LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The Manchester Enterprise
Dear Editor:
I think the Union Savings Bank should be commended on their selection of a Christmas Billboard at the north side of Manchester.
In this day we are inclined to commercialize too much. It is rewarding to see the Nativity scene and to think of the real meaning of Christmas.
A Former Resident

To the writer of this letter we would like to say that we too, agree that the billboard sign of the bank was most timely to bring back the true meaning of Christmas in a world that sometimes seems to forget.

S. A. STUDENT SPEAKS TO BFV

The Manchester Business and Professional Women's Club held the January meeting at the home of Mrs. Paul Kappler with 14 members and 4 guests present. The entertainment consisted of a wonderful teen-ager from Uruguay, Mrs. Munson of Bethel Church. The teen-ager, Miss Alma Souza spoke about the women of her country and also the teen-agers and their problems. She is making her home with James Windell family of Chelsea. Her ambition in life is to become a Doctor of medicine. Mrs. Munson favored us with two vocal selections. A short business meeting was held after the program. We adjourned and the hostesses served refreshments.

DIRECTORS MEET AT FARM COUNCIL MEET

Mer Dible of Saline was elected to replace Bill McCall of Ann Arbor. McCall served as president of the board. Others elected are Howard Amrhein of Willis, and he replaces McCall of Chelsea. Howard Amrhein of Willis replaces Robert Be- of Willis.
Three were elected for one-year terms at the meeting which was held at the city building in Ann Arbor Tuesday.
In whose terms on the board of directors do not expire at this time are Dale Lemann of Dexter, George Tomber and Bill Macaulay of Ann Arbor, Duane Rogers of Saline, Robert Leland of Amore Lake, Frederick Ammer of Freedom township and Jesse Walker of Manchester.
Ergil Whitton, who lives in Saline on the Farm Council Rural Activities Center the Saline-Ann Arbor Rd. commended for his excellent job as caretaker of buildings and grounds.
John Johnson, Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension agent said that the Council is in the "black" with no illities and assets valued $99,277.84. Contributions year from organizations and clubs and others, totaled $67,111. These include $50 from a seat-belt sale the Junior Chamber of Commerce and $1,000 from Lafayette Grange of Washtenaw county.
The major fund raising program was the chicken barbecue which netted $2,400.10. The set for this year's barbecue was at Sunday, June 21, at the Washtenaw County 4-H Club which was commended for installing a large number of saw cupboards in the kitchen of the Farm Council building, which adds to the usefulness of the kitchen.
During the past year the interior of the building was decorated; parking lot lighting was installed; and a new show barn the A Activities Center was added for the first time this summer.
Suggestions were made for their improvements which included a new fence across the front of the grounds; level on the driveways; movable partitions for the large block room to provide temporary smaller rooms.

TWO LOCAL MEN NAMED TO COMMITTEE

A 37 member study committee was named by Erwin Frederick, chairman of the county Board of Supervisors to work on the status of mental health in the county. The committee will hold its organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 30 in Room 117-A of the County Building. The possible applications of federal and state mental health programs to Washtenaw will be studied.
The county board has authorized such a study after United Fund committee report indicated that an adult outpatient clinic is needed in the county.
Bridgewater supervisor, Russell Hughes and James C. Hendley of Manchester were named to the committee. Others included are Julius Lach county superintendent, Dr. Otto K. Engel, health director, Professor William F. Delhey, Probate Judge John W. Conroy, Circuit Judges James R. Peakey Jr. and William Ager.

Church bells will ring as mothers in the community ring the door bells beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 28 in the final campaign in Manchester for the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Hollis Walker, who heads this part of the drive, asks that everyone be as generous as possible, to make the drive a real success. As an additional courtesy she asks that residents turn on their porch lights.
Most of the mothers will be walking and, although the weather has been mild and the ground free of snow, there is still ice in a few places. By Monday and Tuesday of next week there could be a drastic change in the weather, too.
Mrs. Walker noted that the mothers she contacted were very willing to help.
They are: Mrs. Dewey Smith, Mrs. Paul Wilde, Mrs. Charles Knorrp, Mrs. Jules VanDeGineste, Mrs. Eugen Huber, Mrs. Robert Lowery, Mrs. Robert Ahrens, Mrs. Allen Benedict, Mrs. Lee Creighton, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Laurin Leeson, Mrs. Earl Alber, Mrs. Leroy Knickerbocker, Mrs. Hugh Sutton, Mrs. Ora Walcutt, Jr., Mrs. Richard Britton, Mrs. Robert Novess, Mrs. Vern Mitchell, Mrs. Herbert Bersuder, Mrs. Robert Panches, Mrs. John Mooneyham, Mrs. Duffield Ball, Mrs. Paul Eisele, Mrs. Claude Day, Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Fred Buss.

Balloon Sale Successful

"There are so many small different projects going on in town to help the March of Dimes that it is really rewarding to see the interest of the people in the community," Mrs. Richard Kuntz said as she pointed out that the Teen Age dance netted $75 for the Dime Campaign.
Mrs. Del Ludwig, the co-chairman said that an accurate count of the years that the balloon and peanut sale has been a part of the campaign couldn't be determined without detailed figuring but it definitely has been a part of the program for the past ten years with the 4-H Clubs doing the selling. This year the girls realized $149.85 in their two day campaign last Friday and Saturday.
And the girls had fun doing it. They always do. The 4-H clubs and their leaders deserve credit for making this an annual part of their work.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Union Savings Bank of Manchester was held Tuesday, Jan. 21. Representation of 8,886 of the Bank's 10,000 shares of stock was registered either in person or by proxy.
James C. Hendley, the Bank's president, and Dan J. Boutell, vice president and cashier, gave reports, accompanied by flip charts, of many segments and discussed many of the changing rules and regulations which are affecting the banking business currently.
The shareholders re-elected the following men as directors for the coming year and at the organizational meeting of the directors, immediately after the shareholders' meeting, the officers were also designated as follows:
Dan J. Boutell, Executive Vice president and Cashier; Henry P. Eames, Director; James C. Hendley, Director; Antonio T. Feldkamp, Director; Willard Mann, Director; Stanton G. Roesch, Director; Frank H. Tirt, vice President; Herbert H. Upton, Director; Carl F. Wuehler, Vice president; Lawrence E. R. Kirk, Ass't Cashier; Harold M. Burch, Ass't Cashier and Keith G. Doelker, Ass't cashier.

