Und Drive Hits 60%

UNITED FUND CAMPAIGN REARS TWO-THIRD MARK Slowly but steadily the Manchester United Community Fund and Red Cross thermometer on Main St. is rising to the top. With good intentions to finish the drive by November 1, this year, the deadline will no doubt slip a week or more due to the usual delays in making contacts.

The goal for the 1964 Fund is $9,383 which includes the 1964 budgets for 47 agencies. If you have not been contacted at all, for some reason, call one of the campaign chairmen, Eugene Bentschneider, Mrs. M. Thomas Marshall, Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Marvin Kirk, Mrs. Ray Kirk or Al Simmons.

KING'S DAUGHTER CONVENTION

The 59th annual convention of the King's Daughters was held last Wednesday at the Methodist church hall. The new officers are: Mrs. Arthur Hochrein, president; first vice president, Mrs. Harold Burch; second vice president, Mrs. F.L. Gahrlich; treasurer, Mrs. Clara Greiner; secretary, Miss Rebecca Wilson and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ralph Wolf.

BAPTISED

Jill Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Curtis was baptised at the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Jackson Sunday by J. William Wahl. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Horne were sponsors. The baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Curtis also attended. All were dinner guests of the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart of Jackson.

WINTER BRIDE

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Cherie Lynn Roberts of Tipton, and David Rangler, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rangler of Tecumseh. Miss Roberts, who is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts of Manchester, is employed by the Beauty Land Salon at Ypsilanti. Her fiance is employed by Misco-Clinton Corp. The couple plan a winter wedding.

"Here's What I Think of The United Fund"

Ron McNally President Jaycees

The Community chest drive to me is one of great importance and value. In the past years I have witnessed the work and benefits derived from the financial success of this project in the community and know that it is a job well done.

The time and effort spent on this project by the many citizens of the village are in a most important manner. Being closely related to some of the programs made possible by the monies from the Chest, I cannot help but feel very grateful to the volunteers and donor that put forth these efforts.

As in a basketball game or a football game or other contests, or in comparison with the club I am in, all persons pull together for a common goal or victory.

So it is with the Community chest where everyone helps and pulls together for the common goal of the chest. I hope that this year will find Manchester going "over the top" in this drive so the fine success of the Chest goals may continue.

MOMS AND DADS ON THE WAGON

The George Goodells entertained at a hayride and a good old fashioned barn dance Saturday night. From what we hear everyone had a fine time including the Basil Schwabs, Roger Marrisons, John Jumps of Saline, Keith Doelkers, Robert Armtrouts, Richard Ways and Ron McNally and Joe Budick. They were joined at the dance by Mr. and Mrs. D.E. Limpert.

COMING EVENT

Saturday, Nov. 9 the PTA of the Pleasant Lake school will have a square dance and euchre party at the school from 9 to 1 a.m. Helen Gross orchestra, Luther Schaible caller. Mrs. Louis Vogel is general chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Kent of Corning, New York are the parents of a boy, James Earl, born October 10 at Corning hospital. The baby weighed 7 lbs. 6 oz. Mrs. Kent is the former Suzanne Merriman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Merriman of Manchester.

Pastor Retires After 33 Years

A school teacher-pastor says "goodbye" to his first and only pastorate in 33 yrs. The Rev. Alvin Brazee told his parishners at the Iron Creek church about a month ago that he felt it was time to retire, much as he disliked the thought of leaving them. The church is located about three and a half miles southwest of Manchester.

He and his wife are planning to spend the winter at their summer home in Florida. No appointment has been made to fill the vacancy. More than a hundred gathered at the country church for a farewell party to the pastor who had served them so well. The couple had celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Aug. 12. After his marriage to the former Helen Smith in Tecumseh, the couple left for Chinook, Montana where they lived on a ranch. He was a school teacher and even in those early days he worked with a minister's license from the Methodist church in Montana.

When he began doing missionary work in Montana the services were held in the school houses. In the history of the Iron Creek church services were first held in the Iron Creek school from April 21, 1855 until the dedication of the present church on December 8, 1868. In the spring of 1928 Rev. Brazee was asked to "supply for a few Sundays" due to the illness of pastor, Rev. cont. pg. 3

Celebrate 101st Anniversary

Emanuel church will celebrate its 101st anniversary Sunday, Nov. 3 with a festival service at 10:30 a.m. at which the Rev. Mr. R.C. Stanger D.D. president of Elmhurst College will be guest speaker. Confirmation reunion service at 2:30 p.m. with special honor to members of the church confirmed 50 years ago or more.

