BALLOONS! BALLOONS! Who'll find the balloons? Children belonging to the Sharon Evangelical United Brethren Sunday School are getting anxious for the "big blow-up" slated for Rally Sunday, Sept. 25. Pictured are Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, Rex Spiegelberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spiegelberg, and Lori Ann Voegeding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Voegeding.

After the 10 a. m. service each pupil will release a helium filled balloon with a card attached bearing his name and the address of the church. A note will ask the finder to write to him.

Roy Clemons, Sunday School Superintendent, says that about a 150 balloons will sail through the skies. Of course there is much speculation as to whose balloon will travel the greatest distance and who will be the first to hear from the finder.

"We are well aware that this incident won't be the first of its kind—but it is the first for our Sunday School," Clemons said. The church is located about four miles north of Manchester on the Chelsea road and active in the Sunday School are some 130 members.

Lamb No.1 On List
For Kidney Transplant

Melvin "Red" Lamb is reportedly "holding his own" while he and his wife Jeanette live in an apartment across the street from the Cleveland Medical Center where he awaits a kidney transplant.

According to his sister, Mrs. Victor Wurster, Lamb is next in line on two lists at the hospital. Last week the hospital did two transplants on patients using "O" type blood which brought Lamb next in line Mrs. Wurster said.

He has been at the top of the "A positive" list for a few weeks. "O" is the type universally used. She also said her brother goes on the kidney machine twice a week—every Tuesday and Friday. He is maintaining his weight at 125 pounds at which his "blood pressure is more stabilized than at 130 pounds," she explained.

Mrs. Wurster and her mother, Mrs. LeRoy Lamb have returned home after spending several days with "Red" at their Cleveland apartment while his wife came to Manchester to attend the wedding of her sister and spend a little time with her children who are staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Guenther.

This was the first time home for Mrs. Lamb since her husband went to Cleveland. Both of his kidneys were removed May 27.

In the Manchester, Chelsea and Saline area various benefits have been held to raise funds for the kidney transplant which reportedly will cost around $20,000.

The latest of these included a series of bake sales by 4-H groups in the area where eight 4-H groups have raised more than $370. This amount was sent directly to Mr. and Mrs. Lamb.

The Rev. Ralph L. Koether of Emanuel, who has acted as a secretary in numerous fund raising campaigns says that $8,300 has been banked at the Union Savings Bank here. This totals $8,670 plus other money which individuals have sent directly to the Lambs during the past four months.

According to Mrs. Wurster the transplant will apparently come from a deceased person. The kidney must be removed no later than 30 minutes after the person has expired.

Five of the members of his family have taken tests for the transplant but their body tissues do not sufficiently match his. Twenty pints of blood have been donated to him from the Manchester Blood Bank. Those wishing to donate blood may do so at the Red Cross Center on Packard Road, Ann Arbor, but they should specify that the contribution is for the Manchester Blood Bank. The center is open from 2 to 8 p. m. the second Friday of the month.

Livestock Outlook Meet
Set For Tuesday

The 1966 Livestock Outlook meeting will be held Tuesday, September 20 at 8 p. m. at the Rural Activities Center on the Saline-Ann Arbor Road.

The farm price picture hasn't looked better in a long time. There are some real opportunities ahead in the livestock outlook in the short and long run. Prospects in dairy and cash crops have also improved. More concern is being expressed about shortages rather than surpluses. Washtenaw county farmers are concerned about the implications.

The 1966 LIVESTOCK OUTLOOK MEETING WILL EMPHASIZE the theme "The Short and Long of the Farm Outlook". Brief statements will be made on the outlook for the coming years, but the emphasis will be on the overall picture to 1980. The focus will be on livestock with comments added through other enterprises.

Project 80 will be the basis for the presentation on the long run outlook. In addition, the implication of trends in feeds, on building requirements, trends in direct marketing on price making, the development of livestock futures markets and market practices.

