New Books at the Library

The following books will be of particular interest to younger users of the Manchester township library. The first four are from the library's permanent collection and being replacements of worn editions. The last four are from the State Library collection which will be available at least until October.

MY LIFE IN BASEBALL—THE TRUE RECORD by Ty Cobb. This is the autobiography of one of baseball's greatest players—a man who layed to win.

HALFBACK ON HIS OWN by Jackson Scholz is the story of a boy who tries to escape his father's domination by making a reputation of his own on the gridiron.

JOE FELLER by Gene Schoor is another story of a baseball "great" who retired in 1956 and was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1962.

EVENTEENTH SUMMER by Maureen Daly is the story of a girl's seventeenth summer, full of the magic and wonder of first love. This book won the first award given by the Intercollegiate Literary Fellowship.

CHANGING THE FACE OF NORTH AMERICA is a first-hand report on the building of the St. Lawrence Seaway; well illustrated with photos, maps and sketches.

THE SEA FOR SAM by Reed and Bronson is theories of how the ocean came into being, the action of waves and tides and what causes them, the vast rivers within the ocean, the composition of sea water—these are some of the absorbing stories presented and illustrated in this absorbing book.

EXPERIMENTS IN SKY WATCHING BY F. M. Branley is a collection of easy to follow experiments requiring only the simplest household equipment, leaves the reader with a better understanding of the pattern of the planet on which he lives and our whole solar system.

THE BOOK OF STORMS by Eric Sloane is the perfect book for anyone, young or old, who wants a better understanding of the whys and wherefores of the occurrence of storms.

The library is now open from 12 to 5 p.m. daily, and is closed only on Sunday.

SEPTEMBER 4-H MEETING

The September meeting of the Jolly Farmerettes 4-H Club was called to order by their president, Janet Kemmer at the Sharon townhall. Roll call was answered by singing and demonstrating in exercise.

Reports were given on the club's participation in County Show, the Manchester Community Fair, Model Business Meeting Contest, and the 4-H State Show.

Report blanks were handed out and discussed. They are due in the Extension Office on September 20.

52 Prospects Turn Out for Football

The outlook at Manchester for this year is one of quiet hope. Fifty-two prospects turned out for initial football workouts. Under new head coach, Dewey Smith, the Dutchmen hope to improve on its 1-7 record of 1961. Coach Smith will have another new staff member as his line coach in the person of Mike Bazany. Coach Bazany has been working his charges with enthusiasm, pointing to this week's opening date at Britton.

There will be 15 returning lettermen to help ease the need for experiences this year. Up front, Coach Bazany will have at guard returning lettermen Ron Pucher, sophomore; and Bill Alber, senior. Returning at the tackle spot will be Gary Mitchell, senior; Eugene Huber, sophomore; Dave Grothe, senior; and Jim Samonek, sophomore. The only returning lettermen at end and center will be senior, Vic Mann and senior Bruce Oates, respectively.

Another letterman halfback, junior, Denny Reinhart is out for a period of time with a fractured wrist. Denny will lend some depth to the backfield upon his return.

The ballclub has shown much spirit and has taken to Mr. Smith's rigorous conditioning like a duck to water. They are working hard in preparation for Friday night.

There are only three home games this year, hence there are few opportunities for parents and friends of players to give them the support they need. The football coaches ask your support at all of the home football games.

Swim Class set for Sept. 26

The fall series of the Red Cross Adult Swim Classes will get underway Wednesday, September 26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Ann Arbor High School, according to the Safety section of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the Red Cross.

Locker assignments will be made the first evening and registration for any level can be made by calling Red Cross office at NO 2-5546 not later than Sept. 21. These co-educational classes are made possible by the community support of the Red Cross through the United Fund Drives and are open to anyone in the county at least 17 years of age.

The swimming classes will be taught by Red Cross volunteer Water Safety instructors each Wednesday for eight weeks. The series will include the special training classes for non-swimmers, swimmers and a Senior Life Saving course.