There have been 1500 confirmands to date. Thursday, Nov. 7 an anniversary banquet is planned for 6:30 in the parish hall. Reservations are to be made in advance. The Rev. Victor Schoen, Highland, Illinois, son of Rev. Albert Schoen, pastor from 1919 to 1928, will be guest speaker at an informal gathering at 8 p.m. Those not able to attend the banquet are invited to the meeting which will feature a church council meeting enacted by senior members.

Emanuel has a long and colorful history. German pioneers soon found they needed special services even while settling this part of a new country. They had pilgrimages by horse and buggy to Freedom township to worship, just as they had in the homeland. Bethel church was established at that time with Rev. J. G. Hildner pastor. Charter members included such names as Unterkircher, Schlicht, Schaible, Schill and Haschle. The bearded minister saw the necessity of making trips from Freedom to Manchester where he conducted services in some of the homes. This was a humble beginning for the edifice which is Emanuel today. Church was most often held at the Chris Jaudes and Fred Kurfesses. Soon a permanent place of worship was necessary and a small unused school at Soulesville was bought. Soulesville was the oldest part of the village of Manchester—now the southeast corner of the village. Church services were held in it and it was moved to a lot north of the present Elementary School. This building was later bought by B.G. Lovejoy for commercial purposes. Rev. J. Neumann, pastor at Bethel took this small mission church under his wing until 1875 when the congregation asked for its own pastor and Rev. S. Edelstein answered. Pastor Ph. Wehrheim replaced him in 1877 and the congregation continued to grow rapidly. The Guild was formed in 1879. An addition was built on the church to hold the growing membership. Then on Christmas Eve the floor of the church began to sink beneath the heavy load and many of the oldtimes took this to be a hint that God wanted a new house erected.

Suggestions as to location of a new site were discussed and finally the entire city block on West Main Street where the church stands was bought for one thousand dollars. The congregation had great enthusiasm as they went about raising funds and large subscriptions were made. For according to the church history "the people had a mind to work".

Luckily Frederick and Michael Schaible who owned the brick yard across the railroad track to the northwest of the church, were members of the church and they agreed to make the bricks which were willingly hauled by other members to the building site. The cornerstone was laid in the early summer of 1882.

As the snow fell quietly on a cold December 10, 1882 the members were light in spirit for their hard work was finished and Emanuel was dedicated. Pastor J. Neumann wrote of the dedication, "Just take a glance at the most beautiful ornate in Manchester, the most attractive German church in Washtenaw." cont. pg. 8

Fourteen members of the Beacon Light Extension and 2 guests met with Mrs. Erma Mayer Oct. 23. County dues were collected and the club decided to participate in the Christmas Idea Project on Nov. 4 and 5 at the Pittsfield townhall.

Mighty Raisin River: State's First 'Freeway'
by Mrs. Reginald Angus

EDITOR'S NOTE: Making the Raisin River a more useful source of water to the many communities through which it flows is still largely a dream, but one that may come true if certain obstacles can be overcome. The primary importance to us of this project is not easily seen, but we do hope to recognize the value of this important river which originates in this area. Permission is given to reprint all or any part of this article. We do ask, however, that proper credit be given the author and this newspaper.

The dam above building and dam at Dundee was recently sold to the Wolverine Fabric Co. by the City of Dundee. The dam controls the flow of water to Monroeville.

The Raisin River was a roadway in its most primeval form. Musgrove Evans followed a tributary of the Raisin from Tecumseh to a lake in the Irish Hills which now bears his name. As early as 1822, a Mr. Wentworth of Connecticut followed the River Raisin. The Detroit Gazette of October 17, 1823 records his impressions: "The river is navigable spring and summer and tail 70 or 80 miles into the interior, for boats and large perogues in which the produce of the settlers can be sent to Monroe, from whence it may be shipped to any quarter."

The article goes on, explaining that "They explored the River Raisin a very considerable distance beyond the extreme settlement (now the city of Monroe), and at a point where the river forms a beautiful bend making almost a right angle to the north (probably near Blissfield), they selected a tract of 1000 acres. The 1822 article concludes with an estimate of the river's advantages: "Its nearness to Lake Erie, the healthiness of the inhabitants, the excellent mill privileges and the fertility of its soil, all unite to make it an object of the first magnitude to the agriculturalist and the man of business."

Many a person went the full length of the Raisin looking for land that might develop into valuable town and city property. Such was the case of General Joseph W. Brown of Tecumseh who took title to land in Jackson County, along the River Raisin, near Vineyard Lake.

