TOWNSHIP LIBRARY HAS DISPLAY

The Manchester Township Library has a special new display. The large exhibit, furnished by the University of Michigan's Museum of Paleontology, shows various fossils found in Michigan.

Most of the fossils are shown in the rocks in which they rest.

Also included in the case is a time scale showing the geologic areas of the fossils. A map gives the varying picture of what Michigan was like thousands of years ago. Both animal and plant forms are shown.

The University's exhibit museum prepared the display, and it was obtained through the Washenaw Area Library System, to which the Township Library belongs. With the display is a collection of related books on paleontology, fossils and rocks.

The display is in a large case on the first floor, by the biography section.

SEWERAGE AGREEMENT

The construction of about 1,065 feet of sanitary sewer line on Sooten Road will be delayed until residents sign contracts with the village assuming responsibility for the cost of the project.

Total cost of the sewer line would be about $6,860, according to figures presented at a special meeting of the Manchester Public Works committee. S & W Builders which is planning a multiple-family apartment on Sooten Road, would be assessed 35 per cent of the cost. Individual property owners would pay an average of $428.80, with two paying $857.60.

Representatives of S & W at the meeting objected to the 35 per cent assessment levied to the firm's project, but other property owners indicated willingness to pay the cost of the sewer installation.

SCHOOL NOTES

FROM THE DESK OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

The Manchester Board of Education met in regular monthly session Monday night in the Superintendent's Office. All members of the board of Education were present. Also in attendance besides the administrative staff were Marie Schneider and George Koda of the Manchester Enterprise and Members of the Building and Site Committee. Allen Schaffer, James Lyons, L'Dean Sott, Richard Kuntz, Eugene Beutschneider, Walter Grothe and Dr. Henry Eames.

President Luther C. Klager called the meeting to order at 8:05 p. m. Secretary Laurin Leeson presented the minutes of the previous session and these were approved and ordered placed on file. Current bills in the amount of $8,415 were approved and ordered paid.

The yearly school audit and the August financial report were presented to the board. These documents were accepted and placed on file.

A letter of resignation was submitted by Elliot Sala, a high school mathematics teacher. The board accepted the resignation.

Laurin Leeson called attention to the Michigan School Board Association's Convention in Grand Rapids on November 1, 2, and 3 rd. Members who will attend this convention will be designated at the October meeting.

At this point in the meeting the regular board business was suspended and the board adjourned to larger quarters in order that the building and site committee could make their report.

Allen Schaffer, chairman of the Building and Site Committee, conducted the meeting and the report of the committee was unanimously presented to the board of education. The board of education accepted the report and upon further study will make it known to the public at a later date.

Under new business the Board of Education increased the substitute teachers' salaries to $22.50 a day. The old schedule provided $15.00 per day for non-degree teachers and $17.50 per day for degree teachers. The board approved change orders on the high school addition, and agreed to pay one-half of the tuition fees for local teachers taking courses in an in-service training program.

The administrative staff presented oral reports to the board of education on the opening week of school. Chester Kocesk, high school principal, indicated that despite the distraction of the building program, the high school got off to a good start. Mr. Kocesk attributed this smooth start to the cooperativeness of all of the students and the staff. Ted Tapping and Jack Raffaeli reported a good start also in their respective areas.

Supt. Robert Swartz assured the board members that first grade students who waited for the church shuttle bus would not have to stand outside in inclement weather. Provisions will be made to keep these youngsters inside during rainy, snowy or extremely cold weather.

The Board of Education instructed the superintendent to contact the village council on the matter of closing the Madison St. from Macomb to Union during school hours. This is the street right back of the church housing first grade students.

After a short executive meeting the Board adjourned at 11:15

The Rev. Leonard Weigel of Taylor will speak at the morning service. He is now on the administrative staff of the Evangelical Deaconess Hospital in Detroit. For 15 years he was pastor of St. Paul's United Metropolitan Association of the former Congregational Christian Churches with the Evangelical and Reformed church.

The Evangelical Deaconess Hospital is a 200 bed hospital located on East Jefferson, Detroit, founded in 1917 by the Evangelical churches of southeastern Michigan.

