Keep The Bloom On Summer Fruit

Whether you're canning or freezing fruit, whether you put up peaches, berries, apricots or apples, one thing is sure: you want your fruit to be appetizing and attractive when it's time to serve it. Here are some good tips to help keep the bloom of freshness on fruit even through months of freezer-storage.

Be sure the fruit is at its peak ripeness and not one second beyond. If you grow your own, pick firm fruit in the cool of the morning. Sun-heated fruit bruises more easily from handling. Remember that exposure to the air is damaging to the delicate color and flavor of fresh fruit. You can avoid this by working quickly with the proper utensils. If you use a syrup pack, slice the peaches or other fruit directly into the syrup. Whether you use a syrup or dry sugar pack, pre-mix a protective agent with either the water or sugar before you start slicing.

Antioxidants such as A-C-M (the initials stand for Ascorbic Citric-Mixture) can be bought at drug stores and food locker plants. They will prevent darkening of the fruit and also protect the flavor. Ascorbic acid is better known as vitamin C, and citric acid occurs in citrus and other fresh fruits. Two other points to remember: 1) Use a sharp knife for peeling and slicing the fruit, and 2) Fruits should be prepared for the freezer in small quantities and frozen quickly to preserve the flavor and color. With just a little care, you can serve your family the freshest looking, freshest tasting summer fruit even on the coldest winter day. And a fresh peach pie or fresh peach short-cake can brighten up a dreary November day like magic. Try it and see!

SUSPENSE IS TOUGH WHEN WAITING FOR MONEY

A mysterious donor who sends $100 bills through the mail is keeping the staff of Project HOPE in suspense. Project HOPE will send a floating medical training center to Southeast Asia in September. On four occasions, the anonymous donor has mailed envelopes containing up to $750 in bills, addressed to "HOPE, Inc., Washington, D. C." The envelopes were addressed by hand with no return address, and held no message. Each envelope had a different postmark, but all were from the Greater Philadelphia area. The first envelope contained seven $100 bills and two $50's. It was mailed from Philadelphia. The second envelope arrived the same day. It held four $50's and one $20. Postmark: Lansdale, Pa. The third arrived four days later, containing three $100 bills and four $50's. Postmark: Souderton, Pa.

The second envelope officials were examining the mail carefully, waiting for the next one. It arrived about six weeks later. Contents: six $100 bills and two $20's. Postmark: Quakertown, Pa. Total cash received so far: $2,110.

Next letter? Who knows. Who from? The mystery can remain unsolved as far as HOPE officials are concerned. "We'd like to thank him, but the mystery doesn't worry us," says Dr. William B. Walsh, head of Project HOPE. "Maybe he will start a trend." Project HOPE's objective is to share this country's modern medical know-how with the newly-developing countries. The SS HOPE, a former Navy hospital ship, will carry a staff of about 100 medical people who will train local medical personnel. The ship is expected to leave for Indonesia in September. HOPE is being supported by contributions from business and industry, labor and the public. Cost for the first year of operation will be $2.5 million. The project is part of the People-to-People program suggested by President Eisenhower and has the active support of many top business and political leaders. Contributions may be sent to Project HOPE, P.O. Box 9808, Washington 15, D.C.

LINSEED OIL PAINT GIVES BEST PROTECTION

Only a thin film of paint stands between man and the elements for the protection of his most valued possession: his home. Since the beginning of history linseed oil has been the basic ingredient to supply that film of protection, and linseed oil paint still gives the greatest protection, with a film twice as thick as latex paint.

This fact is revealed as the result of tests of the Research Committee of the National Linseed Processors Association. Starting with the same wet film, 3.4 mils in thickness, the latex exterior paint dried to a dry film thickness of 1.2 mils, while the linseed oil exterior paint dried to a dry film of 2.7 mils in thickness.

This means that to obtain the same dry film thickness, at least two coats of latex exterior paint are required to give the same thickness of dry film produced by one coat of linseed oil exterior paint. The explanation is simple. Latex exterior paint contains two-thirds water by volume, which evaporates after the paint is applied. Linseed oil paint, on the other hand, contains only 20% by volume of solvent which evaporates. Thus linseed oil exterior paint has greater covering power. In addition to being more economical, applying one coat instead of two means a considerable saving in labor.

KEYS TO THE KITCHEN KINGDOM

An efficient filing system for electric appliance cords can be made with cardboard cylinders saved from paper towels, wax paper, etc. Cut these in half, insert the cords, and label each with the name of the appliance. This method will keep the cords reduce wear on them. Although it makes sense to you—hot water is taboo—for defrosting home freezers. Wait till the food supply in the freezer is low. Remove packages and place on chilled trays. Wrap some insulating material around the trays. Work fast—get that freezer defrosted before the food starts to thaw. You can use a scraper—and a dustpan and brush to remove the ice scrapings.

