CHRISTMAS CLUB CHECKS MAILED

Dan J. Boutell, Vice President and Cashier of the Union Savings Bank of Manchester, reports that Christmas Club checks totaling $48,000 were mailed this past week to the 412 members of the 1964 Christmas Club at the bank. The average per member of slightly over $115.00 followed the trend of previous years in Manchester, and, when the total includes many children's accounts of 25 cents and 50 cents per week it reflects the importance that many people attach to this easy method of saving money for many troublesome year-end bills as well as Christmas funds. The 1965 Christmas Club officially opened November 19, 1964, but Mr. Boutell stated that the bank is ready to open the new club accounts at any time. The weekly payment plan offered is the same as in previous years.

Year No. 47 Independent in all things. Devoted to County and Home News. November 26, 1964 10 Cents

MAIN STREET

A happy Thanksgiving to you from the staff of the Manchester Enterprise. By the looks of things and the weather reports "Over the Top and Through the Woods" pretty much fits the local scene - the surprise snow storm Friday. Many will be joining in the Union Thanksgiving service at the Bethel Church tonight and others will be going to St. Mary's at 8 p. m. Thanksgiving Day. That is America. A chance to worship as we see fit. This is our privilege, the reason that the Pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock. But whatever you believe, don't forget, your own way thank God for this right and all the blessings he sends us.

The heavy snow in the county caused accidents involving some cars the Sheriff's department reported Saturday. As far as we know only one was a Manchester woman. Mrs. Mildred Smith of Erie Road was taken to Saline Hospital with face and chest injuries after her car rolled over, off Austin Road, a mile west of Saline on 5 o'clock Friday. She lost control on the icy pavement.

Two snow storms Thursday and Friday, in less than 24 hours piled up to four inches of snow in the county and Oscar Zahn of Road Commission said that road crews spread over 1,000 tons of salt. That would make quite a salt pile. Anyway we've had the first hard snow of the season with temperatures dipping down to 12 degrees. Wednesday's high is predicted to be 30 degrees.

Let's not forget that the local Blood Bank is in debt four pints to the Red Cross. Register now. The Bloodmobile will be at the Methodist Church, Dec. 2.

From Herb Widmayer at the Widmayer Hardware we learn that nearly 170 deer licenses were issued this year and he says that more licenses have been issued in the last two years than any time before. Nearly 250 small game licenses were sold this year.

Speaking of licenses 275 have bought car licenses at Sutton Insurance. About 4000 are sold every year and Harry Sutton bought the one for 1965.

Tom Burch was a lucky one to bring down a buck south of town hunters in the northern part of the state weren't as lucky. Don Patton, Allie Luckhardt, Don Rhee, Paul Guenther and Clarence Shible didn't spoil their annual record-NO DEER! They were hunting near Houghton Lake.

Come Wednesday noon every student in the Manchester School system will be thankful for Thanksgiving Vacation until Monday, November 30.

and on this Thanksgiving we are thankful For countless worthwhile things, We're thankful for the sunrise and the moon that shines at night. We're thankful for the soft wind and the stars a twinkling bright, O'er the post office waves its might.

We're thankful for our churches With their steeples pointing high For the right to worship That caused some pilgrims once to die, We're thankful for the Rain as it rushes over the dam, Cause it adds some water power for the mill of E. G. Mann.

We're thankful for the merchants, Walt Schaible trimmed his tree and Burches gay windows Gift ideas for all to see- And we're grateful for the Jaycees And their annual trimming spree. We see Christmas before Thanksgiving Seems to be the coming thing and piles of snow last Friday, and the wind-Made our ear drums ring!

We're thankful for Jolly Dutchmen And their good Gulf Servicing!

We're thankful for the laughter Of the children passing by And thankful for teenagers And the Rock and Roll they try. We're thankful for push buttons And the work they daily save.

We're thankful for kind bosses Who don't yell and rant and rave And thankful for the IBM. With all the buttons bright, If only someone saw the one We thoughtlessly left on one night.

We're thankful for the genial Millard Uphaus Who bottles Christmas Cheer for all! Thanks to all our Advertisers-The big ones and the small Without the help of each of them There'd be no Enterprise at all.

We're thankful for wise parents Whether near or far away And for brothers, sisters, cousins Wish they could stop in today. Pleased for aunts, uncles, nephews, nieces Can't help loving 'em to pieces.

