

HOOVER BALL IS SHAPING UP

Hoover Ball building is beginning to take shape as pictured, as of now 207 tons of steel erection has been trued up. The trued up truss is going to be 20 feet from the finished floor. Some of the connections are riveted at the shop and all field connections are torsion bolts. Field riveting in the past few years is becoming a lost art and torsion bolts are fast replacing field riveting.

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN BY SHERIFF

A better understanding of the function of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department was attempted at a meeting of the Manchester Village Council Monday night. Present at the Council meeting was Sheriff Douglas Harvey, who discussed the problem of receiving radio messages from the Manchester police car. He suggested that the village invest in a new radio for the car as well as an emergency rescapist.

MAIN STREET

You'd almost think spring had arrived—we are surely having some lovely weather with the temperature in the sixties on Wednesday. Tuesday broke a record. It was the warmest Feb. 10th in 93 years. Freezing rain started to fall about five o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Freezing rain started to climb and it rose 13 degrees in 45 minutes. This too, set a record! It is a good thing some shoveling to do. As it is some of the roads in Washtenaw did almost use a small boat.

When we think about spring we always associate it with lovely spring dresses! The two seem to go together. Then writing a Main Street column, what could be more appropriate than telling that we are going to have a brand new dress shop. A branch of the Chelsea Patty Ann Shop will be moving into the part of the Limpert Building, formerly it was all antique shop. Mrs. Effie Morgan says that if Manchester receives her shop the people of Chelsea did she will have nothing to worry about. The Patty Ann Shop at 118 South Middle Street will have its seventeenth anniversary Feb. 15. Mrs. Morgan hopes that she will be able to open the Manchester store on this seventeenth anniversary date. The new shop owner is not new to this area. She has lived in Chelsea for the past 30 years and came here from Ohio. She worked Federal Screw Plant for ten years and for nearly nine years at Spring Shop.

"People have been wonderful to me," she said. "I hope that I'll have the same reception in Manchester. The store will have a complete line of junior, straight and half sizes, including all wearing apparel for women and some children's wear.

With such lovely weather, it doesn't seem as if it is the time to be about snow. But our postmaster, Marvin Kirk suggests that that people who have mail delivery should have the area in front of that mailbox clear. That is, they should have snow shoveled away and have their cars parked away from the area. Mail carriers are not required to leave their cars. As we understand it, they should not leave the car because they are carrying U.S. mail. So if some day you look out the window and see your mail man wip past—look around for the reason. Anyway, the postmaster asks that people be more careful and considerate of the carriers.

We were interested to learn that Tom Riordan, co-publisher and editor of the Tecumseh Herald will be coordinating the publicity for the Michigan Week campaign, May 16-22. Congratulations, Tom!

There has been a change in the Blood Bank Schedule. The date which had been set for March 18 has been changed to May 13. The bank has 20 pints. Several people in the area have been contributing to the Ann Arbor Blood Bank at the open clinic at the 2729 Rickard Road Red Cross Building. If you go to the Blood Clinic be there and have your contribution credited to the Manchester Blood Bank.

For a long time the Red Cross has been asking for our blood—until recently we didn't know that there is a demand for teeth, at we no longer use. Maybe we better clarify this. The Operation Tooth Club doesn't want everyone's teeth—just the ones the youngsters lose. "Operation Tooth" 1307 S. Forest, Ann Arbor is a collection center for the BABY TOOTH SURVEY which is sponsored by the Greater St. Louis Citizens' Committee for Nuclear Information in cooperation with the Schools of Dentistry at St. Louis and Washington Universities. They are collecting 50,000 baby teeth a year. The object is to learn about the accumulation of this radioactive substance in the human body. All in the interest of science. So if your child sends a tooth he'll receive a button to wear. As far as we are able to learn Philip Ludwick is the first child in Manchester to receive a button. Those interested might be able to get more information on "Operation Tooth Club" from Mrs. Ludwick.

For those who are following our teen band—The Del-Tinos, they are booked for an engagement at the Hudson High School Dance following the game on Saturday night.

Sorry to learn that our former pressman, Ed (Simon) Steele cut his right middle finger while working at the R. L. Polk Plant in Jackson Wednesday.

The County Bookmobile won't be operating the rest of the week due to a traffic accident Tuesday in Salem Township. No one was injured when the bookmobile rolled over into a ditch after sliding on ice on Curtis Road. Richard Huntley, 19, was the driver of the van truck.