Register if You Expect To Vote

Lyle Widmayer, village clerk said that of the 513 voters in Manchester, there were 96 who had failed to cast a vote in the last two years. Cards were sent to these people and to date over 80 have been returned. Voters must be registered by Feb. 10. Manchester township clerk, Waldo Marx sent cards to 203 people in the township asking them to sign and return the cards so they could be reinstated as being registered. This is about a fifth of the voters of township. The cards must be returned by Tuesday, Jan. 28.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong and sons visited his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Focht at Ida Saturday.

Bentschneider Receives Award

Eugene Bentschneider received his second successive Golden U award recognition from the Michigan United Fund at the Manchester Community Chest meeting January 16. Mr. Bentschneider was unable to attend the recent Achievement Celebration in Lansing at which time 166 other United Fund campaign chairmen were recognized for their leadership in conducting successful Michigan campaigns. Specifically, the recognition for Bentschneider is in line with being responsible for leading the Manchester volunteers to its second successful campaign, raising $10,000 against a goal of $9,383.
The award recognized not only Bentschneider and the other volunteers of Manchester but it also focuses the attention on the fact that Manchester is meeting the needs of services in the Manchester area as well as needs of state and national agencies of the Michigan United Fund, Heart, Epilepsy, Cerebral Palsy, Diabetes, to name a few.
Highlight of the meeting in Lansing at which time all campaign chairmen in Michigan were recognized, was the presentations to campaign chairmen by Miss Michigan. The main speaker at the affair was Dr. Harvey Hahn of Dayton, Ohio, a member of the General Motors Speakers Bureau.
At the meeting it was pointed out that in 1963 the efforts of volunteer workers raised in excess of thirty four million dollars the United Way for health and welfare services.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the civic bodies and service organizations of our community and the departments of the local government recognize the great service rendered to this community by the Manchester Junior Chamber of Commerce, and
WHEREAS, The United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and its affiliated state and local organizations have set aside the week of January 19-25, to observe the founding of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and to commemorate such founding by the selection of an outstanding young man in this community as the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award, and
WHEREAS, this organization of young men has contributed materially to the betterment of the community throughout the year,
THEREFORE, I, Allen Luchhardt, President of the City of Manchester, do hereby proclaim the week of January 19-25, 1964, as JAYCEE WEEK and urge all citizens of our community to give full consideration to the future services of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Date January 19, 1964
Signed
Allen Luchhardt, President

Michigan Federation of Music Clubs

Now is the time for music students, music teachers and music club presidents and advisors to prepare for the Junior Music Festival. The Junior Division of the National Federation of Music Clubs will again this year sponsor Junior Music Festivals throughout the United States. These Festivals are designed to benefit the average music student who seriously applies himself and for the exceptionally talented performer. Festival entrants do not compete with one another but rather, each is rated on his own merit.
Michigan's South-Central District Festival, this year, will take place on Saturday, April 4, in the auditorium of the Music Building at Michigan State University.
To be eligible for entry in this Festival, a student must be not more than 18 years of age, a member of an active Junior Music Club, or become a junior special member of the Federation.
Participants in the Festival may enter solo events or in one or more of such categories as piano, instrumental, dance, voice, composition and musicianship. Within these divisions are many interesting events, in which a student may enter, such as piano ensembles, organ, folk song singing etc.
For further details, music teachers and Junior Club presidents and advisors are invited to write for the Junior Festival Bulletin and application blanks to - Mrs. Fredrick MacDonald, 2016 West Maple Street, Lansing or to Mrs. C. T. Liebman, 1701 East Michigan Avenue, Lansing.
The deadline for the return of the application is March 14.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

SOME IMPROVEMENT IN HOG PRICES is expected during early 1964. Hog prices will be modest and rather short-lived. While bulk of the winter crop has been moved, slaughter will continue longer than a year ago. Even though some of the primary will be taken off market, gains will be limited to the 10 to 11. With some restrictions in farmhouses, hog prices and early fall look for spring markets to hold up better than a year ago, though. Spring prices will probably average the number this year.

CRIME as a source of profits for beef cows can be greater when priced more favorably than other protein sources. The protein equivalent of urea is about 20 to 15 pounds of other protein. Rate of return for urea is that urea can be used up to 1/3 of the protein in the ration. But Iowa tests show that winter ration can be 15 percent urea by weight.

HAY PRICES GOING UP? The grain is a better commodity if it has. Whether of poor quality, a dairy cow needs 10 to 15 pounds of roughage daily for maintenance. Above that, a half pound of grain will replace 1 pound of quality hay. Two-thirds pound of grain will replace a pound of excellent hay on a dry cow. Best hay is protein and vitamins. A hay also can be tested. For dairy cows on a high grain ration it may be advantageous to mix the hay and grain. Don't grind the hay too fine, though.

WHEN PERMANENT ELECTRIC MOTORS are added to a farm's electrical system, chances are your present service will need to be upgraded. For service to start, increase or obtain rated speed. For any installation, safety for safety and efficiency.

MANCHESTER LOSER EXTRA PERIOD

In an overtime basketball game at Manchester Friday, Chelsea was victorious with the final score 64-63.

With 10 seconds remaining in the overtime period and the Dutch team leading, 63-62, Chelsea's Schunk dropped in two free throws to win the game for Chelsea.

This put Chelsea in second place in the Washtenaw Conference with a 4-1 record with Dexter in first place with its 6-2 record for the league. At one time in the third quarter Manchester held a 35-25 lead.

