Santa Arrives Dec. 21

Winter will officially arrive here Sunday to be followed by Christmas Wednesday. In keeping with the holiday season about 2 1/2 inches of new snow fell Tuesday night as the Christmas band and vocal concert was held at the Civic auditorium under the able direction of Robert Sorror and Roger Morrison.

Santa has sent word to the young fry that he expects to make his annual trip to the village Saturday at 2 p.m. He has been talking things over with his Optimist committee, Ed Kirk, Ronald Jenter and Ed Gallaway and told them he'll be booked up until that time but if the kids will meet him in front of the big municipal Christmas tree, across from the bank, he promises to be giving out boxes of candy and oranges to all of them. The time is 2 p.m.

Postmaster Urges Early Mailing

Postmaster George Merriman says they are in full swing at the post office but early Monday mailing out of Christmas cards was lagging. He urges that people should not wait until the last possible minute.

Taken From The Files

L. P. Wurster brought in a postcard to the Enterprise office the other day. Pictured is the reproduction of it. His sister, Mrs. Georgia Rager had been keeping it through the years—Laurence had sent it to her in Detroit Dec. 17, 1913.

TWO SETS OF TWINS

Fluffy and Muffy are doing fine, thank you. That's the opinion of Stacie, daughter of the Marvin Kirks of Grossman road. She was pretty excited when a set of twin calves were born at the farm—first time in 57 years that the farm had been in the Kirk family. Stacie, four-years-old wanted to name the twins for her twin cousins, Kathleen and Maurin Kirk. But mother tactfully suggested they have other names.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark plan to build a new house on the site of the old one which was bought a few years ago from John D. Merithew estate, corner of Clinton and Boyne St. Adam Wurster is moving the old house back on the lot. That house was a landmark. Fifty years ago it was occupied by S.W. Lockwood and several other families since. Merithew owned it for many years and had a blacksmith shop on the Clinton st. side of the lot which was torn down several years ago.

Recalls Christmas of Other Years

As Mrs. Hattie Brown plans to observe her 90th birthday, Saturday, December 21, she likes to think back to the time when she was a little girl getting ready for Christmas. Things were much different in those days. A nice rag doll would delight any little girl, and come Christmas morning she'd be happy with the findings in her stocking, usually candy, nuts and oranges. She doesn't remember a Christmas without a Christmas tree. Her lives on a farm and her father always managed to find just the right one out in the woods. Every one put up their trees on Christmas Eve.

Menzels Tell of Trip to Hong Kong

Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Menzel of the Bethel Church, east of Manchester have returned to their home at 10425 Bethel Church Road after a journey across the Pacific to visit Japan briefly and then on to Hong Kong where their daughter and family are in the missionary service with the United Church of Christ.

The trip by jet from Metropolitan airport to Tokyo, Japan took 14 hours. Rev. Menzel said that this is the largest population center in the world (now boasting 12 million) is busily preparing for the 1964 Olympics. Expressways are being cut through the congested city, with construction work carried on 24 hours a day. A monorail is being built from the airport to the stadium, cutting travel time from one and a half hours to 15 minutes. The pastor says that there are courses advertised on "Olympic English" to enable the Japanese to converse with expected visitors.

The couple was given the opportunity to visit several Japanese families whose acquaintances had been made while the Japanese had been studying in Ann Arbor.

One interesting weekend was spent at Anaka visiting a missionary friend. This is a typical rural center 80 miles northwest of Tokyo and the ancestral home of Joseph Neesima, the first Japanese to study in America. Before Japan legalized travel to the outside world, Neesima stowed away on a ship to America and studied at Amherst College, Mass. He returned to Japan as the first Protestant missionary to that land in 1874. Rev. Menzel learned that he was the founder of Doshisha University, built in the ancient capital of Kyoto. The Christian Church at Anaka was built in memory of Neesima. Rev. Menzel preached at that church through an interpreter.

Mrs. Menzel said she was very impressed by the graciousness and hospitality of the Japanese. At Kyoto, for more than 1100 years the capital of Japan (until 1868), they greatly enjoyed the cultural center of Japan with its many shrines, temples and palaces. Here the Menzels stayed on the campus of Doshisha University, in a guest house designed to give foreign visitors contact with Japanese students as well as accommodations in the traditional Japanese style. The Menzels said that it is hard to make a brief visit to Japan for the people are so charming and the land so magnificent that the two weeks passed far too quickly. People still take off their shoes before going in homes, hotel rooms etc. They were impressed that shoes can be lined up all over but no one ever takes any but his own. Nor do you ever take shoes into a hotel room.

