

POSTMASTER GOES TO CHICAGO

Acting postmaster and Mr. Marvin Kirk were in Chicago recently for four days. While there Mr. Kirk attended the Regional School for Acting Postmasters.

There were 21 Postmasters from Michigan and Illinois staying at the Palmer House.

Classes were held in the world's largest post office, with the 12 floors covering 65 acres.

Director of the school was Henry Porter and among the instructors was Regional Controller Donald Swanson.

They were given intensive study in the operation of the Post Office Department.

A tour of the Chicago Post Office was held for the postmasters and their wives. There they could see the Mark 11 in operation.

This machine is capable of cancelling a letter regardless of the position in which it is placed on the machine. The operation was carried out faster than the eye could follow. There are 18 of these machines in the Chicago Post Office. It is expected that soon the purge post office will have machines capable of sorting letters and packages by the zip number. The speed with which your future mail will move will depend on the carrying the Zip Code.

AIR CONDITIONING PLAN CHILLED

Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors received bids at the June 8th meeting on the cost of air conditioning the court house. No action was taken because the board wanted to study the problem further, agreeing that even the lowest figured bid was too high for them to consider at this time, according to Manchester Supervisor Clayton Felt.

John Crumiller was appointed by the Freedom Township Board to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of Edward Schaffke, Freedom Supervisor. Miller was elected Tuesday.

Lee Beards, Supv. of Time Township was named to the 45 man Planning Group of the Union River Watershed and Supv. Russell Hoopes, Ch. of the Washtenaw Board of Supervisors will represent the County at large on the same committee.

TEENAGERS TOPIC AT BPW MEETING

"Teenagers and what one community is doing to help them, it was the topic of Homer Bennett of Dexter at a meeting of Business and Professional Women.

The meeting was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Lu-Verne Armstrong on Monday evening. He is a volunteer and director of the Dexter Youth Club.

Bennett told the group that the village of Dexter had no special program for teenagers until 1963. It was after a teenage dance that he suggested that it might be possible to form a club.

Fifty attended the organizational meeting for eighth, ninth and tenth graders and elected officers. Seven adults started to work with them.

"Now," Bennett said, "there are over a hundred members and 11 adults helping supervise. The officers are from the tenth grade."

The first problem which confronted the group was a meeting place. An old building belonging to the village was offered. The size was 20 x 24 feet. The youths helped to put in a new cement floor with adult supervision. The next project was to put siding on the building to make it more presentable.

The club members earned the money themselves by putting on dances and doing work of all kinds. There is no paid personnel. The club is not financed by any group and there is "no hand out from the community chest or any other organization." The club earns its money and also contributes to the community," Bennett said.

This group of young people is noted for the money they raised for the March of Dimes. When they have parties at their club they bring their own food.

There is a coke machine in the building and the profits from this are turned back into the club. Members find it an excellent place to go in their spare time. They plan hay rides, hot dog roasts and dances and parties.

"Of real importance," the speaker said, "is to make the teenagers feel that they are necessary to the community. They must be given responsibility, which they are glad to shoulder. They like to feel that they are needed and that they can contribute something worthwhile to the community."

In Dexter, the group governs itself. There is not always adult supervision. The Business and Professional Women agreed that Manchester has a need for some such type of program for its youth.

One of the club members, Mrs. Ethel Griffin left this week on a eight week trip to Europe with her sister. BPW delegates to the State Convention in Lansing are Mrs. Gertrude Fielder, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Otto Timmerman. The next meeting will be held at Carr Park on July 12 with a potluck supper with Mrs. John Walz the chairman of that meeting.

NOTES FROM IRON CREEK CHURCH

The Iron Creek Daily Vacation Bible School will start June 21 and conclude June 25 with classes from 9:30 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

Included in the group will be classes for pre-kindergarten through Junior high. Children's Promotion Day will be Sunday, June 27 with the program at 10 a. m. There will be no morning worship service.

SCHOOL ELECTION RESULTS

In the largest school election in recent years Manchester voters approved 388 to 219 in favor of a 3 mills tax levy for one year for operating expenses for the school. This will provide additional funds for operating expenses.

