Bound to Please

It seems that stories are "bound (in books) to please." The Manchester Township Library announced that their summer reading program has been well received by the area children.

The program has been active for two weeks, and interest is indicated as high by the large number of books that have been issued. Anyone desiring to participate in the program can do so by signing-up at the library before August 1st. This summer reading service is provided by the library for the area children, and it is available without charge.

The Story-Telling Hour began Wednesday, June 27. Children from kindergarten thru the third grade are invited to enjoy the stories on Wednesday afternoons from 2 o'clock until 2:30 at the library. The sessions will run thru the summer ending August 15. There will not be a Story-Telling Hour on Wednesday, July 4 because of the holiday. The next meeting will be July 11.

Reading offers endless hours of pleasure, and the library hopes that all school-age children will "come in and join the fun with books."

Manchester Area stood solidly back of its Red Cross Blood Club last Friday when 99 donors registered at the clinic and 79 pints of blood were given for the community.

Five new gallon donors to the bank were added to the list making 18 in all. Mrs. Rolland Grossman, chairman-of-the-day reported. These donors are Irving Gill, Eugene Walter, Clare Arnold, Ellis Pratt and Mrs. Arthur Elkin. There are also several other local donors who have given over a gallon of blood to other banks and hospitals but their records are not available. Each donor should be sure to keep his donor card and if he has more than one card have the club consolidate his record.

Only seventeen, who registered, were rejected for medical reasons and three could not be accepted because they were under 21 and had forgotten their parental consent slips. Medical rejection is often just a temporary inability to give because of a low blood count or recent medical history according to Dr. Wm. Purfield, the local doctor who served the Bloodmobile again this year with the volunteer staff of twenty-five from the area.

The registrars for the clinic were Mrs. Tom Walton, Mrs. Dan Boutell and Mrs. Erwin Huber. The local nurse and nurses-aides were Mrs. Wm. Purfield, Mrs. Laurel Breitenwischer, Mrs. Floyd Parr, Mrs. Marie Scheurer, Mrs. Luther Klager, Mrs. James Pratt, Mrs. Earl Koebe, Mrs. Ronald Jenter and Miss Edna Dietle.

The staff of Mrs. Harry Sutton, Canteen Chairman consisted of Mrs. D.D. Ludwick, Mrs. Donald Sutton, Mrs. LeRoy Marx, Mrs. Edward Steele, Jr., Mrs. George Merriman, Mrs. Earl Alber, Mrs. Basil Schwab, Mrs. Herbert Widmayer, Mrs. Philip Kem and Mrs. Franklin Reck.

The Double A Products furnished the orange juice for the donors and approximately half of the blood donors were employees of the company or their families. The American Legion Auxiliary furnished the canteen refreshments and the Emanuel Church Hall was the location of the clinic this year.

Pre-registration phoning was done by Mrs. Alvin Clark's committee Mrs. Harold Alexander, Mrs. Erwin Huber, Mrs. D.D. Ludwick, Mrs. Robert Huber, Mrs. Stanton Roesch and Mrs. Ronald Jenter.

KIDS HAVE FUN IN THE SUN

The kids are just as regular as the sunshine at the outdoor recreational activities in Manchester.

The playgrounds, swim-trips, arts and crafts program, and baseball games are all being well attended by the youngsters during the early weeks of the summer, the Manchester recreation department reports.

Miss Mary Koebbe, Roger Morrison, and Fred Brown, department directors of the various activities, are all very satisfied with the enthusiasm shown by the youngsters.

Mr. Morrison reports that the senior playground attendance is averaging nearly 90 boys and girls at each session. The activities at the senior playground vary from table games to tennis. Some of the entertaining activities are badminton, basketball, ping-pong, horseshoes, softball, and archery.

The junior playground is under the direction of Miss Koebbe. Attendances for her morning sessions have been very good. Those attending are kept busy with a number of activities.