15,000 Convention Guests Jam Los Angeles

Los Angeles, which has increased its population by more than eight times in 50 years, is about to add another 15,000 residents for a one-week stay.

Pouring into the sprawling Southern California metropolis to attend the Democratic presidential nominating convention will be 4,800 delegates and alternates, 5,500 newsmen from all over the world, and some 5,000 behind-the-scenes workers. They'll jam all available working space at the new Los Angeles Memorial Sports Arena and, in many cases, compete with thousands of sightseers and visitors for a view of the convention floor.

It was completion of the Sports Arena facility that gave Los Angeles adequate facilities to host its first major political convention. Handling press arrangements is a mammoth job, and the Democratic National Committee has four sub-committees allocating space and trying to keep everyone happy.

Television makes the heaviest demands. CBS News, for example, will have almost 10,000 square feet of off-the-floor working area for studios, newsrooms, control rooms, etc., and construction crews began putting in these facilities about June 1. In addition, CBS needs between 175 and 200 hotel rooms to house its staff of 278. For the third time, the convention will be televised under commercial sponsorship. This will bring back two convention veterans better known than many of the candidates.

They are Walter Cronkite, anchor man for CBS, and Betty Furness, for Westinghouse Electric Corporation, which is sponsoring the CBS broadcasts again, as it did in 1952 and 1956.

Joining Betty this year will be Fred Davis, who will describe Westinghouse contributions to research, education, atomic power, space exploration, and national defense. Because of space limitations, convention floor activity must be covered with a combined network six-camera pool. But CBS will use 22 additional remote and fixed cameras to supplement the pool coverage. In all, the network will employ 22 tons of equipment and more than 23 miles of lines and cable. No matter how bitter the Los Angeles convention, it isn't likely to top the Democratic meeting of 100 years ago. That was held in Charleston, S. C., also a national convention site for the first time. The delegates struggled through 57 ballots before splitting into two groups and nominating separate candidates. Both candidates were defeated by Abraham Lincoln; Charleston never again has been the scene of a major convention.

CONVENTION VETERANS are Betty Furness and Walter Cronkite. Betty, who received a number of write-in votes for President in 1952 and 1956, again will speak for Westinghouse Electric Corporation, sponsor of CBS coverage for the third time. Cronkite returns as CBS anchor man for television.

SANITATION CODE TO BE STUDIED MORE

The County Board of Supervisors has postponed action on the controversial county sanitation code. On recommendation of the Public Health committee, the matter was tabled awaiting further study by the committee and the board as a whole. Specifically, the postponement was aimed at examination of an "appeal amendment" inserted by the County Health department. It is hoped the amendment will stave off some opposition to the measure.

The amendment provides that the board's Public Health Committee would act as a hearing board empowered to grant variations when "unnecessary hardship" would result from strict adherence to the proposed regulations. Chairman of the board, Elmer Wolter of Scio said there are many wrinkles to iron out. The report reaffirmed Dr. Engel's major proposals concerning a minimum 100-foot isolation distance of a disposal field from private water well and a minimum of one-acre county standard for new development contemplating individual septic tank and well systems.

The houses in question were constructed between 1952 and 1957. Wells in the area were set 50 feet from the nearest site fields and were over 25 feet deep. Analysis of water samples from these homes show one of the wells serving a home is polluted with detergent, used in household laundry. The effect on people drinking small amounts of detergent such as in drinking water is not known. Dr. Engel stated there will be no conflict with future development as long as the particular township required the developer to install such necessary services. Opponents say that development in the county will be hampered if the new code is adopted.

CIVIL DEFENSE SCHEDULE PLANNED

Col. Gerald G. Miller, county Civil Defense director has announced a schedule of local fairs at which his department will hold displays to explain Civil Defense procedures in Washtenaw County. Participating in the program will be Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Services operators. They will give demonstrations of their methods of broadcasting alert. The schedule is as follows: Milan Fair, July 25th to 30th; Manchester Fair, August 17th to 20th; Chelsea Fair, Sept. 6th to 10th; and Saline Fair.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS MAKE APPOINTMENTS

The Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors has approved the appointment of two doctors on a 24-hour call basis to give medical care to county jail prisoners and has referred the names of Dr. Edward Pierce and Dr. Mikio Hiraga, both of Ann Arbor to the Sheriff's department. Alternative physicians named were Dr. Robert Idesonii, and Dr. Robert Barlow also of Ann Arbor. Fees were set at $10 per call plus $5 for any additional person attended on in the same call.

The board also accepted a 30-point set of rules to govern its procedure. They also approved the purchase of property adjacent to the county jail for $10,500. The property bought from the Ann Arbor Trust Company will be used to extend the jail parking lot and for possible future building expansion. The purchase of 13.3 acres of land in Freedom township for gravel pit purposes was announced by the Road and Bridge committee. The property was purchased from Edward and Amelia Pfau for $9,975.

