

PROPOSED APARTMENTS BY D.E. LIMPERT

The Village Council chambers at 120 S. Clinton St. will be a bus place on Mon., March 15, 1965 for it is at this date that a hearing will be held for the rezoning of the property in the rear of the D.E. Limpert's Stores.

Complete details of this rezoning can be read in the Village Notice. The rezoning of this property would enable Don and Rita Limpert, who have made Manchester their home for the last two years, to have the "go-ahead" with their proposal for plans to construct an apartment building on the lots directly in back of 115 E. Main St. The brick building will have an iron wrought facade which will lend an 1890 flair and blend in with the surroundings.

The interior of the one bedroom efficiency apartments will be modern and contain stove, refrigerator, garbage disposal, draperies, and will be air conditioned. There will be off the street parking for approximately 26 cars.

It is Mr. Limpert's idea that this type of building will alleviate some of the housing shortage in Manchester, and provide an ideal home for semi-residential citizens, such as school teachers, but he maintains, it will be excellent for retired couples, and young married couples who are just starting out.

Anyway you look at it, it's a good idea and will be a great addition to the town.

SOCIAL SERVICES HOLD 6th ANNUAL MEETING

Thought for social action and then social action beginning with medical care for the aged were the messages in a talk on "The Psychology of Poverty" which highlighted the sixth annual banquet of Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County which was held last week Wednesday at the Michigan Union, Ann Arbor.

The services of the agency are extended to anyone living in Washtenaw County, irrespective of racial, national, religious, social, or economic background.

The staff of men and women are trained in the practice of social casework. The goals are to strengthen family life, to facilitate adjustment to problems experienced in everyday living, and to preserve physical and mental health.

Fr. Raymond Schlinkert of St. Mary's at Manchester gave the invocation. Only two others were present from Manchester in the ballroom which was filled to capacity.

The speaker was Sister Mary Emmit-HM, president of Marygrove College in Detroit. She spoke to an interested audience and began:

"Let us begin by thinking, and when we have discovered by thinking what we can do—regardless of how small that might be, even as small as a letter to our congressman—let us do that."

The president of Marygrove said she didn't have the answer to the question, "What shall I do to fulfill my responsibility to do all they can to relieve suffering people in a world where people need not suffer."

In calling for support for medical care programs for the aged, Sister Mary said she appeared before the group, not as a Democrat or a Republican, "but as one who has read 'Pacem In Terris' (an encyclical of the late Pope John XXIII). She described such medical care as being "among the basic rights of man."

"When are we responsible?" she asked, and then answered it. "Socially, as well as individually—and in our day, socially and politically rather than individually—we are responsible for social action when we can see the common good is not being obtained."

In commenting on the annual report which was distributed to the audience Miss Marguerite Parrish, executive secretary, executive secretary of Catholic Social Service of Washtenaw County said the organization was increasingly children-oriented.

In the report which was passed out to those present, it was stated that 1,028 families were served by the agency in 1964. These represented 2,356 individuals including 670 under the age of 18 directly served.

88th BIRTHDAY

There will be off-street maximum parking for 20 to 24 cars and a paved lighted parking area. The building will be designed in a 1890 brick motif to match the other buildings and harmonize with them. Downstairs units will be 18 x 24 ft. and the two upstairs apartments will be 18 x 37.5 ft. The units will be air conditioned and have hot water heat. There will be garbage disposals, stove and refrigerators furnished.

"Yes, it seems to me that this would be a real addition to our Main Street picture," Mr. Dresselhouse concluded.

Mr. Dresselhouse married the former Emma Grossman on March 7, 1906. Their only son, Donald lives in Los Angeles, California.

MAIN STREET

And the big snow came! The weatherman had predicted heavy snow warnings. So everyone should have been prepared. Just how much preparation should be made for 11.8 inches of snow is debatable. The weatherman hadn't said there would be that much snow. We doubt if anyone would have believed him anyway.