In the evening service at 7:30 p. m. Dr. and Mrs. Fred Munson, members of Bethel Church will tell of their experiences in India during the past year. They have just returned from 14 months abroad where Dr. Munson, of the faculty of the Graduate School of Business Administration of the University of Michigan served as director of research in industrial relations at Shri Ram Center for Industrial Studies at New Delhi. His work there was sponsored by the Ford Foundation. Their four children were in India with them. The family had frequent contacts with village and farm life of that area, and will speak of this.

A reception will be held after the evening service in honor of the Munsons.

GRADE SCHOOL SITES STUDIED BY COMMITTEE

The Manchester village council gave a nod of approval to the request of the Manchester School Board when asked to furnish a barricade to block off Madison Street between Union and Macomb, during school hours.

Council is more than willing to furnish the necessary equipment if the school will provide the manpower and see that the street is not blocked after school hours.

This street at the rear of the Emmanuel Church hall could be a real hazard for the first graders who romp across the road to the playground provided for them in their make-shift quarters.

Because of the cramped conditions at the Manchester Public Schools it was found that it would be impossible to provide classrooms for the first grade. All three sections were moved because it was believed by the administration that these children would adjust themselves best to the new surroundings.

After looking around for a possible classroom area outside the school the Emanuel Church Hall was selected. There was the one drawback. The children would have to cross the street to get to their playground area. The barricade will remedy this situation.

Children attending the three sections of the first grade who come to school on the buses arrive at the City Road school at 8:05 a. m. The shuttle bus transports them across town to the church facility. This bus doesn't leave right away and there is about a 15 minute wait. The small fry seem to find plenty to do. They have no complaints about the 15 minute wait. But, according to Supt. of Schools, Robert Swartz some people are concerned.

He wants it understood that these little people will not have to stand outside during the winter weather, when rains, snows or blows. They will be cared for in the school until the shuttle bus arrives and parents need not worry.

With the hustle and bustle at the high school as the new addition begins to take form, many had thought that there would be almost unmountable problems," said Chester Kocesk high school principal. Now the lockers are in the manual training rooms and students manage to go to them less frequently.

Hammering of carpenters and running of motors of all kinds of construction equipment doesn't seem very conducive to study. But the school administration is happy to say that the students are adjusting themselves well to the adverse conditions.

The teaching staff is not yet complete. The Board of Education has approved a change in the salary for substitute teachers. The old schedule provided for $15 a day for non-degree teachers and $17.50 for degree teachers. Now all substitute teachers will receive $22.50 a day. The board also agreed to pay one half of the tuition fees for local teachers taking courses in an in-service training program.

At this time a Building and Site Committee is studying possible new sites for a new grade school. Heading this committee is Allen W. Schaffer.

The crowded conditions in the school facilities make it necessary to continue to probe possible new sites.

St. Mary's House Tour Thursday, Sept. 29th

The annual house tour sponsored by St. Mary's Altar Society is from 1 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 29.

Mrs. Ted Roberts and Mrs. Walter Grothe, co-chairmen, say that although five of the six homes on tour this year are new, some contain lovely antiques. Visitors may start the tour at the church hall on West Main Street where tickets and maps are available, or they may go directly to the homes.

Refreshments will be served at the church hall as part of the afternoon program.

For those who like the old, they won't want to miss the renovated century-old farmhouse belonging to former Gov. John B. Swainson and his family. This is located 2.5 miles southeast of the village on Hogan Road. The Wayne County Circuit Court Judge purchased the farm in June of 1964.

This 14-room dwelling was reconstructed by Mrs. Swainson and a lumber company draftsman into 11 rooms. What was a farm summer kitchen is the large family room-known as the barn room because some of the wood came from a barn on the farm. Wainscoting is of lumber from an unused building and the hand-hewn beams around the doorway came from the area. The new oak flooring is screwed and pegged.

Don't miss the lovely Welch dresser built in 1690 which is part of the dining room furniture. A brass bed dates back to 1840 and was green with age when bought at an antique shop. The modern kitchen has two long cupboards with curtains on the inside. An antique brass chandelier made in Denmark about a 100 years ago hangs over the custom built table.

Council Approves Plant Addition

The Manchester Village Council approved the application of the Manchester Tool and Die for a $15,000 addition to their building and a sewer link for the addition at a cost of $1,200 to the firm.

