WILL YOUR HAY CROP BE SHORT. Then buy the best hay you can find and as soon as possible. Fewer acres will be harvested in many areas and drought conditions will be causing light supplies. On buying quality, each additional percent in protein content per ton. When possible, buy local hay where you know how it was handled. The growth stage when it was cut can easily change protein content several percentage points.

FEEDING STEERS ON PASTURE this summer will help them gain faster and weigh more at the end of the feeding period. Start grain feeding about the first of July. Ground shelled corn or its equivalent with about 42% cob makes a good ration to start with. After about 18 days reduce cob to 18%. Even when dry, feeding facilities are available. You can usually gain some advantage by utilizing pasture, followed by a short feeding period in drylot.

MAINTAIN EGG QUALITY. Eggs have their highest quality when first laid and from this point on every quality factor begins to decline. How fast or slow egg quality declines depends to a large extent on handling and storage practices. Most important is to provide a holding temperature of not more than 55 degrees with a relative humidity of at least 80%. If such conditions are maintained, you can keep the original egg quality high for 2 to 2-1/2 weeks.

HOG PRICES will show a little improvement during July and into early August. It may pay to carry hogs to a little heavier weight. During July, market when they reach 225 to 230 pounds, a little heavier than this during August.

Oh Deer!
Michigan farmers are becoming concerned about the build-up in deer herd numbers. With considerable food, "cover" and widespread protection, lower Michigan's deer herd has increased about 14 percent each recent year, and this fall will be up some 20,000 animals over last year.

"We are suffering a terrific loss of fruit from our young orchards in Livingston county due to browsing deer," says Robert Spier of Linden. He reports a loss of about $4,000 worth of apples last year with additional browsing of tender tree buds causing an estimated $6,000 in 1963 damages.

"The trees are badly damaged in their main structure and are severely stunted," according to Spier. He adds that he has invested approximately $40,000 in the land, trees, tiling and labor, with a good share of this substantial investment lost if the heavy local deer herd is not controlled.

"We have worked closely with the Conservation Officer in this area and have used every known type of repellent," Spier says. He has tried shooting, (under a permit) and fancy scarecrows, without effect.

A deer "population explosion" seems to have occurred in many sections of the state. Spier traces it from about 200 deer in 1954 to over 1,000 in Livingston county presently. "We may be facing a population of 2,000 in 1964," he feels.

A side issue to the main problem is the matter of highway safety. A fast-traveling deer can plunge into the path of a car with such speed that collision is inevitable. One farmer reported that a newly-opened portion of expressway past his farm "looked like a slaughterhouse" in an area where as high as 100 deer have been observed at times, feeding along the expressway route.

Farmers, through the Michigan Farm Bureau, have said that the deer-herd management is a local problem and should be subject to local regulation. They asked that seasons where "any deer" may be taken (not just bucks), should be subject to the approval of the local county Board of Supervisors and adjusted to areas where obvious over-population is a problem.

Schill Wins Two Races

Harold Schill of Manchester won the feature race at Manchester Speedway Friday night and also took the pursuit race. There was no time recorded in the feature because of a minor accident.

Jim Martin of Manchester annexed the first race in 3:31.15, Larry Marowelli of Napoleon the second in 3:45.46, Harold Underwood of Tecumseh the third in 3:59.16 and Doug Harvey of Ypsilanti the fourth in 3:58.81.

Pon Iott of Adrian captured the semifaure in 7:43.47 and Red Cook on the Clinton Brothers of the Brush event.

Foot Comfort Aids Stretch Shoe Budget

For many young parents, keeping the family well-shod is a financial challenge that ranks with the grocery bill, the mortgage, and the car payments.

One way to stretch your footwear budget, however, is to use some of the foot health products now on the market. Podiatrists say that foam latex or felt strips and cushion insoles can help prevent the deterioration of a shoe's inner structure, and even make worn-out shoes wearable again.

"This is especially true of less expensive shoes," said William O. Elson, medical research director for Blue Jay, foot products division of Bauer & Black.

"Their inner soles and linings break down quickly under hard wear. Properly applied pads and insoles can make them last longer."

