FHA Requires More Insulation For Cooling

A new requirement of the Federal Housing Administration ensures added comfort and greater economy for families who build or buy new homes equipped with central air conditioning.

For the first time, FHA has spelled out standards for minimum insulation for air-conditioned homes financed with FHA-insured loans. Previously, FHA insurance requirements were based on heating needs alone.

The new insulation standard was developed "because of the increasing volume of air-conditioning installations and the need for greater guidance and protection," FHA explains.

In most areas, insulation rated at R-13 will be required in the ceiling, and in all except the coolest areas of the country, sidewall insulation frequently will be mandatory.

In masonry homes in warm zones, insulation rated at R-19 and sometimes R-24 in ceilings may be required as a minimum.

The "R" in the above designations stands for installed resistance to heat flow. The higher the number, the greater the ability to resist the passage of heat.

Home owners will benefit from the new insulation standard through increased comfort—both winter and summer—and through lower heating and cooling bills. In addition, when a house is insulated to meet these FHA standards, a smaller, less costly cooling system generally is required.

Savings on heating and cooling costs as a result of thorough insulation often equal the cost of the insulation in a few years.

In the past, FHA has pointed out that its Minimum Property Standards are just that—minimum—and it recognizes that in the long run some quality items that add to the original cost of a house actually lower the cost of keeping up the home and living in it.

For example, by exceeding FHA minimum insulating requirements, home owners can cut cooling and heating costs substantially and get more satisfaction from both cooling and heating systems.

A reliable guide for families planning for air conditioning who want optimum results from insulation is provided by the National Mineral Wool Insulation Association. Its Quality Home Requirements call for mineral wool with an installed resistance to heat loss of R-19 or R-24 in ceilings, R-11 in walls and R-13 in floors over unheated spaces.

YOUTH EMPLOYMENT CONSERVATION BILL

Police Chief Van De Gine today issued an appeal to the people of this community to lend their support to President Kennedy's Youth Employment and Conservation Bill, sponsored by Senator Albert Humphrey, which was passed by the Senate and is expected to go before the U.S. House of Representatives in the near future.

The Chief said 'Common sense and justice compel enactment of this program which will give many thousands of currently unemployed young persons a chance to find employment, to be paid for their services, to acquire skills and work experience that will give them a solid start in their working lives.'

Provisions in this legislation provide a practical means of attacking the high school drop-out problem and the juvenile delinquency associated with that problem.

Young men and women no longer in school constitute nearly 18 per cent of our total unemployment although they comprise only 7 per cent of the labor force. These figures reflect a serious national situation. The youth on our city streets create a host of problems.

During the 1960's an estimated 71/2 million youths entered the job market less than a high school education. Unless something is done to help to equip them to live in a skilled economy, they will pile up helplessly against the rising barriers to unskilled labor.

In the last decade, juvenile delinquency cases brought before the courts have more than doubled, and arrests of youth increased 86 per cent, until they numbered almost one million arrests a year in 1960-15 per cent of all arrests.

Favorable House action in the Youth Employment and Conservation Bill will provide work and training for youths from the age of 16 through 21.

Members of the Youth Conservation Corps will receive $60.00 a month in wages. They will be given clothing, board, work clothes and other necessities. The Corpsmen will be under direct supervision of suit conservationists, foresters, rangers and others. They will work on, and receive training in, various jobs and projects involving general area as erosion, stream control, reforestation and construction of outdoor recreation and camp facilities.

In addition, the Corpsmen will be given technical training and educational skills through classroom periods for work hours.

The need for this new Youth Program is evident. It was designed to reduce unemployment and train more young workers who would otherwise be idle. They must be given a chance to work before they may be to crime instead.

METHODIST CHURCH SUMMER SCHEDULE

The Official Board of the Manchester Methodist Church decided at their last meeting to set the Sunday School and Church services one hour earlier during the months of July and August. Beginning on July 7th, the Sunday school will begin at 9:00 a.m. and the worship service at 10:00 a.m. This will allow attending Sunday school and Church services in the cooler part of the day. Also, it will allow those who desire to visit relatives or friends an extra hour for that purpose.

This is an experimental trial run which if found to be to an advantage will become the schedule for the summer to come. It is hoped that all our people will take special note of the change of hour and co-operate in the venture.