Manchester out-rebounded Chelsea in the first half which proved to be the difference at that time as they held a lead of 18-23 at the end of the second quarter.

Don Mann was the high-point man for Manchester and accounted for 25 of the team's 63 points.

Others scoring for Manchester were Jerry Ahrens, 13, Richard Pniewski 8, Ron Panches 6, Denny Reinhart 5, and Carl Miller 1.

Outstanding man for Chelsea was Jeff Pfimstoft who scored 10 points on three field goals and four free throws which were all of the shots he took.

Line Score
Chelsea 22 11 16 18 7-64
Manchester 12 16 14 15 6-63

'AG ENGINEERING DAY' FARMERS' WEEK FEATURE

Tuesday, Feb. 4 will be "Agricultural Engineering Day" during the 49th annual Farmers' Week at the Michigan State University campus, East Lansing, Feb. 3-7.

The day is so designated because of the many contributions engineering and mechanical organizations have made to agriculture in the past few years. Some of these new developments will be shown in displays. Exhibits of newly developed turbine engines, and the latest thing in farm tractors, tillage and harvesting equipment will be on display. Irrigation and frost prevention, and clay and concrete products for agricultural drainage also will be exhibited.

The MSU agricultural engineers have devoted all day Wednesday to talks on problems of agricultural waste disposal. Lagoons, holding tanks, liquid and dry abridging will be discussed in terms of health and aesthetics, including a discussion of water problems in wells, streams, and rivers caused by agricultural wastes.

Thursday will be devoted to new machinery developments. New sources of farm power, transistorized ignition system and diesel fuel power will be subjects for talks.

New developments for slow-moving vehicles on the highways will be a subject for an MSU safety engineer. Hay wafering with its implications for hay transportation and cattle feeding, will be the subject of another.

New findings for row spacing on corn yields and narrow row harvesting equipment will complete the program.

MEMAKERS LIMITED TO LEARN ABOUT WATERSHEDS

There is of such vital importance to everyone that he should know as much as possible, concerning use and management. Inform homemakers of present water problems their solution can affect. Homes and watersheds, a program prepared for presentation on Thursday, Jan 23 at 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the Hall at Siena Heights College in Adrian. There is no charge and every interested homemaker is welcome.

QUIET BOOK FAVORITE FOR CHILDREN

Peace and quiet can prevail while when in increment either or illness just keep favorite youngsters interested if they have a "Quiet Book" that you can make for less than $1.50.

Carol Lane, Women's Level Director for Shell Company, has pages of each with surprising things to do.

Any parent (or grandparent) whip one together in an hour or two with just a few materials and a little imagination. Miss Lane says.

Also needed is a pattern. It's on request from Carol Lane, Shell Oil Company, P.O. Box 143, New York 46, N.Y.

She devised the book during a campaign to make travel with children easier for all concerned. The "Quiet Book" is the whole answer, but it's not all.

Each page has a felt doll with or five costumes, each which can be snapped into place. Another page has a miniature shirt front with buttons to practice on. Other pages have a variety of removable eyes, noses and mouth, a tic-tac-toe game with embezzled lines and snap-on markers—a shoe sole of felt shoe strings to be tied. The last page of the book has a pocket for surprises—all puzzles, games, etc.

SAFE DRIVING TIPS GIVEN

Studies show that three of four traffic deaths take place within 25 miles of home and one-half of serious accidents happen at speeds of 40 miles an hour or less.

While many motorists feel it's especially important to be conscientious while driving on long trips, it's just as important to be safety-minded during a trip around town.

These are the rules:

ALLOW ENOUGH TIME—Whether going downtown or on a trip, allow time to avoid feeling rushed. On long trips, make frequent stops. Arrive relaxed.

HAVE YOUR CAR CHECKED—Drive with good tires and properly adjusted brakes. Make sure lights, turn signals and windshield wipers function properly.

USE SEAT BELTS—They help save lives, prevent injuries. Seconds will buckle a belt. A flick of the wrist will release it. Use them whenever and wherever you drive or ride.

BE ALERT TO HAZARDS—Adjust your driving to road, traffic and weather conditions. Give yourself and others an extra margin of safety.

USE COURTESY ABUNDANTLY—Everywhere—at intersections, while passing or being passed, at night when your headlights are on high beam—Make Courtesy Your Code of the Road. It pays!

FOLLOW THE RULES OF THE ROAD—Signs, signals and road markings are your guides to a safe, enjoyable drive around town or on a trip.

Nursery Ask $100 From Community Chest

Co-op Day Care Nursery of Manchester made a request for $100 from the Manchester Community Chest at the Thursday meeting of the Community Chest Board. Mrs. Donald Dorff and Mrs. Richard Kuntz of the nursery board said the funds would be used to purchase equipment, supplies and insurance. According to Mrs. Dorff and Mrs. Kuntz, the nursery meets Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week for morning sessions at the Emanuel Church rooms. They accept children from the ages of 3 and 4. They are a licensed school and have hired a teacher. Mr. Stanley White of the Chest Board made available various items to them through the Kiwanis Club in Ann Arbor of which he is a member. The request was tabled until the Manchester Community Chest Board meeting January 30, at which time a report can be given on the items they obtained and the request can be studied to a greater extent as to the legality of the Chest giving funds to such an organization and they obtaining them from the Community Chest.

STUDENTS TAKE TECHNICIAN EXAM

Applications will be taken through Feb. 10 for the Michigan state highway department's three-year technician training program. State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said applications must be received by the Civil Service Commission at Lansing by 5 p.m. on Feb. 10. Applications may be obtained from offices of County Clerks (except in Wayne city), the Michigan Employment Security Commission or the Michigan Civil Service Commission.

