Who Said Council Meetings Are For The Birds BIRDS RIGHTS DENIED BY COUNCIL

We all know that in recent weeks there has been a lot of controversy about some of the things that have been a part of the council meetings. There have been times when local citizens have set out the meetings and later inferred that the meeting was for the birds.

On Monday evening, as is the custom, we went to the council meeting. It was raining. Hasn't it rained every day this week? By the way, this is no fabricated story. It really happened. Just head of a reporter, hopping up the long flight of stairs of the Manchester township hall, was one soaked half-grown starling.

Now, it would seem to us that the bird was within its legal rights. It didn't just about everyone been saying that the council meetings were for the birds? Well, the chief didn't share these views. After a short time he personally escorted the little fellow down the stairs.

A short time later we were sure we heard the hopping up the stairs again. But no bird appeared. Then there was the bounding up the stairs of the local publisher. There was scurrying in the hallway and into the room just ahead of the newspaper man, hopped the bird. Surely the bird would have a right to come in with him.

This time there was a ripple of laughter from the councilmen. He didn't really know why. The city fathers must have thought the bird was out of line. Not one of them made a motion to let him stay although the bird made a couple of valiant attempts to stay within his rights.

Whether he had been reading the local paper or just listening to conversations on the street we don't know. It was obvious that his poorly informed little fellow took the information at its face value and tried to crash the meeting. At any rate he found out first hand—that meeting was definitely not for the birds!

Speaking of meetings and such there is to be a meeting of the Manchester School Board Monday, August 23 at 7:00 in the Nellie Anderson All-Purpose Room for reviewing the school budget for next year. Then too, the Legion Auxiliary will install new officers at their meeting Wednesday, Sept. 8th with the Brooklyn Drill team attending.

This week just hasn't been what a fair board member would consider "ideal community fair weather". There is no question that every farmer in the area is highly pleased with the quantity of rain this week. There is no doubt but what every deep soaker in and this includes the athletic field area, where the fair is being held. Workers have been busy every day hauling in sand and gravel to make it easier for people to walk through the mud.

But the show goes on and dedicated patrons still support the fair, send the kids on the rides—and view the exhibits! Wonder if the fair board ever thought of including a weather committee—like at the chicken coop?

Hereford Sweeps Fair

A white-faced Hereford owned by Larry Fielder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fielder, was awarded the grand championship at the Manchester Community Fair Wednesday night. Larry raised the reserve champion last year. This is his second year in the club which is sponsored by the local Optimist Club.

First place showmanship award went to Bill Kemmer, son of the Lawrence Kemmers and a senior at Manchester High. The award is held by L. V. Kirk Electric. Douglas Parr, son of the Floyd Parrs took second place for showmanship. He is a tenth grader. Third place for showmanship was Homer Walter, Jr. All three awards were donated by L. V. Kirk Electric.

David Pratt's fifth place steer showed the best daily gain with 2.25 pound per day gain. Bill Kemmer's first place showmanship steer placed third. Steers were judged by Willard McLeod, Extension Specialist in Livestock Marketing, Michigan State University. Auction was by Dale Heselshwerdt of the Sponole Livestock Commission, the auctioneer.

COUNCIL NOTES

At the Monday council meeting a request from D. E. Limpert was read requesting rezoning a strip of property which he recently purchased. The land is in the area north and east of Union-Macomb Street. The council is submitting the request to the Planning Commission for further study.

Council denied a request to the Johnson Tavern which requested council to give the tavern permission to remain open until 2:00 a.m. instead of midnight. All taverns in the village are requested to close by midnight. It was pointed out that if the request is granted the same would have to apply to all taverns.

A letter from local Civil Defense director, Ben Cresson was read at which he resigned the post which he has held for many years. No replacement was named.

Basil McGuire and his committee were told to meet with Steve Hesselshwerdt to discuss problems created when heavy rains cause overflow of his artificial lake. The Michigan State Health Department is suggesting that this problem be corrected.