Another hopeful buyer was Charles Blackmar or Charles Blackman of Cambridge Township, Lenawee County, who, in 1829, had a tavern on historic Chicago Pike just west of where it crossed one branch of the River Raisin, near South Lake in Woodstock township. His son, William Sylvester Blackmar, relates in the Pioneer Association records, Vol. 13: "You see, every man was looking for a spot where some of the big cities of the new empire of the white man was to be. The great Chicago turnpike to them seemed must forever be the highway of trade and travel, and the Monroe turnpike would probably in-

The River Raisin finds another dam located in Tecumseh at Hayden Mill Pond. Wm. Hayden founded flour mills in Tecumseh and Jackson. The proposed project would flood about 100 acres directly north and east of the mill pond.

The River Raisin at Blissfield was used as a "road" between there and Monroe where the land office was located.

from the old Catholic parish of St. Anthony's in Monroe records these words of thanks for Federal aid: "This day, the seventh of December, A. D. 1815, in a general meeting, presided over by the Rector and the undersigned, and Frances La Salle having been duly elected secretary of the said meeting, it has been unanimously resolved by the inhabitants of Riviere aux Raisins that they feel themselves deeply affected with a due sentiment of gratitude towards the government of the United States for the generous assistance it has given them after the misfortune of the late war. . . . This resolution was signed by the rector, Father Gabriele Richard (1764-1832), afterwards a delegate to Congress. Such are the memories invoked by a historical marker, erected in tribute to this pioneer Catholic parish, which one may read if he takes the old Custer Road into the city of Monroe. Just three-quarters of a mile off Telegraph Road, the old parish church of St. Anthony's was located. The marker tells us that this was the site of the second church in the North West Territory, founded in 1788 just a few years after Michigan became American territory. Old chronicles relate how a Catholic Bishop traveled from Montreal to the River Raisin in a small canoe in order to be present for the dedication of the chapel. In addition to the famous Father Richard, this parish was also served by Father Badin, the first Roman Catholic priest ordained in the United States. Some years later this parish was replaced by St. Mary's parish in Monroe.

IN MICHIGAN BEER IS A NATURAL

From nature's light grain comes sparkling, light beer... Michigan's traditional beverage of moderation—it's light, sparkling, delicious.

And naturally, the Brewing Industry in Michigan is proud of the more than 20 million tax dollars it contributes to the state of Michigan each year—money that helps support our schools, our hospitals and our parks. In Michigan, beer belongs—enjoy it.

Personal Mrs. August Knill, who spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Simon Braun in Milan returned home with another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fielder and grandsons, Marlene and Tommy Rossiter who were Sunday dinner guests at the Braun home.

PASTOR RETIRES

Peter Scheurer, The few weeks extended into 33 years his gentle, kind ways endeared him to the congregation and to everyone who came to know him.

At their farewell party the couple said their happiest as well as saddest days were linked with the country church. Parishioners knew that the saddest time was when they received word of the death of their son, Edward in India on June 14, 1944-World War II.

Many changes and improvements have come with the years. In August 1938 electricity was brought to the church and parsonage. 1944 brought the much needed new well to the church property and in May 1946 work was begun on the new church basement. An oil furnace was installed in May 1947 and Sept. 19, 1948 a new electric organ was dedicated. In 1950 new carpeting was laid. The minister and his wife have watched with satisfaction the increase in membership as well as material improvements at the church.

One of the highlights during their fruitful years was the centennial celebration. Rev. Brazee was also ordained at the church he served.

Mrs. Brazee was organist for many years and directed his choir. She too, enjoyed working with young people and was very active in directing the activities of the missionary society and Friendship Circle. The country pastor won't be going far from his life's work, for each Sunday he'll be teaching a Sunday school class in St. Cloud and also doing supply work.

PERSONAL Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Stockinger of Tecumseh and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Leidy of Cross Pointe Woods were at the Stockinger cottage south of town and also called on Mrs. Ernest Stockinger and Mr. and Mrs. Max Radke.

First meeting of those interested in leader training for Catholic youth organization at rectory Tuesday, Nov. 5 at 8 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 6 Friendship Circle of Iron Creek church 8 p.m. at home of Mrs. Robert Rutherford.

Harvest dinner at the North side church. Family style marker dinner with all the trimmings starting 5 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 6.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our kind friends and neighbors at the time of the loss of our dearly beloved daughter and sister. We especially thank the Rev. Jesse Eggs for his prayers and words of comfort, pall bearers and honorary pall bearers of the Senior Class, the Past Matrons Club, members of the Eastern Star and Legion Auxiliary.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, stated: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weir and Sons.

101st ANNIVERSARY

Splendidly she stands 40 feet with a 150 foot spire, pointing heavenward. May she be a real Beacon to many a one, who would be convinced that this is more other than the House of God. The entire structure cost $14,000.

