MAIN STREET

Did you have a nice Thanksgiving? We're glad. We did, too. The weather was perfect and much different than today. A fine snow has blanketed the area and Willor Run reported more than an inch fell in the night. Pre-schoolers are making the most of it - sliding down hill. All this should put people in the holiday spirit.

The beautiful Main Street decorations are in place. This was made possible by thirty Jaycees who spent a good deal of time decorating for the Christmas season. Special meters are being installed. That is the reason that the Christmas lights are being turned on. Consumers Power has asked that the village have its own meters and not hook on to the street lighting system - a kind of an overload. Many of the stores are decorated and loaded with holiday gifts for everyone.

The Manchester Laundromat has a new coat of pink paint and new wall paper to get it all dressed up for the holidays. This new festive atmosphere will make doing the family washing and dry cleaning a real pleasure, instead of a chore.

The Manchester Enterprise is in the spirit of Christmas, too. It was mentioned in the December issue of McCall's magazine in a column "I Saw It In The Paper" by John M. Henry, in his comments and observations from the heart of America - the small town press. Thanks to Mrs. Raynor Haeussler who called to tell us she had received a copy of the magazine.

Mr. Reck is expecting six 4-6 lb leaders from Turkey; one from Sudan (Africa); four from Malawi (formerly Nyassaland); two from Thailand; one from Grenada; five from Nigeria; one each from Trinidad, Argentina, Peru and Guam.

Did you know that this is the first time in the history of the Peace Tests that nationwide Placement Test will be given on a week day, Saturday, Dec. 7th. The usual second Saturday in the month isn't possible because of the Christmas rush at postoffice where Peace Tests are held. The next available date is Dec. 7th, Pearl Harbor Day - that infamous day 23 years ago which sent Americans to war. If you are an American citizen over 15 you are eligible to take the test and if you are married your spouse must also apply.

Did you know that Michigan's white wonderland forms the backdrop for more than 50 fun packed winter events scheduled by communities and winter sports areas in weeks ahead. Included in the calendar is the annual Christmas Exposition at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum at Dearborn. The Christmas display runs through January 3rd.

Everyone was proud that Rich Pniwski was picked for the All State high school team last week. He followed closely in the steps of his older brother, Kenneth, who played with the Dutchmen in 1955 when they were at the top of the League of the Lakes. Remember High School Band and Vocal Christmas Concert will be held Saturday, Dec. 15 at the high school gym with the high mixed boys, girls' high school chorus and junior high mixed chorus and choir taking part. This is one of the really Christmas like events held here at this time of year and everyone should take time to treat themselves to this privilege of hearing and seeing it. Sortor and Roger Morrison direct it. Plan to attend.

If anyone knows the whereabouts of the portable divider belong to the Methodist Church that was used at Fair time (that was a time ago) by the Community Chest, they are asked to contact the Methodist Church or Mrs. Phyllis Baker. Everyone knows pretty late to be trying to track it down - but sometimes we just things off. So if you can throw any light on the subject, or if you have seen it, well, you'll probably be dubbed "Santa Claus." Don't forget that the MOMS club wants to collect enough candy, and other goodies to pack about 125 boxes for the hospital at Battle Creek. They plan to do the work at the Emanuel Church hall Monday, Dec. 7 in the afternoon. All contributions should be brought to the hall or to Mrs. LeRoy Marx by that time.

A cat belonging to Robert Rhees was taken from in front of his home over two weeks ago, and to date that is the last anyone has heard of it.

Monday is also an important date for the Fluoride clinic which will be held in the kitchen of the Nellie Ackerson School for pre-schoolers, second, fifth, and eighth graders. Mrs. Armin Haeussler is the hygienist and Mrs. Erwin Huber is the volunteer worker in the project. She should be given much credit for her excellent work on the program which runs so smoothly because of the careful planning of Mrs. Huber.

What a busy time Christmas is - with the Future Homemakers doing a scavenger hunt to fill Christmas baskets for needy homes in Washtenaw county. The hunt will take place Monday, December 7 and welcoming all sorts of clothing, food stuffs and toys will be 80 local girls, who will be canvassing the area.

Jaycees do many community projects throughout the year for which they receive little or no credit, such as their work on the annual Halloween party which is looked forward to by some 500 of the small fry.

COUNTY AFL-CIO BACKS COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Washtenaw County AFL-CIO Council, which represents 12,000 union members, has endorsed unanimously the need for a county community college and, according to Kenneth J. Beer, council president, will "work for the establishment of the college with all its powers and resources."

Beer declined to say how many union voters there are in the county but he indicated that the union leadership will make every effort to get union members to the polls on January 15 when registered voters will be asked to ballot on:

- 1. whether to establish a Washtenaw County Community College District.
2. to approve a maximum 1.25 mill levy
3. to elect a six man board of trustees from the county at large.