The swim-trip to W.J. Hays State Park on Wamplers Lake are averaging about 100 children on each trip.

The trips are made each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon with Miss Koebbe, Mr. Morrison, and Mr. Brown accompanying the group.

Mr. Brown is supervising the arts and crafts program. The program began last Wednesday, and several youngsters attended.

The department has organized four baseball leagues for the summer and provided baseball for boys from the age of eight years thru a senior standing in high school. The four leagues are: Farm teams, Little League, Junior League, and High School League.

The farm teams are boys from eight years to twelve who supply the Little League with its players. Boys from thirteen years to sixteen have an opportunity to play an eight-game schedule in the Tri-County Junior League with teams from Dexter, Piquette, and Stockbridge. The recreation department is sponsoring two teams in the Junior League. A High School League is offered, and games are being scheduled whenever possible.

The Little League plays at the athletic field and Carr Park.

Whitmore Lake Man Seeks Nomination

Elmer F. Klump of Whitmore Lake recently announced that he will be seeking the Democratic nomination for Sheriff of Washtenaw county at the primary election in August.

Klump will be opposed by John Palmer, chief of the Chelsea Police Department, for the party's nomination.

The Whitmore Lake man is a 68 year-old native of Sharon township. He served as constable of Northfield township for six years and as a deputy of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department for two years. Klump was defeated in his attempt to gain the Republican nomination for Sheriff in the 1960 primary election.

The candidate presently is a garage operator. He is married and has two daughters and a son.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN MICHIGAN, hearing of the gallant fighting of the 1st, 4th, 5th and 7th Michigan regiments against the Confederacy, folks all over the state toasted their troops' bravery with foaming steins of beer.

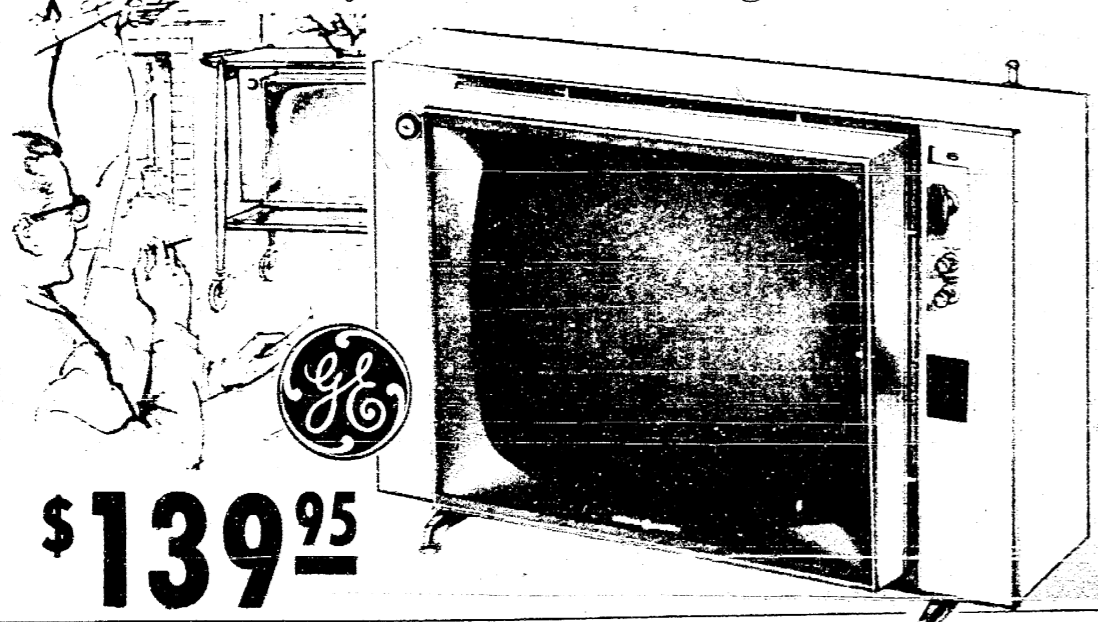

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing Industry pays more than 16 million dollars in taxes to Michigan each year, money that helps support our parks, hospitals and schools.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

College Conference Promises Inspiration For Michigan Wives

EAST LANSING—"I've had my batteries recharged!" That's what one enthusiastic homemaker proclaimed last summer after the annual Homemakers Conference at Michigan State University.

