For a little fellow, I used to have some pretty close calls. But I was lucky. When I was four, a wagon loaded with 50 bushels of wheat ran over me.

But the industrial scene has changed. Double A Products Co. which deals in hydraulics is now one of the most progressive divisions of Brown & Sharpe.

Mr. Watkins didn't like to ride bareback so it was John's job to ride to town whenever mother wanted mail or anything.

Mr. Watkins still has his report cards from the country schools he attended as a boy. They are much like a picture post card in gay colors, signed by the teacher and district superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. Watkins moved to Manchester in 1913, the year that many of the rivers overflowed their banks including the Raisin.

Mr. Watkins was a carpenter by trade and did a lot of this type of work in Manchester. He likes to tell about moving a building owned by the late Henry Ford.

PLANNING COMMISSION

Considering Hiring Village Planner

Manchester's Planning Commission agreed Monday that it will take steps to hire a village planner and instructed their secretary, Millard Uphaus to contact two to speak at the June 14 meeting.

Plans were set up for the commission to go to Farmington on Thursday, June 17 to study the type of planning in operation there.

It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that the group wanted to proceed objectively for the good of the community and hoped to be able to project some concrete facts and clear thinking.

The commission is new. It was suggested by Fred Leeman of Double A Products that "taking an engineering approach, first, the commission should state the problems, based on facts; then decide what we have to offer to a development program in --land, people and finances."

Leeman suggested that of prime importance would be the acquisition of a map of Manchester and asked to see one.

President Eugene Bentschneider said there was no such map available. Bentschneider said that, "Manchester is going to see growth and the principle interest in this commission is to see that it is handled in an orderly manner. We want to be able to select our new industries."

The village head also told the Planning Commission that there seems to be good news concerning the water supply of the village but did not elaborate.

Don Dorff cited the lack of housing as an important issue at this time. Others disagreed and said there is no problem.

Allen Schaffer told the group, "People in Manchester are satisfied with the town as it is but our street program sadly needs improvement. Only one street has a storm sewer."

Leeman suggested that it might be well to organize sub-committees to study the problems of the community in various areas and bring in other citizens to work with the Planning Commission on these committees. Action was deferred until the Commission visits Farmington.

Each of the Planning Commission members were given a booklet "A Citizen's Guide to Planning for Southeastern Michigan Municipalities" for their consideration.

This brochure is published in the public interest by the Area Development Division of the Detroit Edison Company.

In this publication is a questionnaire, "Rate Your Town". George Koda, publisher of the Manchester Enterprise offered to print the questionnaire in the paper in an effort to interest the general public in participating in the work of the local planning commission and to find out the thinking of the community.

The motion was made by Allen Schaffer and supported by Don Dorff to have the publisher print the page "Rate Your Town"

LETTER TO THE EDITOR... THE MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE

TO THE EDITOR:
Would you please, in your next issue, print the following letter:
To the Citizens of Manchester:
On Monday, May 17, 1965, Mayor Exchange Day, we paid a visit to your city. What a very enjoyable and impressive day it was. From the moment we arrived until we departed was spent doing something interesting and informative. We visited your industries and many other points of interest including your high school. The number of students in each class and the individual attention they are receiving impressed us very much.

Your welcome was heartwarming, your friendliness sincere and very much appreciated.

A special thanks to Chairman and Mrs. Ted Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Don Dorff for accompanying us throughout the day on our various ventures. Also to co-chairman and Mrs. Joe Fitzgerald and many other members of your local council for their generous hospitality.

We had a delicious lunch and dinner and would like to thank the representatives of the K of C, the businessmen, the Optimists, the Jaycees, and the school system for their kind words and considerations.

Our scrapbook is full of fond memories. The gifts you presented us will certainly be used and enjoyed for many years to come.

We are looking forward to visiting you again in July for that chicken dinner we have heard so much about. We are sure, if as much effort and warmth is put into this event as was put into our visit, the day is certain to be a tremendous success.

Thank you again for the hospitality, kindness and many courtesies extended to us.

Mayor and Mrs. James Wood.

CARD OF THANKS
I want to thank everyone who remembered me with cards, gifts, flowers and their visits during my stay in the hospital and since my return home. Special thanks to my neighbors, friends and relatives for their help. It was deeply appreciated.

PASTOR GIVEN PARTY AT CHURCH

Members and former members of the Bristol Methodist Church of Flint gave a farewell party for the Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Epps in the Manchester Fellowship Hall Sunday, May 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Epps knew a few families were coming for the morning service and bring a potluck, but didn't expect 64 for the worship service and potluck dinner.

Mrs. Betty Stoltenberg of Huron Street-Methodist Church at Flint instigated the idea and the news spread by the grape-vine.

Mr. and Mrs. Epps were very pleased that so many would make the 80 to 90 mile trip to town. A purse of money was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Epps by those who came and others who found it impossible to be present.