WAC Training Course In February

An intensive campaign is being waged throughout the Fifth Army area, of which the U.S. Army Corps is a part, to commission 75 new officers in the Women's Army Corps for enrollment in a training course to begin in February. WAC officers do literally hundreds of jobs, as their assignments include positions with just about every branch of the Army. These positions are the counterparts of executive jobs spread throughout scores of civilian organizations. Frequently the military job and comparable civilian job will encompass many of the same duties. The army is vitally concerned with research and development in all fields. This means new jobs are opening up all the time. The WAC officer, as a full member of the Army team, has a chance to participate in this exciting growth, contributing her talents and skills in furthering the Army goals. There are many representative positions in which WAC officers are providing invaluable leadership such as: Army Intelligence Analyst, Recreation Director, Public Relations and many other fields. The WAC officer is first and foremost an executive. She begins her Army career as a supervisor, directly responsible for the performance of a group of subordinates. WAC officers enjoy equal status and equal pay with their male counterparts. The right woman for the right job. This is the basis of all career assignments in the Women's Army Corps. The WAC officer may be assigned to any of more than 150 places around the world where WAC officers are serving currently. The WAC officer travels first-class without cost to her, taking trips to places she might never get to see on her own, and she travels unencumbered. Household effects are shipped by the Army.

Church Receives Members

The Manchester Methodist church had special services when four children were baptized and 24 youths received into the church in the Membership training class which had been taught by the pastor, the Rev. Joe D. Epps. Those baptized were William Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Groe Eversole; Virginia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McElfresh; Luann Mary Spies; Jacquelyn May Smith. Seven youths were baptized: Kathy Hassett, Peter and Angela Lamb, Mae Belle, Jannis and Myrtle Spaur; Jean Mary Atkins. The following were also received by confession of faith: Stanley Parr, Jon Rog-Hardenbergh, Sohnie Lyn Eckhardt, Lee Mary Gilbert, Betty Knouase, Ann Jane Reinert, Ethel Pauline Kellogg, Connie Walcutt, Sue Con-Sloat, Penny Lynn Van Mide, Lee Linda Spiess, Ann Blanchard Sandra Walker, Charles Wilson Hoffman, Richard Eric Lowry, Andrea Koda, Elaine Marie Uphaus.

olly Farmerettes

The January meeting of the oolly Farmerettes was held at the Sharon township hall with president Mary Uphaus calling the meeting. Flag pledges opened the meeting and roll call was answered by reciting a nursery rhyme. Mr. Kenneth Niehaus sent a thank you note for the sunshine box sent while he was ill. Judy Simmons gave a report of the Sunshine box project and Janet Kemner gave a report on the Kiwanis rummage sale. Carol Niehaus told the members the work scheduled for the Ballroom Sale. The date for the Valentine party has been set by chairman Ethel Kemner.

HOUSE WARMING

Among those who attended house warming for Mr. and Mrs. John Dobben of Jackson were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Troiz, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Troiz and Jeff, Mrs. Mina Troiz of Manchester and Jerry Troiz and Barbara Mack and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Troiz of Jackson. The couple was presented with a gift.

Sportsman Club Annual Banquet

About 150 attended the annual banquet of the Sportsman Club held Saturday evening at the Emanuel church hall. Earl Alber showed pictures from the conservation department. Dimmer was served by the Tabea society.

SERVICE NOTES

Pvt. Robert W. Danforth, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Genouese, live at 249 Park, Chelsea is scheduled to complete eight weeks of advanced training as a cannoner at the army artillery and Missile Center, Ft. Sill, Okla., Jan. 24. He is being trained to serve as a member of an artillery gun or howitzer crew. The 23-year-old soldier entered the Army in September 1963 and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. He is a 1958 graduate of Chelsea High School and attended the University of Michigan.

Fire Department Answers Call

The Manchester fire department was called to the Robert Days farm at 10925 Hogan Road last week Wednesday when the tractor Mr. Days was filling with gas caught fire. He went after another tractor to pull the burning one away from the gas tank and just as he drove that one up to use for towing it ran out of gas. Fire department arrived in time to help extinguish the flames. Damage was estimated at $150.

BRIDGEWATER FARM BUREAU

There was a good attendance at the January meeting of the Bridgewater Farm Bureau when it met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hoelzer to listen to a discussion led by Clement Guenther. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hauessler, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m.

AT BATTLE CREEK

Manchester Moms who went to Battle Creek last week were Mrs. Charles Carleton Sr., Mrs. Loren Troiz, Mrs. Roy Lowery, Mrs. Charles Wurster and Mrs. Herman Schultz.

Herd Name Prefix Reserved

Lowell Spike, Manchester, will use the prefix "Greener Acres" in naming all registered holstein animals bred in that herd from now on. Use of this prefix name has been granted by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. It becomes a permanent part of official breed records at that organization's national headquarters in Brattleboro, Vermont. Some 1,500 prefixes for Registered Holstein breeders each year, are reserved. In total, more than 30,000 Holstein dairymen are using their own distinctive prefixes in naming their home-bred cattle. The story behind each prefix may be interesting since it may be the farm name, the owners' family name or unique combinations of portions of family member names. The exclusive nature of each prefix name often stimulates the creation of clever terms to preserve its "one and only" nature.

Spanish Student Compares Schools

By MARIE SCHNEIDER

Vicente Blanco Gasper, a graduate of the University of Madrid, Spain, now studying at the University of Michigan told about the educational system of Spain at the Manchester Parent Teacher meeting which followed an open house at the Nellie Ackerson school.

After completing his studies at the University of Michigan in June he plans to further his education at Harvard after which he hopes to become a secretary at the United Nations representing his native country.

He told the parents that Spain primarily is a poor country—that is, the area he came from. The mountains add another problem for the children would have to travel five miles to attend school.

"Of course, it is compulsory for children to attend school until after their fourteenth birthday, but often they cannot get to the schools. There are no school buses to take them—transportation is primarily by foot. So, often they are taught by priests who gather the children together for their classes. Although the priests have religious training sometimes they lack the qualifications for the subjects they teach. But it seems to be the best that can be done under the circumstances. Teachers are paid very poorly—about $10 a week for the elementary school; $70 to $80 a month for high school teachers and professors at the Universities have a pay check of about $100 a month.

