REFRESHER COURSE SCHEDULED FOR INACTIVE NURSES

St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor is offering a five-week refresher course for inactive nurses in an attempt to meet the great need for more nurses.

They feel that a great source of latent "nursing manpower" lies among those nurses who have been out of active duty for some time. These women may hesitate to return to duty for they have not kept up with the rapid advances of the medical, hospital and nursing fields. However, according to Sister Mary Ann Frances who is in charge of the refresher course, this is an opportunity for these women to catch up with their chosen profession and return to work where they are vitally needed.

Any registered nurse who is available to take the course is urged to contact Sister Mary Ann Frances at the hospital for details of the course which will be given during February and March. Classes will be only from 1 to 4 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Fridays.

VENUS BRIGHTENING AREA SKIES

Prof. Hazel Losh reminded star-gazers that two planets are on prominent display this month.

"Breaking through the south west twilight, Venus will outshine everything but the moon. It is the first 'star' that the unaided eye can pick up. By the end of the month it will be visible into the early evening. The second brightest planet visible, but only about one-fourth as bright as Venus, is Jupiter, crossing the meridian around sunset, and spending the entire evening with us.

"It is a must-seeing for all with small telescopes. The planet and its satellite will entrance observers this month," Prof. Losh says.

Sheep Shearers Get Details On Shearing

-Marie Schneider
Russell "Dutch" Stoker of Grass Lake was named the outstanding sheep shearer at the annual meeting of sheep shearers at Owen Hall, Michigan State University. Officers re-elected during the business session were: Robert Kirk, Manchester, president; Al Faulhaber, also of Manchester, vice-president; and Lowell Roehm, Ann Arbor, secretary. Mr. Kirk served as president of the organization several years ago, for a number of terms.

Mr. Kirk said that of particular interest at the session was the talk given by Harvey Southerland, Indianapolis, Indiana, who gave a first hand account of sheep shearing in Australia and New Zealand. Shearers in this part of the country have long been baffled by newspaper accounts of the speed of shearers in these two countries—particularly in Australia—which gave their top men credit for as many as 600 sheep sheared by one man in a day.

Southerland placed second in the National Professional sheep shearing contest at the Indianapolis State Fair. He was ahead until at the very end of the contest he nicked the sheep he was shearing. According to shearers this practically disqualifies the contestant. Bob Welch of Richwood, Ohio was upped to first place.

Southerland, whose speed is recognized here as outstanding, told the shearers he decided to find out just how the Australians managed to shear so many sheep a day and this prompted him to take a six week trip to find out.

He told the group that he stayed with one of the top shearers and worked with him every day to learn the technique. This is what he found—"The day before the contest the sheep were brought in and their legs, heads and bodies, except the backs were shorn. During the contest at the shearers shored the backs of the animal. The hard part of the sheep was not done during the shearing contest."

Southerland told the shearers he had no trouble keeping up with the Australians in shearing. They have a strict union there and the men are paid 65 cents a sheep. But when the workers really get about 22 1/2 cents. The union takes a good slice. The fellow who catches the sheep gets paid for bringing the animals to the shearer and there are numerous incidentals which must be paid for. Shearers work hard one hour and then rest for 10 minutes in New Zealand. In Australia they work for half the forenoon and then have a half hour break in the afternoon they do the same. For the most part Mr. Southerland found that the general population looked down on the sheep shearers.

In shearing contests where reports are made stating they shear 47 an hour, it isn't impossible.

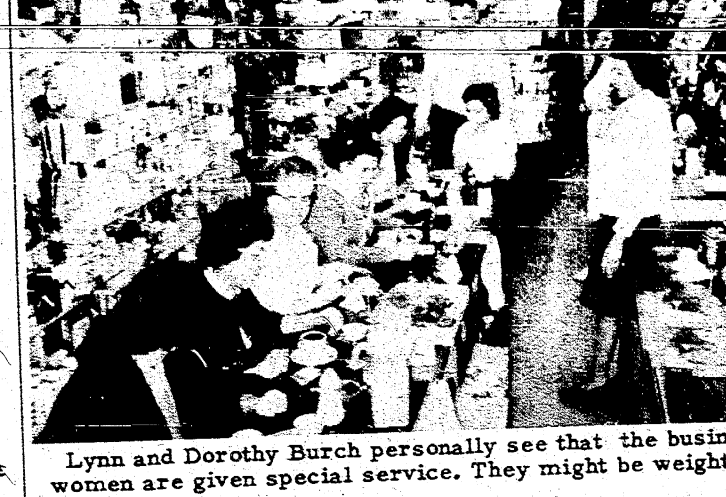

COFFEE DAY ONE OF BIGGEST

First shift of coffee drinkers at BURCHES' annual Coffee Day with Hugh Sutton (at end) already contemplating how much will be collected at end of the day. For Hugh likes coffee—and had been guessing game winner two years.