Mrs. Franklin M. Reck of Manchester was among those present when rural youth club leaders from 20 countries gathered at the Inter-American Rural Youth Leaders' Conference in Rio de Janeiro when a bust of the late Franklin Reck was unveiled.

Reck, chronicler of United States 4-H and Latin American Rural Youth programs, until the time of his death last October, was honored by many of the Latin American Rural Youth Leaders with whom he had worked.

Norberto A. R. Reichart, Associate Director of the National Agricultural Technical Institute (INTA) of Argentina made the presentation speech. Mrs. Reck who had assisted her husband in many of his endeavors throughout Latin America was on her first trip to Rio for the ceremony.

"I want to express our daughters' and my sincere appreciation for this marvelous recognition of Mr. Reck's contribution to hemisphere-wide rural youth program development. Our deepest thanks go to the many organizations and hundreds of individuals with whom the Brazilian National 4-S committee has cooperated in making this homage possible. Thank you," Mrs. Reck said.

Mr. Reck served as a member of the editorial staff and then as managing editor of the American Boy magazine for many years. He also worked as boys' editor of the Farm Journal. In 1950 he researched and wrote "The 4-H Story". He is also author of several other books for and about young people.

In 1950 Mr. Reck became a consultant to the Ford Motor Co. Publications Department when he eventually deeply involved with the 4-H and 4-H type rural programs in Latin America. His travels and research in Latin America provided the materials for Anuarios (Annals) which told the story of the progress of rural youth work in those countries.

He also prepared several supplements to the annuals as well as a moving picture and filmstrips on rural youth organizations. His work was significant in the development of rural youth programs in Latin America. So, when the leaders of these programs from more than 20 countries witnessed the unveiling of his bust, they recognized a friend of theirs and a friend of youth.

The author died last October 14th, at his typewriter in his home "Off Hand Manor" at 665 W. Main Street, Manchester on the eve of the release of his 25th book. After the demise of The American Boy, the Recks came to Manchester to live in 1941, where he became a full-time free lance writer. He handled the Ford Motor Co. Recreation Unlimited department and wrote the Ford Guide to Outdoor Living and Station Wagon Living.

In the posthumous homage to Franklin Reck given by Norberto Reichart at the conference he said in part:

"We cannot disguise the absence of one of our true leaders, Frank Reck. . . Few men like him have dedicated their entire lives to the service of the intellectual development of youth. Graduating in agricultural journalism from Iowa State University where he discovered his academic vocation after serving his country in the First World War, he dedicated all his talent and affection to a literary career as writer and editor of stories, books and magazines for youth. His poem "The Service Flag" written at the age of 25 and dedicated to the service flag of the State of Iowa, was one of the touching tributes paid to the men of Iowa who had given their lives for their country."

"As a Ford Motor Co. consultant he dedicated a special attention to the activities of the rural youth clubs of Latin America; toward this task he traveled through most of the countries of Central and South America, generally accompanied by you, Mrs. Reck, who acted as his secretary. . . .

"But even beyond his literary work Frank Reck possessed personal qualifications out of the ordinary. . . .

"Frank Reck was the archetype of the man whose innate personal ity shines forth. It sufficed to see him and deal with him only once to feel the effects of his fine personality and remember it forever. Frank Reck knew nothing of artifices; his gestures, his thoughts and his actions were always natural and spontaneous, free of all personal interest.

"He had the personality which makes for exemplary conduct and makes a work of an entire lifetime dedicated to an idea. . . . Being with Frank Reck was like quenching a spiritual thirst with lines strongly drawn, with grave but always soft voice, his look was always accompanied by a sweet, clear smile, he always projected optimism, surety and faith the the present and the future.

"The author fulfilled, as few others, the teaching of the Bible, of sowing love among men. He created an ideal and loved Rural youth. . . . The bust of Frank Reck which we unveil in his memory is the recognition of the generations of youths and rural leaders who have lived with him and who have known him through his work, to perpetuate his personality as an example for future generations.

