

ESCAPER ADMITS WEAPON COUNT
Clyde L. Wheeling, 24, a former Manchester Man who escaped July 12 from the Ionia State Reformatory and who was captured by the Manchester Police Chief Jules Van DeGinsle on July 17, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court to carrying a concealed weapon.

Wheeling said he got the gun in an empty house on Sharon Hollow Road, three miles east of Sharon Hollow, and then went to Manchester where he was arrested. He had first gone to Detroit from Ionia.

Sheriff's deputies found a .22 caliber revolver in the waist band of Wheeling's trousers.

Wheeling was captured with another escaper, Harry L. Shepard, a 34-year old Detroit burglar. The Manchester man was serving concurrent terms of five to 15 years and two to five years on convictions for breaking and entering in the nighttime in Washtenaw and Jackson counties.

Wheeling will be sentenced by Judge William F. Ager, Jr. on August 2.

BERTKES TELL HIGHLIGHTS OF TRIP

At the Indian trading post, Watson Lake, we added our signboard with our names and addresses. Rustic log houses dotted the countryside, and making of black diamond jewelry seemed to be a main occupation.

Our next stop was at Otter Falls. The picture of this falls is on the Canadian $5 bill. Then we passed through miles and miles of virgin woods and mountains. At White Horse they visited unique Indian cemeteries where the Indian had erected little houses over the graves of their loved ones. Some have frames like a baby bed. The little houses were painted in all the colors of the rainbow. Some have headstones and their names engraved.

While in the area they had a chance to see the old sternwheeler steam ships left on the banks of the Yukon from the Gold Rush. Miners are dredging for gold in this area at the present time.

A modern community the residents boast of TV and laundromats.

St. John's church at Bridgewater will have a Mission Festival next Sunday at the church with Rev. A. F. G. Daeschel speaking at 10:30 a.m. and Chaplain R. Tupy, Selfridge Air Force Base speaking at 8 p.m.

VISITS GREAT - AUNT IN ENGLAND

Bruce Oates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Oates, will return with the Michigan Chorale, Thursday, August 15 at 9 a.m. at the Metropolitan Airport. While in England, Bruce was able to visit his great-aunt, Mrs. Arthur (Elizabeth Olds).

Marvin Oates father, the late John Oates, left England in 1900. Mrs. Olds has no children and Bruce is the first relative she has seen from the United States since her brother left in 1900. She is 82 years old, lives alone and is very active. She escorted her nephew on a day's trip around the area. They are pictured at Land's End at the extreme Southwest tip of England.

Bruce writes home that the cross-country trip in an English train—not at all like American trains, is pretty slow by comparison. "You find your own train, car and seat number no one tells you anything, not even when you come to your stop. It's all by number and a schedule," he wrote.

The chorale is giving concerts in England for 18 days, from London airport they flew to Finland, toured the country by bus and gave concerts in villages and towns even along the Russian border.

They sang in Sweden for ten days and will give concerts in Denmark, and Amsterdam, Holland before returning home. Their final concert will be at Hill Auditorium Sept. 1 at 3 p.m. Admission is free.

Graduation exercises were held Friday at ten o'clock at Siena Heights College in Adrian. Eleven lay teachers and 21 Sisters received their Master's degrees according to Sister Mary de Paul.

Among them was Mrs. Celestia Ingraham, a Junior High School teacher and building principal in the Manchester Public Schools. She received a Master's degree of Arts. She is a graduate of Jackson High School and received her BA degree from Siena Heights in 1958. Mrs. Ingraham has been teaching in the local school system for eight years and attending summer school at Siena Heights.

Relatives who attended graduation ceremonies also were invited to a luncheon at Mrs. Ingraham's home here. Among them were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry. Main of Pittsford, her sister Mrs. Walter Girbach of Tecumseh and Mrs. Lugdham's daughter, Mrs. David Gibson and children of Birmingham.

Banker Leaves Part Of Estate To Village

Bennett C. Root, a retired Manchester banker, whose funeral was held Monday, didn't forget the community in which he lived until the last few years, when he spent winters in Florida and the summers near Gaylord.