But early Wednesday evening the storm started. Just a fine snow that fell silently and then the wind started. By morning, well, that is another story. The few who managed to shovel their cars out and made a brave attempt to get to work, didn't go far.

The heavy, deep snow was whipped into drifts seven and eight feet high by winds up to 35 and 40 miles an hour. Manchester's snow plows were busy cleaning the streets. Of course the village doesn't have the necessary heavy equipment needed for such an emergency. Main Street looked like a ghost town. Allen Schaffer, president of the Schaffer Lumber Co. was called. He took a cool look at the situation and personally took command of the clean-up operation. Some of his heavy equipment lumbered up Main Street and the "big push" was on. Two front end loaders were in town.

Just what do you do with such an accumulation of snow? Manchester is lucky. The River Raisin runs right through the town. What could be more handy? You guessed it. They just pushed the piles of snow into the river. At one time in the clean-up the snow was piled up to the second story windows in front of Mike Wolf's shoe store. There were very few cars around to hamper the progress of the removal operation.

Our publisher and Ron Jenter were out snapping pictures and next week we'll have some in the Enterprise. As far as we were able to find out Thursday was the first time in the history of the post office that there wasn't any mail delivery into town. Friday morning a very small amount of mail was brought in by an Ann Arbor city carrier about ten o'clock. The regular mail truck came in early in the afternoon.

It was a boom day for the school kids. They made the best of the situation and shoveled snow. Many made more than a few cents working during the day.

The School system was closed. In fact all of the schools in Washtenaw County were closed except the University. Wednesday there were 10 teachers home sick, along with 62 high school students and 70 in the grade school. Supt. Swartz said that if any more teachers were taken sick they would have to close the schools because of lack of teaching staff. All ten substitute teachers were working. But Mr. Swartz didn't have to make the decision. The weatherman made it for him.

Before we forget it, the sauer kraut supper originally planned for Thursday night at Emanuel Church Hall has been postponed to next Thursday, March 4.

Double A Products Co. closed for the day on Thursday but Friday about 150, or about half of the employees managed to get in to work. Eugene Walter rode in on his tractor. It was the only way to travel safely on his road.

Did you ever know it to fail. Just when everything seems to be tied up the fire department gets a call. Out at the George Boomer farm at 11770 Burneister Road, the chimney caught a fire and the volunteer department raced out the three miles. Anyway it seemed to them that they were racing. Doug Schaffer drove the "Eucelid" ahead of the department to clear the country road. The trip took 45 minutes. The Boomers had managed to put out the fire before the department arrived.

Village president, Gene Bentschneider said he was very glad that the area in front of the village hall (where the fire-fighting equipment is kept) was cleared and ready for the emergency. Snow had been hauled away from the post office, business district and fire hall shortly after noon Thursday.

Village crews had all streets in town cleaned by Friday noon/ They had to work into the night Thursday to accomplish it. Snow piled high in front of driveways can't be helped.

Walt Lewis, Supt. of the Washtenaw County Road Commission, said Friday that 90 percent of the paved roads are open. Four plows, three on tractors were assigned to George Goodell, foreman in charge of the Manchester area. The two front end loaders from Schaffer Lumber Co. were also used. This equipment was necessary to dig through drifts more than eight feet high on the Scio Church Road. This, according to Lewis, was the hardest road to clear.

Three of the plows were stuck in drifts over night. The county had 56 pieces of snow removal equipment on the road plus the foreman's pick-ups. Crews worked all night Thursday and expect to have to work all night Friday. Lewis said he expected to have the secondary roads opened by Saturday and that he is staggering his work crews to keep the equipment on the move.

Two trucks managed to get in to the IGA from Jackson Thursday. Jay Lantis, store owner said that although business was good he decided to close at 6:30 p. m. because of the road condition. He lives out on West Austin and said one drift near Heimerdinger corner was 7 foot high and 30 feet across. Some drift!

Willard Mann, at the E. G. Mann Mill, noted that in his 25 years at the mill—Thursday was the only day that not a single bag of grain was brought in!

