THIS...is a weekly newspaper

It's a yellow clipping in a Bible telling the birth of a baby who smiled but a little while otherwise remembered only by the parents and God. It's your life history, and the life history of those you know. It's your joys and sorrows, and those of your neighbors, recorded by the only news medium in the world that cares about you. It's your conscience joined with others to form a guard against injustice by government. It's the difference between a lie and being an informed animal or a human being knowing and forming an opinion based on facts made available to you easily, quickly and truthfully. It's the support from which you seek and on the strength of many in furthering the welfare of your own world-your community. It's the only medium that shows the future that your footsteps were once made on the shifting sands of time. It's the belief in your birth, your marriage, and the birth of your children, and the best for you as you begin the long journey. It's your servant, waiting for your pleasure to be read-today, tomorrow or next week. It's a record for you to read, to keep to read again, or to discard not a word for a picture for a moment and time goes forever. It's the receipt of news items, not merely a carrier only of the information on the market place. It's the record of the day when a few hundred of glory descended on your house for all to remember and those who come after to know. It's the handful of change that buys you and food and clothes of the members in your children, and the change when the star eventual day they spend their lives with you and yours. It's you on your time day of school, and in your graduation. It's you as a little boy, a teenager, and a man. It's you as a little girl, a bride, and a radiant mother. It's the record of you as you are.

IT'S KICKOFF TIME FOR OUR UNITED WAY DRIVE

VILLAGE PRESIDENT BOOSTS ANNUAL DRIVE

This week, some 150 men and women of the Manchester area will begin the annual Manchester Area United Community Fund and Red Cross Drive to raise money for human needs. "Those of us who have watched the Drive develop, year by year, feel a justifiable pride in Manchester's unusual record of success. Year after year, goals have been set. Year by year, the goals have been met-sometimes with a surplus," commented Manchester village president, Eugene Bechtel. "This record says words for the conscience, the understanding, and the spirit of the men and women who live here. Community Fund time is a time of outgoing, a time to think of others. Manchester Area knows that a good community is one that takes care of its obligations," the village's top official said. Aside of the raising of money for human needs, however, the three weeks of the Drive does something for the area. Teams of workers from the farms, the town, the business houses and the plants, meet and plan together. They get to know each other better and to meet the new comers of the area. Individuals and groups develop respect for each other. "This Community spirit grows and the area comes alive. A closely knit community that has learned to work together knows how to get things done," Bechtel said. "There is no doubt that when October 30 rolls around, we will have met our goal for the United Fund," he concluded.

ROGER CORNERS FARM BUREAU

The Rogers Corners Farm Bureau will meet Friday, October 9 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kuhl on Fletcher Rd. New officers, who will be taking over at this time, will be: chairman, Ernest Schiller; secretary, Mrs. John Miller; discussion leader, Mrs. Earl Hiehl; assistant discussion leader, Armin Kuhl. The minute man will be Lauren Koengster; package reporter, Mrs. Edwin Haussler; women's committee, Mrs. Edwin Homing and Mrs. Alfred Kuhl and the recreation leader is Mrs. Armin Kuhl. Since the donors in the area had given 94 pints at the Bloodmobile in June, this leaves 10 pints to the credit of Manchester. The next Bloodmobile visit was scheduled for January for as early a date as could be had at that time the date is Thursday, March 18, 1965. These statistics make it all the more important that the clinic at the American Red Cross headquarters in Ann Arbor every month on the second Friday, October 9, be attended by local donors for the Manchester Club. The hours of the clinics are 2 to 5 and 6 to 7:30 p.m. A donor should call 662-5546 and make an appointment if possible. At the clinic donors are asked to request that donations be credited to the Manchester Blood Club. A donor may give five to eight pints a year. The need for transfusions is almost always unexpected. The individuals who have had to have 2 to 18 pints this past summer were unaware of their impending need. They are very grateful to the community for the Red Cross Blood Bank which has been a boon in time of need. They urge their friends and relatives to assist with blood donations at the Ann Arbor clinic now as well as at the Bloodmobile here in March, 1965, so that others may be served as they have been without the club going into debt so far this time. The Manchester Blood Club is an agency of the Manchester Community Chest since it is completely financed by the Washtenaw Chapter of the American Red Cross. October is the month for everyone to do his part financially for his club and the other 47 agencies. How much does it mean to you to know that this service is available for the asking.

TWELVE ENROLL IN CO-OP NURSERY

School meets every Tuesday and Thursday morning from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Six of the group are three-year-olds and six are four years. Tuition is $8.00 a month. More information is available from Mrs. Roger Morrison at GA8-8218.

WOMEN'S CLUB TO HOLD OPEN MEETING

The purpose of the meeting is to better acquaint the citizens of Manchester with the aims and purposes of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Various organizations in and near Manchester have been especially invited to attend. The speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Olga Taylor of Livonia.

The latter will include the awarding of four "Gallon Donor Pins" by Wm. de St. Aubin, Director of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross. MR. AND MRS. GEORGE MERRIMAN VISIT EUROPE

Seven weeks in Europe have brought back many memories to Mrs. George Merriman. She and her husband are home again after visiting her relatives and many tourist attractions. It had been 16 years since Mrs. Merriman had been back and it was his first trip to Europe.

