MANCHESTER, JULY 1, 1876.

The terrible typhoid fever epidemic of our surrounding country, and did more or less damage, quite enough, however, to give people an idea of the strength of wind. Therefore, be cautious how you blow for it may be an ill wind.

EVERYTHING WE CELEBRATE.
Everything is being done to make the 5th of July a day long to be remembered. The committee of arrangements are untiring in their efforts to have things pleasant and enjoyable.

THE PROGRAMME.
The day will be ushered in at sunrise with a salute of 100 guns, the ringing of all the bells in the village, and music by the band.

At 10 o'clock the procession will be formed on public square and march to Granger's Grove, where the speaking and other ceremonies will take place.

At 8 o'clock the swimming race will take place—between the D. H. & S. W. R. R. bridge and Exchange Street bridge. Parties entering for this race will be expected to provide themselves with proper costumes. The prize for this race is $5.

The foot race will follow after the swimming race, and will come off between the L. S. & M. S. Ry. and Washington street. The distance will be about 25 rods. Prizes, $5, $3, $1.

The bran-sack race is a new sport to this section, and will be explained on the grounds. The prize in this race is $5.

The hurdle foot race will take place on the same grounds, immediately after the bran-sack race. The distance will be about the same as the foot race, and runners will be obliged to leap over several hurdles. The prizes in this race are $5, $3, $1.

Entrées for all of these races must be made before 2 o'clock, if possible.

After the sports the Adrian Commandery of Knights Templar will favor us with an exhibition drill, in which it is expected that nearly one hundred Sir Knights will take part.

The Omegas, (the last of their race) will appear in their costly and brilliant costumes, and give an exhibition of their ancient and marvelous rites and ceremonies. It may be necessary to state that this mysterious and solemn confederation, whose alliance was the wonder of the Old World, has lately been re-organized, and will appear with the implements used in the days of the ancients. It is said that the written work of this wonderful order has been buried up in the ruins of an old Theban castle for hundreds of years, and was but lately exhumed, to the joy of those who are familiar with a portion of the history of these brave knights.

The exercises of the day will close with a grand display of fireworks, the largest ever seen in this county.

An excursion train will arrive from the south, on the L. S. & M. S. Ry., at about 9 o'clock, A. M., and remain here until after the fireworks are over. We are trying to secure half-fare tickets.

Trains will be run on the D. H. & S. W. R. R. so that people can arrive early in the morning from the east and west, and will leave here after the fireworks in the evening. Half-fare tickets will be issued.

The glorious fourth is near at hand, and our citizens are making preparation for the immense crowd of people who are expected to visit our enterprising village.

We have already given a programme of the exercises of the day, therefore we deem it unnecessary to speak further on that subject, but will add that everything advertised on the bills will surely come off unless prevented by some unforeseen obstacle.

We hope that the committees in charge of the various sports will attend promptly to the business entrusted to them so that their will be no delay or jangle.

The Committee of Arrangements should all be present at the meeting at Goodyear's office to-morrow, (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock, and also so many of our citizens as can. The Treasurer will be obliged to call upon subscribers

Independence Day

THE WORLD'S NEWEST REVOLUTION HAPPENED ON JULY 4th, 1776

The new idea that astonished the world on July 4, 1776, was that ordinary men and women are capable of governing themselves and will respect the laws that they, themselves, have made. This is still a new a new idea; as other nations have slowly followed America's lead they have been successful only when they have adhered to the spirit of our Declaration and our Constitution. In a hundred little ways American's prove themselves capable of self-government: from assessing their own income tax liability to working on the P.T.A. By doing these little things without noise or fanfare we have become politically mature.

for subscriptions on Friday and Saturday, as he will have no time to do so after that, and we hope all will be prompt in paying.

The railroads have advertised to run special trains on the 5th, so that people can remain and see the fire works in the evening, which will probably be the grandest ever seen in this section of the State.

The exhibition drill of the Knights Templar will be a sight worth coming many miles to see.

Police.—The Council have appointed extra police to see that order is maintained on the 5th. We hope they will have no occasion to make an arrest, but if they do the prisoner should be examined and fined.

