

WORST SNOW OF SEASON COMES AS SURPRISE

By M. Schneider

Manchester, like the rest of Washtenaw County was caught in Tuesday morning's snow storm—the worst of the season, and the Willow Run weather bureau announced that more than 4 inches fell in this area. Reports indicate that damage may run to about $100,000 in this area. There were more than 195 automobile accidents actually recorded by the area police agencies, including 23 personal injuries. Officers said that at least twice as many minor property accidents were unreported.

It began snowing early in the morning. At least it was snowing hard when we first looked out and gave a passing thought to the car parked in the driveway. One thing was certain, there would be no trouble driving out from that parking spot and we were glad we forgot to put it away.

Over the radio the announcers kept warning people to keep off the roads except when necessary. Apparently there were traffic jams all over Ann Arbor and the surrounding area.

We were just ready to leave for work when the phone rang. The boss said they were leaving for Ann Arbor and would be back just as soon as they could. They had to leave here early because of the weather.

We were quick to assure him we'd be at the office in just a very few minutes and he shouldn't worry about a thing. Yes, we'd be careful. We knew it would be slippery out. The road down our way hadn't been scraped and no cars had gone by. We knew where the road was anyway.

With a snow shovel in one hand and a broom in the other we started out. "Course you can work better with both hands full. A quick check and we knew the broom wouldn't be much help. It took both hands to fight that snow.

Against the wind, we kept whipping the snow faster and faster. We finally shoveled over to the car.

Good thing it wasn't in the garage. If there is any snow anywhere it always manages to pile in the driveway next to the house in a narrow spot next to the garage next door.

That slim handled car brush was no match for the heavy snow. So we rescued that broom and started to "bury" the car. Whoever said that snow is light and fluffy never lifted the stuff that fell Tuesday. By the time we had Sunday, the snow was still on the car and wind the snow out of our eyes the path was full again and the part of car we'd uncovered first was covered again.

A quick look at the situation pointed two routes clearly: first we would either have to work a lot faster or we could stop entirely. We thought the best choice would be the best, and stumbled back to the house.

We hated to disappoint the boss after telling him everything was under control. What we meant was everything was under control of the weather.

They'd both think us real chickens for not starting earlier for both Mr. and Mrs. Koda had left for Ann Arbor (we thought).

We were thankful to Graham Bell for the phone and started to work, but everyone seemed to want to talk about the weather.

Then a call from the boss. Where was he? In the office, of course. They went around the block and gave up too.

Someone said that business in town was at a standstill all day. One of the merchants said that at 3 p.m. there were two cars on Main Street. One belonged to Jay Lantis at the A & B and the other a truck at Mann's Mill.

Supt. of Schools, Harold Springsteen said that he was in constant contact with the Willow Run weather bureau and just as soon as it was thought advisable the children would board the buses and go home. The storm was supposed to subside at about noon. It is good to know that the school system here has such level-headed people taking care of the children. At noon school was dismissed and school was cancelled here on Wednesday as well as in Chelsea, Saline, Dexter and Milan. In Ann Arbor the buses were not running.

In the afternoon three young boys wanted to shovel the walks. Never under estimate the youth of today. They did a top notch job and were pleased to be out of school.

But you can't please everyone. One little girl had planned a birthday party at school which of course was called off. One thing is certain she won't forget this March 10.

Howard Minier of the County Road Comm. described them as "kooky". They had 50 units out clearing the snow bogged roads but everything was back to normal on Thursday.

We'd read about the blizzard of March 11, 1888 which hit the east coast and paralyzed all large cities when all but two telegraph lines out of New York City were tied up. All traffic was halted. That snow fall measured just under 21 inches. That must have been some storm!

EAR READERS:

any number of you send in words of thanks for any number of reasons. Now, it's our turn to take a turn to thank you. For several weeks we have been receiving phone calls, letters and many of you have stopped us and expressed interest in the Enterprise and stories that have appeared in the paper recently. The Enterprise has received far more comment than any other newspaper in the area. Hundreds of you have mentioned in the story we wrote about in Street's Bill Blumenauer.

We can't tell you how good it makes us feel to know that you, too, place a real value on the right things and that you take your time to tell us so. We have never received so many interesting comments from everyone—from the humble to the mighty. This is as should be.

And we hasten to add that we never want credit when it does not belong to us. The poem "Shotsie" which appears on the same page as our story and signed by the initials --J.J.F.J. was not penned by any of our staff. When the poem was brought in by Robert Bunney we questioned the initials. He said if we would print the poem, we would be another story but Bill and asked our teen-ager to sign his name to his poem. He declined. Realizing that it was not the time or place to further question this young poet, we did as he asked.

