Retires After 50 Years

Pictured here with Mr. Kuebler are: Lewis Kemner, Therman Green, Russell Green and Leon Green in the shop on East Main.

Herman Kuebler has completed more than fifty years in the plumbing and heating business. When he retires this month the name of Kuebler's Plumbing and Heating goes with him.

The business was started by Herman's father, Louis A. Kuebler who came here from Germany where he learned the trade. He was known to the people in the area as "Tinner" Kuebler. Herman went to work for his father in 1910. Their first store was in the building now occupied by the L.V. Kirk Electric. They moved to the present location at 211 E. Main St. in 1910.

The type of work done in the early days of the business and today differ completely. When the Kueblers first started one of their principal occupations was the making of milk pails and milk pans by hand. Mr. Kuebler learned the work in Germany. There was a big demand for flat metal porch roofs. Mr. Kuebler and his father put the metal roofs on most of the business houses in town. Much of their time in the early days was used in making stove pipes because it wasn't until about 1908 that furnaces became very popular in Manchester.

When the village put in city water in 1912 the demand to cope with this new type of enterprise caused Mr. Kuebler to hire a plumber from Detroit to help out in this new field. In 1920 Herman took over his father's business. At that time plumbers were getting 75 cents an hour. Mr. Kuebler has seen many changes in the business from soldering a new copper bottom on a tea kettle and making milk pails and stove pipes to installing the plumbing in a new home, putting in an air filtering system and hooking up a gas furnace. In 1928 all of the pipe railing for the Main St. bridge was built by Kuebler.

"When I first went to work for my father, many times we would get jobs that required a considerable amount of time to complete. There were no cars and when our work called us out in the country to a farm home, we traveled by horse and wagon-and went prepared to stay until the job was done.

"Farmers planned on giving us board and room-it was part of the bargain. The day began early in the morning and we quit work at dark. Believe me, no one had ever heard of an 8 hour day.

"It was no hardship either to board at a farm home because the farm women really out-did themselves to serve wonderful home cooked meals. People were very sociable. "I said we would go prepared to stay until the job was done. You've heard how people are always needing the plumber about going on a job and then having to go back to the shop for tools to do the work. This was known to happen in 'the good old days' too. One time my father and I were going to Norvell to begin a job. We were going by horse and wagon and were nearly there when we discovered we had forgotten the soldering iron. Today that wouldn't be so serious but in those days-well, we had to turn the horse and wagon around and come back to Manchester for the soldering iron. "Then too, whenever we had a job to do in the country, it wasn't uncommon for farmers to ask us to bring out different supplies for them-as long as we would be making the trip anyway. I've seen many changes in the last 50 years. One of my employees, Leon Green has been with me over 20 years and his brother, Russell began working for me a short time later. Lewis Kemner has been with me over 15 years. They will continue to work for the new owners, LaVern Eversole and Therman Green. By the way, Therman, has worked for me for several years now. They are changing the name to G. and E. Plumbing and Heating. Besides being a successful business man, he is a very active community and church affairs. He was a charter member of the Exchange cent. on pg. 7

John Galbreath Goes to Honduras

John Galbreath, who has been Science teacher in the Manchester High school for the past five years, has accepted a position as Mathematics Instructor at the American School in Tegucigalpa, Honduras. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Galbreath, Jr. of 1122 Chicago road, Jackson. Prior to coming to Manchester he served two years as Lab Technician with the U.S. Army. He will leave Metropolitan airport Sunday for his new position.

Tegucigalpa, capital of Honduras, is located at an altitude of 3,200 feet midway between the Pacific Ocean and the Caribbean sea. Temperatures vary from 50 to 86 degrees, year-round, he said. Although Spanish is the language of the country, all instruction in the American School is in English. There are 425 students in kindergarten through twelfth grade; 63% are Hondurans, 32% U. S. citizens and the rest are other nationalities. At present there are classes through grade 9 with plans to add one grade a year for the next three. The students of grades 10 to 12 are on correspondence from the University of Nebraska, except for Chemistry and Physics.

Mr. Galbreath's job calls for teaching, coordination, planning and developing a sound program in math and science for the junior and senior high school. Since the school year is February through November Mr. Galbreath will begin at the mid-year when he takes up residence in Tegucigalpa on August first.

Storm Hits Area With Heavy Rains

Most of Washtenaw county escaped serious storm damage Friday afternoon and evening as two lines of thunder-squalls passed just south of the county line, causing heavy damage in Lenawee and Monroe counties.