Mike Wolfe, our township treasurer comes up with some good news! Everyone will be glad to know that the township treasurer, in agreement with the Township Board is extending the 4% penalty tax payment until March 1st.

OPTIMIST-FARMERS NIGHT PLANNED

Farmers in the area are all being invited to attend the twenty-first Farmers' Night next time the club meets on Monday, Feb. 22.

The dinner meeting is slated for 6:30 p.m. at the Emanuel Church Hall. Tickets are available at E. G. Mann's Mill, L. V. Elk electric and at the Union Savings Bank. Working with Stan Roesch, chairman are James Hart and Ray Tirb. The committee is anxious that farmers know that this year they do not have to have special invitations from club members. Tickets are available and all farmers are welcome.

TAX PAYMENT TIME EXTENDED

M. H. Wolfe, Manchester Township treasurer in concurrence with the Manchester Township Board is waiving the 4 per cent tax penalty until March 1st.

OBSERVES 86 YEARS

Henry Kemmer observed his 86th birthday on February 4th. He said he appreciated all the kindnesses extended to him by his friends and relatives.

CHANGE OF TIME

MOM's Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Emanuel Church hall the first Tuesday every month instead of at 8 p.m.

MARCH OF DIMES OVER THE TOP

Final reports for the March of Dimes campaign in Manchester shows that this year's drive exceeded all previous campaigns. Total collected this year was $1,031.30 compared to the highest previous record of $986.62 last year.

Mrs. Richard Kuntz and Mrs. Roger Morrison, co-chairmen expressed appreciation to the many who helped.

In a break-down the Mothers' March totaled $451.45; Student Council Dance, $53.75; Peanut and Balloon sale, $108.44; Burch Drug Coffee Day, $30.84; Mailers, $204.00; canisters, $72. and the Square Dance at Pleasant Lake School, $109.94.

Special thanks went to the Jolly Farmerettes 4-H Club, Mrs. Bernard Kemmer, leader, and Hills and Valley 4-H Club, Mrs. Marvin Kirk, leader, for the fine cooperation of the girls in the balloon and peanut sale.

They also thanked Mrs. Richard Way and her committee for the work on the square dance.

Special thanks also went to Mrs. Del Ludwick who was the chairman of the Mothers' March; special events chairman, Mrs. Richard Way, Mailer chairman, Mrs. Ronald Jenter; Canisters, Mrs. Clarence Schaible; and Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Tom Walton.

SUMMER COURSE CONSIDERED BY SCHOOL BOARD

Manchester Board of Education gave tentative approval to a pilot course in the Humanities to be offered to junior high and senior high students next summer in the high school. This course, to be developed by local staff members and administrators will deal with art, music, architecture, philosophy, drama and literature. Interested students will have an opportunity to explore these offerings in the classroom and on field trips. Field trips will be made to area museums, libraries, university facilities and other points of interest.

This program is not a corrective program or one of the remedial nature, but one of enrichment to enable students to broaden their horizons. Details will be publicized later in the school news letter and in the Manchester Enterprise.

In other business the board approved payment of $7,824.29 in bills, approved a spring concert tour of two days duration for the Varsity Choir, approved new three year contracts for Mr. Chester Koceski and Mr. Theodore Tapping and renewed the maintenance contract on the heating controls in all of the school buildings.

Treasurer Dan Boutell, Trustee Carl Pedersen and Superintendent Robert Swartz will attend the American Association of School Administrators' Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey from February 13 through February 17.

Among the speakers on the convention schedule are Under Secretary of State George W. Ball, U.S. Secretary of the Interior Steward L. Udall, Roscoe Drummond, Washington correspondent and Dr. Walter W. Heller, recently the chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

Profit Sharing Report To Highlight Dinner

At 6:30 p.m. Monday, February 15, Double A Products Co. will host their employees and their wives or husbands at a Profit Sharing dinner at the Michigan Union in Ann Arbor.

All participants in the profit sharing program will be given their annual statement including the final 1964 profit sharing distribution. Russell Cooper of Double A will open the program and H. H. Upton Jr. will welcome the guests. Music will be furnished by Peter Clement's trio.

Highlighting the program will be well-known management consultant, J. Lewis Powell whose subject "Collapse of Time" promises to be most interesting.