They stayed in a Japanese hotel room "just to see what it was like." Most of the hotels have thin mattresses rolled away in a cupboard with a quilt to put over it and sheets. There would be an arrangement of flowers and a wall hanging of some lovely Japanese scene, maybe a low table and pillows to set on.

Mrs. Menzel said that in the Japanese homes the people still set on the floor and eat before a low table with chop sticks. One of the main dishes is suki yaki. The thin strips of beef are cooked very quickly and then dipped in raw egg and a sauce and then eaten.

"I enjoyed seeing the well kept small homes. There are tatami mats (made of fiber matting) on the floors and are very pretty in design. Some of the homes have electricity for cooking, in fact electricity is used extensively. There are hostesses on the buses to help make people more comfortable. There are wooden floors in the schools, but here too, the children take off their shoes before going into the classrooms," Mrs. Menzel said.

It took but five hours by jet to reach Hong Kong, the teeming center of trade for three and one-half million people, at the southeast corner of China where their daughter and family live. Rev. and Mrs. (Rhea and Raymond) Whitehead and Cynthia live in a ninth floor apartment. It was the first time the Menzels had seen their only grandchild who is a year and a half old.

Rev. Whitehead is with the United Church of Christ with the Hong Kong Council of Churches where they have signed up for a five year term. One year they spent studying the language in Hong Kong. Their term expires in 1965 but Rev. and Mrs. Menzel believe they will continue to stay unless something compels them to leave.

Menzels say it is almost impossible to imagine this huge city and its increasing population. It is a free port governed by Great Britain, partly open to Communist China for trade and the steady recipient of a stream of refugees from communism which has swelled the population from 600,000 in 1945 to 3,500,000 in 1963.

"The need of more land is so evident. Mountain sides are being pushed into the sea to make more building space. Though most of the terrain is mountainous and too steep for building poses, these millions live on less than half the square miles of a Michigan county. If the city of Cleveland had the same population density, that same area would have a population of 30 million instead of 900,000.

"There are no free schools, and those which are called FREE and PUBLIC are neither free or public to everyone. Many children do not go to school, though a very large number are taken in by church and privately supported schools.

"Mission projects are to be seen on every hand, employment projects give a helping hand to newcomers who must find a way to support their families. Many hospitals do specialized work, such as TB care or hospitals for lepers which has grown to a 500 bed hospital in five yrs. There are many nursery centers where small children find care and activity before they go home to quarters which are hardly big enough to give them space to sleep," Rev. Menzel explained.

"Water is very scarce. It is hard to imagine. In the apartment house Rhea lives in, the water is turned on four hours every fourth day. Some places have it on for 10 minutes a day. That is even worse. Everyone makes use of the water, doing washings, and filling every utensil and tub. All water must be boiled before using. Some water is brought in from Communist China tankers. Lack of rain in the last couple of years has brought on this terrible condition.

"There were no flies or bugs. Although it gets down to 40 degrees, no one has any heat in buildings. A few people have electric heaters. Since we came back we have collected some sweaters to send them. The people really need them. To give some idea, there would be about 40 shops along in a block the size of ours here. Sometimes the shop owners sleep in their places of business. Maybe they have a crate with 4 or 5 chickens in and keep it in front of the shop-or on the roof. Sometimes the shopkeeper cooks on charcoal burner right in front of the store. We counted 27 shops in a short block. Some stores sell little else but rice. Many of the people seem to live on rice and pickled eggs. The eggs are put in dirt or sawdust and left about six months, and then eaten. We did taste them. They smelled like a real strong cheese," Rev. Menzel said.

The living expenses are high in comparison to the $3 or $4 a day which the average people earn. Meat is very expensive but vegetables are quite plentiful. All the rice is shipped in. No room to grow it there any more. Most cars are small and are imported from Germany, France, and the United States. There are very strict driver training tests which includes driving up and down steep mountain sides. Gas is 45 cents a gallon.

