YOUTH APPRECIATION WEEK

William Hamilton, Chairman of the local Optimist Club Youth Appreciation Activities, has reminded us that this week, November 14-20, has been set aside on a national basis by Optimist Clubs to honor the 95 per cent of our young people who are not making headlines. They are busy getting ready for tomorrow by taking an active interest in what is happening today. Join in this observance of Youth Appreciation Week, sponsored by the local Optimist Club. Give our young people the pat on the back they so richly deserve. Mr. Hamilton states that a dance will be held at the High School Saturday night, November 19 from 8:30 to 11:30 sponsored by the local Optimist Club, and all the young people of the area are invited to be the guests of the Club at this affair. A popular youth dance band from Adrian, the same combo that played at the Carr Park dedication has, been obtained for the dance. Mr. Hamilton also in his capacity as Chairman of youth activities of the Optimist Club reports that the Steer Club for '60-61 has been started and that 23 Angus steers have been purchased and distributed to the young people who are participating in this activity. Dedication of Fellows Bridge

People living in the area thought it was time for a celebration and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ross decided the bridge needed a formal dedication complete with cutting of ribbons by the oldest resident of the area, Ernest Smith, and breaking a bottle of champagne. The Washtenaw Road commissioner, Howard Minier, was among the guests. And with Fellows Bridge is back in operation. Everyone who passed over it on the opening was given donuts and coffee and a dinner was served later at the Ross home. The bridge has seen many interesting sometimes and terrifying sights, there was a murder, a suicide and many, many happenings at the bridge, since the time of the Indians. It was named for Captain Fellows of Civil War fame. He lived in the area. It is noted for a good picnic area, good swimming, fishermen like to fish and hunters like to hunt as well as picturesque to the sightseers. But it took a milk truck to change the transportation of people in the Sharon Valley three miles north of Manchester for a couple of years while old Fellows Bridge rested and was rebuilt.

Mary and Joyce Smith Fred Feuerbacher while spent last week with their their parents were on a grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. hunting trip.

EXPLAIN USE OF SALT ON HIGHWAYS

"We have an option—we can have our fenders knocked off or rusted off," said Wash-tenaw County Road Commissioner Maintenance Supt. Melvin Dick, explaining why the county has stockpiled 1,500 tons of rock salt in recent weeks in anticipation of wintry blasts to come. "Salt," says Road commission Supt. Howard G. Minier, "is not only the least expensive method, by at least 10 times, for removing snow—it is the safest."

"We know that corrosion is a problem, but it can be substantially reduced, if not eliminated, by washing your car regularly during the winter months." Minier and Dick, answering in advance those Washtenaw motorists who perennially complain of rust spots on their cars caused by salt and splashing brine, said that safety has been and remains the prime consideration of the Road Commission.

There are two major methods used to make the roads safe during snowstorms, they explain: chemical melting agents (the salts and chloride compounds that cause rust on cars) and abrasives, such as sand and cinders. Sand and cinders do not melt snow and ice. They form an abrasive surface on which automobile tires may grip.

"This is fine," says Minier, "but sand is immediately buried if there's a snow on fall; by car tires and it can freeze over, thickening the ice layer." "One quarter-ton of salt will cover as much road as a cubic yard of sand, and the salt stays there, working no matter how heavy the snowfall." "Weight is also a problem," adds Minier. "Six ton of salt will cover 24 miles while six ton of sand will cover only three miles at best. This means many more trips to and from a depot point by trucks at the height of a storm."

Salt and calcium chloride, Minier says, are far safer because they produce bare pavement, while other methods simply give tires a small amount of traction over the ice.

There are several products on the market, according to Dick, that are claimed to be less corrosive than salt. These average from $180 to $248 more per ton than rock salt.

Washtenaw county he says, uses approximately 9,000 tons of salt on an average winter.

"That means a mild winter, by highway standards," Minier says. "Washtenaw county had the least snowfall in the state of Michigan, 36.75 inches, last year. This means that we spread less salt and therefore created less of a corrosion problem, than any other area in the state."

Both Minier and Dick said the Road Commission is constantly searching for ways to eliminate snow and ice without contributing to a automobile corrosion—but until a radically new, economical method can be found the commission's 16 salters, 12 graders and 40 plow trucks will continue to make the county's 450 miles of paved roads safe by using salt.

"An ideal solution, if cost were not a factor," Dick suggested, "would be to build electric heating elements into all the roads."

FELLOWS BRIDGE REBUILT

On this Thanksgiving Day people in Sharon have something special to be thankful for—Fellows Bridge has been restored. Folks in the area gathered the other day to dedicate the bridge.

