved by the three supporting groups of the village—i.e., Community Chest, the village council and the school board. John Althouse was appointed to represent the Community Chest Board in this commission which is expected to be organized by March 15, when the former Recreation Committee has voted to dissolve.

The next meeting of the Community Chest Board is scheduled for March 23 at 7:00 p.m. in the new High School. The date for the annual meeting when everyone interested in helping form the policies for the board may attend any regular meetings if they wish.

Future Homemakers Aims Told By Betty Cummings

The following story concerning the Future Homemakers of America, its goals and purposes, is told by Betty Cummings as part of her work as a Future Homemakers degree requirement.

The main goal of the Future Homemakers of America is learning to live better today in order that the homemaking people's lives might be better tomorrow. Those of their families may be better tomorrow.

Listed are the F.H.A.'s eight purposes and an explanation of each:

1. To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking. (F.H.A. girls should tell other girls about the joys and satisfactions of homemaking and encourage more girls to become homemakers.)
2. To promote worthy home membership. Members are urged to try to get the whole family interested in what the F.H.A. is doing and what they are doing. F.H.A. girls should try to apply it to their homes and try to apply it to home life.
3. To promote international good will. The F.H.A. should help people in other countries and encourage other Americans to understand and help them.
4. To promote democracy in home and community life. F.H.A. girls should encourage people to be more democratic in the home as well as in the community.
5. To promote good home and family life for all. F.H.A. girls should help in the home as much as they can. They should help make the home a more happy place to live. They should patch up differences among members of the family.
6. To promote development of creative leadership in home and community life. F.H.A. girls should help and encourage young people to become leaders in all just about every one of their home and community activities.
7. To promote wholesome individual and group recreation. F.H.A. girls should encourage and help groups to try to plan group recreation, especially for the younger children. They should help with ideas as well as with manual labor. They should help make it a success.
8. To promote interest in home economics. F.H.A. girls should try to interest others in home economics and try to get more girls to take home economics in high school and college.

Short Trout Season In '58

Michigan will not have an early rainbow trout fishing season in 1958 because sea lamprey depredations have seriously reduced rainbow spawning populations.

Conservation Department Director Gerald E. Edley, who has authority to designate streams open to bow fishing during spring and fall seasons, said the early spring season has been abandoned to give rainbows a better opportunity to spawn.

The special two-week spring season formerly preceded the regular trout opener in April. Spring bow fishing was cancelled last year in the northern lower peninsula, but was permitted in some upper peninsula streams.

Rainbows, also known as "steelheads," live most of the year in the Great Lakes or other large bodies of water and migrate up inland streams to spawn in spring and fall.

Hit By Falling Tree
Alfred Egan, 78 years, broke his collar bone while cutting timber for Max Sellers. The accident occurred Tuesday morning at 10:30 a.m. He was treated at St. Joseph's hospital and released.

He was born January 20, 1876, in Freedom township, a son of Henry and Sophie Runtenschneider. He married Julia Bahnmiller March 9, 1904. She survives.

They lived in Sylvan and Sharon township before moving to Manchester in 1918.

He was a member of the Emmanuel Evangelical and Reformed church and the Maccabees.

Other survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Edna Brettenwischer of Sharon township and Mrs. Irma Bentley of Pontiac; three grand children; two brothers, Frank of Sharon township and August of Michigan City, Indiana; one sister, Mrs. Bertha Strable of Sharon. One son, Paul, preceded him in death in 1952. Several nieces and nephews also survive.

Coldest Weather Of Winter Closes Schools Here

One of the severest cold waves of the winter hit this area over the week end and Monday found Manchesterites battling huge drifts of snow piled up from strong winds and record breaking falls.

Temperatures plunged below zero to bring the coldest recordings here this year. Unofficially reports have reported the temperatures to be between five and 15 below zero.

Tuesday the weather bureau at Willow Run reported that there is no relief in sight until the end of the week.

Monitors in the area called the service stations in the area for help in getting their cars started. Many winter tires in the area were frozen but apparently no one was seriously hurt because of the intense cold.