Methodist Officials Study Program

Methodist church here, and all other Methodist churches in Michigan, is to have presented a special survey covering the past ten years of Sunday School enrollment and attendance so that future plans may be formulated to make Sunday School work more effective. This program will be presented Sunday evening.

Presiding at the 8 p.m. Sunday meeting will be the Rev. A. T. Halsted, pastor of the Dexter Methodist church. He will be the representative of the District Superintendent, Dr. Ed. Stricker, who will be presiding at another conference.

The pastor of the local church, the Rev. Jesse D. Epps, has made the survey from reports of the pastors to the Annual Conferences for each of these ten years. His findings will be given at the special meeting Sunday evening.

Those who are officially involved are all members of the Official Board and the members of each of the five Commissions. Also, the Sunday school teachers of the entire Sunday school are to be present for this special study and the formulation of plans for the future.

Hours for Library

The Manchester township library is announcing that there is a new schedule of hours at the library.

Mrs. Roger Hardenbergh and her assistant librarian, Mrs. Glen Robinson, told the library board that they believed that a more uniform schedule of hours would help more students to use the facilities of the library.

The library board approved the new hours, 12 noon to 5 p.m. daily except Sunday, when the library is closed.

Parent Teacher Reception

The first PTA meeting of the season will be held at the Intermediate School Monday, Sept. 17 at 8 p.m.

This will be the annual teacher reception where parents are invited to renew their acquaintances with faculty members and become acquainted with new teachers. Committee for the meeting will include Mrs. Richard Way, Mrs. Arthur Gill, Mrs. Ronald Gonyer and Mrs. Al Simmons.

Dr. Warren Ketcham, Child Development Specialist from the University will be the speaker. He is noted for being a very informative speaker, and the committee urges a record turn out.

The PTA again will sponsor the dancing classes and registration is taking place for classes which start Sept. 18. These will take place in the multi-purpose room in the Nellie Ackerson school. Miss Susan Wood of Ann Arbor is the instructor and will teach ballet, tap, modern jazz. Mrs. F. W. Schiller is assisted by Mrs. Robert Armentrout and Mrs. John Althouse on the dance committee.

JULIA ANN MARTIN WEDS THOMAS TOBIAS

Julia Ann Martin became the bride of Thomas Allen Tobias of Whitmore Lake road Friday evening in a ceremony at the Bethel United church of Christ in Freedom township. The Rev. T. W. Menzel officiated at the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Martin of Jackson Road and Mr. Tobias is the son of the O. Elmer Tobiases of Saline. The bride wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta with scalloped neckline, long sleeves and bouffant skirt. Seed pearls accented the bodice. A seed pearl and lace crown held veil of illusion.

OBITUARY

CLAUDE FIELDER

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, Sept. 4 for Claude Fielder, 85, of Brooklyn who died Saturday at the Cedar Knoll Rest Home at Grass Lake.

The Rev. Alvin Brazeo officiated and interment was at Roseland cemetery.

Mr. Fielder's parents, William and Emma, came from England and constructed a log cabin on the old Whitney Watkins farm. They moved the cabin to a farm east of Wauplers Lake. Their son Claude was born Jan. 9, 1877.

He attended school in Wash- tenaw county and then farmed near Grass Lake and hauled milk to Manchester. He married Cora Dem in Manchester Oct. 8, 1899 and moved to Manchester on what is now the Shore farm. After living there for 12 years they moved to the Wauplers Lake area, back to Manchester and eventually to Brooklyn where he retired about 20 years ago. Mrs.

Fielder died two years ago. Survivors include two sons, Sherman and Raymond, both of Brooklyn; two brothers, William of Tecumseh and Fred of Manchester; two sisters, Mrs. Treasie Nor- tley of Norvell and L.ottie Creger of Tecumseh; four grandchildren and six-great grandchildren.