On the bond issue only property owners could vote. The voters turned down the proposal to borrow $750,000 in school construction bonds in a vote of 347 against the proposition to 241 in favor of the proposition. The bonding proposition called for remodeling the high school building and erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to it and erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the Pleasant Lake Elementary School; remodeling the Intermediate Building; acquiring additional land for site purposes and developing and improving sites.

Dan J. Boutell whose term of office on the school board had expired was reelected by a vote of 563. His post was uncontested.

Prior to this time Manchester voters had approved four other bond issues.

Trips Are Fun For Grothe Family

-by Marie Schneider

The Walter Grothe family has left on a 10-day trip—an even dozen of them. But this does not include all of the family. The two oldest boys, Dave 20 and Bill 18, who just started a new summer job, didn't go. Dave works at the Rawsonville Ford Plant.

The Grothes, who live at 4455 Lima Center Road, plan to be in Badger in northern Minnesota on Sunday, June 20 for the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. Grothe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Grothe.

It will be a long time before the Grothe clan will all be together again because Walter's brother and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Grothe and six children of Badger, will be leaving later in the month as Lutheran missionaries to Brazil, South America. Another brother, Dallis of Spokane, Washington has five children and they too, are planning to be in Minnesota for the golden celebration.

Some people would be dizzy worrying about plans for such a trip—but the Grothes couldn't be any happier. They enjoy their large family. Although they had nine children of their own, they decided to add three foster children to make an even dozen.

Mrs. Grothe said they heard about the need for foster homes at their church, St. Mary's Catholic Church in Manchester and thought it was a chance in a lifetime to realize their dream.

It probably is a good thing that Mr. Grothe is a brick layer. Several years ago the family found a place in the country where they decided to build a home to conveniently house their large family. Mr. Grothe didn't contemplate at that time that the family would grow to 12 children. But as the family grew, so did the home. Rooms have been added when necessary to the split level house.

The large garden gives the older children a chance to apply themselves and they all enjoy watching the garden grow. "This is a real necessity to a large family today. We just couldn't manage without it," Mrs. Grothe said. There is plenty of room for the children to play in their own large yard.

The older ones take a real pleasure "looking after the little ones. Sometimes we are afraid they will be spoiled. We have forgotten that these are adopted. We love them all the same," the brown eyed mother explained.

When asked if they could all gather around for a picture Mrs. Grothe said it was impossible for everyone to be on hand for one at this time. "Why don't you wait until later. We are planning to go to New Jersey late in the summer. Maybe everyone can go then."

It was apparent that they didn't want anything but a complete picture with everyone present. While most mothers would be at their wits end just contemplating getting five or six children ready, Betty Grothe just smiled and said that everyone in a large family assumes responsibilities. It's everyone's job to pack. She believes that children today do not have enough responsibility. Someone is always trying to help them instead of showing children that they are dependable and can be trusted to carry their share of the load.

Taking trips is not new. They purchased a bus-like car when they outgrew their station wagon. All the children can still take trips and vacations together.

Mrs. Grothe's father lives in Florida so at Christmas time it's not uncommon to load everyone in the "bus-like vehicle and go to see grandpa. The children love it and so do we. In most towns we visit there are more than one relative and we just split up and stay—three or four in a place."

They were planning to stop off at motels enroute to Minnesota. Sometimes they cook out while on their trips.

The mother of this brood has a keen sense of humor and says that one incident she will always remember is when they stopped off at a dairy queen in a small town. Just as everyone was lining up to be served, along came the publisher of the small town newspaper. "What's this?" he asked, "Taking everyone from a Sunday School picnic out for ice cream?"

Then the Grothes explained it was just a "family picnic and we were from Michigan."

"Just don't one of you move from here, until I can get back with my camera," the publisher called, "I've waited a lifetime for a chance like this."

The Grothes treasure the small town newspaper which shows them lined up for ice cream. This was the only time that they were ever confused with a Sunday School picnic.

The names of the children are: David, Bill Mary, Connie, Paul, Mark, Nancy, Bryan, Dorothy, Mike, Arnold and Therese. They range in age from four to twenty. Bill has enrolled at the University of Michigan and will begin in September. Dave, a graduate of Manchester High School is employed at Ford's Rawsonville Plant.