There was a real struggle to keep the roads in the area open for the snow kept blowing and drifting. Traffic was at a snail's pace. Even the "Law" couldn't move. The police car was at a stand still in front of Tibb's Chevrolet until they brought out some chains for the tires!

Stores in Ann Arbor and Arboland were closed. Radio reporters announced that J. L. Hudson and Montgomery Ward Stores were closed. The Detroit News didn't publish. Neither did the Manchester Enterprise. Pressman, Harry Macomber and your gal Friday couldn't get in to work.

This was the first time in the history of the Willow Run airport that it closed.

FLOOR FURNACE BLAMED IN FIRE

A fire apparently started by a floor furnace in the living room caused about $2,000 damage in the James Yungkans home at 411 East Duncan Street.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor about 3 p. m. when smoke was seen seeping through the wood siding.

Mrs. Yungkans had left the house about an hour and a half before the fire was discovered. Firechief James Kensler said that the fire started around the floor furnace where a large hole was burned. Carpeting in the room was destroyed by fire and smoke as well as the overstuffed furniture and clothing in the room. The entire of inside of the house was badly smoked and the partition between the living room and kitchen was burned.

Contents of the house was not insured the fire chief said. Mr. Yungkans was at work at the Double A Products Co. at the time of the fire.

A dog, the family pet died of suffocation in the house, Kensler said.

MAIN STREET

All airports in the area were closed including Metro. Telephone lines were overloaded and people were asked to use phones for emergencies only. Cars were stuck everywhere along the highways. According to reports the storm was worse than the "big snow of 1934." In fact reporters say that the snow fall was topped only by the snow of 1886.

The weather bureau reported that the temperature was expected to drop to five degrees Friday night with a prediction of colder weather in store for Saturday. But regardless of the piles of snow everywhere the sun shows all day Friday!

CAMPAIGN STARTS FOR AUXILIARY MEMBERSHIPS

A part of the annual campaign in the County to help the patients at the Washtenaw County Hospital is now underway.

More than 2,500 individuals and organizations have been sent letters as a part of this drive which is now in progress.

The letters request dues, and donations in addition to dues, from prospective individual and group members of the auxiliary interested in supporting its work for patients in the County Hospital.

The annual membership drive is the auxiliary's only public appeal for funds each year.

Money raised in the drive is added to occasional unsolicited donations received by the auxiliary to provide basic comforts and a few small luxuries for patients in the hospital and for outpatients in boarding homes throughout the county.

The auxiliary sponsors an annual Christmas party for patients, with individually selected gifts, and holds a birthday party each month for patients who celebrated their birthdays during the month.

Money is available to patients regularly for personal necessities and the Auxiliary helps maintain the hospital and its grounds, contributions are made for a more cheerful atmosphere with draperies and other items to brighten the interior.

The auxiliary also furnishes wheelchairs, geriatric chairs and other appliances for the patients.

Members of the Auxiliary make regular visits to the patients and maintain a book and personal items car that visits the patients regularly.

Anyone who wishes to donate a few hours to the patients as a volunteer to perform services for the patients may contact Mrs. Mildred Perry at the hospital at NO 2-6566.

Those interested in supporting the Auxiliary by becoming dues paying members may contact membership chairman, Mrs. Volney Jones, 509 Keech, or the members of her committee.

Marie Schneider and Mrs. Don Mackintosh are the local members of the Board of Trustees. They will have further information.

LAWYERS STUDY PROBLEM OF LEGAL AID COUNCIL FOR POOR PEOPLE

"Many poor people in Washtenaw County go without legal advice and expert legal assistance even when their need is great. The existing legal aid system, a voluntary service of lawyers on the county Legal Aid Committee, is no longer adequate to help all these people," according to John R. Hathaway, president of the Washtenaw County Bar Association.

In areas dealing with landlord-tenant and numerous other personal legal matters, the poor man or the destitute family suffers needlessly because of this lack of professional help, he pointed out.

Many people hesitate to seek legal help because they are not familiar with the kinds of service a lawyer offers or because they are afraid of possible large costs and complicated legal matters.

