Good Earnings.—The Treasurer of the celebration has requested us to state that he has paid all expenses, and makes the following report:
Amount collected..... $25.00
Paid out..... $27.00
Leaving balance on hand..... $ 8.00
He proposes that $5 of the balance on hand be invested in cigars for the committee; 90 cents in candy and peanuts for those who do not smoke; instead of making a dividend. He also states that any gentleman interested is invited to call on him and examine his report.

Reception.—The Manchester Band accompanied Companies D and E, State troops, to Ypsilanti on Saturday morning, to attend the celebration there. Arriving in the city, they found no one at the depot to receive them, and there they stood, like "bums on a log," not knowing where to go. This is the second time our boys have been to Ypsi, and "paddled their own canoe" up town. The excuse made by the Ypsi boys was that they didn't know what time the train arrived. Poor excuse in these times of telegraph and railroads.

Contractors on the D. H. & S. W. R. R. He is now employed by the Mich. Central company and we hope he is doing well.

We have received a paper from Pittsfield, Mass., in which we notice that Rev. G. W. Lowe preached at the M. E. Church at that place on Sunday the 27th day of June.

Adolf Wheeler, of Adrian, gave us a call Wednesday. He is hale and hearty and was returning from Ann Arbor and the glorious fourth. As he used to be a boy in town of course he shakes with the oldest inhabitants.

Chan. Millon short-stopped just long enough to say that he had been to Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti and was going to Adrian. He seemed to be happy and looked as if he had a good job when he left. Silver has been easy to catch.

Uncle Dan's bible class from Tecumseh was well represented and enjoyed our celebration much.

"Pick" Fountain looked in at us and said welcome. He is agent for the Canada Southern at Grand Trunk Junction and fortune smiles upon him.

LOCAL BOY WITH CHORALE IN EUROPE

BRUCE OATES

Bruce Oates, Manchester's Youth for Understanding representative, has been in England since June 28th when the sixth Michigan Chorale began its 1963 tour. During the 16-day stay in England, Bruce, along with 69 other members of the Chorale, is staying with volunteer Burton-on-Trent families while the group is giving public and private concerts in the host town as well as the neighboring counties of Derby, Stafford, Leicestershire and Warwick. The Chorale leaves for London, for Helsinki, Finland, July 14.

Members of the Chorale are chosen each fall through auditions of High School Seniors in Southern Michigan. They are selected for quality of voice, musicianship and their potential as ambassadors for America in other lands. They rehearse throughout the winter and spring for the annual summer tour.

In addition each member is expected to furnish $755 to help defray the expenses of the tour. Local groups and individuals who assisted Bruce with his expenses for the last three years include the American Legion Auxiliary the Altar Society of St. Mary's Church, the choir and the director of the Methodist Church, the King's Daughters Chapter, Shakespeare Club, Tabca Society of the Emanuel Church, Twentieth Century Club, Women's Guild of the Emanuel Church, W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church, the W.S. ### HISTORY OF THE MANCHESTER TOWNSHIP LIBRARY

In Michigan Library History of the Manchester Township Library is 1838 The 125th anniversary of the Library is therefore of special importance this year.

Following the summer closing period, August 18 through Labor Day, September 2, there will be special events of historic interest at the local library. Mrs. Richard Kuntz, is chairman. Miss Nellie Ackerson and Donald Dorff are the Historical Study Committee for the Library Board.

Statistical information which was collected for a recent meeting of the individual libraries in Washtenaw County with representatives of the one-year-old Washtenaw County Library showed circulation of Library books from Manchester Township Library in April 1960 to March 1961 to be 4,797 and from April 1962 to March 1963 8,921. In the same period of time the number of people using the library was 2,821 in 1960-61, and 6,907 in 1962-63.

Interest in and use of the library now includes books, recordings and free film service through the County Library. Circulation of books among adult readers has been on the increase for the last three years. People are learning to ask for the material they want, says Mrs. Hardenbergh, librarian, and the local library has been able to obtain their wishes from the County or State Libraries if it is not available on the shelves. Also, reference material for most problems is available or can be quickly obtained.

Summer reading for fun is the present activity and 125 youngsters are enrolled in the Summer Program which is correlated with other Summer Reading Programs throughout the county. Reading lists are available to promote leisure reading with a purpose for those who are interested.