However, since the publication of SHOTSIE we have been asked so many times, "Who is the poet?" that we decided to check again and to give credit where it is due.

Robert Bunney agreed, but reluctantly that it would be alright to let our readers know that he wrote the poem. Some of us find this writing poetry a pretty difficult undertaking and with the exception of our dark haired editor the rest of us are pretty likely to leave poetry alone and stick to prose.

The whole thing points to something that we have been trying to put across for years. Many people are of the opinion that if an article isn't on the front page of a paper the general public does not read it. This is living proof of something we've always said—YOU CAN'T bury an item in a small town weekly.

Our subscribers read every word. The story on Main Street Bill Blumenauer did appear on page one and there was no glowing headline or picture. But you read the story, and you liked it. Thanks to every one of you.

NEW PLANT TO COME TO MANCHESTER

Walt Gamin and Max Kenyon, top men at the Manchester Plastics, Inc. look over blue prints in their present temporary offices in the New York Central freight building. The proposed building will be located at the end of Madison Street, in the northwest section of the village.

A dream that Manchester businessmen have been hoping for is coming true. The town is going to have a new industry. Manchester Plastics Inc. purchased a 15 acre tract of land at the foot of Madison Street from Mrs. Raymond Maunder.

Slated for completion by May 15 or sooner the plant will probably be in operation by June first. Designs for the 4,000 square foot building are about complete and bids will be let out for the construction of the building.

The new plant will engage in supplying plastics to the automotive and appliance industry. The molding will cover three ounce to 16 ounce capacity. President and General manager of the operation is Max Kenyon of 7407 Wall Ct., Dexter. For 18 years Mr. Kenyon was employed by Michigan Panelyte and Plastics. He left his position as assistant chief engineer to join Wolverine Plastics as engineer in the Milan Plant. Many for he served as District Scout Commissioner of District 4 for ten years before his business operations became too involved for him to devote time to scouting.

Working with Kenyon is Walt Gamin as treasurer and general superintendent. Mr. Gamin comes from Jackson where he is owner of Gamin Co., Wildwood Avenue, a company engaged in the assembling of plastic products for 15 years.

The company president says that the plant will have complete facilities for making and assembling molded products.

JOINS WIBC '600' CLUB

A lot of people won't forget Tuesday, March 10 and its record snow fall but Betty Schauble (right) will remember it for another reason. It was the day she bowled a cool 612 at the Brooklyn Lanes with games of 208, 196 and 208--and Schaffer Lumber Co. did it again. This is the second time in the local records that Manchester women have bowled in the 600 series. Oddly enough, both were members of the Schaffer Lumber Co. team. Some time has elapsed between the two events. Joyce Schaffer (left) joined the WIBC "600" Club in 1959. Betty carries an average of 161 while Joyce's average is 157.

The 45 by 90 foot cement building will accommodate about 20 employees and an office force of four. The plant will be set up to run three injection machines ranging in size from three ounces to 16. As additional equipment comes to the plant, personnel will be added and the president said that he would be willing to say that in three years there will be about 50 employees and an office force of ten.

Household items, automotive parts, electrical controls, water pump parts are some of the thermo plastic items which can be molded by the raw materials, Mr. Kenyon said. The type of material molded will be clean and less. Water consumption per machine installed will be between 250 and 300 gallons per hour.

The plant will be capable of running on a three shift basis working 5 days a week. The Manchester village council has approved making sewer and water facilities available to the property.

Former Resident Lands a BIG One

A former Manchester resident, Mrs. W. H. Dillon, now vacationing in Texas, wrote back that Mr. Dillon of Jackson, registered the largest catch in the drum division an 18-pound eight ounce. He was a contestant in the first annual Brownsville Tourist Fishing Tournament and according to reports they are catching some whoppers that make the natives turn green with envy. Brownsville is the southern most town in Texas and they write back that they are practically on the Gulf—just 16 miles from the jeties that protect the salt marshes from wind, flood and sand dunes. They said that the wind is so strong that their trailer seems to bounce. Warnings have been out for 3 days. The temperature was up to 79 to 87 degrees. They are parked near the Boca Chica boulevard that runs toward the International Bridge but they write, the town is so old and has seen so many wars and uprisings that there are streets running in every direction. The old Fort still has many buildings standing and are tourist attractions. At the Mexican town of Matamoros nearby there are many improvements and new buildings are mushrooming everywhere, making it look like an American city. Mr. and Mrs. Dillon planned to see the Mercedes Rodco and Fat Stock Show which resembles the state fair in this country. They also planned to stop at Tyler, Texas to visit the Earl Tress family, formerly of Manchester then start back to their home at Vandercook Lake.