"Primarily the religion is Catholic and, of course, there are many parochial schools, both Catholic and Methodist, and these schools have priests and ministers for teachers.

"It is hard to explain our type of education to you. Here everyone is so busy. Everything has to be done at once. At home there is no hurry. Parents as a rule, do not worry about pushing and urging their children to go to school. So often they cannot send them even if they want to because they need them at home. An extra pair of hands to work in the fields mean a lot. Our country is so far lacking in the development of machinery. We do not have metals, minerals, etc. that your rich country has—we lack the resources. Therefore, every thing has to be done by hand.

"I marvel at the way farmers get together, use the same equipment. We lack that co-operation. We are very independent. Everyone wants to do everything for himself—or every family wants to do things by themselves. So the children are needed to help out. So much has to be raised on small areas. We don't have your farm equipment."

Vicente explained that while the law says that everyone must go to school until 14 years of age, the law isn't enforced. He said that as far as his own education was concerned he felt that he was prepared when he came to the University of Michigan and had good background from the University of Madrid.

"But your universities are so different. Here there are examinations going on all the time. Tests in subjects. At home, no. Once at the completion of the course. There is not all this drive. Possibly we enjoy ourselves more. I am not sure. This co-educational system is different. At home, in the parochial schools, girls are in one and boys in the other. Rarely do girls go to universities. They are trained to be homemakers. Sometimes they go on to school to study the arts. They are taught to dress well but to study to specialize—no.

"Here there are so many, many fields to study in, impossible to name them, but at home six only. They are literature, art, law, medicine, engineering and science. We are far behind in the science and engineering departments compared to you. But in medicine, not he said decisively.

From his observation he believed we specialize too much and they not enough. When asked if girls went in training to be nurses and teachers he said they did not as such. They have on the job training for work in hospitals but to be graduated with nursing training, no.

"If there is a decision as to which should go on to school, if parents can't send both boys and girls, the boys get the chance to go. Some day it will be up to them to provide for a family. About 20 per cent of students go to universities and about 15 per cent get degrees.

The government sets up the school program and what is to be taught. The teachers follow the instructions. Training is channeled very early. In each school the government has representatives on the board of education.

They have three terms, one which begins in the fall and finishes after Christmas, the spring term and the summer one where those who have failed in the fall and spring terms have a chance to make up the work.

"Every one here seems to be very practical and I think this is a very good trend. It is probably right that we keep putting things off until tomorrow. But it is hard to keep pace with everything moving so fast. At home we have more job training schools and this is very good. This is something we need."

Vicente said that the feeling of the people of his country to be independent and depend on themselves too much is not good. They would never have a community chest-drive for polio etc. There is a great difference he stressed. A farmer would never go out of his own family for help on the farm either. Each has his own responsibility.

As far as the woman are concerned they have little outside the home to interest them. It seems to Vicente that they make a real issue out of very small things—like checking to see when the neighbors hang out their wash, etc.

"I doubt if women here know if their neighbors even wash. They have so many interests they don't have time for these things, or noticing the kind of patching their neighbors do. We need more diversified things at home. In the last seven years television has come a long way. But then again, we are hampered by the mountains. Television stations are government owned," he said.

Tuition at the universities is about $25 a year. Board and room is $50 a month, and that would include money for incidentals like laundry etc. and the student would live very well indeed.

March of Dimes Poster Child Walks

"Little Miss March of Dimes" is the affectionate nickname many March of Dimes volunteers have given to Amanda Rich, 1963 Poster Child for Washtenaw County.

One year ago Amanda was chosen to represent the March of Dimes because of her triumph over the almost insurmountable odds of hydrocephalus and myelomeningocele (open spine and cord). After repeated surgeries and four years of treatment by a battery of orthopedic surgeons, neurologists, pediatricians, neuro-surgical residents, nurses and physical therapists, Amanda was given her first pair of crutches. In the minds of all who know her was the question, "Can a child paralyzed from the hips down possibly learn to walk?" It seemed unlikely, but those who thought it so did not reckon with the determination of an irrefragable five year old. At first, it was a matter of learning just to stand up alone on crutches, and last July she took her first unaided steps. Today she is making many public appearances for the March of Dimes and making a host of fans wherever she goes.

Her mother, Mrs. Robert Rich says that she has daily walking practice. It is this constant exercise that will build up her strength in her arms and shoulders. It is these muscles that must do all of the work of moving her body forward. One of the greatest problems now is learning to cope with the lightest irregularity of the walking surface. Small rises in the sidewalk or even ridges in the carpeting require many hours of practice to learn to negotiate. Like all little girls doing the same thing over and over, it some times becomes tiresome and mothers have to be ready with a few tricks. One such trick that almost never fails is to coax Amanda to walk the length of the hallway in order to have a little "glamorous" eye shadow applied...perhaps today it will be green. Then of course, we have to walk back down the hall to find the mirror to see how it looks. Amanda now attends school full days at the Rackham School for Special Education in Ypsilanti. She is in kindergarten and has learned to print her name, all of her letters and all of her numbers. During her school day, a therapist works with her sometime during the day in the use of her crutches to give her as much practice as possible. At home her constant companion is her daschund, Emily, and she has dozens of friends among the neighborhood children, many of whom seem to make the Rich home the center of their childhood activity. Amanda is a happy, alert, well adjusted little girl who takes her handicaps in her stride. Because of the great advancement that has been made in the treatment of myelomeningocele, and the patient understanding of an unusual family, Amanda is experiencing a happy, normal childhood. Her walking improves daily, and as he triumphantly moves across a room under her own power, one is struck by the realization of what can be accomplished by the faith of a father and a mother and the determination of one small being.

Democrat Meeting To Be January 24th

Michigan will be the first stop in a four-state review of Democratic women's plans for the 1964 campaign by Mrs. Margaret Price, Democratic National Committee Vice Chairman and Director of Women's activities.