Story Hour (for youngsters who will be going into kindergarten this fall and including those who have finished third grade) is every Wednesday through Aug. 14. Thirty eight little folks have been attending this program between 1:30 and 2:00 on WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS so far. Mrs. James Jordan has been the story-telling lady.

BUD GUEST

For those people who missed Bud Guest last Tuesday morning the Sunny - Side of the Street program on WJR radio at 8:15 to 8:30 A.M. A very tantalizing letter from Manchester, was read over the air by Bud Guest, and the letter read as follows:

Dear Bud,

July is the season of that particular form of midsummer madness know as the charcoal-broiled chicken barbecue. Beginning now, and continuing on into Fall, Farm Bureau s, Granges, and Civic Clubs in a score of rural communities will be staging mass community feasts to raise money for worthy purposes. They all feature chicken, and wherever you encounter one of these fiestas you will find a great similarity of equipment and technique.

There's an odd and interesting history behind this universal Midwest event. It all goes back to one man, a former All-American football player, now head of the Michigan State Poultry Science Department, known as Howard Zindel.

Some years ago, Dr. Zindel decided that more chicken would be consumed if people knew how to prepare it. After considerable experimenting, he concluded the best possible method of cooking was to broil large, plump chicken halves over charcoal, cooking them slowly so that the skin would never burn or blister, turning often, basting lightly with butter and salting prudently. . . . Chicken must be thoroughly cooked and Zindel's method of testing is to grasp the half-chicken with a pair of white work gloves, holding the thigh with the thumb and forefinger, then gently twisting the leg bone. If the bone turns easily in the socket, the heat has thoroughly penetrated and softened the tendons and the chicken is cooked.

Treated thus, the meat is moist, the skin crispy and faintly salty and butter-flavored. To put this careful technique on a mass production basis, Dr. Zindel devised turning racks that would hold twenty chicken halves. He designed pits of cement block just wide enough to hold the racks, and high enough to save the chefs the pain of slipped discs.