And it's time to recharge those batteries again. Every homemaker in Michigan has an open invitation to the 35th annual Homemakers Conference, this year called, "College Week for Women." It is set for July 24-27 on the MSU campus.

"It is for us the living." is the theme of the four-day session, and in the words of Ruth Peck, conference chairman, College Week is designed to: "provide leadership training, contribute to individual enrichment, develop understanding and appreciation for community and world problems and provide an opportunity to become better acquainted with your Land-Grant University."

Obviously, this is a pretty big order for one conference. How is "College Week" going to do it? Through classes, short courses, speeches and discussions.

There will be time for fun, too, such as folk dancing with Audrey O'Meara, Bay County home economics extension agent; a concert by the Congress of Strings, made up of 100 young musicians from throughout the U.S. and directed by Viennese musician, Josef Krips; the Talent on Ice Show at MSU or the MSU Summer Circle theater production of "Our Town." Ladies Must Be Scholars

The main emphasis, however, is on the "curriculum." Scheduled classes are: Making Meetings More Productive, Improving One's Speaking Ability, Psychology-Food-and the American Family, Music for the Family, What Every Christian Should Know College for Your Son or Daughter, Great Decisions 1962 and Home and Traffic Safety.

Others are: Music Workshop for Church and Community Leaders, Light for Living, Investments for the New Investor, Home Landscape Development and Design and Programming for Family Life Education.

Short course offerings include: Mrs. Consumer in the Market, Today's International Problems, Introduction to Psychology, Understanding the Proposed Constitution and Today's Art.

Teachers are members of the MSU faculty.

A complete program and registration information may be obtained at your county extension office, or write to the Cooperative Extension Service-Home Economics, 108 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Michigan.

Area Farmer Recognized

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of an outstanding official production record by a registered Holstein cow in this area.

Clair Mont Marly Lochinvar 3507109, a nine-year old owned by R.G. Dunbar, Brooklyn, produced 18,099 lbs. milk and 706 lbs. butterfat in 359 days.

Michigan State University supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official herd testing programs of the national Holstein organization. In contrast, the annual production of the average U.S. dairy cow is generally estimated at approximately 7,000 lbs. of milk containing 265 lbs. of butterfat.

"Followin' the Fire Wagon"

The Manchester Fire Department was called to the Raymond Jacob farm on Jacob Rd. Sharon Township on Monday, June 25 to extinguish a tractor fire. The damage was estimated as minor.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

REDUCE TRACTOR FUEL COSTS with inexpensive maintenance. Surveys have shown that better than 50% of farm tractors need some form of governor adjustment. Governors have a tendency to wear, which results in overspeeding the engine on light loads and failure to maintain proper load speed on heavy loads. As a result, you'll use more fuel to do less. Best way to find out if governors are worn is to have the tractor checked on a dynamometer by your dealer.

PREVENT EGG SWEATING by lowering the temperature of the packing room. A good holding room to warmer processing rooms or nonrefrigerated transportation. Egg sweating promotes bacteria and mold, increasing the chance of spoilage. Most eggs pick up dirt and stains easily from handling and from containers. If volume warrants the expense, a room air conditioner in the processing room will help.

CLEAN GRAIN BINS thoroughly before harvest. A 10% infestation in a bin can cost 45¢ a bushel on all wheat sold from it. First step is to sweep ceilings, walls and floors with a broom and remove all debris. Apply malathion or methoxychlor as a spray to the point of runoff. Allow at least 24 hours for the spray to dry before filling the bin. Clean the ground around the outside of the bins and spray after filling.