Heavy rains accompanied the winds and caused interruption of some telephone service in Manchester and near-by communities, but the worst of the storms missed town. Better than 1.07 inches of rain pelted the area. Twenty-five phones in Manchester were out when rain damaged cables. District Manager Nicholas J. Prakken of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said most of the effected customers had their service restored by morning. Street lights in Manchester came on at 6 p.m.

At the Herbert Johnson farm at 15442 Herman Rd. a large metal storage building was blown down and half of a large double pine tree split. Tops were taken out of a large pine and a maple tree. Considerable damage was also done at the Mrs. Carl Schumacher farm at 8750 Noggle road where a corn crib and silo were blown over and trees downed. At the Albert Treat farm there were many trees blown down in his yard but luckily none hit the house.

Noggles road was blocked until Saturday noon when a crew from the Washtenaw county road commission cleared the fallen trees away. Damage was also done on the Tom Cushman, Lawrence Blome and the Don Barrett farms on Horning road where many trees were blown over by the tornado-like wind which whipped through the area.

Dog Destroyed After Killing Sheep

A sheriff's department dog warden shot and killed a dog in Bridgewater township after it had killed five sheep and injured four others in the past ten days, Deputy Willis Clark, one of the two county dog wardens, was called by Michigan State Police from the Clinton post to the farm of Benny Bienick at 648 Jackson The Bienick farm is located just north of Clinton in Bridgewater township.

Bienick showed Deputy Clark and a state trooper three dead sheep and two others which had been severely injured by a dog. A search of the farm conducted at that time failed to locate the marauding animal.

Friday when the trooper and Deputy Clark were checking the area where Bienick's 150-sheep flock is kept a dog suddenly leaped out of the nearby bushes. Bienick immediately identified the animal as the one which had killed his sheep ten days ago. Deputy Clark shot the fleeing dog in the head, killing it instantly. Later the dog was traced to Jack Gibson of Clinton who admitted ownership. Gibson agreed to make restitution for the loss of the sheep. The sheep are valued at about $12 each.

Farm Bureau Plans Picnic

Plans for the Modern Farm Bureau annual picnic were made at the monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Kinner. The picnic will be held at the Grass Lake County Park, Sunday Aug. 12th with dinner promptly at 12:30 p.m. Named to the tables and chair committee are Martin Keasal and Ray Troz Harold Ahrens and Laurence Kemner will serve on the refreshment committee. The nominating committee for the coming year are Ben Maurer and Wilber Frey.

Freshmen Visit WMU Campus

More than 2,500 freshmen who expect to enter Western Michigan University for the first time next fall are spending two days this summer in visiting the campus.

Dean Paul L. Griffith and his staff of counselors have arranged an intensive program of counseling, advance registration including the payment of a part of their fall fees, and a bit of social life. They will thus clear up many of their early fall duties and know the campus a little better when they arrive.

When they return to the campus in September it will be to start classes almost immediately without the usual days of orientation and registration.

Among those visiting the campus is Terrance L. Ayers of Manchester.

Demand Greater Than Supply Forben Eat Cold Cuts

The Manchester Chicken Dinner, one of the biggest in Michigan was bigger than ever this year. There were well over 3,000 chicken dinners served. According to general Chairman Luther Klinger there were better than 300 who couldn't be served and many had to be refunded to about 75 who had already purchased their tickets.

Credit for success goes in part to the exceptional publicity given by Howard Heath of WPAG. Marshall Wells of WJR and the local newspapers for their coverage.

Professor Howard Zindel, head of the Poultry Department at Michigan State University and Professor Emeritus J.M. Moore of the same department who were "chief cooks" said they had never seen a better organized group of workers and attributed much of the success in the speed in serving the public to the way in which everything seemed to be organized.

Co-chairman Rollie Grossman noted that there was over 1,500 lbs. of cabbage, 32 gallons of dressing and better than 5500 pounds of chicken used...not to mention a ton of charcoal. And with all the food--there wasn't chicken for the 175 workers. They had cold cuts later at Carr Park.

Optimist club and Jaycees thank the community for their wholehearted support in this big project, because without everyone pitching in and without the help of the farmers in the locality the committee would have been caught short handed. The local police appreciated the help of the mounted police from Sheriff Petersen's department. As for next year's Broil--the committee is sharpening pencils and adding a few more supplies to their lists. Money from this project will be used by the service clubs to erect bleachers at the athletic field and Carr Park, the Little League field and other youth projects.

Borrowing OK'd

The Manchester Board of Education has been authorized to borrow up to $49,000 against anticipated state aids payments the Michigan Department of Public Instruction has announced.

The Tecumseh school system has been authorized to borrow up to $150,000.