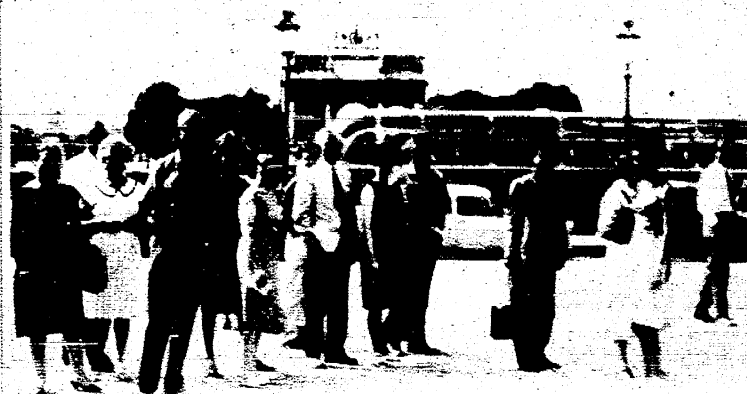

Things are much different now and people seem to be much more prosperous than at any other time when Mrs. Merriman had been there. Reminders of the wars still exist in some areas, but many places have been rebuilt with modern homes, apartment buildings and the highways are much improved.

There are still some cobblestone roads but gradually they are being replaced by asphalt. The traffic is quite heavy, she said. Older homes are being modernized. Residents have refrigerators, gas water heaters and other appliances very much like those in the U.S. except on a smaller scale.

Mrs. Merriman said she enjoys going back to see her relatives and tour the country, but she would never want to live there again. She became naturalized in 1926.

She was born at Ostend, on the North Sea. At that time her father was in charge of the harbor. Like all government agents, she said, he was transferred to different places.

When she was very young the family was sent to Ghent where they lived when World War I was declared. She was 14 years old when the invasion of France and Belgium took place. Her father, knowing he would have to leave or be taken prisoner if the enemy reached Ghent, decided to send his wife and children to London, England. Her father joined them a month later, taking the last boat to cross the English Channel at that time.

Mrs. Merriman, the former Louise Cuvlier, went to school in London where she learned the English language. This was after the Belgium government established itself in England. Her father, Guillaume (William) Cuvlier, was sent to Brixham, a seaport in Devonshire where he was instructed to reorganize the Belgium fishing and commercial vessels that had migrated and took refuge on the English coast. While there she attended a boarding school in Torquay.

The family moved next to Dieppe where her father's orders were to reorganize the Belgium fishing fleet. Louise attended French Junior College at Dieppe until the Armistice was declared. The family had hoped to return to their home as Mr. Cuvlier had been ordered back to Ghent. When he checked, he found the house intact, but the furniture had been disposed of and moved out by the troops. So it was necessary for them to wait again before returning home.

Her father was awarded the highest medal "Legion de la Croix d'honneur" for his services during the war.

In 1924 she decided to follow her youngest brother Charles to America. At that time he was working for George Merriman and his mother on a farm near Jackson. Later she married Mr. Merriman.

When her daughter, Yvonne, was two years old (1928) she took her back for a visit. Shortly before the second World War, her father, then retired, died. After the second World War, in 1948, she returned home again and spent a couple of months with her mother, who died later that same year.

During that visit she looked over scars of war, visited battle fields and the American cemetery where many of the American boys are buried.

Most of her family now live in the Brussels area.

Her brother, Alfred, who owns a garage in Brussels, is doing well selling the Mercedes cars. The middle class as a whole seems to have progressed greatly and have many conveniences, but on a more modest scale than here.

From the Merrimans' observation, it seemed that Europeans did not favor Goldwater and they openly expressed a hope that he wouldn't be elected.

Their trip this year started on a sad note for Mrs. Merriman's sister, Margaret Diederer died a few days before they arrived by jet. Merrimans toured several countries although their time was limited.

Vienna and Venice were the places they enjoyed most. Vienna is an old city with much culture and charm. Guided bus tours help the travelers around the city. Venice has a network of canals and the gondolas are unique and romantic. The center of town is the marco place. One of the attractions or oddities is the hundreds of pigeons waiting around to be fed. There are no cars in Venice. All transportation is by boat.

They stopped at a glass blowing factory and in a little town where lace making was taught. They also enjoyed a boat trip to Lido, a lovely resort town.

The train ride to Zurich, Switzerland was scenic and breathtaking at times. A bus trip to Lake Lucerne was fascinating. Milan is another big city with many large buildings and churches. Their tour included the Opera House.

In Paris they found the prices to be the highest of all the places they visited and were surprised to find many of the stores and shops closed on Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

It was the opinion of the Merrimans that the man on the street isn't too happy with DeGaulle and believe that things may be different in another election.

In Paris a bottle of beer cost 80c and a hamburger, French fries and beer cost about $3.00. A small dinner in a cafeteria tallied upwards of $5.00 each.

Mrs. Merriman notices that there is much progress in many places in Europe, despite the setbacks of two wars, which has made it necessary for them to start over again in many places.