ZIP CODE SPEEDS DELIVERY

A new "Scheduled Delivery" system now permits overnight delivery of ZIP Coded parcel post five days a week between Manchester, Michigan and all post offices within a 25,200 square mile area of southern Michigan and northeastern, Ohio, Clerk in Charge Mary Smith announced today. The delivery area includes all of southern Michigan from the line Bay City-Mount Pleasant-Muskegon except the counties of Huron and Sanilac in the northeast and a portion of Berrien County in the southwest; and in Ohio, an eight county area surrounding Toledo. This area includes over 560 post offices and more than 7,972,000 people.

Deputy Postmaster General Frederick C. Belen discussed details of the plan and demonstrated the actual operation at a luncheon meeting in Detroit Monday.

Extensive testing has assured the success of this dramatic new program, which in effect offers "first rate service" for fourth-class mail, according to Mrs. Smith.

Mailing deadlines for the service will be 5:00 p. m. in Manchester the time when lobby windows close. "The Post Office Department found through extensive study, "the clerk-in-charge said, "that one of the major problems of the parcel post service has been the lack of dependability of delivery. For many mailers, it is often more important to know when a parcel is to be delivered than it is just to get it here in a hurry." For these reasons the Post Office Department developed the concept of Scheduled Delivery.

In the Scheduled Delivery area, parcels will be transported to the destination post office over night and will be delivered to the addressee the next scheduled parcel post delivery. In most cases this will mean next-day deliveries are made on five days out of the week.

CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN SAYS 'THANKS'

Mrs. James H. Baker, Campaign Chairman of the 1964-65 Community Chest Drive says, "On behalf of the members of the Board of the Manchester Community Chest, I would like to extend thanks to all of the Division Chairmen, volunteer solicitors, The Cub Scouts and The Clovers, who worked so diligently on the recent Campaign Drive. "We are also grateful to the Manchester Enterprise for the helpful publicity," Mrs. Baker said. "A special thanks to all of the residents of the Manchester Area, who contributed so generously, to help the goal again go over the top. Our community can be very proud of the fact that Manchester has not failed to continue the work of the various local and United Fund agencies," Mrs. Baker concluded.

LIBRARY HOURS

The Manchester Township Library will be open on Wednesdays from 1:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m. as long as the attendance warrants it, according to librarian, Mrs. Roger Hardenbergh. The library is open every day except Sunday from 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

SEVENTY YEAR OLD CIDER MILL ONE OF OLDEST IN MICHIGAN

Last cider mill in this area at the Nathan Alber Farm on Bethel Church Road is a busy place on Fridays. Alber's dump truck, loaded with 200 bushels of cider apples pictured in front of the mill, which for over 70 years presses apples for the amber colored juice. N. Allen Alber holds a jug of the finished product.

Sippin' sweet cider was one of the fancy fall festivities back when grandmother was a girl! It is just as American as Thanksgiving Day and pumpkin pie, and every bit as delectable.

The Alber cider mill, last one in the Manchester area is still grinding out apple cider every fall. The farm is owned and operated by Nathan Alber and his son, N. Allen Alber at 13011 Bethel Church Road, about four and a half miles northeast of Manchester. If the weather continues to dip downward it could mean the closing down of the mill in another couple of weeks. But if the weather warms up the mill will continue to operate for several more weeks. Sometimes they make cider until Christmas time.

The mill is a part of a typical American farm with its large white frame house, which Michael Alber, Nathan's father built 66 years ago. All other buildings are painted red trimmed with white and are as neat as wax. The cider mill was built in 1870 as a barn and converted to a cider mill in 1890, and is part of the 217 acre farm operation.

There are about 9 acres of apples with about 300 apple trees and 27 different kinds of apples, which are graded and sold by the peck and bushel.

Mr. Alber will tell you that the best cider comes from the presses late in the fall-when the apples are good and cold. If the apples are good you can expect about four gallons to the bushel. By the bushel they mean a bushel crate (50 pounds). The crate holds more than a bushel basket.

When Michael Alber first had his mill there were many in the area. All of the farmers had at least a few apple trees and there was a real demand for cider mills. Albers first had a steam engine for power for the presses. This gave way to the gasoline engine and in 1928 when electricity first went through on the Bethel Church Road hook-up, Albers immediately changed to electric power.

