Supervisors to Consider Reorganization

The regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors has been changed to March 11 in order not to conflict with the Board of Review meetings in the various townships.

A reorganization plan which would pare down the number of standing committees from 29 to 14 will be recommended to the County Board of Supervisors at the March meeting.

The plan was formulated by the legislative committee which had been expanded to study reapportionment problems.

At the suggestion of Saline City Supr. George Anderson—the special committee continued to meet on the question of internal reorganization of the board. This is considered an efficiency measure.

The new approach is to consolidate committees by function.

In this plan the executive committee will have the board chairman, the past chairman, the ways and means committee chairman and three others, was approved by the legislative committee.

Creation of this committee was proposed by Ann Arbor Supr. Curt H. Will, a former ways and means chairman.

Some committees were found to be too highly specialized to allow combining them with others. They are retained, in most cases with the same number of members.

In this group are planning and inter-county with six members, legislative with five, buildings and grounds with five, public, and mental health with five, education (library) with four-hospitalization and welfare with five, and probate and juvenile court with five.

Added to the important ways and means committee are the functions of the present treasurer's and per diem committees. Membership remains at seven.

Apportionment, equalization and corrections and descriptions committees are combined with seven members.

Apportionment, equalization and corrections and descriptions committees are combined with seven members.

Committees on the Circuit Court, prosecuting attorney's office and sheriff's department are combined into one with five members.

The present parks, roads, and drain commissioners committees are combined with four members. Zoning coordinating and building code committees are merged with four members.

Eight other present department committees are combined into another committee with four members.

These are the administrator's clerk's, register of deeds, public relations, veterans, cooperative extension, civil defense, and weights and measures committees.

Only one of these committees had four meetings during 1965. All the others had less, and two did not meet during the year. This contrasts with the ways and means unit which held 20 sessions during 1965.

Supervisors receive $15 for a half day, $30 for a full day meeting and $20 for morning and afternoon meetings.

Sauer Kraut & Knoephels For St. Patrick's Eve?

Emanuel Church will hold the annual sauer kraut and knoephel supper on Wednesday, March 16.

Serving will start at 5:00 p.m. until all are served, according to Mrs. Earl Alber and Mrs. Fred Heinrich head the kitchen committee and Del Ludwick is the general chairman of the event which will include most of the parish members.

On the menu, served family style by the men of the parish, will be sauer kraut, knoephels, mashed potatoes, gravy, fresh ham and shoulder, Polish sausage, blut wurst, hot dogs, rolls, coffee and a choice of home made pie or ice cream.

The new schedule as presented by the Professional Negotiation Committee representing the Manchester Teachers' Club and adopted by the Board of Education sets a minimum salary for a baccalaureate degree at $5,000, going to a maximum of $6,700 in twelve steps.

The Masters Degree schedule is at $5,300 and goes to $7,100. The same number of increments in addition to these amounts the board will continue to place teachers who qualify on an advanced schedule which is a form of merit pay.

In addition to the basic salary improvements, increases were also given to those teachers who have extra curricular duties. Again the increases granted, for the most part, were those increases proposed by the teachers' organization.

Teachers who have noon hour duties will receive extra remunerations for these duties. Head coaches will receive 10 per cent of their basic salary for coaching duties. Assistant varsity coaches will receive 6 per cent of their basic salary, and coaches of spring sports will receive 7 per cent of their basic salaries.

The Union Savings Bank of Manchester has announced that Herbert H. Upton Jr. has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the bank.

Mr. Upton is a Vice President and General Manager of Double A Products Co., a position he has held since 1961. He has been with the Double A Products Co. since 1948. He was graduated from the University of Michigan School of Business Administration in 1948 after some study in both the Literary and Engineering Schools at the University.

After one summer spent with the Company in 1947, he started in 1948 on a training program and spent some time in all of the departments. For about seven years prior to becoming general manager he was in charge of sales and engineering. He served in the United States Navy in 1944 through 1946.

Mr. J. Boutell, Vice President and Cashier, stated that the bank Board of Directors was very pleased to have Mr. Upton on the Board of Directors and felt that his appointment was in line with the bank's wishes to represent fairly all of the business, agricultural, professional and industrial segments of the local area.