Will these people celebrate a Christmas? Rev. and Mrs. Menzel say that the missionaries and those who have accepted the Christian religion will, of course. The whole of Hong Kong will celebrate for a week-long New Year Holiday. Almost all businesses will close down at that time.

The Menzels are quick to agree that Hong Kong may be seen as a concentrated heap of human need, but it is also the scene of some of the finest work that can be done to relieve suffering. "Missionaries and other friends of these people find a deep appreciation of the concern and help which can be given. All of it is important," they concluded.

"Missionaries and other friends of these people find a deep appreciation of the concern and help which can be given. All of it is important," they concluded.

"The colony has made valiant attempts to provide rental apartments for refugees, often about a 9 x 12 room for family of five, but better than squatter shacks. Many apartments buildings have their own school, caring for as many as 800 children who live in the same building. The school may be in the center of the courtyard (with no roof over head) or under a shelter built over the main roof. The children sometimes go up to the fifth floor to classes without an elevator.

Many Popular Christmas Customs Got Their Beginning From Saints

Decorating an evergreen tree, Carolling through the streets on Christmas Eve, Hanging stockings on the fireplace mantel. How did these and other old Christmas customs get started?

Early Started Carolling
Carolling started in 10th cen. Eve. Early St. Francis of Assisi encouraged villages to display the nativity scene and act out the Christmas story in passion plays. Later carols were composed to go along with the plays. The custom of carolling through the streets got started. One of the most beautiful customs involving carolling is still observed in Austria every Christmas Eve. Beginning with the Christmas tree idea.

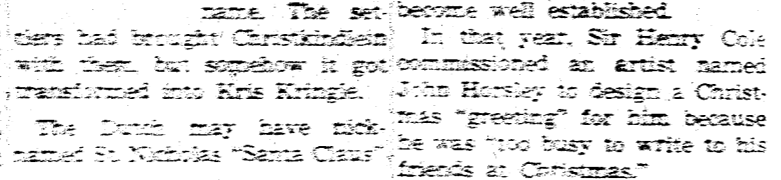

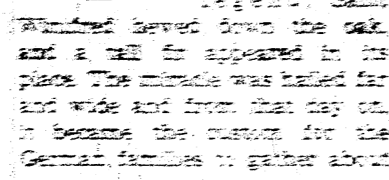

The Christmas tree dates back to the ninth century and Saint Nicholas who was travelling around Northern Germany preaching Christianity. The same upon a group of people gathered around a large oak tree to offer human sacrifices to their pagan gods.

According to legend, Saint Nicholas had brought Christianity to them, but somehow it got transformed into Kris Kringle. The Dutch may have nick-named St. Nicholas "Santa Claus".

Children's Patron Saint
Saint Nicholas has been leaving gifts for good boys and girls on Christmas Eve ever since the 4th century. The original St. Nicholas was a Turkish Bishop, who became the patron saint of children.

Dutch Hang Stockings
The Dutch are believed to have been the first to hang stockings on the fireplace mantel. One story says it started when St. Nicholas came upon a poor man who couldn't afford a dowry for his daughter. Noticing a stocking hung up near the fire to dry, Saint Nicholas slipped some gold pieces into it. In some countries, Italy for example, the children put out their shoes instead of stockings.

Christmas Card Custom
One of the more modern Christmas customs is sending Christmas greetings each year. In a Pennsylvania little over a century—this custom has become well established. In that year, Sir Henry Cole commissioned an artist named John Horsley to design a Christmas "greeting" for him because he was "too busy" to write to his friends at Christmas.

Holiday Apple Pie Half Pie, Half Cake! Delicious!

It emerges puffing apple fragrance, the crowded apple slices juicy and firm and buttery, with a hint of brandy flavor . . . the batter itself hugging the sides.

- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 2 1/2 cups canned apple slices
- 1/4 teaspoon brandy flavoring
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Mince-meat Sauce *

Combine milk, 1/2 cup sugar, eggs, vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon salt and flour; beat until very smooth and creamy. Spread about 1/2 cup batter in a greased shallow 2 quart baking dish, or a 9" greased deep pie plate. Place in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, about 6 or 7 minutes, or until the thin layer of batter begins to set. Remove pan from oven and spread apple slices over batter layer; sprinkle the apples with the remaining 1/2 cup sugar and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Sprinkle with brandy flavoring and dot with butter or margarine. Pour the remaining batter over apples and return pan to oven. Bake about 50 minutes, or until browned and slightly puffed. Serve with Mince-meat Sauce. If desired, garnish with citron and almonds. Makes 6 servings.