Ever wonder how cider is made? When Albers grind their own apples (they do custom work, too) pickers out in the orchard load the apples for cider on a truck which holds about 200 bushels of apples. They are brought to the mill, where they are put on conveyors and carried through a water tank where fresh running water washes them and carries them up to the grinder which is electrically operated.

The ground apples are carried down the shoot to the hydraulic press where the apple juice is literally squeezed out and pumped through the screener. The clear apple juice runs through a conductor to the basement and into waiting barrels. There is a hose connection to the outside of the basement where jugs are filled.

Mr. Alber says the most he has ground is about 3,300 gallons a day. The average is about 2,000 gallons. Albers buy from two to three thousand bushels of apples every year, depending on their own supply and the demand for cider. Albers do a lot of custom grinding for orchards and customers who bring in tons of apples, such as a concern at Michigan Center, which, after a day of grinding takes back truck loads of milk cans full of sweet cider which is juggled, labeled and sold in the Jackson area. The same applies to markets in Detroit, Macon and Monroe. Locally they grind for Higgins and Czaplak orchards.

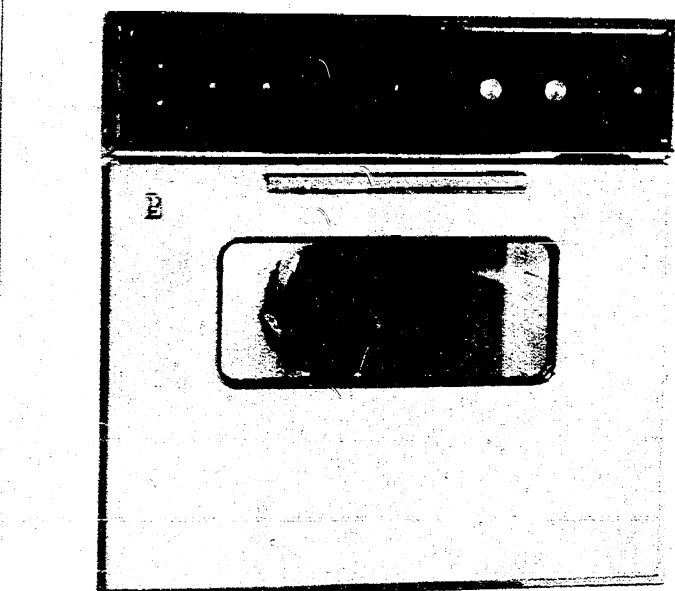

Everyone in the family has a job during the season, which gets underway about the first of September. Work begins at sun up and takes to darkness to complete. Others are hired to help with the picking and other operations around the old mill, where nothing is added to the pure apple juice.

In its more than 70 years of operation the farmer gets back the cider from the apples he brings in. This service costs six cents a gallon and Mr. Alber says he remembers doing it for two cents a gallon.

At the peak of the season the mill runs on Tuesday and Friday but late in the season it operates on Fridays only. Customers pay forty cents a gallon if the bring their own jugs and 25 cents for 50 gallon barrels.

The Albers have considered quitting the custom grinding, "But how can we stop serving customers who have been doing business with us all these years?" Mr. Alber asks.

When is apple cider at its best? They'll tell you, it's when there is a good mixture of kinds of apples. A sweet apple gives a flat tasting cider-but mixed with some that are tart, well, that gives a good cider. Of course, cold apples make the best cider, so there is little doubt that cider made now would be at its best.

PETITIONS FILED FOR COUNTY COLLEGE

Petitions asking for a Jan. 15 election for the creation of a community college for Washtenaw were filed with county clerk on Thursday.

There were signatures of 3,195 electors on the petitions. This is more than twice the number of 1,400 signatures needed. The election date was set by Luella M. Smith after she reviewed the list on petitions.

Petitions were filed by Robert Harrington, chairman and Wyeth Allen, director of the community college's citizens implementation committee, and LeRoy deMarras, coordinator of the committee's information drive.

All registered voters in the county will be eligible to vote on the creation of the college district, authorization of 1.25 mills of taxing power, and election of six trustees to organize and operate the college.

THANKSGIVING MARKS TRI-FAITH APPEAL

America's three major religious faiths during Thanksgiving season are calling on their more than 100,000,000 members to support the Fall United Appeal for Religious Overseas Aid, each through his own faith.

