Children Pictures Taken Free And Published In The ENTERPRISE

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, our Nation, and Community will rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Since this is true, the publishers of this newspaper would like to give you a good look at these future "World Builders".

The only way we can do this is by publishing pictures of them in a feature series. To assure the latest and best reproductions, they must all be uniform size and quality.

An expert children's photographer with all the necessary equipment for this specialized work, will be here Tuesday, May 19.

Pictures will be taken at the K. of C. Hall and will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

No Charge To Parents

There is no charge to the parents. There are absolutely no strings to this invitation. It is bonafide in every sense of the word. Parents do not have to be subscribers, nor even readers of this newspaper to take advantage of this feature.

Neither are they obligated to purchase pictures after they are taken. Those who want some additional prints may obtain them by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper. It is entirely up to them.

The More PICTURES, the Better

The Enterprise simply wants pictures of all the youngsters and the more, the better. So the Mothers and Fathers of the community in which this paper circulates should remember the date MAY 19 at the Knights of Columbus Hall and not fail to bring their children to the photographer.

You will be mighty glad, afterwards, if you did, and very sorry if you do not permit your children to participate in this event. The kiddies will have much fun and both Mother and Dad-and the youngsters, too-will be very proud to see their pictures in print later.

Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. John Schneider, Phone GA8-3041, Manchester.

WEAR A POPPY SILENT TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN HEROES

Each year at Poppy Time, we take the opportunity to retell our Poppy Story.

During World War 1 the battlefields of Europe were trampled by the boots of millions of fighting men. American Troops advanced through France and Flanders and the only touch of life and beauty they saw were the poppies that bloomed amid the rubble of war.

Along the trenches, around the shell craters and among the barbed wire and wreckage the little poppies grew and bloomed. The tiny blossoms also covered the graves of the American fighting men who had fallen on the battlefield.

American fighting men have been called upon to make the ultimate sacrifice for freedom, and the poppy has become the symbol of our dead of the past three wars.

This is why we pin on a poppy as a tribute both to the dead and living American servicemen.

The poppies still cover the fields of France beneath which many of them lie. On Poppy Day we all have an opportunity to place this memorial flower over our hearts in tribute to the sacrifice which they made.

SCHOOL STUDY MEETING MONDAY
Equalizing Factors Explained

A meeting of citizens interested in working on a study to provide additional school facilities will be held Monday, May 25 in the Multi-purpose room of the Nellie Ackerson Elementary Building.

Dr. Ray Kehoe will be on hand to explain the services of the University of Michigan in conducting the study. All interested residents are urged to attend.

The 1964 equalizing factors for the townships in the Manchester School District have changed over the 1963 factors. The equalizing factors in each township are:

Bridgewater	1.880183
Freedom	2.184101
Manchester	2.196939
Sharon	3.405206

To arrive at state equalized valuation the assessed valuation in each township is multiplied by the equalized factor for that township. Property in Manchester township assessed at $5,000 would be equalized to $10,984.70 ($5,000 x 2.196939). To arrive at your own state equalized valuation, multiply the assessed valuation by the equalizing factor in the township. Supt. Harold Springsteen pointed out.

Electors at the annual school election June 8 will be asked to vote on three general questions. One ballot will ask for a continuation of 4 mills for general operation. This millage is needed to maintain the program at its current level. A defeat of the request would curtail the present program making it impossible to operate an accredited program, school officials said.

A second ballot will ask one mill enrichment factor to be earmarked for purchase of additional library materials, science and math equipment and educational television. This is a continuation of the one mill earmarked this current year.

In a break-down the millage amounts to about $15,500. Of this Supt. Springsteen noted that 90 per cent will be collected the first year. If approved, this request will permit the continued improvement in library services. Shelving space and cataloguing of the junior high school library will be major issues. About $1,500 will be used for this.

An additional $3,000 will be used for reference materials.