After dinner and a hymn sing and special music by former members of the Bristol choir, the last family started their trek home at 4:00 p. m. leaving Mr. and Mrs. Epps tired but very happy.

A second surprise for the Epps came at 7:00 p. m. Sunday when the Junior and Senior MYF held a lovely luncheon. Along with other invited guests this turned out to be a very pleasant evening and the pastor and his wife were presented with aluminum webbed folding rockers which they tried out.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Epps are very pleased that they were remembered so pleasantly.

FLYING KITES CAN BE DANGEROUS OBSERVE RULES. . . .

It's the missile season in Michigan, and our young spacemen will be on the launching pads all around the state by the thousands.

Meaning, kids will be flying kites. And they won't have nearly the trouble getting their missiles off the ground that the people down at Cape Kennedy frequently encounter.

Just about every Michigan countdown will end in the skyward soar of a colorful, though modest, man-made missile.

It's once they're up in the sky that kites become a problem. Not to any real or imaginary enemy, but to the children themselves, and sometimes to the power company.

According to Frank B. Adams, Division Manager of Consumers Power Co.'s Jackson Division, youngsters should observe the following rules of kite flying for their own personal safety's sake:

1. Always use dry string, not wire or anything metallic like gift wrapping ribbon.
2. Use no metal in kite construction.
3. Fly kites on days when it's not rainy or showery.
4. Keep off streets and highways.
5. Keep away from TV and other types of aerials.
6. Never fly a kite near any kind of power line.

If, he adds, your kite ends up in a tree or a wire, never climb up after it, because of the danger of falling.

Mr. Adams said kite flying is a joyful pastime if it's done safely, but still every year in Michigan alone there are one or two children who forget the rules and are hurt, sometimes seriously.

And that, he said, is when the game of kite flying becomes a case of playing with deadly missiles, which is no game at all.

JOLLY FARMERETTES HOLD MAY MEETING

The monthly business meeting of the Jolly Farmerettes was held at the Sharon town hall with members answering roll call by naming a color that begins with their last name.

SERVICE NOTES

Pvt. Guy E. Gilbert, son of the Harley E. Gilberts of 201 Wagner Ave., Manchester completed a personnel administration specialist course at the Army Armor Center, Ft. Knox, Ky., May 21. During the eight-week course Gilbert received instruction in Army administrative procedures and in the operation of various business machines.

The 21-year-old soldier entered the Army in January 1965 and completed the basic training at Fort Knox.

Gilbert is a 1961 graduate of Manchester High School and was employed by the Ford Motor Co., Rawsonville, before entering the Army.

Memorial Day

MAIN STREET

School buses left early Wednesday afternoon after school was dismissed early when Manchester was alerted for a possible tornado and one was reportedly seen in this area. There were periods of high winds and rains but no serious damage resulted.

Two dens of Cub Scouts toured the Manchester Enterprise office last week to see the photo-offset equipment works.

The local Optimists can be proud of their two scrapbook awards. President Ed Kirk and his wife attended the 24th annual Michigan District Conventions at Traverse City.

Ed said he figured that the Optimist Scrap Book which he entered had small chance with the 49 others. Some of them were inches thick. This was the first time that the local club had entered a Scrap Book.

But you can't judge the value of any book by the size. This was very evident. Ed walked off with two prizes--The Book took first for money making projects and also first for participation in Civic affairs.

Working with Ed on the Scrap Book committee were L. V. Kirk, Ted Tapping and George Koda. He also mentioned that credit should be given to Mrs. Koda whose ability to assemble the book and her help in organizing it "probably had a lot to do with our winning the prizes."

Head of the Scrap Book District Committee was Claude Moreshouse. Congratulations, Ed!

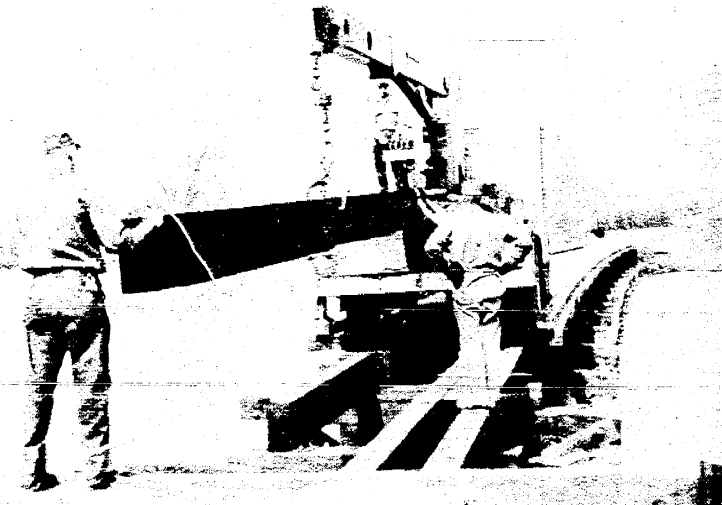

We also heard by the grapevine that publisher Koda doesn't win every time. He was fined twenty-five cents at the annual Jaycee Inaugural Ball Saturday night. He had promised delivery of the programs for Friday but didn't deliver until Saturday afternoon.

