This is a time when service clubs, leagues and other organizations join in to promote the state of Michigan.

General chairman of Mayor Exchange Day in Manchester is Luther Klager and Manchester will be host to Wardsbury's mayor, James Winters.

Planning the Mayor Exchange Day program, Richard Kuntz of Double products; John Pippenger of the Village Council; Les C. Hendley will present the Professional and Optimist Club and dances will be represented by Ed Galloway and McNally.

School Election

The annual school election will be held June 10. To be eligible to vote citizens must be registered with the township clerk. If residents have been eligible to vote in recent national, state and township elections are eligible to vote in school election and registered.

Robert R. Masten

Community Chest

"Gallon Donor" pins were awarded to two Manchester Blood Club members by James M. Davis, Washtenaw County Chapter Chairman of the American Red Cross to open the annual Community Chest meeting May 2. Edward Galloway is the first in the local club to be awarded a "2 Gallon Donor" pin and Walter Samonek is the eighteen "Gallon Donor" for the area.

Eight of the agencies and organizations included in the Manchester Community Chest budget were present to give reports for their organizations and discuss their future plans. Eight civic organizations from the area sent representatives to express their views and to report back to their groups on the Chest activities. The financial statement for the year was given by the treasurer, Louis Vogel, showing a balance on hand of $591.32. The election of four board members for three year terms went to Clarence Fielder, Clayton Parr, Ted Tapping and Mrs. Glenn Lehr. The others listed on the ballot were Allen Alber, Paul Boehler, Herbert Mahoney and Mrs. Richard Way. At the board meeting following the annual meeting, officers were elected by the group for the coming year: Clarence Fielder, president; Clayton Parr, vice president; Louis Vogel, treasurer and Mrs. Ray Tirt, secretary. Dates for the next fall's United Community Fund and Red Cross Drive were set for October 10 through 31. The campaign chairman will be appointed at the next meeting of the board on June 24.

Mr. Masten came to Manchester in 1952 as high school principal. He moved up to the post of Superintendent of Schools when Fred Atkinson vacated the position to become Superintendent of the Utica Schools in 1956.

Mr. Masten said he has mixed emotions concerning leaving town. He has always wanted to locate in the Grand Rapids area if the opportunity would arise for professional advancement.

Mr. Masten said he and his wife and family will miss the friendly contacts they had in Manchester and will always regard it as their home town.

"You can't just leave a community like Manchester after such a long time without regrets-even for a better position. The Forrest Hill Schools have an enrollment of 2800 students-12 buildings and is a large Class B School. I hope this new position will be as satisfactory as this one and that I receive the same cooperation and help from that community as I have received in Manchester."

Honor attendants of the couple were Miss Sherry Schaible of Saline and Ronald Tucker, the bridegroom's brother. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Lois Vitale of Ann Arbor and Miss Janet Engelbert of Chelsea. Guests were seated by Kirk Gordon, Stanley King, Douglas Hoelt and the brother of the bride, Raymond Feldkamp all of Saline. Lee Feldkamp was ring bearer and Janice Feldkamp was flower girl. Following a reception in the church parlors the couple left on a week's trip to Florida. The bride is employed at University of Michigan and her husband is employed at Hoover Containers, Inc.

TWO MILLAGE REQUESTS TO BE SUBMITTED

A special four mill request identical to and replacing last year's request will be presented. This amount of extra finance will be needed to preserve the school program at its present level because of rising costs. The Board has found it necessary to eliminate one teacher and to discontinue most of the remedial reading program. These cuts will offset a fifty dollar per cent of living raise added to the teachers' salary schedule and other increased costs. Because of the small amount needed to rehire the Pleasant Lake school, this four mills would be reduced about a half a mill. The approval of this four mills is drastically needed a full time accredited school is to serve Manchester youth in future years. Because of the definite need of improvements in the total school program a special one mill tax will be requested for the improvement of two school libraries and the addition of maps, globes and reference books in history, geography and social studies courses for the total school. After studying the report of the Bureau of School Services with citizens it was thought that an improvement program was necessary immediately if the school was to progress. With the Pleasant Lake mill being reduced this year and completely eliminated next year, the Board of Education, with the commendation of the local citizen's advisory group, unanimously approved requesting this extra mill. The libraries are very inadequate and by all standards need upgrading if students are to have materials for an adequate education. A complete survey shows that ten globes and twenty maps serve twenty-one elementary rooms and sixteen junior and Senior High classes. These classes contain a multitude of subjects in the areas of history, geography, social studies, political science and current events.

Decorator's Notebook

by HOPE HILL
Interior Design Consultant
OWENS-CORNING FIBERGLAS CORP.

