ICE FISHERMAN MARKING TIME

Season To Start Late This Year

Three weeks ago it looked like Ann Arbor area ice fishermen might get off to their earliest start in several years. Now it's certain the first safe ice will come later than usual.

Normally, ice fishing in these parts gets under way by Dec. 15. It's a sure bet there will be no fishermen out Tuesday, unless they are in boats, and long-range weather forecasts hold out little hope for at least another full week.

WASHTENAW RECREATION STUDY URGED

County Planning Director Robert D. Carpenter called on the Ann Arbor Metropolitan area planning committee to give its full support to an intensive recreational study of Washtenaw county.

"We should try to find some way to revive the recreation function of the county," Carpenter said. He noted that there are recreational facilities available in other parts of southeastern Michigan and they are well used by county residents, "but if people get 10 miles away it isn't recreation any more, it's work."

The county's chief planner, Edwin F. Drabkowski, said the biggest problem facing any study of recreation in the county is financing. He agreed that action should be taken immediately.

He said there are many sites in the county which would be suitable for small parks but if action isn't taken soon they will be subdivided off slowly and there will be nothing left for recreational use.

LODGE ELECTS OFFICERS

The heaviest deer contest was won by Paul Eisle for a 155 lb deer, and the lightest deer was caught by Pat Roesch, with 90 lbs.

The Sportsman's annual banquet will be held Jan. 7 at St. Mary's Church and the program will be color pictures by Jack Van Covering, of his "African Diary".

IRON CREEK EXTENSION

The Iron Creek Extension met Thursday Dec. 10 at the home of Mrs. Robert Carter, with a pot-luck dinner at 12:30 p.m. 17 members were present. Roll call was responded to with "Christmas Talents."

In lieu of the usual exchange of gifts each member had been asked to bring a dollar to contribute toward a gift for the hospital for handicapped children at Ypsilanti. As three articles had been submitted for them to choose from it was decided to take enough more money from the treasury to enable them to buy a waffle iron.

The next meeting will be Thursday Jan. 14, at the home of Mrs. Norman Fielder with a dessert luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Roll call will be "New Food Product," I have tried.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING TO TOWN

Santa will pay a visit to the children of the Manchester area Saturday, Dec. 19. Word has been received here that the red coated, white bearded idol of childhood can be expected to make a public appearance in front of E. G. Mann Mill at 2 p.m.

Helping Santa with the arrangements to see that every child receives a gift of goodies will be members of the Manchester Optimist club headed by Charles Eisenhauer. Other helpers are Allie Luckhardt, L. P. Wurster and Allen Schaffer.

Just how Santa will arrive in town is not known. He has been known to fly in on some occasions. Chairman Eisenhauer says that with the weather so mild and no snow at the present time it is almost a certainty that he'll have to leave the reindeer and sleigh in the north and either arrive by plane or motor car.

At any rate the committee will be on hand to meet him at the west village limits and have sent messages to him to be prepared to greet at least a thousand children of the area. Members of the Optimist club, who have helped Santa here for many years point out that this is a part of the Recreation Program set up through the Community Chest for the children of this area.

JUVENILE HOME UNDERGOES
BIG FACE-LIFTING

By Norm Gibson
Washtenaw county's juvenile division of probate court has been considerably reorganized in the 2 1/2 years since a 14-year-old boy committed suicide by hanging at the County Juvenile Home.

Probate Judge John W. Conlin asked the State Department of Social Welfare to investigate the juvenile division in November, 1955, shortly after the judge took office. Investigators reported their findings to the judge in January, 1957.

Jerry Creech Cage Hero As Dutchmen Come Back For Overtime Decision

Manchester's little Jerry Creech hit in the clutch last night as the Dutchmen won a pressure-packed overtime tilt with the U High Cubs 63-57, on the Cubs' home floor.

Creech scored eight points for Manchester late in the fourth quarter to force a 56-55 tie at the end of regulation time. Each of the shots was a one-bander from the right corner.

His last shot put the Dutchmen ahead, 58-55, but Bill Pratkanek sank two free throws with about 15 seconds remaining to tie the score. Moments later Stu Bradley hit from the left side but time had been called and what would have been the winning basket was not good.

As the game moved into a three-minute overtime, Creech took charge again and hit for two baskets and two free throws to score all his team's points in the overtime. After the buzzer sounded he was carried from the floor by his jubilant teammates.