The Fall emphases of the Tri-Faith effort include the Protestant "Share Our Substance" appeal to help finance free distribution of foods from America's agricultural abundance to the hungry abroad. The Catholic "Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection" which seeks millions of pounds of clothing and other relief materials for the needy overseas, and the "United Jewish Appeal" which asks aid for recent refugees and others in acute need abroad.

In Manchester the Clothing Drive at St. Mary's will be held from Sunday, Nov. 22 through Sunday Nov. 29. Last year 40 million persons were helped through the Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection. This included some 900,000 tons of relief supplies in 79 countries, according to a report from Fr. Raymond Schlinkert.

Carrying the bulk of America's voluntary overseas relief to victims of war, famine and other disasters, the three faiths distributed hundreds of millions of pounds of foods, clothing and medicine to the hungry, homeless and destitute in virtually every free country in the world.

In fighting poverty, disease, and hunger and homelessness at the individual level, the programs of the religious overseas aid agencies make a vital contribution to peace, strengthen the bonds of spiritual brotherhood between Americans and their neighbors abroad.

Programs such as those supported by the three faiths in their fall religious Overseas Aid Appeal have, according to President Johnson in an address to Congress (Sept. 21, 1964):

"Proved to be one of our most valuable resources in international development programs to help the people and the countries of the free world help themselves to economic and social progress."

MEA SLAPS WASHTENAW SCHOOL

The Michigan Education Association has imposed a professional sanction on the Whitmore Lake School District over the recent dismissal of Superintendent Frederick W. Krueger.

The MEA board of directors unanimously voted to recommend "that no educator apply for the position of superintendent of school at Whitmore Lake due to the method of dismissal used by the Whitmore Lake Board of Education Oct. 22."

The MEA advised its members that to apply for the job would be considered unethical practice "until such time as this sanction is lifted."

Krueger, according to the MEA was dismissed without notice and without written reasons for the firing. He is now testing the firing in Washtenaw County Court.

Controversy over location of a new high school building and other practices by the school board instigated a petition by Whitmore Lake residents for the recall of school board president, Dr. Sam Russo, the MEA said.

Investigation by the MEA concluded there was a "breakdown in communication between the school board and school administration, the school faculty and the citizens of Whitmore Lake, and an indicated board usurpation of the duties of the superintendent."

Mrs. Philip Kern is improving since her return home from the hospital in Tecumseh.

HUMANE SOCIETY TO RAISE FUNDS

The Humane Society of Washtenaw County will begin a two week drive this week to raise funds for a $65,000 expansion program which will be supplemented by $20,000 from existing funds. This building program is necessary if the shelter can hope to adequately house and care for lost, homeless and abandoned cats and dogs.

Atwood R. McAndrew Jr., vice president of the society said the fund drive is necessary because the society is not a part of any governmental agency and does not receive outside help.

When the shelter was built in 1951 it was considered to be one of the finest shelters in the county. But it is not large enough to handle the needs of a population of 186,000. That is 50,000 more than when the shelter was built.

In its first year the shelter took in 2254 dogs and 1427 cats. In 1963, in 1964 the combined total of cats and dogs cared for at the shelter has tripled.

This results in crowding two or three animals in a space intended for one.

Expansion will begin next spring if funds are available. This would be 80 per cent increase in space.

The architect is Z. T. Gerganoff of Ypsilanti. The additional 3038 square feet for heating plant and 20 more new adoption runs will enable the shelter to handle 40 more dogs and 30 more cats at a time.

Anyone can help. Contributions can be made directly to the Humane Society of Washtenaw County Shelter Expansion Fund, Route 2, Ann Arbor. Donations in any amount are welcome.

Contributing memberships are $3.00 annually, sustaining memberships $10.00, patron memberships $25.00 and life memberships $100.00. McAndrew said that persons contributing $100 or more will have their names recorded on a bronze plaque which will be placed in the expanded shelter.

All contributions are deductible for federal income tax accounting purposes.

The Humane Society services include: rescuing animals in distress and investigating cruelty complaints; protects and cares for abandoned or lost animals that might suffer a painful death; seek good new homes for homeless animals; helps citizens with animal problems, including improvement in the care and treatment of livestock, and assists schools throughout the county in humane education programs by providing booklets, magazines and shelter tours.