BROTHER-IN-LAW DIES IN CANADA

4-H MEMBERS HOLD FAMILY PARTY

Eighty Jolly Farmerette 4-H club members and their families enjoyed a buffet supper at the Sharon Town-hall Saturday evening.

Elaine Kastl and her committee of five girls who carried on an Outdoor Meal project planned the meal and roasted weiners for the supper. All members demonstrated their skill at cooking by preparing a dish for the buffet table.

Brenda Eames was in charge of the program. The girls conducted their own version of the Miss America Contest and presented a skit that was enjoyed by all. Group singing ended the entertainment.

BPW CLUB HOLD MEETING

The Manchester Business and Professional Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Hollie Ayres for their Sept. meeting.

Ann Walton showed slides and gave a very interesting account of her trip with the Michigan Youth Choral on their European Tour.

At the business meeting following plans for the District 8 meeting to be held in Manchester on October 20, were discussed.

The Manchester club will be hostess to about 100 BPW members for their fall meeting.

RETURN HOME AFTER TRIP TO CANADA

Several Manchesterites including Franklin M. Reck, Sarah Reck, Carl Schaible, and William H. Yungclas of Webster City, Iowa, have recently returned from a trip to Quebec City, Laurentides Park, and the Gaspé Peninsula.

The party had a memorable experience on the Little Caspédia River in the Gaspé, where they fished for salmon and sea-run brook trout. They took many trout, the largest of which was a seven-pound brookie, measuring 25 inches in length, taken by Sarah. Her boat also landed the largest salmon, weighing 12 pounds and measuring 32 inches.

Mr. Reck, on assignment with the Ford Times and Continental Magazine, also fished for smaller trout in the Laurentides Park, north of Quebec City, and took 15 trout in short order on one of the park's many lakes and streams.

Traveling the last few days with Mr. Yungclas, Mrs. Reck's brother, Fran traveled the tip of Gaspé Peninsula, where he gathered material for stories on the fishing villages of the Gaspé, the government's School for Fisheries, and the school for Hostellers at Port Prevel, a strikingly modern inn on a high bluff overlooking the Atlantic Ocean.

HARVEST MOON TO SHINE ON SEPTEMBER 13

The romantic Harvest Moon will make its first appearance at 11:12 p.m. September 13. The peculiarities of this full moon is slight delay in rising for several nights in succession. The moon rises nearly an hour later each evening, but this delay varies considerably during that the moon's path makes with the eastern horizon.

Besides its rising so nearly the same time each evening, the Harvest Moon is likely to appear larger than usual and take on quite a reddish appearance near the horizon. This is due to the condition of the Earth's atmosphere and not the moon itself.

When the moon is near the horizon its light rays, passing through more atmosphere than when near the zenith, are stripped of their blue rays more than the red, leaving the red to predominate. It then takes on a reddish appearance. At this time of year, a greater dustiness prevails in the air, and the effect may be quite pronounced.

GLEN JEDELE TO RESIDE IN SALINE

Nancy Carol McKenney and Glen Raymond Jedele are honeymooning in Northern Michigan following their marriage Saturday, Sept. 8 in the Saline Methodist church, officiated by the Rev. Donald Kraushaar.

The newlyweds' parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McKenney of Zeeb Road, Lodi township, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jedele of Waters Road, Lodi township.

The bride chose a floor-length gown of lace over tulle and net, with a sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves. A satin bow accentuated the back of the gown. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was secured by a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a white orchid on a prayer book.

Mrs. Gerald Wellwood of Saline was the matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Emily Douglas and Mrs. Steven Fischer, both of Detroit.

Richard Weisenreder of Saline was best man and ushers were Joe Riggs and Robert Drake, both of Ann Arbor.

The couple will live at 6015 Saline-Arbor Road, Saline. The bride is employed by Hoover Containers, Inc., Saline and her husband is engaged in farming.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walker and baby have moved into the Ford Longendyke home on Adrian street.

