

Housecleaning Hints

When the north wind blows, cleaning windows on the outside can be an unpleasant job, particularly if you use water, towels and sponges. But with a spray cleaner, such as Windex, the job is easier and more comfortable. All you need is the spray can or bottle of blue cleaner and paper towels. You can even keep on your gloves while cleaning the windows so that hands never get chapped or cold. Since windows on the outside are subjected to more dust and grime, here's the best way to get them sparkling. Spray a light mist over the whole window and spread with a paper towel to get off the worst of the dirt. Spray a second mist and with a fresh towel spread over all the window. Turn paper towel and wipe off Windex. The window will be so clean it will seem to disappear.

Bathrooms are becoming gayer and more interesting and some designers feel they have replaced the automobile as a status symbol. In some new homes, bathrooms are built on a grand scale, decorated with oil paintings, wood sculpture, etc. Most homemakers, however, settle for decorative touches and colorful accessories in the ordinary amount of space. Whichever it is, there are special cleaning products to preserve bathroom equipment. While the finish on the bathtub may look the same as the sanitary bowl, it is different and requires a special non-acidic cleaner. Since the bowl is made of porcelain, it needs an acid cleaner that is not too abrasive. There's a special cleaner, Vanish, especially for this. Just pour in the powder and it does all the work with a chemical action; it also deodorizes and a pleasant fragrance fills the air.

Bayberries and sumac in a gleaming copper bowl add a bright and colorful autumn touch in a foyer or corner of the living room. Give the bowl a quick gentle cleaning with Twinkle Copper Cleaner which retards the formation of tarnish and it will gleam brightly for the fall season.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

George Green of Brooklyn wired T.B. Balleu's house with electric lights.

A Manchester minister took for his text last Sunday morning, "The Suggestion of Autumn." He probably referred to the close of the baseball season.

As seen in the classified Ads: WANTED: Girls. Since the beginning of this year five male immigrants have landed in this country and two females.

Washday Aide

LABOR-SAVING automatic laundry sprinklers on some liquefied petroleum gas clothes dryers do away with an extra job for busy housewives on washday. Instead of manually dampening the clothes for smooth ironing, simply fill the water reservoir and let the LP-Gas dryer do the rest. Typical of the other "city" conveniences available in rural and suburban areas with LP-Gas appliances is the pushbutton panel, which automatically adjusts the heat for different types of fabrics.

Compact

VERSATILE new liquefied petroleum gas top burner cooking unit—ideal for small kitchens, apartments, vacation cabins and boats—allows homemakers more working space by folding away when not in use. Other features are a "burner with a brain" for automatic temperature control and locking safety valves guarding against use by children.

City Comforts

Families planning to build new homes in rural or suburban areas beyond the gas mains can have "city" comforts by installing automatic liquefied petroleum gas equipment and appliances. Modern LP-Gas, delivered in portable cylinders and bulk quantities, assures an uninterrupted source of fuel—even during storms which cause other power failures.

DOUBLE RING CEREMONY

Mrs. Roger Pratt

The glow of many candles made an unusual setting for the wedding of Joyce Ann Dresselhouse and Roger David Pratt Saturday, November 5. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Chester Turner at 7:30 p.m. at the Sharon Evangelical United Brethren church.

Altar vases were lovely with arrangements of large white mums and pom poms. In the chancel were large circular candelabra faced with white mums and palms, tied with white bows and at the base were natural green poms. The center aisle was marked with single candelabra at each pew fronted with large mums white and green with white bows.

The brides parents are Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Dresselhouse and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Pratt of Manchester.

As the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father she was wearing a tiered embroidered white crystaletta gown with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which ended in points over the wrists. The hooped skirt was floor-length. Her fingertip veil was caught with a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a white lace covered Bible topped with two white orchids and yellow star-light roses and edged in tiny ivy. Her going away corsage was the white orchids from her Bible.

Mrs. Richard Knouse of Manchester was the matron of honor in a beige brocade with emerald green velvet insert at the waist. The bridesmaids were Barbara Pratt, sister of the bridegroom of Ann Arbor and Mary Ann Proctor of Clinton. Their identical gowns were of emerald green velvet. All of the attendants wore headbands of emerald green velvet with pearl accents. They carried natural reed wedding rings with clusters of gold and white grapes and Nile green Fuji mums tied with green velvet ribbons.