Powell, whose home is in Alexandria, Va. travels some 120 thousand miles a year as he follows his profession of conducting management schools for industry throughout the country. He served ten years, until 1962, in the Office of the Secretary of Defense in Washington, D. C. where he was coordinator of military and industrial preparedness production. In 1964 he was given national recognition for his participation in management courses conducted in New York City.

In his talk on "The Collapse of Time" he spans the centuries from Adam to atom in his explanation of scientific progress. His homespun humor and sharp satire is noted for holding the interest of his varied audiences.

Manchester JayCee Club Celebrate Tenth Anniversary

Manchester Jaycees are celebrating ten years of activity here. During this time the membership has grown from a few to 38 active members and 10 associates.

Keith Doelker, president of the club says that the club could not have been successful in so many ways if it had not been for the cooperation of the business-people, individual citizens and the school.

These programs, designed to maintain interest, can only be as successful as the people who guide them put forth effort in them," Doelker pointed out.

When Allen Luckhardt was president the Jaycees were instrumental in getting restrooms for the Park. Another project which started at that time was getting the Athletic Field Score Board. The following year, with Ronald Kelly at the controls, a restroom facility was brought to the Athletic field.

The Jaycees took over the management of the children's Halloween party, a community project, which, prior to that time had been handled by Community Club representatives. Under the leadership of Bill Baker a broom and turkey shoot were main money making projects. It was the year that the first honorary members were admitted. First on the list was James C. Hendley, Romey, who drew up the by-laws and constitution for the club. The following year the Jaycees inaugurated a valedictorian award plaque.

Every year a new plaque is presented to the school with the name of the valedictorian engraved on it. Under the leadership of Bill Baker the Easter Egg Hunt was started with Klager Hatchery donating 100 of the eggs. This past year Klager Hatchery donated the entire 100 dozen eggs. For his cooperation Klager has been named to the honorary list. Another honorary member is Allen Schaffer who makes his airport to the use of the Jaycees for the annual turkey pot.

"It is pretty hard to pin point what these men do for the club. We are always calling on them," Doelker said.

The Driver Rod-go which the Jaycees sponsor had a state second place winner in Terry Ayers, in 1961. A Safety Program started at the elementary level in 1961.

A Community Development Survey was launched under the direction of Richard Kuntz in 1962 with Double A Products paying the cost of tabulating the survey. Nearly one hundred percent of the residents of town filled out the blanks and the high school students gave a long look at the community when they filled out their special survey blanks to seek ways to improve the village.

A Better Business Committee was formed with Tom Marshall acting as campaign chairman. The Jaycees heartily endorsed the River Raisin Watershed program. This last fall they started a clean-up campaign of their own along the River Raisin south of the Main Street Bridge.

The two big projects at the present time is a pilot program for using schools in the evening for youth recreation and continuing the River Raisin clean-up in the spring.

Joseph F. Fitzgerald of 324 Schaffer Court is employed by the Manchester Ready Mix. His wife is the former Patricia Kensler. The couple has one son and two daughters.

Joe is a past president of the Jaycees of which he has been a member over ten years. He is a past president and board member. His awards in the Jaycees include Spark Plug and Key Man. He enjoys Soft Ball.

Thomas A. McNutt

In the summer he likes to water ski. He has been active in the Jaycees for about a year.

Edward (Ted) Curley

Edward (Ted) Curley and his wife Betty live at 725 City Road, Manchester. They have two sons and a daughter.

He is employed by the Michigan State Highway Department. On his free time he enjoys a game of golf. Ted has been a member of the Jaycees for over a year.

Peter Wm. Minor

Peter Wm. Minor of 309 E. Duncan Street has been a member of the local Jaycees for the past year. He is an employee of the Ford Motor Company. His wife is Darlene. The couple has two daughters.

His hobby is hot rods.

James F. Curley

James F. Curley of 221 South Washington Street has been an active member of the Jaycees for the past year.

He is employed at the Double A Products Co. of Manchester and is interested in sports.

Joseph F. Fitzgerald

In a Know Your Jaycees Series the Manchester Enterprise will be printing pictures of the members and a brief sketch about each of them.

The Enterprise can help you sell, buy, rent, get a job or hire help in the Manchester area. Remember to phone the Manchester Enterprise if you are involved in a news story or social item. That's GA 8-8388

WASHTENAW REVENUE UP IN 1964

Sylvester A. Leonard, Washtenaw County treasurer reported to the county board of supervisors that the treasurer's office handled a total of $19,238,875.74 during 1964 against $18,652,537 in 1963.