SLIPPED DISC "SLIPPING" AS MEDICAL TERM

You don't get "lambage" these days the way you used to, says an orthopedist at U of M Medical Center. But that's because it is customarily called a "slipped disc." Doctors are beginning to refuse to jump to the conclusion that because you have a back pain, you must have a slipped disc.

The chief sufferers from back pain are people who are too soft, too fat or emotionally tense.

The potential victim, says Dr. Robert Bailey, is the person who normally does little physical work, but goes on sudden spurges of activity. He might be a weekend gardener, or the man who whips off 36 holes of golf after months of not playing. "You seldom see a farmer or active athlete with back pain."

When a disc "slips" it may press against the nerve root in the spine. The pressure then sets up an agonizing sensation across the loin and leg.

Recently, doctors began wondering what happened in the year before 1934 when such operations were not performed. Doctors do not know why discs wear out with age. They lose their elasticity, and sudden spurts of physical activity by persons who are overweight and under-muscled can trigger the painful spasms.

The growing tendency among doctors is to use the most conservative treatment first: often nothing more than a period of traction during which the disc can fall back into its normal position, and relieve the pain.

EXTENSION COURSES OFFERED

Adults desiring new skills and increased professional competence are invited to select among 21 extension courses offered in 10 Central and Southern Michigan communities this fall by Michigan State University. Classes will meet at Adrian, Albion, Alma, Battle Creek, Coldwater, Hilldale, Jackson, Lansing, Marshall and Owosso. They are among 175 credit and informal courses being presented in 59 communities throughout the state by the MSU Continuing Education Service.

The first of the classes will begin the last two weeks of September, and the first two weeks of October.

ADRIAN: Swine Production, Seminars in Social and Philosophical Foundations of Education, Philosophy of Education, Basis of Guidance and Personnel Work, Guidance Practices in Schools, Public Speaking.

WACKSON: Seminars in Social and Philosophical Foundations of Education, Philosophy of Education, Special Methods and Materials of Teaching, Use of the Newspaper in the Classroom or, Special Problems, Methods of Reading at the Secondary Level, Physical Education, Psychology of Exceptional Children, Economic Problems Facing Workers.

FLOWING WELL ON SERVICE FARM

A flowing well, reported to be one of the largest in Washtenaw County was drilled last week Thursday on the Robert Service farm at 8900 Neal Road, about three miles northeast of Manchester.

The well, drilled by E. E. Cribble and Son of Dexter, is 109 feet deep, flows 2 feet above the ground and over 100 gallons a minute.

This is the second flowing well on the Service farm. The first flowing well has been in operation for many years, Mr. Service said. It is located about 100 feet from the new well.

Jack Clark of Dexter was the driller and Eugene Clark was well driller. The well has two pounds of pressure and the temperature is 52 degrees.

APPLY NOW FOR IFYE PROGRAM

Eight Michigan Youths will be sent abroad next spring and summer as International Farm Youth Exchange delegates.

Mary Woodward, assistant state 4-H leader at Michigan State University says that applications are in order.

There are few hard and fast requirements. Delegates must be 20 to 30 years of age, have a high school education, and come from a rural background.

Beyond that it's a matter of individual performance.

IFYE's are chosen for their general character, their ability to get along with others, and their desire to learn about new people and culture and promote world understanding.

Miss Woodward emphasizes that IFYE-a privately sponsored program, does not compete with government efforts such as the Peace Corps.

But an IFYE delegate should make one a much better prospect for the corps.

IFYE and the Peace Corps differ in several ways. The Peace Corpsman goes abroad primarily to give a specific type of technical aid. Personal contacts made while giving this aid should improve world conditions.

IFYE's view the world understanding as their primary goal. Delegates live with families as their adopted sons and daughters. They help with farm work, but only as part of a family activity.

Peace Corpsmen sign up for a two-year hitch. The IFYE goes abroad for only six months, though he needs several months to prepare.

IFYE's are expected to report to many civic, youth, and farm groups after his return to share their experiences. More information is available at the Washtenaw County Extension service office.