Educational television is proved as a useful classroom aid. Through its use, additional courses can be offered as well as enriching present course offerings. The one mill would permit using it on a limited basis to determine how best to use it in this system.

Science and Math equipment on a much larger scale will be provided and microscopes, tuning forks and other special equipment will be added with the $6,000 to $8,000 which will be available if the one mill request is voted.

Much of the science and math equipment can be purchased through the National Defense Education Act whereby the Federal Government will nearly match the local expenditures. This would make the amount nearly double the $6,000 to $8,000 available of the one mill is approved.

Educational television is proven as a useful classroom aid. Through its use, additional courses can be offered as well as enriching present course offerings.

The third ballot will request a decision on who will fill the two vacancies on the Board of Education. Four citizens have been nominated: incumbents, Clarence Fielder and Willis Uphaus and Carl Pedersen and Richard Way. Both terms are for four years.

If both the four mill and one mill request are approved, the total school tax will be slightly less than this year's taxes. The Pleasant Lake School debt has been paid off reducing the debt millage by .48 mills. A breakdown of the current and proposed school taxes show the following:

Operation	1963	1964 Proposed
Allocated	9.62 mills	9.20 mills
Voted	4.28 mills	5.00 mills
	13.90 mills	14.20 mills

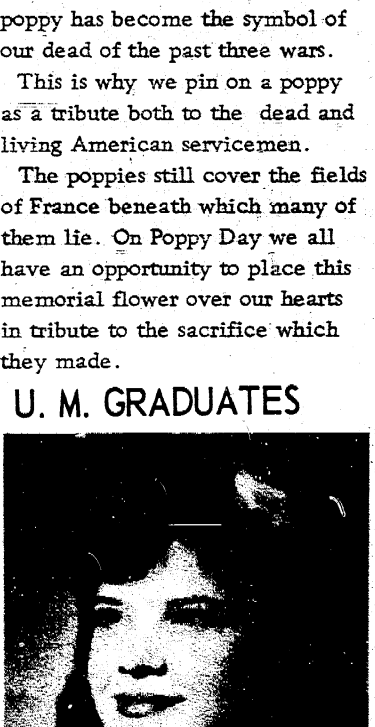

Debt

Pleasant Lake	.48 mills	No levy as issue is paid
High School	2.82 mills	2.82 mills
Nellie Ackerson	1.73 mills	1.73 mills
	5.03 mills	4.55 mills

Total Operation and Debt

	18.93 mills	18.75 mills.

Police Chief, Dan Singer warns that Manchester residents must be more careful about letting their dogs run loose.

WATER SAFETY EMPHASIZED BY STATE POLICE

The State Police are giving special emphasis to two safety slogans—"A Captain for every ship" and a "A Lifeguard for Every Family"—as part of their contribution to Michigan's Water Safety Education Month during May, according to Sgt. Carl Anderson, commander of the Clinton post.

Though water safety is a year-around concern for the State Police, the special efforts are in conjunction with Governor George Romney's proclamation for the month which marks the start of increased outdoor water activities.

Explaining the slogan's, Sergeant Anderson said that the State Police analysis of Michigan's 540 water accidents last year which killed 244 persons and injured 216 others indicated that more responsible supervision by boat operators, parents and other adults could have cut the toll appreciably in boating and nonboating accidents.

The study showed that some of the 88 lives lost in boating accidents would have been saved in at least 48 cases had there been life preservers for passengers.

In nonboating tragedies, investigating officers believed that adequate supervision could have saved lives in 52 fatal accidents while in 15 other mishaps provision of a lifeguard on duty would have prevented some deaths.

Sergeant Anderson pointed out that boat operators, as responsible "captains of their ships" should see to it that each passenger wears or has available a life preserver or jacket. Passengers should be cautioned against standing or changing places when underway. Operators should know and follow the safety rules and should not overload or overpower their boats.