Among the most common recommended uses for lining materials at trouble spots are: Fear - to relieve chafing caused by a cracked inner heel, or in any pressure area; Insoles - to replace deteriorated inner soles, and keep shoes clean and deodorized.

Foot perspiration soon attacks even the newest shoes, according to Blue Jay. Uncleanliness in the shoe can break down its construction, and cause foot tenderness or infection. Changing shoes daily and using insoles are two ways to combat this cause of trouble.

KODA'S KORNER

Contrary to any reports, the Manchester Enterprise will continue to be edited and published by Lois and George Koda.

As we begin our fifth year of publication we wish to thank our subscribers and advertisers. Without you we could not continue to serve the community. Our thanks to the churches for their news and all of the clubs for their cooperation in submitting news which makes interesting reading for everyone. These are the things which make-up a small town newspaper a real part of the community.

We thank everyone who helped us, especially since we moved to this community to make us feel welcome and become a part of Manchester. We believe too, that thanks is in order to the school board, and in particular to its president, Luther Klager, and the school faculty for keeping us up on the activities of the school.

In the coming years we hope to continue to serve you and ask that the citizens of Manchester will take even more interest in informing us of the local happenings.

Letters to the editors help to bring out the thinking of the people of the community. We welcome them. If you have questions concerning village, accounting of public funds etc. please feel free to write us. We will attempt to be the unifying agent for the organizations and activities and keep people informed as to what is going on in the community.

We say thanks again to the merchants who have advertised with us in the past and hope that they will continue in the future and that everyone will see in their home town newspaper the best possible means of communication to get their sales message to their prospective customers.

Play Set for Emanuel Church

The Bishop's Company of Burbank, California, will present Alan Patan's "Cry The Beloved Country" on Wednesday, July 31 at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary of Emanuel United Church of Christ in Manchester. This unique repertory company is now in its tenth year of touring from coast to coast and in Canada.

With the world's spotlight focused so often these days on Africa and on the negro dramatization of Patan's "Cry, The Beloved Country," as presented by this unusual Company becomes an event of both dramatic and historic interest. The millions who read the novel will want to see it come alive in the skilled hands of the Bishop's Company.

Founded in 1952 by Phyllis Beardsley Bokor, the Company has toured over 800,000 miles, playing in all of the 50 states and Canada. It has appeared as part of the program of the Second Assembly of the World Council of Churches at Evanston; at the United Church of Christ Purdue Conference of Christian Education and other colleges and universities.

The Bishop's Company is inter-racial and inter-faith. It is an independent organization named in honor of Bishop Gerald Kennedy of the Methodist church.

Remember the time and place is the Emanuel United Church of Christ, Manchester at 8 p.m. Wednesday, July 31. The public is most cordially invited.

Chairman Klager Says "Thanks"

Now the tenth annual Chicken Broil is history. Each succeeding year since its inception has been more successful than the preceding year.

The question that is asked the most from the thousands of visitors is, "How does Manchester do it?" How can a small community of approximately 1700 people feed 6500 in four hours with clock-like precision?

No single person or group of persons is alone responsible for this success. General chairman of the annual Chicken Broil for the past ten years has been Luther Klager. It is his opinion that if all the data, figures and information was fed into all the different computers or mechanical brain machines, the answer would be all the same.

That each of the 175-plus workers, giving his all in his own way on the job assigned to him, is the real reason. It would be unfair to mention any one individual or group. At the time of the Chicken Broil everyone in the community is ready to do everything in his power to make it better than last year.

It is believed that the computer machines would comment on what makes up a good community and how high Manchester rates in the basic essentials—good homes—good schools and a church-going community.

So, in behalf of the committee there is a big "THANK YOU" for a job well done going to everyone of the workers—to the village and rural friends, and to all who helped support our annual chicken broil.

Coming Event

Emanuel church services will be at 8 and 11 a.m. Sunday, July 28; the latter service will be broadcast over WPAG.