THREE APPOINTED TO OPERATE BOOKMOBILE

The Washtenaw County Librarian, George A. Curtis has appointed three staff members for the county bookmobile. The appointees, selected from over 40 who applied, will serve on a temporary appointment pending approval by the County Library Board, Sept. 13.

Julia Smith began her duties as an assistant to Myron Shaw, a University English instructor, who has been operating the bookmobile since mid-June. She succeeds Michael W. Ward of 2690 Essex Road, who returned to his classes at the University of Arizona.

The other appointees, Mary Severance of Ypsilanti, secretary and Ralph Schrader of Engadine, Michigan, driver, who will begin on Sept. 17.

Curtis will recommend the name of a cataloger to the Library board at the Sept. 13 meeting.

The county expects delivery of a bookmobile with a capacity of 3,500 volumes between Feb. 1 and March 1 of next year, Curtis said.

The county began its library service in mid-June with a bookmobile and 10,000 volumes borrowed from the Michigan State Library.

Bookmobile circulation for August was 2,701 juvenile books and 813 adult books, with the West Willow stop circulating the highest number.

The Washtenaw County Library is being established to serve areas without library service and to strengthen existing libraries with books, films, records, and professional training for their staff, office.

SUN BLINDS DRIVER, CRASH INJURES HER

A bright afternoon sun was blamed for an accident on Pleasant Lake road at 5:35 p.m. Monday in which Rosemary Nabeack, 21, of 321 W. Main street, Manchester received minor injuries. Miss Nabeack told Washenaw sheriff's men that she was driving southwest on Pleasant Lake road, near the lake, when she rounded a curve and the sun momentarily blinded her. Her car crossed the center line, left the road, plowed through a fence line and traveled for some distance in a field. She was treated for hand and knee injuries by a private physician.

PERSONAL

IT'S FUN TO SAVE
Old bath towels can make into nice mitts. Use them for dusting Venetian blinds, furniture or even in the bath tub to replace a wash cloth.
Do you have a lot of assorted tumblers? Make them into measuring cups by using a standard measuring cup and filling the tumbler with water to show proper

HELEN'S FAVORITE:
Cranberry Mold (Serves 8-10)
1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 1/2 pound can cranberry sauce
3 tablespoons pickle relish
1 1/2 ounce can mandarin oranges
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Stir in cranberry sauce and pickle relish. Drain and measure liquid from oranges. Add enough cold water to make 3/4 cup. Stir into cranberry mixture with lemon juice. Chill until mixture is syrupy, add oranges and pour into 8-cup mold to chill until firm. Unmold to serve plain as a relish or with lettuce as a salad.

amount, then mark with red nail polish to various levels, 1/4, 1/2, 3/4 and 1 cup.
Nice scraps of soap from the bathroom? Place them into a jar with warm water and let dissolve. These are nice for shampoo and basin laundering.
You can make nice pot holders out of large shoulder pads. Sew two pads together with a seam down the middle and cover with material if desired. This fits very nicely around the handle of a pan.

FALL FABRICS NEED CARE

Fall's big harvest of new fabrics need proper care or you may be rationing your clothes before spring. Finding that your new stretch pants are too long when you take them off the hanger, may just ruin your ski weekend. Stretch fabrics have a tendency to "grow" when hung according to a Michigan State University clothing specialist, so store them flat. Washing or dry cleaning will restore the original shape, but, perhaps too late for the holiday. Margaret Reed notes that before buying new fabrics and garments, make sure you know their cleaning and storing requirements. She says that laminates are best again this fall, particularly in sportswear. However, some women have found that the outer fabric may shrink or the two fabrics may come apart. This is due to the quality of fiber and weave of the outer fabric and the kind of adhering process used. The best guarantee is to buy from a reputable dealer. Cotton suede, especially popular because of this year's western influence, should be dry cleaned just as suede leather is, the specialist says. Washing may cause fading, shrinkage or damage to the sueded surface. Following label directions is usually the safest method. If cotton suede garments are water-repellent, remember that this finish must be reapplied to the fabric after each dry cleaning just as it is to other fabrics. Miss Reed points out, Also, because suede tends to fade, store it in a dark closet and don't place it in the sunny window of your car when traveling. "Even more natural furs are being imitated this year but the synthetic furs are also being used as a fabric on their own. They are finding wide use as trims as well as for entire garments. "Remember," she said, "just as 'fake furs' look like the real thing, they must also be treated like the real thing. Furs require a dark closet for storage and have a 'don't crowd me' attitude. Tight packing can break hairs and cause creases."