There was discussion on putting in a sewer on Sooten Road, the cost of which would be in the neighborhood of $6000.

Robert Clark and his committee was instructed to give further study to a possible dump site for the village.

Neil Baggett was present to discuss trash burning in his area. This council promised would be given immediate attention.

Changing the speed limits in some of the areas of the village also came under consideration. The traffic signs will be changed for a trial period and if they prove effective they will be permanently changed. This will apply primarily in the Territorial-Macomb street section.

Bringing council up to date on the business of the Planning Commission, Eugene Bentschneider, village president and also a member of the Planners told the council that the members of the Planning Commission went on record to say that all of their business will be transacted from the floor. He also said that the new commission will find that "it will be necessary they will find to put some of their business in committees to get the leg work done. They won't be able to get everything worked out during their meetings."

Planners agreed that by a two-third majority of the membership they could act on pertinent business, rather than wait for longer periods, when time is an element in the dispatching of their business for the betterment of the community.

Fair Still A Success In Spite Of Weather

Although rain fell most of Tuesday afternoon the Fair Board president, Ted Stautz stuck to his original plans of starting the mile-long parade about 7:00 p.m. His parade marshals, Clarence Fielder and Eugene Bentschneider followed the instructions to the letter.

Although some of the eight floats might have looked a bit bogged down by the drizzle, they added a festive note to the general atmosphere and no one seemed to have his spirits dampened by the weather.

The float judged best by the judges was "What Makes 4-H Tick" made by the Learn and Save 4-Hers under the able direction of Mrs. Elton Heiber and other mothers of members. In second place was the float "A Fair to Crow About" made by Jolly Farmerettes. The 3rd place float was "Dollars for Scholars" by the 9th graders; and coming into 4th place was "Mary Poppins—pop into the fair" by the sophomore class.

Bicycles played a colorful part in the parade. A judged first was Tom Blossom's Jolly Green Giant and peddling in a close second was the clever "Bicycle Built For Two" complete with a baby doll riding in its basket. Also picking up prize money third through sixth (in that order) were Dawna Steele, Marty Fielder, Julie Troitz and Lee Paukins.

A bird's eye view of the rest of the parade included another float, Wheels of Progress, drawn by two ponies. There were school buses, trucks from Hoover Ball, Double A, and Max Sellers trucks loaded with lumber. All kinds of farm implements were in the motorized cavalcade. There were village trucks, Hoot & Holler Ranch riding horses, Klager's trucks of all kinds, Spike's Mobil, Grossman-Huber, Tom Marshall and E. G. Mann. Monica Kirk was scrubbing clothes on a board in a tub in L. V. Kirk's truck and another girl read a magazine as the automatic washed her clothes. Then there was the "BIG" pioneer ear of seed corn and about 5 Standard Oil trucks. Tool & Die trucks were decorated and there were Brum Implements from Bridgewater. The Case dealer and Allis Chalmers had a space and so did the K & W. Yes, there were Van Sickle milk trucks, too. Leading this whole parade of businesses in the area was the High School Band, the convertibles with reigning queen, Shirley Pfau and the hopeful 15 candidates for this year's queen and the fair board members.

Playing their rock and roll type music were the Del-Tinos and just ahead of the parade marshal were Al's Service trucks and Brown's TV. Local police and Washtenaw Sheriff's Department were at trouble spots in the traffic jams.

Mary Lou Leeman, a 1965 graduate of Manchester High School was crowned queen of the fair later Tuesday. First runner-up was Linda Blanchard, also a 1965 graduate of MHS. Second runner-up was Pamela Stevens, a high school junior. The queen was selected from 15 candidates chosen last spring.

