County's Valuation Hits All Time High

Washtenaw County's construction program has caused the equalized valuation to increase more than $47 million in this last year. This makes it at an all time high of $781,413,800.

That was the figure set by the Board of Supervisors and it is expected to be approved as the state equalized valuation by the State Tax Commission. Much of the increase in valuation was from construction of apartments and industrial plants and also from the equalized studies made this year in five units bringing valuations up to market value.

This year's increase in equalized valuation is $47,577,400 or 6.48 per cent. A year ago the increase was $42,188,400 or 6.1 per cent.

The 1965 and 1966 increases in valuation reflect a sharp incline over previous years. The increase from 1963 to 1964 was $13,000,000 and from 1962 to 1963 it was $10,000,000.

The greatest increases are in Ann Arbor, $28,601,003; Scio

Township, $6,129,381; Ypsilanti, $5,769,542; and Saline, $3,817,748. Townships with more than a $1 million gain include: Lehi, Augusta, Manchester, Pinfield, Sylvan, Webster, and York in addition to Scio.

Ypsilanti Township shows a loss of nearly $8 million, largely because of greater exemption on industrial personal property. State aid will offset the loss partially, giving the township a net loss of about $4 million, according to Supr. Roy Smith's estimate.

School districts, the county, and some townships will use the state equalized valuation against which to levy their regular and extra-voted millage rates in the winter of 1966. The state equalized figure is usually the same or close to the rate set by the county board.

If the county board holds the line on the millage it will levy for county operations in 1967 the present 4.98 mills which will yield $3,891,441 or $236,932 more than it produced on an equalized valuation for 1966 operations of $733,836,400.

If the county had not gone to the 18-mill limitation from 15 mills, the most the county could expect from the 15 mills was 4.8 mills. This will be the second year that the county has not had to go to an allocation board to fight with the schools and townships for a share of the 15 mills. The county now has a fixed allocation and it can levy up to 5.5 of the 18 mills.

Under the old system, 4-6 mills would have yielded $3,750,786 or $140,655 less than would be available from the 4.98 mills on which the county is presently operating.

If the county supervisors chose to levy the full 5.5 mills for 1967, the tax yield will be $4,297,776 or $643,267 more than the county realized for the 1966 budget.

Saline Township Supr. Albert Bredemitz voted against the equalization figure, indicating that his township may appeal to the State Tax Commission. The commission is empowered to change the total equalization figure without holding a hearing. It would hold a hearing on changing an individual unit's valuation.

In this year's equalization, the three cities of Ann Arbor, Saline and Ypsilanti account for 49.7 per cent of the county total and the 20 townships account for 50.23 per cent. Last year's percentages were 47.78 for cities and 52.22 for townships.

The equalized valuations for property in the county are as follows: Ann Arbor, $304,248,257; Saline, $15,052,100; Ypsilanti, $69,131,563; Ann Arbor Township, $23,017,593; Augusta Township, $10,527,363; Bridgewater, $4,332,164; Dexter, $6,940,759; Freedom, $6,878,453; Lima, $6,661,351; Lodi, $8,239,065; Lyndon, $3,851,026; Manchester, $8,609,571; Northfield, $13,466,654; Pinfield, $27,942,307; Salem, $10,294,561; Saline Township, $5,188,292; Scio Township, $5,141,380; Sharon, $3,575,394; Sylvan, $22,300,284; Webster, $7,020,239; York, $16,274,518; Superior, $12,526,361; and Ypsilanti Township, $162,429,768.

K of C PREPARE FOR MOTHER'S DAY

MIXUP You gotta mix a little, stir a little, yes, and maybe taste a little - when you are the ground crew of 'chefs' preparing for a roast beef dinner. (l to r) Al Simmons, Grand Knight; Lehman Wahl, chief chef; Clarence Fielder, co-chairman with L. V. Kirk, far right and Spike Benedict, chef in charge of potato mashers.

Roast beef is the order of the day for the annual Mother's Day dinner at the Manchester Knights of Columbus Hall from 12 noon to 4:30 p. m. Sunday, May 8th. The event is open to the public and tickets are available at the door, according to L. V. Kirk and Clarence Fielder publicity chairmen.

For the past nine years the Knights have been giving mothers in the area a break on Mother's Day by serving their family style roast beef dinner.

For the most part they used to find themselves getting dinner at home or taking the family out on this one day of the year.

"We find it is more fun to do the work together than cooking it alone. Then, too, sometimes we'd find that we had to cook for company after we had promised to give our wives the day off. This sort of thing can present a real hazard," said Fielder, the father of eight children.

