COUNTY JUVENILE HOME GETS COURT

Practically everything is wrong with the Washtenaw County Juvenile Detention Home from the basic floor plan to the court decision of who is placed there, according to a study for Project 74 by a representative of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The report's author, Gordon D. Nelson of the Children's Bureau, does single out for praise the home's superintendent and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Shanahan.

"They are to be greatly commended for the warm atmosphere and generally constructive care provided in the home despite many inadequacies in the building, limitations in staffing, and weaknesses in processing," Nelson said.

To improve processing of cases going into detention, the court should have around-the-clock intake coverage to determine if a child should be detained, it should set forth admission standards so that the police, court workers, and public will understand when detention is essential, and cases where youths are detained should be handled ahead of those who can await disposition in their own homes.

Dependent or neglected children who are sometimes placed in the detention home because of their home problems should never be held in detention but should be given shelter care by the State Department of Social Services or private social agencies.

Children receiving clinical study to determine if they need hospitalization should be treated as out-patients when secure custody is not needed for them.

A number of children who have been committed to state hospitals or other psychiatric facilities are now being held for long times awaiting admission.

Every effort should be made to get those who are emotionally disturbed into medical setting immediately on an emergency basis rather than having them pass through detention enroute just because they are under juvenile court jurisdiction on a delinquency charge.

Most controversial of Nelson's recommendation arises from his observation that many children are kept for long periods in detention after being committed to a state training school or hospital. These long stays after a commitment, due to state institutions having control over when they will take a child, results in deterioration of the child while awaiting acceptance, he said.

The county should press that state to take children immediately on commitment. If the state refuses to accept them, these children should be released pending acceptance. "As long as detention is abused through serving a 'cold storage' function, the state is less likely to meet its obligation fully. The system as presently operated is extremely unjust to the children who experience this dead time in detention and is defeating sound rehabilitative processes," Nelson said.

Gov. Romney has recently announced that the state accept delinquents as soon as they are committed by the courts. Also the Boy Training School in Whitmore Lake is scheduled to open a 150-bed wing in May.

But how open this policy can remain to be seen. Right now that institution has a 50-bed unit it cannot open because it has been unable to employ staff.

Nelson recommends that the county promote state responsibility for detention planning and that the county promote contractual agreements with surrounding counties to purchase detention care and proceed to build a facility which can offer a fully approved program. While working on these goals, the court should try to reduce admissions to detention by better screening and thus convert the bedrooms created in 1964 to activity space.

The staffing pattern should be revised, the superintendent should live away from the home, be paid straight salary and have full administrative responsibilities for the home, his apartment should be converted to a boys' dayroom, a fenced playground twice the size of the present play area should be adjacent to the home with entrance from the day room, a school program with two special teachers should be provided and intercom system added, and a full time nurse should be put on the staff with a doctor on call.

Children should be in detention only if they require secure custody for the protection of others or of themselves, Nelson said. Granting passes for home visits or special occasions is not consistent with proper use of detention.

He also stresses the importance of parental visits which have been curtailed since the 1964 remodeling.

The school program, now limited to a half-time teacher from the Ann Arbor Public Schools, is under study by the Board of Supervisors which hopes to provide two full-time special education teachers and two portable classrooms as recommended by the County Intermediate School District.

THE KULENKAMPS HELP CANCER DRIVE

Last year the four sisters went to Florida to see their eldest sister, Mrs. Julia Enquist, who resides in Florida. It is obvious that they are a closely knit family and enjoy being together.

If they get caught up on their jobs they call in a few friends for a game of cards. This is a favorite pastime. Very methodical, they checked the addresses of everyone on the list for the cancer drive to be sure that the envelopes reach their destination on time.

"Why, I really don't think anyone should make a fuss about us doing this work on the cancer drive. We've been doing it for some time. Why shouldn't we? We have the time necessary to do it," Lydia said.