Engelke said further in the future. "I would certainly agree that if the county were to remain in the hospital business the present facility should be replaced with a modern one of sufficient size to meet any problem which may exist now or in the immediate future."

The health officer has sent a letter to "Supervisors and Officers of Washtenaw County" to let them know his thinking on the construction of the new facility.

In the letter he says, "It is my feeling that all of these bills on Heart, Cancer and Stroke Bill, P. L. 89-239 would give encouragement that the indigent medical care patient may disappear for practical purposes and maybe counties will be out of the medical care business by 1970."

In the letter to the supervisors, the health officer said it is his belief that a better understanding of the impact of federal and state programs should be on hand before a local community commits itself to sizable expenditures.

It is expected that the Washtenaw County Hospital Board of trustees will be present at the Friday meeting of the Board to express their views. It is of interest that the Medicare program will approve payment to only one convalescent hospital in the county for patients who require extra care after they leave St. Joseph's hospital or the University and that facility is the Washtenaw County Hospital.

TEACHERS TO GET INCREASE

In action taken by the Manchester Board of Education at a special meeting March 7 and at the regular meeting March 14, salaries for the teaching staff were increased an average of $534 per year.

The new schedule as presented by the Professional Negotiation Committee representing the Manchester Teachers' Club and adopted by the Board of Education sets a minimum salary for a baccalaureate degree at $5,000, going to a maximum of $6,700 in twelve steps.

LIBRARY NOTES

Exciting events have been happening at the Township library this month.

One hundred new books have been borrowed from the Washtenaw County Library. These are mostly children's and adult fiction books.

New Books purchased by the librarian this month are: "Here we go round the Mulberry Bush" by Hunter Davies. This is a light-hearted, touching and enormously funny book and has created a tremendous amount of talk, particularly with its 3-D jacket.

"The Double Image" by Helen MacInnes (adults only) has risen to the top of the best selling list and is suspense at its most thrilling and compelling best.

New books which are favorites among the youngsters are: "I Like You", "Grampa's Farm", Millions of Cats" and "I Had Trouble In Getting to Solla Sollew".

There is a new addition to the library—a beautiful blue parakeet. The children are submitting names for it and the best name entered will be used to christen the library bird on March 22nd.

So children are being urged to think up a good name and write it down on the list at the library.

The library is also presenting a special exhibit on salt. Color photographs on salt making and pamphlets show the salt mine beneath the city of Detroit.

A special invitation is extended to all people of the community to take advantage of the library and watch the improvements which take place at the library daily.

VILLAGE VOTERS PICK PROGRESSIVES

Voters in Manchester put in office all candidates who ran on the Progressive Party ticket.

Five of the seven elected were incumbents.

A total of 244 ballots were cast of these there were 69 straight Progressive and 3 straight Citizens tickets.

The winners and the number of votes they received were: President, Gale Koebbe, 219; Clerk, Lyle A. Widmayer, 181; Treasurer, Edward R. Kirk, 224; Trustee for two year terms, Albert C. Gaige, 150; Robert Clark, 170; Basil McGuire, 132, and assessor, Russell H. Widmayer, 148.

The defeated Citizens Party candidates were: Clerk, Keith G. Doelker, 60; trustee, James E. Bauer, 108; trustee, William D. Bunney, 101, and assessor, Hugh R. Sutton, 89.

Lyle Widmayer, Ed Kirk, Clark, McGuire and Russell Widmayer were incumbents.

Koebbe, one of the youngest Manchester village presidents at 28, ran for the office unopposed. He served three years on the village council. He will appoint someone to complete his unexpired term on the village council.

The trustees will serve terms of two years each, the officers one year each.

Ed Kirk has held his post as Village Treasurer since 1935. Widmayer is beginning his third term.

Manchester was to have been paired with Buchanan for the Mayor Exchange as part of the Michigan Week celebration. Now the local village officials are wondering who they will draw as a replacement for Buchanan.