Pipe Organ to be Rebuilt

The pipe organ in the Methodist Church, Manchester, is soon to be rebuilt. For some months now the reguilding of the organ has been under advisement by the board and a special committee for the purpose. Final plans have been made, and the work is soon to be started.

As it is now, all stops and the key-boards are manually operated. When it is rebuilt it will be completely electrically operated. Several organists and organ rebuilders have investigated the organ and tell us that it is one of the best organs built and well worth rebuild. It is said that when finished it will serve the church for many, many more years.

The organ was originally built for Ypsilanti First Methodist Church. When that church decided to get a new organ it was rebuilt for the Manchester Church in 1928 and dedicated to the memory of Dr. William H. Bessac. Mr. Raynor Haessler was one of the special donors.

DICK KUNTZ NAMED IN WATERSHED PROJECT

Preparations to improve the River Raisin Watershed were termed "excellent" by a state official who attended Tuesday night's gathering at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Arlo Benzmann of Lansing, whose prime responsibilities touch watershed projects within the Soil Conservation Service, praised area leaders working on the Raisin effort.

He also reminded the 75 attending the session that "local people are in the driver's seat."

Mr. Benzmann explained that there are seven watershed projects in Michigan, one costing over $2 1/2 million. The Raisin would be bigger.

Federal Government participation Under Public Law 566, which relates to waterways, will average out to about 75% to 80% of the total costs, he told the group.

LENAWEE COUNTY Drain Commissioner Don Mitchell presented a proposed overall program, adding that a citizens committee would have to guide the effort from this point.

Since PL 566 specifies that a watershed must not exceed 250,000 acres, the Raisin hits almost 800,000, including areas in Lenawee, Washtenaw, Hillsdale and Jackson Counties in Michigan and Fulton County in Ohio.

However, the Raisin could be broken into five separate watersheds, none of which would top the 250,000 acre limit.

Mr. Mitchell outlined them: Main river, from Jackson County through Tecumseh to Monroe, 248,000 acres.

Wolf Creek and south branch of Raisin, near Adrian

Black and Bean Creeks

Macon's Little Raisin and Swamp Creek

THE MAIN river project would come first because of its importance, Mr. Mitchell said, and since it touches all Michigan counties, offers flood control and includes much of proposed recreation sections.

An initial application for federal assistance under PL 566 will come from local units of governments as sponsors, with drain commissioners in the affected counties acting as co-sponsors.

It will be a long and tedious trail, but Mr. Mitchell was optimistic and said that 1964 could be set as a target date for the first construction.

Between now and then a tremendous public information program would be needed.

A new citizens steering committee is being formed, with representation from all sections of the watershed.

NAMED TO this were: Dick Kuntz of Manchester;

Dale Wagenknecht of Petersburg;

Clarence Ehiert of Paimyra;

Mrs. August Breckel of rural Adrian.

Harold Harr of rural Muth; Bill Case of Dundee; Royal Welch of Tecumseh.

They will submit a slate of possible candidate at the next general watershed gathering, Thursday, June 27 in the Community Center here.

Kitchen Old? Update With New Range

For easy installation this one-piece electric range sets in between kitchen cabinets. Models of this type can be hung on a wall or set on a cabinet, as this one is. The convenient, eye-level oven above a four-element, pull-out surface cooking top gives a modern look to any kitchen.

Tired of your old kitchen? One of the new, one-piece electric ranges can update it without expensive remodeling, since they slide into place without costly installation, yet give your kitchen a smooth, built-in look. Requiring no installation beyond being connected with the electric circuit are the free-standing ranges. Some have one or two ovens below the surface elements, some have one above and one below.

Another range that requires no installation has one or two eye-level ovens. These can be hung from a wall or set on a cabinet.

Built-in units that require a minimum of installation are the "drop-in" and "slide-ins" which come with adapter bands to integrate them with cabinets and counter tops.

The 1963 electric ranges come in decorator colors, from white and chrome to brushed chrome and rich copper tones. Their accurate, automatic controls will update your kitchen as well as the appearance of your kitchen.

The Woman's World What Every Bride Knows

For most girls, the pre-wedding period is an intensive course in home management, decorating, cooking, beauty care.

It's a "refresher" course for Mother, too. Time to take stock of her own know-how...to learn about new techniques and improvements in appliances, cooking methods and decorating.