Look out.—We are requested to say to those who propose starting refreshment stands, the 5th of July, that they had better comply with the law before so doing, as the law will be strictly enforced.

R. R. Election.—The Mich. Central Railroad stockholders held an election of directors, at Detroit on Monday last. The Directors will probably meet at New York or Boston soon to elect a President. It is thought that Jas. F. Joy will be their choice.

The Dance.—Goodyear hall will be just the place for those who enjoy dancing, to have a gay time, on the evening of the 5th. Conrad Nauman will give you all the fun you want, a good supper and dancing. Take your girl and go early. The fire works can be seen from the hall.

New Hotel.—The house on the corner of Clinton st. and Exchange Place, is being converted into a hotel as fast as possible, and it is expected to be one of the best kept houses in the state. The house will not be large, but with the addition of a new dining room, it is hoped that they will be able to accommodate a portion of the traveling public.

MANCHESTER, JULY 8, 1875.

THE CELEBRATION.

The Hungry Band—Young American... The Knights Templar... The Fire Works—Good Bye—A Reunion.

Do I sleep; do I dream? Do I wonder and doubt? Are things what they seem, Or is vision about? Is our destination a failure Or is the Obsolete played out?

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE

has dawned upon us. And a large party of boys are down upon us too with all kinds of implements susceptible of making a noise, if not so melodious. Bang went the guns and the clatter of bells was heard on every hand.

The early trains from the west and north brought people from neighboring villages while those from the surrounding townships came in buggies, carriages and four horse wagons, until it seemed impossible to get through the streets on account of the throng.

their music, inspect their uniform, when they marched to the L. S. & M. S. R'y depot at 10 o'clock to receive the Knights Templar and escort them up town. They were followed by hundreds of admirers and the scene at the depot was an interesting one.

FORWARD MARCH. Captain General Fred. Hart formed the Knights into column, and headed by the Band, marched to Masocio Hall amidst the cheers and hurrah of the spectators, who were inspired by their splendid uniforms, soldierly appearance and mastery drill.

In the mean time two more trains filled with people had arrived and now it began to look as though there was something going on alone by.

At eleven o'clock the procession was formed, headed by the band, after which came the Knights Templar followed by the Glee Club, the Orator, Speaker, Chaplain and President of the day in carriages; and about one hundred and fifty vehicles of various kinds, making a grand procession.

After marching through some of the principal streets they arrived at GRANDMA'S GROVE where the exercises were commenced by the President inviting the old veterans of 1812 to take seat with him on the stand.

America was beautifully rendered by the Glee Club, consisting of Mrs. Russell, Messrs. Crafts, Gragg and Case, Miss Eva Field, Organist. Prayer was offered by Rev. F. S. Lyon and Rev. J. B. Gilman read the Declaration of Independence, after which the President introduced Rev. W. C. Way, the orator of the day. Over three thousand people listened to the oration and declared it independent and one of the best efforts they had listened to, in which we heartily join. We should be pleased to publish it, but space will not permit.

After the exercises were concluded at the grove the procession formed again and marched back to town keeping time to the music furnished by the band.

As the procession passed up Exchange Place, the Knights Templar gave us a sample of their efficiency in drill, performing some evolutions really wonderful for their age, but when we remembered that this commandery ranked third in drill at the grand triennial convocations of the U. S. at Baltimore in '71, we are not surprised that they claimed the admiration of our good people.

The procession halted at the residence of E. P. Crafts, on Washington St., in whose yard a beautiful and commodious bower had been erected, under which tables were spread with the best the ladies could prepare in the way of victuals and drink. At these tables fifty-three bold Knights and their fair ladies seated themselves and were refreshed. The evolutions they went through with here were not more surprising than those spoken of above; but heart and hand were united in the grand movement, and they have been practicing from childhood. They had everything except "toast and wine" (even to baked lamb and milk). They all appeared to feel better, for after arising from the tables they gave three rousing cheers for the ladies and the Knights of Manchester.