Julie Knouse of Manchester was the flower girl. She too, wore emerald green velvet with ribbon and carried a flat wicker basket of white pinocchio pom poms and tiny yellow roses.

The best man was David Boutell of Ann Arbor and ushers were Roy Pratt of Manchester and Ned Heydauff of Chelsea. John Neuderfer was soloist and sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Ellis Pratt at the organ.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Dresselhouse chose brown lace over beige satin with matching accessories. Her corsage was yellow cymbidium orchids and ivy. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue brocade with black accessories and light pink cymbidium orchids.

A reception for 225 guests followed in the church hall. The serving table was outstanding with a six tiered wedding cake in the center. On top of the cake was an arrangement of white heart bases with tiny yellow rose buds and ivy. A bridal wreath of greens encircled the cake. On either side were candle lighted compotes of yellow and white mums. The table was flounced with yellow organdy and draped smilax. Throughout the room were arrangements of large white and yellow mums and pom poms. The soft glow of many candles added to the festive occasion.

OPEN HOUSE

Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary showed visitors some of their work projects at the hospital at their fall open house. The big dining room of the hospital now has shining new light green walls and new curtains with lovely fall colors. Rooms 206 and 213 are also redecorated. One more room-303 it was pointed out still has to be painted.

A new parking lot is paved and in use. Now the outdoor recreation area is ready for planning and planting. Next summer the patients have a new place to sit in the sun, play such games as they can manage, sniff the flowers and revel in a liberty not now possible. All of this is done through the work of the Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary—the people of the communities in the county through membership in the Auxiliary and voluntary contributions.

When the remodeling of the third floor apartment is finished, one of the first floor rooms, will become a barber-shop and beauty parlor. Most of the equipment for this room has already been donated. Beauticians throughout the county donate their time to take their turn to go to the hospital and take care of patients hair. New ashtrays are at the elevators and in the lounges. These were much needed improvements.

Trustees from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Milan and Chelsea have been busy working on the visiting program for the patients in their area and other trustees are urged to work on a similar program in their areas. Mrs. Fred Arend of Saline who has been active in this program is seriously ill.

Speakers at the Open-House are Dr. Edwin Smith, Mrs. Edith Carr and Mrs. Ardith King. Dr. Smith is consultant for hospital. Mrs. Carr finds suitable homes for patients when discharged from the hospital and Mrs. King receives applications for placements of patients in all hospitals of the county. Such patients who come under the welfare plan for medical and hospital care must have lived in the county one year and be medically indigent.

Dr. Smith talked about retaining and rehabilitation of the chronically ill. Many of the patients have been so improved that they are ready for discharge into homes where no nursing but only supervisory care is provided. These patients see, taught, in these programs to walk, to get in and out of wheel chairs, to dress themselves and care for toilet needs, to work in the Arts and Crafts room and Sheltered workshop. After being discharged from the hospital, visiting nurses follow their programs and they may be returned to the hospital if there is danger of slipping back into old habits.

Two new members of the nominating committee were elected. They are Miss Elizabeth Robinson and Mrs. Robert Perry. There will be a meeting of the nominating committee to elect a chairman. Other members are Miss Frances Farnham, Mrs. M. V. Lacy, and Mrs. C. W. Carpenter. On this important committee rests the future of the Auxiliary, for on their recommendations the new officers are chosen. It was pointed out that there is still much to be done and everyone in the county is asked to do their bit to improve the hospital to make it more pleasant for the patients.

STEER CLUB MEMBERS PURCHASE BLACK ANGUS

William Hamilton, chairman of the Optimist Steer Club committee announced at the meeting this week that there will be 23 black angus steers in the 1961 Steer club. These steers will be made ready for market by members of the Future Farmers of America and 4-H clubs.

The animals weighed in a little heavier this year than previous years with weights averaging from 475 to 600 pounds. The steers are selected by a drawing, the cost being financed by the Union Savings Bank of Manchester, and guaranteed by the Optimist club.

The steers will be fed according to the latest feeding methods and management and will be sold at the Community Fair next August.