The Washtenaw County Bar Association has been increasingly concerned about this and area business and professional people have started to join the lawyers in search for a better solution.

Existing legal aid set-up places a heavy burden on the lawyer who may contribute much time at personal and expensive sacrifice.

Many needy people cannot qualify for assistance if their problem is complex and there is no means of paying even minimum costs and expenses involved.

There is need for a full time and staff operated office where the legal problems of unfortunate citizens can be handled.

Such an office could provide this help to many needy, senior citizens or other financially disabled people.

A pilot program proposal will be placed before the membership of the Bar Association Thursday, Feb. 25. Under the plan an applicant would go to some readily accessible central office to make application and to be interviewed as to the nature of the problem and the financial background that would justify the use of legal aid. Advanced law students from the University of Michigan Law School would handle all of the interview, screening, research and leg work aspects of the matter with each applicant.

All work would be under the supervision of a competent and experienced attorney who would handle the technical or special professional aspects of any matter. This would provide assistance needed by the poor, will furnish excellent practice for law students and would alleviate the burden which has fallen on the legal aid attorney. If the interview discloses that the applicant would have the ability to pay the costs of legal service, which applicant would be referred to a member of the bar on a lawyers' referral list for more traditional attorney-client representation and counsel.

Although there are such programs in the conjunction with law schools in more than 50 places in the United States there are none in Michigan, Mr. Hathaway pointed out.

Representatives of the University and the Bar Association expect that funds may be made available from a number of sources to help get the program in operation once the bar takes action.

Hathaway said that he hopes such an office can be in operation in Washtenaw County late this spring.

PAUL SOKOLOWSKI

Paul Sokolowski, aged 89 years died Saturday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, where he had been a patient since January 25th. His home was at 7570 Kothro Road, Freedom Township.

He was born October 17, 1875 in Poland. On May 1, 1910 he was married to Mary Ann Zdunek. They lived in Detroit until moving to their present home in 1930. She preceded him in death on Jan. 28, 1960.

Mr. Sokolowski was an employee

By Mary Whitman

When you take a child to the dentist or doctor, it's a good idea to take a recreational item along.

What play item is sure to divert small fry? The sticker-fun book, many parents tell us.

"There's often a long wait in the waiting room," explains one mother who has toted along many objects to pass the time. "Toys are noisy. Balls bounce and hit someone. There's no table to work puzzles. Stories read aloud may disturb others. But sticker-fun books are silent, simple solutions that keep children from getting restless while they wait for shots or checkups."

The sticker book, in case you aren't acquainted with one, is a book composed of half of unfinished sketches and half of colorful gummed stickers that complete the pictures. According to editorial director H. M. Benstead, Jr. of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin, two of the most popular ones are based on the adventures of Magilla Gorilla and Funkis. Based on Hanna-Barbera television cartoon characters well known to children. "The books are ideal for waiting rooms," he agrees, "because solvers and pasters are entertained in the Funkis-Fuzz-book, for instance, the child locates a picnic page and inserts the missing food items. On another page a child supplies a missing pot and cup. In a cowboy scene, he adds horses to a stagecoach. All stickers are pre-cut to fit.

A wise parent will bring along a brown paper bag to hold left over scraps of paper, which can be thrown in the wastebasket later.

Sticker-fun books of various kinds can be found at the game counters of drug, variety and department stores, and are sure to keep 3-to-7-year-olds amused.

"It sounds simple," says one experimenter who tried. "But it holds a child's attention just long enough to let a parent relax in the waiting room too."

of the Ford Motor Co. for 35 years until his retirement in 1950.

He was a member of St. Dominic's Catholic Church in Clinton. He is survived by one son, Henry of Freedom Township and two grandchildren.

Funeral Mass was celebrated on Tuesday at 10 a. m. at St. Dominic's Church at Clinton with the Rev. Edward Kalinowski officiating and burial was made in the church cemetery.