Rights of other water users—swimmers, waders, fishermen, water skiers, divers—must be respected to and this consideration applies as well to moored craft and waterfront properties which can be damaged by boat wakes. Motorboats should be properly equipped, including lights, anchor fire extinguisher and some rescue devices such as a ring buoy and line for emergencies.

The Clinton Post Commander emphasized that waders and teenage swimmers however, should always have capable supervision with provision for effecting rescue if trouble develops. Persons in that age group accounted for 63 per cent of the 156 drownings in Michigan nonboating accidents in 1963.

Because accidents may happen despite the best of safety intentions Sergeant Anderson urged that boat operators and at least one family member better know how to apply some method of resuscitation. Sixteen lives were reported saved in state water accidents last year because someone was able to revive the victims.

"By taking sensible precautions before taking part in any outdoor water activities, we can help make a water safety wonderland," Sergeant Anderson stressed.

Copies of the Governor's proclamation, posters, and other water safety information are on display at State Police posts, he said.

The department's participation in the program also is being supported by press and radio-TV and officers are giving water safety talks to public gatherings.

The department's water safety efforts will continue throughout the year.

GOOD LUCK, BONITA

Bonita Williams, a senior, is this year's editor-in-chief of the ADVENTURE. Bonita, an excellent student, cheerfully gave out assignments, corrected articles, and even wrote articles when she weren't turned in. As "chief" she did a great job and the success of the paper lies in her hands.

Bonita plans to attend Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. She wants to become a secondary teacher. She has already been awarded a NATIONAL DEFENSE AND STUDENT LEAD, and a SENIORS SCHOLARSHIP.

The newspaper staff would like to say a great big "Thank You" to our "Chief" and lots of love at Eastern

HONORS

UPHAUS

The valedictorian of this year's Senior Class is Thomas Uphaus. His point average is 4.00, which is a straight "A". Tom, president of the Student Council, plans to attend Elmhurst College in Elmhurst, Illinois. He has already won a Freshman scholarship.

When asked "why do you think education is important?" he replied: "today's qualifications and standards are continually rising, making education necessary for a good job."

Tom's fondest memory is that he attended all the proms. His favorite past-times are golf and reading. Congratulations, Tom, and keep up the good work!

second KAPPLER

Roger Kappler is the salutatorian of the Class of 1964. Roger is known for his active participation in sports.

Roger plans to attend the University of Michigan taking up civil engineering, majoring in construction engineering. He chose the U of M because "it has an excellent engineering school. Also, I like the traditions, and most of my family has attended the school." Roger has won a Regent Scholarship.

Roger thinks education is important because "it is necessary in this world to have an education. It is important to the individual for self-improvement and the country for the preservation of our society."

Roger's fondest memories of high school are competing in athletic contests, and the team winning the baseball trophy when he was a junior. His favorite pastimes are baseball, golf, and hockey.

Congratulations, Roger. Good luck at U of M !!

Our Creed
 I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show, to any fellow creature, let me do it now. Let me not defer it, neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again.

This year four seniors and one junior played in a woodland quintet. The quintet seniors consisted of Nina Strang, Gaeslene Wurster, Doug Spike and Janice Bass. The junior was Micky Widmayer. The quintet played at the district festival and received a one rating. This allowed them to attend the state festival where they received a second.

"GRADUATION THOUGHTS"

by Nina Strang

Now that our days in high school are drawing to an end. They've stopped and turned around to see where we have been. As freshmen, high school seemed so big and we so very small. How could those seniors who were so wise be so very tall?

Well now the picture's turned around and faced the other way - We don't seem quite so tall as seniors were just yesterday. It wasn't just all homework and assignments to be done.

There was time for peaceful thinking and a time for having fun.

As we stop to turn around on graduation day, We will see the smiles and tears of the many friends we've made. It's sad to see our friends depart as we go our separate ways.