TO CELEBRATE EASTER AND CHRISTMAS

"We'll have Christmas at Easter," Mrs. Floyd Schiel promised her son, SP/4 Charles Schiel. He was stationed in Viet Nam near Phuoc Vink, a jungle town at Christmas time. In fact he spent six months there as a truck driver. He was discharged at Oakland, California and awarded the Good Conduct and Viet Nam Service medals. Last Saturday he arrived at Willow Run.

Charles finds that the weather here is cooperating with the Christmas plans for Sunday. A neighbor, Stanley Pam cut a Scotch pine for him. The temperature at Viet Nam for the Christmas holidays soared to 20 degrees.

"Of all the things which were sent to me while in the service I appreciated most having them send Kool Aid. There we used it to flavor the water so we could drink it. They have so much chlorine in it that it fairly burns your throat. The food was both poorly prepared and scarce. Sometimes native girls would bring oranges and another kind of fruit which somewhat resembled strawberries.

"We were lucky and had good laundry service. The native girls would pick up the laundry on one day and return it clean and pressed the next day. If we forgot and left anything in the pockets these things would be returned too," Charles said.

Another interesting thing he mentioned was the type of flat iron which the natives use. First, there is no electricity. But the natives have flat irons in which they build a charcoal fire to keep the irons hot.

Every serviceman had his own handle for light but when they went about the big guns the candles flew out.

"This didn't trouble me for I hardly ever had a candle lit. In the six months I was in Viet Nam I slept in a bunk only 13 nights," the 24-year-old soldier said.

He recalled that on Christmas day he had a very good turkey dinner that he applied to Christmas only. At the family gathering Sunday, Mrs. Schiel will be entertaining Charles' sisters, the Robert Richmonds of Brighton and the William Hainstocks of Manchester.

The one-year vacancy occurred when Koebbe was elected village president.

The Monday night council meeting was opened by prayer by the Rev. Fr. Raymond Schlinkert.

Al Gaige was the other new councilman seated at the meeting along with reelected Robert Clark and Basil McGuire.

The Shakespeare Club met at the home of Mrs. Leslie Chavey for the annual election of officers. They are: president, Mrs. Chas. Carlton; vice president, Mrs. Don Mackintosh; secretary, Mrs. Clayton Parr; treasurer, Mrs. Malcolm Billings; parliamentarian, Mrs. Ralph Kuetter.

REHABILITATION BREAK DOWN FOR WASHTENAW

Rehabilitation services were purchased for 186 Washtenaw County people during the last fiscal year. Mr. I. K. Norton, "Rehab" counselor in this county under the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, Department of Education, just released this information.

Norton reported that 43 disabled persons were rehabilitated to paying jobs. The others continue to receive services that will prepare them to hold jobs.

The DVR expenditures in Washtenaw County total $25,420 during the year. Mr. Norton explained that the following services were provided:

- Medical examination and other diagnostic services . . $2,800
- Treatment, including medical and surgical services . . $500
- Application of artificial limbs, braces and hearing aids . $5,230
- Hospitalization, for corrective of defects . . . $600
- Training, in school or on the job, to prepare a person for suitable work in spite of a disability . . . $13150
- Other services, such as tools or transportation $3,130.

The Washtenaw County area received benefits far greater than the amount of "Rehab" funds spent. Norton pointed out that the average weekly earnings of people rehabilitated in Michigan last year was $63.00. Before rehabilitation, they earned $10.00 per week. Applied to Washtenaw County, this indicates an estimated annual increase of $118,200 in wages earned by the 43 persons rehabilitated here. The cost of rehabilitation was $25,420.

The knowledge that rehabilitation is a good investment of public funds has resulted in increased appropriations for this service. At present only a little over 1/3 as many people are rehabilitated each year as are estimated to come to need rehabilitation services.

As the number of counselors and amount of case service funds become more adequate it will make it possible to provide services to more people and to the more severely disabled. Usually the more severe the disability the greater number of services that are needed and the more counselor time is taken to work out the complex problems involved.