Some members of the Optimist club have been assigned to watch the progress of the animals and have been urged to visit the farms regularly and keep in contact with the boys and girls engaged in the project.

COMMUNITY CHEST STILL LAGS

The extended deadline of November 15th finds Manchester having collected $7,873.38 toward our goal of $8,500. This amount represents 92.6% of our goal. (Last week's total was given to the paper incorrectly by your correspondent—the percentage was right however. The total given last week was the one for a year ago!)

Mrs. Louis Vogel, campaign chairman, is still hopeful that the final total can be raised to at least $8,000 when the earmarked "Manchester Contributions" of our area employees are returned to our Community Chest treasurer, Manchester Area residents who work at plants and factories located in other towns are of help to their own Community Chest only when they specify that their gift be returned to Manchester.

The breakdown by classifications is as follows, showing the amount received in each Division and the percentage of the amount to the amount collected so far:

Industry (Including Double A, Chrysler Proving, Manchester Tool and Die, Ford Motor, Wolverine Pipeline, Michigan Gas Storage, and Schaffer Lumber & Union Construction Companies)	(31.5%)	$2,479.30
Business (Including Main Street Business, School Staff and Students, Manchester Ready Mix & employees and Out of town business)	(32.8%)	$2,582.53
Residential (Including Rural ($1,415.88) and Village (1,099.67))	(31.9%)	$2,515.55
Clubs and Organizations	(3.8%)	$ 296.00

"Our unsuccessful attempt to hit the goal of $8,500 has been disheartening," Mrs. Vogel says, "she feels, however, that there have been extenuating circumstances which have guarded our giving this year. "One bright spot in the whole campaign," she continues, "was the contributor who gave an extra $25.00 above his regular gift because of Manchester's Blood Bank assistance to him at time of need—he, himself, is unable to be a blood donor. It made me realize that people are happy to have such community fund facilities as a blood bank in our area."

Mrs. Vogel joins Mr. Lawrence DeVema, president of Manchester Community Chest and members of our Chest Board in thanking ALL of the Captains and Solicitors for their time and effort in making the Community-wide solicitation. They are hopeful that next year will find Manchester in the winning column again.

NOVEMBER FAIR BOARD MEETING

Fair Board members listened to a report by treasurer Herbert Jacob at the November meeting when he told them that the fair has a total cash balance of $1189.79 at the present time. Accounts receivable total $216.

The gate receipts totaled $920.10. The balance on January 15, 1960 was $737.92. Queen prizes donated by the merchants totaled $70.50. The merchants tent receipts brought in $13.78. The carnival receipts totaled $2,923.51, and concessions at the fair totaled $140.00. The fair book ads totaled $1004.00. The total receipts, some of which are not listed totaled $1400.

The 1961 Christmas Club officially opens November 21, 1960, but Mr. Boutell stated that the Bank would be happy to open club accounts either before or after that date. The weekly payment plan offered is the same as in previous years.

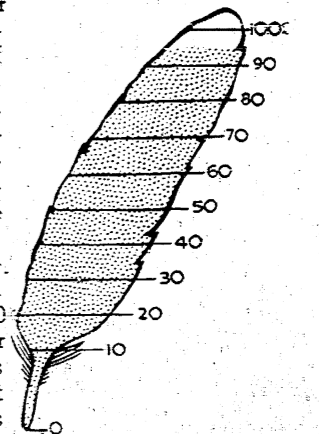

CHRISTMAS CLUB CHECKS MAILED

Dan J. Boutell, Vice President and Cashier of the Union Savings Bank of Manchester, reports that Christmas Club checks totaling $47,000 were mailed this week to the 467 members of the 1960 Christmas Club at the Bank.

The average per member of slightly over $100 followed the trend of previous years in Manchester, and when the total includes many children's accounts of 25c and 50c per week, it reflects the importance that many people attach to this easy method of saving money for many troublesome year-end bills as well as Christmas funds.

The 1961 Christmas Club officially opens November 21, 1960, but Mr. Boutell stated that the Bank would be happy to open club accounts either before or after that date. The weekly payment plan offered is the same as in previous years.

An invitation is extended to all who wish to join the 1961 Club and have a "Merrier paid for Christmas".