Mrs. Ann Root, his widow, and James C. Hendley, local attorney and president of the Union Savings Bank are the co-executors and trustees of the Bennett C. Root estate as provided in the banker's will.

Mr. Hendley remarked that "the heart and soul of Mr. Root were with the people of Manchester and with the bank which he served for over fifty years. This was very plain in his will.

"Provision was made for the improvement of Carr Park (the beautiful village park which attracts hundreds every Sunday in the summer. The trustees are authorized to expend up to $5,000 for improvements of the park. Although Mr. Root had no children he planned for the welfare of many, for the village park is the place where the Little League games are played—where there are swings and slides and many acres for a recreation area.

Brethren Church. Mr. Root was a life-long member of the Manchester Methodist church and served on the church board for many years. He was its treasurer from 1942 to 1956.

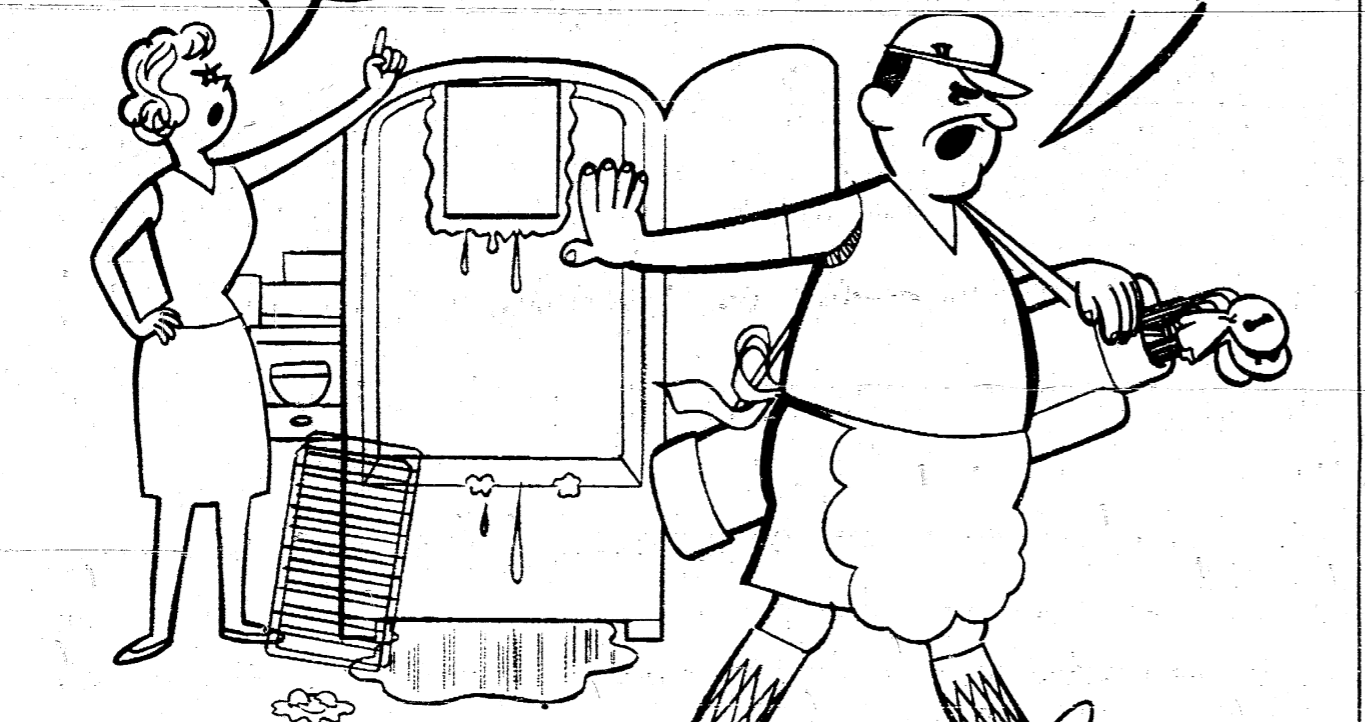

"Dear to his heart was the Manchester High School of which he was a graduate," Mr. Hendley continued, "The trustees are to set up a scholarship fund to aid deserving Manchester High School students to attend college. The exact amount of this fund cannot be determined at this time."

