With the passing of Frank G. Leeson on Friday, May 24th, the best member of the Manchester Methodist Church, from the stand-membership, had come to an end. Brother Leeson turned 12 years old on December 9th 1892 and at this tender age decided to become a Christian and unite with the church. It was in January of 1933, the day is not given in the record, that he must have stood before the congregation and made his confession of Christ, answered in the affirmative that he would be loyal to the Methodist Church and uphold its prayers, his presence, gifts and his services. No other person's name is recorded that date.

Thus began what came to be probably the longest membership in the Manchester Methodist Church in its history. For seventy more years he was faithful that pledge before the altar that day. As a faithful member of the church, he was eventually placed in leadership positions. While some of the earlier records of the church are not available at this time, Brother Leeson was on the board as early as 1923 when he was acting secretary. He was also on the trustee Board for many years. Other positions he filled were that of Steward, Chairman of the Pastoral Relations and Pulpit Supply Committee. These are very important positions in the Methodist Church and it is stated in the records that he was faced on several committee at different times. Mr. Leeson is gone, but his labors of love for the church will be a permanent record of the church. Other deeds of kindness and goodness is recorded in the books of heaven. They probably will never be known by mortal man. Jesse D. Epps, pastor

REV. FULLER TO BE GUEST PREACHER

The Reverend Densel Fuller, pastor at Munising, Michigan, will be the guest preacher at the Manchester Methodist Church on Sunday June 9th at 11:00 a.m. Rev. Fuller's subject will be, "Turn Him Loose." Since Rev. Fuller was in business in Manchester before entering the ministry and also was Superintendent of the Sunday school, before going into the ministry from this church, it is thought that perhaps there would be many in the community that would like to be here to hear him preach. The public is invited to the services. There will be a coffee hour after church.

SCHOOL BOARD PRESIDENT RECEIVES AWARD

Luther Klager, school board president, Luther Klager, has been cited by the Michigan Education Association for his outstanding work in the field of education. Mr. Klager has been on the school board for 18 years and president of the board since 1954. During that time there have been four successful building programs, two remodeling programs and a continual upgrade of school standards. Mr. Klager also is the general chairman of the annual chicken broil which nets over $2,000 annually for improvements in the community. In years past, the Michigan Education Association has paid special recognition to people outside the teaching profession who have contributed the most to education in promoting education in Michigan.

Here's a skilletful of good eating that's as easy on the budget as it is on the cook. Smoked sliced beef is the meaty ingredient which adds its good flavor to this main dish.

Cubed raw potatoes, scalloped in this fashion in a skillet atop the range, have all the old-fashioned flavor goodness of those oven-baked—but are a breeze to prepare. The starch from the raw potatoes blends with the butter and evaporated milk to bring about a smooth, creamy sauce during the cooking so that no flour is needed for thickening. For just good plain scalloped potatoes anytime, omit the beef and cook in this fashion.

CHIPPED BEEF AND POTATO SCALLOP

1/2 cup butter
1 pkg. (3 1/2 oz.) smoked sliced beef
1/2 cup chopped onion
3 large potatoes, peeled and cubed (4 cups)

1 cup boiling water
1 tall can evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups)
Salt and pepper
1 tablespoon dried or fresh cut parsley (optional)

Melt butter in a large skillet. Pull beef into small pieces and cook gently in butter over low heat until edges begin to curl. Remove beef from pan and set aside. Add onion and potatoes to skillet. Cook over low heat until most of fat is absorbed and the onion is transparent, about 3 to 4 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add boiling water and evaporated milk; continue cooking over low heat until potatoes are tender and sauce begins to thicken, about 25 to 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add 1 teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper and beef; mix well and cook until heated through, about 3 to 4 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in parsley and serve.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

GOOD PASTURE can mean low cost milk production, poor pasture means high cost milk and lost production. Be sure your summer pasture is more than an ex-lie cow. Good pastures produce as long as possible by rotating areas, holding the soil fertility level high and by avoiding overgrazing. Feed gain when needed; don't shut-change the cow on feed. Plan to provide supplemental pasture to be ready when native grasses become dormant.

LONG-RANGE CATTLE OUTLOOK points to declining prices over the next few years. Numbers of all types of cattle will be increasing, but there are six-tilting factors. Bottom will not drop out of the market overnight, although profit opportunities probably will not be as good as they have been. Little closer than usual. In view of probable sagging cow prices later in the year, any culling should be done soon.