Providing more complete rehabilitation services depends also on how accessible the services are to the community. The farther a disabled person has to go for complicated diagnosis, hospital surgical treatment, or training, the more difficult it may be for him to manage it.

Mr. Norton said "Vocational Rehabilitation can bring a bright future to the disabled. However, it can be done only as the community supports the correction of defects, the training for marketable skills, and their employment jobs where their ability counts.

APRIL 15 DEADLINE FOR SIGN-UP FOR WHEAT

Friday, April 15 is the last day growers may file applications to take part in the 1966 Grain and Voluntary Wheat Programs, the Washtenaw ASCS Office has announced. Signing up is the first step in qualifying for any of the program benefits including price support.

Farmers who sign-up and then carry out provisions of the 1966 voluntary wheat program will be able to get domestic marketing certificates in addition to price-support loans and purchases for their wheat crop.

On the domestic part of the projected production, the support available through loans and certificates will be at 100 per cent of parity as of the beginning of the marketing year—July 1, 1966. February 4, 1966 wheat parity was $2.53.

In view of the famine conditions which have developed in various parts of the world, the 1966 wheat program has been amended and it no longer offers spring wheat growers payments on additional voluntary diversion diversion below allotments.

While the payments will still be available for winter wheat growers who have already planted crops with the provision in mind, these growers are encouraged wherever possible not to reduce their acreage below the farm allotment during the present sign-up period. Instead, such wheat farmers who are also eligible as feed grain producers are encouraged to participate fully in the feed grain program. Feed grain stocks continue to be more than sufficient.

Under the Feed Grain Program only those who sign to participate will qualify for price-support loans, purchases, and payments. The participating grower also earns a diversion payment for diverting part of his feed grain base to a conserving use; the payments do not apply to the first 20-percent diversion except on farms with small bases.

The office will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. the week of April 11 through April 15.

LOCAL BOY TO ATTEND 4-H MARKETING TOUR

Philip Spike, 17-year-old son of the Lowell Spikes of Manchester and Mark Ruhlig, 16 year old son of the Albert Ruhligs of Dexter, two outstanding 4-H Dairy Club members, have been selected to participate in the Annual 4-H Milk Marketing Tour in Detroit on April 29 and 30.

This event, sponsored by the Michigan Milk Producers Association, serves to show and instruct older 4-H dairy club members the complex structure of milk marketing. Tours, educational speakers and a period of recreation are included in this two-day experience.

A total of 80 Dairy members from throughout the state will attend. Seven of this group will be selected to participate in the National 4-H Dairy Conference in Chicago in December.

Providing more complete rehabilitation services depends also on how accessible the services are to the community. The farther a disabled person has to go for complicated diagnosis, hospital surgical treatment, or training, the more difficult it may be for him to manage it.

Mr. Norton said "Vocational Rehabilitation can bring a bright future to the disabled. However, it can be done only as the community supports the correction of defects, the training for marketable skills, and their employment jobs where their ability counts.

SUPERVISORS OK ROAD BUDGET

The Washtenaw County Road Commission will operate on a budget of $2,165,000 during 1966, an increase of $153,795 from the 1965 budget of $2,012,205.

The new budget and the 1965 fiscal report were approved by a special meeting of the County Board of Supervisors.

The 1966 budget calls for income of $1,590,000 in motor vehicle highway funds, $210,000 in county-raised funds, and $365,000 in other income to reach the $2,165,000 budgeted amount.

Expenses are local road maintenance, $482,000; primary road maintenance, $477,000; primary construction, $270,000; federal aid secondary construction, $130,000; equipment maintenance, $360,000; new equipment, $111,000; other capital outlay, $40,000; bond retirement, $110,000; and reimbursement expense, $245,000.

In 1965, the commission spent 38 per cent of its budget for maintenance of primary and local roads 21 per cent of its money for construction, 15 per cent for equipment maintenance, 11 per cent for state trunkline maintenance, 10 per cent for administration.