SPRING LAMB MARKET won't drop off sharply, but it will still pay to get lambs in as soon as practical. The 1962 lamb crop is smaller than last season, and more ewes lambed early this year.

Move Over

If farmers don't promote their own products, who will? The supermarket chain that sells them? How will farmers fare in promotions of fruit and vegetables, meats and cereals, by others who have prepared and branded them?

As farmers become better merchandisers, they have learned to sharpen their "consumer image" in public relations efforts that often begin in a small way, but sometimes end up with a Madison Avenue flourish.

For example, the famed "by invitation only" Apple Smorgasbord held annually in the height of the fruit season in the Sparta area of Kent and Ottawa counties. Other examples include the bean dinners of Bay, Saginaw and Gratiot counties, the Blossom Festival of Benton Harbor-St. Joseph area and the Tulip Festival of Holland.

Not to be ignored are the many successful dairy promotions sponsored through A.D.A. and the new combination deals, the Cherry-Dairy Festivals.

"This is our first try at a festival," said Henry Johnson, hard-working Oceana County farm leader where new cherry plantings are now starting to come into fruit. Although Oceana may one day top the state and nation in cherry production, the Farm Bureau festival committee had some trouble trying to draw the line at cherries, or dairy products. As a result the exhibit areas included other county products, - excellent honey, pears, peaches, apples, - on and on.

The invited public formed long lines past 20 or more salads and fruit or cheese appetizers, to end at tables where local farm women served meat courses and vegetables. Other farm volunteers served endless amounts of fruit desserts, many of their own creation.

No preaching, just friendly greetings, a wonderful farm welcome by members of the festival committee to the non-farm guests, and a well put together color-slide presentation later to show how really important agriculture is.

Madison Avenue could have spent more but it couldn't have done better.

Rain Encourages Contented Cows

From the Manchester Enterprise, June 18, 1874, the editor Mat Blosser writes:

The recent rains having improved the pasturing wonderfully, but ought to be both better and cheaper.

By the way, housewives, butter was listed in that same paper at a cost of eighteen cents a pound. Looks like we could use some more rain ourselves.

Lawn Watering Tips

Don't be afraid to water your lawn anytime during the day. Watering when the sun is bright won't do any harm, according to Donald P. Watson, Michigan State University horticulturist.

However, watering in the early morning or late evening may tend to reduce the amount of water lost through evaporation.

It is important during dry periods, such as July and August, to water the lawn thoroughly, but infrequently. "As a general rule, if it has not rained for a week, let your garden sprinkler run for an hour in each place," says Watson. It is wasteful to sprinkle the lawn lightly because the water can evaporate and never reach the grass roots.

The amount of water to use depends on the kind of soil, the kind and size of plants and how heavy and recently it has rained.

If you are one of the many homeowners who dislike having to mow the lawn every week, reduce the size. Although the cost of paving part of the yard may be high, it can provide a future saving in both time and money, according to Watson.

Tips on lawn care are found in MSU's Extension Folder 212, available from county Cooperative Extension Offices. It may also be secured from the Bulletin Room, 10 Agricultural Hall, MSU, East Lansing.

Farm Facts

When the consumer spends a dollar for meat, it's split up this way: 53 cents to the farmer or rancher; 2 cents for transportation to the packing house; the packer-wholesaler gets 16 cents, and the retailer gets the remaining 29 cents.

Enjoy the 4th

The biggest picnic day of the year is approaching—July 4.

There will be company picnics, church picnics, lodge picnics and just plain family-and-friend picnics. Parking and table space will be at a premium in every picnic spot in the United States.

With the picnics will come bruises and cuts and scratches and strains and sunburn and sore muscles the next day. These are "occupational hazards" of July 4 picnics and usually aren't serious.

What might be more serious will be food poisoning.

The weather is hot on July 4 foods spoil quickly. If a few of the staphylococci bacteria that are the most common cause of food poisoning are present, only a few hours of time, combined with warm temperature are needed to cause real trouble.