Non-tax revenue increased from $153,751.46 to $170,544.76 in 1964. The increase was due to $4,645 more in rent of County Office Building space.

Washenaw cities, townships, villages and the County Road Commission received a total of $3,050,343.10 from the state in sales, intangibles and new motor vehicle highway taxes, an increase of $196,745.65 over 1963.

KEEPING OUR MONEY SOUND

Congress is expected to consider legislation early this year authorizing a reduction in the silver content of U.S. coinage or possibly even its elimination.

Why the possibility of the first change in the silver content of dimes, quarters and half dollars since 1792 the year Alexander Hamilton recommended the present silver content to the first Congress?

First, there is a serious coin shortage that is affecting nearly everyone in the United States. But although the coin shortage is the immediate problem, the Treasury faces a far more serious long-range situation.

Consumption of silver, both for coinage and industry, is far outstripping present sources of supply. While the mining industry is making a valiant effort to catch up, the Treasury must stretch out the silver supply it has in the meantime.

To do so, it is now considering whether to recommend to Congress:

- Coins with no silver, and therefore as inherently valueless as transit tokens, or
- Retaining a percentage of silver, so our coinage will still be intrinsically valuable.

Many leaders in Congress and business point out that an intrinsically valuable coinage is respected both at home and abroad. They feel that the most constructive course is to retain some silver content—even if a smaller amount than the present 90 per cent.

Psychologically, silver supports the value of the entire U.S. monetary system. It is significant that Italy, Austria, Germany and France—the countries that have suffered most from currency devaluation—returned to silver coinage to regain respect for their monetary systems.

Economically, the United States has tied itself to a silver coinage in a number of ways. Because silver is the best electrical conductor, the gigantic and growing activities dependent on coin-operated devices (vending machines and pay telephones) have geared their machines to accept only our present silver coinage. The machines react electrically to the conductivity of the silver coins and reject all others. A radical change in coinage would upset most of these devices. The resulting problems would be appalling.

Present U.S. silver coinage is uneconomical to counterfeit. But a base metal coinage (one containing no silver) would result in a flood of "slugs"—as many transit systems using tokens have discovered.

The feel, the sound, the sense of value and security in our present coinage are important roots of our American stability. Real silver money will help us retain our self-respect both at home and abroad.

THE GIRLS IN GRANDMA GROSSMAN'S BIG FAMILY EXPERT WITH NEEDLE

— By Marie Schneider

Dawn Lynn Rinehart of 614 So. Mechanic Street, Jackson is six months old today, Thursday. She is the fifth generation of women in the family of her great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Fred Grossman of Manchester.

Four of the five were born on the 11th of the month. Mrs. Grossman, the former Lydia Staebler, is 89 years old and was born on Sept. 11. So was her daughter, Mrs. Lowell (Alta Lydia) Parr of Manchester, born on her mother's birthday.

Mrs. Parr's daughter, Mrs. John (Lucille) Bevier of Brooklyn was born on Dec. 11. The only one without a birthday on the 11th is Mrs. Jerald (Linda) Rinehart, of Jackson. Her birthday is October 27. Little Dawn Lynn Rinehart was born Aug. 11, 1964.

All of the women have the letter "L" beginning their first or middle name.

Dawn Lynn has 11 grandparents, besides Mrs. Grossman and the Parrs. There are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ehnis of Brooklyn and Mr. and Mrs. Seward Bevier of 615 Harris, Jackson, great-grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. Norval Rinehart and Mr. and Mrs. John Bevier all of Brooklyn, grandparents.

Dawn's great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Grossman, has two children and so do her great-grandmother and her grandmother.

Mrs. John Bevier, Dawn's grandmother, finds herself in a unique position on the family tree. She is a granddaughter and a grandmother at the same time.

The family is closely knit and Mrs. Bevier likes to recall some of her early life with her grandmother Grossman, who at 89 is still active and alert. Mrs. Grossman lived nearly all her life in the Manchester area. Her husband, Fred died last March. They had been married 67 years and until his death she kept house at their farm home.

"Grandmother's shiny old wood stove kept the big kitchen cozy and she used it until she left the farm last spring to live with her son and daughter," Mrs. Bevier said.