The Michigan VIP Program (Voter Identification Program) designed to find unregistered Democrats and get them registered, has been the forerunner of a major Democratic women's telephone VIP Corps which Mrs. Price has been presenting to Democratic women of 50 states.

President Johnson, in a message to Democratic National Committeewomen meeting in Washington Jan. 10 told the nation's Democratic women that they are "laying the groundwork of victory in 1964 across the land with your VIP Corps." "Democratic tickets in every state," she President wrote the committeewomen, "will benefit from your enthusiasm and from your ability."

Mrs. Price's two-day Michigan schedule will feature appearances in Washtenaw and Wayne Counties. She will address a luncheon sponsored by the Washtenaw County Democratic Committee at 12:15 p.m. Friday, Jan. 24 in the Michigan Union, Ann Arbor. County Chairman is Peter Darrow, Ann Arbor.

At 1 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 25 Mrs. Price will speak at the Wayne County Democratic Women's Day luncheon in the Lee Plaza Hotel, Detroit. She will also meet Michigan Democrats at the Washtenaw County Democratic dance at 9 p.m. Saturday in the Ypsilanti Armory.

Wickes Tops Last Years Sales

D. M. Fitz-gerald, Executive vice president, announced that earnings in the first half of fiscal 1964 rose above results for similar period a year ago. The consolidated net income for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1963 was $3,011,744, up 31 per cent over results for similar period a year ago of $2,296,651. Based on the average a year ago of 62 cents in the first half, compares to 81 cents in the current first half.

Sales continued to climb reaching a high of $109,720,784, an increase of 26 per cent over sales of $86,740,871 for the similar period a year ago. Twenty-three per cent of current first half sales resulted from agricultural and trading operations; 9 per cent from manufacturing activities, and 68 per cent from the merchandising group, which group in the same six months period a year ago accounted for 65 per cent of sales.

During the second quarter 3 new building supply centers were opened—October 7th at Monroe, Ohio in the Dayton Cincinnati area, November 25 at Humberstown, Indiana near Fort Wayne, and the 47th December 12th in Saginaw, Michigan the first in-city outlet. Construction tentatively scheduled to open March 1, 1964 near Grand Rapids.

For the three months ended December 31, 1963 sales were $51,473,387, 19 per cent higher than sales of $43,296,977 for the similar period a year ago. Consolidated net income was $1,210,045, 15 per cent greater than net income of $1,070,697 in the second quarter a year earlier. Earnings per share were 33 cents as compared to 29 cents. Sales of the merchandising group accounted for 65 per cent of the sales of the second quarter as compared to 61 per cent for the same three month period a year earlier.

The current annual dividend rate of 60 cents per share is 20 per cent increase over the annual rate paid prior to the stock split approved October 24, 1963.

Believe it or not FROZEN FOODS ARE FRESHER THAN FRESH

Yes - believe it or not, frozen foods are actually fresher and more nutritious than most of the fresh foods you buy in the store. Experts tell us that as soon as crops are harvested, chemical and cellular changes begin to take place within the food. These changes are actually a process of deterioration which would spoil the food if allowed to continue unchecked. Since fresh foods at the market have usually been harvested at least 48 to 72 hours before, this deterioration has permitted much of the original nutritive value to disappear. But frozen foods, harvested at the peak of their ripeness, are frozen within a few hours, locking in the nutritional values that are so important to good health. So - for better tasting and more nutritious meals, always use frozen foods. And for the best in frozen foods depend on

Patricia McCormick Wed In Lansing

Christ Lutheran Church in Lansing was the setting for the candlelight wedding of Patricia M. McCormick and Robert G. Snyder, Saturday, January 11. The double ring service took place at 7 o'clock. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David J. McCormick of Manchester, is a graduate of Manchester High School, and a part-time student at Michigan State University. She is employed at Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Lansing brokers.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Freeman W. Snyder of E. Lansing is also attending Michigan State University and is employed at WJIM radio station in Lansing. Both are affiliated with Gamma Delta Lutheran International. The bride wore a floor length gown of satin with a jewel neckline and long sleeves. The princess bodice accented the soft folds of the skirt that formed a chapel train and she wore a mantua of silk lace. She carried a white orchid on a satin covered prayer book. Julia Ann Jackson, of East Lansing, the bride's only attendant wore a deep purple velvet street-length gown with a round neckline, long sleeves and a soft pleated skirt. Miss Jackson carried sweetheart roses on a white muff. A white fur pill box had completed the ensemble. Joseph Aube of Lansing was best man. Ushers were Michael O'Ginn of East Lansing and Alfred McCormick of Columbus, Ohio, brother of the bride.

Miss Barbara Snyder, East Lansing, sister of the bridegroom, assisted at the reception which followed in the church parlors. The newlyweds are making their home at 1034 N. Homer street, Lansing.

SERVICE NOTES

Schofield Barracks, Hawaii-Army Specialist Five Nathan Brown Jr., whose parents live in Manchester, Mich. and other members of the 25th Infantry Div. are participating in Exercise HIGH TOP I, an army-navy-air force field training maneuver on the Island of Hawaii.

The exercise, scheduled to end Feb. 8, began when the soldiers were transported by air and sea from the Island of Oahu to the Island of Hawaii where they will engage in live fire simulated combat maneuvers.

Specialist Brown, an automotive repairman in Company B in the division's 725th Maintenance Battalion regularly stationed at Schofield Barrack Hawaii, entered the Army in July 1956. He was last stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky., and arrived in Hawaii on this tour of duty in May 1961. His wife, Lucille, is with him in Hawaii.

7th Infantry Div., Korea-Army PFC Leonard W. Merritt, whose mother lives at 303 S. Macomb street, Manchester and others of the 7th Infantry Division are taking part in Exercise SNOW STORM in Korea.

The week-long training maneuver, which is scheduled to end Jan. 18, is designed to test the division's ability to operate in Korean winter conditions and to measure the effect of extreme cold on men and equipment.

