

WATER SAFETY CLASSES TO START

Registrations are now being accepted for the 1963 series of Red Cross swimming and Water Safety Instructor Classes, the Washtenaw County Chapter's Safety Services Division announced.

Two separate programs will start during the third week of January covering all levels of water skills from the non-swimmer through the Water Safety Instructor rating.

Red Cross Adult Swimming program conducted at the Ann Arbor High school pool Wednesday evenings beginning January 23, will include sections for the non-swimmer, intermediate swimmer, swimmer and senior life saving.

Various sections will again be taught by Red Cross volunteer instructors each Wednesday evening for 8 weeks.

These educational classes are open to the people in the county at least 17 years of age; but registration will have to be limited to the first 60 persons signing up. Locker assignments will be made in the West Cafeteria at 7 p.m. in the High School 601 W. Stadium Blvd., with the first lesson starting as soon as everyone has been accommodated. Students should bring along their suits, towels, and caps for the ladies. Registration for any of the levels may be made by calling the Red Cross at 662-5546 before January 11 deadline.

The annual Red Cross Safety Instructor training program will get under way January 22nd, at Tappan Junior High School pool at 7:30 p.m.

This specialized training program is open to any individual in the county who holds a current Red Cross Senior Life Saving certificate and will be at least 18 years of age by the 1st of May, 1963.

Volunteer Instructor-Trainee Gerald Greenlick, who will be Aquatic Director for the 16 week course, noted that students should bring along with them the first night: pencils and paper as well as their suits, towels, and Senior Life Saving certificates.

Candidates for the Instructor's rating are expected to attend each of the 16 sessions which meet each Tuesday evening except for the Easter vacation period.

Registration for this course may be made by contacting the Red Cross at 662-5546 before Jan. 11. Late entries will not be permitted and once the class limit is reached registration will close.

Anyone expecting to have a summer job teaching swimming is reminded that this course is the only one to be given before summer.

FIVE CENT LETTER RATE, STANDARD FEE 115 YEARS AGO

The new nickel letter rate recently enacted into law is the same postage rate Americans paid for letters when the United States issued its first postage stamp 115 years ago. The rate goes into effect Jan. 7, 1963.

Research shows that, in 1847, the Post Office Department issued its first stamps, including a nickel stamp for the basic prepaid letter rate.

A nickel was a lot harder to come by in those days. Since 1932, while living costs for the American family have skyrocketed by 118 per cent, the cost of mailing a first-class letter has only increased by one cent, or 33 per cent. At five cents, as in 1847- it will still be one of the greatest bargains in American history. The new five cent stamp will bear the picture of George Washington and will be printed in blue. In all, more than 70 different George Washington stamps have been issued and the number of such Washington stamps sold totals more than 405 billion.

INCOME TAX RECORDS WILL BE NEEDED

Beginning January 1, 1963 every businessman, professional man and salesman who wants to continue deducting the cost of entertaining an associate client or customer or the cost of travel, meals and lodging on the road will have a lot of adjusting to do.

Because of the 1962 tax law, not only are the rules regarding the types of such travel and entertainment tightening, but for the first time record-keeping or other substantial reports will be a legal necessity.

If the businessman does not keep proper records or have someone else willing and able to testify to the amount, time and place of the entertainment expense, then the Internal Revenue Service can disallow a deduction.

A later income tax primer article will discuss these record-keeping rules in detail. But remember that unless you have the proper records starting Jan. 1 no matter how directly and entertainment expense relates to your business, you may be denied deductions. The new law makes the following changes:

AN ENTERTAINMENT expense will not be deductible unless the taxpayer establishes that it is directly related to or associated with the active business. That is, the entertainment must be conducted either where there is an opportunity for business discussion, or it must precede or follow what the law calls a "substantial and bona fide business discussion."

Many club dues will not be deductible at all unless over one-half of the use of the club during the year is in the furtherance of the taxpayers' business. And then, dues are deductible only to the extent directly related to business.

Business gifts will be deductible only to the extent of $25 per recipient—except for certain promotional advertising materials.

Fourth, no longer will the entire amount you spend for meals and lodging while away from home be deductible only because the primary purpose of the trip is business. No lavish or extravagant travel expense will be deductible.

The Internal Revenue will publish rules for allocating the expense of a trip of more than one week's duration to business and pleasure. The new law will permit a deduction for only the business portion of such trips, despite the primary business purpose.