The 1965 spending of $2,868,478.92 was up from $2,657,768 in 1964.

Some of these funds were matched by state and by township funds.

For snow removal, ice control and snow fencing the commission paid $41,920.58 in 1965 as compared to $81,939 the year before. Expenses for the signs and signals totaled $16,416 while in 1964, the commission spent $54,080.

The road commission, which also serves as park commission spent $6,000 on improvements to three county parks--Park Washtenaw of Lyndon, Superior Center Park, and Cavanaugh Lake Park.

TWO-YEAR COUNTY ROAD CONSTRUCTION PLANS AHEAD

The Washtenaw County Road Commission will undertake a two-year road construction program which will tie in with the Ann Arbor plans for Packard Road, under the bond issue proposal.

The two-year plan calls for construction and improvement on 55.58 miles of roads at an estimated cost of $900,000 and has been approved by the County Board of Supervisors.

The Packard Road project will include 2.8 miles from Ann Arbor to Carpenter Road with the county spending $30,000 this year and $70,000 during 1967.

This year the commission will complete a $135,000 project of 2.1 miles of Packard Road from Carpenter to the Ypsilanti City Limits.

Other projects are Zeeb Road, and Webster Church Rds., from Huron River Drive to N. Territorial, 4.5 miles for $18,000; Strawberry Lake Road from Mast Road to the Livingston County line, Curtis Road from N. Territorial to Six Mile; Whittaker Road bridge; Stony Creek bridge and State Street extension from US-12 to Bemis road.

Additional projects will be two miles Ann Arbor-Saline Road, seven miles Dexter-Pinckney Road, 4.4 miles Stony Creek Rd., one mile and Saline-Milan Rd., 6.5 miles.

This five year program will meet only about 25 per cent of the county's over-all primary road deficiencies. To completely bring the 152 miles of inadequate primary roads up to today's standards would cost in excess of $9 million. In addition the local road system, of which 226 miles are also inadequate, will require about $10 million to construct to today's standards, road officials reported.

From 1952 to 1965 the commission had reduced the miles of inadequate primary roads from 366.68 to 152.14 and the local roads from 274.83 to 225.84.

KITE FLYING CAN BE DANGEROUS

There is only one way to fly a kite. According to Division Manager A. F. Brewer of Consumers Power Company's Jackson Division, that way is, safely.

"Each spring we ask youngsters to observe simple kite safety rules, he said.

- They are: 1. Fly kites made of wood, paper or plastic, with no metal parts. 2. Never fly kites in rainy or showery weather; lightning might hit. 3. Fly kites with string, not with wire or metallic gift cord. 4. Never fly a kite near power lines, and keep kites away from trees. 5. Stay out of streets and roads with kites, as with any toy. 6. If a kite lands high in a tree or on a wire or phone line, don't climb after it; leave it there. You might fall and get hurt.

Mr. Brewer added that Consumers Power has distributed kite flying safety rules to a number of schools in the area, and that each year the company appeals for "kite sense" in the hopes that there will be no unhappy incidents during late March and early April, Michigan's kite season.

"On the first day of spring this year, in Baltimore, Maryland, a 39 year old father was electrocuted when he flew a kite with thin copper instead of string. The kite cutting was a treat for his five year old son.

"The senseless tragedy never need to have occurred. So we ask parents as well as children to remember that there is only one way to fly a kite," Mr. Brewer said. "And that's safely."

WOMEN'S ROLE IN SPACE AGE

A personal development conference, the first of its kind was held at Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan April 2nd. It was sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

The morning session of this conference was strictly scientific with Harold Plumier, Regional Director for Aerospace Education for the US Airforce explaining the "Frontiers of our times" and the profound impact it will have on all of us. James Davis, Chemistry professor at Oakland University told about the Revolution in Evolution.