While both teams were guilty of a raft of errors, the Cubs can find reason for their defeat in the free-throw column. They hit a meager 11 for 21 while the Dutchmen counted 19 of 26.

Both teams showed a good deal of poise and came back from several barren moments. The Cubs started hot and raced to a 16-18 first quarter lead. Bradley's three looping left-handers led the assault.

But they ebbed off in the second quarter and Manchester, led by the deft free-throwing of aggressive Bud England, edged into a half-time tie, 24-24.

U High appeared a bit disorganized early in the third quarter and the Dutchmen proceeded to take advantage. Only to see the tables reversed later in the quarter. The Cubs led at the end of the third quarter, 42-41, and stretched that lead to five points early in the fourth quarter. They held that lead and appeared in command until Creech began his spurge that carried Manchester to its third straight win of the season and second in Washnetaw Conference play. For the Cubs it was their first defeat in three games and came in their first conference game.

The scoring for the Cubs was well balanced with Pratkanek and Jim Beamer getting 12 each and Jeff Fischer, Pete Andrews and Bradley each getting 9. Creech and England did the bulk of the scoring for Manchester, getting 24 and 17, respectively.

The anticipated battle of the big boys really never came off. Ron Fox sat out half the second quarter and most of the third quarter with three fouls and finally fouled out with 35 seconds left in regulation time. England fouled out with 2:32 to go. The Dutchmen thus played the most crucial moments of the game without their tallest regulars. Beamer of the Cubs fouled out with 2:30 to go and sat out part of the game.

The Cubs will try to get back on the victory trail next Friday when they play the Saline Hornets at Saline in a conference game.

BAND CONCERT

One of the first highlights of the Christmas season for Manchester citizens will be the annual high school band concert to be presented this Friday at 8 p.m. in the Civic Auditorium.

The band, under the direction of R. C. Sator, will play music ranging from classical to popular and from religious to humorous. One feature of the concert will be a concert solo "O Holy Night" by senior Gary Hamilton.

A speaking choir of senior English students, in cooperation with the band, will present "Twas the Night Before Christmas" in an arrangement for narrators and instrumental background.

The public is invited to attend this hour-long concert. Tickets are 50 cents per adult and 25 cents per student. Tickets are available from all band members and can also be purchased at the door on Friday night.

KING AND QUEEN

The crowning of the King and Queen of Holly Hop will be a highlight of the "Winter Wonderland" prom being sponsored by the Manchester High School Senior class Saturday evening from 9:30 to 1:00 in the high school gymnasium.

Finalists in the contest were selected by a student body vote last week. Candidates for queen are: Justice Steinsway, Francine Purfield, and Martha Boutell, all seniors, and Joan White, a freshman. Finalists for king are Paul Menzel, Ron Walters, Gary Hamilton, and Terry Huber, all seniors.

The royal couple to be selected by student body election this week, will be crowned at the Holly Hop at 11 p.m.

The dance is open to the public. Tickets are $1.25 per person or $2.00 per couple.

The John Harber Band will provide music for the occasion.

Holiday Suggestions: How to Choose Christmas Tree, Decorate It, Keep It Fire Safe

1. Choose a small tree instead of a large one. It can be just as beautiful, and less of a hazard.
2. Keep the tree outdoors until you are ready to install it.
3. Wait until just before Christmas before setting up the tree.
4. Set up the tree in a place where it does not block a doorway.
5. It is best to set up the tree in the coolest part of a room, away from radiators, heaters, and fireplaces.
6. Stand the tree in water to retard drying.
7. Use fireproof decorations of promptly.
8. Set up electric trains away from the tree.
9. Be sure your strings of electric Christmas lights are in good condition. Discard sets with frayed wiring. When buying new sets, look for the UL label of Underwriters Laboratories, Inc. Lighted candles should not be used on the tree.
10. There should be a switch some distance from the tree for turning all lights on and off.
11. Don't leave tree lights burning when away from home.
12. Inspect the tree from time to time to see whether needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If they have, change the position of the lights.
13. Take the tree down and discard it outdoors when needles start falling.
14. When gifts are opened, wrappings should be discarded promptly.

CITIZENSHIP

By Eileen Townsend

Citizenship is a relationship and understanding between a citizen and his community, a student and his teachers, and a student with other students. Along with citizenship being an understanding between individuals, it is also looked upon as being an understanding of the government in your school and community.