While the Knights were attending to the wants of the inner man, the immense throng up town were turning their attention to true forwardness, also. The three hotels were crowded and gigger cake and "wich" had to suffer. The next in order was

THE SWIMMING RACE.

Both banks of the river and the railroad and street bridges were lined with spectators dressed in their holiday attire awaiting the advent of the swimmers. Eight entries were booked and soon made their appearance at the railroad bridge. The distance marked for swimming was 40 rods and the prizes $5, $3, 1. A fair start was given and away they plunged, and as soon as they came up it was evident by the long and steady pull who were the lucky ones. The time made was 8 1/2 minutes, and the first prize was won by Wm. Ruckman, second by Wm. Sherwood, and the third by Robt. Haaty. The race was one of the most pleasant features of the day, and we regret our inability to photograph the river and its beautiful banks. The band marched the crowd to the public square to witness

THE FOOT RACE.

The crowd became a solid mass of humanity who persisted in crowding upon the race course, and it required the united efforts of the Committee and Marshals to clear a space sufficient to allow the six racers room to run. The distance was 20 rods, best 2 in three. Prizes $5, $3, 1. A good start was made and the first heat was won by O. W. Moore, a colored barber who pronounced the result a close shave. The second prize was divided equally between Wesley, Alvord and Craft, who ran a tie race, and the third prize was awarded to F. Craft.

It was deemed impossible to give the sack or the hurdle races, as the crowd was too restless and unreasonable, and refused to give sufficient room for the actors. After these races were abandoned the crowd was suddenly startled by the sound of peculiar music and the cry are coming! rest the air in every direction. Looking west on Exchange Place we beheld the advance of the Omegas. The band played some stirring if not unusual pieces, which elicited shouts of praise (?) from the immense throng, following the band came the chariot of the chief mogul, the high-cock-a-lorum of the Omegas, drawn by Wisco's mules dressed in harness made of bark, and driven by the invincible Nelson, (the only living relic of that barbaric race who perished in the Theban Castle). The reins were dressed in perfect keeping with the occasion. Following this chariot came a large number of — well, we might as well call them Knights as anything, and bringing the rear was the "fire department" of this village, which had been gotten up by the common council (and others) at great expense, not to speak of the fun. The Engine (?) was drawn by one horse who acted as though he was treading upon hot ground. The procession, led by a Captain on horseback, paraded the principal streets and finally halted on Exchange Place, where roll was called, and a speech made by the old chief. Among the members of the order we heard the names of some of our prominent business and professional men, and others, viz: Geo. Francis Train, Geo. Washington Lowe, Henry Ward Beecher, Mrs. Tilton, J. Blossom Guildman, Josiah Allen's Wife, Em. Quad, Hiawatha, C. Saginaw Crafts Attorney-at-Law, Betsey Bobbet, E. Day-winder Norris, C. Elongated Lewis, Niles Ockrow, Johnny VanDun, "Fottle's Girl", Hank Calhoun, Dr. Harris, etc., etc, and we should judge they were all "up to snuff".

The speech was a big thing, and at times it was impossible to hear a word, from the laughing and hurrying made by the crowd. This portion of the programme, as was expected, was a crowning triumph, and surpassed with its Congress of Nations was nowhere compared with it. Exchange Place and Washington street was literally packed with people; houses, windows and shade trees, were filled with spectators, eager to catch every word and gesture. On this account it was impossible for the captain to introduce anything in the way of a drill—not even a grain drill. The speech being over, the band gave another final blast, and the Omegas were seen no more.

At six o'clock the band called the Sir Knights together, and they favored us with a dress parade and exhibition drill, which was applauded by all who witnessed it. And here let us say, that our citizens are under everlasting obligations to Adrian Commandery for the valuable assistance rendered, by which our celebration was made so complete a success.

When Old Sol dropped his shining face behind the western hills, we expected to see our country cousins start for home, especially as it threatened rain; but they were so well pleased with the entire sports of the day that they had confidence in seeing a grand display of fireworks in the evening, so they remained. At eight o'clock the taxis from the east brought Companies "D" and "E," State troops, from Adrian and Tecumseh, who marched upon the town, and after stacking arms, visited the many business houses in quest of things necessary and unnecessary.