MRS. OTO HANNEMAN

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Vera May Hanneman, aged 72 years, on Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. at the Jenter Funeral home with the Rev. Jesse Epps officiating.

Mrs. Hanneman died Saturday at Herrick Memorial Hospital in Tecumseh following an extended illness. Her home was at 17303 Ely-Road in Manchester Township.

She was born May 6, 1892 in Attica, Mich. the daughter of Benjamin and Maude Sutton. She was married to Otto Hanneman on June 6, 1913.

They lived in Columbiaville and Detroit before moving to their present home in 1945.

She is survived by two sons, Otto of Dallas, Texas and Victor of Detroit and three daughters, Mrs. Wilbur (Bernice) Shadley of Manchester, Mrs. Bert (Alberta) Duffney of Detroit and Mrs. Robert (Elaine) Patterson of Manchester; 8 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren and two brothers, Benjamin Sutton of Naples, Florida and Traver Sutton of Largo, Florida.

Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

PLAN PARTY

The Legion and Auxiliary birthday party and potluck will be at 6:30 p.m. March 10. Families are asked to bring dishes to pass and their table service. Meat will be furnished.

How To Treat A Sore Throat

The story goes that during a party one evening, a man approached a physician and asked, "Doctor, how do you treat a sore throat?" Not wishing to get involved in a medical discussion, the doctor replied, "with respect, Sir."

The point of this little story is, don't take a sore throat lightly. Soreness in the throat usually accompanies a common cold, and since Americans suffer an estimated half billion colds a year, we can assume that there are at least that many sore throats, in varying degrees.

There is a saying that if you treat the cold, you also treat the sore throat. In many instances this is true. The American Medical Association gives this advice for treating a cold: stay in bed, keep warm, gargle and take aspirin for the discomfort.

Gargling in recent years seems to have declined among the younger generation. Yet it can be one of the most effective means of combating sore throat due to a cold, and for the relief of minor throat irritations. Fortunately, it's not necessary to buy an expensive solution to accomplish this. Gargle with three to five aspirin tablets in one-third glass of warm water every two hours as necessary. For best results, let a little trickle down your throat and do not rinse the mouth.

Many doctors recommend this gargle after a tonsillectomy, when the throat is in a rather tender state.

Of course, anyone suffering a severe or prolonged sore throat, or one accompanied by high fever, headache or nausea, should consult a physician.

DO YOU JUST BELONG?

Are you an active member,
The kind that would be missed
Or are you just contented
That your name is on the list?

Do you attend the meetings,
And mingle with the crowd,
Or do you stay at home
And crab both long and loud?

Do you take an active part
To help the organization along,
Or are you satisfied to be
The kind to "Just Belong?"

Do you ever go to visit
A member who is sick,
Or leave the work to just a few
And talk about the clique?

There's quite a program scheduled
That means success if done,
And it can be accomplished
With the help of everyone.

So attend the meetings regularly
And help with hand and heart,
Don't be just a member
But take an active part.

Think this over, member
Are we right or are we wrong?
Are you an active member,
Or do you just belong?

'Leftover' Appliances Can Spoil New Kitchen

A new home deserves new kitchen appliances. Don't make the mistake of trying to economize by installing your old range, refrigerator, and dishwasher in your new house.

When you add the moving costs to the increasing service costs of aging appliances, you may find that the savings aren't great.

Most important, though, are the appearance and efficiency of your kitchen. The past few years have seen many improvements made in electric kitchen appliances. Because there are many more styles, colors and operating features available, it may take longer to make a choice, but you will be able to find just the right units for your individual taste and requirements. The new electric ranges, for instance, come in several basic styles - free-standing, compact "drop-in," separate built-in range top and wall ovens, and "console" with eye-level oven or double oven. Some have ovens at both eye-level and below the cook-top.

Various automatic features of the new electric ranges are designed to help you get better cooking results consistently with a minimum of fuss. Cleaning the new units is easy, too.

Today's electric refrigerator-freezers also come in a variety of styles, including new console or "break-front" models much like the eye-level ovens in appearance. Freezer sections may be at the top, the bottom, or beside the refrigerator section.