Village Clerk Lyle Widmayer received a letter from Buchanan's City Manager, Daryl Tammen Thursday morning stating that Buchanan will not be participating in the Exchange Program this year.

The letter stated that new building program is underway and the dedication of a building will be taking place on that date. The village officials feel that their top official should be home for the celebration.

Widmayer said that he would contact the Mayor Exchange Committee in Grand Rapids at once and ask for a new exchange for Manchester's president, Gale Koebbe. Locally, Eugene Rent-schneider, retiring village president, will have charge of the mayor exchange program.

Which located and identify yourself by name, address and place of work if you are not known by the club representatives. The committee includes: Mrs. Franklin Reck, Mrs. Roland Grossman, Mrs. Robert Huber, Mrs. Millard Uphaus and Richard Kuntz of Double A Products.

The American Legion Auxiliary will furnish the orange juice for the donors and the Methodist Church W.S.C.S. will supply the canteen refreshments at the recovery table.

Among the members of the club, which includes every resident of the Manchester School District, employees at Manchester Double A and Manchester Tool & Die with their immediate families and all residents of Manchester Township, 38 have found it necessary to use blood since the first of January 1965—a year and a quarter. These people have used 182 pints, averaging almost 5 pints per individual. During this time, Manchester has received 186 pints from two Bloodmobile clinics and two pints from area donors at the Red Cross Headquarters in Ann Arbor, where an open clinic is held the second Friday of every month. Through the generous donors in the area and especially at Double A Products and the Community Club the Blood Bank is successfully fulfilling its requirements.

Blood Banks are vital to this way of life and people involved are asked to make a semi-annual investment on March 23.

There are five people in the area who can release requests for blood. All it takes is a phone call of request or a telegram if you are in distant places in the States or Canada. Give the name of the patient, the number of pints needed and the name of the hospital in

TEST PILOT ARNOLD HEIMERDINGER

Neither his dad nor I knew anything about it until it was finished and he asked his dad to go and take a ride in it. They used to enjoy flying together," Mrs. Heimerdinger said.

Although she is very proud of her son's accomplishments she has never been in a plane. She enjoys his visits whenever he can land at Willow Run Airport and come and spend a few hours in Manchester.

MANCHESTER BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

A large barn, 75 by 30 feet, on Mrs. Albert Feldkamp's farm, 6715 Lamb Road was burned to the ground early Friday morning.

Barns located at both ends of the burned barn were saved by the Manchester and Napoleon fire departments after the blaze was discovered by Joseph Kastl, who saw the flames from his house on a nearby farm at 1:10 a.m.

A corn planter, two grain drills, a plow, mowing machine, field cultivator and other tools were lost.

The farm was unoccupied at the time.

The Washtenaw County Sheriff Department is investigating this fire and another mysterious barn fire discovered early enough to be put out before extensive damage was done.

Mrs. Lillian Washburn, discovered a fire in her barn, located only a few miles from the Feldkamp barn, just as she was leaving her home last week Wednesday morning.

Last fall, two other barns burned: One on the unoccupied Seth Mahler farm and the other on the former Oklahoma Ranch, north of Manchester.

Improving

Mrs. Carl Toburen, who fell and broke her hip about Christmas time, is now able to be up around with the help of a walker.

She hopes to be able to come to her home here later this spring. At the present time she is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Patenge at 5545 Park Lake Road, E. Lansing.

Auxiliary Joins In Fight For Facility

The Washtenaw County Auxiliary has joined the fight over whether or not Washenaw needs a hospital or not.

Mrs. N. S. Maddox of 721 Collegewood, Ypsilanti said that the Auxiliary represents some 1,000 individuals and a number of groups and that it spends several thousand dollars a year on many improvements to boost the morale of the patients.

It has been the hope of the Auxiliary that plans for a new facility would be forthcoming and she understood that some $20,000 was about to be appropriated for its planning when Dr. Otto K. Engelke, county health officer, voiced opposition.

She said that she realized that planning funds didn't mean that the hospital would be a "sure thing" Medicare will not provide for beds (this is understood) but Medicare will pay for care once those beds are provided.

