Doctor Cites Need For Aid

Dr. Bruce H. Stewart, one of the surgeons treating Melvin E. (Red) Lamb at the Cleveland Clinic, has written a letter to Herbert Upton Jr., a friend since college days.

Dr. Stewart's letter, written just prior to the operation for removal of Lamb's kidneys, refers to the treatment and the substantial cost as follows:

"Melvin has been accepted on the transplantation program and will be kept in reasonably good health with the artificial kidney until we can obtain a kidney for transplantation from someone who has suddenly died and whose kidneys can be recovered for transplantation.

Both of Melvin's own kidneys, which have now deteriorated beyond recovery will be removed sometime within the next couple of weeks in order to get him in better condition for transplantation.

Lamb has been at the Cleveland Clinic since April 22 when he was transferred from Ann Arbor's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF FATHERHOOD

How does a man feel when he becomes a father? When he sees his children growing up? The answers depend, to some extent, on where and when he lives—for fatherhood means different things to different peoples.

Watch by Prince Matchabelli, which is characterized by a richly diffusive woody-and-leather aroma with a tangy citrus note, is said to appeal to men because it is the embodiment of masculine elegance in fragrance.

To the Romans, Dad was paterfamilias, a patriarch with life-and-death power over his family. But Dad doesn't merit so much esteem from Trobriand Island children, according to researchers at Prince Matchabelli. There he's addressed only as "my mother's husband" by his offspring.

Today's custom of honoring Dad with fine fragrance had its counterpart in Ancient Greece, where fathers were anointed with oils and perfumes at banquets.

Public opinion keeps Osete tribesmen of Russia from displaying affection to their sons. But tribal custom permits Dad to take Junior by the hand when walking once the child reaches the age of four!

FATHER'S DAY

Father's Day, originated by Mrs. John Dodd in Spokane in 1910, is a uniquely American institution, and so are many Father's Day gifts. A box of cigars, chosen with care, is sure to be appreciated by "most any American Dad."

Among the Arapahoe of New Guinea, however, it's Dad's duty to cuddle the kids—and to give them no occasion for tears. Surprisingly, the children grow up as mild-mannered as their parents.

KENNEDY CENTER

The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, to be completed in 1968, is the sole memorial designated by Congress to the late President in our nation's capital. The Center will include three large auditoriums, a studio theatre, restaurants, cafeterias and underground parking for 1,600 cars—all under one roof.

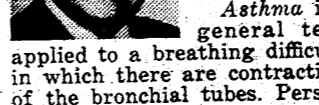

American families have honored Dad with his own special day since 1910, when the daughter of a Civil War veteran wished to honor him for his devotion in raising six motherless children. This year on Father's Day, many families will give modern Dads gifts that reflect his masculinity and rugged individualism, and men's toiletries are a sure way to flatter him and tell him you think he's pretty special. ## OUR HEALTH

By J. M. Amberson, M.D.

Chronic Respiratory Conditions

Apart from such highly contagious diseases of the respiratory area as pneumonia, tuberculosis, and influenza, there is a group of noncommunicable, and often chronic, conditions which also affect the respiratory system.

Asthma is a general term applied to a breathing difficulty in which there are contractions of the bronchial tubes. Persons with hay fever may have asthmatic breathing but similar reactions can come from allergies to other pollens, dust, food, etc. Asthmatic attacks may also be emotional in origin, particularly in children as an attention-getting mechanism or when involved in situations causing emotional stress.

Tonsillitis is an infection of the tonsils accompanied by a rise in temperature, sore throat and difficulty in swallowing. If the condition is severe, or recurrent, removal of the tonsils is usually advised. For less severe cases, your doctor may recommend bed rest, a soothing liquid diet and some medication to relieve the pain. Inflammation of the adenoids (which are usually removed surgically at the same time as the tonsils) may interfere with breathing through the nose as well as contribute to middle ear infections which occur most frequently during childhood.