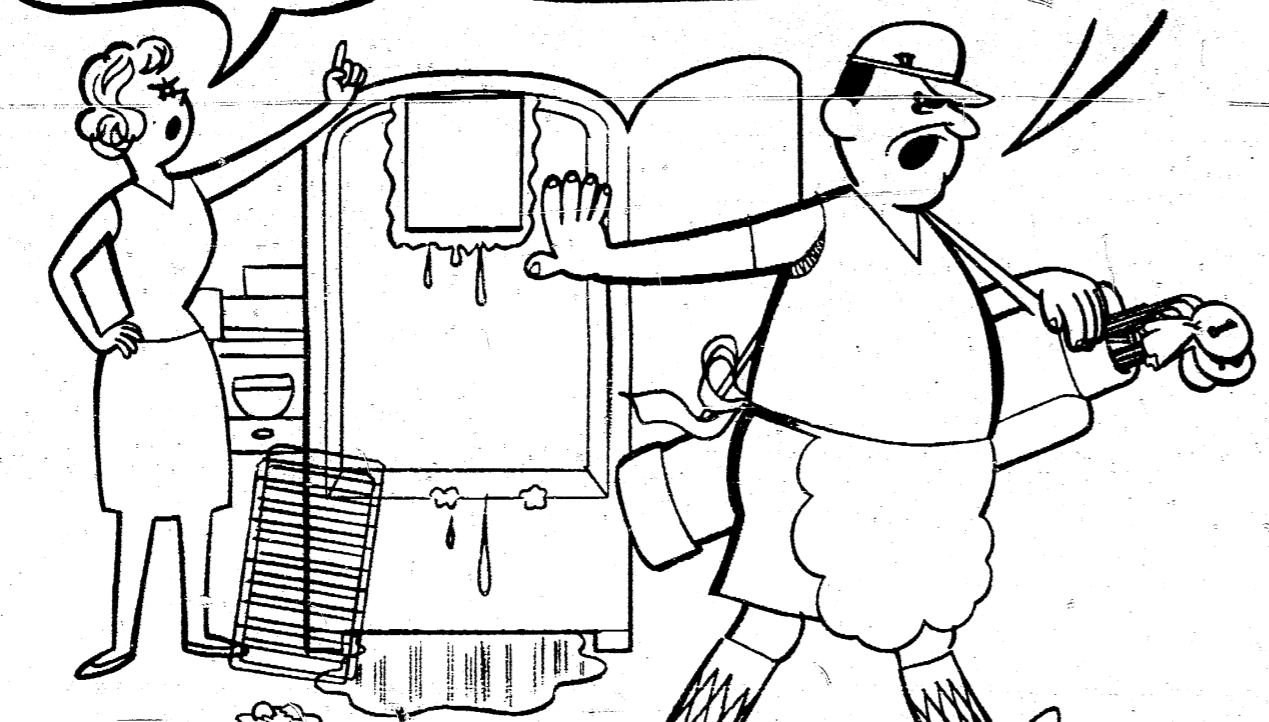

Shortly after the conclusion of his research, Dr. Zindel was put to a severe test. An Indiana corporation had heard about his technique and equipment and asked him to supervise the feeding of ten thousand guest at a gigantic corporate birthday party.

This event was a success. One of Howard's assistants was Ludy Klager, Michigan's leading poultryman, a resident of Manchester, and in 1954 Manchester put on its first chicken broil. We served 2,000 folks that first year and made several hundred dollars for improvements to the athletic field. In the ten years since then, the Manchester Broil has become the model for the Midwest. Thursday, July 18th., we will serve delicately flavored chicken to 5,500 people from a half dozen states and a few foreign countries, and will turn a profit of $2,200.00 all of which will go to civic improvement and youth activities.

PLAYGROUND NEWS

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone for their kindness during my stay at the hospital and since I arrived home. Claid Gage

An event like this creates an almost irresistible urge to indulge in fantastic statistics. For example, at the forthcoming Manchester Broil; some sixty white-hatted chefs, laboring over 150 feet of charcoal pits, will broil (3) three-plus tons of chicken, with never a burn or a blister.

To assure this happy result, two blister-watchers - one of them Dr. Zindel himself - will inspect the long pits continuously. Also under Zindel's supervision will be three leg turners to assure that the chicken is done to perfection.

Leg-bone turners, blister-watchers and chefs will use up to 240 pairs of white work gloves during the five hours of cooking. If the weather is hot and clear, the sixty men at the pits will lose an aggregate 244 pounds. We figure this at four pounds per man, but the fire stoker and his assistant who preheat the ton and a half of charcoal and deliver the preheated briquettes to the pits as needed will each lose an extra two pounds. In general, this loss of weight will be a source of amusement and gratification to the wives.

One ton of chilled cabbage will be converted into cole slaw on four German sauerkraut slicers and will be flavorsomely treated with twenty gallons of Doc Jones' special tangy dressing featuring plenty of celery seed.

The potato chips to be consumed, if spread out evenly over the Athletic field, would cover the entire area to a depth of two inches and would tickle the bare feet of all the school children in Manchester, Bridgewater and Pleasant Lake.

There will be enough juicy dill pickles and relishes to pucker 5,500 mouths, and if all the celery served were crunched at one time, the noise would drown out the roar on the loud speaker when Al Kaline hits a home run.

Does any of this make you hungry, Bud? If so, please use enclosed tickets with our compliments.

The date is July 18th. Time around 4:30. Place Athletic Field. Price is the same as it was ten years ago: $1.50 for Adults, $1.00 for kids, $1.50 for Take-outs.

Sincere regards from the Maple Syrup King of northeastern Manchester Township, southwestern Washtenaw County, Michigan.

Corvair 500 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner. And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain. But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it. Corvair's engine is also air cooled, which means there's no antifreeze or water for you to add. Ever. All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

WHAT'S IN A SANDWICH

What's in a sandwich? A famous designer called the sandwich the "perfectly designed container." A sandwich may take an infinite variety of flavors, shapes and forms. It makes a self-contained and appetizing main dish, and when you have finished, even the container — the nourishing and satisfying bread outer layer which gives pleasing shape and form to the sandwich — is all gone.

A satisfying lunch built around a delicious sandwich is the dieter's standby. Here's a low-calorie favorite. Spread enriched white bread lightly with butter or margarine, then top with sliced cooked chicken and a sprinkling of grated orange rind. Top with a lettuce leaf and close with a second slice of bread. Complete the meal with milk, vegetable relishes and a fresh peach.

For ease of preparation, plus good eating and nourishment, nothing beats the noontime soup 'n' sandwich meal. A favorite combination is a cup of vegetable-beef soup with a grilled cheese and bacon sandwich. Or here's another: split pea soup with a tuna-apple salad sandwich.