Fellows Bridge lies nestled in picturesque Sharon Valley, crossing the River Raisin, and is part of Sharon Valley road which skirts the sleepy community of Sharon Hollow, all in Sharon Township.

At the ceremony for the dedication of the new bridge was one who remembers building the last bridge at Sharon Valley—that was in 1905. It withstood the onslaught of time, year in and year out. The horses and wagons disappeared and the Model T's were replaced by modern cars and trucks. The bridge never had to handle a stream of traffic.

During the years the bridge footings and superstructure grew old and weak and in the winter of 1958—Michigan had a good old-fashioned winter.

Down the hill on Christmas Eve came a milk truck—there was much ice on the road and the truck couldn't make the slight curve at the bridge approach. The truck plunged through the broken bridge and into the river. A car following the truck was unable to stop and also ran in the river.

There was miscellaneous work on the bridge during 1959 and the damaged structure was removed to avert a flood. That cost the County (Washtenaw) $645.40.

Sealed bids and contract to low bid Auckman and Hansen of Fort Wayne, Indiana for repair and capping of existing abutments were let July 14, 1960 and the entire job was completed this fall at a cost of $19,676.91.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD UNIT TO BE ASKED TO LEAD COMMUNITY COLLEGE EFFORT

The Washtenaw County Association of School Boards will be asked to take the leadership in conducting a comprehensive study of the need for a community college in Ann Arbor.

The Ann Arbor Board of Education has asked the county group to participate in such a study after it heard a report from James McDonald, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce education committee, and Chamber Manager William J. Bott.

McDonald reported a preliminary survey of 90 businesses, industries and professionals in the county showed an interest among these groups for a community college.

A comprehensive study should be conducted by a large group of citizens under the direction of advisers from the University of Michigan, Michigan State University or Wayne State University who have assisted other communities in establishing community colleges, McDonald told the board.

A survey such as this will cost between $3,000 and $4,000 McDonald said.

Among the aims of the detailed survey would be to determine the degree of interest and need, curriculum to be offered and potential enrollment.

The chamber education committee says a community college affords three types of programs: (1) technical terminal courses which are often a two-year program to give intensive training in various vocational fields; (2) transfer credit which is college-level curricula enabling a student to take college courses for which credit is transferred to a degree-granting institution; and (3) adult education programs of a more advanced nature than now offered in public schools.

Financing of the program also was studied by the committee. Funds for capital outlay would have to come from private subscription or voter approved bond issues. It was pointed out that there are still many unanswered questions about a community college. The chamber did not attempt to do a definitive survey of the random sample of 90 businesses in the county. 52 responded. Types of training requested most often were drafting and blueprint reading, secretarial, clerical, business machines and bookkeeping and accounting.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Radke and Mrs. Gertrude Stockinger called on Mrs. Warren Stevens at Battle Creek and were happy to see her improving slowly from a long illness.

ELECTION RESULTS CERTIFIED

The results of the record Nov. 8 election have been canvassed and certified and Washtenaw County board canvassers is winding up its work sending certificates of election to the winning candidates.

Mrs. Luella M. Smith, county clerk, said that in spite of the huge turnout of voters in the election the unofficial returns given out election night were the closest they have ever been in any election to the official certified returns.

She complimented the election workers on their job election night and attributed "their fine work" to the close attention which they paid at the school of instruction given October 24.

At the same time Mrs. Smith reminded all candidates in the election and treasurers of their committees that they have until 20 days after the election to turn in reports on their expenses during campaigns.

She noted that state law requires a candidate and his committee to submit a report to the clerk's office even if there was no expense involved in a particular campaign. A candidate must file a report with the clerk of the county in which he lives.

Harold W. Schneider is the newly elected chairman of the board of canvassers. Other members are Luman Seaman of Portage Lake and Walter Gregg of Whitmore Lake and Mrs. Smith.

A total of 66,052 voters, or about 76 percent of the registered voters in Washtenaw county, cast their ballots in the election.

MICHIGAN TAXES

People hotter, Gas taxes to high?

Now, I ask you why? Michigan people like roads to be good.

How else do you think they could?

Property taxes are enough. More sales tax would be rough.

Gas tax, every auto owner pays.

This helps to keep our road ways.

Then everyone that uses the roads.

Shares in the tax loads. Since this was written, sales tax voted to raise. To me this is O.K., but there are points that will amaze.

More sales tax on eats? Is now hard on poor folks to meets.

Common foods should be tax free.

Would be easier for folks to see.

Sales tax everyone pays. This is true, I also says. Let's let poor folks continue to eat.