LOANS AID FARM DEVELOPMENT

A new program of small loans coupled with farm management assistance is now open to farm families with limited incomes in Washtenaw County, Carl L. Robinson, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, said today.

Mr. Robinson said farmers in Washtenaw County can participate in the program to develop higher returns from their farming operations.

Loans are available up to $2,500 to farm families with limited incomes who cannot qualify for financial assistance under regular loan programs of Farmers Home Administration or private lenders.

Loans to farmers operating small, limited income farms may be used to purchase livestock, machinery and equipment, construct or repair farm buildings, pay annual operating expenses for seed, feed and fertilizer, refinance real estate debts and purchase land.

The loans may also be used to buy shares of small cooperatives that serve rural people.

Loans are repayable over periods of up to 15 years. They carry an interest rate of 4 1/8 percent.

To qualify for loans to finance agriculture enterprises an applicant must be a farmer and have earnings that are too low to cover basis family living needs. In addition he must be unable to obtain credit through other sources, including regular loan programs of the Farmers Home Administration.

Farmers Home Admin. county supervisors will assist borrowers in planning farm operations and management of loan funds.

In addition to loans for farming, Farmers Home Admin. may now make loans for non-agricultural enterprises that will produce added ### income.

The agency also administers other rural economic opportunity programs, including loans and technical assistance for 11 small cooperatives serving rural families who have limited income and little debt carrying ability.

Additional information on loan programs under the Economic Opportunity Act is available at the Farmers Home Administration Office in the Post Office Building, 220 North Main Street, Ann Arbor.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

CORN YIELDS drop about a bushel per acre for each day planting is delayed after the first week in May. Plant as soon as possible. Figure a similar drop in soybean yields later than the third week in May. Stalks from early planted corn are shorter, making harvest easier. Improved grain to stalk ratio contributes to a higher quality feed when harvested for silage too. Weed problems from planting early are likely to be greater. Use a pre-emergence herbicide.

A SOW'S LITTER SIZE CAN BE INCREASED several ways. One way is to flush and breed on the second or third heat period following weaning. Breed each sow twice during the heat period, 12 to 24 hours apart. It can increase conception rate 10 percent and litter size by one pig per litter. Finally, don't overfeed. It will impair reproductive performance.

FEATURING FED CATTLE gained significantly faster and produced heavier carcasses than did some range, in Illinois feeding trials. Their body reserves of fat were also higher than the slaughter steers at the end of the trial. However, state-fed steers produced carcasses higher in overall carcass grade. Generally, fed steers were more uniformly selected and fed for 210 days out of dry-lact-free time.

OVERLOADING TRACTORS. When you up the horsepower of your tractor there is a tendency to overload the transmission, rear axle, drive shafts and axles by pulling bigger loads. Instead, pull the same load at a higher speed to increase efficiency.

LaFERIER BECOMES NEW UNDERSHERIFF
Uniformed Capt. Clare M. LaFrier, a veteran of 18 years experience in police work, was named second in command in the Sheriff's Department in Washtenaw County.
Sheriff Douglas J. Harvey has announced that Capt. LaFrier will be his undersheriff, succeeding Donald J. Bebo, who resigned because of ill health.
LaFrier, 38, of 1088 Lester, Ypsilanti takes over the second spot in the 30-man agency less than six months after he was named captain of the uniformed division when Harvey took office January 7.

The sheriff said LaFrier is well qualified for the post. "This man has both police training and hard experience vital to a position of high command. He had come up through the ranks over an 18-year period, beginning as a patrolman in a small village and finally serving for nearly 10 years as a command officer with the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department."
The sheriff said that written examinations to fill the captain vacancy left by LaFrier's promotion will be given in the County Building on June 21, with oral interviews scheduled two days later. Two lieutenants now with the department and five uniformed sergeants are eligible to take the tests.

EXCHANGE STUDENT TO MAKE NAPOLEON HOME

A Napoleon High School Junior, Peggy Raby, is beginning to count the days until Ulla Akesson arrives on August 11 from Sweden to attend Napoleon High School. While in this country she will be staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Raby of 7366 Sweezy Lake Road.