This Month: JANE ASHLEY

Internationally-known colorist, lecturer, noted designer of contemporary and traditional interiors, Jane Ashley is one of the leading women in American design today. Among her many credits and current projects is a fifty-six-room Edwardian mansion for an exclusive resort, The Tower Island Club in Canada; Gypsy Rose Lee's beautiful home in Beverly Hills; the interiors of an 83-foot yacht which will be launched in December. Whenever time permits, Miss Ashley works on a book to be called, "Decorating With Love" - which she hopes to have published as a paper back-making it available to millions of women who cannot afford a decorator. It's this down-to-earth approach and awareness of the practical as well as the beautiful, that brings Fiberglas, in a range of colors, designs and finishes, into many of her room settings. The versatile glass-fiber material is fade-proof, shrink-proof, and defies damage from moisture and mildew. And, this most modern of materials, is equally at home in any room... from Modern to American Traditional.

A frequent exhibitor at The Fiberglas Center in New York, Miss Ashley is a member of the American Institute of Interior Designers, The Decorators' Club and The National Home Fashions League. She is an acknowledged expert on American antiques and boasts one of the finest collections in the country.

Next month we'll profile another top interior designer for you.

Sunday Matinee      May 12
From-2:30-6:30

Have you heard? The biggest home furnishing news these days is Toile (pronounced twall). And it has nothing to do with work. Rather, Toile is the French word for fabric and dates back to the 18th century when Oberkampf established his famous textile factory in Jouy, France.

The patterns of these fabrics were influenced by the elegant life of the Louis' (remember Marie Antoinette?). They depict gentlemen and ladies in both formal and pastoral settings and usually were reproduced on rich linens.

With the current emphasis on provincial and Early American lines in home furnishings, Toile has achieved new importance as a mood-catching backdrop.

The United Wallpaper Company of Chicago, the nation's leading wallpaper manufacturer, has managed to recapture several delightful Toile patterns in its new collections.

For instance, Toile is available with matching fabrics in tones of wedgewood blue, ruby and sepia on a creamy background in the new Varlar Collection. Varlar is the original stainproof vinyl wallcovering which can be scrubbed 25,000 times.

The new PDQ collection of pre-pasted wallpapers (you need only dip these papers in cool water and apply to the wall) also boasts three Toile patterns.

The soft lines of the design blend perfectly with cherry, mahogany and rosewoods. You can create a custom appearance in your room by using the matching fabric for draperies, slipcovers or bedspreads (Toile can be outstanding in the master bedroom!).

Many decorators like Toile wallcoverings and slipcovers but use felt in a corresponding solid color for cafe curtains, secured by a bright brass rod.

There are many ways to use Toile according to your individual taste. But whatever your choice, you may be assured that Toile will give your period furnishings the elegant backdrop they deserve—at modest prices!

INDY INSIGHTS

By RODGER WARD
Indianapolis "500" Winner

As preparations get underway for this year's Indianapolis 500-Mile Race on May 30, most of the attention during the next week or so days will be centered on rookies trying to pass the driving test required of all newcomers by the United States Auto Club.

Every driver without previous racing experience on the Indianapolis track is a rookie in the eyes of USAC officials, regardless of his accomplishments elsewhere, and the record of each applicant is given serious study. Permission to take the test, also called a familiarization program, is granted only to those who have earned it on the basis of their performance in other USAC or international events.

My rookie "class" in 1957 consisted of 15 applicants. Seven were "qualified" and six of them earned starting positions.

Six other drivers who had passed their test the previous May, without getting into the starting lineup, also made the grade with us after getting another full season of experience elsewhere making a total of 12 first-year participants in that event.

Since that time no more than eight newcomers have started in any "500" and I'll be surprised if more than six succeed this year. Last May there were only five. There is no substitute for experience.

This year the rookie group includes such stars as Graham Hill of England and Jimmy Clark of Scotland, winner and runner-up for the 1962 world's road racing championship. But most newcomers are products of USAC competition on the nation's mile and half-mile ovals.

They come to Indianapolis brimming with hope and confidence, determined to win one of the 33 starting positions behind the Chrysler 500 pace car on race day. But none of them realize how difficult this track is — with its four distinct 90-degree turns — in comparison with other race courses on which they have driven.

The Indianapolis Speedway unquestionably is the world's safest race course. Every track, however, presents certain hazards to the participants and newcomers at Indianapolis are sure to have trouble unless they acquire a sincere respect for the course before attempting to run at racing speed.

Rookies who fail to display the necessary ability are advised to get additional experience elsewhere before trying again the following year. This one-by-one series may participate in official time trials which determine the 33 eligible to start the race.

Good News For Summer Drivers

FANWOOD, N.J.—From our automotive friends in England comes a new preparation that will be a welcome addition to the touring kit of American motorists this summer. It permanently protects tires from slow leaks and rim leakage and makes them self-sealing in the case of punctures. Called Tyre Sealer, the product may be used in either tube or tubeless tires, new or re-tread. It is available in the United States through the Tregtown Automotive division of Westmore, Inc. here.

Packaged in a convenient squeeze bottle, the sealer is installed without removing the tire. Inside the tire, the preparation forms a protective coating as you drive and instantly seals leaks. The sealer stays soft and pliable permanently and won't harm rubber or affect wheel balance. A single application lasts the life of the tire.