The profits that they make on this giant dinner goes to help pay the debt on the K of C Building on 108 E. Madison Street which also houses the Manchester Post Office.

The Father Fisher Council K of C started ten years ago and soon after the membership started to put up the building. Much of the labor was donated but materials had to be purchased.

The Mother's Day dinner was held in St. Mary's hall the first couple of years—for it took that long to erect the K of C hall.

Chief Chef is Lehman Wahl and nine cooks help him. The menu is the same every year and those who mash the mounds of fluffy potatoes have become experts in the field. There is brown gravy with the roast beef, green beans, cole slaw, relishes and home made pies. This is the only area in which the men solicit help from their wives.

About forty men pitch in to help the cooks. The Knights have had years of experience now and are well known for their efficient service and good food.

They no longer confine their culinary arts to their Mother's Day dinner for they are noted for serving wedding dinners, community dinners and the Mayor Exchange dinners to mention a few.

"Somehow it seems that it takes a lot of dinner profits to get this hall paid for," Kirk commented, "but we are gaining on it!"

CARNIVAL ATMOSPHERE at Double A Products as banners wave both in and outside the plant as the unique QIC contest stirs the interest of every employee in an all out effort to keep the DOUBLE A name synonymous with quality.

ALL IN A DAY'S WORK! Harold Fouty (left) is presented a pen and pencil set by Don Dorff, Quality Control Department head who dreamed up the Quality Idea Contest in the first place. Fouty was singled out for designing a grinding machine.

As early as March of this year, the Quality Control Dept., under the management of Don Dorff, set about the task of launching an all-out effort to make all Double A employees truly quality-conscious. The Quality Control Department began to organize their Quality Idea Contest.

The contest was unofficially launched April 11, by the circulation of Q.I.C. "teaser" badges which suggested that "Q.I.C. was coming." These badges were distributed to all Quality Control staff members, and to all Manufacturing Department heads. A banner was posted out in the Manufacturing Area reading, "1966! The Time for Best Quality," and fact folders were displayed in the office and Manufacturing Areas, with various tips on quality included. A number of posters hung throughout the Manufacturing Area and office bulletin boards, suggested that the break of Q.I.C. was near at hand and the program would be launched on Monday, April 18.

On the promised date, Double A employees found their working areas looking quite different. The Quality Idea Contest was cont. page (8)

Friendship Garden

Mother has a green thumb For flowers and people too. She has a friendship garden And one of flowering rue.

There is a time for everything She says and seems to know When to tender her affection And when to let things go.

For the rhythm of all growing things Like flowers and you and I Is an alternate attention And a silent standing by.

A friendship must grow slowly Nor the flower plucked anon. When it's time the bud will open And the shyness will be gone.

In friendship garden mother works As with her flowering rue. She says it makes her fit to be A friend and have one too.

And every flower that blossoms there Begging Nature's pardon Seems to have its human counterpart In mother's friendship garden. -dorothy morrison

O'Brien Announces Candidacy

Judge Francis L. O'Brien, Municipal Judge of the City of Ann Arbor announced that he would seek the nomination on the non-partisan ballot for the office of judge of Probate of Washtenaw County. In making the announcement Judge O'Brien said, "The Probate Court carries a number of important responsibilities. These involve the settlement and distribution of estates of decedents, the determination of commitment of mentally disturbed persons, the care and welfare of neglected and dependent children, adoption, the hearing and determination of matters involving wayward minors, and the appointment of guardians. Problems particularly in social and behavioral areas have become more intense during the past years and will become more pressing in the immediate future. Recent judicial decisions have brought to focus the necessity for seeking other and more effective means of dealing with such matters as addiction, emotional disturbance and youthful offenders. Emphasis must be placed upon detection, prevention and rehabilitation. This is particularly true in the case of young offenders. This has been my philosophy for many years and one which I have practiced in the municipal court with some rather rewarding results. Judicial experience and leadership in establishing a means for rehabilitation and prevention are prime necessities in meeting the challenge of these responsibilities. I feel that with my experience, both as a judicial officer of the past seventeen years, and as an active participant in rehabilitative efforts on a national, state and local level, I am able to provide the resources and leadership which are required and expected of a probate judge."