The endorsement came at a recent meeting of the council with 68 members representing 32 Washtenaw County Unions voting.

Beer said that organized labor is backing the college because of the "minimum tax support required" and because tuition and room and board costs would be lower than at four-year colleges.

"Labor is looking at the advantages of a community college. I don't think we're going to be looking for any disadvantages because money spent for an education isn't an expenditure, it's an investment in the future," he said.

All registered voters in the county (not just property owners) will be eligible to vote. In order to vote in an election such as this voters must have voted in a township election within the past two years or register with the local township clerk by December 16, which is the last day. Waldo Marx is the Manchester Township Clerk. To be registered for village or city elections do not count.

A community college differs from other forms of higher education because it is a two-year college under local control and a very broad curriculum including many occupationally oriented programs. This makes the community college different from other forms of higher education.

Educators believe that a community college is needed in Washtenaw because half of the county's youth still try to enter the work force with no more than a high school education, according to a report published by the Washtenaw County Planning Commission in January, 1964.

This situation is not in accordance with the aspirations of high school students, their parents, or the needs of society. The existing institutions are not meeting the needs of a great many of the county's youth now. They have not been able to do so for some time and it is expected that the situation will be getting worse. It is estimated that the high schools can expect an 87 per cent increase in enrollment for the decade 1961-71.

Most parents will be able to send children to college for at least two years because tuition will be low. The average for Michigan Community Colleges is around $200 a year and because students can live at home.

But the cost is not the only consideration. Many students enter community colleges who are not admissible to the universities. There is an open door policy making it possible for students with a wide range of abilities to continue their education. As of Wednesday two people in Washtenaw had filed petitions with the County Clerk's office for the post of board member. They are Mrs. Florence A. Mayer of 737 South Main Street, Chelsea and Eugene A. Glysson of 250 DhuVarren Road, Ann Arbor township.

HOMEMAKER SERVICE UNDERWAY FOR COUNTY

A Homemaker service for residents of Washtenaw County families in time of stress is underway.

Mrs. Dolly Brenner, executive director of Family Service has announced that Mrs. Robert MacDonald of Belleville has been hired as a half-time case worker to direct the project. Family Service is a United Fund agency and last July the UF Board of Directors was authorized to develop the Service.

Need for such service was established after a two-year study by a representative group of United Fund and Community Services. The need has been also listed by three county departments as a project which could be initiated in the county with 90 per cent of the cost being paid by federal funds under the federal anti-poverty legislation. Mrs. Brenner said that family service intends to "keep in touch" with all agencies who may require homemakers service for their clients as its program develops. As the homemaker service is outlined, women under the guidance of Mrs. MacDonald will provide home-help services to families with children, to convalescents, the aged, who are acutely or chronically ill and disabled persons.

POSTAL CLERK SMITH SAYS MAIL EARLY

The Christmas "rush" brings a very old quote to mind: "Weather snow or rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." This was said by the Greek historian, Herodotus in the Fifth Century B. C. and it still is true of the postal service.

However, Clerk in Charge at the Manchester Post Office, Mrs. Russell Van Smith recently added a thought "While it is true that bad weather doesn't stop the mail it certainly can slow them down."

She mentioned that planes can get off the ground, switches on railroad tracks can freeze up. Trucks must move more slowly and cautiously over highways. And, in many places, mailmen might wish for the warmth of an igloo. Even the impish Mr. Zip can't assure next-day delivery.

"Why," you may ask, "does the postmaster bring this up?"

Simply to let people know that there is a factor that can't be controlled—the weather. It is important that people mailing Christmas cards and gifts make every effort to shop early and mail early to assure on-time delivery. This is especially true during the Christmas Rush when an ever-increasing avalanche of mail moves through the postal system.

The Post Office Department has several new tools to use in this year's mail service. The most important is the new ZIP Code and transportation-distribution system that came into being with the Zoning Improvement Plan (ZIP).

Clerk Smith is urging everyone to use the five digit numbers because in most cases the code cuts down the number of times a piece of mail must be handled. This saves time, labor and money.

She suggests that even if you don't know the code for the addresses of the people to whom you'll be sending cards and gifts, you should use the code on your return address. And you should record the codes from the return addresses of those who are writing to you.

Moving the Christmas mail is a hard, tiring job and the workers in the post office who work so diligently during this period deserve all the cooperation they can get.

The postmaster said that shopping early, mailing early and using ZIP Codes will really put ZIP into your Christmas mailings and give your mailman a hand too.