Our mail man brings us questions daily from brides and mothers. Here are some and our answers: How many sheets in a basic wardrobe? Three sets per bed: one for the bed, one for the linen closet, one in the wash.

Percale or Muslin? Percale is noted for smoothness, muslin for economy. The higher the thread count, the smoother the sheet. Smoothest of all is Lady Pepperell's Peerses, with over 200 threads per inch and blended with Pima cotton.

Do pretty printed sheets come in large sizes? Lady Pepperell makes them from co-size to size bedding. How many blankets? One winter-weight, one summer-weight, for each bed. Super-Loft blankets are luxuriously thick.

Should I consider fitted sheets? They'll save time in laundering and bedmaking — especially new Stretch-Fit sheets with elastic at corners and ends. What goes together, like bride and groom? New printed sheets, blankets, pillowcases and towels — in a lovely new design called Fleurette.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

FLIES AND MILK DON'T MIX, but the flies don't know this so it's up to the dairymen to control them. To horn flies, stable flies, horse flies and mosquitoes, use DDT or Dieldrin. Spray 1 ounce of 0.5% oil solution of DDT or twice daily. If you're not set up to spray this often, spray with Dieldrin once a week — 2 to 4 quarts of a 3% solution per animal. Don't use these materials in the milking room and be sure that they do not contaminate feed and water.

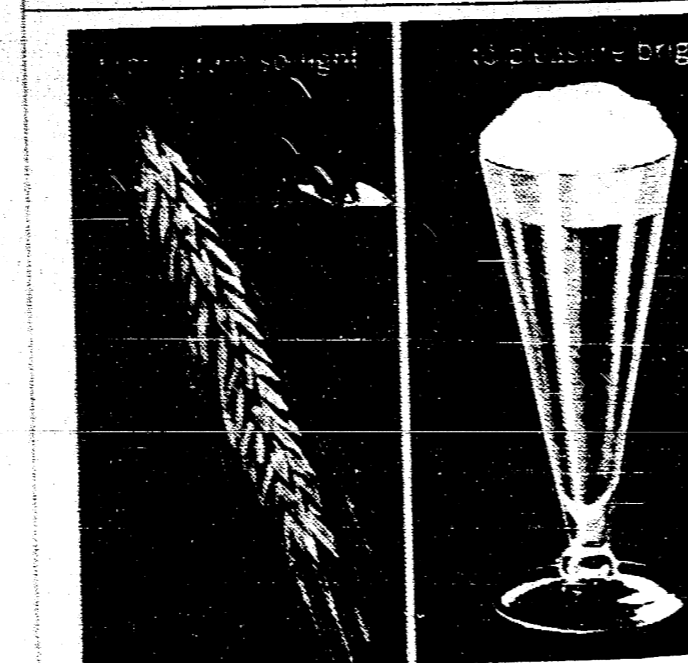

MIXING CONCRETE brings a number of problems regardless of the size of the job. Keep these rules in mind: The temperature of fresh concrete should be under 80°F. This can be accomplished by sprinkling aggregate with cool water in the mix and holding mixing time to be as short as possible. Don't overvibrate the mixer. It will result in poor mixing and loss of strength. To get better workability, use less stone and sand, and move water. Cure concrete properly. Keeping it moist for six to seven days will double its strength.

CLIP PASTURES that are being used in rotation to insure uniform regrowth of all species in the pasture mixture. Less desirable species will get less use and, if allowed to continue unimpaired, growth will be large, coarse and unpalatable when cattle are again turned into the pasture. This will cause uneven harder grazing on the desirable species. A light "once-over" with a drag harrow will spread droppings and help reduce uneven growth rates and grazing patterns.

FLOOR-LAID EGGS CUT PROFIT due to dirty and broken eggs and the additional time required to gather and clean them. This loss can be reduced by providing ample nesting space—one nest for each five birds. Keep nests clean at all times.

Teen talk

Boating, from dinky dinghies for large mud puddles to yachts that go to sea, has become America's most popular outdoor sport.

So no matter where you live, in which of the fifty states, chances are you will go near the water this summer.

Whether the boat in your future is a raft or something really big and boss, etiquette afloat remains the same. If you're already familiar with boat etiquette, skip this and turn to the sports page. If not, heed the hints and your day on the water will be nice as well as nautical.