WERE WITNESSED by at least two thousand people besides our own citizens, the square being literally packed with men, women and children. The display was pronounced magnificent; and thus ended the exercises and sports, together with the 5th of July, 1875. May it long be remembered.

At eleven o'clock the drum corps of the Guards called the companies to arms, and falling into line, they marched to the L. S. depot, where the Sir Knights and their ladies were awaiting the train. At 11:30 they were "all aboard", having shaken hands with the friends who escorted them to the cars, the engine gave a farewell toot, and our friends from the south were homeward bound—with very steep our citizens sought their welcome homes and clean sheets, to dream of great guns, cheese knives, instant death and perfect happiness.

The day was rife with little episodes that amused those who enjoy the study of human nature. Very little drunkenness came to surface, but we noticed a man trying to crawl up a 24 foot hill in order to sleep behind a coal-box. He succeeded and soon began a brush away a fly that persisted in blowing his nose. A happy old gent tried to induce Capt. Hart to become his son-in-law, but Fred allowed that would have been very well nineteen years ago.

William Wade and Thomas Flinn had a few angry words and William struck the old gentleman on the head and drew the blood. Friends took care of them and they escaped the cooler. John Spafard was driving in his carriage containing Miss Field, and Miss Wescott, and his horses took fright at the Omegas and ran around the public square, upset the carriage and threw the occupants upon the ground. No serious results.

During the fire-works a few restless spirits endeavored to kick up a row, but they failed, the worst way. IN CONCLUSION We would say that many thanks are due to those members of the committee of arrangements who discharged the duty entrusted to them; also to the committee on sports, fire-works, &c., to the President, Marshal and his Assistant, Orator, Chaplain and Reader, to the Glee Club, and in fact to all, but especially to the Brass Band for their assistance in carrying out the programme of the day with credit to themselves and honor to our enterprising village.

MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE, NAT D. BLOMBER, MANAGER. MANCHESTER, JULY 8, 1876. Village and Country. Monday was a fearful hot day. Manchester P. O. is now a money order office. Haying is the order of the day among the farmers. Our merchants had a splendid business on Monday. When the swallow(er)s homeward fly—at 12 P. M. Stark's Photograph Car leaves Manchester in a few days. Thanks to S. H. Perkins, Esq. for late copies of San Francisco papers. Read the report of the condition of the People's Bank, in another column. The L. S. & M. S. R'y. Co. have erected a large water tank at this station. Geo. Hewitt, who served so faithfully as Marshal of the Day, on the 5th, had to stand up to eat on the following morning. Since the mills have commenced to grind again, and flour is plenty, the Ramsman comes up often. Good enough. He (k)nows what's good. We heard it said by the Knights that if they went to Philadelphia to the Centennial, next year, they would take the Manchester Band with them. We understand that the Napoleon people are preparing for a grand railroad excursion to Detroit, and that they have engaged the Manchester Band to accompany them. There is no First National Bank of Canton, Ill., but there are many $5 bills about in this State, by that name. Look out for them, they are a fraud. Adrian Press: The Manchester people made a success of their celebration, and the courtesy with which visitors were treated speaks commendably for her citizens. The boys formed a huge band and marched about town at an early hour on Monday morning, awaking our citizens, so the discomfort of some and satisfaction of others. The 5th of July was a poor day for a number of canines who are a nuisance to our main street most any other day. The first bunch of fire-crackers drove them to the hills, and we had a rest. The weather seems to have settled down and the clear sky and bright sun bids the farmer to make hay. What grain there is in this neighborhood will be ready for the reaper in a few days.

INCIDENTS

The Grand Chariot of the Omegas was damaged by the runaway on Monday and an investigating committee was sent to examine it. They have sent in their report, assessing the damage at $1,500.00 and placing it on to John Spafard. The Adrian Passes of the 7th Inst. in speaking of our celebration, says: "The Manchester Band performed some splendid pieces. This is one of the finest drilled and best bands in the State, and their services were invaluable."