She pointed out that Jackson County is adding 40 beds to its 10-year-old facility and other counties are doing the same.

Care at the "county hospital" is superior to that at nursing homes, she pointed out. She said that foster homes serving patients discharged from the county facility do not give the service in therapy that the county hospital does.

It is the only place outside the University and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where rehabilitation of the chronically ill goes on. She asked for a facility larger than the present 81 beds so that those would have a place to go after they are dismissed from the other two hospitals.

Mrs. Sheta Ling, developer of Lurie Terrace for older persons and formerly active with the Senior Citizens Guild, said Lurie Terrace "outside of the county hospital" houses more elderly citizens than any other in the county.

She noted that anyone over 65 has unpredictable health.

"You have an institution which is topflight in the state. Its bed capacity is not adequate at this time," she said.

"In terms of higher building costs, to stop short now would not make sense because you will get Medicare money for the patients served. The county might as well get this money as private facilities."

Mrs. Ling added that from her experience as director of Operations Medicare Alert which is identifying persons eligible for Medicare benefits and registering them "it is obvious that we do not have enough facilities even with the projected beds opening this year."

She also said that some 400 persons were signed up last week. "These are people who will need this facility," she said.

"There are a lot of poor people dying because they can't afford to live. There will still be a need for a county hospital. People will continue to get sick and from a realistic point of view we are going to need a hospital."

Board Chairman Russell Higgins said a six-or-eight week wait to see what the Legislature does will make no difference. Others say that the Board of Supervisors can't sell the voters on a bond issue in time for the November balloting even if it is started now.

The board members agreed to study a report on hospital needs before the March 30th meeting and they said they would study a report on hospital needs prepared for the Washtenaw County Planning Commission by Prof. John R. Griffith of the U of M.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

WEAKER HOG SLAUGHTER PRICES are expected by the end of March, possibly around $24. April could see a further weakening. Seasonal decline in slaughter into summer will be smaller than normal this year. Consequently, late spring-summer price gains will also be modest. Fewer hogs than expected have been slaughtered judging by farrowings several months ago. Sow slaughter is down sharply, indicating a holdback for breeding purposes.

SHELTER AND CONCRETE PAVING increased steer gains in Iowa tests. Shelter increased average daily gain .40 pound per yearling steer in winter and .18 pound in summer. Cost of gains with shelter was about $3.50 and per cwt. in winter and $4 less in summer. Concrete paving saved about 70¢ per cwt. gained and required only one-third as much labor and machine time for maintenance compared to dirt lots.

MOVABLE POSTS are handy around the farmstead where permanent fences are undesirable. Pour concrete into holes and set posts in which you've placed a heavy tire. They are handy around hog pens where cattle must be kept in separate groups. Others use them to make temporary holding pens and alleyways around farm buildings. When the posts can be rolled into place in holes but a few minutes to set up a fence or take one down.

GRAIN HEATING may be a serious problem as daily temperatures begin to rise if you still have some in storage. If grain is a little high in moisture and no aeration equipment is used, warm weather will cause it to heat. Fasten a thermometer on a long pole and make deep checks often.

Two Fatal Accidents Occur Within Half-Mile

A 28-year-old service station operator and a Manchester housewife were killed within a three-hour period early Sunday morning in two separate traffic accidents, both on Pleasant Lake Road, less than a mile from each other.

Dead were Wayne A. Ray of 208 Morgan Street, Manchester and Mrs. Judy Ann Navrock, 25 of 418 LaFayette, Manchester. One of the three passengers in Mrs. Navrock's car was hospitalized.

Sheriff's deputies said Ray was killed at 12:30 a. m. when his speeding car left Pleasant Lake Rd hit two large trees and overturned in the roadway.

Mrs. Navrock died after the car she was driving veered off Pleasant Lake Road, into a farm field at 3:30 a. m., and turned over twice. She was thrown out of the car and landed under it, deputies said.

Edwin A. Griffith, 31, of 2992 Lake View, Ann Arbor and Gary Langthorne, 25, and his wife, Christine, 23, both of 277 Bent Oak, Adrian, were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for treatment. Langthorne had two broken collar bones and other injuries. The other two escaped serious injury.