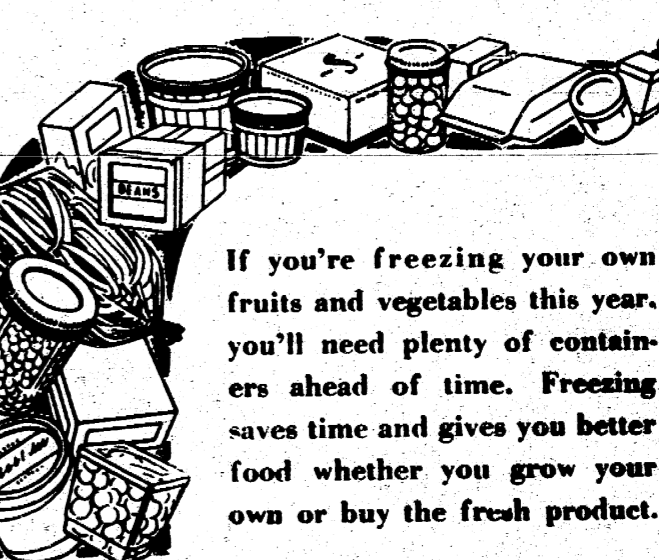

Give sandwich meals a different appeal by varying the kinds of bread you use. You'll be amazed at the different kinds of breads available at your grocery store or bakery. Here are a few to start: oatmeal, pumpkin, Swedish limpa, Kaiser rolls, sesame rolls and Vienna bread or rolls.

Tasty seafood sandwiches like this one seem to take degrees off a hot August day. Combine 1 cup cooked flaked crabmeat with 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 cup chopped onion, 1/4 cup celery and dash pepper. Cover and refrigerate for about 2 hours. Drain, well and stir in 1/2 cup dairy sour cream. Spread mixture on 6 slices cracked wheat bread, cover with fresh watercress sprigs and close sandwiches with 6 more bread slices.

Here's Swing-Along ...the unique portable music combo

$79<sup>95</sup>

- It's a fine 6-transistor fringe-area radio.
- It's a 45 RPM phono—so different you can play records while walking.
- Even works upside down.
- Almost 4 times greater audio output than the finest transistor radio made!

...And only CHANNEL MASTER has it!

Great fun! Proven popular! The Swing-Along opens a new mass-market for you. Not since the introduction of the transistor radio itself, has there been such an exciting teen-age sales potential in a musical product.

For the first time, a radio and a phono—"live" and recorded music—are combined in a single, battery-operated set that is really different. Not a gimmick, not a flimsily-constructed toy—but a lightweight, yet ruggedly built set with a host of quality features. Swing-Along's sound output is not just the room-size tone of most good transistor radios—but ballroom size. Actually loud and clear enough to be heard above the din of a big party in a large room.

In Europe, both teen-agers and adults-who-think-young have gone wild about the Swing-Along. Now, Channel Master alone offers it to the public for the first time anywhere in this country. Cash in big, by being among the first to feature it in your area. At parties...picnics...trips... anywhere—wherever fun-lovers gather, there you'll find Swing-Along!

Sound that fills a ballroom

Thanks to 6 advanced-design transistors—actually larger than ordinary transistors—the Swing-Along has a SOUND OUTPUT ALMOST 4 TIMES GREATER THAN THE SECOND MOST POWERFUL TRANSISTOR SET ON THE MARKET... a 14 transistor radio.

So ingeniously constructed that phono plays in any position... on table... on end... while user is walking... even upside down. "Invisible" Tone Arm plays record from underneath. Long play sapphires needle. Transistorized, speed regulated precision motor keeps turntable speed constant even when batteries are low. Automatic turntable shut-off.

Pinpoint station selectivity

...thanks to fine tuning condenser. No bunching up of stations at high end of band. High Sensitivity. Excellent long distance pull-in power.

Long playing life. Phono plays about 1200 records on 1 set of 4 "D" batteries. Radio has even longer life.

Beautiful teen-age styling

Sleek, tapered, modern... in heavy and caramel with glamorous tropical (basketweave) trim. Heavy-duty carrying strap with the look and feel of supple, glove-soft leather. Sure-fire tonnage appeal.

• Weighs only 6 pounds with batteries. Only 9" x 9 1/2" x 4"

Many Americans have given scant thought to the meanings of such common terms as "democracy" and "freedom." This tendency to take our way of life for granted could put us at a disadvantage in the cold war.

will attack American race relations as well as free-world dedication and ideology. He will parry questions from the floor about Hungary and other embarrassing matters with typical Red evasiveness. Vetter uses the technique to dramatically illustrate the clever tactics of World Communists.