We understand that the "Jap" came near losing his life on Monday morning. One of our citizens became disgusted at his continued racket, and armed with a cheese knife and revolver, charged upon the fifteenth amendment. He was too insignificant to take notice of.

Adrian Times: The trip of the Knights was a success in every respect. They found the heartiest of welcomes, and the Manchester people played the part of hosts to perfection. Each Sir Knight expresses himself as having thoroughly enjoyed himself, and individually and collectively the Commandery return thanks to their entertainers.

While the fire-works were being discharged, one of our citizens who stood in front of a crowd of "swamp angle" (?) was hit with a stone, which enraged him so that he would willingly have whipped seventeen of them had it not been for a party of friends who came down to take the job off his hands. We didn't blame him for getting angry, but his language proved him to be a very forgetful man in the presence of ladies.

Between four and five thousand children representing twenty-five Sabbath schools, together with their teachers and friends, assembled upon the farm of J. Davison in Mason, last Saturday morning, to enjoy a day in the woods. Instrumental and vocal music, speaking, social games and a bountiful repast were provided, but unfortunately a heavy shower broke over their heads about 2 o'clock, and drenched the assembly. There was no use trying to save anything and they returned to their homes the worst looking specimens of humanity that were ever seen upon the highway.

The new style or "pull-back" dress makes some ladies look as "thick as a match." The explosion of gunpowder broke a large glass out of the front of Union Hall block on Monday morning.

Some of the visiting Knights made the remark that Manchester had more pretty girls than any town of its size in the State. Fortune favored us on the 5th. At Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor they had heavy rains, which put a damper on their celebrations. Marshal Geo. M. Hewitt, his assistants J. A. Kelly, and Vice President Jacob Brown from Freedom, took charge of the procession.

WHEAT.—We notice that the wheat is commencing to turn, and harvest will commence next week. RELIGIOUS.—Subject for discussion in the Universalist Church next Sunday morning: The Causes and Remedies for Hard Times.

IMPROVEMENT.—The Band boys are talking of adding a drum major to their band. They will soon buy new caps. They now wear epaulets and look very fine. WOODCOCK.—On Tuesday morning early the boys were out with their dogs and guns, after these fine birds, and we understand they succeeded in bagging quite a lot of them.

EXCURSION.—An excursion train of three coaches passed through this place to-day, bound for Watkins'. The cars were filled with men, women and children from Ypsilanti. PRESENTATION.—The remaining members of the old Union Guards of this village, have presented the Manchester Brass Band with the choice of the fine tents, camp chests, chairs etc.

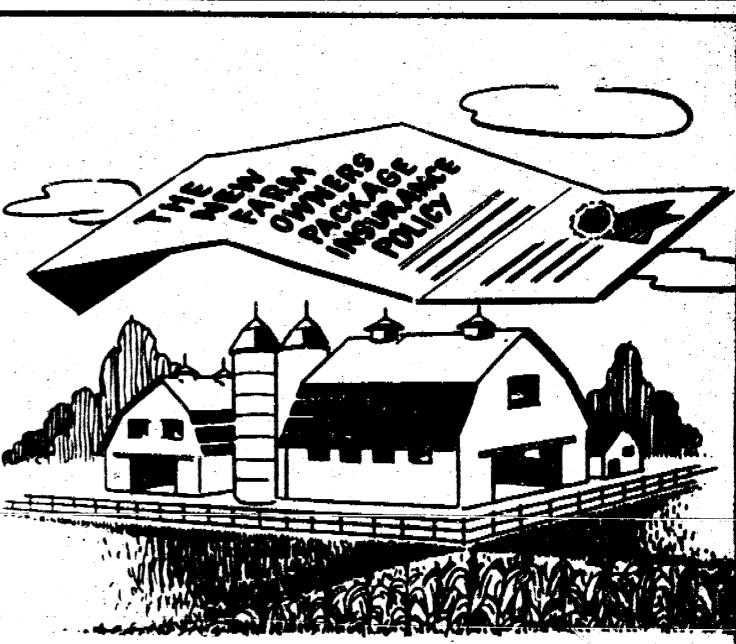

BARBER'S.—We attended the Hippodrome at Adrian on Thursday last. The city was crowded with people, and a large number visited the Hippodrome in the afternoon and evening. The ring, Congress of Nations, etc., were good, the balloon ascension was excellent, and all were happy.