"For us, those of this generation, Frank Reck is and always will be among us in the ineradicable memory which he has left with us, and in the commitment, as his friends, who he always projected in carrying out his work in pursuit of the same ideal.

"We now dedicate to him the last verse of his own poem, "The Service Flag":

"If you can read my tale of triumph won through service, then my challenge you will take; then will you carry on the work begun by other hands."

Mrs. Reck was in Rio de Janeiro for the unveiling of the bust of her late husband—a tribute to his interest in rural youth.

SUMMER RECREATION ATTENDS WORKSHOP PROGRAM REVIEWED

Although it is very late to be talking about Manchester Summer Recreational Programs, a few things must be said before winter sets in again.

The little league trophy was won by the Tigers coached by Leon Bell and Harry Johnson. The Tigers had a fine season and lost only one game to the Yankees who were also contenders for the title. The White Sox, along with the Yankees, gave the Tigers a real fight for the first place, and so the honor carries all the more value because the competition was so good.

The managers of the little league deserve the communities' thanks.

Managers were: Ball and Johnson for the Tigers; Jim Yunkans for the White Sox along with Frank Wallen; Yankees: Clarence Fielder; Braves, Elwin Benedict and Don Stockwell; Dodgers, Vearl Widmayer and Dave Meinhardt; Angels, Russ Hosmer and Jack Wein.

The farm league also had an exciting year with the Yankees, coached by Bob Rutherford, nosing out the Angels, coached by Dave Dettling, by one-game. These two coached the Braves and helped co-ordinate the farm league program.

Both the Junior and Senior Playgrounds enjoyed eight weeks of excellent weather. Four field trips were taken by the Senior playground. These included trips to the state capitol, Greenfield Village, Bob-Lo and Tiger Stadium when the Tigers defeated the Yankees.

The Junior Playground went to the Detroit Zoo, Frontier City and the Ann Arbor Fire Department under the direction of Miss Sandy Troiz assisted by Cecelia Fielder and Nancy Davis.

A number of awards were given to outstanding athletes on the Senior playground. Larry Stautz won the trophy for ping-pong in the Junior division. Dave Westfall won the tennis tournament, and Gordon Hough won the archery tournament.

The soap box derby was won by Steve Walker with Brent Powell 2nd and Rod Tindell 3rd. Two other trophies were given with special significance. A Junior division trophy for outstanding athletic ability in all sports was given to Pat Fielder; also a senior division trophy for outstanding athletic ability in all sports was given to Mark Roberts.

Field Day Trophies were given to Dave Hesser in the boys' division and to Nancy Smith in the girls' division.

There were a number of people who gave both time and effort to make the summer recreation program.

According to Ed Hill much credit should go to Mrs. William Hamilton, Elwin Benedict, Maynard Blossom and Clarence Fielder. He added that many others also assisted with the summer program.

Church Services

Mrs. Gladys Chapitis, National Director of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest of Denver, Colorado spent two and a half days in Michigan with Mrs. Lawrence G. Boettner, Bridgewater who is State Director in Michigan.

They spent one day visiting fabric stores in Southern Michigan.

On Saturday they conducted a State-wide Workshop at the Union Building, Michigan State University, East Lansing which was held for District Directors and their helpers.

Among those who attended the workshop were Mrs. Carroll Wells, Mrs. Herbert Ames, Vermonville; Mrs. Bryon Good, East Lansing; Mrs. James Reid, Mrs. Marsh Milford; Mrs. William Williamson, Edmore; Mrs. Mack Lawrence, Searcy; Mrs. Donald Wiltshire Onaway; Mrs. Edmund Sager, Stephenson; and Mrs. Harold Hannewald, Stockbridge.

One of the interesting sections of the workshop was devoted to "What's New in Wool and New Fall Colors".

This fall many will be sewing with soft muted heather tones on checks, plaids or solid colors.