Governor George Romney will call attention to our own state's blessings in a talk entitled "Michigan, My Michigan." In a similar vein, the Rev. Robert Richards of Whitmore Lake will look at his "American Heritage."

In another international program, 4-H'ers will have an opportunity to question personnel at a foreign embassy via a direct telephone link abroad.

The young people will divide into 20 country groups soon after arriving at Michigan State University. Much of the week will be devoted to learning about institutions and customs of other nations.

Careers and skills will also get major attention. Participants can learn of educational requirements and opportunities in 31 career areas. They will also attend sessions on 20 skill areas ranging from public speaking and etiquette to Peace Corps opportunities.

Mrs. Polly Johnson Hanst will discuss teenage problems in a talk entitled "Rebels With a Cause." Mrs. Hanst originated the "Up in Polly's Room" column in the Farm Journal Magazine.

Dr. David Gottlieb, MSU sociologist, will discuss needs for advanced education and training in modern society.

"The young people will have time for fun, too," say Arden Peterson and Joe Waterson, assistant state 4-H club directors, who are helping to arrange the events. "Everyone will dance the Thursday evening 'Sock Hop' at the MSU Intramural Building."

The week-long program was planned by a committee of 40 4-H youths. Jean Sparks of Cassopolis in Cass county is general chairman. Vice-Chairman include John Grawburg of Clarksville in John Leona county and Janice Smith of Tustin in Oscoda county. Doug Spike, Manchester, and Lorna Moore, Willis represented Washtenaw county on the planning committee.

Miss Smith and Grawburg represented Michigan as guests at the Pennsylvania 4-H Club Congress on the campus of Penn State University, June 17-21.

In perhaps the most colorful Club Week feature, the state 4-H Service Club will initiate new members in a ceremony at MSU's Jenison Fieldhouse. Hundreds of lights will form the four leaf clover, emblem of the 4-H clubs.

The welcome mat will be out for all club members at MSU. Peterson and Waterson point out. "The Co-operative Extension Service—of which 4-H is a part—is an off-campus arm of MSU. Thus 4-H'ers are, in a sense, MSU students."

The 4-C members from Washtenaw county and the counties they represent are as follows:

Brazil—Philip Gordon, Saline; Alice Croy, Milan; Judy Thompson, Belleville; Diane Dibble, Ann Arbor; Linda Neal, Willis; Gloria Wright, Ypsilanti; Kathleen Kirk, Manchester.

Germany—Ed Ross, Saline; Gary Gerbach, Saline; Phillip Spike, Manchester; Elaine Dieterle, Saline; Karen O'Neil, Whitmore Lake; Susan Foster, Ann Arbor; Evelyn Rothfuss, Chelsea; Beverly Windell, Chelsea.

There's lively flavor in this Salami-Coleslaw Sandwich. Allow three slices of rye bread per serving. Spread 1/2 of the bread slices with mustard. Top them with cotto salami slices, then with pickle slices. Spread next 1/2 of bread slices with mayonnaise or salad dressing and top with coleslaw, tomato slices and crisp-cooked bacon strips. Place coleslaw slices atop salami slices. Spread remaining bread with mustard, then close sandwiches.

will attack American race relations as well as free-world dedication and ideology. He will parry questions from the floor about Hungary and other embarrassing matters with typical Red evasiveness. Vetter uses the technique to dramatically illustrate the clever tactics of World Communists.

Governor George Romney will call attention to our own state's blessings in a talk entitled "Michigan, My Michigan." In a similar vein, the Rev. Robert Richards of Whitmore Lake will look at his "American Heritage."

In another international program, 4-H'ers will have an opportunity to question personnel at a foreign embassy via a direct telephone link abroad.

The young people will divide into 20 country groups soon after arriving at Michigan State University. Much of the week will be devoted to learning about institutions and customs of other nations.

Careers and skills will also get major attention. Participants can learn of educational requirements and opportunities in 31 career areas. They will also attend sessions on 20 skill areas ranging from public speaking and etiquette to Peace Corps opportunities.

Mrs. Polly Johnson Hanst will discuss teenage problems in a talk entitled "Rebels With a Cause." Mrs. Hanst originated the "Up in Polly's Room" column in the Farm Journal Magazine.