There was the pantry where the big loaves of bread were kept and the cookies. The sugar was in a big wooden firkin on the pantry floor. That firkin had been her mother's and she told Mrs. Bevier that some day she could have it.

Mrs. Grossman's rocking chair with the high back has been in the family a long time. It has been used by daughter, granddaughter and great-granddaughter. Mrs. Grossman remembers well when her father brought it home for her on top of the wagon when she was only 4 years old. The 85-year-old chair will be refinished soon and passed along to Dawn.

Mrs. Grossman's four granddaughters all played with her childhood doll with the beautiful painted china head and leather body. They made a doll bed from the wooden box that covered Mrs. Grossman's sewing machine. A granddaughter still does her mending on that same machine.

Mrs. Grossman still crochets "for her girls" and at Christmas time some gay red and white potholders decorated their kitchens, which were made by Mrs. Grossman. Many of her old German Christmas cookie recipes are used every year.

There was a grand-big bedroom upstairs at the Grossman farm with all its treasures. There was a big trunk with all the bustle dresses and fur trimmed capes "to play dress up" with. There were old pictures in the family album to be wondered about. Yes, and there were other things like the sausage grinder, lard press and a sauerkraut cutter—all stored away.

Grandma's gas lights are remembered with awe. They hissed and gave off a bright light. She even had a gas iron which she would light and let granddaughter iron dish towels. There was a little bag of beef's wax to rub on the bottom of the iron to keep it from sticking.

The Grossmans had no electricity long after everyone else in the country did. This was because the "electric line" didn't go past their home. A carbide plant in the barn supplied the gas lights which were bright and steady.

It was at grandma's that Mrs. Bevier baked her first cake. She used sugar from the firkin in the pantry, sour milk from the milk pans in the cellar and a "pinch of salt" from the salt box hanging on the wall by the stove. The cake, chocolate marble, was popped into that old wood range and turned out perfectly. Many exacting recipes today give disappointing results compared to grandma's.

Citizen Patriot Photograph

The homemade methods have been passed along to each succeeding generation and the Grossman sewing machine especially started a family tradition.

All of the dresses worn in the picture with this story are "home-made." Mrs. Lowell Parr made her mother's and baby Dawn's dresses, as well as her own. Dawn's soft blue dress has tatted insertion and edges. Her white tatted booties were made by her great-grandmother.

The Parr sewing machine has been busy for four generations. Mrs. Parr made all the clothes for her two daughters, from baby dresses to wedding gowns. Her four granddaughters all had beautiful white baby dresses trimmed with her hand made tating.

Mrs. Bevier's sewing machine was purchased with the money from her first job and she hasn't had to buy a ready-made dress since her daughter Linda was a baby. She too, made all of her daughter's clothes and is now busy sewing for her granddaughter.

Although Mrs. Rinehart has little free time, she manages to do a little sewing. She works in the abstract office in the Jackson County Courthouse. But she is "following the pattern" and recently purchased a sewing machine and is spending what time she can learning to sew.

Mrs. Bevier says that she is very certain that "a grandmother can be a wonderful and very important part of any little girl's life."

SPECIAL SERVICES

The Rev. Miss Elsie Johns, pastor of the Clarenceville Methodist Church, will be the evangelist for special services at the Manchester Methodist Church beginning Sunday, February 21 with the 11 a. m. service and continuing each evening at 7:30 p. m. through Friday, Feb. 26th.

The Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church Men's Chorus of twelve will give special music in the evening service Sunday, Feb. 21st. The Men's Quartet of Clarenceville will be the special music on Friday, Feb. 26. Other special music will be a part of each service. The public is invited to attend all services.

VILLAGE COUNCIL REVIEWS BUDGET

At Monday Council meeting the budget for next year was reviewed. Total disbursements will total $94,770. The biggest change will be a $7,000 appropriation for Railroad right of way to be purchased by the village.

It was pointed out that there will be a $1,000 gain in tax revenue which is due to new homes being built in the area.

A public hearing has been scheduled for March 15th to rezone a part of the Limpert property in order to erect a five unit apartment by D. E. Limpert.

Mr. Limpert said these will be one bedroom efficiency apartments. Plans call for three apartments on the first floor and two on the second floor. The size of the apartments are to be 18 x 24 feet down stairs and 18' x 37.5' up stairs.