*MINCEMEAT SAUCE

In a saucepan combine 1 cup prepared mince-meat, 3/4 cup apple juice and 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Cook and stir over moderate heat 5 minutes. Blend together 2 tablespoons water, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch; stir into mince-meat mixture. Simmer a minute or two, until sauce clears and thickens slightly. Serve hot. Makes 2 cups.

New Joy To Young Hearts

You can bring happiness this Christmas to children in hospitals, orphanages and in the families of the unemployed by refurbishing the toys your own children have outgrown or no longer enjoy. In many communities, civic and fraternal groups have organized programs for this purpose. The easiest way to make old toys in basically good condition look like new again is with colorful quality enamels, and here are some tips to help you do the job. First and most important of all be sure you use only suitable enamels, particularly those that contain less than 1 per cent of lead. While most enamels meant for interior use contain no harmful ingredients, be sure to tell your paint dealer that you will be painting toys. He will sell you the right product. Under no circumstances use outside paint on toys or children's furniture.

Kids Like Color
Bear in mind that children prefer strong, bold colors, the primaries; red, yellow and blue, the bright secondaries; orange, green, purple. It takes a more sophisticated taste to enjoy pastel and less lively darker shades. They also like the shininess of gloss enamel. Wash the toy with detergent to remove finger marks and other soil. If old finish is glossy, it should be dulled with sandpaper, so new finish will adhere better. Any cracks or holes should be filled with water putty or plastic wood which should be permitted to dry before sanding smooth.

Easy To Use
For small articles, you'll find self-spraying enamels in aerosol cans easiest and most practical to use. If more than one color is to be applied, protect the already painted areas with masking tape.

LETTER FROM PHILIP HART
 Christmas, 1963

When a man who is important to the nation dies, the Senate customarily sets aside a day for eulogies. Its purpose, I suppose, is to allow members to pour their grief into a common pool where it can be more readily shared and therefore more easily borne. Some days ago, a friend and I were discussing what we might say and as we talked the afternoon grew dark with twilight. As people often do when a flurry of events has passed, we went over their speeches, examining memories and storing them away in our minds, where we were when the assassination news came, the assuaging shock, the slow dignity of the funeral, the widow's tight-lipped courage, the magnificence of President Johnson's message to Congress.

The talk died.

The talk died at legislation proposed by the late President—a tax reduction and reform, civil rights. We agreed that the essential features of these bills were more likely than ever to pass Congress. The soundness of the ideas were not diminished by the death of their author.

But the conversation was nevertheless somber. And finally, my friend, turning to go, said, "Well, it's going to be hard to master much Christmas spirit this year. I added but it struck me that his tone of quiet reverence was not at all inappropriate to the holiday season."

At the moment, the nation is gripped by a sense of unity that comes only to those who have shared a profoundly moving experience. Our experience has certainly been devoid of joy but it has nurtured other things that we value highly at this time of year: understanding, sympathy, helpfulness and, yes, unity.

For months previous to the tragedy, it seemed that the country's political life had been dominated by the leaders of the radical right and left—so much so that reasonable men sometimes wondered if hate had permeated the mind of the nation and sent its thoughts seeping into strange channels.

But lately, the grief-stricken faces of millions have proven what a small, pathetic minority the haters are. It is not likely that they will again win serious notice so long as we recognize the hurt they can cause a free people.

The mood of the nation has changed. Our joy will be greatly diminished this Christmas but so will our bitterness.

And of all the lights that burn this holiday season, perhaps the most poignant will be the small flame that flickers high on a dark hillside across the Potomac in Arlington.

Pot Plant Is Popular Gift

The poinsettia is the traditional Christmas plant, yet an upsurge in the popularity of indoor gardening has brought a number of flowering plants into the gift picture. Flowering plants in porous clay pots that preserve their health and beauty will highlight many a gift list this season.

Among the popular pot plants is the Jerusalem cherry. Its round, red fruit is especially appropriate for the holiday season. It needs bright light and likes a cool temperature no higher than 55 degrees at night for best results, although it does admirably even when a 65 degree night temperature. If the plant is allowed to wilt or if cooking gas fumes fill the air, the fruit will drop.