Thinner walls, made possible by an efficient foam-type of insulation, provide considerably more food storage space in a case that has the same exterior dimensions as an older unit. Shelf arrangement and special compartments make food storage easier and more efficient, and the old problem of ice cubes has been taken care of by cleverly designed trays and bins on some units and automatic ice makers on others.

The most-wanted improvement of many current refrigerator-freezers is the frostless feature which completely eliminates the messy job of defrosting.

New automatic dishwashers have been improved inside and out. Portable and convertible models are popular with apartment dwellers and families who don't want to change their kitchens. A built-in dishwasher is preferable in a new home.

This all-electric kitchen features latest console style refrigerator-freezer and range.

Washing power has been increased to eliminate hand-rinsing and more cycles have been added for special purposes such as scrubbing pots and pans, gently washing fine china and glassware, and rinsing and holding dishes for later washing. New rack designs make loading easier, and many models now can handle larger loads efficiently.

If a dishwasher isn't to be installed in a new home until later, a 24-inch cabinet should be put in the space where it will eventually be located. By having the plumbing and wiring for a built-in dishwasher roughed in now, along with the other plumbing and wiring, the cost of installing the dishwasher later will be kept to a minimum.

HOSPITALIZED Fritz Wurster is a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor where he underwent surgery last week Monday.

Have you ever stuffed a meat loaf? It's an excellent way to extend an already economical dish. First prepare your own special meat loaf mixture, using 1 1/2 pounds ground meat, and place half the mixture in a greased 4 1/2 x 8 1/2-inch loaf pan. Prepare your favorite stuffing recipe, using about 4 cups crumbled enriched bread, and spread over meat mixture. Cover with remaining meat and bake in preheated 350° oven 1 1/2 hours.

Summer Sidewalks in Winter's Snow

No matter how closely you look at the above picture, you will see no gremlins at work. The clear sidewalk bordered by snow-banks is an outgrowth of man's inventive nature, rather than the work of magic helpers.

Improved techniques and engineering skills have devised a steel pipe snow melting system. The sidewalk shown above boasts a built-in steel pipe snow melting system which allowed the walks to be snow-free within an hour after the storm had ceased.

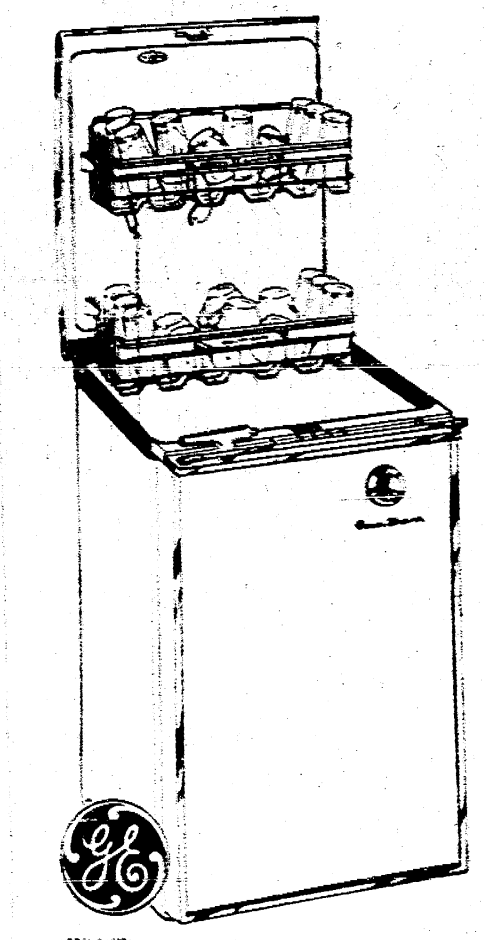

Actually, the operation of a snow melting system depends on a simple process. When new sidewalks are laid, grids of steel pipe are put onto the foundation base before the concrete is placed. Leaders from the steel pipe grids are extended from a boiler in the sign of snowfall, a switch is flicked which sends a steady flow of a heated anti-freeze solution through the grids embedded in the sidewalks. Thus, the snow melts away as it falls.