The same bells which rang to worship were dedicated March, 1887. The large one CONCORDIA was contributed by the congregation and the small bell by the Young Ladies Society.

In 1927 the present parish hall was started and dedicated in 1928 at a cost of $27,000 under the pastorate of Rev. Walter Henningsen who succeeded Rev. Albert Schoen.

The H.S. Voc Range, whose father L. Voc Range had been at the church as a missionary August 1894 was asked Emanuel to take over as pastor. He served until 1950. With his help the church building was first printed.

Emanuel had never joined a Synod until April 1951. The original pipe organ was replaced with a new Wurlitzer organ in March 1951. The Rev. Karl Rest became pastor of Emanuel in 1951 and a camping program was initiated and projects started to raise funds for better provisions for training children in Church School.

With the resignation of Rev. Rest, the present pastor, Rev. Ralph L. Kuehler took over the reign of Emanuel.

The present improvement program began. A new chapel was erected, new presbytery installed, church sanctuary was redecorated and a new air address system installed. A new two-story building now joins the church and parish hall, the last kitchen has been remodelled and there was expanding under the church for additional rooms. The plans were submitted to the congregation and plans went along "for the people had a mind to work". The cornerstone was laid Nov. 8, 1961 and the new educational addition was completed and dedicated May 20, 1962. The total cost of the project was $140,000. Gustav Kuehler, son of the pastor was ordained into the ministry in June 1962 and the long history of Emanuel discloses that six men and one woman from the church have entered the ministry. Membership now is 250 and 300 children compared to the fourteen charter members. Much progress is written in the history since the time when a door in a small frame church gave way letting the congregation know, "It is time to build."

SENIOR PLAY REVIEW

L. to R. Kathy Mann, Nina Strang, Craig Hawker, Sharon MacLeod, Carl Miller.

Senior play practice got into full swing last week starting with rehearsals on Monday night. Mrs. Elizabeth Bazany is directing the play, "Father of the Bride" which is to be presented at the Civic Auditorium on Friday, Nov. 15, and Saturday, Nov. 16. Included in the cast are: Mr. Banks, father of the bride, played by Craig Hawker; Mrs. Banks, mother of the bride, played by Sonia Williams; Kay Banks, the bride played by Diane Dresselhouse; Ben Banks, the bride's nineteen-year-old brother, played by Carl Miller; Jamie Banks, the bride's twelve-year-old sister, played by Beth Kessler; Buckley Berman, the bride's groom, played by Jim Barnhart; Delilah, the Banks' maid, played by Kathy Mann; Peggy Swift, Ben's girlfriend, played by Sharon MacLeod; Miss Bellamy, Mr. Banks' secretary, played by Nina Strang; Burt, Jamie's best friend, played by Russel Peterson; Mr. Massoula, head of a catering service, played by Doug Spike; Joe, Mr. Massoula's assistant, played by Rick Swabo; Mrs. Pulitzke, the dressmaker, played by Maureen Kirk; and Red, Pete, and Tim's Man, furniture movers, played by John Englebert, Jim Schook, and Jerry Osborne. Haymo Knichel is the Stage Manager, and the Student Director is Susan Walker. One morning at breakfast, Kay breaks the news to her family that she plans to be married. Buckley tells Jay's family of their simple wedding plans. However, Kay soon changes her mind, and decides she would rather have a small church wedding. As plans progress, much to Mr. Banks' dismay, the wedding becomes a larger affair than is expected. Patrons and bridal consultants as well as members of the family, add to the state of disaster. On the day of the wedding approached, tension and confusion mount. You will surely want to see the outcome of this racy comedy. "Father of the Bride".

Spike Attends Conference

Doug Spike took a very interesting trip to Oklahoma. He was nominated through the 4-H to represent the Michigan Youth Commission and Youth Advisory Council which acts as an advisor to the commission. He was chosen to attend the National Conference of Problems of Rural Youth and changing environment. The program was sponsored by the National Committee for Children and Youth at the Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Sept. 22-25.

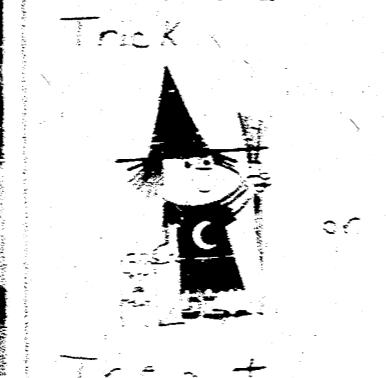

The conference was a follow-up of the white House Conference of Children and youth. Another conference held was a National Conference on Rural Youth. Here they discussed the problems of youth and recommended solutions to these various problems. Some specific recommendations were:

1. strengthen the school
2. increase the awareness of problems of the youth
3. expand employment opportunities
4. improve programs in guidance and counseling
5. conduct appropriate research

The conference divided into twenty work groups of twenty to twenty-five persons. Each group had a problem to deal with. Doug's group dealt with creating an awareness of the problems of young people and utilizing youth service programs and agencies.

