The racers this past week end were racing at about 150 miles an hour.

WE GET LETTERS...

The Editor Manchester Enterprise Manchester, Michigan

Dear Sir: At the annual meeting of the Humane Society of Washtenaw County, a resolution of thanks to the Manchester Enterprise for its support of the work of the Society was passed unanimously, and I was instructed by the members to convey the warm gratitude of the Humane Society to you.

Sincerely, H. M. Lloyd Corresponding Secretary

Grass Lake, Mich. June 7, 1965

Dear Editor: It was with great interest that I read the "Report Card" in the May 27th issue of the Enterprise.

Having attended nearly every basketball game and many other school functions held in the present High School Gym, only at Graduation exercises has every available seat been taken.

This gives us to the question, "Is it Necessary to Add To The Seating Capacity of the Gym At This Time?"

In the past we have prided ourselves in Manchester on our short term indebtedness and the favorable interest rate on bonds obtained thereby.

Why is the new addition to run for 26 years? Has our thinking changed or have the Bonding Companies become more favorable to the tying up of their money for longer terms?

It was but a short while ago that the Pleasant Lake School wasn't being filled by students of that area so Sharon Township students were transferred there.

Has the Pleasant Lake area grown enough to warrant an addition there at this time? If the students are to be transferred there to fill the addition, will it be on a voluntary basis from the entire district or will some be sent there, "period"?

As a Sharon Township tax payer I shall say that in the past I have supported nearly all of the District's bond issues and additional millage requests for operations.

I cannot go along with the present proposition (2) to be voted on June 14th. There are too many questions unanswered in my mind at this time.

I would add that I will wholeheartedly support proposition 1 for extra millage to operate our present plant. I urge everyone to vote YES on PROPOSITION 1 and vote NO on the bonding issue, PROPOSITION 2, at this time.

Sincerely, Herb Jacob, Grass Lake, Michigan

Citizenship is the major theme of Boys' State and citizens will be informed on the duties of citizenship as well as duties of city, county and state officials.

Questionnaires have been sent to each boy asking that a choice of the office which he would like to run for be made. After arrival at the campus, the boys will have an opportunity to meet and talk with officials in government now holding respective offices.

REV. EPPS RETIRES
Minister Recaps Early Years

by Marie Schneider

Rev. Jesse Epps expects to preach his last sermon at the Manchester Methodist Church Sunday, June 20 after 43 years in the ministry. Retirement of the local pastor will be confirmed when the Detroit annual conference convenes June 16 to 20th.

The minister says he doubts if many today would want to undertake the obstacles which confronted him when he decided to be a minister.

Possibly his early life, and the hardships he decided he could master helped him to be better prepared for his life's work. He was left an orphan by his mother's death when he was only 12 years old. His father died when he was nine. One of six children, he worked for board and clothes for farmers and tried to go to school at the same time.

In the eighth grade he gave up trying to attend classes and went to work for a farmer at 50¢ a day "shucking corn." He explained he had to earn money.

Ten years later, with a wife and two children, the couple was converted at a revival meeting at Blakeman, Kansas at a 2 x 12ft. board recitation bench used for an altar in the school house where the meeting was held.

"My life was so changed," he explained, "that it seemed there was a constant tug at my soul that I couldn't get away from. Although I could think of many reasons why I couldn't enter the ministry, very soon I decided I'd have to overcome them."

His grandfather, Newton C. Epps, whom he remembers seeing only once was a Baptist minister. Epps Township, Howell County Missouri was named for him.

Churchmen helped and Rev. Epps became pastor of a church at Lyle, Kansas April 9, 1922. It was plain that he would have to continue his education. He found it to be a sudden change from working on the rail road as a section hand. That first appointment paid $1200 a year.

He was moved to a church at Ruleton, Kansas in 1925 to be near enough to Goodland so he could drive ten miles to the high school there.

Mr. Epps chuckles as he recalls enrolling at the high school. The parish at Ruleton, to which he would be assigned in October was being supplied by another minister. So for five weeks, after school opened until he could take over he stayed in the Methodist Church basement at Goodland. He prepared his own meals and went to school. On the weekends Mrs. Epps would drive over and take him home.

Home, for the minister and his family was the basement of an old building where the roof leaked and the water trickled through the building into the basement. Buckets were placed around to catch the rain.

To add to his problems the new pastor was asked to build a parsonage. Money was scarce in the farming community. The members were friendly and generous with what they had. Rev. Epps asked for pledges of wheat to help with the building. One farmer pledged 14 acres and eight offered ten. Others offered what they could. When the wheat was sold the treasury had $1,549. The new parsonage cost $2,310. The balance was donated in labor.