An infection of the nose or throat if not treated properly may pave the way for other infections as well as spread to the larynx, bronchi or nasal sinus passages producing laryngitis, bronchitis, or sinusitis. Laryngitis often responds to a good dose of silence for a few days. Husbands take note!

Many people suffer from sinusitis which may be either acute or chronic. Acute sinusitis often follows a cold or minor sore throat. Many cases would probably be avoided if people took prompt care of these ordinary ailments. For easing the discomfort of minor sore throats, I recommend Chloraseptic, an aesthetic-antiseptic oral solution that has been found to relieve pain, usually within seconds. Chloraseptic is a non-prescription medication available only in pharmacies.

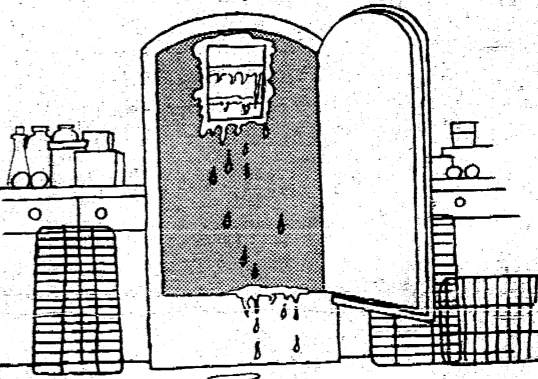

But remember, if sore throat or these other problems which I've mentioned seem to persist, your best move is to call your doctor. His advice is always best when in doubt.

To defrost the refrigerator in record time, use the vacuum cleaner. Simply aim the blower nozzle at the cooling unit and turn the refrigerator off. The vacuum's warm air makes quick work of the job.

The Huron River Watershed Council will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the basement conference room of the Ann Arbor City Hall.

Dr. William Gable of the Institute of Public Administration of the University of Michigan will describe the background and development of watershed policy concerning water supply, drainage, waste water disposal, recreation, irrigation and flow control.

The Huron River Watershed Council is an intergovernmental effort to promote and coordinate planning in water resources in the Huron River Watershed.

Other items on the agenda for Thursday include: a report on the river sampling program of the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, given by Joseph Price of the Washtenaw County Health Department; consideration of the creation of a Citizens' Information Committee and of appointed members; approval of additions to the Council's Technical Advisory Committee; annual budget including a $2000 educational fund.

The teacher-student ratio will be one teacher to 20 children and the child ratio will be one to 7. Children pointed out that children in Head Start receive individual attention, are given the opportunity for emotional growth, are taught life skills that prepare them for school. It may be a child learns to tie his shoes or clean, to use a crayon or himself—skills that give the child a sense of accomplishment, "brings him out" and give him equal chance to compete in

Soybean Planting

There is still time for planting soybeans, one of the newer but important crops of Michigan.

This year, because of poor weather conditions and the necessity of late planting, farmers may want to consider early maturing varieties of Soybeans in place of corn.

Acme and Norchieff are recommended varieties which are normally used north of a Saginaw to Muskegon line. Chippewa, Blackhawk and Harosoy are considered good for the central area under normal planting. Hawkeye and Lindarin, with longer maturing periods, usually may be found in southern Michigan.

Robert McCrooy, Washtenaw Agricultural Agent, believes farmers can plant 64 varieties as late as June 18 and under normal first frost conditions get a mature crop.

Each year the production of soybeans has increased. From 1960 to 64 Michigan averaged 313,000 acres. In 1965, 471,000 acres were grown and a crop of 485,000 acres is anticipated for 1966.

Soybeans are best adapted to well-drained soils, but adapt fairly well to soils of variable drainage. Sandy loam, silt, clay loam or muck soils are also well suited to soybeans.

When preparing the land, tillage should be kept at a minimum between plowing and planting. Tests in Illinois and Michigan have shown a smoothing implement behind the plow, and planting immediately have given best results.

The agent suggests farmers fertilize according to soil test. The expected yield of 30 bushels per acre will take 135 pounds of nitrogen, 34 pounds of phosphorus and 60 pounds of potash. Special care should be taken to keep the seed from contact with fertilizer.