Almost five times the population of Manchester was served broiled chicken and trimmings at the largest chicken broil in the ten years of the annual event. Some 6,500 persons were fed between 4:15 and 9:30 p.m. Seating capacity is 1,500 at a time on the athletic field where the event is sponsored jointly by the Optimist Club and the Jaycees. The two clubs hasten to say that alone they could never undertake such a dinner—but with everyone helping, rural and village alike the annual chicken broil is the envy of other communities.

How do you do it? This question has been put many times to general chairman Lutie Klager. Everyone does the best he can and every year the whole operation seems to run even smoother.

The broil was originated by Howard Zindell, head of the poultry department at Michigan State University who believed that more chicken could be used in the state if people knew how to prepare it. He was right. The first broil of the kind he engineered right here in Manchester. Every year he comes to this little community to help with it. He and Roland Grossman engineer the testing of the birds and if they (the meat) can be turned at the joint freely the chicken is done. The chicken is turned 55 times during the hour and 20 minutes they are over the charcoal.

Most of the chicken comes from Chapman's of Ypsilanti. They use about 100 pair of canvas gloves for working at the pits and special rubber gloves for testing.

It takes 100 pounds of butter for testing. Tom Walton orders a ton of cabbage from Toledo for Dr. Jones special cole slaw cut on sauer kraut cutters.

Bud Guest, who was among the guests this year said he never dreamed of anything like it. What would you do if it rained he asked L. V. Kirk, president of the Optimist Club. Kirk assured him there is a special committee taking care of that, all of the ministers and priests are on the committee. The committee in charge of the broil say they haven't given much thought to what would happen if it rained—it hasn't rained in ten years. Money earned from Thursday's event has not been counted because all of the bills have not been paid, but the proceeds will be used to build shelters at Carr Park and bleachers for the athletic field. The money always goes to do something for the children of the community.

Persons from throughout Michigan, Ohio and Indiana and several other states attended the broil and use this as a means of visiting their friends in Manchester. Its just like a big homecoming where friends plan to meet.

"but for the Grace... THERE GO !!"

You've often thought that . . . even said it . . . at the sight of a badly smashed car, the sound of an ambulance siren, the report of a traffic death.

These are dramatic reminders of the tragic part of our auto accident problem . . . of more than 108,000 persons injured and nearly 1,600 killed in Michigan last year, and of an even greater rate of injury and death this year to date.

The less-dramatic accidents aren't so likely to arouse this feeling of deep concern . . . but they should.

These are the broad, and fast-growing, base of the problem. Our present rate of 260,000 accidents a year involves nearly four damaged cars for every injury, 250 for every death . . . and in many of these the only difference between a bent fender and a funeral is just a split second.

Stopping traffic tragedy starts with the take-no-chance driving which avoids even minor mishap.

Wed At St. Marys

A beautiful wedding was held Saturday, July 6th at St. David's Catholic Church in Detroit when Judith Ann Woods became the bride of Richard James Fahey, Manchester.

Mrs. Richard Fahey

A breakfast was held immediately following the wedding with a reception at 7 p.m. in the Hillcrest Country Club at Mt. Clemens.

Carol Woods, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Carol Prokuda, Roselyn Frohner, and Joan Jasion.

Tom Prieur acted as best man. U shers included Terry Hurley, Neil Otto, Ron and Gary Woods.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Woods of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. James Fahey of Manchester.

Mrs. Woods chose for her daughter's wedding blue silk linen with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore rose brocade silk.

State Police Make Last Call

Sgt. Carl Anderson, commanding officer of the Clinton post of the State Police, has issued a "last call" for young men who desire to enroll in training school for State Police officers scheduled this fall.

The application deadline is midnight July 28th.

Young men 21 to 29 years of age, married or single, not less than five feet 10 inches in height and with a high school education or its equivalent are eligible to apply, he said. For full information and application forms they may go to any State Police post.

"This is an excellent opportunity to join this fine career service," Sgt. Carl Anderson said. Among many benefits are a new five day week, new high pay scale, paid vacations, and paid sick leave, a daily subsistence allowance, free uniforms and a pension plan that permits the officer to retire at the end of 25 years of service at half pay, with the same pension going to his wife if she survives him.