It took three years for Rev. Epps to graduate from High School. The road to becoming an ordained minister was not an easy one. He was ordained a Deacon on Sept. 23, 1928 and an Elder October 4, 1931.

When he attended Kansas Wesleyan University he preached at Bennington, Kansas and his salary was $750 in his senior year.

The family sold most of their possessions at auction when the minister registered at Garrett Biblical Institute at Evanston, Illinois. The few family keepsakes were piled on a four-wheeled trailer which Rev. Epps had made and the family was off to Davis where he was installed as pastor. This was near enough for him to attend Garrett Seminary.

After ten years of schooling and 16 years of preaching he was appointed to a two church circuit at Bessemer and Wakefield in the Upper Peninsula. Ironically the salary was the same as when he received his first Kansas appointment—$1200. This was caused by the depression.

The people of the mining community were English and Finnish. His main job was to rebuild a church which had burned down. Twenty-two feet of snow was recorded that winter. It didn't pay to attempt to clean the walls and the people walked in the streets.

"It was a sudden change from the farming communities of the west. But a good experience. The new frame church (when completed) was heartwarming with the white enamel pews and pulpit," Rev. Epps said.

During the war he was assigned to the TB Sanitorium at Gaylord. Mrs. Epps worked as a pastry cook and remembers that the temperature dipped to 28 degrees below zero the first day on her job.

Rev. Epps served four other appointments before coming to Manchester in June 1959.

"If I had my life to live over, I'd still want to be a minister. Much credit should be given to my wife. Without her understanding I'd never have been able to keep up my work and go to school at the same time. We'll miss Manchester," the minister reflected.

The couple plan to leave June 22 for Clearwater, Florida to live near their son Dan. D. Epps and family. They also have one daughter, Mrs. Julius Szabo of Detroit.

County Problems To Be Discussed

Six counties will join Washnaw County Board of Supervisors on June 24 when they will discuss reapportionment of county Boards of Supervisors, taxation and county responsibilities for juveniles.

The morning session at 10:30 a. m. will be opened by Russell Hughes of Bridgewater Township, chairman of the Washnaw Board.

Supr. Curt H. Will of Ann Arbor will speak on adoption of the 18-mill taxing limitation last November. He was chairman of the county board when Washnaw became the first county to take advantage of the state constitutional provision permitting substitution of the 18-mill limit with fixed allocations to each unit for the 15-mill limitation with allocations to each unit being decided annually by a board.

Dr. Arthur Beamage, University professor of political science who specializes in local government will discuss the reapportionment of county boards at the luncheon session.

A citizen's suit started in Washnaw is one of three pending court cases in the state calling for reapportionment of the county legislative bodies along the same lines that the U. S. Supreme Court has laid down for State Legislatures.

A Michigan Supreme Court decision on a case from Kent County is expected to be announced in October. This decision will apply to all boards in the state. The Kent County case is on appeal from the Circuit Court of that county, which held that supervisors must be selected from districts as nearly equal in population as possible.

Also on the agenda will be a talk by James Hunt, director of juvenile services for Oakland County, who will speak on county responsibilities in this area. Oakland County's services and facilities are considered outstanding in the state and are being studied by Mrs. Robert D. Vinter, director of Project 74. This is a study project designed to assess future needs for juvenile court services in Washnaw and recommending methods of meeting the needs. Following the reapportionment discussion, a report on the activities of the current State Legislature will be given by William E. Dennison, executive secretary of the State Association of Supervisors.

Counties which will be represented at the June 24 meeting are Jackson, Monroe, Lenawee, Calhoun, Branch and Hillsdale.

At 5:15 to 5:45 the Bookmobile will be at Heiber Road at Rice's residence and from 6:00 to 6:45 p. m. at Mann's Elevator at Bridgewater.

MEMORIAL STONE SETTLED IN NEW HOME AT PARK

Mrs. M. H. Wolfe, chairman of the MOMs Committee says that her committee has completed the work involved when the Memorial Stone for World War II had to be hoisted from the Main Street Park overlooking the Raisin to make room for the parking lot for the corner grocery.

The Memorial Stone was moved to Wurster Park in front of the Township Library during the parking lot improvement program.

Mrs. Wolfe says that the Carr Park Commission bought and donated a new flag and posts and chains have been used to improve the appearance of the park area.

Mrs. Wolfe wishes to thank all the members of the various committees for their work so that on Memorial Day the MOMs and the Legion Auxiliary were able to place wreaths and flowers for the services held there.