Cyclamen

The cyclamen is a handsome plant even when not in bloom, but the blossoms are breathtaking like Venetian glass exquisitely formed in the shape of butterflies that are white, red, pink, lavender, rose, maroon. This needs a cool 55 degree night temperature. Water is safer from the base of the clay pot so the crown is not over-moistened, thus inviting rot. Azaleas are popular. There are both tender kinds that must be brought indoors each winter, and hardy kinds that can be plunged in clay pots and all-out in the garden permanently next spring. The tender kinds are like miniature trees in shape. The hardy ones branch out closer to the ground like shrubs. Your nursery, garden center, or florist can tell you whether the one you select is hardy or not.

Lasting Beauty

Primroses have blossoms that look like pastel Christmas candles. Select plants with lots of buds so you will have a profusion of bloom over many weeks. New buds will continue to develop if plants are watered and fed regularly, and if temperature in the room is below 65 degrees at night.

The Christmas pepper is handled much the same as the Jerusalem cherry. Among smaller plants, kalanchoe and African violets are tops for Christmas. A white flowering African violet in a red clay pot, dressed up with a bright red bow seemed ideally suited for Christmas. And the kalanchoe's brilliant orange-red blossoms sparkle like tree lights. Both plants are good long-term investment for any gardener.

COOP NURSERY

Manchester's first co-operative nursery school will open Tuesday, Jan. 7 with sessions scheduled for each Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. in the Emanuel church nursery room. The church offered the use of their room for this community project. Tuition will be $8 a month and will include children who have reached the age of three by December 1 to kindergarten age.

Mrs. Russell Wolf, a former school teacher and who, for the past seven years has been a Sunday School teacher and is at present Superintendent of the Nursery Department at the Emanuel church, will be the teacher. Assisting her will be mothers, who will be taking turns helping with the project.

Parents' group is sponsoring the nursery school which many have expressed a desire to have in the community. Officers of this group include Mrs. Richard Kuntz, chairman-phone Ga8-8170; Mrs. Roger Harrison, secretary, phone Ga8-3861; and Mrs. Don Dorff, treasurer, Phone Ga8-8249. They may be contacted for more information and there is still time to enroll children.

There are 12 co-operative nurseries in Washtenaw. Only at one of the nurseries is it possible to enroll a child if a mother cannot take part. She may pay an additional fee each semester.

Be Grateful For Christmas

"Peace on earth."
 How old is this Christmas greeting? For how many years has Christmas returned to a world in which the promise of peace was yet unfulfilled? For how many Christmases yet to come will the world be yet awaiting peace on earth to ALL men of good will?

The answer is not readily at hand. Yet, this we know; for this one single day of the year we can be grateful for the true meaning of the holiday we observe.

We can give thanks for mankind's greatest gift, the birth of the Christ Child, and do so with the knowledge that on His birthday once each year the spirit of good will becomes the motto of all men everywhere.

WINTER SOLSTICE

Today's Yule Log, other Christmas fires, even our tree lights, are thought by some to hark back to the days when our remote ancestors built huge fires during the brief daylight of the Winter solstice because they feared the waning sun might darken forever. When the days began to grow longer, there were great celebrations by these ancients, who felt that their earthly fires had helped revive the sun.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS EDITORIAL

What do you think of when you think of Christmas? Do gay parties, crazy hats, lights, trees and presents fill your mind? The greatest gift of all is the birth of Jesus. In John 3:16,17, we read: "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved."

Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Jesus, our savior. Christmas is the time to show your love for your fellow man; but don't forget, it's also to show your love for Jesus who came to save us from our sins and to give thanks that God so loved the world that he gave his Son for us.

Now is the time to go to the church of your choice and renew your faith in Jesus - that he might give you the courage to face the coming year with hope and peace of mind.

GERMAN CHRISTMAS

Es ist der vierundzwanzigste Dezember, der Tag des Heiligen Abends. Die Familie trifft die letzten Vorbereitungen. Mutter sortiert die Plättchen, Lebkuchen und Pfefferkuchen...

Peter, der gerade vierzehn Jahre alt geworden ist, darf dem Vater helfen, den Baum zu schmücken. Er kommt gerade vom Einkaufen zurück. Mutter hat ihn schnell noch etwas holen lassen...