The agent advises farmers to use certified seed and inoculate the seed just before planting with the proper nitrogen bacteria.

Taylor Driver Scores 2 Wins

Don McCubbin of Taylor, Mich. won the first heat of the super stock car dash and 20-lap super stock feature Friday night at the Manchester Speedway.

Lee Stringham of Jackson won the second heat of the super stock dash.

Jack Berkshire of Hudson annexed the semifeature, Don Earl of Hillsdale the first and Jim Martin of Manchester the third.

OFFICERS OFFERED PAY HIKE

The County Board of Supervisors will receive a recommendation for a five per cent pay raise for deputies, corporals and sergeants and full hospitalization insurance coverage for all law enforcement officers in the Sheriff's Department at its next meeting June 14.

The recommendation agreed upon by the 10 members of the Ways and Means and Sheriff's Committees of the Board of Supervisors.

ANDERSON RESIGNS BD. OF SUPERVISORS

There will be a vacancy on the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors when that group convenes on Tuesday, June 14. Saline Supr. George Anderson announced his resignation effective on that date.

Anderson, who also serves on the Saline City Council will continue to serve on that post. He gave as the reason for leaving the county post, his promotion to a new position with the Ford Motor Company which he points out will not leave him time required for the county board.

His resignation leaves an opening on the important Ways and Means Committee. There is speculation that the post will go to Robert Harrison, Saline Assessor and by law a member of the county board. Anderson had just been appointed to the major committee post in April after the election of Roy Smith as board chairman. Anderson is expected to be succeeded on the Board of Supervisors by either Mayor George G. Johnson or Councilman Don Ford of Saline.

Anderson will be in the property management section of the finance staff of the company, working from its central office. This section deals with acquisition of property for plant expansion.

Huehls Century Old Homestead

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huehl and Gerald 8 and Dennis 10 display their Centennial Marker at the rear of their home on Fletcher Road.

The Earl Huehls of 4100 Fletcher Road, Chelsea are proud that their 188 acre farm has been added to the long list of Centennial Farms in Michigan.

The 13-room farm house with its gleaming white aluminum siding is situated comfortably on a lawn which boasts of eleven Norway spruces-not to mention the sweet cherry and two pear trees.

And if you should wonder how old the maples are the Huehls won't have any trouble telling you. They have, among the many mementos of years gone by, the receipt from the Mutual Nursery Company of Monroe. There they were purchased at a dollar a piece in 1918 when they were six to eight feet tall.

The original 100 acres was first bought by John Huehl. In 1837 Huehl, a native of Prussia, decided that he and his wife, the former Adelaide Dresselhaus, should come to America. The couple and their infant son John C. sold their few belongings, said goodbye to Prussia where he was born in 1805, sailed the ocean and finally arrived in Freedom Township. There they stayed for a short time before going to Lime Township. It wasn't long before they returned to Freedom Township and took up land on section 17.

The area was entirely timberland. John Huehl Sr. was a poor man who lacked even his passage across the ocean. But he was not afraid of work and cleared the land and erected a log house. Later he bought 40 acres on section 16 which he improved and sold, and then bought the land that advised his own farm. Today about 80 acres of timber remains on the 188 acre farm.

The first barn was of logs, where he stored the grain and housed the animals. Later he built the present frame barn and remodeled the log house. Before his death in 1882 he cleared off the third, acre of land on the farm.

Some of the early life of this pioneer of Washenaw is told in The Forestry and Biographical Album of Washenaw County published in 1914. There it tells about the struggles of these brave men and women who first settled the area and mentioned how John used to walk into an actor to sell butter, eggs and produce.

There was the time when some of the farmers went in such need of money that they banded together and walked to Chicago-and trip which took seven days. The men were looking for work. At night they slept in barrels and bums as they stopped foot sore and weary.

They were back and managed to get work on the canal in Chicago and received a dollar a day. The trip cost fifty cents and is recorded in the album.

