BOND ISSUE APPROVED

380 YES + 245 NO

629 property owners went to the polls Thursday, 380 voted yes, 245 voted no and 4 votes were void. This made the vote 41 more than last June's election of 588.

This election showed almost a complete reversal of the June election where the bond issue was defeated by 347 no as to 241 in favor.

The bond issue that was approved called for $520,000, for the purpose of remodeling and erecting, furnishing and equipping an addition to the high school building and developing sites?

GERMAN TRADITION 'TANNENBAUM'

-by Marie Schneider

The meaning of Christmas hasn't changed but the ways in which it is celebrated has. And yet here in this country, the melting pot of the world, we seem to have an exciting mixture of the choicest and loveliest customs of them all.

A retired school teacher, Miss Linda Knorpp, still trims her Christmas tree with cookies. This, she remembers, as the main decoration on the big Christmas tree at their home when she was a little girl. The trees were always tall - reached to the ceiling and in those days there were few "store" decorations. There were six children in the Knorpp family. Both Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knorpp came to this country when they were young. With them they brought some of the habits of their families back home.

"Greatest contribution of the Germans to our way of celebrating this greatest of all holidays is the 'Tannenbaum'. This is the German word for Christmas tree. This tradition, to me, seems to be one of the nicest. It was decorated in the utmost secrecy and was lit on Christmas Eve. That is the way it was done when I was a little girl. Because it was a direct carryover from Germany," Miss Knorpp explained.

"Children placed more emphasis on the Christmas tree than on the gifts," she said, "and to see it lit on Christmas Eve was a never failing source of enchantment and excitement. We children would help string the snowy pop corn and sometimes cranberries. We also made paper chains. Just imagine children doing these things today - for their only tree trimming."

The climax came when they could get their mother started to bake the Christmas cookies. Sometimes there would be 15 or 17 kinds. A few of each were used as tree trimming! The cookies were threaded with white thread and carefully hung on the tree. She doesn't remember exactly how that was handled when she was small - whether Santa brought the cookies or if they were baked and prepared for him. This she knows, when she would see the tree on Christmas Eve the cookies would be decorating it.

The springerle, with its intricate picture, was a very favorite. It looked so pretty on the dark branches. Then the lebkuchen, quince drops and nut and coconut drops each had a place.

Her mother bought the first springerle mold, which was a German import. It was made of lead with a wooden back and came from the Schoettle store in Manchester, and has been carefully treasured through the years. Her mother bought the mold before the turn of the century and it has been brought out each year since to be used to mold the annis flavored dough into intricate patterns of birds, scenery and flowers.

In the early 1930's Mrs. Knorpp decided to save a few of the picturesque cookies from year to year. They were dated on the back along with some of her homemade pretzels and packed in tissue paper, to be brought out each year to use on the tree.

It is some of these same cookies and pretzels which Miss Knorpp used to trim her tree the other night. It used to take about three days

BOYSVILLE GLEE CLUB, TV DEBUT SUN., DEC. 19th -by Marie Schneider

The Boysville Glee Club, which is well known in this area, will make its first television appearance Sunday, Dec. 19 when the singers will be featured on a special Christmas program over Channel 2 at 9:30 a. m. and will be repeated again on the same station following the late, late movie. They will be guests on the regular weekly television program conducted by Rev. Fr. Raymond Schlinkert of Manchester entitled, "With This Ring".

This year's Glee Club has been unusually busy during the holiday season as they fill numerous engagements to sing Christmas carols and other selections in many of the communities in the area. They are directed by Brother Philip Armstrong, C. S. C.

Boysville is located near Macon on property which was once the Henry Ford Trade School. There are 180 boys enrolled in nine through twelve and are taught by 17 brothers and two lay teachers. The Glee Club started in 1957 and the acapella singers vary from a dozen to sometimes 35 boys.

The singers will appear a second time with Fr. Schlinkert on his December 26th shows and they seem very enthused for the chance on television. Three of the group make up "The Deserters" with Arden Valentine playing the guitar and George Daly and Richard Currie the vocalists.

This home for teenage boys, mostly from the Detroit metro- politan area, is sponsored by the Knights of Columbus of Michigan who bought the 150 acre parcel of Ford property. It was designed after Boys Town of Nebraska and Fr. Gilgait Home in Indiana. It was the idea of Edward J. Barrett, State Secretary of the Knights of Columbus in 1940-41.

Brother Barrett first voiced his plan in 1943 to Fr. Fitzpatrick, pastor at Saginaw. He contacted Bishop William F. Murphy and he told the plan to Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit. At that time the Archdiocese of Detroit already had two boys homes of this type at Burroughs Avenue St. Joseph's Home and the C. Y. O. Leland Avenue Home. Then there was a third home and farm at Brighton, in the Archdiocese, not under Archdiocesan control.