Fashions are right when they coordinate large plaids and small checks and come up with a smart looking suit or dress. Another fashion right will include a plaid heather for a skirt and a solid, heather bodice and have a smart fall dress. Double wools are very much in demand this year. Some of the colors for the fall are pearl gray, celery leaf, swamp green, ginger-curry, Indian corn, diamond brown, black pearl and magenta prism.

Mrs. Harold Hannewald, 14886 M-52 Stockbridge is the District Director for Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw Counties.

Any girl between the ages of 10 and 21 years of age interested in entering the contest may contact Mrs. Harold Hannewald or Mrs. Lawrence G. Boettner, 9319 Austin Road, Bridgewater, Michigan 48115.

The Red Cross with the cooperation of the Ann Arbor Recreation Department will again offer swimming instructions to the residents of Washtenaw County.

This co-educational program will be held at the Ann Arbor High school pool under the direction of Mrs. Christine Tramontin, a veteran volunteer Water Safety Instructor.

The Red Cross developed this Program 7 years ago to enable adults to learn to swim without having to worry about the children. Classes are open to anyone 18 years old and over no matter what their classification is as a swimmer. Those that are non-swimmers are urged to enroll said Red Cross Chapter Chairman C. Bruce Weggoner.

The class will meet on Wednesday nights beginning Sept. 28 and will run for 10 weeks. The swimming classes will meet from 7 to 8:45 p.m. There will be no charge for instruction but a $2 fee is requested by the Recreation department to cover lockers.

Program arrangements provide that participants bring their suits, caps towels and shower shoes or thongs. The administrative costs of this Red Cross Service are provided through United Campaign contributions.

Mrs. Gladys Chapitis, National Director of the "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest of Denver, Colorado spent two and a half days in Michigan with Mrs. Lawrence G. Boettner, Bridgewater who is State Director in Michigan.

They spent one day visiting fabric stores in Southern Michigan.

On Saturday they conducted a State-wide Workshop at the Union Building, Michigan State University, East Lansing which was held for District Directors and their helpers.

Among those who attended the workshop were Mrs. Carroll Wells, Mrs. Herbert Ames, Vermonville; Mrs. Bryon Good, East Lansing; Mrs. James Reid, Mrs. Marsh Milford; Mrs. William Williamson, Edmore; Mrs. Mack Lawrence, Searcy; Mrs. Donald Wiltshire Onaway; Mrs. Edmund Sager, Stephenson; and Mrs. Harold Hannewald, Stockbridge.

One of the interesting sections of the workshop was devoted to "What's New in Wool and New Fall Colors".

This fall many will be sewing with soft muted heather tones on checks, plaids or solid colors.

Fashions are right when they coordinate large plaids and small checks and come up with a smart looking suit or dress. Another fashion right will include a plaid heather for a skirt and a solid, heather bodice and have a smart fall dress. Double wools are very much in demand this year. Some of the colors for the fall are pearl gray, celery leaf, swamp green, ginger-curry, Indian corn, diamond brown, black pearl and magenta prism.

Mrs. Harold Hannewald, 14886 M-52 Stockbridge is the District Director for Hillsdale, Jackson, Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw Counties.

Any girl between the ages of 10 and 21 years of age interested in entering the contest may contact Mrs. Harold Hannewald or Mrs. Lawrence G. Boettner, 9319 Austin Road, Bridgewater, Michigan 48115.

The Red Cross with the cooperation of the Ann Arbor Recreation Department will again offer swimming instructions to the residents of Washtenaw County.

This co-educational program will be held at the Ann Arbor High school pool under the direction of Mrs. Christine Tramontin, a veteran volunteer Water Safety Instructor.

The Red Cross developed this Program 7 years ago to enable adults to learn to swim without having to worry about the children. Classes are open to anyone 18 years old and over no matter what their classification is as a swimmer. Those that are non-swimmers are urged to enroll said Red Cross Chapter Chairman C. Bruce Weggoner.