In Manchester co-chairmen are Mrs. Burrill Hansen and Mrs. D. E. Limpert. Others on committee are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hendley, Mrs. John Althouse, Mrs. Louis Agosti and Mrs. J. R. Jones.

At the present time in the crowded conditions animals can only be kept three days and about 25 per cent are adopted in that time. When the shelter can keep animals 6 days the percentage does jump to 50 percent and if the animals are kept 8 to 12 days the adoption rate hikes to 75 percent.

ATTEND WEDDING

Among those who attended the wedding of Capt. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick at the Wurtsmith Air Force Base on Saturday, October 31 were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tirb, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tirb, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Haustus, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vogt, Mrs. Wallace Widmayer all of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hindert of Chelsea.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tirb return home after spending a couple of weeks with their grandchildren, Susan, Pat and Archie Bracher at Oscoda.

WE'RE THANKFUL

As Americans—one should be specific and say as North American—we have much to be grateful for this Thanksgiving Season. Perhaps we are a little bit blasé about the matter. And perhaps one of us consider Thanksgiving another one of the many holidays we celebrate in an off-hand, casual fashion. To some of it is the football day of the year. To others, it simply means "day off," a welcome interlude to enjoy a lavish turkey dinner and then laze around the house in pajamas and robe.

It might be wise to have a minute to stop and realize that Thanksgiving Day will simply be another twenty-four hours of eating hunger for peoples of any climes. Experts say that by 1970 hundreds of millions of children and adults in Asia, Latin America and Africa will face slow death by starvation.

Our three great faiths, the Catholic, Protestant, and the Jewish help feed many millions of undernourished men, women and children in scores of countries overseas. Every Thanksgiving season, the three faiths unite in a public appeal and urge Catholics, Protestants and Jews to contribute to the vital humanitarian endeavor through their places of worship.

Once again this is the time of the MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE add its voice to the Religious Overseas Aid appeal and ask everyone to mark their Thanksgiving by the abundance of America by helping those across the seas who are not as fortunate. These worthwhile appeals are: Catholic-The Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection; Protestant-The Share Our Substance program; and the United Jewish Appeal. Funds raised through these religious endeavors help feed and clothe the naked and hungry, regardless of race, creed or color.

MOMS CLUB ASK HELP FOR CHRISTMAS

Manchester MOMS are again asking for help this Christmas for they need home made cookies and candy to help fill boxes for the VA hospital at Battle Creek and for shut-ins at home.

Last year they remembered 32 in the Manchester area. They also send a remembrance to each of the boys in service at Christmas.

This year there are nearly 50 on the list.

Boxes will be packed Monday afternoon at the Emanuel Church hall on December 7. Cookies can be left there or at the home of Mrs. Le. oy Marx.

DATE FOR COLLEGE VOTE MOVED UP

By a special vote of the Executive Board of the Citizens' Committee for a Washtenaw County Community College, the date for a vote to establish the college district, to approve a charter maximum of 1 1/4 mills, and to elect a six-man board of trustees was moved up to January 15 from January 19 as originally planned.

"We want to make sure," said Wyeth Allen, Director of the Information Campaign, "that Ypsilanti's vote set for February 24 is protected."

Allen stated that while the date of the vote for the community college was not limited by other votes, a question had been raised by the attorneys for the Ypsilanti Board of Education. He felt that the committee should accommodate the Ypsilanti Board.

The Committee has agreed to recommend to the County Clerk that the earlier date be set.

Allen also reported that over 3,200 signatures had been collected on petitions to get the community college proposition on the ballot in January. These will be filed on January 19 with the County Clerk.

GOBBLETS BUY DECORATIONS

Manchester Jaycees have decided to purchase additional Christmas decorations for Main Street with the profits from their recent turkey shoot.

The decoration to be purchased is a Star Bright Sky Line Grilland, costing $219.50. This will be strung across Main Street at Washington Street.

It is the hope of the Jaycees that within the next several years this same type of decoration can be bought to enhance Main at Macomb Street and Main Street at Union Street and by so doing encompass the Manchester Church Area, with Christmas decorations.

The Jaycee profit on the turkey shoot was $115.00. Simple math will indicate a deficit of about $100.00 which will be paid by future projects.