However, the new law will not require an allocation to pleasure where the trip lasts less than one week or where less than 24 percent of the time of any trip is shown to be devoted to pleasure.

There is technical exception to these rules for employees who are reimbursed for such expenses but then the employer must abide by the new rules or lose his (or its) deduction for the amount reimbursed.

Q—If the membership in a country club entitles the member's entire family to use the facilities of the club does his family's use count when determining whether the club was used in the furtherance of his business?

A—Yes, and if over one-half of the use of the club is by him and his family for personal purposes, none of the dues will be deductible for 1963.

Q—How about dues in civic organizations like Kiwanis or Rotary? Are such dues subject to the strict new tests?

A—No, they are only subject to the old "ordinary and necessary business expense test. The same is true of professional associations and of union dues. Organizations are invited to turn in a report to the church office before January 5th, of the activities of their group.

The report is to be informative of the spiritual growth of the group. All treasurers are asked to have their books presented to the auditors before the time of the annual meeting and that a financial report, for the annual report should reach pastor, Rev. Ralph Kuether not later than January 5th.

PUSSY WILLOWS!

Mrs. Fred Fielder called to say that she has pussy willows in a large vase blossoming beside her Christmas tree. The heavy wind earlier in the month while we were having the last balmy warm weather broke and bent over many of the branches. She cut them off and brought them inside. On Christmas Day they started to blossom.

She also noted that early in December there were dandelions and other small flowers blooming on their farm north of town.

For Safer Winter Driving, Take a Tip From The Pros

FLINT, Mich. — Winter driving can be safe, enjoyable and more economical if you will follow the same basic rules used by a group of the nation's top drivers — Buick Motor Division's team of professional test drivers.

These expert drivers, operating at the General Motors Proving Grounds test track, Milford, Mich., have been driving day and night, summer and winter, for more than 33 years without a lost time accident. In this period, they've logged many millions of miles on new Buicks.

A. E. McManama, general supervisor of Buick's road test department, says there are certain fundamental rules followed by Buick's driving team for safe winter driving:

- 1. Snow and rain: "Both cause wet highways and wet highways are a hazard. Even more important, though, visibility is cut down by either element, and this is the factor that determines your safe driving speed."
 - 2. Ice on highway: "It depends on the traction you are getting," says McManama. "If we're not getting traction, we get off the road."
 - 3. Safe speeds: "A good rule of thumb in rain or snow is cut your speed 10 to 15 mph below the 'Safe speed,'" says McManama.
 - 4. Clean, clear windows: "If your car stays outdoors at night, a cardboard or newspaper over the windshield (let the wiper blade hold it in place) will prevent your windows from frosting. In driving, an open vent will prevent your windows from steaming. Every window, plus the outside rear view mirror, should be clear."
 - 5. Getting out of a skid: "If you're driving properly, you won't get into a skid," points out the Buick supervisor. "But if you do, DON'T touch the brakes. You have to steer yourself out of it, and you can do this only by keeping some traction."
 - 6. Warming up your engine: "You should idle the engine a couple minutes to circulate the oil. Don't race the engine during this warm-up. When you start, do it at a reasonable speed. In the new Buicks, watch the green light on the temperature indicator. When this goes off, your engine is warm, and you can also turn your heater on."
 - 7. Drive a clean car: "Winter darkness is more difficult to drive by than summer darkness. You don't have the light penetration. A car that becomes covered with salt and road dirt is difficult to be seen by an oncoming driver, particularly against a dull gray winter background. Keep your car clean for your own safety, as well as the car's protection."
- McManama sums up safe winter driving in two words — "Be conservative."
- "If you think 55 mph might be safe on a wet road, then cut your speed to 40. If there's any question about being able to stay on an icy road, then pull off the road."
- "If winter drivers will just remember that they can't operate the way they do in summer, their motoring will be much safer, and more enjoyable, in spite of the weather," McManama says.

BLANKETS CAN SAVE A LIFE

Michigan Protestant Churches, with the help of the Council of Churches and United Church Women, are conducting an intensive campaign to collect good used and new blankets for Algerian relief, according to Mr. Russell Hartzler, Michigan CROP Director. The slogan "bring a blanket and a quarter to Church Sunday is part of the promotional material being used in more than 2,000 Protestant Churches in Michigan.