"We enjoyed to opportunity to try different types of cooking, but in our opinion, we have much better cooks here. In some places the coffee was very strong and it was necessary to use coffee creamer to thin it even if you ordinarily like it black. Beer is not refrigerated—always served at room temperature," she said.

"It was wonderful to go and see my family again, but it's a good feeling to be back home again. I'd never want to go back to stay," Mrs. Merriman concluded.

After they concluded their European tour they visited the World's Fair and visited their daughter, Mrs. Eugene Kent and family at Coming, New York and other friends before attending the Postmaster's convention at the Waldorf in New York and returning home.

WHEAT DIVERSION ACRES MAY BE GRAZED

Farmers who diverted acreage under the 1964 feed grain and voluntary wheat programs will be able to graze this acreage without prior approval beginning October 1, 1964, Max Kalmbach, Chairman.

Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County committee, has announced. He stressed, however, that this program provision applies only to grazing the feed grain and wheat diverted acres. Hay on such acreages still may not be harvested.

Land diverted under the Conservation Reserve program may not be grazed or harvested through the whole year.

Washtenaw County farms participating in the 1964 feed grain and voluntary wheat programs number about 1024.

MASONS MARK CENTENNIAL IN WEEK LONG CELEBRATION

By Marie Schneider

Manchester is an old town. This can be verified by the number of buildings, organizations, etc. which have been in existence about a hundred years.

Manchester Lodge #148 FEAM is celebrating its centennial beginning the week of October 18. Starting with a church service at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, October 18 at the Emanuel United Church of Christ, various activities will be held throughout the week. The Rev. Densel Fuller of Otisville, a former resident will be the Sunday afternoon speaker.

Monday, October 19 the Past Masters will confer the third degree at 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple.

The Centennial Banquet will be held at the Emanuel Church Hall, Saturday, October 24 at 7:00 p. m. at which Dr. Donald Bodley of Adrian will be the guest speaker. The Four Tune Tellers are on the program. Reservations must be made in advance by Wednesday, October 21st to Max Walter or Edward P. Steele. Ladies are welcome to the church service and banquet, according to Evan Leddy, secretary.

Much of the ground work for the history of the lodge can be credited to Clayton Parr, who has spent hours reading through the old minutes of the secretaries' books. Parr fills the vacancy on the historical committee caused by the death of Arthur Jenter, who was the appointed centennial historian.

The first record of a meeting was on December 3, 1862 under special dispensation. The Masons first met on the third floor of the Clarkson Building, now the Manchester Bakery Building. There they held meetings for five years. It is interesting to note that they have always held meetings on the third floor of whatever building they were leasing at the time. The first officers ever building they were leasing at the time. The first officers were: W. M., John B. Gillman; S. W., John D. Van Dym; J. W., Steward Fitzgerald; Secretary, Volney Chapman; Treasurer, Peter Blosser; S. D., Andres Robinson; J. D., James A. Lynch; Tyler, Nelson Bryan.

These officers and Sam H. Perkins and Thomas Morgan were the first charter members.

"At this meeting the petitions for membership for Ed. S. Carr, Benjamin North, W. S. Stowell, S. R. Spencer and Franklyn Spafard were referred to various committees.

The lodge was very active during 1863 with meetings held three and four times a month. On January 18, 1864 a regular meeting was held in the lodge rooms and $40.25 was appropriated to pay a charter seal and Bible and $5.00 for spoons. One dollar was given to a Mr. Chandler for making the letter G and 24 inch gauge. This is the same emblem used in the lodge hall today.

On March 30, 1864 at a special communication of the Manchester Lodge #148 held in the Lodge rooms the Most Worshipful Grand Master, Lovell Moore constituted and consecrated the Manchester Lodge #148 as Free and Accepted Masons and installed the first officers with John D. Van Dym WM; Peter Blosser, SW; Nelson Bryan, JW; Sam Fitzgerald, Secretary; Arthur Case, Treas.

George Merriman officially retired as postmaster of the Manchester post office. He had held the post for 22 years and six months.

He served as acting postmaster from April 1942 to October 12, 1946 when he was installed as the postmaster.

Mrs. Russell Smith has been appointed clerk in charge until a new appointment has been made. She has been the senior clerk at the post office.

Merriman said he applied for retirement before he went to Europe. He had reached his 68th birthday last April.

Retiring at the same time is his wife, Mrs. George (Louise) Merriman. She started working as a "War Service Indefinite" in 1943. She was appointed a substitute clerk in 1946.

Before Mr. Merriman left on a fishing trip at Bright Lake in Canada Tuesday morning he told a little about some of the changes since he first took over as postmaster. He retired Monday, Oct. 12. There are now about 1150 box-holders compared to 900 when he started. The amount of mail has increased about five times the amount in 1942. Much of this he believes is due to the Double A Products Co. here

George Merriman (left) retiring Postmaster, took down the American Flag, at the close of day Monday and handed it to Mrs. Russell Smith, Clerk in Charge. Looking on was Michael Loudon, Postal Field Inspector for this territory, who earlier in the day had checked the local Post Office.