Food can be handled safely on picnics in warm weather if the family chef keeps in mind a few precautions.

Leave the sandwich ingredients, including bread, in the original wrappers and containers and make up your picnic sandwiches on the spot, just before mealtime. Ham spoils quickly at warm temperatures and if you favor ham sandwiches, take the ham along in a can and open it just before serving.

Potato salad is another favorite picnic food. It also spoils quickly. Take the hard-boiled eggs, boiled potatoes and mayonnaise (in its sealed jar) and mix the salad at the last minute.

The picnic icebox, properly insulated, is an excellent food saver. It should have a tight lid and there should be plenty of ice. Items stored in the refrigerator should be well chilled before placing in the picnic box.

Be careful about pies. Cream-filled bakery goods spoil quickly on a hot day. Take fresh fruits for dessert. Stick to canned stuffs and sealed jars and bottles that can be opened just before using.

The July 4 picnic is one of America's great traditions. It is a time of great fun for all. Don't overdo the strenuous games and sports in the July heat and safeguard your picnic foods. Don't let food poisoning spoil your outing.

Farm Facts

A hundred years ago many hogs went to market weighing more than 400 pounds, with emphasis on fat because lard was in demand for high-energy diets. Today, the ideal hog goes to market weighing 200 pounds and is mostly lean pork—now preferred by most consumers.

Vernal rates as the number one Michigan alfalfa variety. In 10 years of testing, Vernal has outperformed all others in plots at Michigan State University. Farm crops researcher H.L. Kohls has found that neither Ranger nor Narragansett compare in overall production with Vernal.

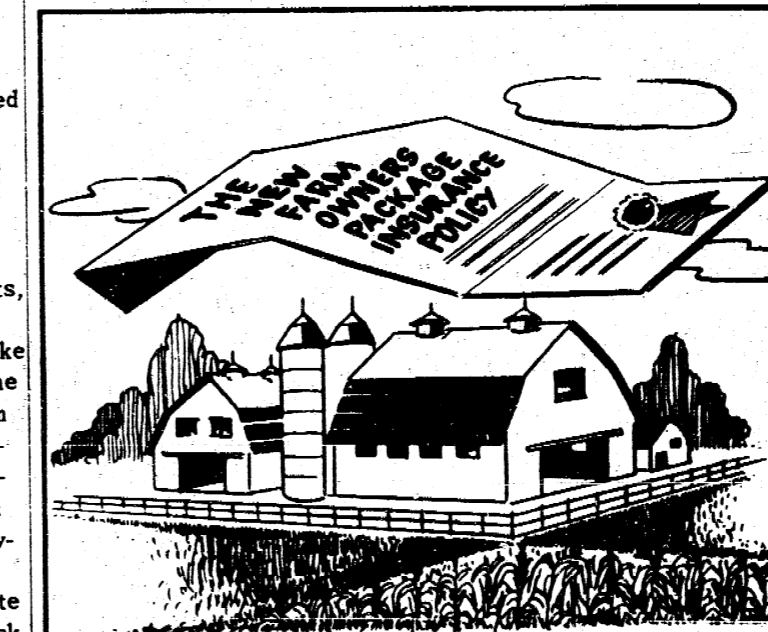

Look it's a . . . ?

Dr. Guy Kater of 226 Hibbard spotted an unusual light in the skies to the west last week. It was just before dusk when Dr. Kater noticed a very distinct shaft of light reflecting upward. Within the light there appeared to be the image of a planet, the doctor reported.

PRUDEN STEEL FRAMED CATTLE SHEDS PROVIDE CLEAR SPAN MANEUVERABILITY AND VERSATILITY

Two foot cantilever roof overhang is useful to provide shelter when manger is located along the face of frame leg. It is also used along the open side of a cattle shed to keep rain and snow out of feed bins as well as to provide more shade in summer.