It was interesting to hear scientists speak of the lag in the teaching of morals and ethics and the great need for religious training in the Space Age. Mr. Plumier said "We know the price of everything and the value of nothing. And more important than space exploration is what we teach our children about the brotherhood of man and how to live with one another.

At luncheon time Mrs. Paul Goebel, chairman of Gov. Romney's Commission on Status of Women, spoke on "Women's Role in Modern Society."

The afternoon session was devoted to explaining the impact of space age on the emotional life of women. Has space changed their role? This was well answered. Spiritual response to the scientific age—it demands a spirituality geared to the awe-inspiring beauty and holiness of things. Politics in space age—women must take an active part.

"Will Rogers" of the space age, of the Space Age.

THE VOLUNTARY WAY

This is National Citizen's Scholarship Week, April 5 through 9th.

All across America communities are working to see that their young scholars have the dollars they need for higher education. To frequently our national leaders refer to state-mans indicating that a government should do all things that the individual can not do as effectively for himself. These leaders completely overlook the fact that the principal means of accomplishing things in America is through this pool of voluntary cooperation, through free individuals' organs to do things that are too large and difficult for the individual to do. After all, the voluntary basis is more flexible. It adapts itself easier, it's quicker, it's more effective. It can be focused on the point of problem. It can create a power and an influence that can't quite be created through the more ponderous process of government service.

These were the comments of Gen. Romney, Governor of Michigan in MAP Monitor.

Here in Manchester there is a local chapter of citizens Scholarship Foundation. If everyone will give just one dollar there will be plenty of money for scholarships for all our deserving high school graduates, according to Mrs. W. Purfield, chairman for the local Dollars for Scholars Chapter.

ANNUAL ATHLETIC BANQUET TO BE HELD ON MONDAY APRIL 25

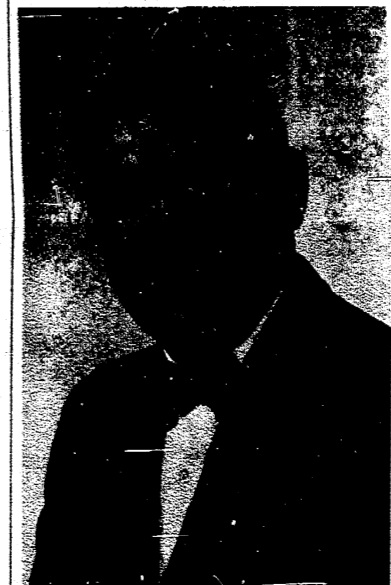

The Annual Manchester Athletic Banquet, co-sponsored by the Optimist Club and the Athletic Boosters Club, will be held on Monday, April 25, the varsity letter winners and school personnel associated with the athletic department as guests of the club. The planning committee from both clubs consists of Clarence Fielder, Willard Mann, Rolfe Grossman, Jack Raffalli, and Chester Koceski.

The Varsity Choir, under the direction of Roger Marrison, will furnish the entertainment.

The coaches will be called to give a resumé of the season and introduce their squads.

Mr. Ed Kirk will be master of ceremonies.

Reservations can be made or tickets can be purchased from Clarence Fielder, Willard Mann, and Chester Koceski, through Thursday, April 21. Tickets will not be sold at the gate.

BILL DOOLITTLE

The main speaker for the evening will be Bill Doolittle, the head football coach at Western Michigan University. Bill Doolittle was named head football coach at Western Michigan University in January of 1964 by President James W. Miller. He developed a three-peat system that year which netted a 3-6 record with two of the victories coming over Mid-American Conference foes Kent-State and Ohio University. His record was 6-2 and 1 in 1965.

He came to Western Michigan from the United States Military Academy where he had been an assistant coach under Paul Dietzel, a former high school teammate.

Doolittle is a native of Mansfield, O. He was captain and quarterback on the Mansfield High team and earned all-state honors in his senior year of 1941; Dietzel (Army's coach) was starting center on this same high school team.