But they must act now if they wish to enter this school.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

The following women were elected by the organized membership to serve as the County Executive Council for 1963-64. They will be installed on September 11th. Mrs. Robert Pratt, Manchester, Mrs. Thomas Gormley, Norvell; Mrs. Richard Vershum, Milan; Mrs. Nelson Green, Milan; Mrs. Betty Lesser, Mrs. Fred Wheeler, Dexter; Mrs. August Wolter, Mrs. Robert Nichols, Mrs. Jo Larson.

LIGHTS FOR DAM

The River Raisin dam on the east skirts of the village, directly across from the Thornton Products Plant (formerly Ford Plant) is now lighted at night by colored flood lights.

More than a year ago Mr. Ray F. Thornton, president of the Company said that he was making plans to clean up the property which he owns along the Raisin and probably he'd put up flood lights. The power for the lights is generated at the plant and passersby stop to watch stop to watch the "colored" water pour over the dam.

The project of cleaning up along the river bank was started by the late Henry Ford and it is interesting to note that the new owner has the same ideas for improvement. Men who worked in the plant were asked to spend some of the work day doing the clean-up. At present Mr. Thornton is experimenting with a new type of bulb which has just come out on the market. He was also instrumental in getting the State to cadmium plate the bridge at the dam site. It is the first cadmium plated bridge in the state of Michigan.

of the committee. As to the work at the Thornton Plant, Mr. Claude Lane, of Adrian, vice president, says that the research and development on the tandem independent suspension and locking and unlocking differentials is nearing completion and production is being planned.

NOW YOU CAN SEE WHY I WANT ONE OF THOSE BIG "NO DEFROSTING" Refrigerator-Freezers!

Are you still getting along with a "too small", "out-dated" Refrigerator that needs messy defrosting?

NEW REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS END ALL DEFROSTING

Today's modern, "care-free-design" refrigerator-freezers and all defrosting in both refrigerator and freezer sections. This means no frost ever - on food packages, ice cube trays or walls - no defrosting drudgery ever - no scraping, no chipping, no prying, no messy pans of water to empty (or spill). And, the handsome refrigerator-freezer models beautify every kitchen. The interior arrangement is planned for spacious food storage and easy access to food supplies. In addition, the new refrigerator-freezers will:

IT'S LIKE HAVING A SUPERMARKET IN YOUR OWN KITCHEN!

EASY SKILLET PORK CHOPS
6 ribs or loin pork chops, cut 3/4 inch thick
Skillet.
Brown pork chops in a little melted shortening in heavy skillet. Season with salt and pepper. Add sliced onion and 7-Up. Cover and simmer until meat is tender, 45 minutes to 1 hour. One-half cup seedless green grapes may be added during last 5 minutes of cooking, if desired. Serve remaining cooking liquid over chops. Makes 6 servings.

KEEP HOES COOL If you want them to graze efficiently, research shows that hogs gain little or no weight at temperatures above 90 degrees. An effective way of lowering hog temperature is to install a sprinkler where hogs can move under it at will. This is an especially good practice to use with pigs on concrete. A jet-pilot nozzle using about 3 gallons of water per hour will keep a pen of 5 to 10 pigs comfortable. Turn it on when temperature is above 85 degrees.

CARRY GRASS INSURANCE and you'll never be out of grazing. Set aside an area right now if you can spare it. Then when grazing is really short, as it often is in September and October, turn the cattle in. If your pasture is already getting low, there are several things you can do. Keep weeds clipped and rotate pastures to make available grazing as much as possible. In grass pastures, an application of 25 to 50 pounds of nitrogen will provide adequate moisture in available.

PAINT FARM BUILDINGS before harvest starts — you'll be too busy then. Buildings requiring painting should be protected before winter. When painting new wood the best protection is obtained with three coats, one primer coat and two finish coats. Water base paint for use outdoors is a better choice of paint. It is designed to increase moisture permeability, and when applied over a calcium chloride gives good protection to wood.

TRACTOR GOVERNOR MAINTENANCE can cost from $50 to $250 a year. In a Kansas study it was found that four out of five tractors had faulty governors. These that could be adjusted showed an average increase in horsepower of 5.5%, and a fuel consumption decrease of 4.5%.