First, keep in mind that whoever is at the tiller, wheel, or oars is in command. What he (or she) says is not a request. It's an order. Change your seat, help with a line, hand him (her) a sweater—don't ask questions and do what's asked quickly. On the water, the majority doesn't rule, because the person in charge of the boat is responsible for the safety of everyone aboard.

Second, don't wear high heels or leather-soled shoes. High heels make holes that eventually become leaks; leather-soled shoes are too slippery for safety on a wet deck.

Third, do keep your wardrobe simple. You want to have fun, not put on a fashion show. Don't forget a plastic bag for carrying home your wet bathing suit, and a sweater for after sundown.

Fourth, bring plenty of sun tan oil as well as a hat for protection. If there isn't any shade, the captain can't grow a tree.

Fifth, save your questions for calm moments. And sixth, bring lots of good food. The gal with the tiniest appetite eats like a trencherman after a few hours at sea. And so will you. Bring gobs of goodies for between-meal munching. Be cause hunger pangs are constant after a few hours on the water.

Gobs' Goodies, a date-and-nut fudge which takes a mere five minutes to make, are extra smooth because extra-creamy evaporated milk is used. Bake the fudge in foil pans to make the tote to the boat easy.

To make about two pounds of Gobs' Goodies, stir 1/2 cup (small can) undiluted Carnation evaporated milk, 1/2 cups sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon salt in saucepan. Heat to boiling, then cook five minutes, stirring constantly. Start timing when mixture begins to boil. Remove from heat. Add 1 1/2 cups (8 medium) diced marshmallows, 1 1/2 packages (6-ounce size) semisweet chocolate pieces, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 cup chopped dates, and 1/2 cup chopped walnuts. Stir 1 minute or until marshmallows and chocolate are melted and completely combined. Pour mixture into a 9-inch square pan. Cool; cut in squares.

The Carnation Teen Committee, made up of teens in schools across the country, makes suggestions for this column. If you have an idea, or want a Teen Party Idea Booklet, write to C.T.C., 124 E. 58th Street, New York 16, N.Y.

Thumb Offers Tourist Variety

The motorist who wants different places can have them all in a trip of 400 miles. He can see the blue waters of Lake Huron and Saginaw Bay, industry, state capital and educational centers, to name just a few. Coming from the west, the I-Ways will help him reach the Thumb's eye-Ways. But don't pass up these en route.

The variety in this area includes swimming, boating and other water recreation; picnicking, fishing and visits to manufacturing marvels of industry, said E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager.

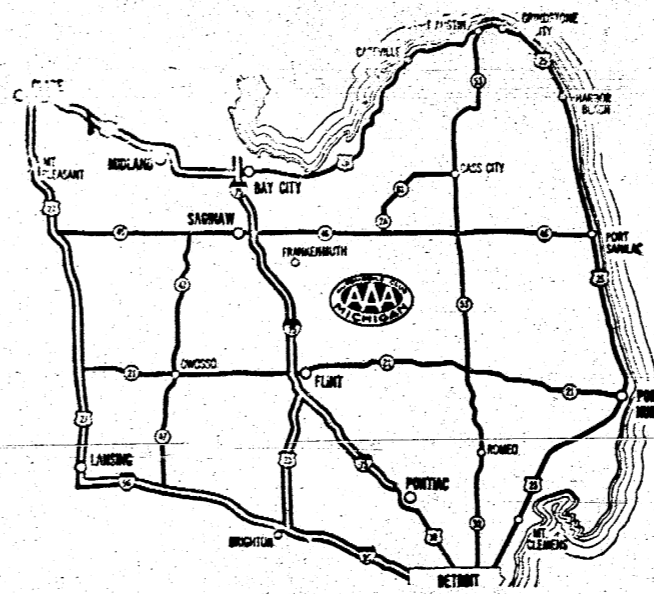

There are extensive facilities to help the visitor enjoy the water. More than a dozen public beaches dot the Thumb shoreline. Protected harbors and marinas in nearly every city and village and a number of water-recreation parks appeal to both boating and non-boating motorists. Many are new and extensive.

By way of contrast with the sparsely populated Thumb area, the cities and counties to the west in this segment of Michigan, headed by Flint, home of General Motors' Buick and Chevrolet cars. Here, too, are scores of other manufacturing plants, large and small. Flint's College of the University of Michigan and the Flint Cultural Center combine to make one of the finest cultural centers in the nation.