Endlich ist es soweit. Mutter lautet das Weihnachtsglockchen, und alle versammeln sich im Wohnzimmer. Wolfgang und Doris sagen im Weihnachtsgedicht auf...

"Stille Nacht, heilige Nacht, Alle schlief, einsam wacht. Nur der Engel hochheilige Schar. Holder Knabe mit lockigen Haar, Schlaf' in süßer Ruh'."

So hört man es in vielen Häusern, besonders auf dem Lande.

Hinterher kommt die Bescherung. Alle Frauen sich über die Geschenke. Aus dem Radio hören sie die Glocken der grössten und schönsten Kirchen im ganzen Land.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

The band and vocal Christmas concert will be held in the Civic Auditorium December 17, at 8 o'clock.

SPORTS

On Dec. 5, the Flying Dutchmen were flying high as they beat the Pinkney Pirates 74 to 38.

The high scorers were Don Mann with 12 points and Ron Panches with 10 points each.

Gary Henry was high point man for the Pirates with 11 points. Duane Knapp scored 7 points and Larry Hull scored 6 points.

We looked a lot better in this game than we did in the Clinton game. The boys were fighting for their share of rebounds and were shooting more evenly.

Jim Mann was the only player for the Dutchmen to get into foul trouble with four fouls. Pinkney had two boys who fouled out. They were Alan Steffen and Larry Hull.

Lets hope the Dutchmen can keep their hot streak!

The Junior Varsity played their first home game against Pinkney. The captain for this game was Jim Sloat.

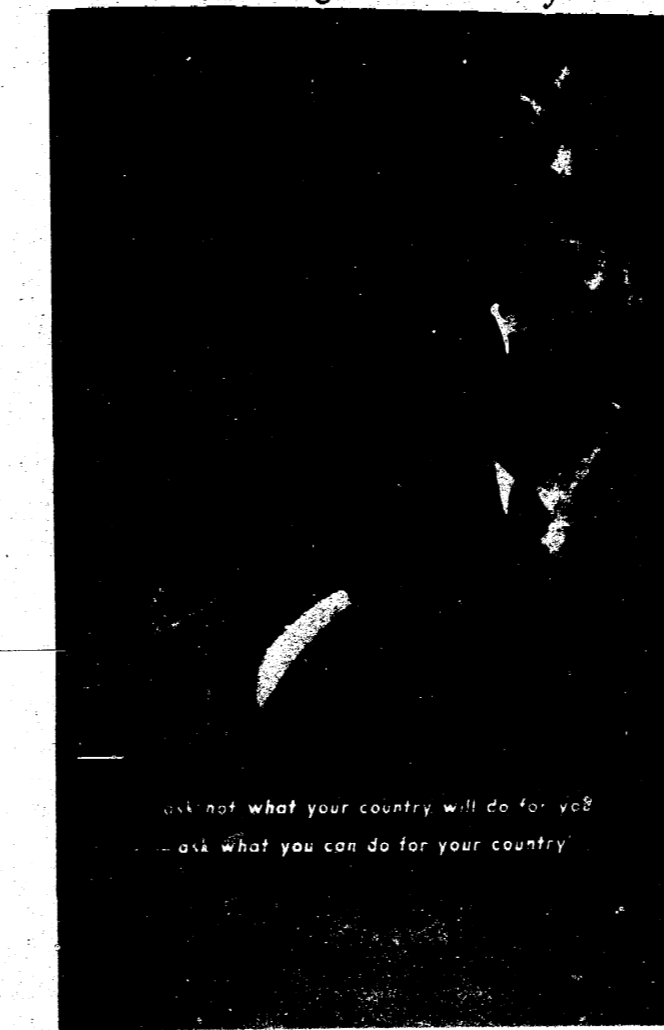

The high scorers were Jim Sloat with 16 points, Larry Helber with 15 and Rich Krueger with 11 points.

On Dec. 3 the Dutchmen traveled to Clinton for their first game of the season. We hope we will be able to do better against Pinkney on Friday.

At the end of the first quarter Clinton lead 14 to 11. At the end of the half the Redskins were ahead 26 to 23.

The high scorers for Clinton were John Saenger with 15 and Dick Service with 13.