Coming Event

The annual township meeting will be April 4 at 1:30 p.m.

Police Chief's House Damaged by Fire

Fire caused some damage to the home of police chief, Don Singer at 117 Wells St., South Lyon Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Singer and the children arrived here to take the police chief home for the weekend and when they returned to South Lyon they found the upper story of their home a fire in one of the partitions. Investigation showed that the fire was caused from defective wiring. Most of the damage was caused by smoke the police chief said. The new police chief and his family are looking for a home in Manchester and will appreciate it if anyone can help them find one.

BPW Plans State Convention

Business and Professional Women met Monday at the home of Mrs. Otto Timmerman at Pleasant Lake. The hostess told the membership about the Child Craft books and World Book series which she currently is sales representative for. The next regularly scheduled meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clyde Haze. Plans were made to attend the state convention in Detroit in May.

NORMAN WALZ STARTS BUSINESS
Norman Walz of 210 Torrey street has resigned his position as yard foreman at the Schaffer Lumber Company at Jackson to enter business for himself. He intends to work as a contractor with the new operation to be known as S & W Builders. Mr. Walz is available for home repair, home improvements, garages, barns, building homes and cottages. The new organization will be in operation this week.

WARREN, MICH. - Plans for a new Fisher Body upholstery trim plant employing approximately 1,000 people to be built near Tecumseh, Michigan, were announced today by Robert H. Gathman, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Fisher Body. The new facility is part of GM's record two-year worldwide capital expenditure program of almost $2 billion announced Wednesday, in Fremont, Calif., by GM Chairman Frederic G. Donner. It will be located on a 200-acre site two miles south of Tecumseh on the northwest corner of Occidental and Gady Roads. The site is also approximately two miles east of M-52 and is adjacent to the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad. The new trim fabricating plant will contain about 290,000 square feet of space for producing sets of upholstery for passenger cars. Mr. Gathman said this would relieve the production overload at the Fisher trim plants located at Livonia and Grand Rapids, Michigan as well as provide additional capacity for an expanding automobile markets. Expenditures for payroll and local purchases of materials and services are expected to approximate $9,000,000 annually, Mr. Gathman said. Construction will start this spring with tentative completion scheduled for a year hence. The building will be a steel and concrete structure enclosed with face brick and aluminum siding. With the beginning of production, the plant will receive bolts of fabric and other soft trim materials and convert them into seat covers, door trim pads, headlinings and sun visors. The upholstery materials will be cut by hand and machine and then sewn together on individually operated sewing machines. Still other operations will be performed on dielectric presses which bond vinyl and vinyl-coated fabrics together and imprint them with decorative effects. The finished trim then will be shipped to body assembly plants all over the country. Administrative offices at the front of the building will contain 32,750 square feet of floor space. Employee locker rooms and rest rooms on the mezzanine level will contain 10,000 square feet, and a 15,000 square foot cafeteria will be located on the second floor. Regional manager, Charles V. Hagler said that the 1,000 people to be employed at the proposed new Fisher Body plant about 50 percent will be women. Nearly all the employees will be from the surrounding area. Women will be running the sewing machines doing the cutting and direct labor. Some of the job openings expected to be available to men will be as electricians, maintenance, power house men, tool makers and tool repairmen, plant protection and direct labor. Mr. Hagler made it clear that more news concerning the operation as it progresses will be made available to the area news media.

Medical Progress and Your Health

Drive Out The Demons and Cure Asthma!

That was the popular belief in the year 2,000 B.C. — a belief held by the people of early Egypt and Mesopotamia. These ancient civilizations have furnished us with the oldest recorded medical data as yet known to man. Illness, they believed, was punishment for sin. Treatment, consequently, included both religion and medicine. Among the diseases, with which sorcerers, magicians, priests and physicians have been struggling since 2,000 B.C. (and probably before) are asthma, emphysema and chronic bronchitis. As far back as we know, according to ancient writings, asthma (in one form or another) has been a prevalent, stubborn and serious ailment. Here in the United States, about one out of every thirteen people today suffers from asthma, emphysema, or chronic bronchitis. Asthma alone is a contributing factor to the deaths of over 6,000 people a year. The only disease of the lungs with a higher fatality rate is lung cancer. Exactly how widespread respiratory diseases may have been 4,000 years ago, we have no way of determining. That they existed and were treated is a fact established by the mummy tablets of the Mesopotamians and the papyrus writings of the Egyptians. When one method failed to drive the demon from the body of the patient, another was called upon to salvage the reputation of the magician. Consequently we find in the medical papyri numerous alternative prescriptions provided for every kind of sickness or calamity. Some of these contained drugs which are really beneficial and appropriate. Such prescriptions would tend to survive the more fantastic ones, and by this means, more and more reliance came to be placed upon the drugs themselves and less and less upon the magician's spells. Fumigation and inhalation were methods frequently employed in the treatment of respiratory diseases. For example,

Fire Dept. Answers 3 Calls Monday

Trash fires which caused about $1,200 damages Monday brought a stern warning from Fire Chief James Kensler for residents to take added precautions when burning rubbish or trash near buildings.