ANN ARBOR.—We learn that the celebration at Ann Arbor was mainly made up of reviews and parades of the military, there being some seven companies present. A heavy rain interfered with the programme in the afternoon. An immense crowd of people were present, mostly from Detroit.

YOUR TABLE.—Some friend wrote us that they spent the 4th at Wampler's Lake and had a good time, etc. We do not doubt it, Charley and his good lady are bound to make it pleasant for all. "He had over one hundred people" says the writer, but we cannot print the whole letter as it was not signed. We have lots of friends but have not time to visit them all now. When you write to an Editor, or any one else, always sign your full name.

DISCOUNTS.—Our business men upon Exchange Place are desiring of considerable credit for the beautiful manner in which they decorated their store fronts on the 5th. Those of W. H. Potte and Mack & Schmidt deserve special mention. Red, White and Blue were the prominent colors displayed from the third windows, and in the front window of the former we noticed some rich silks, shawls, handkerchiefs, etc. We also observed a throng of people on the inside during the day, and are glad to learn that a good lot of goods were sold. At the Banner store the decorations were elegant, and the clerks received many handsome compliments during the day for the display of rich goods as well as domestic of various kinds. We learn that a number of farmers living from 10 to 15 miles west, visited the store for the first time and purchased goods, saying that they would hereafter come here to trade as they would make money by it.

Here is professional insurance for the professional farmer, the man who wants to control costs yet not leave himself wide open to a serious loss in his farm operation. Ask about this new Farm Owner's Package Policy that will save you money.

The Treasurer of the celebration has requested us to state that he has paid all expenses, and makes the following report:

Amount collected.....$217.00
Paid out.....$11.00
Leaving balance on hand.....$206.00

He proposes that 25 of the balance on hand be invested in cigars for the committees; 90 cents in candy and peanuts for those who do not smoke; instead of making a dividend. He also states that any gentleman interested is invited to call on him and examine his report.

Reception

The Manchester Band accompanied Companies D and E, State troops, to Ypsilanti, on Saturday morning, to attend the celebration there. Arriving in the city, they found no one at the depot to receive them, and there they stood, like "bums on a log," not knowing where to go. This is the second time our boys have been to Ypsi, and "padded their own noses" up town. The excuse made by the Ypsi boys was that they didn't know what time the train arrived. Poor excuse in these times of telegraph and railroads.

Contractors on the D. H. & I. R. E.

He is now employed by the Mich. Central company and we hope he is doing well.

We have received a paper from Pittsfield, Mass., in which we notice that Ber. G. W. Love preached at the M. E. Church at that place on Sunday the 27th day of June.

Adolf Wheeler, of Adrian, gave us a call Wednesday. He is hale and hearty and was returning from Ann Arbor and the glorious fourth. As he used to be a boy in town of course he shakes with the oldest inhabitants.

Ohan. Milton short-stopped just long enough to say that he had been to Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti and was going to Adrian. He seemed to be happy and looked as if he had a good job when he left. Silver bam are easy to catch.

Uncle Dan's bible class from Tecumseh was well represented and enjoyed our celebration much.

"Pick" Fountain looked in at us and said welcome. He is agent for the Canada Southern at Grand Trunk Junction and fortune smiles upon him.

Sadson Death.

Jacob Raab, aged 85 years, was found dead in his room at the Farmer's Hotel in this village, at 2 o'clock to-day. He retired early last evening, and the family at the hotel thought best not to disturb him until noon, when his room was entered and he was found lifeless, apparently having passed away without a struggle. He has lived a long time at this hotel as a boarder, his son paying expenses. A coroner's jury was summoned and rendered a verdict of death caused by old age. His son was sent for, and the remains of this old and worn out pilgrim, will rest in the little graveyard at Freedom.