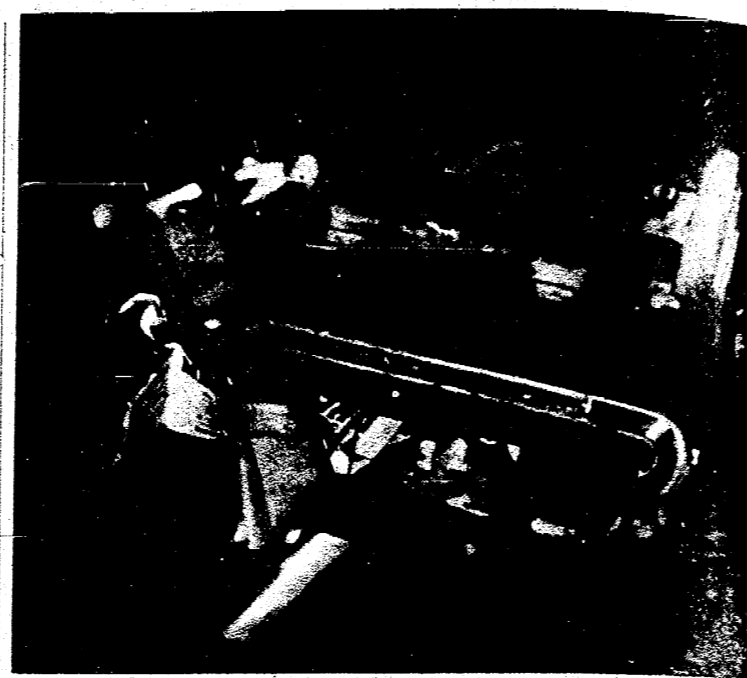

Deputies said Ray was headed west on Pleasant Lake Road, one-half mile east of M-32 in Sharon Township at an estimated speed of 85 miles an hour. Officers said Ray lost control of his 1962 model car on a curve.

The car traveled 15 feet across the road, went 285 feet along the shoulder of the road and then sailed into a deep culvert. The vehicle apparently hit a bump in the culvert and was sent hurtling 66 feet through the air and into a large tree, deputies said.

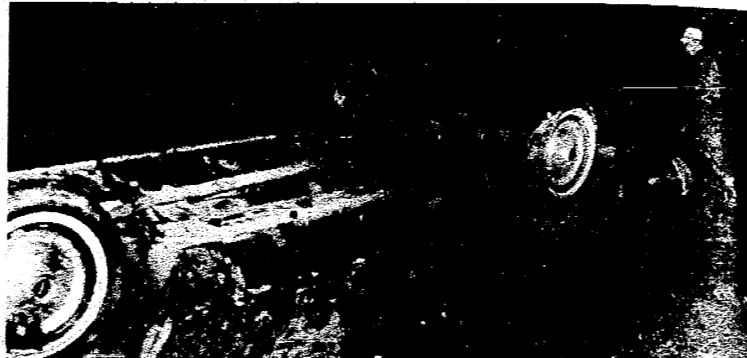

Then the car bounced off the tree, flew another 38 feet through the air and hit a second tree. The car spun over and landed on its roof in the road about 12 feet from the second tree, officers said.

Ray's body was pinned inside the demolished car and Dr. Michael Papo of Chelsea, a deputy medical examiner, pronounced Ray dead of a broken neck.

Mrs. Navrock was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy hospital shortly after 3:30 a. m. Sunday. Dr. W. E. Dolfin,

A Manchester service station operator lost his life in the first of two separate accidents on Pleasant Lake Road, early Sunday morning. Wayne Ray, 28 lost his life when his car went out of control. Washtenaw County Sheriff's officers and local police covered the accident.

The death car which pinned Mrs. Judy Ann Navrock under it in an auto accident early Sunday morning in which three others miraculously escaped with their lives.

Picture by Bill Tremli, courtesy of Ann Arbor News. A deputy medical examiner, said she died of a broken neck. Officers made a foot search of the area when it was first believed Mrs. Navrock may have been thrown some distance from the car.