At the Cooking School Tuesday Consumers Power Co.'s Bob Davis and L. V. Kirk were assisted by Harriet Cookson, Mrs. Una Iort and Sarah Schreiber of Jackson in showing the cooks of this area a little about dressing up every day dishes for "Party Fair and Flare". These tasty dishes went to the registered women as follows: orange coffee cake to Mrs. Ted Stautz; fish casserole, Mrs. Earl Albert; deviled almonds, Mrs. Claren Knauss; relish tray, Mrs. Harry Sutton; molded salad, Grace Day; green party pie, Opal Moore; chicken breasts, Mrs. Don Uphaus; peas, Mrs. Maynard Blossom; lemon party pie, Pearl Lammon; lamb roast, Mrs. Dick Knauss; table decoration, Merlene Mattis; steam iron, Mrs. Art Wacker and service spoons went to Ethel Brown, Joyce Blumenauer and Mrs. Emerson Haeussler. One of the cooking authorities from Jackson said she had been coming to Manchester for eight years on the invitation of L. V. Kirk who sponsors the school.

While the cooks were preparing the lamb roast the fat lambs were being judged by Willard McLeod, District Marketing Agent of MSU. This is the first time for a Fat Lamb Show and it was sponsored by the Jaycees. The grand champion lamb was raised by Bruce Pratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Pratt. Bruce is a sophomore. Reserve champion award went to Randy Fielder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fielder. In showmanship in the senior division the first place award went to Peter Haeussler, son of the Armin Haeusslers and an 8th grader. Linda Hoefft, a ninth grader was in second place. In the Junior Division, Karen Kopka, daughter of the Elmer Kopkas and a 7th grader placed first. A fifth grader, Monica Curtis, daughter of the Norman Curtis placed second with her fat lamb.

There were 40 lambs in the show and the Jaycees hope to make this a yearly event.

This will give you some idea of how jolly and "fair" minded folks around this area are at Fair Time. As everyone knows it rained almost constantly a large part of Wednesday afternoon. But come evening—and time for the steer judging, one optimistic Fair supporter was overheard to say, "Well, we've had a real heavy dew, but (looking up at the sky) it hasn't rained yet."

SOCIAL SECURITY WANTS TO PAY BENEFITS CORRECTLY AND ON TIME

The Social Security Administration wants to pay benefits on time and in the correct amounts. In this age of automation, much of the work is done by electronic machines. But people are still important.

If the person receiving benefits does not report events that affect his right to these checks, needless delays in monthly payments may occur.

When a person files a claim to receive social security benefits, he receives information about what events to report. Social security representatives at the District office in Ann Arbor suggest that the beneficiary periodically review this information to avoid such delays.

One very important event to report immediately is a change of address. If this is done before the 15th of the month, it is very likely that the next check will come to the new address when expected.

Another event requiring a report is a return to work. This applies to all beneficiaries, unless they are over age 72, all months of the year. Disability beneficiaries must report their return to work regardless of how much they expect to earn.

Payments for children under 18 are generally made to an adult, who has the responsibility of reporting the death, marriage, adoption, or change of work status or address of the child. A mother under 62 must report if her minor child leaves her care. These events may affect both child's and mother's benefits.

Do not depend on other friends, relatives or neighbors for advice on social security matters. Their experience will not be exactly the same as yours, so their advice, although well meant, could cause you much difficulty. Ask your social security office representative.

When a person files a claim to receive social security benefits, he receives information about what events to report. Social security representatives at the District office in Ann Arbor suggest that the beneficiary periodically review this information to avoid such delays.

A very successful Summer Recreation Program concluded last week with a busy schedule of activities. Everyone who participated seemed to be having a good time.

The activities started with a soap box derby Tuesday morning. Sixteen racers of all shapes and descriptions were entered. In the afternoon there was swimming.

Wednesday they held a track meet all day. In the evening there was a big parade with decorated bicycles and baseball teams parading down Main Street. The parade ended at the athletic field where prizes were awarded.

Thursday there was swimming again. This was the last day of swimming for the summer.

Friday at 9:30 a.m. they met at Carr Park for a watermelon eating contest. This concluded the summer activities, according to Roger Morrison, program director.