MRS. CATHEY TOASTS CLASS OF '15

The toast given by Gaita Waters Cathey at the Saturday Alumni reunion of the class of '15 is reprinted here believing that many would be interested in reading it - if they were unable to attend the reunion.

"I didn't inherit my father's love for speech making, political rallies and parades, so when Taylor asked me to toast the Class of '15, he promised to help me in any way he could. I took the task without hesitation, thinking it would be simple. However, that was the last I heard from Taylor! My family at home flatly turned me down saying I had taken the job, now do it. I had one other outlet, so I wrote to my son, Forrest who is an air force Major in Germany, and he promptly replied, 'Mother, I just can't imagine you ever telling a joke and any I might send you from over here at the base just wouldn't ever do for an alumni banquet!'"

"Whitney, you live just 3 miles from me but I see you less often than when you were in the city running your grocery store. Do you ever miss the lady who came in every morning to smell the cheese and nibble a cracker, and on going out purchased a pint of milk? No, I don't believe you do; you are content with your new retired life, a lovely life, home garden and lawn. Whit had one customer who always bought eggs. She arrived one morning early and said, 'In that last dozen eggs, there were three bad ones.' Whit said, 'Bring 'em back and I'll make 'em back and I'll make 'em good!'"

Can you thin back for a time when you and I were partners in the physics lab. experiment work? How we were able to work the experiments alright, but could ever work the problems afterwards? We always let Guy do that. Prof. Smith was a prince. He made us toe the mark and we loved him for it. To this day, I wonder some times how he really pulled all 15 of us through.

"There were 15 members graduating in 1915, five boys and ten girls. Due to ill health, we lost Leroy Marx in our junior year, but gained Carl Schaible, so we retained our number. Three of the members soon went into military service - Guy, Bill and Carl. Of the girls, Edith, Helen, Marie, Ruth, Anna and Frances were all teachers. All members of the class married within a few years, and to my best knowledge, there are 23 children among the group represented.

As for the five boys in the class, Guy Tracy, after serving his country in the Rainbow Division, returned to Detroit, and at the time of his death in 1956 was chief statistician for the unemployment compensation Bureau of Michigan.

Bill Chase, after military service, worked under civil service for the Jackson Post Office, He passed away in 1947. Carl Schaible owned and operated the Ford Garage here in Manchester for many years. He died in December of 1964.

Whitney owned and operated a grocery store with his brother, Clare in Jackson for a long time, and has now settled in this community.

Taylor began selling insurance many years ago; has made his home in Ann Arbor for a long time. He has been very successful in his work and has won many honors. In fact, when Taylor first took over the insurance business, he was most anxious to be a success. He decided a house to house canvass would be the thing. He started out, the first house he came to there was a little boy playing on the sidewalk. "Hi, Sonny, is your mother at home?"

"Yes, Sir, my ma's always home."

Taylor went up to the door and knocked but no one came. He finally gave up and said to the little boy, "I thought your mother was always home."

"Oh, she is, but we live three houses down!"

Another time in adjusting a claim, Taylor said, "We won't pay you any money, but we will replace your car."

"Well, that's alright in this case, but if that's the way you do things, I want to cancel the policy on my wife!"

Two of the girls have left the group through death: Edith Sutton Fielder - in June of 1918 and Helen Rehfus Jones in May of 1946.

Lula Lehman Gurne makes her home in Ann Arbor and Marguerite Wiedel Woodward lives in Santa Maria, Calif. There is no record of the whereabouts of Pearl Coleman Cossard.

"There has been a feeling of content in our lives. We were taught with strict discipline, both at home and at school. We knew the meaning of the three 'R's' although not much biology. But we all did have three squares every day with clean, wholesome living. Content to do the things we were brought up to do and not flinch when things we had to face from time to time confronted us. Content with the lives we have led and not wanting to retrace a single day, month or year of it, in the hope it might have been different. Content to go ahead in the future we have left with the smae determination. Content to slow down a bit and prize the good fortune we have had in family, friends and health, and come what may, our early environment has made us ready to accept it. Content and so happy for the country we are privileged to live in and hope and pray we won't have to know the horror of another world war."

"Isn't it strange that princes and kings, And clowns that caper in saw dust rings, And common folks like you and me Are really builders of eternity?"

Each is given a bag of tools. A shapeless mass, and a book of rules, And each must make, ere life has flown, A stumbling block or a stepping stone."