SIDEDRESSING CORN gives you a chance to apply the right amount of nitrogen after evaluating past stand. You can expect a 7-bushel yield for each 1000 plants you count. About 1 1/2-2 pounds of N is required to produce each bushel of grain. For example, with 15,000 plants per acre, yield potential is 205 bushels. You will need a total of about 180 pounds of N from sidedressing, starter application and that previously in the area.

BE CAREFUL WITH ANHYDROUS AMMONIA. It packs a do-die danger. The liquid can severely burn the skin and cause blindness if it gets in the eyes. Inhalation of the vapor paralyzes the chest muscles, causing asphyxiation and possible death.

MILK EXPERT

What! A milk expert who doesn't even know milk gives you 86 nutrients! Doesn't know that milk and dairy products provide 28% of our food, yet take only 19% of our food dollar. Has never heard milk is nature's most nearly perfect food!

Well, there are all kinds of milk experts. Some know what to say about milk. Others know what to do with it.

Just proves one thing. You don't have to know all the "reasons why" to be a milk expert. Tastes good. Reason enough.

Household Hints by Joan March Worden
Director, Fine Cleaner Information Center.

Do you use disinfectants in your home? Eighty-one percent of the women interviewed in a recent Gallup survey do. Big uses in bathroom cleaning but more than half the respondents use disinfectants in general cleaning. Here's how to lower the germ count all around your house.

DISINFECTANTS — keep high chair, bathmat, and crib clean and reasonably germ free by sponging furnishings daily with a pine oil cleaner-disinfectant solution mixed with water as the manufacturer recommends. Rinse small-fry furniture with lots of clear warm water after using any disinfectant.

BATHROOM — Eight out of 10 women use disinfectants here. Clean, disinfect and deodorize all porcelain and tile — sinks, bowls, and tubs — shower curtains and bathmats by using a pine oil product.

COMMUNICATION LINES — keep communication lines free of germs. Sponge phone and mouthpiece occasionally with a pine oil disinfectant solution — especially in the sneezy season.

HOUSEKEEPING TOOLS — mops, cellulose sponges, dust-cloths, and your favorite clean-up gadgets do a better job if they are clean and disinfected. After each use soak your "tools" in a solution of pine oil cleaner and hot water.

SICKROOMS — all around the sickroom sanitation means cleanliness plus. Disinfect and clean at the same time by using a pine oil disinfectant in the wash, and the recommended dilution on floors and furniture.

Teen Talk

HIP-HAPPY?
by Margie Blake, Carnation Teen Committee

No one's happy when she's hippy, and if you've acquired that hip-happy look from long winter afternoons of inactivity and indulgence, now is the time to start the battle of the bulge. Summer is coming and last year's bathing suit surrounding this winter's extra pounds will make you the neighborhood beach bomb, while buying sport clothes one size larger is definitely demoralizing.

So you know all this. You're already on a diet your mother uses, approved by your family doctor, and you're even getting up five minutes early to exercise so that you can firm up the flesh as you peel off the pounds. And you still haven't eliminated an inch because this is the partyingest time of year and you don't want to win first prize for giving out with the largest number of No-Thank-You's in the smallest amount of time.

You can still be a demon dieter and still keep it secret if you keep one thing in mind. No one will notice you're exercising won't-power if YOU DON'T TELL THEM. Guys and gals gather for fun, not to count the number of cokes, cake and canapes you—or anyone else—eats.

So accept the first glass of soda or punch, take one sip and put it down. When you're offered the next you can say, "Thank you, I have a glass," and point to it. Ditto with the next and the next. Nibble the edge of the first canape and protest you still have one when the tray comes round again. In other words, eat a little of everything, but only a little.

As long as you assure your hostess you're provided for, neither she nor your friends will notice you're cutting down on calories so you can cut up at the beach slimmer and sleek.

And when it's your turn to give a shower, after-dance good-night snack, or pre-graduation party, serve a menu that's low on calories and high in taste thrills.

Partyburgers are low-calorie hamburgers with a clever assortment of ingredients blended together by evaporated milk which keeps the ground beef juicy and prevents crumbling. Have a Lazy Susan full of hot and cold toppings: hot sauerkraut, baked beans, cold relish, tomatoes, etc. Add a salad for after and fruit for dessert and you'll have a pretty menu.