A portion of a warehouse owned by Manchester Country Market at 18875 W. Austin Road, was damaged about 6 p.m. when sparks from trash burning in a barrel were blown near the building. Loss was estimated between $800 and a $1,000.

A chicken coop owned by Veryl Schill of 18291 Tracy Road, met a similar fate when it burned caused by sparks from a trash fire. The coop was destroyed and damage was estimated at about $250. The fire was called out earlier in the afternoon to the home of Kenneth Randall at 8287 Happy Hollow Road, Pleasant Lake when a rubbish fire burned out of control. No serious damage resulted.

The quick response of the Manchester fire department to these fires stopped what might have been very serious fires because of the high wind on Monday.

The local fire chief urges everyone to take extreme precaution to prevent fires, particularly at this time of year when everything is very dry.

DRIVER'S LICENSE ISSUED at the Motor Agency Building, Tuesday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Any other time by appointment.

Local Man Charged With Rockless Driving

A 23-year old Manchester area man was charged with reckless driving after being pursued by police in the village and surrounding area at speeds that police said were in excess of 100 miles an hour.
John E. Bauer, 11660 Manchester Road, pleaded not guilty when he was ordered to appear in Municipal Court in Ann Arbor on Monday.

Deputy Russell Wright fired five warning shots during the chase Saturday night.
Deputy Donald J. Payeur and Wright said that Bauer ignored the shots.
Two teenagers riding with Bauer signed statements saying that the car was traveling between 90 and 110 miles an hour while the police car was in pursuit.

A road block was set up at the intersection of Haisley and Grass Lake Roads in Sharon township.

The local police were aided by Eugene Hagerman and Earl Willis of the Chelsea police department, assisted by Sheriff's Deputy Charles Anderson and Luther Nagel of the Auxiliary Police, at the road block.

Bauer has been set for Thursday, March 26 at Municipal Court in Ann Arbor.

Bauer was jailed Saturday night but released on a $35 bail.

Following the meeting cards were played and refreshments served by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Feldkamp and Mrs. Laurel Breitenwischer.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, April 29 with a potluck anniversary supper and social evening in celebration of 20 years of activity as a Washtenaw County group.

Twp. Library Recives Gifts

The Hills and Valley's 4-H Club, Lydia Circle of WSCS, and the United Ladies Association have presented a beautiful book, "Living With Antiques" to the Manchester township library commemorating the 125th anniversary.
Other donors of items buried deep in Manchester's past to the Historical Room are Mr. Royal Davidter, Mrs. Robert Chapin, Jane Palmer, Nellie Ackerson, Mrs. Robert Wines, Mrs. Roland Grossman and Mrs. Roy Lowery.

Mr. D. E. Limpert has restored two antique chairs and Mrs. William Palmer is repairing two that belong to the library. Mrs. Palmer also has given one of her own antique chairs to the library.
As spring cleaning time is approaching, the library is asking every Manchester citizen to look through their attic and maybe their basements, or any other tucked away spots where some historical item might be stored that would be fitting for display in the Historical room of the library.

Mrs. Burrill Hansen, an interested citizen, has spent a great deal of time and energy working almost singlehandedly to make the historical room the noteworthy place it is today. She would be most welcome to add your antique treasures to the collection. She says that she would be very glad to accept would include such items as antique pictures, letters, old maps, deeds to property, antique articles and small tools to mention a few. If in doubt call her at 428-4891 and ask her opinion. We are sure that she'll be able to find a place for any of your treasures in the library room.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO ALL THOSE FOOD FADS?

Funny thing about those food fads. They just faded away. Not so long ago everybody seemed to be talking about the latest crash diet and buying the latest funny food. (Wasn't one of them some kind of flower oil?) Then one day you suddenly realized they were gone, just like hula hoops and yo-yos. Which only proves what most people knew all along: there's no sensible substitute for a balanced diet. And the American Medical Association says that a balanced diet should include food from all four basic groups: (1) fruits and vegetables, (2) breads and cereals, (3) meat, (4) milk. If you have to watch your weight, cut down on the quantity of food you eat. Don't cut out any one food altogether, because you run the risk of robbing your body of essential nutrients. And remember: only milk gives you 86 nutrients. So be sure your meals include fresh milk.