In 1944 when Brother Barrett had become State Deputy, he told his plan for a Boysville to Msgr. Carroll F. Deady who had hoped for such a place for years - a manual training or "trades" school. Offers of land and buildings had been made to the Diocese of Detroit. But there was one drawback. There were no continuing funds for operation. To start a thing and not know how to finance it's continued operation was something which had to be studied.

Finally there were three possibilities:

(1)The National Youth Admin- istration technical training pro- gram had been discontinued in 1944 and Msgr. Deady had ac- quired the local N. Y. A. equip- ment and facilities.

(2)The Knights of Columbus of Michigan wanted to help under-privileged boys.

(3)The Smith-Hughes (Federal) Act offered a plan of aid in sub- sidizing technical teachers for youth training.

Msgr. Deady had no trouble sell- ing his plans for Boysville to Arch- bishop Mooney and Boysville be- came a reality. By 1954 the Boys- ville high school was accredited by the University of Michigan.

During the past year there has been no new construction of build- ings because of lack of funds but a new dormitory and recreation hall are badly needed. Other improve- ments have not been neglected. The gym and administration build- ing have been repainted on the ex- terior. There is a new electric mimeograph machine and bulletin boards have been installed in each cubicle of the wings in Cardinal Mooney Hall, the dorm housing the upper classroom.

There is an increased program of social activities at the school, through the Student Council and the boys join other youths in neigh- boring town s. Brother Philip said. They had sock-hops on campus after basketball games. The boys have been allowed to go to their homes more often for weekends.

To date there have been 212 boys graduated from Boysville. Brother Philip points out that the students are helped to make plans for the time when they leave the school and are on their own. They are urged to make their future plans during the senior year and have something lined up to do when they graduate.

"If we fail in doing this, then the whole effort of the Boysville operation has been useless and we have missed our goal. We hope that by training these young men whose home life is sometimes un- happy, for many come from broken homes, we can make them citizens we'll all be proud of. It is such things as the glee club and the fact that these boys are asked to sing at different functions - that gives them a lift. They know that others enjoy and appreciate their singing and it gives them an opportunity to be with other people," Brother Philip explained. "At this time of year, especially, they feel that they can contribute a small part to the Mercy Christ- mas of their audiences."

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS A JAYCEE PROJECT

Manchester Jaycees have completed their arrangement of the village Christmas decorations.

This project was started several years ago when the town needed Christmas decorations. The church area seemed to be the most neglected.

This year the Jaycees were able to purchase the decoration at Main and Main Streets. This was made possible due to the generous bidding of Hoover Ball & Bearing Company representatives last summer at the Manchester Community Fair when the company bought the prize lamb and donated it to the Jaycees to be resold.

The money from the sale of the lamb was used to help purchase the new decoration.

One more decoration will complete the Jaycee project to enclose the church area with Christmas decorations. The next addition will be placed at Main and Union.

The local Jaycees expressed appreciation to the people of this community who have done so much to make their community projects possible.

COUNTY BUILDING TO BE AIR-CONDITIONED

Next summer there will be an air-conditioning system in the Washtenaw County Building. This issue has been under consideration by the Board of Supervisors for some time but when the question has been brought up the bids have been too high, the supervisors believed. They have awarded the contract for the work to Boone and Darr of Ann Arbor for $318,776 and have approved spending funds for the installation of the entire system with the completion date next May 31.

This will provide for the unit in the third floor which may be needed in the future. The present system in the two circuit courtrooms, probate courtroom supervisors' meeting room and committee room and coffee shop will be incorporated in the larger system. Curt Will, chairman of funds and means reported that ways are available for both the county share of construction of the county library and the air-conditioning. The anticipated balance will be $230,000 over the expected $363,000 when the budget was adopted. There is $248,179 in the improvement fund and statutory fund for capital improvements contains $73,000 for a total available for the two projects of $551,563.

Washtenaw's share of the library cost is $200,000 with the federal government paying $100,000, if the county application for construction funds is approved.

DOG OWNERS URGED TO GET LICENSES

Dog owners in Washtenaw county are being asked to buy dog licenses for their pets. They may be obtained at the various township treasurer's offices until February 28, according to M. H. Wolfe, Manchester township treasurer. The cost is $3.00 for male and unsexed dogs and $5.00 for females.

This is of value to the dog owner because it could be very helpful in recovering a dog if lost-if the animal has the license tag attached to its collar.

William L. Parker, manager of Washtenaw County Humane Society says that it is a simple matter to identify lost or strayed dogs that are wearing up-to-date license tags. If a dog is lost and not wearing a tag, personnel at the shelter make every effort to identify the dogs brought in and turn them to the owners.

Anyone who loses a dog should contact the Shelter by calling No. 2-11 and give a description of the animal. But the only positive identification is if they are wearing license tags. The identification is made at either the Washtenaw Shelter or the Washtenaw County Treasurer's office. Licenses are not purchased by dog owners but are liable for a fee.