In other action a variance in the building code was granted to Alfred Patterson. He will be allowed to build a garage only 6 feet from his property line instead of the 8 feet required by the code.

A contract for blacktopping and sealing 3,942 feet of Manchester streets was awarded to the Washenaw County Asphalt Co., lowest of two bidders on the project. Cost of the surfacing will be about 50 cents per square yard of pavement.

The resignation of Daniel Singer, Manchester chief of police, was officially accepted by the council. Singer resigned to take a job in an automotive plant. He will continue his law enforcement duties on a part-time basis.

Council approved the new stop signs which had been placed on several streets on a temporary basis. Effective now are Stop streets at: Wolverine and Duncan; Torrey and Vernon; Territorial and Adrian; Washington and Territorial; and Division and Vernon.

The James Fratts at 649 W. Main Street started to make plans for their new home while they were at their farm location. The walnut paneling in the living room of their ranch type brick home was cut 20 years ago and saved. One of the many features to observe while browsing through this lovely home is swinging bar doors that lead to the family room.

Mrs. Clarence Schable's home at 209 N. Washington, is a one story brick house without a basement. The furnace and utility rooms are also on the first floor. This home shows gracious living, features birch cupboards in the kitchen, mahogany paneling in the game room, and also Anderson windows throughout.

The T. H. Tapping Jr. home at 520 Summit Street, a short distance from the Knouse home could well be called a "greenhouse". It is unique in the treatment of the shades of green which make up the color scheme of the entire home. Don't miss the large family room and fireplace in the basement with the west side of glass.

MYI TOUR A SUCESS

- by Marie Schneider

The Musical Youth International (MYI) program, through young people, is achieving its purpose...

The four recently returned from a five-week tour of Europe under the auspices of the MYI.

The 96 touring students were about equally divided into a band and chorus. Nancy Girbach and Mary Beach were members of the chorus.

The experience wasn't new to Gay and Mary. They were both members of last year's first tour of the MYI to Mexico.

They found there was a much tougher schedule this year and they had much less free time. In fact, there was only one day that the travelers had for themselves.

While visiting in Pontefract, England and staying with an English family, Nancy Giroach was taken ill. In less than four hours from the time the doctor was summoned she was in surgery for an emergency appendectomy.

So for five days she was at the Pontefract General Infirmary where she was treated royally. Just two weeks before she was hospitalized Princess Margaret had been at the hospital for the dedication of the new unit.

But she missed the Tees-Side International Industrial where the band from this area won first place--about $700. The chorus took third place, worth about $120.

The girls said that all of their concerts were very well received and that record crowds attended except one--an outdoor festival at Edinburgh, Scotland where it rained most of the time.

"You couldn't blame people for not wanting to sit out in the cold and rain. But we gave the concert just the same," Gay said.

The choral director, Lester McCoy of Saline, collapsed the day after Nancy was hospitalized. He and his wife remained at the hospital for two weeks. During that time the seven counselors were in charge of the tour.

Mary bought a recorder (musical instrument) in Germany. She said she had always wanted one. Gay brought home a German Stein.

They found the food to be much like our own and couldn't say enough for the homemade bread and pastry. They pointed out that teen-agers eat fish and chips, much the same as hamburgers and hot dogs here.

Both pointed out that by staying with host families they became fairly well acquainted with the customs of the countries. Nancy found it hard to comprehend that there was no expense connected with her stay in the hospital because of England's socialized medical program which includes visitors.

They were proud that the chorus and band boasted high ratings in the competition with others throughout the world at Tees-Side International.

"And when we concluded each concert with 'The Battle Hymn of the Republic' we really brought down the house," they said.

HOME HEALTH AGENCY PROVIDES SERVICE UNDER MEDICARE

The Washtenaw County Health Department and affiliated agencies has been identified as a Home Health Agency by the Social Security Administration designating it as a provider of services under the Medicare Act.

The Washtenaw County Health Department and Affiliated Agencies includes the Visiting Nurse Agencies of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. Current activities as a Home Health Agency are a major responsibility of the two Visiting Nurse Agencies and the Washtenaw County Health Department.