According to the Committee of Steel Pipe Producers, steel pipe snow melting systems are becoming a recognized necessity for densely populated sidewalks, as well as other areas. The success of the system in supplying economical and easy snow removal has led to its installation on the toll plazas of the Indiana Turnpike, the ramp approaches to the New York Port Authority Bus Terminal, and to many similar sites.

The steel pipe snow melting system has an additional built-in feature which has gained the respect of safety experts in all areas of our country; its ability to prevent numerous pedestrian skidding and slipping accidents.

1965 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

Advance payments again this year are available to growers signing up to participate in the feed grain program. Frank Light, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, has announced. Similar payments were available under the 1964 program.

Referring to the 1964 program, Mr. Light said, "There are some 34,663 Michigan farmers enrolled in the feed grain program in 1964 who diverted 599,334 acres from grain production. The feed grain program reduces over-production and places additional Michigan land in soil conservation and in natural wildlife habitat."

The advance payment will represent one-half of the estimated total diversion payment to be earned under the 1965 program. The balance of the diversion payment and all of the price-support payment earned under the program will be made next fall.

The 1965 feed grain program again covers corn, barley and sorghum. Participants in the program may qualify for a payment for diversion of eligible cropland to approved conserving uses. Each farm has a total feed grain base, representing the combined acreage of the three feed grains grown on the farm. A producer may divert one or more of the feed grains, and his diversion payment will be based on the per-acre rate which applies to the grain diverted.

Minimum diversion under the program is 20% of the total grain feed base; maximum diversion is 50 percent of the base or 25 acres if this is more.

While participation in the 1965 feed grain program is voluntary, the price support payments and loans as well as the diversion payments will be available only to growers who sign up and carry out the program's provision.

Sign-up for the program started Feb. 8 and will continue through March 26. The Washtenaw County ASCS daily office hours are 8:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Monday through Friday. ### Supervisors Block Annexation Vote

A special meeting of the County Board of Supervisors to reconsider placing the George V. Airey annexation proposal on the April election ballot proved fruitless as the question was left "on the table."

This was the final opportunity the board had to place the proposal on the April ballot.

Balloting on the question of removing the proposal from the table followed the "urban-rural" split of the board. Only Ann Arbor Township Supr. Chas. Stuart voted with the 15 representatives from Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. Two Saline board members voted with the township supervisors to help defeat the motion 21-16.

A week earlier at the regular meeting of the supervisors the board had tabled the question 17-16.

Airey had petitioned the board to set an election date on the question of annexing 245 acres of his land in Pittsfield Township to Ann Arbor. The property is south of his Lansdowne subdivision, bounded on the south by the I-94 Expressway.

Pittsfield Township is opposing the annexation because the area to be annexed contains township land that would be surrounded by the city. The township is claiming that formation of such "islands" is illegal, counting on the decision of a Kalamazoo circuit court judge.

Ann Arbor city board member John Reynolds, attempted to revive the matter after the motion to remove it from the table had failed, and said the board must act at some time to set an election date. He said that by tabling the matter the board had cost the taxpayers of Ann Arbor some $5,000, the price for a special election. He said the petition for annexation was proper and the board was obliged to act on it.

Reynolds asked some of the township supervisors to explain their position. No one answered. Board Chairman, Curt Will asked what had been gained by tabling the action. This question was not answered.

SCHOOL SAVINGS PROGRAM ENDORSED BY POSTMASTER

Postmaster Marvin Kirk said today that he had just been instructed by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski to extend all cooperation possible to students, educators, bankers, and others in promoting and serving the Treasury's School Savings program in Manchester.

"I am pleased to carry out Mr. Gronouski's instructions," he said, "because any program which stimulates young Americans to save these days, is for the good of the country and for themselves."

The School Savings Program during World War 11, he noted, provided one of the most effective instruments for teaching thrift and good citizenship.