When the second shift strolled in it was pretty obvious that one businessman was a carry-over from the first shift. You think homemade fried cakes was the reason?

Lynn and Dorothy Burch personally see that the business women are given special service. They might be weight-watchers!

Good Samaritan Dinner

The annual dinner for the Good Samaritans will be held Wednesday, February 5 at 6:30 p.m. at the Michigan Union. Mrs. George Ennen and Mr. Nelson R. DeFord are the dinner co-chairmen. Miss Nina Greening of Chelsea is the ticket chairman. Reservations may be made with parish chairman. "Our Own" Rev. Wm. Ennen, S.J. Professor of Theology at the University of Detroit will be the speaker and a real treat is in store for those who attend.

Report of the program planning meeting which they had attended was given by Mrs. Ellen Feldkamp and Mrs. Ellis Pratt. The lesson was on planning time management and proved very interesting and informative and was presented by Mrs. Floyd Parr and Mrs. Allen Alber. The group divided in two sections and each group offered time saving suggestions for the busy housewife. This was done so that by using these down to earth suggestions she would have some time for recreation. The February 26 meeting will be held at the Sharon townhall at which time there will be a silent auction. Mrs. L. Dean Sott will be the hostess and the topic will be, Where I Would Go if I Were Taking A Trip.

Elwin B. English Revues Iron Creek History

by Marie Schneider
Elwin B. English, who has spent four score and ten years in Manchester township, observed his 90th birthday at his home on West Main Street January 18.

"I really don't know what you would want to put in the paper. There was no celebration. I don't want my picture in. I'm an old man who has nothing special to say, no advice to give anyone and if I mentioned anything about changes I've seen, you'd be writing a book not a newspaper-story."

Mr. English is the youngest and only living of the five children of Benjamin and Mary Baldwin English. When he was a child he remembers his mother telling of coming to Iron Creek (four miles southwest of Manchester) when she was very young. Her family left Clarendon, N. Y. for Michigan on May 10, 1836, crossed Lake Erie on a barge and ten days later their prairie schooner arrived on the south side of what is now Iron Creek. The family headed for the farm of an uncle, William Baldwin. It was night when they arrived but the uncle and his family had been keeping a sharp eye out for the travelers and spotted the lights on the wagon. She said it wasn't long before she was perched on her uncle's shoulders and he was carrying her across the lake. There was no bridge there in those days and people had to know where to ford the creek.

"Probably you don't know this but Iron Creek wasn't always the one big mill pond. In those days there were five lakes. Crane and Iron were the names of two of them. When they put in the dam and built the sawmill the water level rose and all the five made up what is now the Iron Creek mill pond. Grandfather built a log house and mother used to tell about the stick chimney. They built their first frame house in 1852. "My niece and her husband, the Ed Wisners, live in the house my folks built in 1870 on English road. The wood for that house came from our woods and saved at the sawmill on Iron Creek. The house caught fire this last

New Year's Day.

"When the country was new I think they really intended to have a town out at Iron Creek. There was a store at one time and the saw mill. Speaking of things changing—farmers always used to think they had to wash the sheep before shearing. They'd drive the sheep down to the creek and there a man would put them in pens and one by one he'd take each sheep into the water and wash it. He used to charge about a cent a piece for doing it. Then the wet sheep would start for home over the dirt road with the dust a-flying. My own opinion was that they'd be dirtier when it was all done than before they started. Sometimes the sheep would drop down in the road to rest until some of the water had a chance to run out. I used to watch this when I was young. We had our own lake on the farm so we washed our sheep at home."

As far as Mr. English knows there is only one person living here who attended the country school with him. Percy Kelly who lives on Eli Road, south of town was a schoolmate.

Mr. English remembers when the first telephone switchboard was installed in what is now Burche's Manchester Drug Store. And when Bill Kern tore down the old hotel where St. Mary's church now stands there was a row of stores along in that block with the picture gallery next to what is now the library.

"I suppose I ought to go to the Manchester High School Alumni. May Aylesworth Parks of Tecumseh and I are the last of the 13 who graduated in 1893.