A Home Health Agency must provide professional nursing and at least one other service such as physical therapy or service of the Home Health Aide. The Washtenaw County Health Department and Affiliated Agencies provide all of these services to patients in their own homes or at the residence of their personal physician.

The agency maintains records for each individual patient, develops a Plan for Care in accord with the physician's orders and arranges necessary visits in accord with the patient's needs.

Since July 1 when the Medicare Act went into effect, care has been provided to 125 patients. Twenty-nine patients lived in the county outside of the Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti areas. Sixty-six were in the Ann Arbor Visiting Nurse Association area and 34 were served by the Ypsilanti Visiting Nurse Agency. Twenty-seven of these patients were new to the agency since July 1st. The others were patients who had been receiving care at home. Their care has been continued under the supervision of their physician.

In the Ann Arbor area during July and August 66 were helped, the balance of the county numbered 29. Those receiving nursing care in the Ann Arbor area for July and August numbered 776; Home Health Aides 168 and Physical Therapy 6.

The nurse gives care to patients at home, instructs them and the other members of the family about continuing care between visits. She assists the family in making necessary adaptations in order that the patient may be cared for comfortably at home and help the family maintain a satisfactory home situation in the presence of illness. The nurse makes use of home health aide when there is no one in the home who can manage the household.

She works under the supervision of the public health nurse. The physician also has an opportunity to make changes in his orders for the patients' care. The physical therapist works closely with the physician to secure his specific orders related to the physical therapy program. She establishes the plan for this in the home and advises the nurse about maintaining it.

While all of these services are available under the Medicare Act, they are not limited to patients who receive benefits under this program. This service is available to all patients living in Washtenaw County.

In addition to personal services which have been described, medical supplies and appliances are also available through the Home Health Agency. These include articles such as wheelchairs, crutches or special equipment needed in the home. These are secured through the Home Health Agency upon the request of the physician.

The Home Health Agency maintains patient records, financial and statistical reports are made available to governing bodies and to fiscal agents. Fees are based on actual cost. Reimbursement for the service is made to the Washtenaw County Health Department and Affiliated Agencies either through the fiscal intermediary which, in Michigan, is Michigan Hospital Service or by the patient or another agency which may be responsible for a portion of the service.

The Health Department and Affiliated Agencies has interpreted service to physicians, hospital administrators and others in the community. It wishes to make the service known and have it used in accord with need. The Home Health Agency will make every effort to make service of high quality available to the community.

Experience to date shows that there has been a slight increase in requests for this care at home. The major impact on the agency has been related to becoming familiar with the details and procedures which are part of Medicare and to estimate personnel needs and securing them in order that service may be extended throughout the county. Inquiries are welcome regarding the service.

CROSS ROADS CAMP DAINAVA

— by Marie Schneider

Comparatively few people are aware of a large youth camp near here.

Camp Dainava, meaning cross roads, is located five miles west of Manchester, off Austin Road, this side of the Jackson County line.

Probably a chief reason that the camp is not particularly well known in this area is that the main requisite to be admitted to camp is that a person be a Lithuanian or of Lithuanian descent.

The camp always has a long waiting list and is never able to accommodate all of its applicants.

This year it opened on July 15 and has been going full tilt ever since. After the middle of September operations slowed down according to Rev. Fr. Peter Patlaba, director. Fr. Peter, as he is known here, came to the United States in 1949 from Lithuania where he taught school. His own father had visited the U. S. in 1895 but returned to Europe in 1900. The priest is one of 14 children, most of whom are still in the country occupied by the Soviet Union.

The Manchester Township camp site was one of 25 under consideration by a group of representative Lithuanians who wanted to have some place in the U. S. where they could meet, talk over their mutual problems and most important keep in touch with others of their own nationality.

Adolph Damusis, a chemist with the Research and Development Division of the Wyandotte Chemical Corp. in Wyandotte is president of the camp board of directors. The 226-acre camp, centrally located between Detroit and Chicago, was purchased in 1955 by private subscription and donations from Lithuanians in this country.

These honorary members are divided into three categories. Those contributing less than $100 to $10,000 donors.