But the Editor said he felt that it was quite an honor to be recognized by that elite group--even to be fined. He has never been a member or affiliated with the Jaycees in any way before.

The local publisher notes that it might be well at this time to let the people of this community know that he had nothing to do with the publishing of the story on Manchester which was a full page spread in the Ann Arbor News, as that publication, paid special tribute to each city and village in Washtenaw during Michigan Week. He was not consulted--although there is a story being circulated that he promoted it. He nor any on the staff of the Enterprise knew the story was being printed.

If people in the village are wondering what the man might be doing as he walks around on the roof of the Double A Products--he does have a definite job. He is a spotter for any tornado which might be in the area.

Fashion Creates Function In Kitchen
by LOUISE ALLEN

Since new cookware and other utensils are desired to be seen as well as cooked in, everything can be on view and close at hand in today's kitchen. Of course, you wouldn't dress up in a new costume and bonnet, then hide your finery in a closet. Don't hide your cookware in a cupboard when it's not in use. On display, practical utensils become decoratives, setting the kitchen motif.

For example, gay colors and graceful lines of Club Aluminum porcelain-finished sauce pans and Dutch oven may play "accessory" in the manner of a fruit bowl, when filled with the deep purple of an egg plant, the red of Spanish onions or Zucchini greens.

Another bright touch to cheer up any kitchen area: Line up vari-sized covers of your cookware set to form a row of colorful discs above a sideboard, sink or shelf.

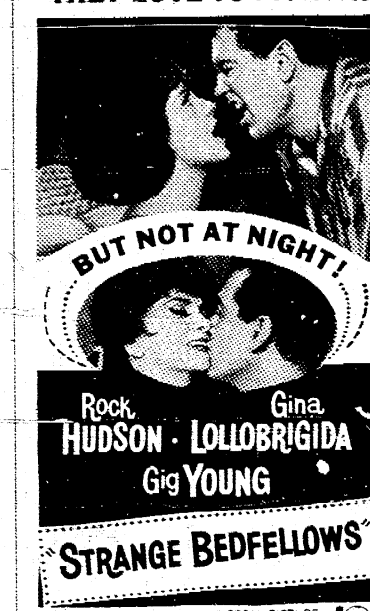

Large copper molds in food or fish shapes make eye-catching wall hangings, too. Another idea: Find a wall plaque that will provide a contrasting background for the "black magic" spoon and spatula kitchen mates of solid Teflon. These utensil-decoratives will make the kitchen a fashionable, more efficient place in which to spend your cooking hours.

FAMILY SERVICE ORGANIZES HERE

"Manchester Family Service" is the name of the volunteer group of local people who believe that this village has a need for a coordinated emergency help program. Prior to this time, people in the area needing temporary help have been pretty much on their own to obtain it through whatever agency they were lucky enough to interest.

The purpose of the newly formed organization is to be of temporary assistance in all area emergencies such as fire, accident and disaster; to be of temporary aid to hardship cases to assist when possible in advising county and state aid for such cases; and to be a source of reference and assistance to existing governmental and social agencies.

The membership of the organization includes contributing members of the Manchester Area United Community Chest and Red Cross Drive and residents of this area. Membership qualifications are the individual's interest in volunteer people-to-people service in the area.

The Family Service was organized at this time in order to apply to Community Chest in time to be included in the new budget. Those who have worked helping people in the area who have needed temporary help of one kind or another told a representative group at the organizational meeting that to date this year 21 adults and 55 children in 14 families have been assisted through welfare agencies.

Just how extensively these people were helped could not be determined but the prime concern of this new group will be to provide temporary transportation for people to get to doctors, clinics and for assistance in Ann Arbor. Before the Manchester program was set up a representative group from a similar UNITED FAMILY SERVICE in Dexter came here and explained how that community has worked since 1958.

The women explained that, "We are a referral agency and act only upon the request from the party or parties concerned." They said they have helped to furnish clothing, furniture, food and medical aid and have acted as liaison between persons requesting help and another agency such as Children's Aid, Salvation Army and In Dexter the meetings are held the third Monday of the month and are open to the public. Mrs. F. M. Reck, who was named temporary chairman, was told to select a nine member Board of Directors from names suggested to her at the organizational meeting. On the Board are Mrs. Mearl Armstrong, Mrs. Eugene Bentschneider, Clarence Fielder, Burrill Hansen, Mrs. Paul Kappeler, Mrs. William Purfield, Mrs. Norman Randall, Mrs. F. M. Reck and Mrs. Ruth Sott. The Board will meet at 8:00 p.m. Tuesday, June 1 to elect officers and to vote for officers.