Pruden frame sheds are frequently used to shelter cattle in one end, and as more hay in the other. This building near Browns, Wisconsin, uses the roll type of metal roofing on wall as well as roof.

Hay is fed directly into feed bunk under cantilever. Note how hay can be "packed in the peak" where there are no internal posts, ties or framework in the usable storage area.

MANCHESTER, JULY 1, 1876.

The terrible visit of various sections of our surrounding country, and did more or less damage, quite enough, however, to give people an idea of the strength of wind. Therefore, be cautious how you blow for it may be an ill wind.

THURSDAY WE CELEBRATE.

Everything is being done to make the 5th of July a day long to be remembered. The committee of arrangements are untiring in their efforts to have things pleasant and enjoyable.

THE PROGRAMME.

The day will be ushered in at sunrise with a salute of 100 guns, the ringing of all the bells in the village, and music by the band.

At 10 o'clock the procession will be formed on public square and march to Granger's Grove, where the speaking and other ceremonies will take place.

At 8 o'clock the swimming race will take place—between the D. H. & S. W. R. R. bridge and Exchange Street bridge. Parties entering for this race will be expected to provide themselves with proper costumes. The prize for this race is $5.

The foot race will follow after the swimming race, and will come off between the L. S. & M. S. Ry. and Washington street. The distance will be about 25 rods. Prizes, $5, $3, $1.

The bran-sack race is a new sport to this section, and will be explained on the grounds. The prize in this race is $5.

The hurdle foot race will take place on the same grounds, immediately after the bran-sack race. The distance will be about the same as the foot race, and runners will be obliged to leap over several hurdles. The prizes in this race are $5, $3, $1.

Entrées for all of these races must be made before 2 o'clock, if possible.

After the sports the Adrian Commandery of Knights Templar will favor us with an exhibition drill, in which it is expected that nearly one hundred Sir Knights will take part.

The Omegas, (the last of their race) will appear in their costly and brilliant costumes, and give an exhibition of their ancient and marvelous rites and ceremonies. It may be necessary to state that this mysterious and solemn confederation, whose alliance was the wonder of the Old World, has lately been re-organized, and will appear with the implements used in the days of the ancients. It is said that the written work of this wonderful order has been buried up in the ruins of an old Theban castle for hundreds of years, and was but lately exhumed, to the joy of those who are familiar with a portion of the history of these brave knights.

The exercises of the day will close with a grand display of fireworks, the largest ever seen in this county.

An excursion train will arrive from the south, on the L. S. & M. S. Ry., at about 9 o'clock, A. M., and remain here until after the fireworks are over. We are trying to secure half-fare tickets.

Trains will be run on the D. H. & S. W. R. R. so that people can arrive early in the morning from the east and west, and will leave here after the fireworks in the evening. Half-fare tickets will be issued.

The glorious fourth is near at hand, and our citizens are making preparation for the immense crowd of people who are expected to visit our enterprising village.

We have already given a programme of the exercises of the day, therefore we deem it unnecessary to speak further on that subject, but will add that everything advertised on the bills will surely come off unless prevented by some unforeseen obstacle.

We hope that the committees in charge of the various sports will attend promptly to the business entrusted to them so that their will be no delay or jangle.

The Committee of Arrangements should all be present at the meeting at Goodyear's office to-morrow, (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock, and also so many of our citizens as can. The Treasurer will be obliged to call upon subscribers

Independence Day

THE WORLD'S NEWEST REVOLUTION HAPPENED ON JULY 4th, 1776

The new idea that astonished the world on July 4, 1776, was that ordinary men and women are capable of governing themselves and will respect the laws that they, themselves, have made. This is still a new a new idea; as other nations have slowly followed America's lead they have been successful only when they have adhered to the spirit of our Declaration and our Constitution. In a hundred little ways American's prove themselves capable of self-government: from assessing their own income tax liability to working on the P.T.A. By doing these little things without noise or fanfare we have become politically mature.