The first building was constructed in 1956 with doctors, lawyers and construction workers teaming side by side in a common effort. Damusis pointed out that camp costs have been kept relatively small because of top bracket

ENTRANCE—A large cross, part of a typical Lithuanian landscape, stands at the entrance to Camp Dainava, west of Manchester.

FATHER Peter Patlaba (center) is the camp director. With him is a visiting priest originally from Lithuania and one of five nuns who are on the camp staff. This chapel is located in the camp's hall.

'ONCE FOR ALL DRIVE'

Organization for the annual Manchester Community Fund and Red Cross Drive is rapidly taking shape under the leadership of Luther Klager, Robert Swartz and Mrs. James Baker. The goal of $12,714 is the aim of the combined Divisions.

The Businessmen's Division with Mrs. Tom Marshall as chairman will begin solicitation on Main Street next Monday, October 3. Her team includes Mrs. Rolland Grossman, Mrs. Allen Schaffer, Mrs. William Schaffer, Mrs. Irvin Gill, Mrs. Don Sutton, Mrs. Henry Eames, Mike Wolfe and Mrs. Gilbert Luckhardt (Pleasant Lake Business).

The Industrial Division is also starting October 3 according to Clarence Fielder, Division Chairman. Double A Products, Manchester Tool & Die and Manchester Stamping, Chrysler Corporation Proving Ground, Michigan Gas Storage, Schaffer Lumber, Ready-Mix and Schaffer Construction, Manchester Plastics and Merritt Products Corporation are all included in this division. Hoover Ball and Wolverine Pipe Line are not solicited in the plants but both support the Manchester Fund with Corporation gifts. Their employees are included in the house-to-house solicitation.

Mrs. Del D. Ludwick announced her village house-to-house team captain: Mrs. John Bunney, Mrs. Ben Creason, Mrs. Clarence Fielder, Mrs. Charles Knorrp and Mrs. Ronald Whittington. They will fill the kits for their teams at Mrs. Franklin Reck's home on Wednesday morning, October 5 at 8:45 a. m.

Rural team captains working with Mrs. Norman Fielder are: Manchester Township, Mrs. Loren Troiz; Sharon Township, Mrs. Elias Dennis; Freedom Township, Mrs. Lynn Voegeding and Bridgewater Township, Mrs. Monroe Eversole Jr. They will prepare their kits at Mrs. Reck's on Tuesday evening, October 4 at 8 p. m.

Ronald McNally is chairman of the Manchester Public School Division this year and their campaign begins the first week in October as usual.

All personnel connected with the Drive and Community Chest Board members are urged to attend the workshop, October 6 at the Nellie Ackerson School at 7:30 sharp. House-to-house teams will receive their kits and instructions for the Drive at the annual get-together. Businessmen's School and Industrial Divisions will have preliminary reports on their progress.

ZIP CODE INFORMATION COMES FROM POSTMASTER

Residents in Manchester will be offered an opportunity to ZIP CODE their mailing lists during October, according to Postmaster Marvin Kirk.

Letter carriers will deliver "no postage needed" cards to each of the city's postal boxes and to the rural patrons beginning October 10, the postmaster said.

The cards will have blanks for addresses used most often, but for which individuals do not know the proper ZIP Codes.

Postmasters in appropriate cities add: The project will be a feature of "ZIP Code Week", to be celebrated locally October 8 to 15th. Throughout the nation 95,000,000 of the cards will be delivered. In cities with more than one ZIP Code, there will be two cards for each household; one for local addresses and the other card for out-of-town.

In rural areas and cities with one ZIP Code assigned, only an out-of-town card will be delivered since all local addresses will have the same ZIP Code.

"This is a good time to get the ZIP Codes missing from your lists," Postmaster Kirk noted. "This Christmas, ZIP Code will be as important as shopping and mailing early for the efficient and on-time delivery of the record-breaking avalanche of mail expected in the pre-holiday weeks."

After filling in the street number, city and state, the cards are to be mailed back to the postmaster. Post Office personnel will add the proper ZIP Codes and return the cards to the sender.

President Johnson has proclaimed October 10-15 as "ZIP Code Week" to promote greater usage of ZIP Code.

Postmaster General O'Brien announced May 19 that steps were being taken to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public. The present program resulted from a search for the most effective method to get the codes in the hands of private mailers.