A communication from the Lapeer County Board of Supervisors asking a resolution recommending that property assessments in Michigan made not to exceed 50 per cent of cash value was referred to the Equalization Committee. The Lapeer board's letter stated that a figure over 50 per cent would impose hardship on the property owners. It urged support of state legislation to set an upper limit on assessments. Mrs. Bernice Delaney, medical collections worker, was authorized to attend the National Association of County Reimbursement Officers' convention August 8-11th at New York City.

Chairman Elmer Wolter and a board member to be chosen by him were authorized to attend the National Association of County Officers' meeting August 12-17 in Miami, Florida and approval was given to a law enforcement convention trip last month at Denver, Colo., attended by Sheriff George Petersen.

Mrs. Mary Jo Huber, Girl's State representative, was a guest and gave a report on her ten day stay at Girl's State in Ann Arbor, which she attended recently. The unit decided to have a potluck picnic dinner at our next meeting to be held at Carr Park at 6:00 p.m. The committee will be Mrs. Roland Grossman, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Robert Ahrens, and Mrs. Wm. MANCHESTER SCHOOLS TO BORROW $35,000

Notes have been issued at Detroit in the amount of $35,000 to cover current operating expenses of the Manchester school system. Supt. Robert Masten stated the school's 1960 borrowing program will also include from $40,000 to $45,000 in September and from $30,000 to $35,000 in December, to be repaid from anticipated state aid revenues. He said that borrowing to meet current operating expenses is normal procedure in Manchester because the system does not carry a large running balance of available funds. He estimated the schools total deficit this year will drop to approximately $5,000 as opposed to $19,000 last year. The fiscal year ended June 30th, but auditors reports are not completed.

LAW REQUIRES IMMUNIZATION BEFORE CHILDREN START SCHOOL

Under provisions of Act 12, Published Acts of 1960, all children enrolling for the first time in a Michigan school must show evidence of having been adequately immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, polio (lockjaw) and polio. Dr. Otto Engelke, Washburn County Health Department director, said: "The only exceptions will be those children whose parents sign a statement to the effect that the child has not been immunized because of religious or other convictions," he said.

"This public act added a new section to the School Code of 1955," Dr. Engelke said. "This act required that parents must submit to the schools either one of four statements regarding the immunization status of their child."

The four statements mentioned by the doctor were described as: (1) a statement signed by a physician that the child had been immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus (lockjaw), whooping cough and poliomyelitis, or (2) a statement signed by the parents that the immunization procedures would be completed by the family physician and that a report of the completion of the immunization procedures would be furnished the schools, or (3) a statement requesting the local health department to provide immunizations, or (4) a statement signed by parents attesting to the fact that they do not wish their child protected against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus (lockjaw), whooping cough, poliomyelitis because of religious or other convictions. Schools will require statements at the time of enrollment and Dr.

Engelke reminded parents that these immunizations and statements should be obtained from family physicians as early as possible to avoid inconvenience to the parents, as well as to the doctors. Although the schools will require the statements at the time of registration, there has been no time limit set for the completion of the immunization procedure, Dr. Engelke said.

According to the doctor, nearly 85 per cent of Washburn county children have been immunized before they are 18 months of age. It was Dr. Engelke's opinion, that the law would not require vigorous enforcement in Washburn county or elsewhere this first year.

"Any further planning regarding compliance with the Act must await the findings of the school at the time of enrollment," Dr. Engelke said. "The point now," the doctor concluded, "is to have the child immunized or to get the doctor's statement of immunization before school begins so that a last-minute rush on the family physician's offices may be avoided and the child may be enrolled."

The Woman's World by Lady Pepperell

Famous Boudoirs

My world tour of Famous Boudoirs took me to London on the glorious Spring day of Princess Margaret Rose's wedding. A less shy reporter would have tried for a picture of the wedding suite aboard the Royal yacht. But the beauty and sweetness of it all kept me at a respectful distance, merely waving to the glowing couple as they moved slowly down the Thames.

I spent the night in the chilly boudoir of Disraeli's country house (and wished wholeheartedly for an electric blanket!). Like many Americans, my hostess keeps her bedrooms "healthfully cool", but her eyes lit up when I promised to send her a Lady Pepperell automatic blanket on my return to Boston.

The next day, I drove through the Berkshire country to Windsor Castle. One of the best "housewives" ever to live there, according to English gossip, was the virgin queen, Elizabeth I. She was the first to use such refinements as lined damask table napkins and bed sheets. As I stood in her oak-paneled bedroom under its barrel-shaped ceiling (styled to give the room greater height), I mentally assigned a new pattern in her honor. With the English rose in a deeper tone on a pastel color, this silky percale will give the impression of the finest damask. I shall call it Damask Rose. I thought, for the colorful yet lonely Queen, whose creative touch turned a castle into a home.