Though fate may bring us joy or mar our future days Our education and friendships will act as a steady base. To stand tall and meet head on the problems we must face. So someday when you're discouraged, alone and feeling sad. Look back and just remember the years of fun you've had.

CORN NEEDS NITROGEN IN EARLY STAGE

There's no question that nitrogen boosts corn yields-but maximum benefits depend on proper use.

"Nitrogen is most efficient if it is applied close to the time the plants need it and can use it," asserts Henry Foth, Michigan State University soil scientist. "For example, fall applications of nitrate fertilizer on sandy soil can be like putting on no nitrogen at all."

Foth cites six years of research which showed that applications at planting time, or sidedressing at cultivation, rank far above fall application for getting best corn production. But, he says, the three "C's"—carrier, cost and convenience—must be considered in an nitrogen fertilizer program.

"The ammonia forms of nitrogen carriers (urea, anhydrous ammonia and ammonium sulfate) are more efficient than the nitrate carriers if you decide on fall applications for medium and fine-textured soils. When the soil temperature is below 50 degrees, the ammonium is not converted to nitrate and is held on the clay surface until the next summer. As such, it is not leached out of the soil," he contends.

"But most of these carriers are acid-forming. This condition causes plants to increase their uptake of manganese. The manganese concentrates can increase enough to become toxic and seriously inhibit corn growth, particularly where high rates are used on sandy, acid soils for 5 to 10 years."

Foth notes that these nitrogen carriers can also increase the loss of magnesium through leaching, but applications of dolomitic limestone can correct the situation.

Periodic soil testing for PH will protect the farmer against serious crop losses or expensive rebuilding of deficient soils.

"But, once good corn yields are obtained, farmers must consider cost and convenience before deciding whether they want even higher production," says Foth. "At this point, they usually need about two pounds of nitrogen to increase yields by one more bushel per acre."

FARMERS CAN GET THREE CUTTINGS OF ALFALFA HAY

Here's good news for the farmer who wants three cuttings of alfalfa but can't get the first cutting until almost the end of June.

The secret is to take the third cutting around the first of November.

The unique three-cutting alternative offers farmers high yields and an excellent long-term hay crop without extreme damage from winter injury, according to Stephen Dexter, Michigan State University crop scientist. He explained that this method offers protection to the farmers who might ordinarily have first crop delayed by wet weather or lose his third cutting because of killing frosts. Here's how it works:

The alternative method allows farmers to take their first cutting while the hay is in one-tenth bloom instead of just a budding stage. This means a bigger first crop.

The second cutting should be taken early in August, again at about one-tenth bloom. This, too, means higher yields, since the second crop has had about two to three weeks more growing time than would ordinarily be the case.

Finally, the third cutting is taken around November 1 when the alfalfa has built up a large food reserve in its roots. Cold weather will keep the crop from growing and depleting this reserve supply, thus allowing a good carry-over for the following spring.

Dexter says that over a period of years, with several tests of plots, this alternative system of taking three cuttings of alfalfa produced yields as good as those with traditional three cuts before Sept. 1 and somewhat reduced winter injury.

Ideally, farmers should try to get the traditional three cuts before September 1. If this isn't possible, delaying the third cutting until November 1 will keep the crop from freezing when its food reserve is at its lowest.

BIG CHANGE IN APPLE PRICE, Little Change In Consumer Buying

"To get maximum retail sales value for apples, processors and producers should carefully control the quantity going into fresh market and put the rest of the crop into processed products," contends a Michigan State University agricultural economist.

W. Smith Greig bases this contention on a recently completed five-year study of weekly food purchases in several hundred Michigan households.

"We found that the demand for fresh apples was relatively inelastic," he reports. In other words, any large change in fresh apple prices produced only a small change in quantities purchased.

"But processed apples, particularly as applesauce, were highly elastic. A ten per cent change in price resulted in nearly a 40 per cent change in sales."

Greig adds that the demand for processed apples will exceed fresh utilization of apples in about ten years.