Landscape Project for Nursing Home

An educational program for community Betterment has been set up as a cooperative endeavor between the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan, Inc. and the Sears Roebuck and Co. Retail Stores in Michigan for the second year. Through planned landscape design is a step toward better living for the people of Michigan.

An award of $259 will be given to one club from each district in Michigan. The purpose of this contest is to inspire and benefit the community as a whole, improve appearance, advance civic spirit and possibly support other organizations toward civic beautifications. Sears Roebuck and Company in the past made funds available for qualifying wholesome educational landscape improvement projects. The interest of the Company to help the people of progressive communities to help themselves enjoy better surroundings. Intended use of the award should be for that purpose.

The Little Garden Club of Tecumseh is a member of Federated Garden Clubs Michigan, Inc. and is now preparing their entry for this contest. Their entry in this contest encompasses the landscape of the new Herrick Nursing Home and the area between the home and the hospital.

Combined committee from the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and the Little Garden Club are spearheading this community project and all organizations and residents of this area are invited to participate.
Financial aid can be given either by donation or as a memorial to a deceased relative or friend. No donation is too small and can be deposited at the United Savings Bank by the donor. If one is giving a memorial, please call Mrs. R. G. Marsh at 423-3350. All contributions are acknowledged by mail and recorded in a leather bound book kept at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

A definite plan and schedule has been worked out by a landscape architect for this project and each plant and material used has a specific use or function. The committee asks that all contributions of plants or materials be made according to the plan. The landscaping plan calls for many beautiful shrubs and trees such as red flowering peach, Chinese azalea, red maple, silver maple, red-bud, sugar maple, Japanese holly, Norway maple and many others. Should anyone plants they can contact one of the committee.

The total cost will be about $9000. This amount includes plant material, labor, stone, finish grading, benches, concrete work and lighting.

Any group desiring to see colored slides of the landscape plans for this project, may call anyone on the committee for an appointment.
Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and the Little Garden Club wishes to thank the people of this area for their wonderful cooperation in completing this community project. To date over forty memorials have been made to the landscape fund and many individuals, businesses and organizations have donated to the fund.
On the committee working on the project locally is Mrs. William Purfield. Memorial blanks and more information on the work can be obtained at the Jenter Funeral Home here.

Telephone Lines

By NICK PRAKKEN, Manager
IT DOESN'T HAPPEN OFTEN, but occasionally one of our customers will accidentally dial the wrong number when making a Long Distance call direct. If this should ever happen to you, be sure to ask the person who answers for the city and the number you have reached. Hang up for a moment, then dial your Long Distance Operator and report the city and the wrong number to her. This will keep the charge from appearing on your next telephone bill.

Manchester Residents Urged to Obtain Fire Permits

ACT 143, P. A. 1923, AS AMENDED, PROVIDES THAT:

1. You must have a permit to have an open fire except when the ground is snow-covered, or for domestic purposes, or to protect persons or property in case of fire.
2. Any person who wilfully, negligently, or carelessly sets a fire which injures or endangers the property of another, may, upon conviction, be assessed a fine of not more than $100.00 and costs of prosecution or imprisonment for 90 days or both such fine and imprisonment.
3. Any person who maliciously sets a fire which endangers human life or destroys the property of another, may, upon conviction, be assessed a fine of not less than $100.00 nor over $500.00 or imprisonment for a term of not over 10 years or both such fine and imprisonment.
4. Any person who negligently allows a fire to escape is liable for all expenses incurred by the State of Michigan in the suppression of such fire except for Department of Conservation personnel and equipment.
5. Any permit issued may be revoked if conditions are such that burning may not be done safely.

A GREEN MICHIGAN.

KEEP YOUR FIRE SAFE!

James Kensler, Fire Chief

Lyle Widmayer, Ass't Fire Chief

Manchester's fire chief, James Kensler warns people in the Manchester area that as spring weather is upon us it is very important that people are careful about burning. It is necessary that any burning must have a permit to have an open fire when the ground is not snow covered to protect persons and property in case of fire. Kensler further warns that any person who wilfully negligently or carelessly sets a fire which injures or endangers the property of another, may be assessed a fine of not more than $100 and costs of prosecution or imprisonment for 90 days or both. Also if a person allows a fire to escape he is liable for all expenses incurred by the State of Michigan in the suppression of such fire, except for Department of Conservation personnel and equipment. The fire chief says that it is important that people in a small town take extra precaution because the fire department here is a voluntary operation. Any person who maliciously sets a fire which endangers human life or destroys the property of another may be assessed a fine of not less than $100 nor over $500 or imprisonment for a term of not over 10 years or both. Permits for burning must be obtained from Chief Kensler, or assistant chief, Lyle Widmayer locally.