According to Ray Tirb, working on public relations for the Jaycees the group will welcome any group or individuals who would like to help the Jaycees reduce this debt. Any help will be appreciated and acknowledged.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank everyone who was so good to me while I was in the hospital following my accident. Special thanks to Rev. Kuether for his visits and comforting words. Thanks to relatives and friends and our neighbors, too, for their gifts and flowers and cards and everyone who was so thoughtful to me and my family. I was grateful too, for the excellent care at St. Joseph Hospital and for my roommate, Howard Johns of Norvell who waited on me hand and foot. Special thanks to Allen Schaffer and my fellow workers at Union Construction Co., Manchester Ready Mix, and Schaffer Lumber Co. It all meant so much to me and my family.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING FROM POLICE DEPT

Chief of Police, Dan Singer, whose official responsibility for traffic movement and safety is limited to the streets of Manchester, said today that his thoughts and best wishes will follow the local citizens for whatever distance they plan to travel to celebrate Thanksgiving Day.

And he couldn't resist a typical, friendly warning: "Watch the weather before starting out," he advised. "It's getting pretty late in the season. This is the beginning of the snow and ice, and it's best to be prepared." Chief Singer's check list includes lights, battery, heater, defroster, seat belts, windshield wipers, brakes and tires.

"And for Thanksgiving's sake, don't leave your tire chains all hanging in your garage," he pleaded. "If the weather should turn unexpectedly bad, and from every indication it will be hard driving, your failure to have them handy could invite an experience for which you might find it hard to be thankful."

MAN INJURED WHEN TREE FALLS

A Freedom Township man was seriously hurt last Wednesday when a tree, which he was cutting down fell on top of him.

Paul Haeussler, 50, of 10731 Bethel Church Road was reported in "critical condition" Friday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. Sheriff's Department officers said Haeussler was injured in an accident on the farm of Rudolph Feldkamp at 8400 Weber Road in Lodi Township.

Haeussler was cutting down a tree which was located on a slope in a wooded area at the farm.

Officers reported at the scene that the tree fell to the ground, bounced up into the air and then struck Haeussler in the right side of the chest. Haeussler's right leg arm and side were pinned to the ground by the tree.

A half-dozen neighbors were called to help lift the tree which was holding him down. Haeussler was taken to the hospital with extensive back and chest injuries and two broken legs, officers reported.

PRUDEN STEEL FRAMED CATTLE SHEDS PROVIDE CLEAR SPAN MANEUVERABILITY AND VERSATILITY

Ten foot cantilever roof overhang is useful to provide shelter when manger is located along the face of frame leg. It is also used along the open side of a cattle shed to keep rain and snow out of bedded area as well as to provide more shade in summer.

Pruden frame sheds are frequently used to shelter cattle in one end, and to store hay in the other. This building near Brussels, Wisconsin, uses the roll type of metal roofing on wall as well as roof.

Hay is fed directly into feed bunk under cantilever. Note how hay can be "packed to the peak" where there are no internal posts, ties or framework in the usable storage area.

MAIN STREET

Did you have a nice Thanksgiving? We're glad. We did, too. The weather was perfect and much different than today. A fine snow has blanketed the area and Willor Run reported more than an inch fell in the night. Pre-schoolers are making the most of it - sliding down hill. All this should put people in the holiday spirit.

The beautiful Main Street decorations are in place. This was made possible by thirty Jaycees who spent a good deal of time decorating for the Christmas season. Special meters are being installed. That is the reason that the Christmas lights are being turned on. Consumers Power has asked that the village have their own meters and not hook on to the street lighting system - a kind of an overload. Many of the stores are decorated and loaded with holiday gifts for everyone.

The Manchester Laundromat has a new coat of pink paint and new wall paper to get it all dressed up for the holidays. This new atmosphere will make doing the family washing and dry cleaning a real pleasure, instead of a chore.

The Manchester Enterprise is in the spirit of Christmas, too. It was mentioned in the December issue of McCall's magazine in a column "I Saw It In The Paper" by John M. Henry, in his comments and observations from the heart of America - the small town press. Thanks to Mrs. Raynor Haeussler who called to tell us she had heard some of the interesting things concerning a paper, other than just the grief. So read page 30 in December McCall's.