To make six servings of Partyburgers, combine 1/2 cup (small can) undiluted Carnation evaporated milk, 1 egg, 1 1/2 pounds lean ground beef, 1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 cup finely chopped onion, and 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper. Blend together until well mixed. Form meat mixture into 12 thin patties (about 1/2 cup each).

Place each patty on hamburger bun half, covering completely. Place Partyburgers on broiler pan. Broil 5 to 7 inches from heat for 5 to 7 minutes (or to taste).

The Carnation Teen Committee, made up of teens in schools across the country, makes suggestions for this column. If you have an idea, or want a Teen Party Idea Booklet, write to CTC, 124 E. 38th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

Newest, Coolest Spring Delight

Spring is a bright, bustling season... time to introduce your family to Whipped Banana Orange Pudding, a new taste treat developed by the home economists of Carnation Company. It's one of our "spring specials"... a light, fluffy dessert that tells everyone that a whole season of your good cooking is just beginning! And it's so easy... so good... and so inexpensive. The secret is Carnation, the milk you can whip like cream, and it costs only one half as much.
Carnation Evaporated Milk has been an important ingredient in America's cooking and baking since before 1903. This spring Carnation Company is introducing a new can label in full color featuring spectacular new illustrated recipes on the back of the can. Use nutritious evaporated milk as it comes from the can or diluted equally with water whenever recipes call for milk. It's fine for hearty cream soups, nourishing casseroles and puddings, over cereals and in your coffee, too!

WHIPPED BANANA ORANGE PUDDING
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1 package (3½ ounce) vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
1 large can (1½ cups) undiluted evaporated milk
¾ cup water
¼ cup orange juice
½ teaspoon grated orange peel

Pleasures Of Patio Living Protected

The pleasures of outdoor living, backyard variety included, often are dimmed for all but the most rugged purists by eye-straining glare, hungry insects and sudden summer storms. But many families have found that a simple enclosure provides both the enjoyment of open air living and the comforts of a sheltered room.

The whole effect should be as airy and open, yet sturdy, as modern materials, construction and colors can make it.

In this case, for example, combining slim supporting members and colors that blend with greens of the landscape with virtually invisible fiberglass screening and translucent panels.

The framing of green anodized aluminum was erected over the 20-foot square formal flagstone patio adjacent to the house. Green translucent vinyl panels, recently introduced by Monsanto Chemical Company, were used for the roof. They soften sunlight, permitting warmth without glare and, incidentally, do not darken the rest of the house. Non-combustible as well as weather resistant and rust-proof, the panels are said to be tough enough to withstand gale winds and the heaviest snow loads, if they are properly supported and fastened.

Plans for a patio cover such as this, or carport, fence and pool enclosure, are available for ten cents to cover the cost of mailing from Monsanto, St. Louis 86, Mo.

Boating Tips...

1. RED, EVEN NUMBERS

3. BLACK AND WHITE VERTICAL STRIPES

4. BLACK AND RED HORIZONTAL STRIPES

Each of the familiar buoys shown above has a story to tell.

If you haven't been "getting their messages", here's what they mean: 1) Red, even-numbered nun buoys—keep them on your right entering a channel or going upstream (remember: red, right, returning). 2) Black, odd-numbered can buoys—keep them on your left entering a channel from seaward or going upstream. 3) Black-and-white vertical stripes—mid-channel marker which can be passed on either side. 4) Black-and-red horizontal stripes—obstruction marker which should be passed on side indicated by topmost color. For example, if the top color is red, keep the buoy on the right entering a harbor. Clear all buoys by at least 50 feet, caution Mercury boating experts. Also, don't tie up to a buoy—it's a federal offense.

TAKE A '63 FORD OUT ON THE ROAD!

Front-running Fords have been proving it takes total performance to win in big-league stock-car competition. A grandstand show of speed and acceleration isn't enough. It takes durability, too. Open competition is a speeded-up test of how well each part of a car does its job under all-out conditions. It's a test of how well all the parts work together. Mechanical failure forced some pretty hot performers to quit in the Riverside 500... the Daytona 500... Atlanta 500... and the shorter Bristol 250. The important point is this: the Fords that won at Daytona were built on the same production line as the Fords you can buy today. Total performance is built right in. In competition or in the kind of driving you do every day, Ford delivers. See your Ford Dealer and sample total performance for yourself.

