FATHER—THROUGHOUT THE AGES

Dad has had his ups and downs throughout the ages. He hasn't always been the popular guy who will be honored on Father's Day, Sunday, June 18th. Back in the Stone Ages, for example, the "head man" was a tyrant. As he grew older, one of his sons usually disposed of him in a fierce, hand-to-hand battle, and then "took over" the family in his place.

The first known tribute to fatherhood was made by Elmesu of Babylon. It was written on a clay tablet about 2000 B.C., and implored the gods to grant his father "good health and enduring days."

In Biblical times, it was considered a crime, punishable by death, for a son to disagree with his father. Early Romans called down the curses of the ancestral Numina, or family gods, on children who cut themselves loose from parental authority.

Among the ancient Greeks, when a son was old enough to marry, his father selected his wife for him—with no questions asked! The same belief in father's matrimonial wisdom was held in India where children were betrothed in childhood, and sometimes a young man was not permitted to unveil his bride until after the wedding ceremony.

But Indian women had their revenge. An odd law decreed that if a father got into debt, his wife could sell him into slavery to pay off the creditors. And in the African Sudan, father definitely comes out second best. After bearing five children a wife may return to her parents leaving Pop to look after the kiddies. On Palau Island in the South Seas, the ruling matriarch can have any male executed if he even distracts her contemplation.

And near Sumatra, Dad has mother-in-law problems right from the start. He has to go live with his wife's family. And if this weren't enough, the children take their mother's name and only daughters inherit property.

In the United States, statistics show that women own an ever-increasing portion of the national wealth. Pop is in danger of becoming the "forgotten" man, some sociologists believe.

But while he may be shorn of his tyrannical powers, the annual outpouring of affection with gifts and sentimental greeting cards shows that Pop's place is his family's heart is stronger than ever.

Dads first inking of the honors to come is usually a cheerful Father's Day card with a verse something like this:

On sunny days and rainy days,
On happy days and sad,
You've always been the very best
And finest kind of Dad...
And so the wish I make today,
Must be the best one, too—
May life bring all its finest gifts
Always, Dad, to you!
On the lighter side, there are these type of cards:

"To Dad who is always calm, cool, and...collected from!"

CHASE CLIMAXES IN AUTO CRASH

Climaxing a chase by local police officer Duane Trolz, a 1960 Ford, owned by 24 year old David Cook and driven by 21 year old Charles E. Warner, went through a telephone and light pole. The accident occurred around midnight, Wed., June 7th, when the car, driven by Warner, started in an unsafe manner and Officer Trolz gave chase. Speed, at the time of the crash, was in excess of 90 miles per hour.

The car was traveling west on Main St. when it hit the pole between the Dick Kuntz residence and Higgins' Apple Orchard. The left fender and wheel of the car went through the pole.

The smell of alcohol was on the boys' breath, and beer was found in the car. Warner was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor where it was found that his left ankle was broken.

Cook was admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital for observation, but he was released.

The Manchester Police Dept. is pressing charges of reckless driving against Warner, and charges will be pressed against Cook for permitting an unlicensed person to operate his vehicle.

EDITORIAL REPRINT

This was taken from the April 15, 1959 issue of the Easton Rapids Journal.

Folks in a small community like ours pretty much take their newspaper for granted.

But this week I read about a town that got fooled.

A leading businessman said: "We are just drifting--no-direction--no enthusiasm--no public leadership--possible no future."

A farmer said: "Now who knows what's going on anyplace around town, or what the stores have to offer?"

A housewife said: "Outside of the usual backdoor gossip, who knows what's happening? Sure, kids are born, someone gets married, and others die, but who knows about it?"

Another wife asked, "Who gets any credit for doing all the things that must be done, at church, at school or at the club?"

One of the leading ministers: "No one knows what's happening outside of our own congregation. We know more about the outside world than we know our own community and its people."

And now who knows about what's happening in the Boy and Girl Scouts, the 4-H clubs and all the rest?

A leading businessman said: "We are just drifting--no-direction--no enthusiasm--no public leadership--possible no future."

A farmer said: "Now who knows what's going on anyplace around town, or what the stores have to offer?"

A housewife said: "Outside of the usual backdoor gossip, pennysaver, but that's just for bargains. Sure wish we had our own weekly back."

A non-advertiser moans: No sir, nothing takes the place of the newspaper. I used to read it all the time, but wasn't smart enough to use.

Thus it went: No information of the political campaigns, no leadership in community drives.

John Wanamaker, the famous merchant, once said: "Give me a strong newspaper, and I'll show you a thriving town."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

What's in a Name?

Smiley Roberts let us in on one of his story-telling secrets the other night. He was coming to the punch line of one of his tales when Curly Rice piped up. "It wasn't Skinny Wheeler who stopped that runaway horse," he says, "I ought to know 'cause it was my dad."

"Guess you caught me," says Smiley. "You see, if I can't think of the right name I just fill in quick with any one that pops into my head. If I hem-and-haw trying to think of a name, you fellows will lose interest. Besides, names are just details and don't affect the point of the story one bit."