Citizenship should begin in school, and Manchester High has a great need for it. Take a look around you; then take a good look at yourself. Do you try to understand your teachers and your friends? Do you give others a chance to understand you? Are you familiar with the rules of your student government and do you abide by them? Most of our answers to these questions will be "no," so isn't it about time we practiced citizenship? Begin by getting a better understanding of your closest friends. Maybe you can be the one to help better their moral standards and likewise maybe they can better yours. One way to do this is to learn to accept constructive criticism and learn to tactfully give constructive criticism.

After you have accomplished this, the next step would be to understand your teachers. You can begin by learning to respect them, and then you must learn to take an interest in the subjects they teach. If you have a negative attitude toward your education, most likely you will dislike your school and your teachers. If you have a positive attitude, you will be surprised at the difference it makes. You will want to learn all you can and not try to get by on the mere essentials. With these few things in mind, you should be able to account for showing citizenship in your community and home relations.

First Observance
 The first Christmas observance in this country took place shortly after Columbus discovered America. The Santa Maria was beached on Christmas and Columbus and his men were unable to free her. The ship was stripped of as much gear as possible and when the Nina was unable to accommodate all of the Santa Maria's crew, some of them were left behind in a fort, that in honor of the season was called La Navidad, the Nativity.

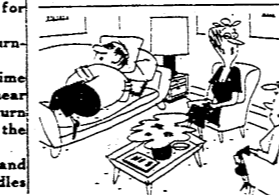

'Happy New Year' In All Languages

Nowadays it is possible to buy greeting cards which extend New Year wishes in several languages. This modern development is a convenience for those who send greetings to friends in the "old country" wherever that country happens to be.

Should you be sending a card to friends in Paris, the greeting would be "Bonne Annee!" In Spanish, the greeting is "Feliz Ano Nuevo!" and in sunny Italy, "Buon Capo d'Anno!"

"Ein Glueckliches Neues Jahr" is the salutation one might send—or receive—from friends in Germany.

Whatever the language, the words "Happy New Year" represent only the best of wishes for the year ahead.

"As a rule, Ed's delightful company but occasionally he wakes up and spoils it."

WOMAN BURNED IN FIRE

Injured As She Attempts To Quell Living Room Blaze

A 65-year-old Ann Arbor woman remained the better boys for housewives in the Detroit area this morning when she attempted to put out a fire which started in the living room of her home.

Mrs. Katherine S. Zandstra of 1221 Willard St. was admitted to University Hospital about 11:15 a.m. today following the blaze at her residence.

Two trucks manned by eight men under the direction of Fire Chief Ernest Heller responded to the call to the Willard St. address at 11:11 a.m. Firemen said when they arrived they could see bright orange flames leaping up behind the glass in the bay window of the large frame house. Mrs. Zandstra was standing near a flaming couch at one side of the living room, firemen said.

Firemen smashed a large window in the living room and within five minutes had the fire under control. The couch, where the fire apparently had started, was tossed out onto the lawn of the house.

Firemen said that although the floor and walls of Mrs. Zandstra's living room were scorched the rest of the house was untouched, by flames. Chief Heller called the action by his men "a good save."

Cause of the blaze was undetermined but Chief Heller said "huge" accumulations of papers, old furniture, canned goods and other items throughout the house made it "a very definite fire hazard."

On April 17, 1956, Mrs. Zandstra was cited by the Ann Arbor Fire Department for storage of combustible materials in a building. She entered a not guilty plea to the charge before Municipal Court Judge Francis L. O'Brien and later the charge was reduced to maintaining a fire hazard. On June 12, 1956, that charge was dismissed on motion of the city with the agreement by Mrs. Zandstra that the Fire Department would be permitted to clean out trash and accumulated debris in her house and garage.

A city truck was used to cart away large amounts of material found in the dwelling. After an inspection of the premises at that time, Chief Heller said it no longer constituted a fire hazard.

Checking the house after this morning's blaze, the chief said it was "in the same shape" as it had been when his department started action three years ago.

Firemen said Mrs. Zandstra was burned today in an apartment attempt to squelch the flames shooting out of the living room couch. She lives alone in the dwelling which has about 10 rooms and an attached garage.

Beef Among Week's Best Market Buys

Certain cuts of beef and pork remained the better buys for housewives in the Detroit area this week, Michigan State University's Marketing Bulletin said today.

The bulletin said wholesale prices of many kinds of livestock and poultry were generally on the upgrade in the Detroit metropolitan area. But many of the features of a week ago in pork and beef were still available. The period of very low prices on frying chickens was believed past, but there were better supplies of fish in many markets, the service said.