Certain portions of his estate are to be set aside for the benefit of the employees of the Union Savings Bank and will be added to the bank's pension fund.

Mr. Root was very active in civic affairs during his many years at the bank. He served as village president and township clerk and was a member of the school board.

"Yes," Mr. Hendley continued, "Bennett thought a lot of Manchester and here's the proof."

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

FENCE POSTS can be expected to last more than 20 years if treated according to specifications of "Commercial Standard." These specifications call for posts to retain at least 6 pounds of a creosote-petroleum mixture containing 50 per cent solids per cubic foot of wood.

When you buy pressure-treated fence posts, check the certification. Each post will be marked showing the preservative and treating process used and the amount of preservative retained in the wood.

HARVESTING CORN COB MIX with a combine is a new practice that livestock feeders are going for. Only a few adjustments and modifications are necessary on the combine. With one adjustment the combine shells the corn and breaks the cob into pieces about one inch long. By another adjustment, it cracks the kernels and breaks the cob into smaller pieces. The mix must be stored in an airtight or conventional silo. Harvest at 25% to 35% grain moisture.

CONTOVERSY OVER PESTICIDES isn't over yet, although it has died down somewhat. You can expect tighter restrictions by next spring. Some chemicals may be taken off the market. USDA authority to decide whether a pesticide should be marketed may be cut and placed in the hands of other non-farm departments. Follow label directions closely when using chemicals. With the subject in the limelight, any mistake will make juicy publicity.

SUDAN GRASS and some other broad-leaved grasses may be poisonous to livestock at certain times. Poisoning is caused by a chemical change resulting in the formation of prussic acid. This acid is present only when the grass is recovering from wilting or when it is making new rapid growth. During these periods keep cattle off Sudan.

TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

The Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Brasse will be celebrating their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Aug. 11 with open house at the Iron Creek Church from 2 to 5 p.m.

The couple was married August 12, 1913 in Tecumseh by the Rev. Frederick Schwede of the Lutheran Church on the Ridge.

The couple left immediately for Montana where Mr. Brasse was a school teacher at Chinook, Montana. He had been teaching there for three years prior to his marriage. He continued to teach there for 11 years. He was very active in church work and often supplied by holding services in outlying school houses. He was granted a local preachers license by the Methodist Church in Chinook, Montana.

The couple homesteaded 8 miles from Chinook on a 160 acre homestead. Three of their children, Mrs. Emmett (Virginia) Noggle, Edward, who lost his life in World War 11 in India, and Arthur Clare, who died of whooping cough, were all born in Montana.

Because of illness in the family they moved back to Tecumseh, Michigan in December 1920.

Rev. Brasse taught for four years in a rural school known as the Colvin School before joining the Tecumseh school system in 1925. He taught for 24 years in the Tecumseh Schools. Their two sons, Neal of Rochester, New York and Donald of Tecumseh, (a teacher in Tecumseh High School) were born in Tecumseh.

In the spring of 1928 Rev. Brasse was asked to supply for a few Sundays at the Iron Creek Church and he has been the pastor of the church since that time.

For the past few years they have spent the winters in Florida.

Rev. Brasse retired from teaching in the spring of 1949.

They lived in Manchester and at the parsonage of the Iron Creek Church for many years before moving to Tecumseh six years ago when Rev. Brasse planned to retire from the ministry. He was asked to continue his work at the church and is still continuing to preach at the church.

In Florida at St. Cloud.

BAPTIST CHURCH IN THE WINTER

Rev. Brasse teaches a men's class every Sunday. Mrs. Brasse is the former Helen G. Smith and was married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Smith of Tecumseh. The couple enjoys good health. Mrs. Brasse sings in the choir at the Iron Creek Church and for many years was the organist. She is active in the Senior Missionary and Friendship Circle of the church. She taught the primary department for many years.

Besides their three children they have six grandchildren.

No formal invitations are being sent to their golden anniversary but their friends will all be welcome.

CAR DEMOLISHED DRIVER UNHURT

A 31-year-old Manchester area woman climbed from her demolished 1961-model car without a scratch early Sunday morning after a crash which sheriff's deputies said was "hard to believe."