It is always a comfort to know we aren't alone when it comes to making mistakes. Michigan Bell, it seems, falls into the same category with us. Like with us, when they goof, it shows! In the phone book, just off the press, the telephone number of LeROY RX is wrong. The Marx phone number is 428-8289.

If you want to cast your ballot on the proposed community college in January, you must be a registered voter. The last day to register is Wednesday, December 16, with the Township Clerk.

We were surprised Tuesday when William F. MacQueen, the father of Theus MacQueen, who was manager of the Manchester Enterprise, Saline Observer and Milan Leader in 1957, stopped in to tell us that Theus MacQueen "Mac" to most of us, passed away on Dec. 13 in Washington, D. C. after suffering several strokes.

"Mac" who worked for Frank Handy, owner of the papers, left to accept a position in Washington. His brother said he was buried in Arlington on October 19, not far from President Kennedy's grave. Theus MacQueen had been a Past National Commandant of the Army Post Office.

Did you know that this is the first time in the history of the Peace Tests that nationwide Placement Test will be given on a week day, Saturday, Dec. 7th. The usual second Saturday in the month isn't possible because of the Christmas rush at postoffice where Peace Tests are held. The next available date is Dec. 7th, Pearl Harbor Day - that infamous day 23 years ago which sent Americans to war. If you are an American citizen over 15 you are eligible to take the test and if you are married your spouse must also apply. You may not have dependents under 18.

Did you know that Michigan's white wonderland forms the backdrop for more than 50 fun packed winter events scheduled by communities and winter sports areas in weeks ahead. Included in the calendar is the annual Christmas Exposition at Greenfield Village in Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn. The Christmas display runs through January 3rd.

Everyone was proud that Rich Pniwski was picked for the All State high school team last week. He followed closely in the steps of his older brother, Kenneth, who played with the Dutchmen in 1955 when they were at the top of the League of the Lakes. Remember High School Band and Vocal Christmas Concert will be held Saturday, Dec. 15 at the high school gym with the high mixed boys, girls' high school chorus and junior high mixed chorus and choir taking part. This is one of the really Christmas like events held here at this time of year and everyone should take time to treat themselves to this privilege of hearing and seeing it. Sortor and Roger Morrison direct it. Plan to attend.

If anyone knows the whereabouts of the portable divider belong to the Methodist Church that was used at Fair time (that was a time ago) by the Community Chest, they are asked to contact either the Methodist Church or Mrs. Phyllis Baker. Everyone knows pretty late to be trying to track it down - but sometimes we just things off. So if you can throw any light on the subject, or if you have seen it, well, you'll probably be dubbed "Santa Claus." Don't forget that the MOMS club wants to collect enough ties, candy, and other goodies to pack about 125 boxes for the hospital at Battle Creek. They plan to do the work at the Emanuel Church hall Monday, Dec. 7 in the afternoon. All contributions should be brought to the hall or to Mrs. LeRoy Marx by that time.

A cat belonging to Robert Rhees was taken from in front of his home over two weeks ago, and to date that is the last anyone has heard of it.

Monday is also an important date for the Fluoride clinic which will be held in the kitchen of the Nellie Ackerson School for pre-schoolers, second, fifth, and eighth graders. Mrs. Armin Haeussler is the hygienist and Mrs. Erwin Huber is the volunteer working on the project. She should be given much credit for her excellent work on the program which runs so smoothly because of the careful planning of Mrs. Huber.

What a busy time Christmas is - with the Future Homemakers doing a scavenger hunt to fill Christmas baskets for needy homes in Washtenaw county. The hunt will take place Monday, December 7 and welcoming all sorts of clothing, food stuffs and toys will be 80 local girls, who will be canvassing the area.

Jaycees do many community projects throughout the year for which they receive little or no credit, such as their work on the annual Halloween party which is looked forward to by some 500 of the small fry.

JAYCEES OF THE WEEK

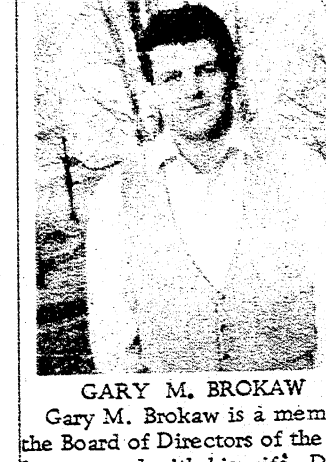

In a Know Your Jaycees Series the Manchester Enterprise will be printing pictures of the members and a brief sketch about each of them.