The class will meet on Wednesday nights beginning Sept. 28 and will run for 10 weeks. The swimming classes will meet from 7 to 8:45 p.m. There will be no charge for instruction but a $2 fee is requested by the Recreation department to cover lockers.

Program arrangements provide that participants bring their suits, caps towels and shower shoes or thongs. The administrative costs of this Red Cross Service are provided through United Campaign contributions.

'67 Legislation Aim Of Road Federation

Under a proposed increase in motor vehicle highway funds the Washtenaw County Road Commission revenues would have increased by over 350 thousand dollars and Ann Arbor would have received over 200 thousand dollars.

A group of interested citizens and organizations concerned about the overall road picture in Michigan, the Good Roads Federation, is undertaking a program aimed at spreading the word about the growing need for funds. The aim is to inform the citizens of the need for additional revenues and to encourage the enactment of legislation necessary to maintain and improve Michigan roads.

If the proposed package had been adopted last year, Ann Arbor would have received $202,296 more for roads. Other estimated increases in motor vehicle highway funds under the proposal include:

Manchester $3,240; Dexter $5,137; Saline $8,481; Chelsea $9,335; Milan $10,536; and Ann Arbor $202,296 and Ypsilard $60,006.

The Washtenaw County Road Commission would have received $381,965 in additional funds. What the Good Roads Federation proposes to make these increases possible include:

1. A 1¢ increase in state gasoline, kerosene and liquefied petroleum taxes.

4-H Citations Given

EAST LANSING—Michigan 4-H Clubs honored four "Citizens of Note" for outstanding contributions to the State 4-H Club programs on August 25.

Receiving citations during the 51st State 4-H Club Show on the Michigan State University campus were: Peter J. Bellanca, secretary and general counsel for the Hazel Park Racing Ass'n.; Corp. Casimer Socolinski of the Michigan State Police; Mrs. Jessie Weismann, Manchester of the Michigan Rabbit Breeders' Assn.; and Boyd Rice, Crenos, secretary-treasurer of the American Dairy Assn. of Mich.

Presentations to the "friends of the 4-H" were made by newly named delegates to the National 4-H Conference in Washington, D. C. next spring.

Mr. Bellanca is a member of the board of trustees for the 4-H Club Foundation of Michigan. He and his late father have given enthusiastic support to the 4-H work for many years. His interest has resulted in strong financial support of the Foundation by the Hazel Park Racing Assn.

An attorney, Bellanca was recently appointed to a term on the Detroit Civil Service Commission by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh. He also serves on the board of directors for the Catholic Youth Organization.

For his interest and support of 4-H automotive safety programs, Corp. Socolinski of the East Lansing post was also a recipient of the 4-H award. He has assisted with the 4-H Driver Safety Course during the State 4-H Show and has worked closely with 4-H in driver training and highway safety.

Mrs. Weismann has been instrumental in the development of an outstanding 4-H rabbit program during the State 4-H event. She has served as a judge for the past five years. Her many contributions have made the project an interesting and educational experience for 4-H members.

Representing the American Dairy Assn. of Michigan, Boyd Rice was honored for continued support of 4-H work by the state's dairy industry. He has served as secretary-treasurer of the organization which is headquartered in Lansing for the past 5 years.

2. An increase in automobile license fees to a range of $14 to $28
3. A 10% increase in commercial vehicle weight taxes.

The proposal would also change the distribution formula for restricted highway funds and would reduce the cities share of trunkline improvements within their borders.

The Good Roads Federation lists safety as one resulting benefit of the proposal, but also lists lower overall travel costs, and boost to economic growth and tourism as other benefits. The Federation hopes to get legislative action in 1967.

TOWNSHIP LIBRARY HAS DISPLAY

The Manchester Township Library has a special new display. The large exhibit, furnished by the University of Michigan's Museum of Paleontology, shows various fossils found in Michigan.