School Officials Eye Spring Storms

The Manchester public schools have issued the following information, according to Supt. Harold Springsteen. School officials will check the weather periodically during warm spring days because of the possibility of severe wind storms which confronts the area every spring and summer. If there are tornado forecasts and accompanied by a sudden drop in barometric pressure the schools will be closed and the busses will leave early. It would be advisable, the superintendent noted, that arrangements be made at home to have an adult present on sultry, humid and warm spring days. If school is dismissed early, radio stations W.A.G. and W.O.I.A. will broadcast the information. With the aid of police authorities a few years ago the school set up some routes by which children living in the village were to walk to and from school. Although the plan is very successful, there is one revision in it to take full advantage of the adult supervision as the school board has hired two adults to further insure safe crossing at two very busy intersections-at Main and City Road and at Duncan and City Road. The school asks that each parent instruct children and then insist that the proper routes be followed.

Monday, April 13 the annual meeting of the Manchester citizens will be held and the Board of Education will present next year's program and the financial implications. Sample budgets will be available before this meeting for study by residents. School will be dismissed Thursday noon, March 26 and resume Tuesday, March 31-Easter vacation.

Princess vs. Dairy Foods

A smoldering dialogue which has divided Washtenaw County dairymen in recent weeks burst brightly into flame at the annual County Dairy Banquet, as two young people's activities unexpectedly were forced to compete for the support of the 400 persons present.

The problem began earlier this year when the American Dairy Association of Michigan decided to drop its annual state-wide "Dairy Princess" contest in favor of a new ADA Dairy Foods Program for 4-H'ers. The new program is administered through local 4-H Extension Agents.

When the ADA canceled its "Dairy Princess" plans, however, it did not coordinate the change with the Michigan Milk Producers' Association. Consequently the MMPA this year continued its policy of budgeting prize money for country "Dairy Princesses."

The County Dairy Council held a contest of its own at the Dairy Banquet Saturday and named 18-year-old Debra S. Faust of Saline as Washtenaw County's 1964 "Dairy Princess." Cheryl Hines and Sara Schaefer were runners-up. They received $25, $15 and $10, respectively in MMPA prize money, but have no state-wide contest to enter.

At the same banquet, Miss Hines and Kay Gordon presented the demonstration that has won them the right to represent Washtenaw County this year at the contest for the new ADA Dairy Foods conference. The first conference is scheduled to be held from tomorrow through Saturday at Michigan State University.

Then the fireworks began. Albert Gail of Saline, chairman of the contest committee for the County Dairy Council, declined a firm defense of the "Dairy Princess" program. Herman Kahn of Chelsea, president of the state ADA, was equally positive in explaining the value of the new Dairy Foods Program.

This sparked a spirited discussion among Washtenaw dairymen present, many of whom belong both to MMPA and the ADA.

The situation was further complicated by the fact the Dairy Council has officially offered its "support" to the new ADA program, though no financial support is involved. The 4-H program also has been involved in past princess contests and is now committed to support of the new Dairy Foods Program. Competitors for both events are 4-H Club members.

Miss Hines and Miss Gordon were chosen March 5 by a panel of four judges who included Edna and Ernest Gruber of Saline, president of the Michigan Agricultural Conference and a member of the state MMPA board of directors. The other judges were Washtenaw Extension Director Donald R. Johnson and County 4-H Agent Mrs. Lois Wise.

Through the controversy over the new contests seemed to split the 400 in attendance at the Dairy Banquet about evenly. There was no dispute of the value of the demonstration presented by the Washtenaw Dairy Foods delegates.

The title of their presentation was "Nature's Most Perfect Food—Milk," something which every dairyman enthusiastically supports.

Washtenaw 4-H Agent Norman Brown said today he has no idea whether there will be a County "Dairy Princess" next year, but he said there a decision will be a new Dairy Foods demonstration contest. Brown said there was a possibility both activities might continue, with the winners enjoying equal importance at the annual Dairy Banquets.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES SET AT EMANUEL

Christians traditionally mark the crucifixion of Christ on Good Friday. Many stores in the communities close during the hours of the service in which the Seven Last Words of Christ are often used as the basis of meditations.

Manchester Christians will assemble at Emmanuel Church Friday at 1:15 at which time the organists will present devotional selections, the service of devotion will begin at 1:30 p.m.

The service will begin with the Rev. Mr. Ralph Kuebler, Pastor of the host church, preaching on the first word:

"Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." The Rev. Mr. T. W. Mendenhall of the Bethel Church will speak on the next two words, "I thirst," "This is my blood which is shed for many."