Our Community Chest

THE ONE BIG THING WE DO

Our Community Chest is the one big thing; it is a community to help the human needs of our area, state and our nation. We've got to look at this as a whole. It presents a program considered by a local budget committee to determine our quota which is $882 this year." Eugene Bentschneider, campaign and industrial chairman, gave his views on the Manchester United Community Fund and Red Cross Drive, which begins October 11, at a recent meeting of this year's Division Chairmen. "A Community Chest is slowly growing, because each year it includes the worthwhile and proven agencies that apply for membership that continue to appear to request funds for the pressing needs of mental and physical health. The list of agencies in the Michigan United Fund--36 this year--is picked by a committee of volunteers, from all parts of the state. They make a study of the demands and the agencies themselves as well as the local budget committee studies the local groups requesting aid from our chest.

It's logical that everyone may not be enthusiastic about giving to every one of the 47 agencies presented in the budget this year. But the one you may not favor is apt to be your neighbor's pet project. A few years ago the Diabetic Association was conducting its own campaign for funds and now it is a proven member of the United Fund.

Some of the other state-wide agencies are the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Leader Dogs for the Blind, Cerebral Palsy Association, Epilepsy Center and Michigan Children's Aid, Multiple Sclerosis and Sister Kenny Foundation. This group of 17 health and research agencies will receive about $1700 of the total Michigan United Fund request.

There are 19 national agencies including some listed above. The best known of these is the USO which is allowed 64% of the total $800 for this group of agencies.

Anyone wishing to contact Mr. Bentschneider may call him at his new phone number 28-8567.

SEVERAL FROM AREA TO BE JURORS

One hundred jurors have been drawn of October term of Circuit Court. They will report to Washtenaw county court at 8:25 a.m. October 1. The group includes: BRIDGEWATER township--Frank Ashton, Zita Bersueter, May Hardenbergh and James Pratt. FREEDOM township--Viola Schneider, Harold Eschelbach, Mildred Gehringer, and Herman Spiess. MANCHESTER township--Virginia Fielder, Geraldine Huber, Leroy Marx, and William Palmer. SALINE township--Mary Anne Rasmuson, Leota Schrader, and Adolph Stierle from Saline. SHARON township--Irene Brand, Lena Riedel and Gilbert Rukstelo.

Council Alarmed by Vandalism

How good a detective are you? Can you help the village council? These are the questions the city fathers are asking citizens of Manchester.

In recent weeks Manchester's Carr Park has been invaded by vandals who have tied the swings in knots, almost impossible to untangle, smashed windows in the rest rooms and tore the plumbing from the walls.

Paper has been thrown around the rooms and paper toweling scattered all over, according to L. P. Wurster, who has been instrumental in making the park one of the finest of its size in the area. Village council has enlisted the help of the Sheriff's Department and the State Police to put an end to the destruction of the public property of the park. But these officials cannot keep an eye on the park at all times.

Council asks that the residents of the village take an active part in cracking down on those who choose to spoil Carr Park. Pointing out that every tax payer has a special interest in this public park they ask that patrons and citizens keep an eye on the park and report any unusual cars or people, or anything suspicious going on in the area, to the police or sheriff's department.

The village is offering a $25 reward to anyone who gives information leading to the apprehension of the vandals.