A check with the Washenaw County Road Commission revealed that most county roads in the western part of the county are closed and drifting closed. Plows worked all day Sunday opening roads but the high winds drifted them closed during the night. Columbia Lake Road, a section of Bemis Road, three miles east of Manchester, is a section of the road from Freedom township and Bridgewater township.

Brushwood Road which runs east from the Ann Arbor-Saline road was entirely closed according to Mr. Dix of the Road Commission.

Manchester's 946 school population had vacation from classes Monday and Tuesday and Superintendent Robert Kramer said that unless the Road Commission could open the roads there would be no school Wednesday. There is no school Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Many stand on corners waiting for the buses. He pointed out that he didn't want children to have to stand around waiting for late school buses or find that the buses couldn't get through the areas.

Most of the dirt and gravel roads have places that are impassable. The school superintendent pointed out.

There was no school board meeting Monday night, because of the cold weather hampering those wishing to attend.

Mr. Kramer was lucky in having to put up with nothing but cold in Michigan City, Indiana, just 225 miles away, a freak blizzard covered an area of about 20 miles square with a heavy blanket of snow causing the city to be in a state of emergency and road clearing equipment was rushed from Chicago and Gary to keep dig out the community.

Caucus Brings Large Number; 5 Balloting

Neither snow nor cold hampered the spirits of the citizens of the village as 46 persons appeared at the Village Hall Monday night in what is believed to be the largest attendance ever to go to a caucus.

Progressive caucus got underway when temporary chairman William E. Schaffer, Rogers Corners, was nominated to the office. He was nominated to act as permanent chairman and Ed Stauss was also nominated.

After a vote by the citizens, William Schaffer was elected. LeRoy Marx was secretary. This is an unusual situation in the village where there is essentially little competition, even for the offices.

Tellers were Harold Altenberger, Lawrence DeVerna and Ed Bentschneider. In a vote, Benoit Lawrence DeVerna had 47 votes and Ed Bentschneider 35.

LeRoy Marx for clerk and Ed Kirk for treasurer were the only nominations in the field and both were unanimously elected to run.

In Other Contests:
First Trustee—Ed Wurster, 56 and John Boppert, 50.
2nd Trustee—Russell Braun, 49 and Ed Stauss, 47.
3rd Trustee—Clark Eccles, 42 and Don Fisher, 35.
William Kramer for assessor was unanimous. Committee to fill vacancy is Ed Kirk, Roscoe Johnson and L. P. Wurster. There were five separate balloting results.

Those who closed the meeting for the Citizens caucus announced that the Citizens caucus would get underway upstairs in the council room. The caucus was held in the Progressive caucus and traveling upstairs where the Citizens caucus was held.

There was no competition at the second caucus. Joe Schwab was unanimously elected permanent chairman. Mrs. Harold Dressel, 3rd grade teacher, was secretary. All of the previous year's defeated candidates on the Progressive ticket were unanimously elected as follows at the Citizens caucus:
Engine Bentschneider, president; John Pippenger, first trustee; Don Fisher, third trustee.
Ed Kirk, treasurer; and G. W. Kramer, assessor were also elected. Clarence Stettin to fill vacancy assessor.

From the village clerk it was noted that about 15 or 20 is the average number of people who attend caucuses.

Mary Louise Kern, 68, Died At Home Tues.

A Manchester businesswoman was found dead at her home after she failed to open her lawn Tuesday.

The body of Mrs. Mary Louise Kern, 68 years of age, was discovered Tuesday morning by Police Chief Robert Hamsley, V. Kramer and Allen Luckhardt.

Mrs. William Eckles, a friend of the deceased, reported that she had talked to Mrs. Kern at 2 p.m. and Mrs. Kern had not been calling well at that time, but refused her offer of help. Mrs. Kern asked Mrs. Eckles to have a party shovelled from her home, at 110 Riverside, to the rear door of the tavern which is located at the corner of Riverside and Main streets.

L. P. Wurster, who noticed that the morning paper was still in the tavern door in late afternoon called Mrs. G. W. Kramer. At the time Mr. Kramer was out working on village assignments. When he returned the Kraems went to the Kern home and finding all the doors locked, they summoned Officer Hamsley.