SOCIAL SECURITY MEDICARE PROGRAM

"Every person in the Washtenaw county area who is 65 or older and getting Social Security or railroad retirement benefits will receive through the mail full information about the new Medicare program, and a card to use in applying for this protection," Robert A. Kehoe, Social Security district manager in Ann Arbor said.

The Medicare application form, which was recently described by President Johnson as "The simplest form in the history of the government" is now being mailed out to one and a half million beneficiaries across the county each week. With it is leaflet containing information on the program-hospital insurance to pay hospital and related expenses, and a voluntary medical insurance plan to help pay doctors' bills.

"Because this huge mailing will spread over several weeks," he explained, "some people may get their information tomorrow and others may not get theirs for more than a month. However, we hope to reach all of the 10,000 beneficiaries by December."

The program goes into effect July 1, 1966.

All Social Security and railroad retirement beneficiaries who are 65 or older qualify automatically for basic hospital insurance benefits. However, a beneficiary will get added protection of medical insurance-available at a cost of $3 per month-only if he applies for it.

To do this, he should just check "yes" on the enrollment card and sign his name and return the card in the postage-free envelope which came with it. Then when the program starts in July, the $3 premium will be deducted each month from his benefit check.

Kehoe emphasized that most people 65 or older who are not getting Social Security or railroad retirement benefits, are also eligible for health insurance benefits. They should write, by telephone or visit a Social Security office to register for hospital insurance benefits, and if they wish, for medical insurance also.

Anyone 65 or over who wants medical insurance protection could enroll no later than March 31, 1966, in order to be covered soon as the program starts in July, Kehoe added.

"Additional information on the health insurance programs and other changes in the Social Security law is available from the Social Security office at 1355 N. Main Street, Ann Arbor," he said.

Loosen, to belts. If the machine is stored outside, remove, label and store belts out of weather.

POG MARKETS will continue to receive strong support this winter. November levels were highest for that month in 7 years. Light slaughter is being triggered in part by a strong holdback of pigs and hogs. But cold storage stocks which are down sharply from a year ago are also contributing to the favorable situation.

TREAT LIVESTOCK FOR LICE. Cold, winter days make for thick hair and dry skin. This is when lice multiply fast. Although clean, well-ventilated buildings help, you'll need chemicals for complete control. For beef and hogs, use coumaphos, diazinon, lindane, malathion, methoxychlor, carbaryl, ronnel (Korlan) or toxaphene. Clofiazin or DDT can also be used on hogs; ronnel on beef animals. For dairy, stick with clofiazin, rotenone or pyrethrin plus a synergist.

FULL YOUR FARM RECORDS TOGETHER NOW. Know what your income situation is so you can manage your year-end business to save income tax dollars. With a generally favorable income year you may wish to defer some income into 1966 or make some income offsetting purchases of supplies.

The good old American Custom of "comparison shopping" helps you get the most for your money!

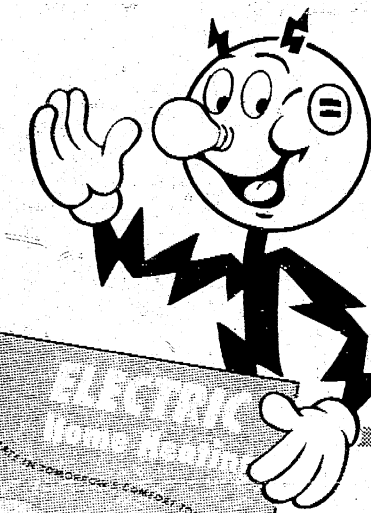

WHEN YOU PLAN A MAJOR PURCHASE such as a car or even a boat, you shop around comparing performance and checking costs.

IN YOUR CHOICE OF A HOME HEATING SYSTEM IT WILL PAY YOU TO FOLLOW THE SAME PRACTICE.

As you compare electric home heating with other fuel systems, you will be surprised to find the cost comparable when recommended installation practices are followed.

Consumers Power Company's electric home heating rates are on the downward trend. These rates have been reduced twice in the last two years. The last reduction amounted to a savings of 19% to its home heating customers.

Compare the benefits and complete "comfort performance" of custom controlled electric home heating with other fuels—YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU DID!

to do the operation but last year she decided it was the time for turning. A smaller tree was the answer. But there is still room for Grandpa Knorpp's Christmas cookies.

In 1956, Miss Knorpp went to Germany to visit the old home of her parents. Both are still standing. Her father came from Marbach on Neckar River and her mother from Württemberg. While visiting her relatives, they gave her another springerle mold which some of them had picked up in the rubble after World War I, and she also brought another wooden mold while there. But these do not put out the intricate designs of the old wooden mold. But the German relatives have the same type of recipe as those her mother used.