The bulletin reported considerably larger amounts of fresh fruits and vegetables and many specials in quick meal suggestions for the busy holiday shopper. Frozen orange juice was reported lower priced.

Hope prices climbed since last week, but all fresh and smoked cuts were available at thrifty prices, the university said.

The service said ground beef, corned beef and chuck roasts were the budget buys again this week in beef, with some good prices also available in standing rib roasts and beef steaks.

Firemen said that although the floor and walls of Mrs. Zandstra's living room were scorched the rest of the house was untouched, by flames. Chief Heller called the action by his men "a good save."

Remember, in Choosing Toys That Children Grow Older

Youngsters Get Most Fun, Benefit, from Playthings Adjusted to Their Growth

Reliance on hazy memories of children as they were several years ago is a prime cause of error on the part of well-meaning assistant Santas, according to Dr. Philip Lewis, member of the Chicago Board of Education and advisor to Toy Guidance Council.

Relatives and friends who want to give lasting pleasure to junior and his sister this Christmas, should start out by making a check up on the current ages of the youngsters to be gifted, Dr. Lewis advises. Memory is remarkably unreliable, particularly when jogged by old snap shots.

Even for adults in fairly frequent contact with children, it is easy to overlook the fact that each boy and girl is growing, literally, every day and that with growth, come different interests and capabilities. Children's vistas of experience expand rapidly, gradually they learn to participate effectively in group play and they invariably get the most fun, as well as the most benefit, from toys that fit their age.

Lights Beam Yule Spirit From Homes

The great American tradition of exterior illumination of the home at holiday time is strictly in the Christmas spirit, in that it reflects the desire to share the happiness of the season, not only with family, friends and neighbors, but with the most casual passerby—in short with everyone!

With each passing year, imaginative Americans create new effects to add to holiday atmosphere of the neighborhood. In good natured rivalry, families vie with one another to come up with something "new and different" each year.

As planning for this year's Christmas lighting gets under way, Dad (who usually makes this his own domain) will find much new and improved equipment on display at the stores. Included are weatherproof wiring, floodlights and myriad-colored light bulbs, along with a wide variety of stars, wreaths, illuminated Santas and other pieces, which afford wide scope to the imagination of the one planning the display.

Do put the assignment of toy buying first on your list of Christmas preparations. Early shopping will assure you the best selection. Many toys get sold out well ahead of the Christmas eve deadline.

Do take time to explore the play interests of the different ages of childhood represented on your list. Toys, more than any other sector of gift buying, yield extra values of play interest and education if thoughtfully chosen to fit varied development needs. It is helpful to consult a list of children's play interests at different ages.

Do buy toys that intrigue your adult eye, but buy realistically for use by yourself or other adults.

Do think of the individual child and how he, or she, will use each toy, when you select juvenile Christmas gifts.

Leo J. Dettling Succumbs At 70

Former Car Dealer Dies Of Cancer

Leo J. Dettling, sr., 70, former owner of a local automobile sales agency, died of cancer of the lungs last night at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He lived at 1816 Perdon Rd.

Mr. Dettling was principal owner of the Ann Arbor Motor Sales & Service, Inc., for 40 years prior to his retirement in 1954.

He rose to ownership of the Cadillac auto agency after having sold various makes of cars for six years, naming the firm Cadillac Garage. In 1934, the agency was moved to the 200 block of W. Huron St. and in the 1940's, the Ann Arbor Motor Sales & Service, Inc., was formed with partners and opened at its present location, 504 E. Washington St.

Mr. Dettling was born July 20, 1889, in Freedom township, a son of Louis and Mary Koch Dettling, and married Amy B. Church in 1910. She survives.

He was a member of the St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society of the church and a member of the Ann Arbor Elks Club.

Besides his wife, survivors are three sons, Leo Jr., of Brighton, John C. of Chelsea and James H. of Ann Arbor; three brothers, Albert and Raymond of Ann Arbor and Alfred of Dexter. Other survivors are eight grandchildren, an aunt Mrs. Edward Schumacher of Ann Arbor, and several nieces and nephews. A son, Garwood, died in infancy.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the St. Francis church with burial in St. Thomas cemetery.

One of a husband's toughest problems in life is getting back some of his take-home pay after he takes it home.

A nickel goes a long way these days. You can carry one for several days before you find anything it will buy.

Alimony is a system by which when two people make a mistake, one of them continues to pay for it.