JOHN F. KENNEDY

In Memory

In Memory of our Late President

Mr. John F. Kennedy was more than just a man. He was the President of the United States of America. He was a person who wanted worldwide peace.

by Sam Armstrong

Profiles in Courage

Kennedy's book about men of political courage won the 1957 Pulitzer Prize for biography.

Born in Brookline, Mass., May 29, 1917, Mr. Kennedy received his bachelor of science degree cum laude from Harvard in 1940.

His father set up a million dollar trust fund for each of his 9 children when they were in early childhood. The Kennedy wealth was amassed from such widely diversified interests as banking, liquor, motion pictures, theaters, Wall Street and real estate.

In 1957 Joseph P. Kennedy's fortune was placed in the $200 to $400 million category.

The millions of television viewers saw the image of a young, vigorous candidate, poised, cool, highly informed, quick on his feet and, above all, possessed of a reassuring self-confidence.

Mr. Kennedy was boyishly handsome, carrying a slim 175 pounds on his 6-foot frame, topped by a shock of unruly chestnut hair that was almost a trademark.

President Kennedy brought a warmth to the presidency and a personalization to government which ran counter to the computers which have slowly engulfed government.

A Look at our New President Lyndon Bains Johnson

After the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy on November 22, a new face appeared in the White House - President Lyndon Bains Johnson from Texas.

President Johnson already has started his new task of leading the Nation. So far President Johnson has appeared to take the necessary steps toward the same goals as former President Kennedy had.

I am sure that the former President would want us to support and aid the new President in any way possible.

President Johnson is a Christian Church member (Disciples of Christ). President James Garfield, who was shot by an assassin on July 2, 1881, and died on Sept. 19, 1881, was also a member of the Christian Church.

The Christian Church was founded in America early in the 19th century by Presbyterian ministers who disagreed with certain tenets of the faith. There are about 1,311,000 members in the United States.

Friendly relationship between President and Vice-President.

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson was born in Karnack, Texas. Her mother died when she was five and she grew up in a family of males.

She met Lyndon on a sight-seeing trip to Washington in 1934. They were married in St. Mark's Episcopal Church, in San Antonio, Nov. 17, 1934.

Mrs. Johnson has traveled twice around the world with the vice-president, making official stops in 15 countries.

Lady Bird has been described as a folksy, homespun Southern-belle type, calm, fond of pretty clothes and champagne parties. She is also a keen-minded businesswoman.

She is a petite brunette. She is a campaigner and a speechmaker.

Mrs. Johnson feels that she has an obligation to the voters. In a statement of her goals on Jan. 20, 1961, she said: "It seems to me that what I wish to do in the next 4 years boils down into 3 general categories: to aid Lyndon all I can, to help Mrs. Kennedy in any way she sees fit, and to be a more alive 'me'."

Ballroom Basketball -Line up five chairs facing five chairs with people sitting close enough that their feet touch. Then there is a chair at each end where the goalie sits. The referee has a large balloon blown up, reaching over toward the middle of the two lines as the players are seated; he tosses the balloon into the air so that it floats down to the middle. Staying in their chairs, the players knock the balloon toward their own goals who is setting at the chair at the end. Goalie forms a goal by inter-lacing fingers and making a round goal with arms. He may move but he can't leave his chair. When a goal is scored, the side scoring makes two points. The referee tosses again from the center.

Happy New Year

knew Mr. Berry could have parodied those songs he did and it would have gone over a lot bigger than it did.

Chuck Berry has always been one of my very favorite performers and I'll always regret seeing this particular performance of his. Lee Alan has been my favorite disc jockey and Club 1270 one of my favorite shows for a long time. You'll be disappointed in them both. People always say, "they can't all be zeus", and now I know what they mean. I have spoken---RIZZY K---

Deenie has one sister and one brother. His favorite color is red, his favorite sport is baseball, and his favorite food is hamburger.

Originally Deenie comes from Union City, Tennessee. The high school he attended in Union City is South Fulton High School. According to Deenie, Manchester is much smaller than South Fulton High.

"It's sure we will be seeing much of Deenie in the next two years of high school. Here's hoping Deenie makes many new friends at M.H.S."

Christmas

10 CENTS

96 YEAR No. 52

WISE MEN came from the East, three kings were they. They had long searched their hearts and studied the stars and their mission was to follow the brightest of stars.