Riverside, Calif. A '63 Super Torque Ford crossed the finish line first in a field of 44 cars. And this 500-mile event is run over a twisting, up-and-down-hill 2.7-mile sports-car track.

Daytona, Fla. In the toughest 500-mile event of the season, Fords came in 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th. More than half the starting cars in a field of 50 never even went the distance.

Atlanta, Ga. Score another big win for Ford in open competition—the Atlanta "500." Every part of a car is tested to the limits of endurance in about 3 hours of all-out driving at Atlanta.

Bristol, Tenn. This 250-mile event on a half-mile track is one long, continuous left turn. Fords finished 1st and 2nd—another dramatic victory for total performance.

AGRICULTURE in Action

by M. L. Woolf

"Newspaper publishers have about the same problems as do farmers." That's the observation of Walter Wightman, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, and a life-time farmer who has a healthy respect for the newspaper industry.

"It's not easy to be competitive," he said. "Farmers know this, and so do those who publish newspapers. Farmers have been facing a cost-price squeeze, also familiar to those in the publishing business."

In both cases, the cost of labor has climbed to new highs and truly skilled labor is hard to find. Both groups have compensated with higher per-man investments. He indicated that this investment was "somewhere around $50,000 per man, currently."

AMONG OTHER parallels, the farm leader mentioned a close-knit feeling of teamwork found both in newspaper and farm work, and the fact that many of the most efficient operations in either case depended upon a strong "family" attitude.

He added that each newspaper is an independent local business, just as are farm operations, and that both add greatly to a higher standard of living.

Mr. Wightman said that farmers should not forget that newspapers are "our best allies when it comes to building bridges of understanding between rural and urban groups, and when it comes to supporting the free, competitive enterprise idea."

He laughed at the popular notion that newsmen "exploit" people and communities in which they live for the sake of headlines. "Newspapermen are responsible people, and they accept their responsibilities seriously."

The Farm Bureau president said that a newspaper subscription is an investment in communications, and that local newspapers are one of the few real bargains that remain.

THE CITIZENS' SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION OF MANCHESTER

Many of our citizens are familiar with the scholarship fund, but a word of explanation for those who are not. The aim is to aid the student graduating from Manchester High School who needs financial assistance to go on to higher education whether it be a four year college or trade school.

The students who apply for this money receive it on a point system the same as other scholarships, and, of course, the ones with the highest points receive the best chance to receive the amount of request which can amount to $500.00 a year. They may apply for as long as four years if they are on a four year college course.

This money is not a gift to the student but an interest free loan to be paid back to the fund when he is working. Many donations were given this year of $1.00 to $50.00 those who contributed $100.00 or more received a Scholarship Certificate.

A STATE ASSOCIATION SERVING
DAILY AND WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS

Mr. George Koda
Publisher
Manchester Enterprise
Manchester, Michigan

Dear George:

It is good to know that you have reconsidered your plans to suspend publication for the Enterprise. I certainly hope this proves to be a sound decision.

I also hope that the reprieve will permit the people in your community, especially the merchants, to realize how important a good local newspaper is to the area it serves. Sometimes a weekly finds itself in a position described by the proverb: "You never miss the water till the well runs dry."

I have known a number of towns where a weekly suspended because of lack of support only to find that when it is too late to revive it, the people there become very excited about having a newspaper.

Actually, of course, a community will have the kind of newspaper it demands for itself. If the citizens do not take sufficient interest in what is going on locally; if they do not feel the need for a unifying agent in their organizations and activities; if they don't want an accounting of expenditures of public money and activities of local government, the newspaper will have a difficult time. If the merchants do not see a newspaper as a means of communicating their sales messages to their prospects and as an agent which develops the community where their prospects live, the newspaper will also have a difficult time.

I think history shows that communities which do not have newspapers lose their identities and that merchants in communities which do not have newspapers lose their full profit potential.

I certainly hope you are able to develop enough more interest in your newspaper so that the people in the Manchester area will continue to be served by your publication and will not have to learn by personal experience how much they lose when a newspaper ceases to exist.

It's really up to the people of your area and I hope they have enough spirit so that they will simply not let you suspend publication any time in the future.

Best regards,

Elmer E. White