There was a quarter of a mile of debris, officers said. Deputies said Mrs. Ekin was driving north on Fletcher road near the Dexter-Chelsea Road, in Lima township about 4 a.m. Sunday when her car went out of control at an estimated speed of 75 miles per hour.

The speeding vehicle went off the left side of the road, knocked down a culvert post crossed the road and then came to the left side of the highway, knocked over a metal post and crashed into a concrete curb.

Deputies said the car then hit a tree with its left side, hit another tree with its right side, and continued forward for another 20 feet before stopping in brush. The front right steering frame of the car and a piece of concrete were found embedded in the underpinning of the vehicle, deputies said.

PERSONAL

LIBRARY BOOKSHELVES

Have you been to the library yet this week? Saturday August 17 starts a two-week vacation period for the Manchester township library. The librarian suggests that if you haven't been in to get your reading material for this vacation time, don't be caught with nothing to read.

For 6th graders through young adults:
John F. Kennedy and PT-109 This is a vivid account of the operations of PT boats in World War II and of a mighty shipwreck and an incredible rescue as well as the profile of a young officer's courage, befitting a future president.

MYSTERY AT LITTLE SQUAW RIVER by Nelson-A novel of a girl's experiences in a small northwestern town, while staying with her cousin she meets a young man and together they solve a mystery full of suspense, and realistically drawn against a fascinating background of fish-hatchery life.

GIRL IN APRIL by Kerslin The story of a young girl whose one ambition was to become a fashion designer. The emergence of this shy girl from an over-sheltered northern Swedish home to a young woman aware of herself and the world around her in Stockholm is unusually fine reading.

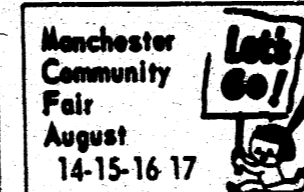

THE CLASSICS RECLASSIFIED by Richard Armour-A fiendish satire on the classics (The Required Reading List). Armour retells seven great works to the delight of everyone who has ever drowsed in school with incredible results. And for those who cannot read, Campbell Grant's 79 drawings lend much to the meaningful absurdity.

AN ANTHOLOGY OF FAMOUS BRITISH STORIES edited by Bennett Cerf & Henry Moriaty. In this volume are 80 of the best stories by British authors from Chaucer to the present day. There are 10 e stories ghost stories, detective stories, and stories of the sea told by men who know it best of all. Hours of reading enjoyment are guaranteed in these pages.

ALVIN CLARK INJURED IN FALL

A Manchester high school custodian is in critical condition at University hospital Ann Arbor after he fell 8 feet onto a concrete floor. Alvin Clark, 68, and Lewis Trolz, both employees of Manchester public schools, had climbed up to a storage loft above the janitors' office in the High School to get some ply wood.

Mr. Trolz said they were pulling out the ply wood when he noticed Clark was getting close to the edge and said, "Be careful, Clarkie, don't fall". Just as he got the words out the fellow workman fell backward to the concrete floor below, striking his head. The accident occurred at 8:55 a.m. when the impact stopped Mr. Clark's watch, Thursday morning.

Clark was rushed to Tecumseh hospital in an unconscious condition and then moved to University hospital in Ann Arbor where doctors reported it would be three or four days before they could predict the severity of the skull fracture.

Mr. Trolz, badly shaken after the tragedy said that the two started to work together nine years ago, August 15, when the new high school was completed.

SURVEY COMMITTEE SETS FINAL MEETING ON COMMUNITY COLLEGE

During the past year and a half a comprehensive citizen's survey has been underway in Washtenaw County to study whether conditions warrant the establishment of a two-year public community college. The study was initiated by the County School Officials Association and conducted by a citizen's committee, members of which were chosen from every district maintaining a high school under the direction of consultants from the Bureau of School Services, the University of Michigan.

September 9 at 8 p.m. in the Tappan Junior High School cafeteria, 2251 E. Stadium Blvd., Ann Arbor, there will be a final meeting of the Survey Committee. Summary reports will be given of the findings. The meeting is expected to be attended by members of the County School Officials Association and School superintendents and board members.