These kings of men were not mere wanderers in a strange land, but men of purpose, seeking the fulfillment of prophecy.

Far from home and accustomed regal comfort, these weary travelers pushed onward, waiting the moment when the light of the star would signify they had reached journey's end.

They had traveled far, these kings of men, to kneel down and pay homage to a mere infant—a newborn child—the "King of Kings".

SHEPHERDS there were, watching their flock upon the hillsides near Bethlehem. These were men of simple birth and of simple faith, far different from the Three Kings of the Orient who passed in the night enroute to Bethlehem. Because the King born in Bethlehem was not only the "King of Kings," but the King of all men, everywhere, a heavenly messenger was sent forth to announce the glad tidings to the gentle shepherds.

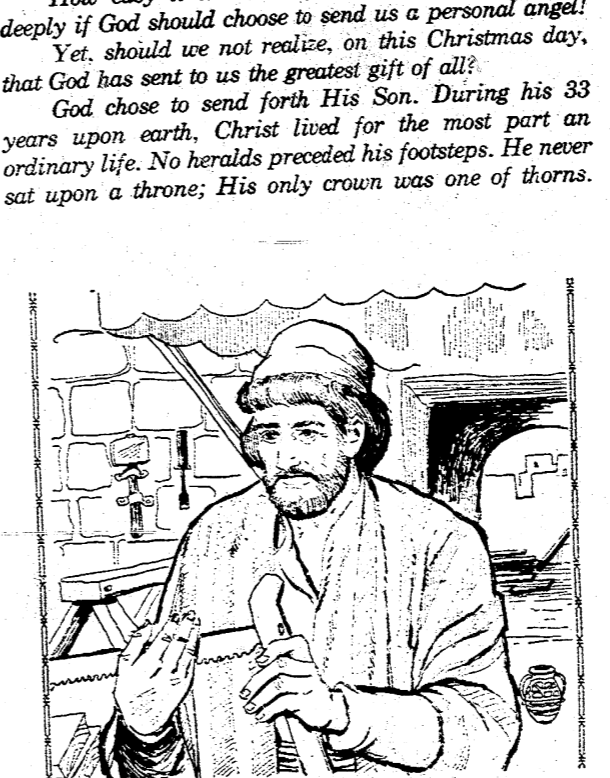

These men of simple means possessed no gold, frankincense or myrrh, but they brought gifts, as best they could afford, and offered them with a full and happy heart.

ANGELS were the messengers of joy that night in Bethlehem and they instructed the shepherds to leave their flocks and go forth into Bethlehem where they would find the newborn King.

How easy it would be for us all to believe more deeply if God should choose to send us a personal angel! Yet, should we not realize, on this Christmas day, that God has sent to us the greatest gift of all?

God chose to send forth His Son. During his 33 years upon earth, Christ lived for the most part an ordinary life. No heralds preceded his footsteps. He never sat upon a throne; His only crown was one of thorns.

JOSEPH, the carpenter from Galilee, was a humble man, strong and filled with determination to fulfill the requirements of the great responsibility for which he had been chosen.

The great faith of this man Joseph should provide inspiration for all of us. Joseph did not question the will, nor the purpose of God.

In the face of adversity and filled with great concern for Mary, Joseph could have cried out in anger against the world which seemingly denied aid and comfort in so great an hour of need.

MARY, the mother, suffering in silence, was at the same time overflowing with joy.

The journey to Bethlehem had been a difficult one. Without her great faith and the realization of the supreme importance of her mission in life, we must wonder if Mary might not have been tempted to give in to despair and defeat.

Mary certainly was not immune to pain, yet she never complained, not even to Joseph. Mary knew well the hope and the joy of all mankind.

JESUS, the son of God was born in Bethlehem, in the simple surroundings of a crude stable. He was to spend 33 years upon earth, living a life of humility, faith, obedience and highest example. He offered friendship and love to every man and lay down a foundation upon which every man could build eternal happiness.

Centuries have now come and gone, yet the story of Bethlehem remains essentially the same.

It is now the season of Christmas, in the year 1963. The world which surrounds us may be far from perfect, but we need only look to see the progress of Christianity, wherein lies the hopes of all mankind.

To all Christians, everywhere, Christmas is the time for realization that a glorious life on earth and unselfish death on Calvary has not been in vain.
