New Christmas Decorations Added

This past year's Christmas decorations for the Village of Manchester were improved through the cooperative help of the Village Council, Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Optimist Club.

Three hundred dollars were allotted to the Manchester Junior Chamber of Commerce (JAYCEES) by the village council for selection and purchase of new street lighting decorations. The Jaycees and Optimists added to the decorations by purchasing from their own funds an additional street streamer at the approximate cost of $190.

The final selection of decorations were made by a committee consisting of Mr. Willard Baker and Tom Marshall representing the JAYCEES and Mr. Bob Clark and Ed Galloway from the village council.

In addition to the new street streamers, red aluminum foil was placed around the street lighting poles for further improvement to the overall decoration scheme.

The JAYCEES have passed a motion within their organization to help in future years with the continued improvement and addition of decorations.

Because of bad weather the JAYCEES were unable to remove the decorations until January 14th.

Any comments that citizens would like to make in regard to suggestions for decorations in future years would be appreciated by the Manchester Junior Chamber of Commerce, address all comments to President, Joseph Fitzgerald, Manchester, Michigan.

MANCHESTER
By NICK PRAKKEN, Manager
SOME OF THE THINGS you don't see when you look at your telephone are the facilities behind it which make your service the finest there is. Ten years ago, for example, Michigan Bell's investment in buildings, poles, cables and so on to link your phone with others amounted to $247 per telephone. Now it's more than $330. Last year alone we spent more than $85 million to install new telephones, replace worn-out equipment and improve service. This money was spent in every city, town and village where we do business—to make your telephone serve you better.

PROPRIETORS OF SMALL BUSINESSES, including farms, are discovering the value and convenience of Michigan Bell's new complete interphone system. With it, telephones used for regular calls can also be used for intercommunication between house or office and yard and outbuildings. It also provides for calls between locations within a building. A special speaker-microphone is available which lets a person who is called answer "hands free" without touching a telephone. For more information on how new interphone service can help you, just call us here at the business office.

HERE'S A GOOD example of how an apparently small change in your Telephone Company's way of doing things results in better service. Overhead phone cables used to be supported by a strong wire strung above them. Not anymore. Now, in many cases a cable-wrapping machine winds the wire around the phone cable. It saves time, and cables last longer. Just one of the many ways Michigan Bell is furnishing better telephone service—and keeping down costs.

THE MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE

Manchester Library P.O. Manchester Complimentary

PLAN VENTURE BOLDNESS SEVEN CENTS PER COPY VOLUME 95 NO. 4 THE MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE JANUARY 25, 1962

Tonight, Manchester will pay homage to the man who put MAN into Manchester, and we are proud of him. Manchester, in the past, has made many attempts to land factories and not until 1940 was the Chamber of Commerce...

Honor to Whom Honor is Due

We are dedicating the following: It must be nice to measure years In kindness you've done It must be nice instead of tears To count the smiles you've won

On May 2nd, ground was broken for the factory and work progressed nicely without a hitch. On July 2nd the factory was completed. Double A Products moved in bringing with them 22 employees from Ann Arbor and started in with 35 employees in all.

On September 12, 1940, dedication services were held and the building committee turned over the new brick factory to Double A Products Co. in the usual and formal way. After seven years, Mr. Riggs left the company. Herbert H. Upton became the sole manager and during the early years put in many, many hours of hard work; Not only managing the factory, but also traveling on the road; and doing the engineering. During his management there were no strikes. He knew everyone of his employees and was interested in their welfare, no able bodied man in this com-community went on the welfare if he wanted work. He had the confidence of his employees. In 1957 Double A merged with Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Company. In 1958 they purchased The Rosaen Company, manufacturers of power units, and in the same year purchased the Gerotor line of pumps. In 1940 sales amounted to $400,000. Sales have grown to a peak of over $4,000,000 in 1961 and employment has grown from 35 to a peak of 326. Double A was operating but a short time when they found it necessary to add to the building, and as time progressed, they made five additions. In 1958, they found it necessary to double their capacity. Taxes the company pays to the community are now fifty times what they were 20 years ago. Also, it is interesting to note that based on industry averages it costs in terms of capital investment, about $20,000 for each employee employed—in other words, each job costs the company about $20,000. Obviously Double A's contribution to the community has been great.

Double A's future in Manchester looks promising. Brown & Sharpe, the parent company, has from the start been impressed with the spirit of friendliness and cooperation that exists at Double A and in the Manchester community. The objectives of Double A and Brown & Sharpe are to continue to improve facilities and products until Double A is the recognized leader in the field of industrial hydraulics. Herbert Upton retired from the firm December 6, 1961. Manchester is very fortunate to have his son, Herbert Upton, Jr. (Jabe) following in the footsteps of his father. Mr. C.W.

Advanced First Aid Course is Scheduled

An advanced First Aid Class has been scheduled to begin February 6th, Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. in room 1 of the County Building, according to the Washtenaw County Red Cross Safety Services section. The class will meet each Tuesday evening for nine weeks for two hour each session covering in detail the theories and skills of handling emergencies of a complex nature. John Williams suggests that those individuals planning on attending bring with them notebooks, pencils, and their "green covered" first Aid textbook. He also pointed out that the Advanced course is covered in the second, half of the First Aid Handbook so the same text as used in the Standard course is all that is needed. The free course is made possible by public support of the United Fund Appeals throughout the county and registration can be made for the course by Calling Red Cross at 662-5546