Most of the fossils are shown in the rocks in which they rest. Also included in the case is a time scale showing the geologic areas of the fossils. A map gives the varying picture of what Michigan was like thousands of years ago. Both animal and plant forms are shown.

The University's exhibit museum prepared the display, and it was obtained through the Washenaw Area Library System, to which the Township Library belongs. With the display is a collection of related books on paleontology, fossils and rocks.

The display is in a large case on the first floor, by the biography section.

SEWERAGE AGREEMENT

The construction of about 1,065 feet of sanitary sewer line on Sooten Road will be delayed until residents sign contracts with the village assuming responsibility for the cost of the project.

Total cost of the sewer line would be about $6,860, according to figures presented at a special meeting of the Manchester Public Works committee. S & W Builders which is planning a multiple-family apartment on Sooten Road, would be assessed 35 per cent of the cost. Individual property owners would pay an average of $428.80, with two paying $487.60.

Representatives of S & W at the meeting objected to the 35 per cent assessment levied to the firm's project, but other property owners indicated willingness to pay the cost of the sewer installation.

SCHOOL NOTES

FROM THE DESK OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

The Manchester Board of Education met in regular monthly session Monday night in the Superintendent's Office. All members of the board of Education were present. Also in attendance besides the administrative staff were Marie Schneider and George Koda of the Manchester Enterprise and Members of the Building and Site Committee. Allen Schaffer, James Lyons, L'Dean Sott, Richard Kuntz, Eugene Beentschneider, Walter Grothe and Dr. Henry Eames

President Luther C. Klager called the meeting to order at 8:05 p. m. Secretary Laurin Leeson presented the minutes of the previous session and these were approved and ordered placed on file. Current bills in the amount of $8,415, were approved and ordered paid.

The yearly school audit and the August financial report were presented to the board. These documents were accepted and placed on file.

A letter of resignation was submitted by Elliot Sala, a high school mathematics teacher. The board accepted the resignation.

Laurin Leeson called attention to the Michigan School Board Associations' Convention in Grand Rapids on November 1, 2, and 3 rd. Members who will attend this convention will be designated at the October meeting.

At this point in the meeting the regular board business was suspended and the board adjourned to larger quarters in order that the building and site committee could make their report.

Allen Schaffer, chairman of the Building and Site Committee, conducted the meeting and the report of the committee was unanimously presented to the board of education. The board of education accepted the report and upon further study will make it known to the public at a later date.

Under new business the Board of Education increased the substitute teachers' salaries to $22.50 a day. The old schedule provided $15.00 per day for non-degree teachers and $17.50 per day for degree teachers. The board approved change orders on the high school addition, and agreed to pay one-half of the tuition fees for local teachers taking courses in an in-service training program.

The administrative staff presented oral reports to the board of education on the opening week of school. Chester Kocesk, high school principal, indicated that despite the distraction of the building program, the high school got off to a good start. Mr. Kocesk attributed this smooth start to the cooperativeness of all of the students and the staff. Ted Tapping and Jack Raffaeli reported a good start also in their respective areas.

Supt. Robert Swartz assured the board members that first grade students who waited for the church shuttle bus would not have to stand outside in inclement weather. Provisions will be made to keep these youngsters inside during rainy, snowy or extremely cold weather.

The Board of Education instructed the superintendent to contact the village council on the matter of closing the Madison St. from Macomb to Union during school hours. This is the street right back of the church housing first grade students.

After a short executive meeting the Board adjourned at 11:15.

Luther Klager will be assisted by Clarence Fielder as Industrial Division Chairman. Mrs. James Baker's team will be the same as last year—Mrs. Del Ludwick, village and Mrs. Norman Fielder, Rural house-to-house divisions.

Robert Swartz announced Mrs. Tom Marshall as chairman for the Businessmen's Division; Ron McNally, Manchester School system chairman and Maxine Frey will contact the organizations. Mr. Swartz also has the out-of-town business division.