POSTMASTER GOES TO CHICAGO

Acting postmaster and Mr. Marvin Kirk were in Chicago recently for four days. While there Mr. Kirk attended the Regional School for Acting Postmasters.

There were 21 Postmasters from Michigan and Illinois staying at the Palmer House.

Classes were held in the world's largest post office, with the 12 floors covering 65 acres.

Director of the school was Henry Porter and among the instructors was Regional Controller Donald Swanson.

They were given intensive study in the operation of the Post Office Department.

A tour of the Chicago Post Office was held for the postmasters and their wives. There they could see the Mark 11 in operation.

This machine is capable of cancelling a letter regardless of the position in which it is placed on the machine. The operation was carried out faster than the eye could follow. There are 18 of these machines in the Chicago Post Office. It is expected that soon the large post offices will have machines capable of sorting letters and packages by the zip number. The speed with which your future mail will move will depend on the carrying the Zip Code.

AIR CONDITIONING PLAN CHILLED

Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors received bids at the June 8th meeting on the cost of air conditioning the court house. No action was taken because the board wanted to study the problem further, agreeing that even the lowest figured bid was too high for them to consider at this time, according to Manchester Supervisor Clayton Felt.

Lee Beards, Supv. of Time Township was named to the 45 man Planning Group of the State River Watershed and Supv. Russell Hoopes, Ch. of the Washtenaw Board of Supervisors will represent the County at large on the same committee.

TEENAGERS TOPIC AT BPW MEETING

"Teenagers and what one community is doing to help them, it was the topic of Homer Bennett of Dexter at a meeting of Business and Professional Women.

The meeting was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Lu-Verne Armstrong on Monday evening. He is a volunteer and director of the Dexter Youth Club.

Bennett told the group that the village of Dexter had no special program for teenagers until 1963. It was after a teenage dance that he suggested that it might be possible to form a club.

Fifty attended the organizational meeting for eighth, ninth and tenth graders and elected officers. Seven adults started to work with them.

"Now," Bennett said, "there are over a hundred members and 11 adults helping supervise. The officers are from the tenth grade."

The first problem which confronted the group was a meeting place. An old building belonging to the village was offered. The size was 20 x 24 feet. The youths helped to put in a new cement floor with adult supervision. The next project was to put siding on the building to make it more presentable.

The club members earned the money themselves by putting on dances and doing work of all kinds. There is no paid personnel. The club is not financed by any group and there is "no hand out from the community chest or any other organization." The club earns its money and also contributes to the community," Bennett said.

This group of young people is noted for the money they raised for the March of Dimes. When they have parties at their club they bring their own food.

There is a coke machine in the building and the profits from this are turned back into the club. Members find it an excellent place to go in their spare time. They plan hay rides, hot dog roasts and dances and parties.

"Of real importance," the speaker said, "is to make the teenagers feel that they are necessary to the community. They must be given responsibility, which they are glad to shoulder. They like to feel that they are needed and that they can contribute something worthwhile to the community."

In Dexter, the group governs itself. There is not always adult supervision. The Business and Professional Women agreed that Manchester has a need for some such type of program for its youth.

One of the club members, Mrs. Ethel Griffin left this week on a eight week trip to Europe with her sister.

BPW delegates to the State Convention in Lansing are Mrs. Gertrude Fielder, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Otto Timmerman. The next meeting will be held at Carr Park on July 12 with a potluck supper with Mrs. John Walz the chairman of that meeting.

NOTES FROM IRON CREEK CHURCH

The Iron Creek Daily Vacation Bible School will start June 21 and conclude June 25 with classes from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

Included in the group will be classes for pre-kindergarten through Junior high. Children's Promotion Day will be Sunday, June 27 with the program at 10 a. m. There will be no morning worship service.

SCHOOL ELECTION RESULTS

In the largest school election in recent years Manchester voters approved 388 to 219 in favor of a 3 mills tax levy for one year for operating expenses for the school. This will provide additional funds for operating expenses.

On the bond issue only property owners could vote. The voters turned down the proposal to borrow $750,000 in school construction bonds in a vote of 347 against the proposition to 241 in favor of the proposition. The bonding proposition called for remodeling the high school building and erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to it and erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the Pleasant Lake Elementary School; remodeling the Intermediate Building; acquiring additional land for site purposes and developing and improving sites.

Dan J. Boutell whose term of office on the school board had expired was reelected by a vote of 563. His post was uncontested. Prior to this time Manchester voters had approved four other bond issues.