Judge O'Brien was born in Northfield Township and is a life long resident of Washtenaw county. He graduated from Eastern Michigan University in 1930 (A. B. degree) and served in the teaching profession in the secondary schools for six years before entering the University of Michigan Law School. He graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1938 and entered the private practice of law in the city of Ann Arbor in 1939. He served on the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors for two terms before entering the military service in 1942. He served in the US Army from 1942 to 1945 in the European theatre. In 1946 he served as chief assistant prosecuting attorney for the county. In 1949 he was appointed by the Ann Arbor City Council to fill the unexpired term of municipal judge and has been elected to that office for three successive terms without opposition. As municipal judge of Ann Arbor he became interested in the problems of alcoholism. He was a member of the Michigan State Board of Alcoholism by virtue of executive appointment and senate confirmation from 1958 to 1964. He was active in the founding of the Washtenaw County committee on alcoholism and in the establishment of the Washtenaw County alcohol clinic.

In 1965 he was one of seventy-five persons from the legal and medical professions invited to participate in a national conference on alcoholism held at the Boston University Law-Medicine Institute. Judge O'Brien is a member of the Michigan State Bar Association the American Bar Association, the North American Judges Association and the American Judicature Society. He is vice-president of the Ann Arbor Chapter of the Michigan Association of Emotionally Disturbed Children, a member of the State Bar Committee on Municipal and Traffic Courts and the State Bar Special Committee on Minor Court Systems. Judge O'Brien is a past-president and current member of the Michigan Association of Municipal Judges, past chairman and current vice chairman of the section of alcohol and addiction of the North American Judges Association, past Chairman, current member and Catholic Co-chairman of the Ann Arbor Chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, past-director and current member of the Ann Arbor Community Center, and member of the Board of Directors of the Eastern Michigan University Alumni Association. Judge and Mrs. O'Brien reside at 216 S. Revena Boulevard, Ann Arbor, and have two sons, Tom, a graduate student at Eastern Michigan University and Michael, a student in high school.

DOLLAR and SENSE FARMING.

A SHORTER FINISHING PERIOD pays for many cattle feeders. Recent Michigan trials indicate that various grades of cattle on feed 150 to 157 days were less efficient in converting feed to lean meat or boneless retail cuts. They also showed little grade improvement compared to those on feed 80 to 87 days. The finishing ration fed in these tests was 75% shelled corn, 20% alfalfa-brome hay, and 5% soybean oil meal with vitamin A.

HIGH-GRAIN FEEDING for dairy cows can increase income providing they are fed according to their capacity. New Jersey DHIA summaries show that cows fed 1,260 pounds of grain produced 10,947 pounds of milk for an income over feed cost of $236 per cow. Those fed 55,300 pounds of grain produced 14,822 pounds of milk and returned $394.

FERTILITY FOR SORGHUM-SUDAN HYBRIDS is important. Because of their high potential growth, fertilizer recommendations are about the same as for corn. Rates vary, but figure 20 to 30 pounds of actual N per acre at planting and 50 more after each harvest if three harvests are made. If two harvests are made, disk 50 pounds of N into the seedbed and apply 50 more after the first harvest in addition to the starter.

DEFLECTOR SHIELDS for hay crushers, flail mowers and some wind-rows can save a raking operation and valuable leaves. Adjust shields to leave a windrow four wide enough for the baler or chopper to handle easily. A high windrow will dry much more slowly.

SUPERVISORS TO STUDY 9 POINT PROGRAM COMPLIANCE BY CERTIFICATION

Roy Smith, newly elected chairman of the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors has suggested a nine-point program to keep Washtenaw County Government abreast of community development.

The nine items which Smith says are needing immediate attention by the Board of Supervisors are: Juvenile Court facilities, more space for the third and possible fourth Circuit Court judgeship, county medical care facilities, salary and fringe benefits for county employees, improvement of county roads, further implementation of the Economic Opportunity Act (EOA) civil rights, expansion of park facilities and further industrial development.

Smith opposes a possible county wide reappraisal of property and says that "I have researched this matter and find that 81 per cent of the tax base is in substantial conformity due to recent reappraisals by individual governmental units and that much of the remaining variance will be corrected by impending state equalization requirements."

The spending of an estimated $500,000 on a study that would take three or four years and quite possibly produce no additional revenue is simply not economically realistic.

Speaking of the Juvenile Court he says that troubled young people are being placed in a Detention Home. Children are being ferried back and forth in police cars because of lack of room and crammed facilities. Smith said a complete new quarters is needed.

New space is needed for the third judge who will be elected in November. By building a Juvenile Court facility it would eliminate distance between troubled young people and those who are charged with helping them. This would release space for the filing and offices of clerks of the Circuit Court.