HOUSE TOUR THURS. SEPT. 27

Homes to be visited on the annual St. Mary's Altar Society tour are listed. This is the third annual event of its kind in the area and homes will be shown from 1 to 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27. Included are:

Dr. William Purfield residence. This is a modern ranch style home, ideal for a family, overlooking the vast countryside of Manchester. It is the only "non-alley" house in the area. The furnishings, floors, etc. tend to reduce dust, pollen, and other materials that cause allergies.

Ralph England and Mrs. L. C. Kent residence--This home and apartment will show what can be done to an older house to modernize it. The color schemes are excellent. Both places feature modern "up to date" kitchens.

Robert Ross residence--This is also known as "Sharon Farms" and includes many points of interest. Collecting Indian lore is a hobby of Mr. and Mrs. Ross and you will see it incorporated in their home. A set of bronze flatware, just arrived from Thailand will be shown... cont on pg 3

3 Youths Held in Pony Shooting

Three youths, two 16 and one 19, arrested for the shotgun killing of a pet pony near Brooklyn, also told state police of a series of burglaries, thefts and vandalism.

State Police Detective Sgt. Charles Southworth said Raymond Vreeland, 19, of 6523 Ackerson Lake Rd., and the two younger boys admitted that the killing of the pony was but one incident of a series of vandalism last Wednesday night and early Thursday.

In addition, the trio admitted breaking into four club houses, an ice cream company, a school and two residences, Sgt. Southworth said. The youths told him, he said, that they ransacked the houses, and then splattered them with food from refrigerators. They also admitted stealing 30 gallons of gasoline from a farm and shooting at cattle and tame ducks, the sergeant said.

Sgt. Southworth said the youths offered no explanation for killing the pony of the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Howland Jr., 9227 Palmer road early Thursday. Southworth said he traced the trio through tips supplied by residents of the neighborhood.

The pony, named Prindle, was shot in the neck with a 12-gauge shotgun while it was tied to a tree near the Howland house.

Allen W. Schaffer of Manchester, president of the Schaffer Lumber Co., Saturday night said the $100 reward he offered Friday will go to the person or persons who supplied the information leading to the arrest of the boys.

This is the account of the spree Vreeland and the two younger boys related to state police.

They broke into the Grass Lake Gun Club on Burch road, but found nothing to take.

They broke into a house on Gray Towers Rd. in Grass Lake township, took a shotgun and ammunition then three eggs, and other food through the house. Thirty gallons of gasoline was taken from a tank on

HUNTER SAFETY PROGRAM TO START SEPT. 25

A Hunter Safety Program sponsored by the Manchester Sportsman's club will get underway again here starting next week.

Don Boyer, local conservation officer for this area has again appointed Laurence (Spec) Kappier to be the instructor for the three lesson series. He will be assisted by Sportsman Club president Robert Trent and Duane Braun.

Classes will be open to boys and girls 12 to 17 years and those interested are urged to plan to attend the three lesson series, which will be held at the High School Study Hall, Tuesday, September 25, October 2 and October 9 starting at 7 p.m.

Subjects to be covered include: Causes of accidents and firearms and ammunition; Handling Firearms; and Survival and Behavior in the field.

After completion of a written exam at the close of the series, certificates will be presented from the conservation department by Mr. Kappier, who says that teaching young people the use of firearms is certainly rewarding and instrumental in preventing accidents.

DUTCHMEN 12-6 WINNER IN OPENER

Manchester High School's football team presented new coach Dewey Smith with a 12-6 victory over Britton Friday night in a non-conference opening contest for both.

Britton tallied in the opening period on a 14-yard dash, but the Dutch punched over a pair of TD's in the second quarter for the clinchers. Quarter-back Carl Miller pitched a scoring pass to halfback Dave Patch covering 73 yards and Gary Mitchell picked up a fumble and romped 20 yards to pay dirt. Both Manchester conversion attempts from placement were blocked.

Pleasant Lake PTA will meet Tuesday, October 9 at 8 p.m.