Last summer Peggy was chosen by the Napoleon High School personnel to represent the school on a youth for understanding trip, sponsored by the Washtenaw Council of Churches.

Peggy Raby told a group of Manchester Business and Professional Women that she was given a $400 scholarship for the trip, based on her "scholastic record and ability to deal with circumstances and get along with other people."

This year Judy Rosencrance will leave the middle of June on the 8-week trip as Napoleon High School's choice for the Youth Exchange Program. She will go to the Netherlands.

Peggy said her choice of country to visit had not been Sweden but she was very happy after she reached the country. While there she was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Akesson and children at Hudiskall. She and Ulla became good friends.

Akesson owns a lumbering company and Peggy had a chance to visit the logging farm. She was impressed by the friendliness and willingness of the Swedish people to go out of their way to help others.

Although they spent much time at the family cottage at Osa she observed that, for the most part, the Swedish people do most of their own housework and every one seems to be busy. There were no screens on the doors or windows "but, apparently no one seemed to notice the insects except me," she said.

Peggy found that the life of the people seemed to be very interesting. The women seemed to be excellent cooks and "their pastries were just out of this world."

Breakfast is served whenever the family rises. School begins at 8 in the morning and there is a coffee break with cookies at eleven. Dinner follows at one. At four there is tea time and supper is served at six o'clock. A light lunch follows at 11 p. m.

"There are no slum areas in the cities of Sweden. But the taxes are about twice as much as ours in this country. It seemed funny to drive through the country and see horses doing the farm work. There is very little farm machinery. It seemed that the people are not anxious to have it either. They are happy with the country as it is, because it affords more work for the people to do," Peggy said.

She was told that after grammar school the students are given tests to find out what they are best qualified to do.

Some go to trade schools, Junior Colleges and Colleges. But everyone receives an education. It was her impression that teenagers have too much freedom "they have even more than in this country and a very large number of the teenagers smoked," she said. This did not apply to the teenagers in the family she visited.

The post offices are open on Sunday just the same as on week days and everyone has a key to open his own mail box. They have electric trains, many of which are 60 cars long.

She brought back a few wood and bone hand carved articles and said that this is a big business in Sweden. The leather goods seemed to be of excellent quality.

While in Sweden, Peggy had a chance to visit some of the woolen mills and purchased several sweaters. When she returned home she found some exactly like hers in a Jackson store which imports directly from Sweden. "It's a small world," she said.

WASHTENAW 4-HERS GO TRAVELING

Nine Washtenaw 4-H members will be in Washington, D. C. for the National 4-H Citizenship Short course held at the National 4-H Center.

Traveling by bus to attend the conference June 19-26 will be Janet Kemmer of Manchester, Mary Keleman and Linda Neal of Willis, Jane Kingston of Ypsilanti, Karen O'Neil of South Lyon and Dick McCalla, Don Hinderer and Bill Wenk of Chelsea.

These outstanding 4-H members were selected on the basis of their outstanding 4-H achievements. The Ann Arbor Kiwanis is assisting in the financing of the trip by contributing $300.

The delegation will be traveling with 4-H members from Wayne, Jackson and Berrien counties. After touring Gettysburg enroute to Washington, they will arrive in Washington, D. C. Sunday evening.

During the week's program they will study citizenship and government. In addition to lectures committee work, there will be tours to National monuments, U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Capitol Building, Mt. Vernon and the Smithsonian Institute. The group plans to visit this district U. S. representatives.

RATE YOUR TOWN

The Manchester Planning Commission in conjunction with the Manchester Enterprise has circulated a survey sheet "Rate Your Town". This was taken from a planning booklet prepared by the Detroit Edison Company in the hopes that the commission might be able to get the thinking of the people of the community.

Sixty people filled out surveys. In the count down Wednesday those answering generally agreed by a two-thirds majority that: most high school grads look for employment elsewhere; that there is a housing shortage; that the schools need additional rooms; that there is much to be desired in the way of paved streets and good sidewalks; and that the shopping area needs its shelves replenished. Obviously there are no hotels or motels and there is no outstanding restaurant. It was generally agreed that an annual clean-up fix-up program would be beneficial. A recreation center for teenagers is also to be desired and the appearance of the business district could be improved.