John Huehl died in 1882 and only one of his five children survived him. That was John C. The son who was born in Prussia. He attended the district school and in 1884 he married Adelaide Schlichter. She too was born in Prussia and came to this country in 1835. They had five children. One of the children John F. later operated the farm. He farmed 118 acres of the 188 acre spread and had a "five lot or graded stock" according to the album.

The farm really has 194 acres because one acre back of the barn was given over to the Freedom Township Cemetery. There Earl Huehl's grandmother is buried beneath a sandstone slab. That was his request. She wanted to be buried in the family farm. But her husband didn't share her sentiments and is buried down the road in the Freedom Evangelical Cemetery.

Mrs. Earl Huehl says that since she was married in 1954 and came to live at the Huehl home, there has only been one burial in the little cemetery.

The Biographer states that Mr. Huehl and his family were members of the Evangelical Association of Freedom and some in church affairs. "In politics he is an ardent Republican, dating as far back to the party since the beginning of Abraham Lincoln's second term of office.

John C.'s son, John F. married Edna L. Pinckney and they raised three children. Their daughter is Mrs. Carl (Beane) Hernandez of Oweese and their two sons are Norman of Arcadia, California and Earl, who with his wife, the former Mildred Gieske and their two sons, Dennis 10 years and Gerald 8 live on the centennial farm.

The Huehls do general farming and have dairy cattle, sheep and hogs. The frame barn which John erected before his death is still in use and has hand-hewed unpainted timbers, 40 and 50 feet long held by wooden pegs. About 50 acres of the land is timbered.

The Centennial Farm Program in Michigan was established in 1948, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose department directs the activities of the Historical Commission. Since that time, certificates and metal markers have been given to more than 1,800 Michigan farmers.

The markers are provided by the Consumers Power Co. and the Detroit Edison Companies.

For the purpose of selecting Centennial Farms, the Historical Commission considers a farm to be 10 or more acres having estimated sales of more than $50 annually, or less than 10 acres and estimated sales to be $250 annually.

Persons owning farms who wish to apply for Centennial Farm certificates are asked to write for an application to the Michigan Historical Commission, Michigan Department of State, 3365 N. Logan Street, Lansing 48915.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE ENROLLMENT REACHES 214

David S. Pollock, dean of Student Personnel Service for the Washtenaw Community College has reported that there is a good chance for some occupational programs to be filled within the first few weeks. Enrollment for the first year stands at 214.

Pollock said that business management is proving to be the most popular program with 26 students already enrolled in it. Because of limitations on business machines some of the courses will be closed to enrollment soon.

To date the occupational students outnumbered the general students, 85 to 75 and that 54 of those enrolled are undecided about their programs.

The College President, David H. Pontz explained that the sooner the students make application the better are his chances of getting the program he wants.

At this time there is a cooperative arrangement with Eastern Michigan University to provide ROTC programs to WCC students. Community college students would take the classes at EMU and pay $45 a semester. Completion of ROTC for two years would make students eligible to continue in the advanced program at 4-year colleges. Board members of Community College go along with this program as long as it is optional with the students. The fall session opens on September 15. Counselors will visit all county cities and villages to answer questions and counsel students.

A general placement test will be given on three dates before school opens. Two will be given at Ann Arbor High and one in Ypsilanti.

Individual testing and counseling will be used in combination with the general test results to aid the students to find the best field for him to enter, Pollock said.

Plans are nearly complete for the Student Center and Learning Materials Center and within two weeks the administration will be moving to the Administration Building (a former Willow Run Village fire hall and market), 204 E. Huron and after the move this will become the counseling center.

At this time 90 per cent of the administration and teaching staff is complete.

The college is still interviewing candidates for director of health sciences and technical industrial divisions and teachers-counselors in electronics, business and health sciences.

Mr. Cresswell, an administrator with the Romulus School District is presently working on a doctorate degree in Education Administration, and will conduct a research study this fall on the curriculum needs of children from economically deprived areas.