Citizens from Manchester who have been participating in the survey are Mrs. Roland Grossman, Reno Feldkamp, Ted Roberts and Mrs. Tom Walton.

PERSONAL Mrs. Helen Welch is in a critical condition at St. Joseph hospital where she was taken Saturday, Aug. 3.

HOSPITALIZED Clarence Schlicht is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy hospital.

WATERSHED PROJECT TO BE AIDED HERE

A special meeting of the River Raisin Watershed project will be held Tuesday, August 20 at 8 p.m. at the Emanuel Church hall at 324 West Main Street in Manchester. This will be an open forum type of community meeting to inform the people of Manchester of what improvements are being planned for the River Raisin and also to show state representatives what interest Manchester has in these improvements.

After several meetings of the project committee a technical advisory committee from Lansing surveyed the River Raisin from beginning to end and approved the river improvements for state grants with local sponsorship under Public Law 566.

Besides various display and aerial photographs of the river an interesting program is planned. John Comstock, Lenawee County Extension Director, and Don Mitchell, Lenawee Co. Drain Commissioner will present a brief history of the River Raisin Watershed Project to date and will also inform those attending of the future possibilities of the project and how it would affect Manchester.

Kenneth Hallenbeck, Director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, will be the guest speaker. He will talk on the laying of ground work and the problems encountered in a watershed project. A discussion will follow during which these men will answer questions concerning the project, River Raisin Watershed Project Steering Committee reported.

FARM FIRE

The Manchester Fire Department was called to answer a call at the Mrs. Donald Krzyzaniak farm at 11855 E. Austin Road when a fire was discovered in one of the farm buildings by the baby-sitter.

Mrs. Krzyzaniak was away from home at work when Miss Ross first discovered the fire in the chicken house. The fire spread and burned a garage and tool shed housing farm tools before the fire department could get it under control, according to fire chief, James Kensler who said the damage was estimated to be around $1,500.

The department managed to save the big barn although some holes were burned in the roof. Cause of the blaze could not be determined at this time the fire chief said.

EMANUEL WELCOMES NEW MEMBERS

Sunday, August 11 Emanuel church received ten new members. They are: Miss Betty Schebor, David Shadley, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Smith, Harry P. Johnson, James Lyon, Donald Rhees, Maynard Blossom, Mrs. Howard Breitenwischer and Mr. William Bunney.

OPTIMIST STEER CLUB

Manchester Steer Club members will be exhibiting their steers during the Manchester Community Fair. Judging will take place Thursday, August 15 at 8 p.m. on the athletic field. There are 38 steers being shown this year. Most of the steers were financed by notes endorsed by the Optimist Club members.

Steer Club rules made up several years ago make the sale limited to the top 25 animals at the regular auction sale. The balance may either be sold in groups at auction or shipped or sold to private buyers. The decision will be made by a combined committee of Optimist Committee members and fathers of Steer Club members affected by the decision.

Steer calves were purchased by a committee of Optimists and fathers of the Steer Club members and were allotted to the boys and girls by a drawing. Profit on the steers go to the boys and girls who raised and trained the steers. The Optimist Club sponsors this activity in keeping with its creed to be of aid to the youth of the community.

Steers were purchased December 1, 1962 from Michigan Livestock Exchange and were insured by Sutton Agency in Manchester by a Hartford Livestock Exchange Policy.

Optimist Steer committee: William Hamilton, chairman, Herman Kuebler, Chester Koceski and Tom Walton expressed their appreciation to agriculture instructor, Maynard Blossom and Dr. Henry Eames who have assisted with this year's Steer Club activity.

Union Savings Bank of Manchester is again host at a luncheon at Emanuel church hall at 11:30 a.m., Saturday, August 17. All Steer Club members and their fathers are to be guests at this affair. The buyers at last year's sale and commission company representatives will also be invited to the luncheon.

Special awards to Steer Club members were donated by Grossman-Huber Service, Tom Marshall, Inc. and Kirk Electric. The Steers are to be weighed in Saturday morning, August 17 after being without feed or water for twelve hours. Auctioneers are from the Napoleon Livestock Commission.

Michigan State University specialists will be on hand Thursday evening to judge the animals.