Dr. David Gottlieb, MSU sociologist, will discuss needs for advanced education and training in modern society.

"The young people will have time for fun, too," say Arden Peterson and Joe Waterson, assistant state 4-H club directors, who are helping to arrange the events. "Everyone will dance the Thursday evening 'Sock Hop' at the MSU Intramural Building."

The week-long program was planned by a committee of 40 4-H youths. Jean Sparks of Cassopolis in Cass county is general chairman. Vice-Chairman include John Grawburg of Clarksville in John Leona county and Janice Smith of Tustin in Oscoda county. Doug Spike, Manchester, and Lorna Moore, Willis represented Washtenaw county on the planning committee.

Miss Smith and Grawburg represented Michigan as guests at the Pennsylvania 4-H Club Congress on the campus of Penn State University, June 17-21.

In perhaps the most colorful Club Week feature, the state 4-H Service Club will initiate new members in a ceremony at MSU's Jenison Fieldhouse. Hundreds of lights will form the four leaf clover, emblem of the 4-H clubs.

The welcome mat will be out for all club members at MSU. Peterson and Waterson point out. "The Co-operative Extension Service—of which 4-H is a part—is an off-campus arm of MSU. Thus 4-H'ers are, in a sense, MSU students."

The 4-C members from Washtenaw county and the counties they represent are as follows:

Brazil—Philip Gordon, Saline; Alice Croy, Milan; Judy Thompson, Belleville; Diane Dibble, Ann Arbor; Linda Neal, Willis; Gloria Wright, Ypsilanti; Kathleen Kirk, Manchester.

Germany—Ed Ross, Saline; Gary Gerbach, Saline; Phillip Spike, Manchester; Elaine Dieterle, Saline; Karen O'Neil, Whitmore Lake; Susan Foster, Ann Arbor; Evelyn Rothfuss, Chelsea; Beverly Windell, Chelsea.

WILL YOUR HAY CROP BE SHORT?
 Then buy the best hay you can find and as soon as possible. Fewer acres will be harvested in many areas and drouth conditions will be causing light supplies. On buying quality, each additional percent in protein content amounts to about $1.50 extra feed value per ton. When possible, buy local hay where you know how it was handled. The growth stage when it was cut can easily change protein content several percentage points.

FEEDING STEERS ON PASTURE this summer will help them gain faster and weigh more at the end of the feeding period. Start grain feeding about the first of July. Ground shelled corn or its equivalent with about 40% cob makes a good ration to start with. After about 10 days reduce cob to 30%. If the ration. Even where drouth feeding facilities are available, you can usually gain some advantage by utilizing pasture, followed by a short feeding period in drouth.

MAINTAIN EGG QUALITY. Eggs have their highest quality when first laid and from this point on every quality factor begins to decline. How fast or slow egg quality declines depends to a large extent on handling and storage practices. Most important is to provide a holding temperature of not more than 55 degrees with a relative humidity of about 80%. If such conditions are maintained, you can keep the original egg quality high for 2 to 2-1/2 weeks.

HOG PRICES will show a little improvement during July and into early August. It may pay to carry hogs to a little heavier weights. During July, market when they reach 225 to 230 pounds, a little heavier than this during August.

Oh Deer!

Michigan farmers are becoming concerned about the build-up in deer herd numbers. With considerable food, "cover" and widespread protection, lower Michigan's deer herd has increased about 14 percent each recent year, and this fall will be up some 20,000 animals over last year.

"We are suffering a terrific loss of fruit from our young orchards in Livingston county due to browsing deer," says Robert Spicer of Linden. He reports a loss of about $4,000 worth of apples last year with additional browsing of tender tree buds causing an estimated $6,000 in 1963 damages.

"The trees are badly damaged in their main structure and are severely stunted," according to Spicer. He adds that he has invested approximately $40,000 in the land, trees, tilling and labor, with a good share of this substantial investment lost if the heavy local deer herd is not controlled.

"We have worked closely with the Conservation Officer in this area and have used every known type of repellent," Spicer says. He has tried shooting, (under a permit) and fancy scarecrows, without effect.

A deer "population explosion" seems to have occurred in many sections of the state. Spicer traces it from about 200 deer in 1954 to over 1,000 in Livingston county presently. "We may be facing a population of 2,000 in 1964," he feels.