650,000 blankets are being sought in view of the bitter winter ahead. 10,000 blankets were shipped by air in late November, but many more are needed.

From January 7 to 12 Church World Service trucks are collecting blankets from some 40 selected depots in Michigan and taking them to Church World Service Center in Nappanee, Indiana where they will be sorted, baled and quickly sent on their mission of mercy.

Sunday, Jan. 6 is the last Sunday in the current appeal to take your blanket and quarter (for processing costs) to Church. Your church will tell you whether your church is participating.

Jackson police are holding a 16-year-old boy on stolen car charges after a high speed chase west of Jackson early Wednesday morning.

The youth was apprehended by Cpl. Richard Fox at W. Michigan Avenue and Dearing Road at about 5:30 a.m. after a seven-mile chase from the Way Baking Co. parking lot on Carr St. at speeds up to 90 miles an hour.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a white peau de doie gown of a fitted designed bodice, long sleeves and round neckline. A fan of self material was attached to the back of the waist with a floating panel of illusion. She carried a white orchid and mums on a prayer book. The bride's gown was designed and made by Mrs. Russell Hughes of Manchester.

Maid of honor was Carolyn Conner of Saline, friend of the bride. Her gold brocade dress featured a bell shaped skirt with a cabbage rose headpiece with an attached illusion cape. She carried a bouquet of greens centered with a wood rose. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gilbert Hayes of Ann Arbor cousin of the bride and Phyllis Hartman of Saline. Their gowns were identical to that of the honor attendant.

Best man was James Scully of Manchester, brother of the bridegroom. Seating the guests were William Kirk, Jr. and Douglas Elfring of Saline. The flower girls were Sharon Hieber of Williamston, neice of the bride, and Brenda Elfring of Saline neice of the bridegroom. Their gowns were ivory colored silk with a fitted bodice, full skirt and sash bows. Their headpieces were cabbage roses and they were carrying tote bags of mums and greens.

Bank Director Resigns

G. William Kramer

The Board of Directors of the Union Savings Bank of Manchester announced this week that Director G. William Kramer had asked to be relieved of his directorship on the bank board due to illness.

Mr. Kramer was first elected to the Board of Directors of the Peoples Bank in Manchester at the annual meeting January 14, 1936. During his tenure of office on The Peoples Bank board and later on the board of the Union Savings Bank after the merger in 1956, he has seen the combined total assets of the institutions grow from slightly over 1 million dollars to the present total assets of over 6 million dollars. He has held the title of Vice President of both of the banking organizations.

His superb knowledge of people, families, and property in the area will be greatly missed by the officers and bank board. G. William Kramer was born in Manchester on St. Patrick's day in 1881 in the same home where he and his wife now reside. He is the son of Joseph and Sally Kramer. He graduated from Manchester High School and in 1907 he graduated top in his class, with a Bachelor of Music degree from Ohio Northern University in Ada, Ohio.

During his school years he was very active as a singer in many theatrical productions and also as a soloist at many weddings and other social functions. He was chosen as soloist at the Commencement for his Ohio Northern University graduation.

After graduation from college he traveled for several years with the Burgomaster Shows in their opera-type presentations. These shows were presented in nearly all of the states and throughout Canada.

On leaving the show business, "Bill" spent several years in the egg and poultry business in the Manchester area. His enterprise was located in a frame building on the corner of Riverside and Duncan Streets, which property he later sold to Alvin Ahrens, who built the present brick home located on this corner. Bill and his wife, the former Minnie Burman, were married in 1931.

In 1918 he joined the Post Office Department as a rural mail carrier on a route through Freedom, Sharon, and Bridgewater Townships. He became famous on the mail route for his accommodating nature and his annual portrayal of Santa Claus to all his patrons. It was his custom at Christmas to dress as Santa and with Mrs. Kramer driving him would deliver his mail and also personal gifts to the children on his route. He received many citations and much publicity for this activity.

He retired from the Postal Service in 1950, and many will remember the parties and tributes given to him at that time. Bill was one of the organizers of the Father Edwin Fisher Manchester Council of the Knights of Columbus and was the first Grand Knight of this group.

He was always active in church and civic projects and always ready to lend a hand to someone in need. The bank Board of Directors and many friends extend good wishes to Bill at this time and their hope for his recovery.