Mr. Limpert says that there will be air conditioning, hot water heat, tiled bath, living and bedrooms carpeted, draperies, stove and refrigerators and disposals furnished.

The exterior of the building will be of 1890 decor of brick construction. This will be in keeping with the general appearance of the community.

This was all part of the preliminary plan submitted to the council.

The plan met the approval of the council and members said that they will take action to get the groundwork for the rezoning underway at once.

Mr. Limpert has been in the construction business for some 18 years and in business for himself for the past 10 years. He has been specializing in remodeling out-dated buildings for up-to-date use in several states, including Spiegels, Aلدens and several other manufacturing firms, commercial and business buildings.

Mr. Limpert said that at Clawson, near Detroit, a similar unit was built in the business district which has proved to be very successful.

Of interest is that here in the area in question there will be room for 20 to 24 cars in the paved lighted area.

SUPERVISORS SLATE SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the Waukegan County Board of Supervisors will be called for 7:30 p. m. Feb. 23 to reconsider setting an election date for the annexation of the 241 acres of Pittsfield Township to Ann Arbor.

The special session was asked by 13 board members, mostly from Ann Arbor, according to Board Chairman, Curt H. Will. The supervisors had tabled the matter by a vote of 17 to 16 in the regular session.

The next scheduled board meeting is March 12 which is too late to place the annexation on the April 5th ballot.

The annexation is being sought by the G.V. Airey Building Co. which plans to develop the land which is adjacent to its Lansdown subdivision.

The motion made to table and apparently eliminate the possibility of an April election was supported largely by supervisors from rural townships and townships bordering Ann Arbor. City supervisors largely opposed it.

Whether the board will change its action and set a date will depend on the makeup of the members attending this special meeting. Expense of holding the special meeting will not be great as many of the supervisors will be at the Ninth District of Michigan State Association meeting in Monroe County that same day and can be paid only one $15 a day sum anyway.

JUNIOR HIGH CHEERLEADING HONOR SQUAD

Tryouts were held last week to select the best cheerleaders from the entire group who had been participating in the basketball season.

At the beginning and during the regular basketball season any seventh grade or eighth grader (girl) could participate as long as she remained eligible by maintaining good grades. These are the same rules that the boys must follow.

The Honor Squads are chosen at the end of the season in order to be ready for the Junior High Basketball tournament, which is being held this week at the Manchester High School gym. A trophy is presented to the best cheerleading squad at the tournament.

The Senior Varsity Cheerleaders from the High School were invited to be the judges for the tryouts last week and selected the following girls:

Eighth Grade—Andrea Koda is captain and on the team are Kathy Randall, Sue Blanchard, Kathy Feldkamp, Mary Wurster and Linda Spiess. Stephanie Stevens is the substitute.

Jody Raffaeali is the Junior cheerleader for both groups and Mrs. Phyllis Hamilton is the Jr. high physical education instructor and the sponsor for the group.

FEB. 19th WILL MARK 88th BIRTHDAY OF ED DRESSELHOUSE

Edward C. Dresselhouse of 308 S. Macomb street will celebrate his 88th birthday on February 19. A retired local businessman, Ed is still very much interested in the town and anxious for it to prosper.

"Of course, I'm in favor of an apartment unit being built at the rear of the Limpert property. Why not? But, I didn't know about it until this evening," Ed commented.

Ed Dresselhouse wasn't the only one who didn't know that D. E. Limpert submitted a proposal to the Council on Monday night asking if the Council approved his idea of building a five unit, two story apartment building at the rear of his three Main St. stores. Limpert has already cleared away the old buildings which cluttered the area.

Although Ed Dresselhouse retired in 1957, after being in the hardware and implement business for 55 years in Manchester, he is always ready to promote the town. He pointed out that housing is creating a problem and anything which can relieve some of the pressure in this direction should be considered carefully.

Limpert and his wife and family moved here three years ago from Detroit. He has been in the construction work for 18 years and in business for himself for ten years. He specialty is remodeling buildings for up to date use.

Mr. Dresselhouse is more than a little interested in this particular area of town because for 35 years the Dresselhouse & Davider Store was right next to the property in question. He would like to see the heart of Main Street be improved.

"I hope we can keep the buildings we have," Mr. Dresselhouse said. He had never commented, according to his wife, when the Union Savings Bank decided to tear down the Dresselhouse & Davider Building which they bought. This was done last fall to make a parking area for the bank.