This year's goal is $12,714 for 54 organizations.

Solicitors who will be contacted this week will learn that their work starts the 10th of October and special concentration will be made the first week of the drive which ends the 29th.

It is also important that everyone connected with the drive attend the workshop, October 6, at 7:30 p. m. at the Nellie Ackerson school.

Bethel Church to Hold Festival

Bethel United Church of Christ will celebrate the annual mission festival with services at 4 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m. in the church.

The Rev. Leonard Weigel of Taylor will speak at the morning service. He is now on the administrative staff of the Evangelical Deaconess Hospital in Detroit. For 15 years he was pastor of St. Paul's United Metropolitan Association of the former Congregational Christian Churches with the Evangelical and Reformed church.

The Evangelical Deaconess Hospital is a 200 bed hospital located on East Jefferson, Detroit, founded in 1917 by the Evangelical churches of southeastern Michigan.

In the evening service at 7:30 p. m. Dr. and Mrs. Fred Munson, members of Bethel Church will tell of their experiences in India during the past year. They have just returned from 14 months abroad where Dr. Munson, of the faculty of the Graduate School of Business Administration of the University of Michigan served as director of research in industrial relations at Shri Ram Center for Industrial Studies at New Delhi.

His work there was sponsored by the Ford Foundation. Their four children were in India with them. The family had frequent contacts with village and farm life of that area, and will speak of this.

A reception will be held after the evening service in honor of the Munsons.

Benefit at Norvell

An ice cream social and street dance will be held in Norvell Saturday to raise funds for preparation of a ball park to be used by the Norvell Babe Ruth League.

The benefit is being held in anticipation of the state Conservation Department accepting four acres from Mr. and Mrs. John Ahrens in exchange for a four-acre site on the Sharonville State Game Area to be used as a ball diamond. Terms of the trade are still being discussed.

GRADE SCHOOL SITES STUDIED BY COMMITTEE

The Manchester village council gave a nod of approval to the request of the Manchester School Board when asked to furnish a barricade to block off Madison Street between Union and Macomb, during school hours.

Council is more than willing to furnish the necessary equipment if the school will provide the manpower and see that the street is not blocked after school hours.

This street at the rear of the Emmanuel Church hall could be a real hazard for the first graders who romp across the road to the playground provided for them in their make-shift quarters.

Because of the cramped conditions at the Manchester Public Schools it was found that it would be impossible to provide classrooms for the first grade. All three sections were moved because it was believed by the administration that these children would adjust themselves best to the new surroundings.

After looking around for a possible classroom area outside the school the Emanuel Church Hall was selected. There was the one drawback. The children would have to cross the street to get to their playground area. The barricade will remedy this situation.

Children attending the three sections of the first grade who come to school on the buses arrive at the City Road school at 8:05 a. m. The shuttle bus transports them across town to the church facility. This bus doesn't leave right away and there is about a 15 minute wait. The small fry seem to find plenty to do. They have no complaints about the 15 minute wait. But, according to Supt. of Schools, Robert Swartz some people are concerned.

He wants it understood that these little people will not have to stand outside during the winter weather, when rains, snows or blows. They will be cared for in the school until the shuttle bus arrives and parents need not worry.

With the hustle and bustle at the high school as the new addition begins to take form, many had thought that there would be almost unmountable problems, said Chester Kocesk High school principal. Now the lockers are in the modern kitchen, firestone oak in the living room, gothic elm in the master bedroom and coffee elm and weathered ash in two other bedrooms. Black walnut paneling is in the bathroom.

There is a whole living area in the basement and a guest bedroom in the building code was granted to Alfred Patterson. He will be allowed to build a garage only 6 feet from his property line instead of the 8 feet required by the code.

A contract for blacktopping and sealing 3,942 feet of Manchester streets was awarded to the Washenaw County Asphalt Co., lowest of two bidders on the project. Cost of the surfacing will be about 50 cents per square yard of pavement.