He was ably assisted by Gladys Hamilton, swimming teacher and Sandra Trelle, in charge of the junior playground. Working with her on junior playground were Barbara Below and Marilyn Bus.

A large crowd of hungry watermelon eaters converged on Carr Park Friday morning and in no time devoured 18 watermelons. # Community College President Named Emanuel Greet 'Own' Missionaries

Announcement of the name of the president of the Washtenaw Community College was made Friday by Samuel T. Harmon, Chairman of the Washtenaw County Board. He is Dr. David H. Foutner, 34 years.

He is a graduate of Lansing State High School in 1949 and has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Political Science and Master of Arts Degree in School Administration from the University of Michigan and a Doctorate in Education Administration from Harvard University.

He has been in Freepoint, Mich., since 1950. He was previously Director of Adult Education Centers in Japan from 1954 to 1958. He was principal and finally superintendent of schools at Walden, Michigan from 1958 to 1960. He was consultant at Quincy, Mass. School System and Research Assistant for the Reserve School Study Project.

His father, Henry Foutner, is past director of adult education for the Michigan Department of Public Instruction. His wife, Mary, is a nurse. The couple has a child, Catherine, five years.

The new president will be at his new full-time post by Nov. 1st.

Harmon said that the College Board will select the new college president next month.

The new president is enthusiastic and has been making contacts with the college. He will spend several weeks vacation time in Ann Arbor representing the November 1st.

they want to build from the experience of operating some programs in temporary facilities. One of the trustees suggested that the architects should consider the shortage of skilled construction workers and the high cost of land in this area.

Harmon noted that there is a legal problem. Two small primary school districts in Washtenaw County, South Salem Stone No. 3 and Superior 4 Fractional (Greer) are expected to vote September 13 to join the Plymouth School District.

Because the Plymouth district is one of several school districts which form Schoolcraft Community College District, the question is raised of which college district persons in the South Salem Stone and Greer districts should be a part.

Some 50 families and $2,500,000 are involved in state equalization.

Schoolcraft officials had originally suggested a referendum by the affected persons.

Board Attorney, Robert W. Harrington, commented that there are several more small primary districts (Lansing, East Lansing, etc.) that would be a precedent. The problem also exists in Lansing College District.

He suggested that the board take no action until the state set governing such boundary adjustments. Arthur E. Carpenter, chief of the board's law firm said that the residents of these two districts are now clearly legally part of the Washtenaw college district regardless of the selection of school district boundaries.

This Sunday, August 22nd, a Missionary Sunday at the Church of the Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Kuetner, local missionaries in Honduras. Central American people are guests at the church.

Rev. Gustav Kuetner and his wife, Mrs. Sue Kuetner, have just arrived here for a visit. The couple and their two-year-old son, Scott, are in charge of the audio visual work including TV advertising for the mission and the radio center.

Besides caring for her two-year-old son, Sue, the former Sue Kuetner is treasurer for the mission. Much of the work of the mission is carried on by the native Hondurans and the American Missionaries. Taking more and more of a Honduran position and helping the Hondurans to make their own decisions and care for their own people will be the goal of the mission.

There will be a radio broadcast at 8:15 a.m. for the Hondurans and the Rev. Gustav will preach again at the 10:30 a.m. service.

At 8:00 p.m. there will be an informal meeting with the Rev. and Mrs. Kuetner showing plans of their work in the mission.

(L to R) The Rev. and Mrs. Gustav Kuetner and son Scott show a machete to Mrs. Kuetner and Rev. Ralph Kuetner at the former's home here. The machete is the major tool of the Honduran and is used for almost everything from cutting trees and grain to the corn picker. When it is worn a bit it is handed down to the women who peel potatoes with it.

LOCAL MISSIONARIES TELL ABOUT HONDURAS

Visiting here from San Pedro Sula, in the Republic of Honduras are the Rev. and Mrs. Gustav H. Kuetner and their two-year-old son, Scott, at the home of his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Kuetner. The Rev. Ralph Kuetner is pastor of Emanuel United Church of Christ in Manchester.