IN THE SOUTHERN part of Mecum County, a large concentration of lakes offer fishing, boating, swimming and other recreational activity. Fenton, off US-23, surrounded by 52 lakes within an eight-mile radius, said Fisher.

Saginaw was the timber capital of the world before the turn of the century. Today its manufactured products are distributed throughout the world, and its agriculture makes the county a leading producer of sugar beets, corn and wheat.

Several sizable oil refineries are found in Gratiot County. St. Louis, at US-27 and M-46, is the geographical center of the Lower Peninsula. This also is the home of the Michigan Chemical Co., pioneer of the DDT field.

Bethany Indian cemetery, two miles north of St. Louis on the Pine River, is of historical interest. Originally it was the site of the Bethany Mission, founded shortly before 1848. A towering cross marks the burial place of some 30 Indians.

Midland is best known as the home of the Dow Chemical Co., which operates one of the largest chemical plants in the world.

Conducted plant tours are offered Monday through Friday, June 15 through Sept. 15. Don't overlook the Dow Gardens, de-

Ten foot cantilever roof overhang is useful to provide shelter when manger is located along the face of frame leg. It is also used along the open side of a cattle shed to keep rain and snow out of bedding area as well as to provide more shade in summer.

STEEL FRAMED CATTLE SHEDS PROVIDE CLEAR SPAN MANEUVERABILITY AND VERSATILITY

Pruden frame sheds are frequently used to shelter cattle in one end, and to store hay in the other. This building near Brussels, Wisconsin, uses the roll type of metal roofing on walls as well as roof.

This hay storage building may be converted to a dairy cattle shed when herd is expanded, and then the post-free interior will be much more important. This points out the importance of farm buildings being adaptable for alternate uses. We know for sure what the use will be ten or even five years ahead!

Hay is fed directly into feed bunk under cantilever. Note how hay can be "passed to the peak" where there are no internal posts, ties or framework in the usable storage area.

small several hundred yards out into shallow Lake Huron, casting for bass. Boats can be rented at many piers.

Of particular interest is Huron City, a pioneer lumbering town preserved as it was when logging dominated life in the upper Thumb nearly a century ago. Its half-dozen buildings provide glimpses of the rugged pioneer days through preservation of the architecture, furnishings, dress and customs of those times.

Huron City is adjacent to the Blue Water highway, as are most other stopping points along the Thumb route. US-25 and M-25 rarely stray more than a mile from the shore and are never more than five miles away.

At least two days are recommended for a trip around the Thumb. This will give time for thorough explorations of natural and artificial attractions, along with recreation and relaxation. A weekend is ideal.

THE DETROIT-AREA motorist has two routes to Port Huron—M-29, the more scenic route, which follows the St. Clair River, and US-24, three-lane and 13 miles shorter than the M-29 route, said Fisher.

Two blocks north and two blocks east of the center of Port Huron is a small but conveniently located park overlooking the St. Clair River. From it one can look down into the clear blue-green water, watch huge ships steam under the Blue Water Bridge a half-mile away.

Ten miles north of Port Huron, the highway bisects Lakeport State Park. Lakeport is quiet and usually cool. Drives and large parking lots are newly graded and improved. The shaded picnic ground is adjacent to the parking area.

Beyond the terrain rises gradually to a 15-foot bluff that overlooked a mile-long sandy beach and a commercial shipping lane several miles offshore. A bathhouse and clean and numerous rest facilities are available.

North of Lakeport is the tiny, attractive village of Lexington, which is expanding its fishing pier and marina facilities. Beyond Lexington, the resort and commercial establishments that extend out from Port Huron begin to disappear. On one side of the highway is gently rolling farm land, with some apple and peach orchards. On the other side are frequent glimpses of Lake Huron, said Fisher.

At Port Sanilac, anglers fish for perch and pike on the pier. A small but well-kept park with a dozen or so picnic tables is nearby.

North of Port Sanilac is an area of sparse population and natural wildness that extends most of the way to Port Austin. 55 miles north, Halfway to Port Austin is Harbor Beach, its harbor watched by Coast Guardsmen who keep a 24-hour vigil from a lighthouse several hundred yards off the shore. The harbor also houses a large marina and spacious park.

Port Hope, "the Little Town with a Big Welcome," is the site of Starford County Park, which has boats for rent, plus picnic and camping areas.