Hamsley and Allen Luckhardt, superintendent of public works, and Mr. Kramer, removed a bedroom window screen and entered the house at 6:20. Mrs. Kern was found dead in the bathroom.

The results of the inquest of Washenaw Coroner Edwin Ganzhorn was not available at press time.

Mrs. Kern's only child, a son, Morgan, is stationed on the USS Midway in the Pacific. His ship has been contacted by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Kern has operated Mary's Tavern since the death of her husband, Morgan, in 1929. She was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church. Funeral arrangements are pending.

The body will be at Jenter Funeral Home in Manchester.

Michigan Milk Producers To Meet In Detroit February 25

In an unprecedented move to create united action by dairy farmers, the Michigan Milk Producers' Association (MMPA) has invited its major midwest milk marketing cooperatives to a regional meeting in Detroit February 25.

Making that announcement, MMPA President Glenn Lake said, "We hope to accomplish two things at this meeting. The first is to strengthen and unite efforts of dairy farmers in the current fight to prevent a cut in dairy price supports April 1. The second major objective is to coordinate the efforts of dairy farmer cooperatives in the Midwest to secure more satisfactory milk prices for farmers in their respective markets through bargaining."

"We have long felt," Lake said, "that changing marketing practices make it essential that farmers in broad areas work together through their cooperatives to get the best possible returns for the milk they sell."

"Such coordinated action is more important now than ever before," he added. "Dairies are playing farmers in one market against those in another to best down prices."

"Complicating the problem, the federal government has adopted the position that 'bankruptcy' milk prices to farmers will cure the difficulties of the dairy industry and is doing everything possible to put that policy into force," Lake said.

"Unless cooperatives act together now," he continued, "the dairy farmers get for milk this spring will drop to the lowest levels in many years and many dairymen will be ruthlessly forced out of business."

"We sincerely hope," Lake continued, "that the experience of MMPA in negotiating prices in Michigan for the past two years will encourage cooperatives attending this special meeting to take similar action in their markets."

The cooperatives invited to attend the meeting represent the majority of fluid milk producers in this area. They are: Pure Milk

4-H Winners Vow To Ring The Bell For Safety

DETERMINED TO BOOST THE NUMBER of 4-H members actively participating in safety programs to the million mark in 1958 are these eight national winners in the National 4-H Safety Program. Here, they show Ralph W. Moore, Director of Plant City and Field Relations for General Motors, the dramatic rise from 72,000 4-H participants in safety when GM began its sponsorship of the program awards 15 years ago to the current participation of 225,000 members. Leading 4-H toward the "million in safety mark" next year will be these winners, each of whom received $400 college scholarships from GM. In addition, General Motors provides them and the other state winners all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Bottom row, left to right are Sylvia McCarty, 18, Myers, Ky.; Leonard West, 17, McClave, Colo.; Marilyn Ellison, 17, El Reno, Okla.; Don Willis, 18, Mendonville, Miss.; Top row, left to right are Shaver Mitchell, 16, Diamond, Maine; Carolyn Kay Moore, 16, Fairview, Kans.; Ronald Fowles, 16, Clark, Mo.; Christine Pasley, 17, Hillsboro, Ore.

Beer explains that there are several new features in this year's conservation program. He believes some farmers may find these changes make a more attractive contract than was available last year.

For example, beginning this year, farmers may enter into five or 10 year contracts for land devoted to trees or shrub plantings for "bird-proof," windbreak, or wildlife habitat purposes. Previously, all tree and shrub plantings were under 10 year contracts.

The 10 year contract will remain in effect, however, for tree plantings for forestry purposes, Beer states.

Another change, according to Beer, is that the conservation reserve program is open to all farmers whether or not they have an acreage allotment for "basic" crops.

The farm economist suggests interested farmers visit their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office to check over the 1958 conservation reserve program.

Ice Fishing Presents Unusual Stories Occasionally

Michigan ice fishermen often are involved in unusual incidents and conservation officer Clarence Roberts of Grayling reports the latest.