Although the Honduran missionaries have been here only a short time they find themselves wondering what it is going on in the mission. This is their first trip home since they left the State in January of 1964 after a training program at Drew University, Madison New Jersey and at the Missionary Orientation Center at Stony Brook, New York.

"You don't decide to be a missionary and everything else falls into line," Rev. Kuetner explained. "Not even when you are an ordained minister. There is much preparation to be done in advance, such as studying Spanish at the Language Institute at San Jose, Costa Rica."

The reason for wanting to be a missionary in Honduras goes back a long time. "You could say my parents are the real reasons. They wanted to do missionary work in that country. In fact they spent their honeymoon there. My father was the assistant to a missionary who was sent to the country and mother went along. That was almost thirty years ago. But it never worked out so that they could return. But from the time I was a small boy they talked about it and the great need for missionaries in that area," the Rev. Gustav explained.

If all goes well the Manchester Kuetners will spend part of December and January visiting their son and family. Mrs. Gustav Kuetner is the former Sue Higgins of Manchester and a school teacher in the Detroit area.

"The hardest thing for us to get used to was -no evening-no daylight. Within a half hour of the start of sunset there is total darkness. In the morning it is the same. We have only morning, noon and night," the missionary said. They have two wet seasons and two dry ones. In the winter months of December and January the temperature drops at night to the low sixties. "My work isn't that of a missionary as you might think of one. I preach only about twice a month in churches. At this time our church in Honduras is manned primarily by Honduran ministers. This leaves us free to do other things. I have worked with the prisoners in a literacy program, taught in the seminary and coached a basketball team in the Mission School. The team was the city championship team when I left and on August 23 they were scheduled to play in the district tournament. I don't know how the games came out but expect someone will write and tell me before I leave the States," he said.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPT. 7 HIGH ENROLLMENT EXPECTED

Manchester Public Schools will officially open Tuesday, September 7th with Robert Swartz beginning his second year as superintendent of schools. The expected enrollment will be about 1130. This shows a slight increase over last year's record of 1118.

"We still lack two teachers," Mr. Swartz told members of the school board at the meeting on Monday night but pointed out that the local school system lacks fewer teachers than most of the area schools. Students will attend school a full day on the 7th, 8th and 9th. On Friday, September 10th students will attend a morning session but classes will be dismissed at 11:30 A.M.

Classes will start at 8:30 A.M. in the High School and at 8:35 A.M. in the Junior High and Nellie Ackerson Schools. The starting time at Pleasant Lake School is 8:45 A.M. The school superintendent asks that parents cooperate and have their children out by the road at least five minutes ahead of last year's scheduled time for the first few days. If changes are necessary they will be made the first week. Parents are urged to impress on their children the importance of proper bus behavior. Reports to the contrary will result in prompt disciplinary action.

Junior High Registration will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 30, 31 and September 1 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Junior High Office. If there is a conflict it is impossible to register on any of these dates, students are asked to contact Mr. Jack Raffalli at the Junior High School, or call GAS-8198. Schedules for the coming year will be taken out, lockers assigned, and fees will be taken care of at this time.

At the Elementary School only those students new to the district are required to register before school opens. This applies particularly in Sharon Township. This may be done by calling Mr. Ted Tapping at GAS-2341 or stopping at his office prior to September 1st. Student Fees cover a portion of the cost of the workbooks and repair of textbooks in grades K-8. The hardbound textbooks are furnished by the district. Other special fees are charged in the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades. The fees are as follows:

Kindergarten students	$1.50
First through Fourth grades	$4.00
5th and 6th grades (include towel)	$5.50
7th grade (towel fee & hallway locker)	6.50
8th grade boys (towel & locker fee)	6.50
8th grade girls ("& locker & H.E.c.)	7.00

Each student's fees are to be paid separately and by check made payable to the Manchester Public Schools. Each student will be provided with a fee envelope which all parents are asked to fill out and return it to school with fees enclosed. Cont. page (4)