Single Dose Pinworm Product Effective

DETROIT—A new drug that is more than 95 per cent effective in eliminating pinworm infection with a single dose was introduced this week to the medical profession. Parke, Davis & Company, said the new strawberry-flavored liquid eliminates nine years of research and the screening of more than 5,000 compounds, and may well contribute to the removal of pinworm as a health problem.

Clinical trials with more than 600 children in the U.S. and Canada show the curative value of a single dose of Povan was virtually 100 per cent effective within one week. Povan is available by prescription only.

Pinworm is an intestinal infection which disregards socioeconomic levels and is prevalent in some 20 per cent of the population of the United States. Although the infection can be transferred readily from the child to all members of the family, it is still most common in children with thumb-suckers and nail-biters being most susceptible.

The typical symptom is anal itching. The infection may be transferred from person to person by direct contact; by handling contaminated objects; and by breathing airborne worm eggs as a component of house dust.

Eggs from the worms contaminate the bedclothes and even the air from which others acquire the infection. For this reason, treatment of all members of the family where one or more is infected is considered the most effective means of parasite eradication.

Cleanliness, physicians agree, is one of the main factors in controlling the spread of pinworm infection. Sanitary precautions alone, however, have been inadequate in eradicating the infection. Povan, according to Parke-Davis, has proven effective and may well give the physician the most efficient medicinal agent yet available.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh. On the Right "Track"

Jeb Fisher, the local stationmaster, tells a story that happened last winter during one of our worst blizzards. Seems there was a Center City salesman down at the depot waiting for the scheduled 8:02 train. Storm raging the way it was, small town, why, the poor chap pictured himself stranded for days. Suddenly a train emerged from the storm and creaked to a stop. It was the 8:02, right on time! The happy salesman shook Jeb's hand and said: "Weather like this and your 8:02 is right on time!" "Hate to disillusion you, son," said Jeb, "but this is yesterday's 8:02." From where I sit... things aren't always what they first appear to be. For example, there's the fellow whose first impression is that only iced tea is real refreshment, but not beer, which I prefer. Sure he's entitled to his opinion, but he's got to respect mine too. That's tolerance and that's something we've got to "train" ourselves to have more of. Joe Marsh. Copyright, 1960, United States Brewers Foundation

FOUR DIE IN CRASH ON US-112

The worst Washtenaw county highway accident since 1956 resulted in the death of four persons Saturday afternoon in Bridgewater township. An Ann Arbor man was killed in a two-car collision early Sunday at Dexter Rd. three-tenths of a mile west of Scio Rd. in Scio township. The dead are: Frank U. Mulholland, 64, of 1522 Harbrook Ave.; Raymond Fustes, 52, of Indianapolis, Ind.; and Frank Doran, 71, his wife Bertha, 64, and Mrs. Ida Propst, 75, all of Detroit. County Total 21. The deaths brought to 21 the total of persons killed in auto accidents in the county this year. The four-fatality mishap was the worst since three University students and two others met death in a two-car smash-up May 18, 1956. All of the five except Mulholland died in a head-on, two-car accident on US-112 at Arkona Rd. According to Clinton State Police, the accident occurred when an eastbound car driven by Mr. Fustes swerved into the path of a car driven by Mr. Doran on US-112. Police said they could determine no reason for the collision, and no skidmarks were found on the scene. Fustes and Mr. and Mrs. Doran were pronounced dead on arrival at Herrick Memorial Hospital in Tecumseh. Mrs. Propst was first taken to Herrick Hospital, then transferred to University Hospital where she died at 4:10 p.m. while undergoing treatment. A witness told police that the car driver, Fustes, was traveling about 40 miles an hour at the time of the collision. There were no reports on the speed of the Doran vehicle. The accident took place on a wide sweeping curve and visibility was good. Interviews impossible. Police had no opportunity to interview the drivers or occupants of either vehicle. Mrs. Doran and Mrs. Propst were passengers in the Doran car. Mulholland, father of Emory Mulholland, Superior township supervisor, was dead on arrival Sunday at University Hospital. Sheriff's deputies reported that a car driven by Norman L. Herr, of 1707 Pauline Blvd., was proceeding east on Dexter Rd. and was passing Mr. Mulholland's vehicle when the latter car pulled in front of the passing vehicle. Mulholland's left rear bumper hooked onto Herr's front bumper, and both cars swerved off the road into some small trees. Sheriff's deputies arrived on the scene to find that neither car was damaged heavily and that there were no serious-looking marks on Mr. Mulholland's body. A later medical examination revealed that Mulholland died from internal injuries. Herr was not injured.