The Supervisors decision to delay the planning of new medical facilities for the county until there is some idea of the intentions of state and federal government in this field, Smith believes was the proper move.

Smith says that "Whatever we do, it will soon be said of us that we did too little."

If the problems of the present seem overwhelming it must be remembered that they are the problems of progress--problems our counterparts in other counties envy, by products of projection-shattering growth and expansion.

Reviews of current best sellers are posted on the library bulletin board weekly along with The Green Sheet which reviews current and popular films.

The Michigan Civil War Centennial Observance Committee in Dearborn regularly supplies the library with booklets on "Michigan in the Civil War." These are most fascinating articles and worthy of attention.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION UNDER STUDY

Washtenaw County School officers and School Superintendents Association members will meet at the Ann Arbor Board of Education offices Thursday, May 5 where they will discuss two approaches to a vital vocational education.

In addition to school board members, secondary school principals, superintendents and members of the Intermediate School Board other invited guests expected to be present include State Senator Gilbert Burley and Representative's Thomas Sharpe and Charles Gray.

Harold Matthews, Dean of Jackson Community College, will explain how that college treats vocational training for grades 10 and 12 as an integral part of the college set-up.

Harold Fisher, vocational education director of Muskegon County Intermediate School District, by contrast, will tell about the concept of vocational education as it is handled there.

In Muskegon, instead of using Community College facilities, a separate building to serve all vocational education students in these grades in the county is operated by the Intermediate School District.

To determine which of these plans might best serve Washtenaw the Intermediate School Board here has asked the Community College Board to conduct a survey in which they will participate. If the results show that vocational education here could be handled most economically and efficiently by a co-operative venture between the Community College and Intermediate School District, "It is hoped that before January of 1967 the people of the county will know where the county is heading relative to vocational and technical teaching," according to Nick Ianni, assistant superintendent of the Intermediate School District.

HONORED FOR SERVICE

Mrs. Luella M. Smith, Washtenaw county clerk since 1939, and the Rev. C. W. Carpenter, pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Ann Arbor were the first to receive the American Bar Association Library Bell Awards at Law Day ceremonies in the Washtenaw Circuit Court. Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr. presented the plaques on behalf of the Washtenaw County Bar Association. The award was established by the ABA to recognize efforts of non-lawyers to uphold the law.

Mrs. Smith and the Rev. Carpenter were commended for service beyond the call of duty.

Judge Breakey told Mrs. Smith, "You have guided us as lawyers and judges through the years and I was happy to see you advanced early in the days of having a woman in a high position." He called her the "most efficient county clerk in the state."

He said the Rev. Carpenter had worked in "human relations and has stamped your position as one of great service in the community."

POPPI DAY MAY 20-21

Approximately half a million Americans died and nearly one million were wounded in wars of the past 50 years, according to Mrs. Donald Walter, American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Chairman, who is directing the annual observance of remembrance here on May 20-21.

The memorial poppies, fashioned by disabled veterans, will be worn by our citizens in honor of all the war dead on Poppy Day.

The contributions made by the people of Manchester on these days are utilized to aid the victims of wars still in hospitals and to provide assistance to the children and widows of the United States war dead. Not only do the veterans and their families benefit from these contributions; one of the outstanding accomplishments of this organization is to purchase and loan out hospital equipment to the ill and those convalescing from illness and accidents to any member of this community.

We invite all citizens of Manchester to join with us, the American Legion and the Auxiliary, by supporting Poppy Days, our time of remembrance.

Chairmen of the Poppy Drive are Mrs. Fritz Wurster and Mrs. Lauren Huber.

CLINTON POLICE WARN CHILDREN

Emphasizing that child molesting incidents increase in spring and summer when children are outdoors more, State Police Sgt. Carl Anderson, commander of the Clinton Post, advised parents to caution youngest children about possible danger from strangers.

In a seasonal reminder on this problem, Sergeant Anderson said the State Police last year received 547 complaints of sex offenses, which included incidents of child molesting with most of them occurring in warm weather months.

Similar incidents are reported to other police departments and many, usually because of an unwarranted fear of publicity, are not reported at all.

Molestering dangers can best be thwarted by cooperation of the parents, children, school authorities and police, the sergeant said, though initial responsibility falls heaviest upon the parents and children.

Parents should set guidelines of outdoor activity for their children, explain the importance of such rules and see that they are followed.

