Crippled Children

The 43 crippled children that arrived at the University of Michigan Fresh Air Camp yesterday are looking forward to two weeks of varied activities planned to meet their needs. One of the activities was preparing for a circus for Visitor's Day, Sunday, August 23rd.

Some of the activities planned for the children include: Indian Lore, crafts, a wide variety of sports and games, a nature study. Also the 13 counselors have planned a Water Tournament for the enjoyment of the children, which will include a race for a watermelon, and jousting in a canoe with padded poles.

The activities also offer a rest period after lunch to help balance a busy day. Another service given to the campers is the passing of medicines by the camp nurse. The camp is sponsored by the sale of

Fair Steer Sale

Highlight of the Manchester Community Fair was the steer sale which was held at a public auction. Both the champion and reserve champion steers were owned by 4-H Club members. Boris Kemmer's champion steer brought 53 1/2 cents a pound when bought by Charlie Carlton of the Manchester Country Market for a total price $518.88. The grand champion weighed 965 pounds.

Susan Walker's reserve champion brought 41 cents a pound. The steer weighed 950 pounds and R. C. Keer of Circle K Ranch paid $393.60 for it. Third place was Ted Wheeler's steer which placed third for showmanship in the F. F. A. club and was bought by Carl M. Schlabbe, Inc. who paid 38 1/2 cents a pound for the 920 pound steer.

Dwight Belov's steer brought 37 cents a pound when bought by E. G. Mann & Sons and weighed in at 805 pounds. Dwight is a FFA member. Ronald Mann, whose steer was first in showmanship for the 4-H club, was sold to Schaffert Lumber Company for 38 cents a pound, a total of $351.50. The Walton Farms also paid 38 cents a pound for LeRoy Cunningham's 925 pound steer. Fudence Huff's 970 pound steer was sold to the Union Savings Bank for 36 1/2 cents a pound. Manchester Ready Mix Co. bought Ray Kemmer's 1st place showmanship FFA steer for $340.10, a rate of 38 cents a pound. Grosman-Huber Service Station paid 37 cents a pound for Victor Mann's 915 pound steer.

Klager Hatcheries bought Carl Kemmer's second place showmanship FFA steer for 38 1/2 cents a pound. The Union Construction Company paid 39 1/2 cents a pound for Jerry Mann's steer and Double A. Products paid 37 1/2 cents a pound for Glen Mann's steer which showed the best daily gain in the FFA group.

The Manchester Frozen Food Locker's paid 36 1/2 cents a pound for Bill Kemmer's steer which showed the best daily gain in the 4-H club. Jesse Walker paid 40 1/2 cents a pound for 790 pound steer belonging to Dennis Purvis.

Other steers raised by Gordon Hulman, Bob Paul (3rd place showmanship 4-H), Don Mann, Bill Alther, Neil Horning, Paul Reinhardt (2nd place showmanship 4-H), Jim Mann, Brian Alber, and Gary McMillan were purchased by Steeb Brothers Market, Sutton Food Store, Kings Market, Manchester Tool and Die, Manchester Central Market, Ben Bouteil, Manchester Country Market, K & W Farm Supply and I. V. Kirk.

The total steer sale was $8,030.75 and there were 23 steers sold compared to 30 in 1957 and 32 steers in 1959. The steers were held 285 days and were judged by Wilton Frisley, Extension Specialist of Michigan State University, Dale Heselich, head of the Napoleon Livestock Sales was the auctioneer.

The order of the sale was: Champion of fair, reserve champion, and alternate steers from each club thereafter. Wendell Rinehart is the 4-H club leader and Ira Jump was the FFA instructor.

Wedding

Jane Eileen Jordan and Edward A. Raus exchanged wedding vows Saturday before the Rev. Alfred Hardin St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Leslie Jordan of Saline and the late Mr. Jordan. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norwin Raus of Saline.

The bride graduated from Saline High School and Eastern Michigan University. She will be employed as a teacher in Manchester this fall. The bridegroom, also a graduate of Saline High School served with the Navy and is employed at the A. C. M. Chevrolet Company in Saline.

The bride given in marriage by her brother, James Jordan wore a bright red dress of nylon over a white tulle with an embroidered yoke. A head band held her nose veil and she carried an orchid on a white ribbon.

Mrs. Ronald Taylor of Park Park, Illinois was her sister's matron of honor, and Miss Janice Jordon, another sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Norwin Raus, Jr. attended the bridegroom as best man, and usher was, Frederick Raus, brother of the bridegroom and Eugene Bruner. After the reception in the church basement, the couple left on a one-week honeymoon trip to Northern Michigan. Upon their return they will reside at 117 W. Michigan Avenue, Saline, Michigan.

Legion Auxiliary

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary August meeting was held in Carr Park, following a pot luck supper. The meeting was opened with an excellent report on Girl's State by Mary Ann Paul, who represented Manchester at this Auxiliary project in Ann Arbor last June. The Community Service chairman, Mrs. William Richardson, reported that there is one bed, one wheel chair, and four pairs of crutches on hand in the hospital equipment now available to the community.

The president announced the following officers were to be installed at the September meeting: President, Mrs. Russell Smith; First Vice, Mrs. Charles Steele; Treasurer, Mrs. William Richardson; Executive Board, Mrs. Harold Alexander; Mrs. James Baker, and Mrs. Edward Steele, Jr.; Historian, Mrs. Victor Hammett; and Chaplain, Mrs. Frank Tiro.