He resides at 527 W. Main St. in Manchester.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS WITHIN HOURS

Manchester's police chief had a busy day off Tuesday covering for Sgt. Donald J. Faywood who had no day off.

He summed up his night's work covering three separate accidents, and when he went off duty at 6:30 p. m. when cars driven by

Ray Ginter, 22, of Manchester, Harold Brown, 21, also of Manchester, collided head-on at the intersection of Huron and the Ginter's two children and Hester of Ohio, passengers of the car were uninjured. Mrs.

er was taken to St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. Mrs. Ginter was ticketed by police for driving without a license.

Just three hours later a new car less than 600 miles, operated by Richard Lawson, 28 of Manchester, went off Fumace St.

into a fire hydrant, spraying it off, and then crossed the street and slammed into a broken fire hydrant sent water flooding the street and running into the Raisin River.

Police Danielis, Sup't. of Public Works said his crew shut off the gas supply at the school on city lot for that area of town to the Walker Ball Plant. Danielis said he believed that plant would not suffer any ill effects for they would hook out for their own supply for the necessary work. Hoover Ball has pumps of its own.

Danielis said he couldn't thank enough for their help in getting the lighting system and also the way they had in and worked to help us.

Just can't thank the boys enough!

The accident occurred about 10 p. m. and water service to more than a hundred homes restored shortly before 4 a. m.

Mrs. Walter Patenge of Easting had brought her mother, Carl Toburen home earlier in the day.

The hydrant was sheared off in front of the Toburen home. As Patenge attempted to drive around out of the path of the water she apparently slipped, the car was shot and smashed into the side of a two-car brick garage was extensively damaged and two cars inside were crushed by flying debris. Mrs. Patenge was unhurt by the impact but her car was heavily damaged, she said.

Wage workmen were at the hydrant damage scene until Wednesday when water was restored.

Michigan Bell Proposes New Trunk Line

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is considering running a trunk line along the former New York Central Railroad property at the north end of the village.

Bell officials discussed the project with Village Council here Monday evening. The council, which purchased the land last year, referred the matter to the planning commission to see if an underground cable would interfere with a water main there, or if an over head trunk line would be better. In other action, the council tabled for the second time a request by Pat Vickroy for a permit to build a house on Sooten Road.

Action is being delayed pending construction on a possible sewer construction in that area.

About the only other action was granting of a building permit to Lee Creech on Vernon Street.

Alteration permits were granted to Ethel Brown for remodeling a kitchen; to Conrad Gonyer for a furnace and also one to Jerry Randall for a furnace; and to Clifford Tracy for remodeling.

Manchester Frozen Food Lockers request asking for a variance in zoning to enable them to build nearer the lot line is being considered for more study.

Washtenaw College to Get Scholarship

The first scholarship gift from a business organization to Washtenaw Community College has been made by the Washtenaw Asphalt Company.

The $500 gift will be used to assist students working their way, who have an additional financial need, according to Richard H. Baxter, vice president of the Washtenaw Asphalt Company.

In addition to the first gift, the company will make available to Washtenaw College students a number of summer jobs and several work-study stations throughout the year, he said. This is proposed as an annual program.

In acknowledging the gift, David H. Pontz, college president said, "It is gratifying to receive this kind of support from the business community. We are very pleased that Mr. Baxter and the officers of the Washtenaw Asphalt Company are aware of the emphasis we are placing on occupational training. The work-study stations they are proposing will assist our program of providing work experience as students are being trained. Many students will benefit from this generous gift and the job opportunities offered by the Washtenaw Asphalt Co.

Walker Announces Plans for Research Center

The Walker Manufacturing Co. has announced plans to build a $1,000,000 Engineering and Research Development Center in Grass Lake Township about eight miles east of Jackson.

The 50,000 sq. ft. center will be constructed on a previously acquired 200 acre site adjacent to the Interstate Highway 94 and less than one hour's drive away from Walkers major automotive customers in the Detroit area.

The site is part of the former Watson estate and is located south-east of the intersection of Willis Road and Knight service road.

Approximately 100 men and women will be employed.