Sergeant Anderson made these recommendations: Children should not accept offers for walks or rides from strangers nor should they go with any person unless the parents approve.

Children should have companions at play, going to or from school, movies or other approved places or when running errands because a child alone may too easily become a molester's victim.

Youngsters should be told not to loiter at public rest rooms, isolated places or vacant buildings which can be high danger areas.

Parents should report any molesting incidents to police because this can help check the menace. Names of youngsters involved in such incidents are not made public, except where warranted in cases of abduction or murder.

POSTMASTER URGES POSTAL CERTIFICATE WITHDRAWAL

Postmaster Marvin Kirk is urging all depositors with postal certificates without fail to withdraw their accounts from Post Offices as soon as possible or as soon as the anniversary dates on their certificates are reached.

The Postal Savings System was abolished March 27, 1966 with the signing of Public Law 89-377 by President Lyndon Johnson.

Postmaster Kirk pointed out that as of April 28, 1966, no deposits can be accepted and no new accounts can be opened. He said that interest will end on the anniversary date of each certificate.

The Postal Savings System was established January 1, 1911, to get money out of hiding and attract savings of a large number of immigrants who were accustomed to saving at Post Offices in their own country; also, it served as a safe depository for people who had lost confidence in private banks.

POSTMASTER URGES POSTAL CERTIFICATE WITHDRAWAL

Today, with the growth of banking facilities paying much higher on principals--than the 2 percent interest per annum paid on Postal Savings, the System has out-lived its usefulness for the American people.

The Postmaster noted that as of June 30, 1965, there were 997,029 depositors holding certificates in 3,130 post offices throughout the nation.

The Postmaster said that unpaid deposits remaining in the Post Office beyond June 30, 1967, would be transferred to the Treasury Department in a trust fund and would be available for payment without time limitation whenever proper claims are received.

Manchester's former village president, Eugene Bentschneider and Ted Roberts were pin-pointed for the job of entertaining the visiting mayor from Three Oaks.

The co-chairman are contacting the churches in the area to have the clergy start Michigan Week by having special mention made during the Sunday services of this special week.

Mayor and Mrs. James Hausmann and councilman Chester Decker and his wife and their Mayor Exchange chairman are planning to meet Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roberts, and Manchester's mayor and Mrs. Gale Koebbe and Village Clerk Lyle Widmayer and his wife at Marshall for dinner on Sunday.

Before 38-year-old Mr. Hausmann became mayor of Three Oaks two years ago he served three years as councilman. His wife, Dorothy plans to accompany him here. The Hausmanns have three children, a fourteen-year-old daughter and two sons, twelve and five.

Bright and early Monday morning the Roberts and Bentschneiders will escort the visitors back where the entire day has been planned for their entertainment.

First there will be a walking tour of the Main Street and meeting of the merchants. This will be followed by a luncheon at Schumms. Before returning to the village there will be a visit to the Chrysler Proving Grounds, then back to Manchester and the men will stop off at Double A, Hoover Ball, Manchester Plastics, Manchester Stamping and Manchester Tool & Die plants where they will have an opportunity to see the factories in operation.

It is thought that maybe the ladies might enjoy a trip to the library, the schools and churches during this time. Just what the plans are wasn't exactly mapped out at press time.

But before going to the Knights of Columbus hall for a cocktail hour and dinner, the visitors will be invited to stop at the Joe Fitzgerald home to freshen up. Fitzgerald and Ray Tih are in charge of the ticket sales for dinner which is open to the public. Tickets are to be purchased in advance.

Bentschneider said that during Michigan Week the restaurants will be using special Michigan Week place mats. The theme this year is "Michigan-Dynamic in World Progress."

Every citizen is expected to take part in Michigan Week, wherever he is and in any way that comes naturally-using the occasion to learn more about the state, its people and places and to join in selling the advantages of Michigan to people everywhere.

This year families have been urged to have one important meal during the week made up entirely of Michigan foods.

Every church is expected to observe Spiritual Foundations Day Sunday, May 15 with recognition of the early history of the church and the part which the faith it represents has played in the development of Michigan.

Each day is a special day: Monday, Our Government Day; Tuesday, Our Heritage Day; Wednesday, Our Livelihood Day; Thursday, Education Day; Friday, Hospitality Day, and Saturday, Our Youth Day.

The airmail package contained a dozen dark, red roses, an orchid corsage and a lovely card which was signed in her son's hand writing. Mrs. Moore said it was surprising how well the roses had kept the two days in transit. The roses were her Mother's Day gift from her son.