Merritt, a driver in Co. B 2nd Battalion in the division's 17th Infantry, entered the Army in May 1962. He completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. was last stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., and arrived overseas in March 1963.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Manchester High School and is the son of Leonard W. Merritt 11, 10540 Burmeister rd., Saline. His mother is Mrs. Estella J. Woodard of Manchester.

Twentieth Century Club Meets

There were 18 present at Tuesday meeting of the Twentieth Century Club when met at the home of Mrs. Mabel Pardee. Mrs. Mabel Pardee gave a report on the County Federation meeting at Ypsilanti at which plans are being made to adopt a new constitution. A meeting will be taken at the April meeting to be held in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Rolland Grossman reported to the club on some of the ground work of the proposed Community College. Highlight of the evening was the talk given by Mrs. T. W. Menzel on her recent trip to Hong Kong and Japan which she illustrated with pictures which she and Rev. Menzel took on the trip.

Those from Manchester who attended the Federation meeting in Ypsilanti on Monday included Mrs. Tom Waldon, Mrs. Ray Kerr, Mrs. Ron Uphaus and Mrs. Mabel Pardee. Local Shakespeare Club members who were at the meeting were Mrs. Malcomb Billings, Mrs. Alfred Dahl, Mrs. Clayton Parr, Mrs. LeRoy Marx, and Mrs. Martin Keasler.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Glen Robinson. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Stanton Roesch. Mrs. F. M. Leck and Mrs. Alvin Kappler will have charge of the program.

4-HER'S MEET

Girls and valley 4-H Club met at the home of Teresa and Patty Roberts Thursday evening when plans were completed for the March of Dimes balloon sale.

President Karen Kirk and Junior leaders Teresa Roberts and Karen Jenter are in charge of this drive. Members are asked to contribute to the Kiwanis Rummage Sale. Although 4-H Sunday is not until May, the club is beginning to make plans for this important day.

A gift of money for a book was given to the library on its 25th anniversary. After the meeting Mrs. Roberts taught the group some steps in Western Style Square dancing.

SERVICE NOTES

The public is invited.

Coffee Tuesday At Manchester Drug

Tuesday in Manchester will be the climax for the annual March of Dimes. Starting in the morning the Manchester Drug Store, owned by Lynn and Dorothy Burch, will have their well known Coffee Day. For more than ten years Mr. and Mrs. Burch have put out a special March of Dimes canister. Anyone who comes in for coffee and donuts anytime during the day does not pay the store for them. The buyer makes his donation big or small to March of Dimes. He puts it in the canister himself. For many years the Burches have furnished the coffee and donuts, as well as the time of their clerks, to this cause. This has been their donation to the March of Dimes.

However, this year the Manchester Laundromat is helping out. They will be providing the homemade donuts for the Coffee Day. It is well known that this canister brings in more money than any other in town. Not only the regular customers at the Drug store stop on this day but others as well.

There is a sort of game going on now at the Drug Store. The day after Coffee Day, which will be Wednesday, Jan. 28, the regular patrons have a chance to guess how much money is in the canister. The winner gets a free cup of coffee for a week as an extra bonus donated by the Drug Store. Mrs. Burch says that this in itself does a lot to create more interest in the project. For the last two years Hugh Sutton won the Free Coffee.

Jaycees Announce Outstanding Farmer Program

Willard and Earl Mann of E. G. Mann and Sons, of Manchester and Bridgewater are co-sponsoring the Outstanding Young Farmer Program for 1963-64, according to Ron McNally, president of the Manchester Junior Chamber of Commerce. This is the first year that the Manchester Jaycees have participated in this national Jaycee program.

"We are pleased to be associated with the Manchester Jaycees in this public service farm program," said Earl and Willard.

"We only hope that our contribution will help bring greater recognition to the deserving young farmers of our community who are contributing to farming so much."

Manchester's candidate to the State Convention at Tecumseh on February 29 will be Stanley Poet who lives at 10135 Burmesiter Road.

REFRESHER COURSE SCHEDULED FOR INACTIVE NURSES

St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor is offering a five-week refresher course for inactive nurses in an attempt to meet the great need for more nurses.

They feel that a great source of latent "nursing manpower" lies among those nurses who have been out of active duty for some time.

Any registered nurse who is available to take the course is urged to contact Sister Mary Ann Frances at the hospital for details of the course which will be given during February and March.

VENUS BRIGHTENING AREA SKIES

Prof. Hazel Losh reminded star-gazers that two planets are on prominent display this month.

"Breaking through the south west twilight, Venus will outshine everything but the moon. It is the first 'star' that the unaided eye can pick up.

The second brightest planet visible, but only about one-fourth as bright as Venus, is Jupiter, crossing the meridian around sunset, and spending the entire evening with us.

"It is a must-seeing for all with small telescopes. The planet and its satellite will entrance observers this month," Prof. Losh says.

Sheep Shearers Get Details On Shearing

—Marie Schneider Russell "Dutch" Stoker of Grass Lake was named the outstanding sheep shearer at the annual meeting of sheep shearers at Owen Hall, Michigan State University.

Mr. Kirk said that of particular interest at the session was the talk given by Harvey Southerland, Indianapolis, Indiana, who gave a first hand account of sheep shearing in Australia and New Zealand.

Southerland placed second in the National Professional sheep shearing contest at the Indianapolis State Fair. He was ahead until at the very end of the contest he nicked the sheep he was shearing.

He told the group that he stayed with one of the top shearers and worked with him every day to learn the technique. This is what he found: "The day before the contest the sheep were brought in and their legs, heads and bodies, except the backs were shorn. During the contest at the shearers shore the backs of the animal. The hard part of the sheep was not done during the shearing contest."

Southerland told the shearers he had no trouble keeping up with the Australians in shearing. They have a strict union there and the men are paid 65 cents a sheep. But when the workers really get about 22 1/2 cents. The union takes a good slice. The fellow who catches the sheep gets paid for bringing the animals to the shearer and there are numerous incidentals which must be paid for.