Sixty papers were written by professionals on various topics concerning youth. Doug has five of these papers on which is printed in this issue of the A2-venture. A book is now being prepared which will tell the recommendations of the work groups and all the speakers. Doug's group on this book hope it will be printed within six months.

Doug has been invited to join the Youth Advisory Council which is an organization of youth group representatives. There are twenty-six groups in Mich. Each one of the people who attended this conference has a responsibility to return to their own state and initiate action.

Students Write Congress

Copies of the following letter were sent to Rep. Thomas Morgan, Chairman of the U.S. House of Representatives Foreign Relations Committee; Sen. William Fulbright, Chairman of the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee; Senators Pat McNamara and Philip Hart from Michigan; Representative George Meader; Congressman at Large Neil Stabler; the Jackson "Citizen Patriot"; the "Ann Arbor News"; and "The Manchester Enterprise."

"Mr. Aaron believes that more restrictions should be placed on the Indian government's use of our foreign aid money. Ford Motor Company was used as an example of such restrictions. Ford Company grants loans, sets up business and training workers. The Company, in turn, expects a strict accounting of how, where and who spends the money they have loaned. The Indian people accept these restrictions and proudly carry out their responsibilities.

"The question was asked of Mr. Aaron whether or not Prime Minister Nehru's government would accept United States aid with stipulated restrictions on its use. He stated that in his opinion the Indian government of today would accept aid on this basis.

"Mr. Aaron also suggested various other ways to aid India. The common people need food, trained technicians and skilled workers to help themselves become self-sufficient. He suggested that some of the money appropriated to India be used to educate the young people. They, in turn, could help their people with their knowledge and skill. He also recommended that the U.S. government grant long term loans with low interest rates to India. The people could use this money to buy food and other essentials they need.

"In summation, Mr. Aaron wanted less actual money and more personal help from the U.S. We, as a class, believe that the Foreign Aid Program should be supervised more closely to prevent the American taxpayers' money in the form of aid to make the rich richer and the poor poorer, and consequently making enemies out of our friends."

"Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
The American Government Class

"The main point of his speech was United States Foreign Aid to India. He pointed out various drawbacks of our Foreign Aid Program to India.

"In our opinion, the most shocking factor revealed was the waste of American money. He disclosed that the U.S. government is not holding the Indian government accountable for money given as aid. He stated that in his opinion approximately 25% of the money is completely lost. Last year, as stated in the 1963 American Annual, the U.S. sent 336 million dollars in aid to India. This, in turn, would mean that approximately 84 million dollars of the American Taxpayers' money is unaccounted for by both the Indian government and the government of the United States, the people whom we have elected to represent us.

"Furthermore, the aid money is further misused by the rich and unscrupulous people. The cornering of American money raised prices causing inflation. The inflation profits force the already poor into an even greater state of poverty.

"Mr. Appadurai Aaron gave an assembly on Oct. 7, 1963, to the student body of Manchester High School. He is a private citizen working in Indian villages, and is sponsored in the United States by the American Council of Churches. He speaks to Peace Corps groups, school groups and civic groups. His speech was on the problems of India.

"The question was asked of Mr. Aaron whether or not Prime Minister Nehru's government would accept United States aid with stipulated restrictions on its use. He stated that in his opinion the Indian government of today would accept aid on this basis.

"Mr. Aaron also suggested various other ways to aid India. The common people need food, trained technicians and skilled workers to help themselves become self-sufficient. He suggested that some of the money appropriated to India be used to educate the young people. They, in turn, could help their people with their knowledge and skill. "Pedersen Commended" (Cont'd from Page 1)

"About 32,000 students throughout the country are being awarded Letters of Commendation in recognition of their outstanding performance on the qualifying test. Although they did not reach the status of Semifinalists in the current Merit Program, they are so capable that we wish to call attention in this way to their achievement and academic promise.

"The Semifinalists and Commended students together constitute about two per cent of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all of these bright youngsters."

"We earnestly hope that the Commended students will continue their education," Mr. Stalnaker continued. "By doing so they will benefit both themselves and the nation.