From where I sit, Smiley's system teaches a lesson about living with our neighbors. Details about people aren't as important as we make them. If someone doesn't vote the way I do, or share my preference for a glass of beer, I shouldn't let it interrupt our friendship. Understanding that people have a right to be different is the "secret" of the "true story" of life.

What Grows Goes By Truck!

Like Michigan's factories, offices, shops and homes, her important farming industry depends on motor transport. Trucks play a vital part in getting crops planted, cared for, and harvested—and they are the means by which the harvest gets to market. For example, nearly 90% of fruits and vegetables moving into Detroit come directly by truck. And this is relatively true of other cities throughout Michigan. In addition, virtually all farm products travel by truck at least part of the way to market. So you see how very much the dynamic farming industry relies on the trucking industry in this great State of ours.

SUMMER RECREATION NEWS

Junior and Senior Playground activities will begin on Monday, June 19, and continue for eight weeks through August 11.

In accordance with the changes previously announced in the Enterprise, children who will be 5 years old by December 1 through those who will be in the third grade in the fall will go to Junior Playground at the Intermediate School grounds. The hours will be from 9:00 until 11:30 Monday through Friday. Miss Mary Koebe will be in charge of this group and will be assisted by high school girls Judy Braun and Jacque Swank. Any boys and girls in this group who will be in the third grade in the fall may play on the senior playground softball teams in the morning only.

Boys and girls who will be in the fourth grade in the fall through age 15 will go to the Senior Playground at the Athletic Field. The hours will be from 9:00 to 12:00 Monday through Friday and 1:00 to 4:00 every afternoon with swimming on Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. Little League and Junior League (formerly called Babe Ruth for 13, 14, and 15 year olds) baseball activities are held in the evening. Curt Prediger is in charge of the Senior Playground and will handle one of the Junior League teams and will be assisted by Ron McNally who will have the other Junior League team and help with the swimming program and Arts and Crafts Program. Swimming trips will be made to the State Park beach at Wampler's Lake on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and some Fridays with the bus leaving the Athletic Field at 1:00 and returning around 3:30.

Boys and girls who will be in the third grade in the fall through age 15 may participate. Swimming instructions will be provided by the Washtenaw County Red Cross with Bob Foile meeting with our group each Thursday beginning on June 22. For those wanting to take instructions every effort should be made to be present on June 22 and every instruction day thereafter. A minimum number of children must be present each day before the bus will leave. Permit forms for all recreational activities, especially swimming, will be given out during the first few days and must be signed by the parents and returned. This applies especially to those going swimming on Tuesday and Thursday of the first week. Children going swimming must plan to either share a basket in order to avoid wearing a wet bathing suit home on the bus.

An arts and crafts program will be offered again, conducted by Ron McNally. This program will be held on Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 1:00 to 3:00 at the Athletic Field and will be for seniors playgrounders only.

The Detroit Edison Co., is sponsoring a picnic for Electrical and Food members, leaders and families. This is a joint picnic with Livingston County and Washtenaw and will be held at Kensington Metropolitan Park on June 15. Lunch will be served at noon in the Pavilion at Martindale Beach. DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

GET HOGS TO MARKET WEIGHTS FASTER this summer. Provide them with plenty of shade. Cool hogs not only gain quicker but do it with less feed. Hogs at temperatures around 85 degrees can put on a pound of gain with 1/2 to 3/4 as much feed as when temperatures rise to near 90 degrees. Market hogs weighing around 280 pounds should have access to 8 square feet of shade to assure free circulation of air and provide maximum cooling.

THERE'S A PLACE FOR GREEN CHOP on many farms. For some, it is completely replacing pasture. On others, it is used to supplement pastures when production slumps. Generally, green chop is most practical for farms having 40 dairy cows or more—in smaller herds the extra labor and equipment cost often exceed the added returns.

MAINTAINING EGG QUALITY becomes a bigger job during hot weather. This means you will want to gather eggs more often than is necessary in the winter. Here's a guide you might use in deciding on a schedule for gathering eggs. Generally, about 8 out of 10 hens lay before noon—and about half of those 8 lay before 8:00 a.m. a.m.

WHERE'S THE POWER SOURCE OF YOUR WATER PUMP? MOST agricultural engineers will agree that the best source is from a pole located a reasonable distance from your farm buildings. Then in case of fire you don't run the risk of power failure to your pump—you're assured of having water.

Be "Up Front" With Japanese Binoculars

Seats on the fifty yard line may go begging this year, especially among fans who take their football seriously. Through the years, while the old grads fought the box office for choice seats on the midline, the smart set settled comfortably high above the end zone and enjoyed an uncluttered scouts-eye view of the ball game.

Scouts—the men who spot opponents' weaknesses and help map their own clubs' strategy—long have monopolized the end arena where, armed with binoculars, they follow the game.

With the introduction of Japanese binoculars which stress optical quality and ease of use at a cost that can suit almost everybody's budget, fans now can rival the scouts in their knowledge of what is happening on the gridiron. Selection of the correct glasses helps make the ball easier to follow and the game more enjoyable, suggests the Japan Binoculars Export Promotion Association.