Fisherman Robert Smock of Grayling told Roberts of an unexpected visitor at Timber Lake in Crawford county.

Smock, who was spear fishing at the time, said he was drawing in the line that held his blue decoy fish when he felt a tug on the line. Reaching his spear, Smock was all set to throw when an other suddenly appeared in the fishing hole.

The other must have been as surprised as the fisherman, for it let go of the line and disappeared under the ice.

MICH. FARM EQUIP. IMP. DEALERS ASSN. HOLDS MEETING

A regional meeting of the Michigan Farm Equipment Implement Dealers Association was held Tuesday at the American Legion Home, the Auxiliary serving dinner to 50 members from Monroe, Lenawee, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties. The principal speaker was Les Oster, writer for the National Farm Implement News; also on the program was S. E. Larson, executive secretary of the State Association and Keith Morrison, assistant secretary, both of Grand Rapids. Alvin Gross, of Solon, is a director on the state board.

Base Milk Price Increase Of 5c Quart Announced This Week

A slight drop in production accompanied by an increase in Class I (drinking) milk sales raised the base price to farmers in the Detroit market five cents a hundred to $4.70 last month, according to a report to the Sales Committee of Michigan Milk Producers' Association.

Production during January was 157,800,000 lbs., down 5 percent from December but up nearly 4 1/2 percent from January 1957. Sales of Class I (drinking) milk rose 3.7 percent from December and were 1.8 percent higher than January last year.

Class I sales took 71.7 percent of the total milk delivered to the market and were paid for at $5.00 per hundredweight. The remaining milk had to be manufactured into butter, dry milk powder, cottage cheese, etc., and brought $3.30 a hundred. These uses resulted in a blend or average price of $4.25 a hundred for 3.5 percent butterfat milk, before deductions for hauling, dies, and advertising.

The $2.80 Class I price, negotiated by MMPA, was 62.7 cents a hundred over the Federal Order price. It added $28,750 to the price farmers in the market got for milk or an average of 57¢ per shipper.

Average gross income per farm during January was $208, up $5 from last month and $5 higher than last January. There were 12,096 shippers on the Detroit market at the end of January—125 fewer than December and 655 below January 1957. Each shipper delivered an average of 13,051 lbs. of milk during January—992 lbs. more than January last year.

All Outstate markets showed higher average prices for the month. The Valley Markets (Bay City, Saginaw, Mt. Pleasant and Midland) were up 11¢ a hundred to $4.71; Jackson up 5¢ to $4.50; Grand Rapids up 5 1/2¢ to $4.38; Holland up 4¢ to $4.33; Battle Creek up 3¢ to $4.25; Muskegon up 3¢ to $4.20; Chippewa up 2¢ to $4.20; Marquette up 1¢ to $4.20; and Ironwood up 1¢ to $4.11.

Grass-Legume Seed Supply Outlook Told

Grass seed will be in plentiful supply this season, states Carter Harrison, farm crops specialist at Michigan State University.

Production of Sudan grass, bromegrass, orchard grass and Marion bluegrass seed was the largest on record last year. Kentucky bluegrass and chewing fescue seed production was either near record or far above average. Very favorable weather is credited with the increased production.

Legume seed will probably be a little tight but still ample this year. Harrison reports that production was down in the north and south central areas but was larger in the mountain and Pacific states where fields were irrigated.

Seed production of Ladino clover was down 40 per cent over last year; sweet clover down 16 per cent; red clover off 8 per cent; and alfalfa down 6 per cent. Alsike and white clover were up on production a little from a year ago.

Trout 1957 production of alfalfa seed is estimated at just under 155 million pounds. California produced 53 per cent of the crop. Michigan's alfalfa seed production totaled 350,000 pounds.

Movement of seed from farms into market channels has been slower than a year ago, Harrison adds. Compared with a year ago, farm prices to seed producers have been a little lower on most hay and pasture seeds.

The Manchester Village Board Of Review Will Meet At The Village Hall 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. TUESDAY, MARCH 4 and TUESDAY, MARCH 11 LeRoy Marx, Manchester Village Clerk