The resignation of Daniel Singer, Manchester chief of police, was officially accepted by the council. Singer resigned to take a job in an automotive plant. He will continue his law enforcement duties on a part-time basis.

Council approved the new stop signs which had been placed on several streets on a temporary basis. Effective now are Stop streets at: Wolverine and Duncan; Torrey and Vernon; Territorial and Adrian; Washington and Territorial; and Division and Vernon.

St. Mary's House Tour Thursday, Sept. 29th

The annual house tour sponsored by St. Mary's Altar Society is from 1 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 29.

Mrs. Ted Roberts and Mrs. Walter Grothe, co-chairmen, say that although five of the six homes on tour this year are new, some contain lovely antiques. Visitors may start the tour at the church hall on West Main Street where tickets and maps are available, or they may go directly to the homes.

Refreshments will be served at the church hall as part of the afternoon program.

For those who like the old, they won't want to miss the renovated century-old farmhouse belonging to former Gov. John B. Swainson and his family. This is located 2.5 miles southeast of the village on Hogan Road. The Wayne County Circuit Court Judge purchased the farm in June of 1964.

This 14-room dwelling was reconstructed by Mrs. Swainson and a lumber company draftsman into 11 rooms. What was a farm summer kitchen is the large family room—known as the barn room because some of the wood came from a barn on the farm. Wainscoting is of lumber from an unused building and the hand-hewn beams around the doorway came from the area. The new oak flooring is screwed and pegged.

Don't miss the lovely Welch dresser built in 1690 which is part of the dining room furniture. A brass bed dates back to 1840 and was green with age when bought at an antique shop. The modern kitchen has two long cupboards with curtains on the inside. An antique brass chandelier made in Denmark about a 100 years ago hangs over the custom built table.

At 400 Riverside Drive the Claran Knouss Jr. home carries out an early American decor with open ceilings of ponderosa pine stained natural and beams of California red fir. Seven different kinds of wood paneling are used throughout the home which is built on a steep slope to the Raisin River. Antique birch and wall-paper are used in the modern kitchen, firestone oak in the living room, gothic elm in the master bedroom and coffee elm and weathered ash in two other bedrooms. Black walnut paneling is in the bathroom.

There is a whole living area in the basement and a guest bedroom in the building code was granted to Alfred Patterson. He will be allowed to build a garage only 6 feet from his property line instead of the 8 feet required by the code.

The ranch colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knouss is of flexible and tasteful. This home is at 625 Sunset Drive. The large family room and kitchen area is separated only by a bar and stools. Note the delightful color schemes in this home—particularly the moonbeam and gold in the living room accented by deep rich red.

Red fabric is cleverly displayed on the back of the spinet piano when it was moved out into the living room for a better sound effect. The light fixtures are particularly interesting and attractive murals cover two walls of the dining area.

The T. H. Tapping Jr. home at 520 Summit Street, a short distance from the Knouss home could well be called a "greenhouse". It is unique in the treatment of the shades of green which make up the color scheme of the entire home. Don't miss the large family room and fireplace in the basement with the west side of glass.

Mrs. Clarence Schable's home at 209 N. Washington, is a one story brick house without a basement. The furnace and utility rooms are also on the first floor. This home shows gracious living, features birch cupboards in the kitchen, mahogany paneling in the game room, and also Anderson windows throughout.

The James Pratts at 649 W. Main Street started to make plans for their new home while they were at their farm location. The walnut paneling in the living room of their ranch type brick home was cut 20 years ago and saved. One of the many features to observe while browsing through this lovely home is swinging bar doors that lead to the family room.

Council Approves Plant Addition

The Manchester Village Council approved the application of the Manchester Tool and Die for a $15,000 addition to their building and a sewer link for the addition at a cost of $1,200 to the firm.

In other action a variance in the building code was granted to Alfred Patterson. He will be allowed to build a garage only 6 feet from his property line instead of the 8 feet required by the code.