The deep mud prevented a garage wrecker and farm tractors from entering the field to pull the wrecked car over on its roof so deputies and persons who stopped at the scene pushed the car over by hand.

Mrs. Navrock was found underneath the vehicle and died en route to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The two highway deaths raised the total for 1966 in Washtenaw County to 14 and set the current pace four months ahead of that of 1965. Last year there had been seven fatalities in the county by this date with the 14th occurring in July. A new all-time record of 60 traffic deaths occurred in Washtenaw County in 1965.

'BROTHER' TO RAISE A FEW CHICKENS

by Marie Schneider

The biggest egg production plant in this part of the county will hold open house Saturday, March 26 from 11:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. at the Early Bird Farms, Inc. one mile west of Manchester on Austin road.

This is a far cry from egg production of a few years back when every farmer had a flock of chickens, all the eggs they wanted and some to sell. It was often the money which the farmer's wife received from her sale of eggs that bought the groceries which she needed to complete the family larder. But most of the food was raised on the farm.

Now everything is done on a big scale, and for the most part few farmers "bother" to raise a few chickens. Like everything else both the production of eggs and of chickens has "gone big".

This is pretty obvious at the newest operation in this area, where Tony Schlosser and a crew of nine were working long hours to get his dream operation ready for showing Saturday. The weather hasn't been cooperating either. But the chicken man is optimistic and says that everything will be ready on schedule. And apparently that is the way these big operators work. The Schlossers have been raising chickens for years on their 15 acres, but until now they have never gone into egg production.

They buy day-old chicks and have three 10,000 bird houses. These are leghorn type birds—special for egg production. The birds are kept in these concrete buildings with a special ventilating system. They are automatically fed and watered. There are no windows. There is electric lighting for 22 hours a day for these day-old chicks. The light is carefully controlled and by the time they are 18 weeks old the pullets are getting 13.5 hours of light. It takes about 19 weeks to bring the pullets to production, Schlosser said.

This is the reason for the open house so people can see the newest type of laying house on Saturday. The pullets which he has been raising will be ready for their new home at that time. He pointed out that the production and the size of the eggs are controlled by light. The three houses where the birds live for the first 18 or 19 weeks are 50 x 216 feet, with 14 fans to the building.

DRIVER TRAINING COURSE TO CHANGE

Last spring the school board decided to remove driver training from the regular school day and have the program only in the summer months. School officials say that there are several reasons for not having the program within the framework of a school year.

First, it is expensive to operate a school district has to hire an extra teacher and schedule the class.

School officials say that in Manchester the driver training instructor had growing responsibilities in his own major field and so it is almost impossible to schedule such a program to accommodate all interested students during the school year.

A change of practice also creates problems for some boys and girls who either work on the farms or at other jobs, or who have special problems. Because of this the school has set up a program this spring to teach driver training on Saturdays to boys and girls who fall into these categories. They will continue each Saturday for 10 weeks. The instructors are Ron McNally and Jack Raffalli. This

YOUNGEST VILLAGE PRESIDENT TAKES OVER REIGNS

Retiring Village President Eugene Bentschneider handed his gavel to Gale Koebbe at a special meeting of Council last week Thursday. This followed Koebbe handing in his resignation as village councilman.

One of the first duties of Koebbe in his capacity as head of the village government will be to fill his own vacancy on the council. He had served one full two-year-term and one year of the second term.

It had been expected that this would be done last Monday but there wasn't a quorum. This will be the first order of business when council convenes Monday, April 4. In other business Koebbe will appoint the standing committees for the year.

When Bentschneider declined to run for another term as village president he said that he felt that it would be impossible to continue to devote the necessary time to the office because of business commitments. He has given ten years to the community—five years as president and five years as a councilman.

During his last year in office the Planning Commission became a reality and drillers struck a gold mine—in an exceptionally good well for the community.

The man who is following his footsteps is Manchester's youngest president. Gale Koebbe who is 28 will be 29 on September 30. Until Koebbe's election the distinction of being the youngest village head was held by Richard Way. He, too, was 28 years old when sworn into office but his birthday is June 2nd.