Walker is one of the leading manufacturers of automotive exhaust systems and jacks for both original equipment and replacement markets.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET

George W. Sallade, Washtenaw County Democratic chairman has announced a meeting for 8 p. m. Monday, June 29 in the Knights of Columbus hall here when a representative of Jerome P. Cavanaugh and another representative of Lloyd F. Hendee of Pinckney, Democratic candidate for State Representative will address the group.

ICE CREAM SOCIALS START WEDNESDAY

Summer is officially here and with it to the Manchester area comes the annual ice cream socials. And when the weather soars to the 90's as it has in the last few days there is little doubt that people will arrive from near and far when the welcome mat goes out.

For the most part the ice cream socials are left for the churches to plan. The first one will be starting at 5 p. m. rain or shine next Wednesday, June 29 at Emmanuel Church Hall on West Main. They are planning the affair in the church hall. In this way, the committee points out, they won't have to compete with the weather. During the last several years the weatherman hasn't been too cooperative. There will be tables outside, too, if people rather eat outside. Emanuel hall is on West Main.

Wednesday, July 6 the Sharon Evangelical United Brethren Church, about 3 miles north of Manchester at the corner of Pleasant Lake and M-52, will hold a social.

Wednesday, July 13 the Iron Creek Church will hold a social about 5 miles southwest of Manchester at the corner of English and Sharon Hollow Roads.

Bethel Church Social will be Thursday, July 14 at the church on Bethel Church Road, about 8 miles northeast of Manchester.

Wednesday, July 27 St. Mary's Altar Society will entertain at a social in their church hall on W. Main.

Winding up the socials in this immediate area will be the one at the Methodist Church on W. Main on Wednesday, August 3.

All of these events start at 5 p. m. All the committees say they are serving barbecues, potato salads, German potato salad with plate lunches, baked beans, cole slaw, ice cream and many lovely home made cakes.

Sour cream nut frostings on fluffy cakes are a specialty. The details for making them are handed down from mother to daughter for generations.

There will be the country store with all sorts of goodies including pies and cookies, and jams and jellies and garden produce. Then there will be the lovely needlework that the ladies have been working on for months.

This is all a carry-over from the times when the men in the church congregations took time out from thrashing, etc. to turn the cranks on the old-time ice cream freezer. Planning of the summer social started when the ice on the Raisin was thick and the weather hovered around zero. It was then that the ice was cut and packed in saw dust in ice houses.

It was no picnic for the women who cooked the custard for the ice cream over the big iron kitchen range. It had to be cooled and thick cream, right from the farm was added before it was frozen. These were the "good old days."

The atmosphere will be the same and people will stand around and visit about the schools, politics, farms, weather and that good hickory nut cake.

Yes, the social will be pretty much the same as it was 50 years ago. It's a place to stop off, visit with friends and enjoy good food. Just one big thing has changed. No one will be too concerned about whether or not the weather man will smile on them. These will be held, rain or shine. The church halls make the difference.

BENEFITS BRING FUND TO $6,000

Residents here are going all out to raise funds to pay for a kidney transplant for Melvin E. (Red) Lamb.

Waldo Marx, a Manchester department store owner, won a color TV set in a benefit raffle here Saturday night, but has refused to take the set. He says it should be raffled off again.

Two benefits held over the weekend added about $4,700 to the Red Lamb Fund.

A dance Saturday night sponsored by the Manchester High School classes of 1954 and 1955 raised $3,600. Sunday morning, the Emil Jacob Post No. 117, American Legion, sponsored a breakfast that added $1,100 to the fund.

Taking part in the breakfast were several civic organizations, church groups and the Boy Scouts of America.

With contributions to a fund at the Union Savings Bank, about $6,000 has been collected to help pay for the kidney transplant. The operation will cost about $20,000.

Lamb has been at the Cleveland Clinic since April. His kidneys were removed last month and his life now hinges on twice weekly hookups with the hospital's artificial kidney machine.

He is waiting for a kidney donor.