EVERY DOG SHOULD HAVE A BED
By Bob Barlow, Manager Franks Pet Food Research Center
Every dog should have his own bed. Not only will it serve as sleeping quarters, but as a retreat when going around the house gets rough.
There is no need for a fancy model. A plain cardboard carton, cut down on one side to allow an entrance and exit and a pillow covered with a washable fabric does nicely.
The chief requisites for any dog bed, no matter whether one that will accommodate wicker, or wood, are that it be stationed out of traffic, out of drafts, away from radiators, that some provision is made for raising it off the floor, (in the case of the carton the pillow provides sufficient elevation) and that it's large enough to allow the dog to stretch out.
It's advisable, from an economy standpoint, when buying a bed for a new puppy, to get one that will accommodate him when he's reached his full growth. A blanket or old towel will fill up the empty space while he's small and give him something to nest with.

Vacation Trip to Alaska

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bertke

A Manchester couple has returned home after a 26-day vacation trip to Alaska. For several years Mrs. Glen Bertke wished that somehow she could visit the land of the midnight sun. About a year ago she suggested the trip to her husband. During the last several years they had visited 47 of the United States and they both agreed they believed they were missing something if they failed to see Alaska. Although Mr. Bertke failed to share the enthusiasm of his wife they started to make plans and to study the prospective trip.

She reasoned that if they took their station wagon and most of their food, many of their problems would be solved. If it was necessary they could even sleep in the car. Six nights of the 26 they did sleep in their station wagon.

Taking their own food cut down on the cost of the trip because they pointed out the farther north they traveled the higher the cost. They had the car outfitted with new six ply tires and took one spare. We didn't anticipate trouble and packed the spare at the bottom of the load but we did have it if we needed it.

Mrs. Bertke did some home baking before they left and there were pies, cakes, fried cakes and other goodies packed for the trip north.

Also packed away were prepared mashed potatoes, pancake flour, bacon, smoked ham, canned ham and other canned meats, fruit and vegetables. There was canned milk, instant coffee and tea, ten dozen eggs, six pounds of butter. An ice chest to carry perishables was part of the equipment.

The couple left by way of Northern Michigan and crossed into Canada and along route 17 to Regina, Saskatchewan and on to Edmonton. At Dawson Creek they were 2,069 miles from home. That is the starting point of Mile O Alaska Highway. The first 83 miles is paved. Then the fun begins and the dirt highway. In some places the road is good and smooth and in others it gets pretty rough. There is one thousand two-hundred twenty-one miles of this dirt road. Mosquitoes and black flies are bad in places the travelers said. They carried their own repellent, which they used freely when they camped.

Gas stations and cafes became farther apart as they traveled. The first week of the trip it rained some part of every day.

Fort Nelson is a thriving city of 2,653 and is a fur trading center. Oil wells are in abundance and it boasts of a newspaper, radio station, military hospital and three schools including a senior high.

On further they lodged at a place called the Village, owned by Anton and Jerry Money. At Coal River Lodge gas had jumped to 67 cents a gallon.

A note of interest is that at Contact Creek Bridge, in the year 1942 the US Corps of Army Engineers first made contact from the north and south. Farther up the road there was a building for campers, equipped with a stove and table. Here Mr. Bertke got out his trusty hatchet and cut fire wood so that his wife could prepare dinner.

On the menu that day was fried ham, mashed potatoes, squash, pickles, olives, bread and butter. They always managed to have a thermos of cold drinking water and a pail handy to carry water in. At Watson Lake, an Indian trading post, there are many wooden signs erected giving the names and addresses of those who have been blazing the trail to the north and Bertkes added their names to the ever increasing list.

Oh! Those Hot Sticky Nights Some hot nights you would gladly trade your soft bed for a hard cool floor. Everything seems hot and sticky even though it was clean and cool when the night began.

One very good way to make summer sleeping more comfortable is to have your pillows cleaned during the hot weather. This takes all the dirt, dust, grime and perspiration out of your feathers and restores the little curl to the feather that gives buoyancy to your pillow.