A side issue to the main problem is the matter of highway safety. A fast-travelling deer can plunge into the path of a car with such speed that collision is inevitable. One farmer reported that a newly-opened portion of expressway past his farm "looked like a slaughterhouse," in an area where as high as 100 deer have been observed at times, feeding along the expressway route.

Farmers, through the Michigan Farm Bureau, have said that the deer-herd management is a local problem and should be subject to local regulation. They asked that taken (not just bucks), should be subject to the approval of the local county Board of Supervisors and adjusted to areas where obvious over-population is a problem.

Schill Wins Two Races

Harold Schill of Manchester won the feature race at Manchester Speedway Friday night and also took the pursuit race. There was no time recorded in the feature because of a minor accident.

Jim Martin of Manchester entered the first race in 3:31.15, Larry Marowelli of Napoleon the second in 3:45.46, Harold Underwood of Tecumseh the third in 3:59.16 and Doug Harvey of Ypsilanti the fourth in 3:56.81.

Don Iott of Adrian captured the semifinale in 7:43.47 and Red Cook on the Clinton Brothers of the Brush event.

Foot Comfort Aids Stretch Shoe Budget

For many young parents, keeping the family well-shod is a financial challenge that ranks with the grocery bill, the mortgage and the car payments.

One way to stretch your footwear budget, however, is to use some of the foot health products now on the market. Podiatrists say that foam latex or felt strips and cushion insoles can help prevent the deterioration of a shoe's inner structure, and even make worn-out shoes wearable again.

"This is especially true of less expensive shoes," said William O. Olson, medical research director for Blue Jay, foot products division of Bauer & Black. "Their inner soles and linings break down quickly under hard wear. Properly applied pads and insoles can make them last longer."

Among the most common recommended uses for lining materials at trouble spots are: Foam to relieve chafing caused by a cracked inner heel, or in any pressure area; insoles - to replace deteriorated inner soles, and keep shoes clean and deodorized. Foot perspiration soon attacks even the newest shoes, according to Blue Jay. Uncleanliness in the shoe can break down its construction, and cause foot-tenderness or infection. Changing shoes daily and using insoles are two ways to combat this cause of trouble.

BRUCE OATES

Bruce Oates, Manchester's Youth for Understanding representative, has been in England since June 28th when the sixth Michigan Choral began its 1963 tour. During the 16-day stay in England, Bruce, along with 69 other members of the Choral, is staying with volunteer Burton-on-Trent families while the group is giving public and private concerts in the host town as well as the neighboring counties of Derby, Stafford, Leicester and Warwick. The Choral leaves for London, for Helsinki, Finland, July 14.

Members of the Choral are chosen each fall through auditions of High School Seniors in Southern Michigan. They are selected for quality of voice, musicianship and their potential as ambassadors for America in other lands. They rehearse throughout the winter and spring for the annual summer tour.

In addition each member is expected to furnish $755 to help defray the expenses of the tour. Local groups and individuals who assisted Bruce with his expenses for this summer include the American Legion Auxiliary, the Altar Society of St. Mary's Church, the choir and the director of the Methodist Church, the King's Daughters Chapter, Shakespeare Club, Tabca Society of the Emanuel Church, Twentieth Century Club, Women's Guild of the Emanuel Church, W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church, the W.S. W.S. of the Sharon E.U.B. Church, the Class of 1963 and the members of the Manchester Parents' Committee for Youth for Understanding (MPCYU).

The MPCYU gave Bruce a bon-voyage party on June 22 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walton. Later that evening representatives of the class of 1963 also gave a party in his honor at the Harold Burch residence.

Other young people from the area who are with this year's Michigan Choral of 70 voices are eight Ann Arbor students, seven Ypsilanti boys and girls, Kathie Reed of Saline, Phillip Stine of Brighton and Phyllis Sanford of Plymouth. The group is to sing in England, Finland, Sweden and Denmark this summer.

The Michigan Council of Churches sponsors the Youth for Understanding Program which also includes the Exchange Student Program. HISTORY OF THE MANCHESTER TOWNSHIP LIBRARY

In Michigan Library History of the Manchester Township Library is 1838. The 125th anniversary of the Library is therefore of special importance this year.