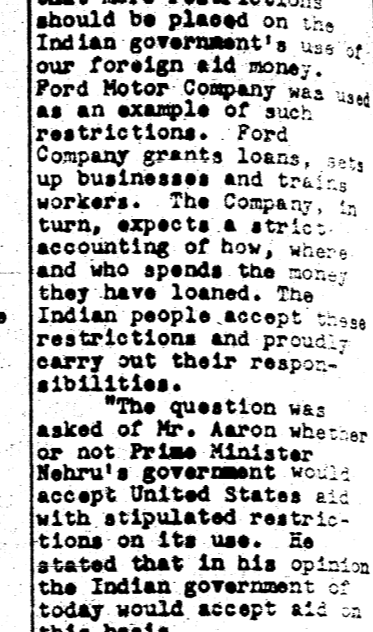

"The Letters of Commendation provide tangible recognition of their high ability. We urge the students honored today to make every effort to attend college and to develop to the fullest their promise of achievement."

The Commended students and the Semifinalists who do not win Merit Scholarships are considered for certain other scholarships that are offered through the facilities of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

SHOPPE TALK

Well gang, I've had it. While I was in the hospital I read almost everything except Farmers' Journal. A great many of the magazines I read, I'm sorry to say, consisted of goshawful tripe called "Teen" magazines. If you read, or worse yet, buy these things you are in serious trouble. Well I mean--well look, I'll show you what I'm talkin' about.

In "Movie Life" ("The magazine for teens") there's a ten page story (a waste of paper) entitled "Is Shelley Fabre's Hollywood's youngest jaded woman?" It then goes on to show photos of Shelley in a tight fitting bikini and sexy (and I mean sickening sexy) shots of her and then concludes with, "Yes, she is jaded! She's absolutely hooked on fan magazines, bubble gum, sodas (a double shot of syrup), "Movie Life Illustrated," "Teen Illustrated," "Teen America before those steisters who ruin these outfits take you and make fools out of you. If you're already hooked, may be this woke you up, but I doubt it. You don't agree? So sue me. --PHIZZY K--"

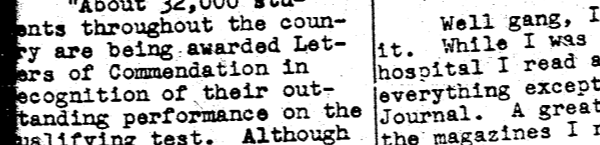

I don't mind mentioning names so here are some of the worst magazines to watch our for: "16," "15," "Movie Life," "Teen Stars," "Secrets of the Stars," and "Teen Life Illustrated."

So wake up, Teenage America before those steisters who ruin these outfits take you and make fools out of you. If you're already hooked, may be this woke you up, but I doubt it. You don't agree? So sue me. --PHIZZY K--

SCHOOL DRESS

Schools all over the country have come up with the big question, "What's the proper dress for school?" Many schools differ on opinions of proper apparel. Here are some basic rules that many schools follow. Test yourself and see if you are properly dressed.

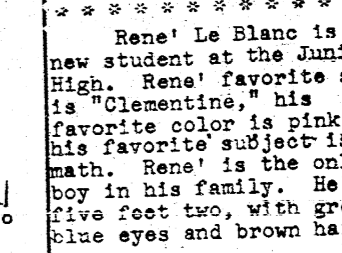

1. Skirts no shorter than the knees. Try the kneeling test. If your skirt hems do not touch the floor, it is too short.
2. No bermudas, above the knee culottes, or slacks.
3. Hairdos--extreme teasing is out of place and looks ridiculous.
4. No excessive eye make up or gaudy nail polish.
5. Boys--
 1. Shirts should be tucked in and buttoned up.
 2. No mustaches, goatees, or other hairy adornments.
 3. No blue jeans.
 4. Conventional haircuts.
 5. No combat boots.

NEW STUDENTS

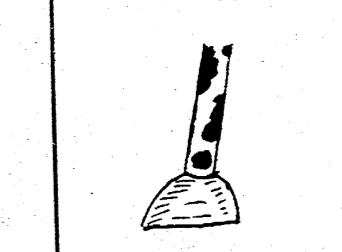

Louis Dinges, a freshman, attended school in Chelsea last year. Prior to that he attended school in Jackson. When asked to compare student life in Chelsea and in Manchester, he replied that he thought the kids in Chelsea were friendlier, but that it may seem this way only because he is new here. Louis liked the longer noon hour in Chelsea, but he enjoys the shop class here, as it was not offered to him in Chelsea. Louis thinks that the sportsmanship of the student body in Manchester is better than in any school he has previously attended. He finds that the students take a greater part and are more interested in sports in Manchester than in Jackson.

Louis' hobby is collecting and assembling model cars. Baseball is his favorite sport. At the present time, Louis has a part-time job at Klager Hatcheries. He enjoys this work and would like to continue with it upon graduation from high school.