KEITH G. DOELKER The Jaycee president, Keith G. Doelker lives at 125 Riverside Dr. Manchester with his wife, Carolyn and their three sons. He is employed at the Union Savings Bank and has been an active member of the Jaycees for the past four years. He has held the offices of secretary, treasurer, vice president and now president. His hobby is photography. He has been picked as an outstanding Jaycee and Keyman.

GARY M. BROKAW Gary M. Brokaw is a member of the Board of Directors of the local Jaycees and with his wife, Doreen J., and three daughters live at 636 West Main Street, Manchester. He is employed at the Double A Products and by the Manchester Schools. His hobby is skin diving. He has been an active member of the Jaycees for the past three years.

COUNTY AFL-CIO BACKS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Washtenaw County AFL-CIO Council, which represents 12,000 union members, has endorsed unanimously the need for a county community college and, according to Kenneth J. Beer, council president, will "work for the establishment of the college with all its powers and resources."

Beer declined to say how many union voters there are in the county but he indicated that the union leadership will make every effort to get union members to the polls on January 15 when registered voters will be asked to ballot on:

- 1. whether to establish a Washtenaw County Community College District.
2. to approve a maximum 1.25 mill levy
3. to elect a six man board of trustees from the county at large.

The endorsement came at a recent meeting of the council with 68 members representing 32 Washtenaw County Unions voting.

Beer said that organized labor is backing the college because of the "minimum tax support required" and because tuition and room and board costs would be lower than at four-year colleges.

"Labor is looking at the advantages of a community college. I don't think we're going to be looking for any disadvantages because money spent for an education isn't an expenditure, it's an investment in the future," he said.

All registered voters in the county (not just property owners) will be eligible to vote. In order to vote in an election such as this voters must have voted in a township election within the past two years or register with the local township clerk by December 16, which is the last day. Waldo Marx is the Manchester Township Clerk. To be registered for village or city elections do not count.

A community college differs from other forms of higher education because it is a two-year college under local control and a very broad curriculum including many occupationally oriented programs. This makes the community college different from other forms of higher education.

Educators believe that a community college is needed in Washtenaw because half of the county's youth still try to enter the work force with no more than a high school education, according to a report published by the Washtenaw County Planning Commission in January, 1964.

This situation is not in accordance with the aspirations of high school students, their parents, or the needs of society. The existing institutions are not meeting the needs of a great many of the county's youth now. They have not been able to do so for some time and it is expected that the situation will be getting worse. It is estimated that the high schools can expect an 87 per cent increase in enrollment for the decade 1961-71.

Most parents will be able to send children to college for at least two years because tuition will be low. The average for Michigan Community Colleges is around $200 a year and because students can live at home.

But the cost is not the only consideration. Many students enter community colleges who are not admissible to the universities. There is an open door policy making it possible for students with a wide range of abilities to continue their education. As of Wednesday two people in Washtenaw had filed petitions with the County Clerk's office for the post of board member. They are Mrs. Florence A. Mayer of 737 South Main Street, Chelsea and Eugene A. Glysson of 250 DhuVarren Road, Ann Arbor township.

HOMEMAKER SERVICE UNDERWAY FOR COUNTY

A Homemaker service for residents of Washtenaw County families in time of stress is underway. Mrs. Dolly Brenner, executive director of Family Service has announced that Mrs. Robert MacDonald of Belleville has been hired as a half-time case worker to direct the project. Family Service is a United Fund agency and last July the UF Board of Directors was authorized to develop the Service.

Need for such service was established after a two-year study by a representative group of United Fund and Community Services. The need has been also listed by three county departments as a project which could be initiated in the county with 90 per cent of the cost being paid by federal funds under the federal anti-poverty legislation.

Mrs. Brenner said that family service intends to "keep in touch" with all agencies who may require homemakers service for their clients as its program develops. As the homemaker service is outlined, women under the guidance of Mrs. MacDonald will provide home-help services to families with children, to convalescents, the aged, who are acutely or chronically ill and disabled persons.

MASONIC LODGE TO ELECT OFFICERS

The annual election of officers of the Masonic Lodge will be held at 8 p. m. December 7 at the lodge hall with refreshments to be served by the committee.