SCHOOL OPERATING BUDGET FOR 1966-67

The Manchester Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting Monday night discussed the first draft of the 1966-67 school budget. The tentative budget as presented Monday night shows an increase of some $55,000.00 over last year's budget. Improvement in the teachers' salary schedule, a growing school district and rising operational costs were cited as significant factors in the increased budget. A breakdown of the above designated amount indicates increases in the following areas:

Certificated Personnel Salary Improvements (Basic Schedule and extra curricular duties)	$30,000.00
Possible need for additional teachers (2)	10,200.00
Instructional materials and supplies	4,500.00
Non-Certificated Employees salary increases	3,000.00
Summer School and Adult Education Programs	1,000.00
Increased costs: Legal, Audit & Insurance	3,000.00
Operation & Maintenance of Plant	3,000.00
Transportation	1,000.00
	$55,700.00

While the largest single increase in the improvement of the teachers' salary schedule, it was noted that the Manchester salary schedule will still be behind the average minimum salary schedule paid in neighboring districts. Improvements in both the elementary and secondary programs were discussed and a report to the general public relative to these proposed changes will be forthcoming at a later date. In the discussion of the proposed budget Mr. Luther C. Klager, Board President, indicated that all school districts in the State of Michigan are experiencing the same problems and that Manchester must move ahead with the rest of the districts. Mr. Klager said, "We are not an island. There are certain things we must do if we want our boys and girls to be competitive in a highly competitive world." Mr. Klager added, "We might not like these increasing costs, but if we don't face up to them in the area of education our young people will be the ones to suffer."

Considering the revenues needed to meet the 1966-67 budget, the Board of Education indicated that a minimum of five (5) extra operational mills are necessary in order to achieve a sound financial program. The school district has for several years levied this much millage as extra operational millage. Last year this amount was cut to three mills. However, in the light of the proposed expenditures for next year and in an effort to keep the district financially and educationally competitive, the Board of Education will propose to the patrons of the district a five mill operational levy at the annual June election. At this particular time it is not known what kind of increase, if any, will be forthcoming from the State in the form of State Aid. But regardless of any improvement from this source, the school district will still need at least two additional mills over what was received last year in order to meet the new obligations that are evident at this time.

The Board of Education is planning to hold a meeting for the general public in the very near future. The proposed budget and school needs will be discussed and explained in order that the patrons of the district will be adequately informed. The time and place of this meeting will be announced at a later date.

In other business the Board of Education granted pay raises to all non-certificated personnel. These raises, for the most part, reflected the annual cost of living increase granted to employees. Superintendent Swartz reported that a new language laboratory partially purchased with NDEA funds was being installed in the high school this week. This language laboratory is a portable one and will be installed in the present high school building until the new building is ready to accommodate it.

MANCHESTER SCHOOL DISTRICT TO RECEIVE $20,258.90

The Manchester School District will receive $20,258.90 in Federal Funds under the provisions of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act of 1965, P.L. 89-10, Title I. These funds will be used this spring and summer to provide programs to improve the reading skills and basic language arts proficiencies of children in grades 1 through 12. The children who will be enrolled in this program are children with reading and language arts deficiencies and are one year or more behind in these areas in their grade placement level. A survey done several months ago in the local system pointed out that about one hundred students were in need of this kind of corrective program, and on the basis of this need the funds were made available. Immediate steps will be taken to get all of these students enrolled in the program. Local staff members who have indicated an interest in working with these children will administer and staff the program.

Superintendent Swartz reported to the Board of Education that the State Department of Education had approved the district's application for bond qualification. Pending the approval by the Municipal Finance Commission of the sale of these bonds, the school district is in a position to go ahead with the building program approved by the voters in the December 16 bonding election. A tentative schedule as outlined to the Board of Education at its Monday night meeting indicated that drawings and specifications would be available to contractors the middle of May and the district could expect to receive bids around June 15, 1966.