Rene! Le Blanc is a new student at the Junior High. Rene's favorite song is "Clementine," his favorite color is pink, and his favorite subject is math. Rene is the only boy in his family. He's five feet two, with greenish blue eyes and brown hair.

LIBRARY

The Library Club chose its officers at their first meeting on Oct. 1. Carol Kruse was elected president, Mike Schneider, vice president, Norm Chapin, secretary, Bob Adams, treasurer, and Janice Buss reporter. The club discussed the Library and its reference books, particularly the Reader's Guide. The duties of the Librarian were also discussed.

The Library Club meeting was called to order by President Carol Kruse, Oct. 22. Things discussed were library cards and discipline in the library. Library books cannot be taken out on other people's cards only one book per student unless a special card is obtained from Mrs. Martin; books must be brought back by the persons who checked them out. One magazine per student at one time is the rule.

The Library is receiving the new Encyclopedia International as the books come off the press. There are six volumes at the present time.

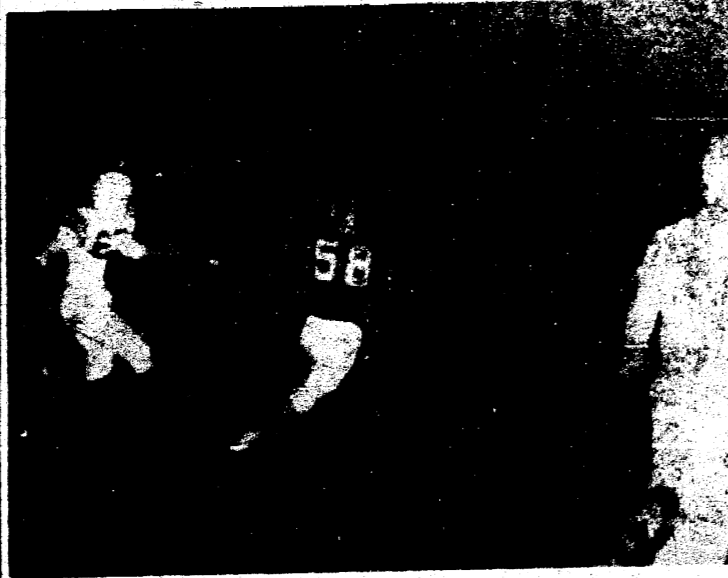

The members also turned in their reports on non-fiction books; the reports included the following points: 1. Title 2. Author and something about him or her 3. Type of book 4. Pages read 5. Date of reading 6. General theme or problem 7. Time and place of the account 8. Brief summary of the book 9. What special benefit or knowledge the reader derived from the book 10. Special criticism of the book.

"BABY-SITTING BEDLAM"

One evening I got a phone call from a lady who wanted a babysitter. She asked if I might be ready in half an hour. When we reached her home she showed me where everything that I might need was. Then she said that she must leave and told me that the children were playing in the recreation room. I expected to find two or three children playing in the basement, so you can imagine my surprise when I opened the door and found five boys, seven girls, three dogs, four kittens, two parakeets and a bowl of goldfish, and a monkey in the recreation room.

Now if I can remember their names and ages I will tell you about them. First there was Karen who was 10; Jim and Tim who were 9; Kevin, 8; Candy and Randy, 7; Patty, 6; Jeff, 5; Sally, 4; Linda, 3; and Mary and Martha, 2.

After putting someone to bed every 15 minutes, by 9:30 I had everyone in bed. At 9:32 the phone rang and from all over the house came children reading to answer it. After that I got them all back in bed and Karen came down to get a glass of milk. When she slammed the refrigerator, again came the stampede. Just as I got the last one back in bed by this time it was 11:45 their mother came home. She asked me if I had had any trouble and I said "no". At this she said "Smile you're on Candid Camera."

STUDENT OPINION

The United States is a model of democracy throughout the world. Our Constitution has been the basis of constitutions in numerous countries. Statisticians know that in the last presidential election only 2/3 of the eligible voters voted, and this was the highest in history.

Much of this is due, of course, to illiteracy. Many people are unable to get to the polls through natural reasons such as sickness. Surely, this does not take care of one third of our population. What of the others? Many people do not vote because they are of the opinion that their one little vote did not count. Now suppose that everyone thought that way. After a while only the politician themselves would vote. Then they would start fixing elections and eventually our government would collapse, as do all governments which allow graft to enter.

We Americans pride ourselves on the fact that theoretically, every citizen has a say in our government, but not everyone votes. Some other reasons are that with the voting machines it is too difficult, or that they don't have much say about the choice of candidates. The latter, of course, is solved by going to the primary election. In some states there is a literacy test or poll tax. In my opinion, a poll tax is against American teachings, and is a throw-back to civil war days.