Trips Are Fun For Grothe Family

-by Marie Schneider

The Walter Grothe family has left on a 10-day trip—an even dozen of them. But this does not include all of the family. The two oldest boys, Dave 20 and Bill 18, who just started a new summer job, didn't go. Dave works at the Rawsonville Ford Plant.

The Grothes, who live at 4455 Lima Center Road, plan to be in Badger in northern Minnesota on Sunday, June 20 for the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. Grothe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Grothe.

It will be a long time before the Grothe clan will all be together again because Walter's brother and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Grothe and six children of Badger, will be leaving later in the month as Lutheran missionaries to Brazil, South America. Another brother, Dallis of Spokane, Washington has five children and they too, are planning to be in Minnesota for the golden celebration.

Some people would be dizzy worrying about plans for such a trip—but the Grothes couldn't be any happier. They enjoy their large family. Although they had nine children of their own, they decided to add three foster children to make an even dozen.

Mrs. Grothe said they heard about the need for foster homes at their church, St. Mary's Catholic Church in Manchester and thought it was a chance in a lifetime to realize their dream.

It probably is a good thing that Mr. Grothe is a brick layer. Several years ago the family found a place in the country where they decided to build a home to conveniently house their large family. Mr. Grothe didn't contemplate at that time that the family would grow to 12 children. But as the family grew, so did the home. Rooms have been added when necessary to the split level house.

The large garden gives the older children a chance to apply themselves and they all enjoy watching the garden grow. "This is a real necessity to a large family today. We just couldn't manage without it," Mrs. Grothe said. There is plenty of room for the children to play in their own large yard.

The older ones take a real pleasure "looking after the little ones. Sometimes we are afraid they will be spoiled. We have forgotten that there are adopted. We love them all the same," the brown eyed mother explained.

When asked if they could all gather around for a picture Mrs. Grothe said it was impossible for everyone to be on hand for one at this time. "Why don't you wait until later. We are planning to go to New Jersey late in the summer. Maybe everyone can go then."

It was apparent that they didn't want anything but a complete picture with everyone present. While most mothers would be at their wits end just contemplating getting five or six children ready, Betty Grothe just smiled and said that everyone in a large family assumes responsibilities. It's everyone's job to pack. She believes that children today do not have enough responsibility. Someone is always trying to help them instead of showing children that they are dependable and can be trusted to carry their share of the load.

Taking trips is not new. They purchased a bus-like car when they outgrew their station wagon. All the children can still take trips and vacations together.

Mrs. Grothe's father lives in Florida so at Christmas time it's not uncommon to load everyone in the "bus-like vehicle and go to see grandpa. The children love it and so do we. In most towns we visit there are more than one relative and we just split up and stay—three or four in a place."

They were planning to stop off at motels enroute to Minnesota. Sometimes they cook out while on their trips.

The mother of this brood has a keen sense of humor and says that one incident she will always remember is when they stopped off at a dairy queen in a small town. Just as everyone was lining up to be served, along came the publisher of the small town newspaper.

"What's this?" he asked, "Taking everyone from a Sunday School picnic out for ice cream?"

Then the Grothes explained it was just a "family picnic and we were from Michigan."

"Just don't one of you move from here, until I can get back with my camera," the publisher called, "I've waited a lifetime for a chance like this."

The Grothes treasure the small town newspaper which shows them lined up for ice cream. This was the only time that they were ever confused with a Sunday School picnic.

The names of the children are: David, Bill Mary, Connie, Paul, Mark, Nancy, Bryan, Dorothy, Mike, Arnold and Therese. They range in age from four to twenty. Bill has enrolled at the University of Michigan and will begin in September. Dave, a graduate of Manchester High School is employed at Ford's Rawsonville Plant.

It seemed a shame that we were unable to understand the speakers. It was impossible to hear the alumni officers talk—although I added a new battery to my hearing aid.

As a taxpayer of many years, and always progressive in school matters I am surprised that this matter had not been given more attention.

In any event similar to the 1965 alumni I would suggest to the Board of Education that they add to their agenda the words—LOUD SPEAKER so that all present at school functions will be able to understand the speakers.

My brother Julius of Great Falls Montana, Class of '15 and my daughter Gladys of Benton Harbor, Class of '31" came to attend the 1965 alumni reunion.

This was the first time in a number of years that I attended and after a most wonderful banquet, when the program began I was disappointed. In this age of adequate loud speaking equipment

Thirteen-year-old Gary Stautz placed second in the IGA contest. He tallied up 73,296 votes and kept Richard Hosmer on his toes all the way. Store owner, Jay Lantis, makes it possible for local boys to annually compete to win an expense-paid trip to California.