The committee for the September meeting includes Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Raymond Neudorfer, Mrs. Merrick Hough, Jr.

The meeting closed with a report on the state Convention at Grand Rapids in July by Mrs. Erwin Huber and Mrs. Russell Smith who were the chapter delegates.

School Opens

The new addition to the Nellie Ackerson School is almost complete and will be ready for occupancy when school opens Sept. 8. When contracts were initially signed, it was feared by the board of education that many of the items planned would have to be eliminated to meet a tight building budget. With careful planning it has been possible to finish the school as planned. The total cost of the new building is $182,000.00. This gives a cost of about 13.75 per square foot.

As you visit this building, you should notice the good workmanship, the quality materials, the pleasant atmosphere created by a lot of natural light, cheerful colors and the absence of any expensive or unnecessary "frills".

The building is a reality of the school board's philosophy. It is a cheerful, pleasant building for children and teachers; it is relatively maintenance free, all materials are good and longwearing and it will serve the community for many years.

Other rooms that have been completed for this school year are: Redecorating the old portion of the school, refinishing the furniture, a new blacktop and pea gravel playground and new playground equipment.

In the new building itself, you may be interested in the portable storage cabinets, the movable chalkboards, the new multi-purpose room and small kitchen, the attractive flowerbox and the 100% fireproof construction.

If you have not been in the old high school recently, you may be interested in the new floor mount lighting system and the new heating and ventilating system. So far all of these things have been accomplished from last year's bond issue.

Re-Zoning

A petition from property was filed with the Village Council requesting that the 300 and 400 blocks of West Main street be rezoned from C-2 General Business to residential.

After consideration by the council a motion was made by councilman John Pippenger and supported by Basil McGuire, another councilman to hold a public hearing and determine whether the two blocks in question should be rezoned. The public hearing will be held Monday, September 14 at 8 p.m. in the village council rooms.

The council also voted to extend the village tax roll fifty days, from August 21 to October 10. It was also moved to have the village attorney draft an ordinance regarding dogs running at large and continuing barking night and day; or to make an amendment to the old ordinance. This was left to the discretion of the attorney.

Council also agreed to hold the next council meeting Monday, September 14 instead of Monday, September 7, which is Labor Day.

Give Today

Today the Bloodmobile is in Manchester from 11:30 a.m. and 5:45 to 7:30 p.m. at the Emanuel Church Hall.

By last Saturday night eighty-nine donors had registered through the churches, at the Fair and Double A. Others are urged to "come as they are" or call Garden 9-3671 for an appointment time during the Bloodmobile hours. It is important to have at least 100 donors registered in advance and preferably 150 in order to keep the Bloodmobile's visit to the average of once a year or year and a half. It is more efficient for the Bloodmobile as well as the community effort to be able to bank enough for the longer period.

The Bloodmobile means security for every family in the area for one of the vital needs in time of accident or severe illness. It is the time you bank your donation of blood for yourself, your family or your neighbor. In true Manchester fashion this area was one of the first communities to have its own blood bank with the Red Cross. Many other communities and organizations have their own blood clubs, but Manchester's Red Cross Blood Club has a cooperative civic background that is typical of the area. It is the same spirit which is shown in the now famous Chiquen Brull, the school support, United Community Fund and all major civic activities.

Be at the Bloodmobile for yourself, your family or your neighbor TODAY.

County Farm

Washtenaw county will probably need all of the 170-acre County Farm property for county activities in the next 20 years, and the county may be the agency which will have to provide urban type services to farms here, a County Planning Commission researcher says.

Hal Shields said that in the next 20 years the county may need to set up a dormitory-type housing for the aging, a resource center or library for the county's special education program, and other capital projects.

At the request of the Board of Supervisors, the commission is studying whether all of the County Farm should be retained by the county, or whether some of the county will have to add or expand and some indication of the county's fiscal capacity to undertake capital outlays.

The commission was told that the juvenile division probably will expand more in the direction of counseling than detention, and that from the Sheriff's department will need more personnel as industries increase outside cities. Services of the agricultural extension office probably won't decrease, in spite of urbanization.

"The great density center, still will be in the Ann Arbor area 20 years from now," Shields said. "As the area becomes more of a metropolitan area, there has to be some unit of government to handle problems."

Recreation News

Senior playground came to a close for the summer with over 90 junior and senior playgrounders enjoying a "weekend" last Friday morning at Carr Park. In the afternoon 55 seniors were guests of the beachmen of Wampier's Lake and enjoyed a delicious treat after their swim.

Recreation Cont'd.

The Track and Field Meet was held Tuesday morning with participation in all divisions except the 13-15 girls' Division. In which case the award for that division was given to the second place winner in the 9-12 girls' Division. In the Class A Boys' Division (13-15) Bob Jedell took first place with 16 points, Jeff Ahrens second with 13, Ron Fielzer third with 13 and Larry Schneider had 1 point. Richard Pilewski received the award for first place in the Class B Boys' Division (9-12) with 21 points while Denny Steele has 19, Mitchell Dean 5, Dick Fielding 4, Steve Berschneider 3, and Jim Flaider 2.