If everyone would realize that, like a machine, the government depends on each separate little part, no matter how small or seemingly insignificant, to keep it running, then our country would be better off.

The basic reason every teenager should take driver training is to teach him how to drive and care of a car properly. The course is designed to teach driving skills, as well as good driver attitudes. Properly trained teenage drivers make for better and safer drivers than others of the same age who learn to drive from a family member or a friend.

Learning to speak in front of a group of people is a very important thing. It not only gives a person self-reliance, but helps him to be a better listener. A person who has addressed many groups will, when listening to another speaker know what the speaker expects of the listeners. Self-confident when doing things, loses his fear of being alone which makes him a much happier person.

It seems as though more and more teenagers are quitting school at approximately the age of sixteen or seventeen. It is really a shame that so many teenagers drop out of school because there are many disadvantages that most don't see. Probably the most important disadvantage is that they no longer have the friends they had when they were back in school. Another disadvantage is the job opportunities. It will be very difficult to find steady and good-paying jobs without a diploma.

There are so many disadvantages that a teenager faces when he quits school. A diploma always gives you the security that you will be able to get a job faster and easier than those who have dropped out of school. You should have your fun of being free from having a job while you can, and worry about the job later you have graduated.

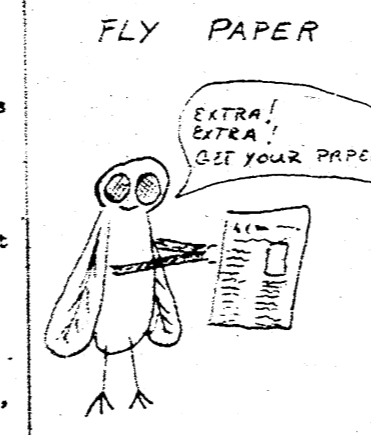

MR. DUTCHMEN

At the assembly Fri. Oct. 25, Mr. Bazany introduced the J. V. Football players. Larry Goodell is captain of the team that has lost only one game out of six this season to establish the best record to date.

The cheerleaders did a skit about Mr. Dutchman. Susan Helber and Coelle Furlfield were the goalposts; Diane Dresselhouse was the worried coach; Deana Shuey was the coach from Clinton; Jane Kemner was Mr. Dutchman; Mary Knapp was the frantic cheerleader that made too much noise. After much trouble Mr. Dutchmen finally won the game.

The Varsity Club initiatives did a cheer "Yea Team." Jerry Ahrens was then announced Mr. Dutchman 1963. Congratulations Jerry!

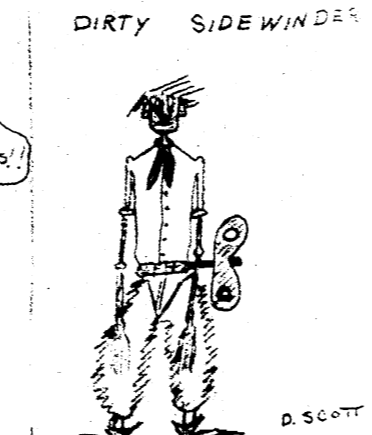

ASK THE COACH

QUESTION: In the Saline game, why did Saline get two points after they made a touchdown. The score was 7-0 and then it became 9-0. Why and how?

ANSWER: After Saline scored their touchdown and extra point, we had the ball deep in our territory and were forced into a punting situation. On the punt, Saline's defensive tackle Blinn penetrated our line and blocked the punt, deflecting the ball backward across our goal line and out of the field of play. Since Blinn was the last player to touch the ball, the Saline team was credited with a safety and two points to make the score 9-0.

QUESTION: Why was Clinton permitted to pass the ball on a kick return?

Announcements Issued by Police Chief

Chief of Police Jules Van de Ginste issued the following announcement and asked for the cooperation of all vehicle owners:

"During the winter, special parking restrictions of a temporary nature will be established when and where it becomes necessary in order to carry out street clearing and snow removal operations. Areas where parking is prohibited will be clearly posted in advance and the time limits announced.

"Drivers are urged to comply with 'snow parking' regulations. If it becomes necessary, illegally parked vehicles will be towed away at the owners' expense, to allow snow clearing operations to proceed."

The chief also asked motorists to park their vehicles off the street whenever possible, during and after heavy snowfalls, and before snow-covered streets have been plowed back to their normal width.

"Other drivers will appreciate your cooperation just as much as you will appreciate your cooperation just as much as you will appreciate theirs," he said.

Cancelling unnecessary travel during snowfalls is helpful, he pointed out because "light and loose" traffic aids snow clearing operations.