Historic Huron City is less than 10 miles farther along US-25. Four of its six buildings, all depicting life in the great lumbering days during the last half of the 19th century, are open to the public and a fifth is in the offing.

The village has been perpetuated by descendants of lumberman Landon Hubbard and his son-in-law, William Lyon Phelps, noted professor of English literature at Yale University and guest minister of the Huron City Chapel for many years. The William Lyon Phelps Memorial Museum is the first stop on a guided tour of the city by young ladies in costume.

From Huron City, US-25 continues west across the tip of the Thumb toward Port Austin. Signs direct motorists on the several-mile trip to Grindstone City, whose name is a memorial to days when grindstones were widely used. There are a number of six-foot grindstones and remains of grindstone quarries. A large marina occupies the old freighter slips.

PARKS ALONG Saginaw Bay are crowded on warm, sunny summer weekends, but most are very attractive and well maintained.

Three more parks, well-tended, tree-shaded Jenks just west of Port Austin, is just one can picnic on a 15-acre sandy bluff overlooking the sandy beach, shaded by trees.

Three more parks, well-tended and adjacent to the highway precede Sleeper State Park, largest and most popular of the parks along the periphery of the Thumb. Sleeper has a full mile of shoreline in its more than 900 acres. Pure, white sand graces the wide, attractive beach and is overlooked by a bluff with picnic tables and trees.

A half-dozen miles west of Sleeper Park is Caseville, a resort town with extensive marina and marina facilities. Southward of Caseville, the highway winds away from the bay. The drive is attractive though, running through wooded areas where cone shaped evergreens line the highway.

Ten miles farther is Sheboygan, center for duck and pheasant hunters who flock to both public and private hunting areas.

From Unionville, where motorists west toward Bay City turn toward Port Huron, the highway winds through wooded areas where cone shaped evergreens line the highway.

One is to follow Saginaw Bay to Bay City, via M-29, going south on Interstate 75. A shorter route, via the Saginaw highways, is M-138 south of Unionville, continuing south on county highway where M-138 turns west toward Akron to the east to M-24 at Caro.

CHICKEN B-B-Q
William McCalla, President of Washtenaw County Farm Council reports that the 7th Annual Chicken B-B-Q held Sunday, June 16th was very successful. Approximately 3400 people were served complete dinners, and about 600 chickens had been sold separately.

Advanced ticket sales were double that of previous years. Much of this was due to a contest sponsored by Farm Council for 4-H members. The winners for this year, the total number of tickets they sold and their prizes are as follows:

1st Cheryl Hemes, Saline 100 Tickets-Wrist Watch
2nd Mrs. Carl Seyfried, Ann Arbor-48 Tickets-Transistor Radio
3rd Larry Egler, Saline 41 Tickets-Pen and Pencil Set.

On behalf of the Farm Council and its Board of Directors, McCalla expressed appreciation to all

THE LADY OF THE HOUSE

by MARY TROY,
ANCHORS AWEIGH
Show me a lady sailor and I'll show you a gal who's wept buckets over hard-to-remove rust stains on sportswear. My own he-man cap'n has made some wonderful changes aboard our "baby yacht" since last season.

He's put can't rust fittings of stainless steel where corroding metals used to catch me off guard. My captain figures he's cutting down on over-all costs with stainless. For example, tests reported by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation show that boat rub rails of stainless steel-like we now have along the hull--will absorb heavy impact in docking without being damaged. (Saves me a lot of worry, too, when I'm the one steering the boat into port.)

Below decks, he installed a ductless stainless steel range hood--eliminated those horrid cooking fumes. Our new stainless steel galley, lavatory equipment and waste tanks wash up in a jiffy--need just soap'n water sponging. All this easy-care, long-wear equipment gives me and my husband more time to enjoy the sun and sea air.

Independence Day

THE WORLD'S NEWEST REVOLUTION
HAPPENED ON JULY 4th, 1776

The new idea that astonished the world on July 4, 1776, was that ordinary men and women are capable of governing themselves and will respect the laws that they, themselves, have made. This is still a new a new idea; as other nations have slowly followed America's lead they have been successful only when they have adhered to the spirit of our Declaration and our Constitution. In a hundred little ways American's prove themselves capable of self-government: from assessing their own income tax liability to working on the PTA. By doing these little things without noise or fanfare we have become politically mature.