For many years everyone in town had his own cow and in the morning John Brown's young son would drive them along the streets out near the brewery where they were left to graze in a pasture field, and at night he'd return them to their owners. J. Fred Schaub had his store where the bakery is and he used to tell how the cows would run loose and eat the hay out of the back of the wagons and sleighs while the farmers shopped. The hay would normally be used to pack articles in so they wouldn't jar together. "We though we had come along way when we had the first milk deliver. Henry Renau, township supervisor, lived on Ann Arbor Hill. He milked very early, put the milk in big milk cans and equipped with a large dipper started out to make his delivery. The patrons furnished their own pans. By golly, I sort of doubt if Henry's horse drawn delivery wagon would meet today's rigid milk inspection standards," he mused.

Mr. English married Frances Logan Dec. 31, 1895. She died in January 1943. They lived on their farm until moving to Manchester 35 years ago. For years Mr. Eng was yard here at the Pardee Lumber Yard. Their only child, now Mrs. Ethel Adams, graduated from Manchester High School. She teaches at Redford High School and her two daughters, Carol and Barbara are students at the University of Michigan. He noted that he is the only one left by the name of English.

"Only the road still carries our name," he laughed.

Mr. English says he likes to live by himself. He can read, listen to the radio and so as he pleases. He still drives his car.

"I know they say people are getting old when they wonder if the young folks are enjoying things as much as we did. I just don't think there's near the activity around this town that there used to be. There was a Farmers' Day in the fall and a big 4th of July celebration. I remember one Fourth when we watched for hours while a balloon was being inflated, down near the Methodist church. It had hardly left the ground when it sprang a leak. They tried to throw wet sponges up to put out the fire. The fellow parachuted from a very low altitude and managed to land on a slanting roof of the present Keasal home. We sure had some exciting times, just the same," the keen little man concluded.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Heimendinger have both returned home from the St. Joseph and Tecumseh hospitals where they both underwent surgery the same day, Jan. 10. They have both returned home and are improving. Sunday their callers were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Finkbeiner of Saline.

Ten March of Dimes Medical Advances Are Listed for Year

Ten March of Dimes-financed projects in birth defects and arthritis have been cited by The National Foundation for outstanding progress in 1963.

"In 1963 the arthritis riddle continued to baffle the experts and despite many informative studies by scientists, no significant breakthroughs concerning cause or prevention were reported," according to Dr. Theodore E. Boyd, the organization's director of scientific research.

"In birth defects research, progress was more promising," he stated. "New light was shed on the genetic code of life, on how a baby develops normally and abnormally in the womb and on the causes of some of the hundreds of defects which affect more than a quarter of a million newborns in the U. S. each year."

Dr. Boyd reported that in 1963 The National Foundation-March of Dimes awarded more than $3,812,000 for research grants. Dr. William S. Clark, medical director, also called attention to the continued rapid growth of the Foundation's treatment and research center program.

There are now 48 March of Dimes centers for birth defects and 29 for arthritis across the country, he said. Approximately 1,000 National Foundation chapters granted more than $1,500,000 to finance such centers in 1963.

The list of top ten March of Dimes-financed projects and achievements follows:

1. Test for Galactosemia. Development of an accurate blood test to detect both victims and symptom-free carriers of an inherited chemical defect called galactosemia, which causes mental retardation in babies when they drink milk. Test perfected by Dr. Arthur Robinson and associates at the University of Colorado.

2. Test for Maple Syrup Urine Disease. Development of a simple blood test to identify infants with an inherited condition named maple syrup urine disease, because of its telltale odor to the urine of its victims. The condition involves abnormalities in body chemistry and generally results in death by the age of two. Test devised by Dr. Joseph Dancis and colleagues at New York University.

ALBERT GARDNER SERVICES SATURDAY

Albert Gardner, Sr. 85 years died Wednesday morning at his home at 11285 Hieber Rd. Pleasant Lake in Freedom township following a long illness.

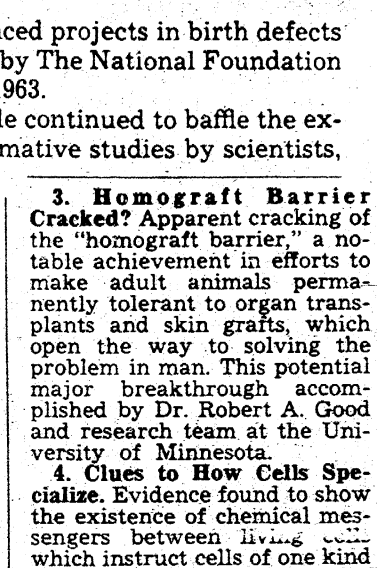

He was born Jan. 4, 1879 in Germany and came to this country as a child. He lived in Quincy, Ill. where he was married to Emma Thoele. They moved later to Detroit where Mrs. Gardner died in 1939. He moved to his present address in 1953.