AUTOMATIC WASHER IS SHOE-SHINE KIT FOR CANVAS SNEAKERS

The campus fashion for canvas sneakers emphasizes the sparkling clean look. Dirty sneakers are "out" and clean sneakers - white or pastel - rate teen fashion raves.

Keeping sneakers sparkling clean and in top fashion requires frequent soap and water sessions. Your automatic washer can be your shoe-shine kit since canvas sneakers are machine washable.

To launder canvas sneakers in an automatic washer, follow these tips from the Hotpoint Home Laundry Department. Select the regular cycle and "warm" water setting. Use an all-purpose detergent. Sneakers may be washed right along with the regular laundry, sorted according to color and amount of soil.

Several pairs of sneakers may be washed at once, but never wash sneakers alone. Hotpoint laundry experts recommend balancing the load with a few terry cloth bath towels.

When the washer has completed its cycle, allow sneakers to air-dry away from direct heat. The spin cycle of the washer has removed most of the moisture, so sneakers will dry overnight.

Rate reductions and service improvement savings totaling nearly $7.5 million annually for customers of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. were announced by the Public Service Commission.

Peter B. Spivak, Commission Chairman, said the total program was worked out cooperatively through the combined effort of the commission and Michigan Bell and will go into effect as soon as possible.

In addition, Michigan Bell is increasing the size of its construction program for the second time this year to keep pace with the state's booming economy. With a new $3.3 million boost Michigan Bell's total outlay for 1964 will now amount to $96.4 million—up more than $8 million over last year.

It is estimated that more than 400 jobs have already been created in the state as the result of the stepped-up spending program and increased volumes of telephone usage.

"The savings to customers of about $2.4 million on the 30 million toll calls of 20 miles or less that are made annually. An expanded optional service providing broad toll-free calling privileges for customers in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

A new budget service that will offer residential service for less than 10 cents a day.

The toll reduction will make it possible to talk longer for less on calls up to 10 miles and to talk longer at present rates on toll calls of 10-20 miles. These "short-haul" calls represent 35 per cent of all toll calls placed within Michigan.

For toll calls of 10 miles or less, the charge for the initial period will be cut from 15 to 10 cents. In addition, the initial period will be lengthened from three to four minutes and the overtime period will be doubled from one to two minutes.

As a result, it will be possible to talk six minutes for 35 cents on a call that previously cost 30 cents for six minutes.

The same increases in the time periods will apply to toll calls from 10-20 miles.

Known as "metro-21," the broadened metropolitan service will enable customers to call as often as they wish and to talk as long as they like to telephones throughout the metropolitan area for a flat monthly charge of $12.95. The service, to be available in Detroit and 79 suburban communities, will be in effect for 21 hours daily—from noon to 9 a.m. at the present rates.

The new budget service will offer a two-party residential telephone with an allowance of 20 local calls for $2.75 per month in the Detroit area and $2.25 per month outside. In the Detroit area, subscribers will pay 8.4 cents for each message of the basic allowance. Outstate overcalls will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per message.

MEMORIAL DAY PARADE, CONKLIN BUILDING GONE

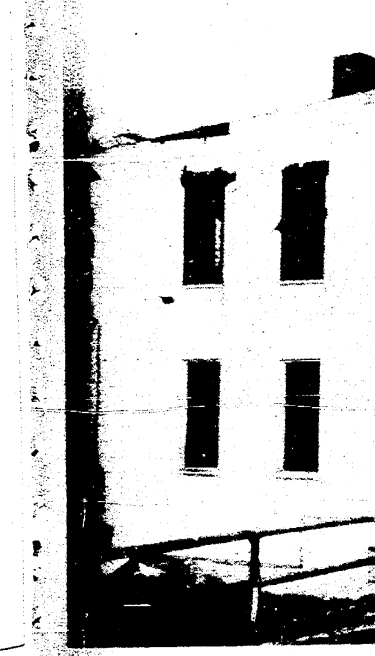

Memorial Day parade will start at 9:30 a.m. at the Main Street Bridge. Leading the parade will be members of Emil Jacob Post 117 who will note quite a change for one of the landmarks next to Memorial Park at the bridge is being torn down to make way for a new parking lot.