On the next two words, "I thirst," "This is my blood which is shed for many," the Rev. Mr. John Price, of the Sharon United Brethren Church will speak on the fourth and fifth words: "Why hast thou forsaken me?" and "I thirst."

The Rev. Mr. Jesse Epps will use the words: "It is finished" for his text, while the service will be concluded by the Rev. Mr. Thomas H. Kuhl of the Iron Creek Community Church will speak on the final word: "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit."

The traditional Good Friday offering will be received and sent to the CROP—Christian Rural Overseas Program. The public is invited.

Discarded Refrigerators are Death Traps

Discarded refrigerators are known death traps for children. Spring is the time they are playing around very likely to crawl into a refrigerator left outside in a garage.

Realizing the hazards that discarded refrigerators can cause, Dependable Garbage Service of 177 Stony Lake Road, Napoleon is offering to pick up and destroy them free of charge to anyone who calls.

Home-owners and non-home-owners alike, Philip Duckham, owner of the service said, doesn't know of any other company that has the facilities to destroy the refrigerators effectively.

Duckham explained that men will load them on trucks and crush them. He pointed out that although there is a law against harboring these abandoned death traps, people simply neglect to take them away or remove doors.

Refrigerators are so well insulated that no one can hear children cry for help and are so air-tight that a child cannot survive for long. Duckham says that all that is necessary is for people to call the service at Napoleon 4412 or Tecumseh 423-40 and let them know where refrigerators are located. Dependable Garbage Service collects in Manchester, Jackson, Clinton, Tecumseh, Napoleon and the collection of refrigerators will done as a public service.

EDITOR TO THE EDITOR:

Manchester, Mich. March 21, 1964

Dear Editor:

Ever since reading the article on Bill Blumenauer I have been wanting to write to you. I did not know Bill too well, although he was in our area about six months ago. When I first heard Bill say, "shotsie" I thought it rather peculiar and this is what I tried to write about.

First the word is German and is spelled "Schatz" or "schatzchen" meaning sweetheart or my dear. It is used by German very much by old people in talking to small children or some one you love very much.

This greeting used by Bill speaks further of his love for Frank and of his cheery disposition in spite of his handicap. I don't believe everyone knew the meaning of "shotsie".

Sincerely,
John Miller

A Manchester man has retired after 37 years of service with the Washtenaw City Road Commission. Alger Clark Sr., who resides at 513 Granger Street, Manchester, worked for several years as fleet foreman and for the past nine years he has worked as a mechanic at the Ann Arbor District Yard.

MIKE TRAVELS

"Sheldon Jackson always told me if I ever needed help to be sure and let him know. Once through the years I did ask him and he was as good as his word. He was a wonderful man.

Mike served three years in the regular army before World War I. After that I met and married Lily Lamson. The Wolfes celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last July 16. Their son Louis lives in Ypsilanti.

Mike is active in civic affairs in the community and is presently the Manchester township treasurer, a post he has held since 1945. He bowls every week on the Manchester Speedway team. Few would guess he is 78 years old. And if it hadn't been for Sheldon Jackson—the Alaskan Apostle—Manchester would never have had Mike Wolfe.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES SET

Five churches in the Manchester area will unite Good Friday afternoon for the traditional services beginning with special music at 1:15. The seven Last words will be the topic for conversation.

Participating will be Rev. Ralph Kuehner of the host church, Emanuel; Rev. T. W. Menzel of the Bethel United Church; Rev. John Price of the Sharon EUB church; Rev. Thomas Hicks of the Iron Creek church and Rev. Jesse Epps of the Manchester Methodist church. Good Friday offering will be received for CROP-Christian Rural Overseas Program.

At St. Mary's church Good Friday services will start at noon with the Good Friday Liturgy at which time Holy Communion will be distributed. At 1 p.m. there will be sermon and veneration of the relic of the True Cross. At 2 p.m. there will be a sermon and followed by Way of the Cross. Good Friday confessions from 3 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 9 p.m.

MIKE TRAVELS BACK TO HIS YOUTH

A Manchester man was reading the Manchester Enterprise when a particular item drew his attention. The man was Michael Healy Wolfe, and the story he was reading was about the local MOM's club giving a number of books to the township library in memory of veterans who had died during the past year.

Mike, as he is known to everyone in Manchester, scanned the list until his eyes fell on "Alaskan Apostle—The Life of Sheldon Jackson". The book was given in memory of A.B. Clark, the school custodian who died following a fall at school.

Mike traveled back memory lane to his youth when he knew Sheldon Jackson. This was the way he learned that a book had been written about the man who was directly responsible for his education.

"I doubt if anyone around here knew Sheldon Jackson as I did," Mike grinned as he discussed the article with his wife Lily.