Following the summer closing period, August 18 through Labor Day, September 2, there will be special events of historic interest at the local library. Mrs. Richard Kuntz, is chairman. Miss Nellie Ackerson and Donald Dorff are the Historical Study Committee for the Library information which was collected for a recent meeting of the individual libraries in Washtenaw County with representatives of the one-year-old Washtenaw County Library showed circulation of Library books from Manchester Township Library in April 1960 to March 1961 to be 4,797 and from April 1962 to March 1963 9,931. In the same period of time the number of people using the library was 2,821 in 1960-61, and 6,907 in 1962-63.

Interest in and use of the library now includes books, recordings and free film services through the County Library. Circulation of books among adult readers has been on the increase for the last three years. People are learning to ask for the material they want, says Mrs. Hardenbergh, librarian, and the local library has been able to obtain their wishes from the County or State Libraries if it is not available on the shelves. Also, reference material for most problems is available or can be quickly obtained.

Summer reading for fun is the present activity and 125 youngsters are enrolled in the Summer Program which is correlated with other Summer Reading Programs throughout the county. Reading lists are available to promote leisure reading with a purpose for those who are interested.

Story Hour (for youngsters who will be going into kindergarten this fall and including those who have finished third grade) is every Wednesday through Aug. 14. Thirty eight little folks have been attending this program between 1:30 and 2:00 on WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS so far. Mrs. James Jordan has been the story-telling lady.

BUD GUEST

For those people who missed Bud Guest last Tuesday morning the Sunny - Side of the Street program on WJR radio at 8:15 to 8:30 A.M. A very tantalizing letter from Manchester, was read over the air by Bud Guest, and the letter read as follows:

Dear Bud,
 July is the season of that particular form of midsummer madness known as the charcoal-broiled chicken barbecue. Beginning now, and continuing on into Fall, Farm Bureau's, Granges, and Civic Clubs in a score of rural communities will be staging mass community feasts to raise money for worthy purposes. They all feature chicken, and wherever you encounter one of these fiestas you will find a great similarity of equipment and technique.

There's an odd and interesting history behind this universal Midwest event. It all goes back to one man, a former All-American football player, now head of the Michigan State Poultry Science Department, known as Howard Zindel.

Some years ago, Dr. Zindel decided that more chicken would be consumed if people knew how to prepare it. After considerable experimenting, he concluded the best possible method of cooking was to broil large, plump chicken halves over charcoal, cooking them slowly so that the skin would never burn or blister, turning often, basting lightly with butter and salting prudently. . . . Chicken must be thoroughly cooked and Zindel's method of testing is to grasp the half-chicken with a pair of white work gloves, holding the thigh with thumb and forefinger, then gently twisting the leg bone. If the bone turns easily in the socket, the leg has been thoroughly penetrated and softened the tendons and the chicken is cooked.

Treated thus, the meat is moist, the skin crispy and faintly salty and butter-flavored. To put this careful technique on a mass production basis, Dr. Zindel devised turning racks that would hold twenty chicken halves. He designed pits of cement block just wide enough to hold the racks, and high enough to save the chefs the pain of slipped discs.

Shortly after the conclusion of his research, Dr. Zindel was put to a severe test. An Indiana corporation had heard about his technique and equipment and asked him to supervise the feeding of ten thousand guest at a gigantic corporate birthday party.

This event was a success. One of Howard's assistants was Ludy Klager, Michigan's leading poultryman, a resident of Manchester, and in 1954 Manchester put on its first chicken broil. We served 2,000 folks that first year and made several hundred dollars for improvements to the athletic field. In the ten years since then, the Manchester Broil has become the model for the Midwest. Thursday, July 18th., we will serve delicately flavored chicken to 5,500 people from a half dozen states and a few foreign countries, and will turn a profit of $2,200.00 all of which will go to civic improvement and youth activities.

"but for the Grace... THERE GO!!"

You've often thought that . . . even said it . . . at the sight of a badly smashed car, the sound of an ambulance siren, the report of a traffic death.

These are dramatic reminders of the tragic part of our auto accident problem . . . of more than 108,000 persons injured and nearly 1,600 killed in Michigan last year, and of an even greater rate of injury and death this year to date.

The less-dramatic accidents aren't so likely to arouse this feeling of deep concern . . . but they should.

These are the broad, and fast-growing, base of the problem. Our present rate of 260,000 accidents a year involves nearly four damaged cars for every injury, 250 for every death . . . and in many of these the only difference between a bent fender and a funeral is just a split second.

Stopping traffic tragedy starts with the take-no-chance driving which avoids even minor mishap.