For the past several years Mr. Gardner has had several hundred visitors to his home at Christmas time to view the Christmas Village he built as a hobby.

Mr. Gardner had worked in the Dodge Div. of the Chrysler Corp. until his retirement in 1951. He was a member of the Zion Lutheran Church at Rogers Corners.

He is survived by one son, Albert (Bert) Gardner of Pleasant Lake and two daughters. Albert (May) Tong, wife of Rev. Tong of Glenn Arbor and Mrs. Harold (Ruth) Krueger of Pleasant Lake; there are two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren; two brothers, Rudolph of Lake Orion and Ferdinand of Columbus, Ohio.

He was preceded in death by two brothers and two sisters. Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Jenter Funeral home here with the Rev. C. J. Renner officiating and burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Dr. Ralph F. Jacox, who is cited in the accompanying article, talks to a young arthritis patient.

3. Homograft Barrier Cracked? Apparent cracking of the "homograft barrier," a notable achievement in efforts to make adult animals permanently tolerant to organ transplants and skin grafts, which open the way to solving the problem in man. This potential major breakthrough accomplished by Dr. Robert A. Good and research team at the University of Minnesota.

4. Clues to How Cells Specialize. Evidence found to show the existence of chemical messengers between living cells which instruct cells of one kind to change their specific job. Some birth defects may be caused by errors occurring during pregnancy in this cell specialization messenger system. Research conducted by Dr. John Papanastasiou and others at University of Connecticut.

5. New Kind of Gene Discovered. Studies of inner workings of cells revealed new kind of gene (unit of heredity) which controls the putting together of proteins into proper form. This significant research reported by Dr. Robert S. Edgar of the California Institute of Technology.

6. Viruses and Birth Defects. Tentative identification of several viruses as causing miscarriage, stillbirths and birth defects when mothers-to-be are infected during pregnancy. These preliminary findings reported by Drs. Gordon C. Brown and Thomas Francis Jr. of the University of Michigan.

7. Synthesis of Biologically Active DNA. For the first time the master code-of-life chemical DNA (deoxyribonucleic acid) has been synthesized in the laboratory in a form that is biologically active. This is as close as anyone has come to creating life in the test tube. Achievement by Drs. Rose M. Littman of the University of Wisconsin, and their fellow investigators.

8. New Clue to Birth Defect Cause. New lead to causes of certain birth defects produced in studies of fluid imbalance in chick embryos. Several factors, such as too little oxygen, too much salt, foreign substances, resulted in salt imbalance in the blood, followed by excess accumulation of body fluids and the development of major defects and often the death of the chick. Reported by Dr.

9. Outbreaks of Spinal Birth Defects. Three reports made of unusual outbreaks of a serious birth defect involving the spine, two by staffs of March of Dimes birth defects centers. Increased referral centers for birth defects patients and vastly increased concern about the problem considered responsible for spotting these "epidemics" of spina bifida. Reported in Atlanta, Ga., by Birth Defects Center there; Fort Campbell, Ky., by Birth Defects Center in Nashville, Tenn., and in Vermont by Burlington physicians. The outbreaks remain unexplained despite intensive inquiry.

10. Arthritis Clues in Twin Study. Strong evidence that emotional stress triggered onset of rheumatoid arthritis was found in a study of five sets of identical twins in which one of each pair had the disease. Reported by Drs. Ralph Jacox and Sanford Meyerowitz of the March of Dimes Arthritis Center, University of Rochester.

Blood Collection Center Opens February 14th

Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross is announcing the opening of a new Blood Collection Center in its new building at 2729 Packard Road in Ann Arbor. Established for the use of all county residents including members of established blood clubs, blood donations can be made for a particular patient in a hospital, through Red Cross Services. This is part of a continuing effort to better serve the residents of our county," said Dr. James A. French, Chairman of the Red Cross Blood Program for the Washtenaw County Red Cross. "It will give added support to our hospitals by having needed blood available."

"While Bloodmobiles for Blood Clubs will continue to be brought into our county through the Detroit Regional Program," Dr. French said, "this sub-center facility will be open on the second Friday of every month from 2 P.M. to 5 P.M. and 6 P.M. to 8 P.M. This will take care of club members who couldn't, for some reason, donate during a Bloodmobile visit, or any resident wishing to donate for a particular patient."