An adequate supply of Savings Stamps and books and promotional material, he said, will be on hand to meet the needs of the students and the community in carrying out the Stamp Consignment plan.

The Stamp Consignment plan, has in the past, greatly eased the burden borne by our school systems. The plan eliminates the financing problems of the school savings program which our schools have had to handle.

ART EXHIBIT TO OPEN AT LIBRARY

At the Manchester Township Library Board meeting Monday night, plans were completed for the Young People's Art Exhibit which will open March 6. Mrs. Robert Kuhl is the instructor for these classes. The finale of the exhibit will be an Open House at the Library on March 28 from 3 to 6 p. m. Mrs. Richard Kuntz will be chairman. People are urged to drop in at the library each week during the show, since it is to be a rotating collection.

Due to requests from out the county residents who wish to use the library a new ruling was made to allow these people this privilege. An individual fee of $2.50 plus an initial fee of $2.50 for book loss (which will apply as the second year's fee if there are no losses) was recommended. A family fee of $5.00 with a similar $5.00 book-loss-fee may also be had.

The annual meeting of the library board will be March 29 at 8:00 at the library.

The Michigan State Library in Lansing has introduced a Periodical Program for all libraries in the state through the Library Services Construction Act. As a result 40 different magazines are now available at the local library. As usual the Reader's Guide is available for reference use for all of these. The magazine files are available for three years back for over twenty of the magazines.

County Digs Out From Record Snow; Clamps On Restrictions

At this time Washtenaw County is no longer plagued by snow clogged highways. But the threat of floods will keep men busy working on the roads.

Howard G. Minier, engineer-manager of the Washtenaw Road Commission said that last week's storm cost the county approximately $30,000.

"Now that we have a hole through on all roads in the county, our new problem will be water," Minier reported.

He warned that water causes real problems here and urges that rural residents lay in supplies of food and fuel as quickly as possible because of the record flooding of secondary roads. The engineer-manager looks for this to be a "real rough spring." Minier said the Road Commission plans to impose spring weight restrictions on all county roads at 6 a. m. Thursday.

No truck, tractor or tractor with trailer, nor any combination of such vehicles with a gross weight loaded or unladen in excess of 5,000 pounds should exceed a speed of 45 miles per hour, and this is to be reduced to 35 miles an hour during the period when reduced loadings are being enforced.

The maximum allowable gross axle loading between axles 9 feet or over is 13,700 pounds on concrete and 11,500 pounds on blacktop or gravel. When less than three and a half feet, the combined weight should not exceed 13,500 pounds. When spacing between axles is more than three and a half feet but less than nine feet the restrictions are 9,750 on concrete and 8,450 on blacktop or gravel.

Minier said he cannot over-emphasize the "tremendous community spirit" by the rural residents who worked with their tractors and plows of all types to help the Road Commission open the roads.

Their wonderful cooperation is surely to be commended and the Road Commission wants to publicly thank them all. They worked voluntarily last Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the mountainous snow removal job and often times helped to extricate commission trucks and plows that became stuck at the height of the emergency operation," he pointed out.

The important thing now seems to be general preparation and getting in supplies in the event of flooding or icy roads. The spokesman for the commission hopes that everyone will continue their fine spirit of cooperation in the weeks ahead.

During the storm the Road Commission was called on to clear out a road so that a patient could be taken to the hospital to have a broken arm set. They were also called by the State Police to help clear the road for the fire department to get through to the George Boomer farm on Burmeister Road.

The Road Commission spokesman said he expressed the feeling of the entire department when they say "thanks" to everyone who so willingly helped in the time of crisis.

It seemed to be the feeling of the commission that lower Michigan can look forward to a "very mugged spring."

To express this appreciation without asking for it is a blessing which was very much appreciated. It is one of the fine examples of community spirit and cooperativeness that Supt. Swartz has observed since coming to Manchester.

"Again, a hearty thanks to Bruce and the City Fathers," Mr. Swartz emphasized.