MENTAL HEALTH BOARD RECOMMENDS FOR WASHTEAW

Citizen's study committee on status of mental health in Washtenaw County will recommend to County Board of Supervisors to create a community mental health service board to prepare proposal for state matching funds of up to $200,000 under the Community Mental Health Services Act.

The study committee, named in January, voted to make this recommendation to the supervisors. It would be recommended to the board of supervisors December 6 meeting either by the health committee or by Supr. Curt H. Engleke, chairman who served on the unit.

Dr. Otto K. Engleke, county health director, reported that in 1963 the county spent about $4,000 on mental health. This expenditure was made through the probate and probate courts, the county Department of Social Welfare and County Health Department, County payments for hospitalization and treatment at various clinics and hospitals.

The county's contribution totaled $18,000 for operation of the Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, a patient care unit for state and county. Dr. Engleke said estimates of the amount of this total could be widened matching funds range from a low of $35,000 to a high of $200,000.

If the supervisors concur in the recommendation of the study committee, they will authorize appointment of the 12-member mental health board and direct it to prepare a proposal of the project to the State Department of Mental Health. Each proposal must be approved by the Board of Supervisors and the state department in order to qualify for matching funds.

The community mental health service board must be representative of the local health department, medical societies, welfare organizations, general hospital boards, mental hospital boards, clergy, educators and legal processors, and others.

Though determination of programs is the responsibility of the membership board, the study committee in its deliberations did discuss need for a child and adult guidance center which could be located in some existing building.

Dr. Stuart Finch, chief of the Henry M's Psychiatric Hospital at the University reported that an executive committee is in process to receive a proposal from Washtenaw County.

ECONOMIST PLANS AHEAD FOR COUNTY

University Economist, Harvey... told the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission that a quarter of the county will receive more than $20,000 per year within the next few years. The commission is working on a plan for the County Board of Supervisors which is trying to determine how much facilities will be needed by 1960. Brazer figured all his estimates on 1980 figures. He estimates that the population of the county in 1980 will be 302,970, an increase of 76 percent over 1960. He estimates that the population increase in the county will not be as rapid as that. It is believed that Ann Arbor will grow fastest and that total employment will be 125,000 in 1980, a 47 percent increase over 1965. Employment in government is particularly at the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan. It will increase to 51,800 or 41.4 percent of the total county employment.

Employment in manufacturing industries will be 37,000 or 29.6 percent of the total, while that in nonmanufacturing industries will be 50,800 or 26.8 percent of total employment in 1980. Median incomes in the county will increase from a level of $5,880 in 1960 to $13,580 in 1980. He estimates that less than 10 percent of the county's population will have an income of less than $3,000 and that the total income for the county will be $900,000,000 quadruple the level in 1960. His report indicates that the county as a whole will have a larger proportion of the population living in the rural and small urban areas of the county than at present. The number under 15 years and over 65 years will remain fairly the same over the next 15 years.

COMING EVENT

Iron Creek Missionary Society will have their annual Christmas truck dinner at noon Thursday, December 17.

DEER HITS DEER IN LOCAL AREA

Betty Bradley of 11530 Pleasant Lake Road reported to the Sheriff's Department that she hit a deer on the Church Road near M-52 on Monday. The girl said it was one of a herd of deer which crossed the road in front of her car. Roy Kenneth Klager of 9665 Armeister Road reported that the front of his car was damaged when a deer ran across the road in front of the car and then jumped back to the road into the path of the vehicle.

To date Donley Boyer of the Game Conservation Department reports that 16 deer have been killed by cars in the county during the past month.

The hunters in the Manchester-Chelsea area have pleaded guilty to a variety of violations when they appeared before Justice of the Peace, David Doig of Dexter. Edward W. McClain, 42, and his brother Marvin L. McClain, 50, of Detroit, and Thomas T. Doig, 43, of Livonia were ordered to pay fines of $25 and $8 cost, for hunting pheasants and quails out of season. James Kosinski, 39, Chelsea and his brother Frederick, 47, Chelsea, both pleaded guilty to possession of illegal deer. Frank Frederick, 24, Chelsea also pleaded guilty to the same charge. All paid fines of $25 and $8 costs.

Doig handed down a charge of illegal deer to Charles Doig, 37, of Anchorville when he pleaded guilty to possession of illegal pheasant and squirrel hunting tags for killing deer and he had deer license.

Accidentally, Boyer points out that pheasant and squirrel hunting tags expire November 10. Rabbits can be hunted until March 1st.

POLICE CHIEF WARNS OF DRIVING HAZARDS

At this time of year, after the first real snowfall, it begins to dawn on the most optimistic of us that there isn't much we can do to stop winter. But Police Chief Dan Singer maintains there's a lot we can do to keep winter from stopping us. "We had the anticipated minor traffic problems during and following our first snow fall of the season," the chief reported, "but with a little citizen support we should be able to get straightened out before the full force of winter strikes."