He got the book from the library and set in the shoe shop on Main Street, a place he has owned and operated since they came to Manchester in 1933. As he read the pages, he remembered the scenes of his childhood. Mr. Wolfe will be 79 years on August 8.

Mike doesn't remember of ever seeing a relative. Sheldon Jackson was the person he remembers of linking his childhood with today.

Many people in town have listened to Mike tell about his early youth and how very different things were in Alaska. He has a birth certificate signed by a Charles Brower. Mike was born at Point Barrow, Alaska in 1885. That was the northernmost Presbyterian mission station. Mr. Wolfe said he was named after a Captain Michael A. Healy, commander of the steamer BEAR. Healy was a revenue officer and closest friend of Sheldon Jackson. When Mike was five years old he was taken from Point Barrow on the Bear by Jackson to Sitka, where Jackson had a boarding school. Sitka was the territorial capital until 1906.

WATERSHED PROBLEMS TO BE AIRED APRIL 3rd

MIKE TRAVELS

Soil Conservation Service will begin a preliminary survey of the Raisin River Watershed about April 20. The Survey will be used to determine the feasibility of improving the watershed and should take about 50 to 60 days.

A public meeting will be held Friday, April 3 at 8 p.m. at the Emanuel church hall in Manchester to determine the specific needs and problems of the upper Raisin Watershed. At this meeting the public will have an opportunity to express their problems and the type of solutions they desire. This information will be used by the Soil Conservation Service while conducting the survey and in computing the cost benefit ratio for the project.

Townships of Sharon, Freedom, Bridgewater and Manchester and the villages of Manchester and Clinton are involved in this part of the watershed, according to Robert McCrory, Agricultural County Extension Agent. Also expected to be present are Don Johnson, Soil Conservation; John Flook, County Drain Commission and John Trustdoff, Soil Conservation Department.

have been feeling pretty good by that time because they sent me two miles away to bring back a quart of milk.

"Usually we used canned milk, sent in the boats from the states. People didn't have gardens there, although the ground was suitable but the government had set up some experimental stations," Mr. Wolfe said.

The hospital was a two-story building and the doctor's name was Wilbur, from Philadelphia. There was at least one trained nurse and others helped as he remembers. The frame school was heated by stoves in the winter.

There was salmon to eat. It was salted down for use in the winter. Then there was reindeer meat. Potatoes, navy beans and other food were imported.

"Jackson and the others who worked so hard up in Alaska were real missionaries. I hate to think what might become of us if they hadn't been so farsighted," Mike said.

Not too long ago Mr. Wolfe managed to contact one of his old schoolmates who lives in Seattle and he said it was like finding a long lost brother. His name is William Paul and he now lives in Seattle, Wash. Paul attended the American Indian convention in Chicago a couple of years ago. The society has a magazine and Mike subscribes to it. There he read the names of those at the convention and saw the name of his friend. The two men hope to have a chance to see one another again.

Paul and Mike were both aboard the ship that brought them to the states and to Carlisle, Pa. by Ed Marsdon, a missionary. There they attended school and from there Mike went to the Presbyterian College at Parksville, Missouri.

production of Sitka in the book and it shows the industrial training school that Jackson helped establish for Indian and Eskimo children.

Mr. Wolfe remembers Jackson as the Commissioner of Education for Alaska—the man who is credited with saving the Alaskan Eskimo and Indian from extinction and founding the Alaskan school system, as well as a Presbyterian missionary.

"I don't know how the man ever managed to start schools the way he did. He traveled a lot. It gave us a real sense of security, because if we needed him the school teachers always knew where he could be reached.

"We had good care, good clothes, and good teachers, both spiritually and materially. My father knew Jackson and he signed an agreement with Mr. Jackson, so he would look after me. Sheldon Jackson told me my father was a well educated man and head of a Coal-ling Station at Cape Lisbon. Among my few treasures of my boyhood is a letter written to the matron at the school by my father in 1890, in which he asked what he could send me for Christmas. The matron gave me the letter," Mr. Wolfe said.

His childhood memories of Sitka are very pleasant. He remembers it as a wonderful place, a nice climate where they went swimming in the summer in the bay which was warmer than the lakes around here, Mike noted, because they were heated by the Japanese current.

There were about a hundred children at the school including students through the 8th grade, taught by missionaries. Along with their academic subjects the children were taught trades, shoe making, carpentry, lumbering and other things which would help them to make a living if they decided to live in Alaska.

"I remember when there was only one cow in Sitka—a white one owned by the superintendent of schools. You can imagine how scarce fresh milk was. Then Gov. Brady got a cow. I had been sick and was in the hospital. Guess I must