Invited to the February 14 opening to observe and participate in this special Kick-off "Clinic" will be all of the hospitals in the area and the blood clubs which cover the needs of 170,000 people who live or work in Washtenaw county. Dr. French stated that this will help to keep up with the increased demand for blood, especially fresh blood for open heart surgery. He said that within the past five years the distribution of blood by the Red Cross has almost doubled. "Our objectives are to see that every person in the county is covered when blood is needed", Dr. French said. He stressed that anyone 18 through 59 in good health can become a blood donor and can contribute as often as every eight weeks. He also pointed out that every person wishing to donate blood at the clinic on Feb. 14 should call the Red Cross Center, No. 2-5546, for the appointment. This will ensure prompt handling and will avoid waiting time by donors.

No Pickers!

The challenge has been met! The faculty of the Pleasant Lake School has taken upon themselves to publicly challenge the Associated Faculty Team of the Manchester High School—otherwise known as the Manchester Globetrotters. The contest, which undoubtedly will draw thousands, will be held at the Manchester High school Saturday, Feb. 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Due to the audacious way in which the public announcement was rendered without forewarning, the scoring will go uncontrolled in such a way that the Pleasant Lake team will undoubtedly collapse before the contest has concluded. A slight fee will be charged for witnessing this gruesome spectacle. The proceeds will be used for the Manchester Scholarship Loan Fund.

Manchester Faculty team will have a basketball game with the Dexter Faculty team Wednesday, Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m., and a slight fee will be charged to help support the Manchester Scholarship Loan Fund. Both games will be held in the Manchester High School gym.

FROZEN FOODS ARE FRESHER

THAN FRESH

Yes - believe it or not, frozen foods are actually fresher and more nutritious than most of the fresh foods you buy in the store. Experts tell us that as soon as crops are harvested, chemical and cellular changes begin to take place within the food. These changes are actually a process of deterioration which would spoil the food if allowed to continue unchecked. Since fresh foods at the market have usually been harvested at least 48 to 72 hours before, this deterioration has permitted much of the original nutritive value to disappear. But frozen foods, harvested at the peak of their ripeness, are frozen within a few hours, locking in the nutritional values that are so important to good health. So - for better tasting and more nutritious meals, always use frozen foods. And for the best in frozen foods depend on

This is an increase of 41 cents a thousand over last year with between 1,400 and 1,500 tax descriptions sent to about a thousand taxpayers, according to Mr. Wolfe.

Largest on the tax roll is Double A Products, followed by Consumers Power, Union Savings Bank and Union Construction and affiliated Enterprises.

STORMS If you launch your bark upon the ever-agitated but healthful waters of truth, you will encounter storms. —Mary Baker Eddy

TAKES NEW POST

—by Marie Schneider

"It is different being a police chief in a small community such as this, than being on the police force in a large city. It's a 'round the clock' job, and in a way you have the welfare of a community in your hands, from the safety of the small children who stroll along the streets to the safety of the business houses, and homes in the community, and homes in the community, who is resigning his post here."

"You patrol for the fire department, for the funeral director and for weddings. There is no chance to be bored with your work and it is varied. The responsibilities that a police chief shoulders in a small town cannot be easily weighed. Even when you are off duty, the community is uppermost in your mind, he mused.

Manchester Council has accepted the resignation of police chief, Jules Van De Ginste, effective February 10. During the three years he has headed this department, the chief has won the esteem and respect of the teenagers, who no longer use the Main street as a race track in the early hours of the morning.

His prime concern has been the welfare of the young, which was brought out clearly when he first took over his duties. He, with the cooperation of the school authorities worked out a route for the school children to by-pass M-52 in walking to and from school. He maintained that it was unsafe for children to walk along the busy thoroughfare, even on the sidewalks for they would need to be crossing it.

He was the instigator of planning a parking area at the high school and liked him. During Van De Ginste's service to the community he apprehended five escaped convicts. Council recommended a citation in his behalf after he captured two Ionia escapees, Wheeling and Shephard.

Van De Ginste had been an officer for 15 years with the Grosse Pointe Police Department and a plant protection officer with Chrysler Corp. for ten years.

Until a new chief is appointed Donald J. Payeur will be acting chief. Applications are being taken by Police Commissioner committee, Edward Wurster, chairman, Robert Clark and Gale Koebe.

Their recommendations will be submitted to council. Payeur, 25, was fee deputy, then marine deputy with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department before coming to be patrolman in Manchester.

The police force has a full-time chief and three auxiliary police officers.

It is understood that Chief Van De Ginste has accepted a job as deputy with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

HOSPITALIZED Harold Altenbernt was taken to Ridgewood Hospital, Ypsilanti Sunday, where he is critically ill.