To reduce winter accidents, drivers must remember that their braking power isn't nearly as effective on snow and ice as it has been on dry pavement, according to the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Tests sponsored by the National Safety Council show that braking distances are from three to 12 times as great, depending on whether there is snow or glare-ice on the pavement, according to the chief.

Braking distance is the space needed to stop a vehicle from a given speed, he explained. Obviously, such greatly increased braking distance breeds accidents, Chief Singer pointed out. "But it's just as obvious there are several things a driver can do about it," he added, naming the following: 1. Reduce driving speed and increase the following distance (between cars) on slippery pavement. Never tailgate.

2. When a stop is necessary, pump the brakes-to-keep wheels from locking and going into a skid. 3. Remember that stopping ability can be somewhat improved by use of snow tires and that reinforced tire chains will be considerably more helpful.

Let anyone get the mistaken notion that he can stop on a dime, however, the chief presented the following test results reported by the National Safety Council: Stopping Distance from 20 MPH-Regular tires - 195 ft. on glare ice and 60 ft. on loosely packed snow. Snow tires-174 ft. on ice and 52 ft. on snow and reinforced tire chains 77 ft. on glare ice and 38 ft. on snow.

But even with the advantage of tire chains, the chief emphasized that driver alertness, reduced driving speeds, and a gentle pumping touch in braking are now definitely in season.

INSURANCE EXPLAINED

More than a million-and-a-half veterans may not know that they are eligible for the re-opening of insurance. Veterans Administration officials point out that they are those whose disabilities were adjudged to be service-connected or so slight that they do not rate monthly compensation benefits.

The fact, however, that their disabilities are service-connected does not make them eligible to apply for National Service Life Insurance. Robert M. Fitzgerald, VA's Regional Manager for Michigan, stated that the VA has no way to trace these individuals to notify them of their eligibility.

VA records show there are veterans receiving compensation checks, on the other hand, can be notified through the mails. The majority of these veterans have complete touch with VA, but there was no reason to notify agency of their whereabouts. VA records show that 1,600,000 veterans have lost complete touch with VA, since there was no reason to notify the agency of their whereabouts.

VA records show there are veterans who are eligible. The VA is using the aid of patriotic, literary and other service organizations in an effort to reach these veterans who may never learn of the opportunity to obtain the GI insurance coverage that they either led to take during service or owed to partly or completely lose, since that time.

These veterans are probably entitled to the lowest insurance rates under the re-opening plan and their physical impairments of such a slight nature, VA officials said.

Veterans interested in the re-opening of the GI insurance program may obtain a general information sheet by telephoning or calling at the Veterans Administration Regional Office, 200 Gratiot Street, Detroit. The telephone number is 963-4900.

FA MEMBERS VISIT CHICAGO

Thirty-seven members of the FA left Sunday afternoon and turned back Tuesday evening for a bus trip to Chicago with its advisor, Maynard Blossom and Willis Hasset and Ralph Keussler as chaperons.

FORD TO HOUSE CHRISTMAS DISPLAY

Average householders would rebel at the prospect of stringing 70,000 lights on his Christmas tree. Such a task is being completed at the Ford Motor Company's Central Office in Dearborn.

The giant tree, as well as a life-size Nativity scene, will be aglow with lights beginning Sunday after Thanksgiving Day.

There was no formal lighting ceremony this year, but the displays will remain lighted throughout the holiday season for the benefit of thousands who annually visit the scene.

No less than 2,000 strings of lights, each with 35 tiny bulbs, adorn the 73-foot-tall Christmas tree. Nearly 400,000 lights transform the entire front lawn into a nighttime fairyland.

Nativity scene figures have been given a new finish that appears almost luminescent. Christmas music will be heard in the area day and night.

On Christmas Eve and Christmas night, lights of the 12-story building will spell out "Merry Christmas," with a lighted cross at either end.

The selected Christmas scene is visible from Michigan Avenue, just east of the Southfield Freeway.

CHRISTMAS ORNAMENTS SOLD TO RAISE FUNDS

Christmas tree ornaments are being sold by the Washtenaw County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

There will be a house to house canvass in Ann Arbor but in other places in the county they are asked to call Mrs. S. J. Elden at N03-2061 and she will arrange for delivery.

Contribution for the 6 teardrop ornaments is usually a dollar.

This is the first time the Washtenaw Chapter has attempted to have a Christmas ornament sale. Boxes may be picked up in Ann Arbor at the office of Luella Smith County Clerk, the Hi-Y and Ann Arbor Fire Department.

Mrs. Elden said arrangement can be made for delivery in Manchester.