The Christmas Manger is the same one her mother had and the treasure, a box of wax candles and metal borders of year 1 gone by. She pointed out that toy giving is an important part of Christmas in Germany. Spilled hands will carve toys that breathe the spirit of the fairyland that lies in dark forest. Long ago, when the custom of toy-making was in the farming area, the toys reflected the objects which were familiar to the farm, such as cows, horses and houses.

There isn't room on the new tree for the antique tree ornaments which have been a part of the Knorpp Christmas for so many years but some of them may be brought out in some type of arrangement for the former teacher is talented in artistic arrangement.

"We used to tease mother to make the cookies in the evening so we could be home from school to watch her," Miss Knorpp said. She still does substituting in the Manchester schools and wonders if many children today would be as delighted as they were at Christmas baking time.

Miss Knorpp has a part of a loaf of semolina which her mother baked in the early 1900's. It seems to be petrified. Just how these Christmas goodies have been preserved is very interesting. But they look good enough to eat!

Christmas decorations wouldn't be complete without the big party for the children of the community. Again this year the Optimist Club will sponsor the party Saturday afternoon with Ed Kirk the general chairman. He will be assisted by Dr. J. R. Jones and James Post.

From the festive reports available Ed and his committee and all the volunteers they could muster were scheduled to park candy boxes at the high school band room on Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. We've been told that some 100 gift certificates for $2.00 will be included in many boxes. These certificates are given away by the merchants in a Chamber of Commerce program.

As usual there will be the judging of the outdoor lights of the villagers by a special committee appointed by village president Eugene Demuth. There will be prizes of $15, $10 and $5 given to the top judged homes. Residents who received prizes last year won't be competing. Outdoor lights should be turned on Dec. 22 and 23 when the judging will be likely to take place.

It was like taking candy from a baby in Friday night's game because University High scored a 52 per cent of its shots. Manchester countered with 37 per cent of its own shooting and defeated the Cubi, 80-69.

The difference was not in the percentages but in the number of shots. Manchester fired 21 shots at the hoop than University High. Dutchmen Rich Phillips, Bill Kammer and Art Feldner (all 6-2) got second and third chances throughout the game.

It looked as if Manchester might not win as U High clicked off a 7-1 lead. Pat Wallace and Dick Fielder of Manchester had other ideas. They rattled the U High zone with shots from the 25-30 foot range. When the first quarter ended, Manchester was on top 19-14 and it never lost the lead.

Manchester, on the basis of offensive rebounding opened up a 36-23 lead midway through the second quarter. The Dutchmen made use of the full court, pressing man-to-man defense, through the entire game and it forced the Cubi into 15 turnovers as well as distorting the U High pattern.

Guard Larry Fielder led the Manchester scoring with 19 points and his cousin, Dick Fielder followed with 14 points. Jim Fielder, another cousin, did not play in the game due to a leg injury.

Ken Killigh led a balanced U High attack with 16 points. Herb Cramer, in his first starting assignment, contributed 11 points to the Club total.

The Manchester Junior Varsity beat U High Junior varsity by a score of 56-38.

They came wearily from Nazareth to the town in Judea that was the city of David or Bethlehem, to register according to a decree that had gone forth from Caesar Augustus that a census should be taken. They were Joseph, a humble carpenter, and his espoused wife, Mary, who was with child. The journey was long and tiresome, yet Mary uttered not a single word of complaint for her faith was great and her purpose to be fulfilled.

There were shepherds watching their flocks on the hillsides near Bethlehem. At first it was for them no more than a beautiful, star-lit night. But it turned into a night of wonder and these simple men were to be given as witnesses to the greatest single event in the history of life upon this earth.

Three wise men from the East, each a king in his own domain, were travelers into the night. They had long followed the light of a brilliant star, seeking the fulfillment of a prophecy. These kings of men were strong of purpose and they carried with them gifts of value. At journey's end, they hoped to kneel down and pay homage to an infant—a newborn child—the "king of kings."

When the angels appeared as messengers of great joy, the shepherds on the hillside were frightened. They were, however, men of simple faith and when the angels advised them to leave their flocks and go into Bethlehem in search of the newborn king, they left their watch and went forth into Bethlehem.

And so they came to the stable where Mary and Joseph had taken refuge because there was no room at the inn. The Wise Men who had followed the star, the shepherds who had left their sleep on the hillside, these men were witnesses to the Holy Scene—that Jesus, the son of God was born that night in a stable at Bethlehem. For generations, the story of the Holy Birth is told and re-told and it remains forever unchanged.

For 33 years, Jesus lived upon earth, setting forth the highest example of a life of humility, faith, obedience and dedication. He gave not only these years, but as well life itself and this great gift is the foundation upon which men today build eternal happiness. Christmas is the time for all Christians to recognize and remember this greatest of all stories.