Sales tax off, foods and meat,

DEPUTIES PAY FOR PARKING SPACE

Sheriff's deputies in Washtenaw county are being irked by the new ruling by which deputies are paying for parking spaces in the County Jail lot on a three-shift, 24-hour-a-day basis.

Deputies with the Sheriff's department work six days a week and for this 48-hour week they receive $4,591 to start and can go as high as $5,846 a year as a sergeant in command of a shift.

Under a recent ruling all deputies were notified that while on duty at the jail they may park their cars in the lot nearby for a fee of $4 per month or $48 a year. However deputies were told by county officials payment of the rental space covered only their regular eight-hour work shift. They are to be ticketed if their cars are found at times other than when they were actually on duty.

Theoretically, if every deputy in the department were to pay the $4-per-month fee, each place in the 30-space lot would "turn over" three times every 24 hours.

As one deputy's eight-hour work trick ends, he leaves the lot and the officer taking his place on duty pulls his car into the space. The same process is repeated eight hours later.

If all 30 spaces were to be rented, three deputies to a space, 24-hour-a-day basis, the county would collect $360 a month or $4,320 a year.

Several uniform deputies irked by the unusual parking regulations set down by county officials have made other arrangements for parking their cars when on duty.

"It's a ridiculous operation all right," one officer said. "But for the county it's a money-maker."

"It would seem only logical," another said, "that on my off-hours if I must come down town I be permitted to park in a lot which is costing me almost $50 a year to rent."

When the parking regulations were announced recently, there was general discontent among the uniform personnel of the department. Now many officers are refusing to pay the $4-a-month fee and are parking their cars elsewhere.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Milky Way Tragedy

Chub Jackson, the town's only milkman, tells us he missed on an important delivery the other day.

Up way before dawn, Chub went busily about his daily rounds. Three quarts of milk for Mrs. Anderson, a gallon of milk for the Fishers, and so on.

Finished with his deliveries, Chub pulled the empty truck up to his front door. "What would you like for breakfast?" called his missus. "A big bowl of cereal with cream," answered Chub. "Sorry, dear," said Mrs. Jackson, "the milkman passed us by today."

From where I sit, it's wonderful the way folks forget themselves to do things for others. My neighbors are like that. When I have supper with them, they always serve my favorite foods and my favorite beverage--beer! They drink tea themselves, but they're happy to accommodate my preference. If we all accepted each other's right to have preferences, we'd never "milk" our friendships dry.

A FIRST TIME

A first of anything makes news—so Alger Clark, Sr. makes news when he went hunting near Marion this year. But not the news you'd expect.

For the last 35 years, without fail, Clark, who lives 513 Granger Street, has taken his trusty gun and headed for the north woods—always near Marion. For fate had smiled on him and lady luck was with him. He never missed shooting his buck. But this year was different. Clark and his son Allen went to their hunting grounds—but for the first time in 35 years Clark came back empty handed. He didn't bag a buck or see one.

LUCKY HUNTERS

Bob Popkey of Manchester downed a 6 point buck west of Manchester Saturday and LoRen Trolz assisted in bringing him in. Also lucky earlier this season was Bob Service who brought down a 9 point buck southwest of town. Vern Kulekamp saw a 8 point buck as he was driving his car south of town. He drove to his fathers farm, loaded a gun and after a short time shot the buck. John Nichols of Dearborn also was in the winnings he shot a buck while hunting a week ago on the Joe Kastl farm.

TAXPAYERS TO PAY MORE TAX SOON

Washtenaw county taxpayers pocketbooks will be jolted by equalization. It has been pointed out that this year the jolt is worse than usual and how much worse depends on where you live. Generally the biggest percentage increases are in the rural areas, the smallest in the cities. Ypsilanti property owners will actually pay less.

Property taxes depend on two things: 1. The rate, usually expressed in terms of "mills" (tenths of a cent) and 2. The base, which means the value placed on a piece of property for tax purposes.

Multiplying the rate times the base tells how much the actual taxes, in dollars and cents, will be on a given property.

Because of ceilings imposed by state laws, tax rates tend to stay pretty much the same year, after year. That is the reason for the so called "15 mill limitation." By this limitation the total rate of taxes for county and school purposes can't be more than 15 mills, unless the property owners in a specific taxing district vote to pay more.

Tax officials point out that "equalization" is a process by which taxes are "equalized" so that everybody pays his fair share. As a matter of practical fact, it's also a method by which taxes can be increased without raising legly frozen rates.

The State Board of Equalization is the board in charge of valuation. Every year, the board establishes for each of Michigan's 83 counties a total equalized valuation for the county. For 1960 the state board set the equalized valuation at a theoretical 50 per cent of market value. The market value is set by making spot