The exact age of the building isn't known but early files of the Enterprise mention the building as early as Sept. 30, 1875. Dr. A. Conklin built the frame structure for his office building. That was in the days of the wooden sidewalks, for in one of the 1875 Enterprises, the editor, Mat. Blosser noted there was a loose board in the walk in front of Dr. Conklin's office which needed repair. In an old biography of the early settlers it mentions him coming here from New York State in 1832. He was president of the village and held several village offices as early as the 1850's.

The Manchester township library was moved to the Conklin building, March 11, 1909 and those who wanted to use the library in the mid-twenties were seen going in and out of the Conklin building. Sometimes the library was upstairs and then later it was moved to the ground floor. In 1942 the Conklin Building was the meeting place for the Ford Union members and at the same time the MOMS met there once a month. Then there was the time it was used for Christian Science Services. But late years it was made into a two-family apartment house.

But all through the years the memorial parade started in front of the Conklin Building, next to Main Street Bridge. The place where the building stood and an area to the north will be the new parking lot for the supermarket next door. Spokesman for the group of local business men who bought the Conklin Building say that the entire tract of land will be at street level and that the Memorial Park area, belonging to the village will also be raised. This will mean moving the memorial monument—which reportedly weighs about seven tons and is buried about five feet underground at the base.

Vice-commander Charles Steele will give the address at the bridge in memory of those who gave their lives in the Navy. Sgt. at

SWAINSONS ARRIVE IN MANCHESTER

Edward Kirk, representing the Optimist Club, Keith Doelker, Manchester Jaycees, Luther Klager, Board of Education, Harold Springsteen, Manchester Schools. Eugene Bentschneider, Village of Manchester, John Fahey, Fahey Real Estate were all on hand Thursday afternoon when former Governor and Alice Swainson arrived by plane at the Schaffer Airport. The Swainsons were guest of the Allan Schaffers, and later motored out to the Martin Farm.

Former Governor and Mrs. Swainson pictured in front of their new farm at 10301 Hogan Rd. and will become Manchester residents in about one month.

GIFT TO VILLAGE

At Carr Park Mrs. Willard Hanks hands Eugene Bentschneider, village president, the deed to the two and a half acre parcel of land which extends the 441.88 feet wide across Carr Park, a gift from the Leeson family. Lauren Leeson (right) and Public Works Superintendent, Bruce Daniel (extreme left) and Basil McGuire, Chairman of the Public Works Committee, look on.

Carr Park will be enlarged. A strip of land 230 feet deep by the width of the park—441.88 feet, which was a part of the Leeson property has been given to the village by Mrs. Frank Leeson and her children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leeson of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hanks and Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Leeson of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leeson of Baldwin.

Lauren Leeson and Mrs. Hanks gave the deed to village president, Eugene Bentschneider, for the parcel of land which is about two and a half acres. Mr. Leeson said, "The few hundred feet of land the same width as the park is a projected strip of land on the Leeson farm and extends the park up and over the crest of the hill. It just seemed the natural lay of the land—that it should be included in the Carr Park area."

The land is overgrown with small trees. The Leeson family sold 100 acres of their farm and retained about 10 acres for family use. The village was given Carr Park (about 11 acres) by Cornelius Carr and his widow, who had no family and believed it would be an ideal location for a park. It has been in the limelight for the past several years because of extensive improvements.

L. P. Wurster, who was first appointed by the village to work to improve the area said, "It was fine of the Leeson family to add this area to the park and I can readily see where Lauren sees the natural boundary between the Park and the rest of the farm."