The tornado visited various sections of surrounding country, and did more damage, quite enough, however, to give people an idea of the strength and. Therefore, be cautious how blow for it may be an ill wind.

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE.
 Everything is being done to make the of July a day long to be remembered. The committee of arrangements uniting in their efforts to have a pleasant and enjoyable.

THE PROGRAMME.
 The day will be ushered in at sunrise by a salute of 100 guns, the ringing of the bells in the village, and music by band.

At 10 o'clock the procession will be led on public square and march to Miller's Grove, where the speaking and other ceremonies will take place.

At 3 o'clock the swimming race will take place—between the D. H. & S. W. R. bridge and Exchange Street bridge. Parties entering for this race are expected to provide themselves with proper costumes. The prize for this race is $5.

The foot race will follow after the swimming race, and will come off between the L. S. & M. S. Ry. and Exchange street. The distance will be about 25 rods. Prizes, $5, $3, $1.

The bran-sack race is a new sport to this section, and will be explained on the grounds. The prize in this race is $5.

The hurdle foot race will take place on the same grounds, immediately after the bran sack race. The distance will be about the same as the foot race, and competitors will be obliged to leap over hurdles. The prizes in this race are $5, $3, $1.

Entrances for all of these races must be made before 2 o'clock, if possible.

After the sports the Adrian Commandery of Knights Templar will favor us with an exhibition drill, in which it is noted that nearly one hundred Knights will take part.

The Omegas, (the last of their race) appear in their costly and brilliant uniforms, and give an exhibition of their ancient and marvelous rites and ceremonies.

It may be necessary to state that the mysterious and solemn confederation, the alliance was the wonder of the World, has lately been re-organized, and will appear with the implements in the days of the ancients. It is noted that the written work of this wonderful order has been buried up in the ruins of an old Theban castle for hundreds of years, and was but lately exposed, to the joy of those who are familiar with a portion of the history of the brave knights.

The exercises of the day will close with a grand display of fireworks, the largest ever seen in this county.

An excursion train will arrive from South, on the L. S. & M. S. Ry., at 9 o'clock, A. M., and remain here after the fireworks are over. We are trying to secure half-fare tickets.

Trains will be run on the D. H. & S. W. R. so that people can arrive in the morning from the east and will leave here after the fireworks in the evening. Half-fare tickets will be issued.

The glorious fourth is near at hand, and our citizens are making preparations to welcome the immense crowd of people who are expected to visit our enterprising village.

We have already given a programme of exercises of the day, therefore we find it unnecessary to speak further on the subject, but will add that every advertisement on the bills will surely be off unless prevented by some unobtainable.

We hope that the committees in charge of the various sports will attend to the business entrusted to them so that there will be no delay or confusion.

The Committee of Arrangements will be present at the meeting at the year's office to-morrow, (Friday) at 8 o'clock, and also so many citizens as can. The Treasurer is obliged to call upon subscribers for subscriptions on Friday and Saturday, as he will have no time to do so after that, and we hope all will be prompt in paying.

The railroads have advertised to run special trains on the 5th, so that people can remain and see the fire works in the evening, which will probably be the grandest ever seen in this section of the State.

The exhibition drill of the Knights Templar will be a sight worth coming many miles to see.

Police.—The Council have appointed extra police to see that order is maintained on the 5th. We hope they will have no occasion to make an arrest, but if they do the prisoner should be examined and fined.

Look out.—We are requested to say to those who propose starting refreshment stands, the 5th of July, that they had better comply with the law before so doing, as the law will be strictly enforced.

R. R. Election.—The Mich. Central Railroad stockholders held an election of directors, at Detroit on Monday last. The Directors will probably meet at New York or Boston soon to elect a President. It is thought that Jas. F. Joy will be their choice.

Tax Dance.—Goodyear hall will be just the place for those who enjoy dancing, to have a gay time, on the evening of the 5th. Conrad Nanmann will give you all the fun you want, a good supper and dancing. Take your girl and go early. The fire works can be seen from the hall.

New Home.—The house on the corner of Clinton st. and Exchange Place, is being converted into a hotel as fast as possible, and it is expected to be one of the best kept houses in the state. The house will not be large, but with the addition of a new dining room, it is hoped that they will be able to accommodate a portion of the traveling public.