It was easy to see that Mr. Dresselhouse was more anxious to see buildings erected than to see them torn down.

Although his hearing is somewhat impaired, his memory is keen. He was born in Sharon Township, the son of John and Amella Davider Dresselhouse. Until he was twelve years old they lived on the place which is now a part of the Tom Walton farm. Two of his early classmates are living, Henry Kemmer and Fred Kuhl.

Because of his mother's failing health they left the farm and moved to the Barless house on West Main Street. That frame house was later moved to Adrian Street and is known as the former Ora Logan home, recently purchased by the Albert Gages. This is one of the oldest houses in town.

Mr. Dresselhouse graduated from Manchester High School in 1895 and taught at the Silver Lake rural school for 4 years. His 35 students in the range in age from 6 to 17 years. His salary was $18 a month in the spring and fall and $24 a month for the winter term. All the other rural schools opened in September. But the Silver Lake School started in October. The reason was to give the pupils a chance to help husk corn longer in the fall. He liked teaching school but thought it would be more interesting to have a store.

He went into the hardware business.

His uncle Otto Davider, joined him and they opened their store in 1902 in the location of the Widmayer Hardware store. Davider was only four years older than his nephew.

"You might say, we were ruined out of that store," he laughed. Then explained that the roof leaked so much that they looked around for another location and three years later moved to the Arbieter Building across the street.

This was ideal for the business. Although there were several steps to the front door, the basement was on ground level at the rear and this was fine. They were in the buggy business—along with the hardware store. About 70 buggies could be stashed away and easily taken out when wanted. Later the Arbieter Society brought some of their frame buildings from Abieter Grove to buggy storage back of the store.

"One year we put up more than twenty windmills and even more hay tracks. About 75 percent of the farmers had windmills. Now, they are a thing of the past," Mr. Dresselhouse said.

In 1920 they moved across the street to the store next to the Union Bank Building. This was the store he retired from in 1957. After Mr. Davider's health failed Dresselhouse was joined in the business by Otto's son, Royal Davider.

Ed Dresselhouse recalls that one time he wasn't sure if he'd be left on the village council or not. He wanted paved street along Main. Several on council at the time didn't feel the town could afford it.

"But we got the pavement," he grinned. He served on council for 12 years and when he looks at the street signs along village streets he remembers that it was his idea to erect them on pipes. Four different types were submitted. But his was chosen. The same ones he designed are used today.

Mr. Dresselhouse was also a member of the school board and for many years was a member of the Emanuel Church Board, church council and superintendent of the Sunday School. After he retired from all this he was named chairman of the church building committee for the Emanuel Church Hall.

ECUMENICAL MEETING AT EMANUEL CHURCH

By invitation of the Emanuel United Church of Christ, an ecumenical meeting was held in Emanuel Church Hall Sunday, Feb. 14. This was the first meeting of its kind in Manchester and was held to provide a get acquainted hour and fellowship for all of the Manchester area churches.

Six of the churches were represented by their pastors and key church people and their wives or husbands, with the exception of the Baptist Mission Church which had previously scheduled church services.

Unable to attend the meeting which he planned was the Rev. Ralph Kuetner, pastor of Emmanuel, Manchester's largest church. M. He and Mrs. Kuetner were called to Merrell, Wisconsin because of the sudden death of his sister, Mrs. George Gruetzmacher. Max Walter, chairman of Emanuel Council, greeted the guests.

Community singing was led by Roger Morrison with Mrs. Morrison accompanying at the piano.

Refreshments were served by the hosts before and following the informal meeting. A guided tour of Emanuel church started the program which included the introduction of the Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Epps of the Methodist Church and the representatives, Rev. Fr. Raymond Schlinkert of St. Mary's Catholic Church and his church board and heads of organizations.

Rev. and Mrs. John Price of Sharon Evangelical United Brethren Church and Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Mannel of Bethel United Church and their representatives, Rev. Thomas Hicks of Iron Creek Community Church was unable to be present but sent representatives.

This meeting was held to better acquaint churches with the ways that their neighboring churches function and what the duties of the different organizations are.

It was the beginning of what spokesmen for the churches hope, can become an important and worthwhile part of Manchester community affairs.

FARMERS' NIGHT NEXT MONDAY

A dinner at 6:30 p. m. at the Emanuel Church Hall arranged by the Optimist Club with all farmers in the area invited, is planned for next Monday.