Shearers work hard one hour and then rest for 10 minutes in New Zealand. In Australia they work for half the forenoon and then have a half hour break in the afternoon they do the same. For the most part Mr. Southerland found that the general population looked down on the sheep shearers.

In shearing contests where reports are made stating they shear 47 an hour, it isn't impossible.

PERSONAL Lynn and Dorothy Burch personally see that the business women are given special service. They might be weight-watcher!

PERSONAL Miss Miller is a graduate of Manchester High School and is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Her fiancé is a graduate of Chelsea High School and is employed by Park, Worden, Wals, Inc. in Chelsea. The couple will wed February 8.

PERSONAL Mrs. Charles Carlton, Sr. was the hostess at the Tuesday meeting of the Shakespeare Club.

COFFEE DAY ONE OF BIGGEST

First shift of coffee drinkers at BURCHES' annual Coffee Day with Hugh Sutton (at end) already contemplating how much will be collected at end of the day. For Hugh likes coffee-and had been guessing game winner two years.

When the second shift strolled in it was pretty obvious that one businessman was a carry-over from the first shift. You think homemade fried cakes was the reason?

Lynn and Dorothy Burch personally see that the business women are given special service. They might be weight-watcher!

Good Samaritan Dinner

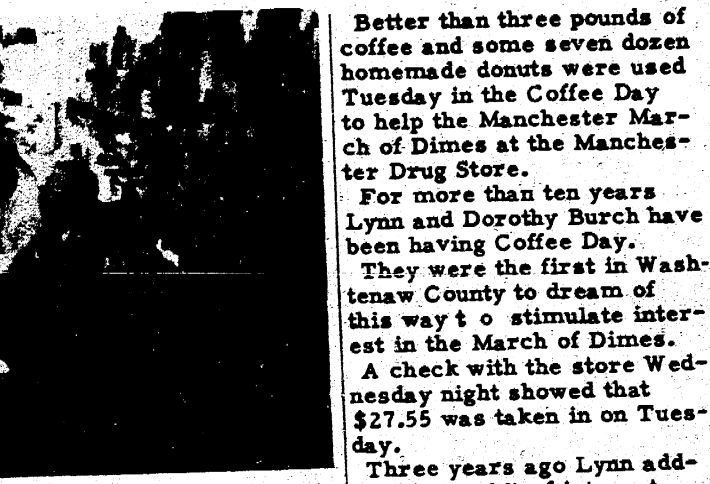

The annual dinner for the Good Samaritans will be held Wednesday, February 5 at 6:30 p.m. at the Michigan Union.

Mrs. George Ennen and Mr. Nelson R. DeFord are the dinner co-chairmen.

Miss Nina Greening of Chelsea is the ticket chairman. Reservations may be made with parish chairman.

"Our Own" Rev. Wm. Ennen, S.J. Professor of Theology at the University of Detroit will be the speaker and a real treat is in store for those who attend.

PLANS LUNCHEON St. Mary's Altar Society was so successful, according to the president, Mrs. Arthur Gill, that plans are underway for a pre-Lenten luncheon on Tuesday, Feb. 11 at the hall from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. No luncheons are scheduled during Lent.

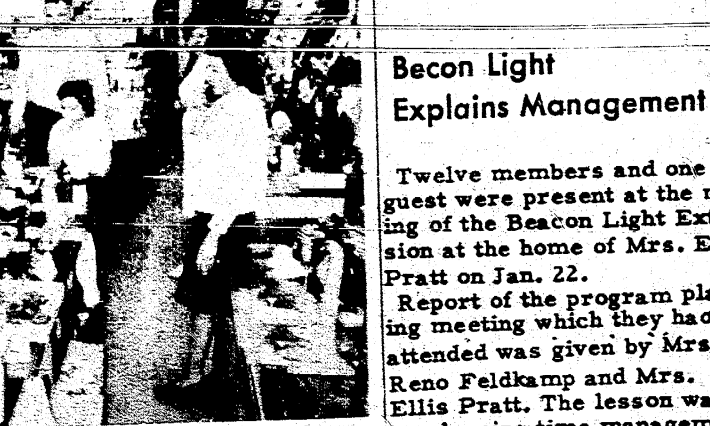

Three years ago Lynn added another bit of interest. All day Wednesday, regular patrons visit the store, gaze at the canister of money and then guess how much has been contributed. The winner gets a free cup of coffee every morning for a week.

Lucky winner this year was Ronald Jenter.

This year Burches furnished the coffee and trimmings, along with a cheery greeting and the Manchester Laundromat furnished the homemade donuts. Instead of paying for them the customers put their money in the March of Dimes canister. This is the donation the Drug store makes.

Through the years, others have copied the Coffee Day in several other towns and everyone seems to have a good time.

It is a little unusual but they say that very few other than their own customers stop in on Coffee Day.

Twelve members and one guest were present at the meeting of the Beacon Light Extension at the home of Mrs. Ellis Pratt on Jan. 22.

Report of the program planning meeting which they had attended was given by Mrs. Reno Feldkamp and Mrs. Ellis Pratt. The lesson was on planning time management and proved very interesting and informative and was presented by Mrs. Floyd Parr and Mrs. Allen Alber.

The group divided in two sections and each group offered time saving suggestions for the busy housewife. This was done so that by using these down to earth suggestions she would have some time for recreation.

The February 26 meeting will be held at the Sharon townhall at which time there will be a silent auction. Mrs. L. Dean Sott will be the hostess and the topic will be, Where I Would Go if I Were Taking A Trip.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB MEETS AT CARLTONS Mrs. Charles Carlton, Sr. was the hostess at the Tuesday meeting of the Shakespeare Club.

SEVENTEEN were present to hear Mrs. Clayton Parr tell about "Housing For Aged" and Mrs. William Palmer had as her topic, "Highlights of Medi-Care".
